SENIOR ENGINEERS START ON ANNUAL INSPECTION TRIP THURSDAY, MAR. 29

Fifty Students in Mining, Civil, Mechanical Engineering to Make Tour.

JUNIORS TO GO IN APRIL.

Three Chemistry Students to Accompany Engineers on Trip.

Fifty seniors in mechanical, civil and mining engineering at the University will leave March 29 for the annual inspection trip to large industrial cities in the east. Junior engineers will make their trip the middle of April, the mining students visiting coal properties in Tennessee, and the mechanical, electrical and civil engineers going to Cincinnati, Dayton and Hamilton, Ohio.

The purpose of the annual trips is to acquaint students with practical engineering problems they will face after graduation, and to show them industrial enterprises, factories and machinery in operation.

Alumni clubs of the university in cities which the students will visit have arranged many forms of entertainment for them.

Two special cars have been chartered, and will be held for the use of the party until the end of the survey, April 8. In addition to the student engineers, three senior chemists will make the trip. Dean F. Paul Anderson, Professor W. E. Freeman, Professor L. S. O'Bannon and Jack Dickerson, of the College of Engineering, will also go.

Itinerary Outlined

The trip will include the following inspections:

MASS MEETING HELD BY 'GREATER KY.' COUNCIL

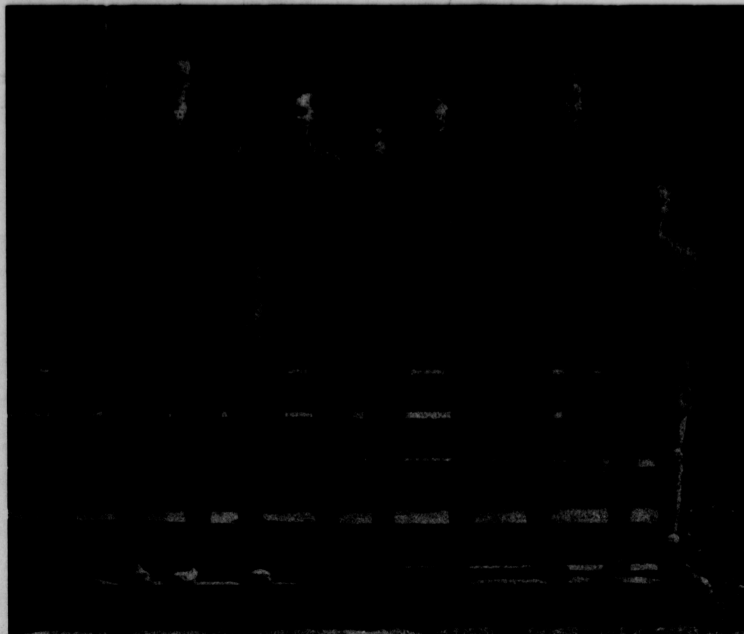

First Step Taken To Have Boosters Club Outside of The University.

The first big step toward organizing the University of Kentucky student body into a booster organization for the school was taken Tuesday morning, when the "Greater Kentucky" council conducted four mass meetings which included the entire student body. Classes were dismissed for the fourth hour, and the students were divided into four groups according to the congressional districts, which they represent.

The meeting places were as follows: Districts 1, 2 and 3, Dicker hall, in charge of W. W. Kirtley, Ryan Ringo and A. L. Atchison; Districts 4 and 5, Little Theatre, C. M. C. Porter and Paul Ballinger; Districts 6 and 7, chapel, Charles Mahoney, James Darnell and Douglas Vest; Districts 8, 9, 10 and 11, Henry Clay law room, Sidney B. Neal, Charles McDowell and A. J. Bradshaw.

Students were urged by the speakers to boost the University and advertise its needs during their Easter vacation at home, and plans were made for further methods of im-

INTER-FRATERNITY NET CHAMPIONSHIP WON BY ALPHA SIGMA PHI TEAM

Will Hold Pan-Hellenic Basketball Trophy Until Next Year.

KAPPA SIGMAS IN FINAL.

Both Teams in Last Tilt Show Good Form and Spirit.

One of the most thrilling games of basketball that has been played in the University gymnasium this year was played Monday night when the Alpha Sigma Phi quintet defeated the Kappa Sigma team 17 to 13. This victory gives the Sigs the championship of the Pan-Hellenic Basketball Tournament.

The Kappa Sigs made the first goal in the first three minutes of play, then Wallace threw two fouls which tied the score. Three minutes before the end of the first half the score stood 6 to 4 in favor of the Alpha Sigs. A foul was called on them and Hendricks annexed the point for the Kappa Sigs. Just before the end of the half Campbell threw a goal which gave the Kappa Sigs a one point lead. At the start of the second half neither team was able to hit the goal. The Kappa Sigs again made the first basket which gave them a three-point lead. Soon after the first goal of the half the Alpha Sigs began to find the basket and they took the lead by one point. Up to the last five minutes each team would take the lead and then lose it. About four minutes before the end of the game G. Sauer made a beautiful shot from the mid-

FROSH BASEBALL OUTFIT TO UPHOLD REPUTATION

Coach Cooper Confident Yearlings Will Keep Record Spotless.

The freshman baseball team bids fair to achieve as enviable a record as did the frosh gridiron and court teams of this year when they hung up the mark of winning all but one game in both sports. When the first call of the year for the yearling diamond artists was made last Thursday, 50 aspiring candidates reported and since then ten or more others have come out. Among the 60 there seems to be a wealth of material for every position.

The yearlings will have for their regular practice field the sod diamond in that part of the athletic field nearest to Rose street, and this lot soon will be the scene of great activity. Due to the bad weather, work of leveling the diamond has been going on very slowly, but soon as the sod has a chance to dry out so that it may be rolled, the field will be in fine condition. That probably will not be un-

WILDCAT - GEORGETOWN NINES TO OPEN DIAMOND SEASON HERE MARCH 28

Tigers to Invade Stoll Field For Opening Clash Of Season.

PRIBBLE, GREGG, BATTERY

First Game Will Determine Strength of Blue and White.

The Wildcat nine will open its 1923 season Wednesday afternoon when the Georgetown Tigers invade the Wildcat lair. As it is the opening game of the year, the clash will largely determine the strength of the Blue and White. Coach Barger announced that his choices for the battery positions were Gregg on the mound and Pribble behind the plate.

Coach Barger sent his regulars against the yannigans last Saturday and the varsity combining 15 hits with several errors on the part of the scrubs, turned in a total of 19 tallies. The scrubs were on the other hand able only to put two runs across the platter. Gregg, True and Van Arsdale hurled excellent ball for the first team, allowing the youngsters five hits. Robertson, Fuller and Williams divided the mound work for the yannigans between them and all were hit hard.

The entire squad had been displaying a marked tendency to swat the horsehide to the far corners of the lot, and it appears that any pitcher that faces the Cat tribe this season will have his hands full trying to tame them. The Cat pitching seems to be much better than the mound staff of 1922, and with the coming of warm weather the Cat mentor will have

INDUSTRIAL CHEMISTS MAKE INSPECTION TRIP

Members of Senior Class to Make Tour of Large Industrial Centers

The members of the senior class in industrial chemistry at the University of Kentucky will leave Thursday on an inspection trip which will include visits to various chemical and electrochemical industries in large manufacturing centers of the east. The cities which will be visited are Pittsburg, Buffalo and Niagara Falls. The trip will extend over a period of about 12 days.

Dr. M. H. Bedford, professor of physical chemistry at the university, will accompany the classes to explain chemical principles applied in important industries of the present day. Special attention will be given by the class to the chemical engineering problems of modern times.

Dr. Phillip Lee Blumenthal, a graduate of the University in industrial chemicals, and alumni member of the Alpha Chi Sigma chemical fraternity, has arranged the details of the itinerary, and will sponsor the class while in Buffalo. At Niagara Falls the possibilities of the electro-chemical industries situated there will be studied.

The students who will make the trip are: F. B. Jones, of Melber; Ridgley McDaniels, of Cynthiana; David Nantz, of Owensboro; John Paul Riebel, of Louisville, and Donald Windsof of Texas.

CANTRILL TO SPEAK

Congressman J. C. Cantrill, Democratic candidate for Governor, will address the Lexington Alumni Club at its regular luncheon Saturday, April 14, at the Lafayette Hotel. A special invitation has been extended to members of the University faculty for the luncheon.

Mr. Cantrill has indicated informally a desire to do great things for the University if he is elected Governor. Education has become an outstanding issue in the present campaign, equal only by roads.

DEVELOP CHURCH HABIT

The habit of going to church has been a vital factor in the progress of civilization. In some communities there has been a marked increase, in others a falling off in attendance. Strenuous efforts are being made to bolster up the weak places. Ministers are preaching sermons that deal with big, vital every-day problems and are getting beneficial results. Their daily programs also are being shaped along these lines.

Impressive evidence of an added need for alumni to include church-going among their habits is contained in a letter received this week from a member of the Executive Committee traveling in Western Kentucky. Such misrepresentation of the University was made from one pulpit that the pastor was corrected then and there by this alumnus.

The Alumni Secretary attended a church meeting recently. A minister—from another church—arose to criticize conditions at the University. He saw the Secretary—an official of the University—and the whole course of his talk changed. He concluded by saying he wanted to "see the University prosper."

SPEAK TO CITIZENS

Student Speakers Will Address High Schools, Alumni and Civic Clubs
Members of the Student Speakers Bureau are going to four sections of Kentucky during the Easter Holiday, speaking on various phases of the University before high schools, chamber of commerce, Rotary, Kiwanis and other civic clubs and alumni clubs.

A better understanding, precedent to a more enthusiastic support by the state-at-large, is the theory of the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association which has encouraged the Speakers Bureau and similar organizations in their work to this end.

Sidney B. Neal will speak at Harlan, Pineville, Middleboro, Barbourville and Williamsburg. C. M. Clay Porter will speak at Bowling Green, Russellville, Greenville and Central City.

Robert L. Porter, who is traveling with the University Glee Club, will speak at Hopkinsville, Morganfield, Henderson, Owensboro and Louisville. John L. Hays will speak at Paducah, Hickman, Mayfield and Wickliffe.

Ballots for the annual election of officers of the Alumni Association will be sent to all members in the next few days. For the members of the alumni clubs ballots will be mailed to the Secretary for distribution.

MEET IN CINCINNATI

Northern Kentucky Alumni Have Dinner-Dance April 11.

The Cincinnati Alumni Club, which includes the counties of Northern Kentucky, will hold its annual dinner-dance at the Hotel Gibson on the evening of April 11. President McVey will be the guest of honor.

The number of alumni in and near the Queen City has been increasing rapidly in the last few months. The club there is one of the most effective in the state, especially in getting the support of members of the General Assembly for the University. Officers are Mrs. Clara Matti Studer, president; Ed. Hundley, vice-president; Adele Slade, secretary, and H. W. Griefe, treasurer. Warner P. Sayers, past president of the club, is chairman of the legislative committee.

Undergraduates held mass meetings Tuesday by congressional districts to plan their work in the "Greater Kentucky" campaign, especially for the work they will be able to do during the Easter holiday.

Birmingham Makes Call.
Annual dinner in honor of Junior Class in Mining and Metallurgical Engineering, April 20th, at 7 p. m. Alumni and former students who expect to attend, notify E. J. Kohn, secretary, box 35, Ensley, Ala., or telephone Ensley 1180-97.

"I am wondering if all of you understand the work the officers of the Alumni Association are doing—the ideals they are striving for—or shall I say WE? for this means every former student and friend of the University.

"It is not simply an effort to provide buildings, equipment and instructional force sufficient to take care of the demand—all these are only a means to the end. We are building for a higher and truer democracy, lasting peace, real Americanism. The greatest democracy ever taught was by the humble Nazarene, and on that the constitution of the United States is founded. We have the finest building material in the whole world—the youth of Kentucky. It is our privilege to help in this building—not merely with money—but by thinking, talking and praying for Kentucky. That is the task. Shall we 'Carry On?'—N. H. T. assistant to the Alumni Secretary. (Note: Mrs. Turner handles everything that goes through the Alumni office.)

Send in More News.
All alumni readers of the Kernel—you are associate editors—are requested to send news for his page, using the attached "supplement" sheet for the purpose. This should be mailed early.

Class secretaries are invited to make announcements about their reunions in June.

til after the spring holidays which begin Thursday morning.

Until the holidays begin, only the frosh pitchers and catchers will be out, but they will work out every day with the Varsity squad. Thus it will be possible to get them in good condition to start work in earnest when April 2 rolls around.

Several of the hurlers and receivers were out Friday and Monday and some of them look pretty good. Coach Cooper is very enthusiastic and says that he believes he has some embryonic Walter Johnsons and Christy Mathewsons to work with. Among the most likely looking pitchers are Turkey Hughes, Vossmeier, Samuel Creech and J. T. Riffe, while G. Hughes, Sauer and Derrick are the best looking catchers.

but the greatest men whom the race has produced— from Jesus and Socrates, from John Fiske and William James and Dr. Osler; from Cromwell and Stonewall Jackson, from Gladstone and Lincoln.

The scientist teaches that the head of a common pin is a universe; that inside it millions of atoms move in regular cycles, like the planet in the sky, and that 250 years would be required to count these atoms in the head of a pin. This of course is a conceivable and exceeds the power of imagination, yet we accept because science teaches it. One reason may be that we lack the courage to question this authority because it is of no consequence. Persons accept such a theory but doubt and try to destroy the mystery of life and immortality.

The greatest deeds recorded in history are those done by persons who had ambition and vision and the Kernel enters into the sacred celebration of Easter in the belief that the greatest deeds yet to make history among religious, military and political leaders of the world, rests in the power of those who have vision and understanding of His teachings of life and belief of immortality.

MANY WOMEN STUDENTS ARE EARNING EXPENSES

Lack of Money No Bar to Ambitious Students Shown in Questionnaire.

Lack of money need not be an impediment to getting a college education even for a girl, it was brought out by answers to questionnaires recently sent to women students by Miss Frances Jewell, dean of women of the University of Kentucky. More than fifty girls at the University are now earning or helping to earn their way through college.

The amounts earned by the girls range anywhere from entire college expenses, estimated at around $500 a year, to room and board and incidental expenses.

Many and varied ways are being found by the girls for earning money. Four are earning their entire expenses by soliciting for a local ice cream company, one is an agent for a laundry, others are doing stenographic and clerical work in the University offices, acting as waitresses, night clerks, and in other capacities at the dormitories, and assisting in the University and city libraries. One woman acts as a chaperone for younger girls, and three girls are acting as managers of women's fraternity houses.

The fact that these girls are devoting part of their time to earning college expenses has neither reacted against them socially or prohibited them from taking part in student activities. Among the girls are found members of social fraternities, members of the staffs of the student publications, actors of student plays, and members of athletic teams.

A tabulation of the ways in which the girls are earning money follows:

Student help at Patterson hall; waiting on tables; acting as night clerks, etc., for which the remuneration is room and board; soliciting for an ice cream company, all expenses; clerical work, from all expenses to room and board; library work, room and board or incidentals; teaching or tutoring, from one half to all expenses; caring for children or staying in private homes, room and board; managing fraternity houses, room and board; working in the University cafeteria, services paid by the hour.

More than 70 girls earned money before they came to the university. Of these more than one-half were teachers. Others were playground instructors, bookkeepers, athletic coaches, library workers, stenographers, and home demonstration agents. One girl each had acted as a recorder in the state department, done work in government office, decorated cakes and candy and acted as telegraph operator.

The way that a woman starting with very little money can earn her way while in college and graduate with funds is told by Miss Pearl Morgan, of Portland, Tenn., a member of the graduating class of 1922. When Miss Morgan entered the University in 1918 she had $110 which she had earned by acting as assistant home demonstration agent for the extension department of the University of Kentucky, in Simpson county. During the first year her earnings were: salary as assistant demonstrator, $150; waiting on tables, $162; extra work, $108, a total of $410. Her expenditures at the university were: college expenses, $257; clothing, $58.75; railroad fare to and from college, $50; a total of $305.75, leaving a balance of $104.25.

Income of her sophomore year consisted of: salary as demonstrator, $180; borrowed $50; care of home economy rooms, $225; giving messages, cleaning houses, $5; interest on Liberty bond, $11.88; old clothes sold, $5. Expenditures were: doctor's bill, $20.66; University expenses, $286; clothes purchased $135; railroad fare, $30, a total of $459, leaving a balance of $17.88.

Income during the junior year was: acting as assistant county demonstrator, $185; night clerk at Patterson Hall, $252; interest on Liberty bond, $23.75; filling, preparing for parties and teas, $10; sale of old clothes, $12; total of $582.76. Expenses were: school expenses, $327; clothes purchased $131; railroad fare, $50; debt incurred during sophomore year, $50; total, $578, leaving a balance of $4.75.

Income of senior year was: salary as club leader, $250; night clerk at Patterson Hall, $270; interest on Liberty bond, $23.75; preparing for teas and parties, $5; total $548.75. Expenditures: school expenses, at University, $375; clothing purchased, $65.75; railroad fare, $30, leaving a balance on hand of $86.00.

'GO TO SUNDAY SCHOOL' TO BE OBSERVED APR. 15

Student Friendship Council Organizes Movement at University.

At the regular Tuesday night meeting of the Student Friendship Council of the University Y. M. C. A. March 20, it was decided to have a "Go-to-Sunday-School-and-Church day" following the Easter vacation, and the date set was April 15.

A drive will be made by the Y. M. C. A. to put this new movement before the students and faculty, and everyone is urged to co-operate and help give publicity in order that the movement may be the success which is intended that it shall be: namely, getting everyone in the University that is able to attend church or Sunday School or both on that day.

This is only one of several such forward steps for good that the student Friendship Council has planned on the campus and by which it is helping the Y. M. C. A. to be of greater service to the University, and students.

The committee for the nomination of Y. M. C. A. officers for next year, nominated the following men: President, Marshall Barnes and John C. Brown; vice-president, Thomas Baird and Thomas Ballantine; treasurer, A. L. Atchinson and G. W. Gardner; secretary, George Cavanaugh and S. R. Hill. These nominees have been approved by the board and will be voted on by ballot after the holidays.

pressing upon the people of the state the import of the university and its strained financial condition.

The "Greater Kentucky" council represents a revival of the old county and sectional clubs which once flourished at the University. It is an attempt to organize the student body more thoroughly and expects ultimately to have a club representing nearly every county in the state. The council is composed of one representative from each of the fraternities and four non-fraternity men. Its members are:

James Darnell, Kappa Alpha; William Tate, Phi Delta Theta; Ray Rice, Sigma Nu; Harold Waits, Alpha Sigma Phi; Robert Clem, Sigma Chi; John E. True, Triangle; C. H. dle of the floor which marked the turning point of the game. From then on the Kappa Sigs were not able to overtake them.

The shooting of King and the floor work of Tate and Hendricks were the features of the game. Sid Wallace again displayed his ability as a foul shooter by making three out of four attempts. The Kappa Sigs displayed the same fighting spirit that they showed against the Delta Chis last Thursday night.

The game was a good fast contest from start to finish. Very few fouls were called on either side. Outside of a little roughness which was due to the lack of practice on each side, it was a very clean game.

The summary of the game:
Alpha Sigma Phi 17 Kappa Sigma 13
 King 10F..... Hendricks 5
 S. Wallace 3.....F..... Tate 6
 Gibson 2C..... Yager
 G. WallaceG..... Campbell 2
 G. Sauer 2G..... Duncan

"LADY WINDEREMERE'S FAN" TO BE PRESENTED

Strollers Urged to Visit Kentucky Towns in May Trip.

Rehearsals for the Stroller play, "Lady Winderemere's Fan," which is to be presented by the Strollers of the University of Kentucky, in the near future, have been in progress for several weeks and the principals decided upon. There has been a halt in its progress because of dissension as to whether the play should be presented in the costumes of the period of 1895, in which it was written or in modern attire, but at a meeting last Monday after some discussion, modern attire was definitely decided upon.

The Strollers are receiving daily letters from towns in Eastern Kentucky who want the play presented there when they go on their spring trip early in May.

The stage managers and crew have been busy on the setting which will be very elaborate and parts are already being used in the rehearsals.

SPRING GRID PRACTICE CLOSSES AT U K SATURDAY

Coach Winn Well Pleased Over Work and Outlook For Next Season

Spring football work came to a close Saturday at the University of Kentucky and the freshmen baseball practice is carded to get going Monday, when some twenty odd diamond enthusiasts are expected to answer Coach Paul Cooper's call for candidates for the first-term squad.

Coach Winn is of the opinion that the spring gridiron work was a success and says that great things should result this fall, when the great Wildcat steam roller will get under way and attempt to crush such obstacles as Georgia Tech, Centre and Washington and Lee, with Tennessee coming in for a share of the glory.

Any number of promising baseball players are enrolled on the freshmen roster and a classy first-term team is the prospect. A schedule will be aranged in the near future by Athletic Director S. A. Boles. It is probable that the Kittens will play some of the freshmen outfits of leading Dixie schools.

Football is in the discard for the time being and baseball will hold the spotlight for the spring and summer months.

WILDCATS-GEORGETOWN

Gregg, Stokes, True, VanArsdale and Robertson each ready to go the entire nine rounds.

The outfield that will start the game against the Tigers Wednesday will be made up of two of last year's veterans, Sauer and Jones, with Miller, a sophomore, ineligible last season, in center field. All of the three can cover a large territory in the field besides having a fond tendency for swatting "the old pill." The infield will probably be composed of only one member of the '22 nine, "Dutch" Burnham, captain and second sacker. Sam Ridgeway, letter man of '21, held out of the lineup last year because of illness, is slated to start at first. Paul Rouse, from the freshman class team last year, appears Coach Barger's best bet for short, and Ray Arnold, junior third sacker last year, his logical choice for the hot corner.

In Birkett Lee Pribble, King of Butler, the Cat leader, has one of the best receivers in Kentucky intercollegiate circles. "Big Boy" gives ground to no man behind the bat. He finished second in the Cat batting list last season, a few points behind Burham. Gregg, the logical choice to hurl the opener, looks to be in midseason form judging from his daily workouts and is ready for the Tigers. Coach Barger may work more than one hurler in the Tiger fray but his second choice is not known.

The contest will be played on Stoll Field Wednesday afternoon at 3:30. Rasty Wright will umpire.
