NOE VERSUS LAFFERTY IN PUGILISTIC CONTEST

"Daddy" Boles' Gymnasium Class Proves Popular With Corpulent Faculty Members

DR. TERRILL APPROVES

Oh Boy!

Watch the faculty pass in review at the faculty gymnasium class which "Daddy" Boles has organized to provide the mentors of the University with an opportunity to work off ancient grudges and avoirdupois.

It is understood by the student body that this class has been welcomed enthusiastically, and that the chief interest seems to be in pugilistic and track events.

Enoch Grehan, head of the Journalism Department, felicitates himself, that he has accumulated the nerve to issue a challenge to all comers who weigh under ninety-eight pounds. He agrees to reduce about forty pounds from certain portions of his anatomy before the encounter.

J. T. C. Noe hopes that after several months' training he will be able to view his pedal extremities without the aid of a mirror. As a training measure he has arranged a series of boxing bouts with Judge Lafferty.

Wellington Patrick modestly refuses to discuss his athletic prowess, but states that his tailor is working upon his gymnasium costume, and that he expects it to be completed in time to personally escort President McVey, who is entered in the bantam-weight class.

Professors Farquar and Maxson, with characteristic timidity plan to limit their activities to mental gymnastics, and battle of wits with the student body.

Dr. Terrill expresses himself as greatly interested in the class since it savors of the ancient Greek games. Dr. Terrill, T. T. Jones and J. Mort Davis form the relay team which has challenged L. L. Dantzier, C. R. Melcher and Dean F. Paul Anderson. The odds are for the latter team, owing to the well-known long-wind of its members.

Nor is the aesthetic to be neglected. Professor Cotton Noe, has consented to

NAVAL AVIATORS COME BACK TO THE EARTH

Bob Arnold Algie Wood, George Zerfoss and Elise McClelland have returned, or are returning to the University from the naval aviation camp at Key West, Fla.

McClelland and Zerfoss are both athletes of the first water, and will strengthen our chances for basketball and baseball honors.

STROLER APPLICANTS APPLY AT POSTOFFICE

The application blanks, to be used this year by those desiring membership in the Strollers Dramatic Club are now ready, and can be obtained from Miss Bean, at the University post-office in the basement of the Administration building. These applications should be returned to the post-office within the next week in an envelope addressed to Grover Creech, stage manager of the Strollers.

While the membership committee will consider all applications, preference will be given to those students who have not had the opportunity of joining the club via the usual route of "Amateur Night," which has been a Stroller institution for a number of years, and which will be reinstated next year.

MABIE ARRANGES SERIES OF HIGH SCHOOL DEBATES

Final Debate Will Be Held at the University During the Interscholastic Meet in May

SILVER CUP TO WINNER

(Published by Request)

A series of debates for the high schools of Kentucky will be held this year under the supervision of the Department of English. The final debate will be held at the University in Lexington at the time of the interscholastic athletic meet in May, 1919. All accredited secondary schools of Kentucky which do not extend their course of study beyond a standard four-year high school course are invited to take part in the debates.

The proposition which will be discussed in all debates is as follows: Resolved, That cities of Kentucky which have a population over 5,000 should adopt the city manager plan of government. The University library is preparing package libraries of books, pamphlets subject. These packages will be loaned for a period of two weeks to high schools which are preparing debates. Applications for package library material on the city manager plan should be made directly to the Librarian, University of Kentucky, Lexington, Kentucky.

All preliminary debates should be held before April 15. High schools may make their own arrangements for local debates, but the Department of English will be glad to assist in arranging opponents and making the plans for the preliminary contests. At each debate there shall be a board of three judges selected for capability and impartiality to the competing schools. The judges shall not confer before making their decisions. All preliminary contests which are arranged as a part of the state series

STUDENT GOVERNMENT CHOSEN BY PATT HALL

If Approved, Co-eds Will Rule Supreme—Y. W. C. A. Launches Plan—Miss Graham President

CLASSES REPRESENTED

Tuesday night at a meeting, which held Patterson and Maxwell Hall girls in discussion from 6:45 until 9:15, the question of Student Government was argued pro and con and resulted in the overwhelming vote of 118 to 5 in favor of putting it in as an experiment until May.

The Y. W. C. A. called the meeting because it felt that it was one of the most representative organizations on the campus and that its members were all members of other societies in school.

Mildred Graham led the discussion and first explained what Student Government was, and what it has meant to the other universities where the system has been tried out. She also gave many reasons why the University of Kentucky was now ready for the step.

Miss Graham said on that subject: "We have a new President, who is a National figure; we were one of the few universities to be visited by the British Educational Commission; we are putting in more courses in the various colleges and more comprehensive courses; the University is going to raise every standard that it now has and some day we will be proud to claim Kentucky as Alma Mater. It is all a matter of whether the students will have to be dragged along by the University or whether the students will stand shoulder to shoulder and neck to neck in making the University of Kentucky one of the biggest and best in the country. Why does Kentucky send her sons and especially her daughters to colleges out of the State for an education? It is because Kentucky has never been really proud of the reputation of the University. Kentucky has more natural resources than nearly any other State in the Union and should keep her Kentuckians at home to show the country what Kentucky can really mean. It is up to us tonight to set the corner stone for a university that will be as well known as the University of Michigan and Wisconsin, where students from over the country will be glad to come for an education. We owe it to our families, who are paying their money that we can get the best from our schooling; we owe it to Miss Crane, who has just left and who has shown us what duty and honor have meant; we owe it to Patterson Hall and should work for its welfare; we owe it to the University, which is now struggling to be big, broad and fine; and we owe it to the State that is giving us an education that we could not receive so cheap.

MARINE "GETS OUT" AND "COMES BACK."

"E-ee Yip!" "Over the top and give 'em—"

The University of Kentucky, but particularly the Department of Journalism, has become the objective of another United States Marine. The job ought to be finished by June for the marine is a senior and the senior is Charlie Planck, erstwhile member of the Kernel staff, Stroller star, cheer leader, snapshot editor of the 1918 Kentuckian, Class orator in 1918, etc., etc.

Planck and Freddy Jackson went to Paris Island last summer. Jackson beat Planck back, but Planck arrived on the campus like a tornado not too late to continue and be graduated with his class.

BILL SHINNICK WITH ARMY OF OCCUPATION

Writes That the Super-Superior German Proves a Myth at Close Quarters

MEN WELL SUPPORTED

Enoch Grehan of the Department of Journalism, is in receipt of the following intensely interesting letter from William C. Shinnick, graduate of the University of Kentucky in the class of 1917 with the degree of A. B. in Journalism. After only a few months of actual journalistic work Mr. Shinnick entered the army and went to France. The Kernel has several times published Mr. Shinnick's letters, each time under his protest, but the following will be so interesting to former fellow students in the University, his modest objection to appearing in print is again herewith overruled:

MR. SHINNICK'S LETTER.

"New Coblenz, Dec. 28.

"My dear Mr. Grehan:

"Your letter of early November reached me after I had gotten well over the Moselle and into the Rhine provinces. You, no doubt, learned long since that the Third division was part of the Army of Occupation and it has been my fortune to go thru with it from the days of early June, when the Boche was at the pinnacle of his power, to the present, when we and the other Americans are co-operating with French and British in lining the banks of the German's sentimental, awesome boundary; his mystic and beloved Rhine. In all fairness, it must be said it's that kind of a river; majestic, silent, almost cryptic in its green-canyon walls surmounted with the rotting castles, sentinels alone remaining of the medieval cast in which the Germany of so few years ago had molded itself. But enough of that scenery talk; I cannot square myself

CENTRE WINS BUT GILL CONTINUES CONFIDENT

"If We Get Over Friday Night We Won't Lose Another Game," Coach Says

EVERETT FEATURES

"If we get over Friday night in Cincinnati, we won't lose another game of basketball this season," Coach Andy Gill said when the Wildcats hit their stride in the last half of the Centre game last week. The Colonels played their special brand of winning basketball, defeating Kentucky 38 to 30, but the second half comeback staged by the boys from the Bluegrass took Centre by rush and came near ruining Bo McMillan's crew.

Kentucky Has Chance.

As correspondent to a Lexington newspaper, a Centre or Danville scribe wrote that the victory over the Wildcats gave the basketball championship of Kentucky to Centre for the second time in two years. According to Coach Gill this statement is slightly premature, due to the fact that when the Wildcats dig their claws into the Colonels in the University gymnasium on February 24, a game to decide the tie will be necessary. Furthermore at the end of the game in Danville last week, the Centre coach asked Coach "Andy" if he would agree to play off the tie, practically conceding with his statement that Centre wouldn't have a chance against the Wildcats on their home fighting grounds.

Wildcats Star.

With the Centre game another star rose in the Wildcat heavens, a fast, accurate, hard playing, goal shooting fool—or rather star. Everett, at forward for Kentucky was guarded by Bell, all Kentucky guard for two years and touted for a similar position on the mythical all-Southern team, but he made that young man forget all he knew about basketball when he looped in one goal after another until the rim of the basket got hot. Coach Gill says he "went crazy," but he is going to keep him on the basketball team instead of sending him to the lunatic asylum. Everett got nine field goals, and probably kept Centre from getting that many.

PROFESSOR LAMPERT TO INTERPRET OPERA

Carl Lampert, professor of music and head of the Department in the University, has agreed to give in chapel Friday morning a short exposition of the opera "Aida," which is to be given in Lexington next week, and by playing the popular scenes of the opera to explain the plot and thereby enable the students to appreciate and enjoy with keener interest the opera.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSES NEEDED SAYS LETTER

Executive Secretary of the National Organization Asks the Attention of Kentucky's Co-Eds

At the request of Miss Ella Phillips Crandall, executive secretary of the National Organization for Public Health Nursing, the Kernel publishes the following letter:

To the Editor of the Kernel:
In these times of new opportunity for the reconstruction of our social life, the desire is called forth in everyone to contribute strength and talent to the future of the country. It is safe to say that no young woman is following her college work this year without considering for what service she is preparing herself, and for this reason I am centuring to lay before you the demand in reconstruction programs for many more public health nurses in the hope that you will feel you can present the situation to the students in your college.

"Much has been said to you in the last two years concerning the profession of nursing. It is because the emphasis in that profession has been so greatly altered by the war that I take it up again with you.

Several things have combined to bring about the change of which I speak. The democratic ideals for which the war was fought have made it imperative that the opportunity for health, as the basis of other opportunities, be made equal to all people; the dependence of the armies upon the civilian population has emphasized the importance to the nation of the health which means the productive efficiency of every citizen. The work of the nurse in devastated countries and in the cantonment zones here at home has illustrated with new meaning the possibilities of public health nursing care, while the army nurse has shown how greatly service can be multiplied when it is organized on a community plan.

"It is natural that the outgrowth of this war for democracy should be the public health nurse, for she stands for the socialization and equal distribution, according to need, of nursing care, and for the maintenance of health by the education of the people rather than merely for the cure of disease.

"As a result of these changes, there is a demand for public health nurses which can be met only by the same ready response of women for this national service that they gave to the call to war.

"The United States Public Health Service is planning a development of its work which, according to Surgeon General Rupert Blue, will call for at least one nurse in every county.

"The Children's Year Campaign of the Children's Bureau has shown the need of many more visiting nurses. Miss Lathrop herself declares that if the lives of the mothers and babies are to be saved, there must be more specially trained public health nurses to care for them. The Childrens Bureau has, in fact, a bill in Congress which, if passed, will demand large numbers of public health nurses for maternity and infant work in every State.

"Secretary of Labor Wilson stated recently 'Labors reconstruction program must include a carefully formulated plan for repairing the physical waste and destruction of war by the conservation and renewal of national health. Public health nurses enter into such a program in many ways, in industrial, visiting and infant welfare service. To bring to every worker in our country this skilled care many more public health nurses must be put "To meet these demands there were at the beginning of the war six thousand and public health nurses in this country, a number that has been decreased by war service. Yet, because the demand expresses a need for the people, a part of the effort toward a more perfect democracy, it must be met. The National Organization for Public Health Nursing is doing two things to meet it.

"To supply the immediate need as rapidly as possible, the organization has voted to raise a considerable fund of money for scholarships to be given to nurses leaving military service and to members of senior classes in hospital training schools, many of whom had pledged themselves to enter war service, to enable them to take post-graduate courses in public health work and enter at once this new field of national service.

"To ensure a supply of nurses for the future, the National Organization, in co-operation with the National League of Nursing Education, is urging the revision of training courses in hospitals, in order to make room for public health work and to give credit for preparatory courses taken in colleges and universities.

"Public health nursing is calling limited in service and influence only by the wisdom that is brought to it. Those who seek to bring health within the reach of all men and women must be prepared to eliminate along the way all the social and industrial evils that threaten life.

"But the profession offers as much as it demands. It holds high adventure for those who follow it, often the lure of pioneering. It offers a position of influence in the community, and the opportunity for advancement. So quickly is the recognition of her importance growing in the public mind that the public health nurse promises soon to become a public official of the state.

"It is, in short, a profession for the college trained woman, and therefore we appeal to college students.

"Very sincerely yours,
"ELLA PHILLIPS CRANDALL,
"Executive Secretary, National Organization for Public Health Nursing."

BILL SHINNICK

into the shape of a guide book; words are too useful and too precious to smear like muddy white wash over green hills and brooding afterglows. I remember a quotation from St. Augustine, a great favorite of mine—perhaps I've thrown it in with others I've sent you, but it bears repetition: "Men go out to gaze at and wonder over hills and seashores and towering mountains, and unseeing pass themselves, the crowning wonder, by." So they do, and I, refusing to be participes, will write only of men and deeds, unless perchance it happens that I write of women too. (You note that I am in a rather frivolous mood just now.)

"I've enjoyed this late war more than a little, but I am tired of this occupation business. We are in a village named Plaidt, between Andernach and Coblenz; we got here via road, most of which was bad, from Bar-le-Duc in France. We do nothing but garrison duty, and I want to be a civilian if this is what the war has finally degenerated into. It used to be pretty tough sledding, but at any rate one never had to complain about the lack of excitement or interest. The squarehead, as you no doubt have guessed, is more of a personality at a distance; his shells and gas and such like were, as material entities, master-pieces. On close acquaintance your fine German loses the good impression. How in the — did these birds ever get the idea they were super-superior? The place for supers like them is a mob scene as in Julius Caesar. I will confide a secret to you; if there is anything super among nations, it is the U. S. A. You can play that little tip from any angle and you can't lose. I will say that I am not prejudiced when I make that statement, it is based on pure logic.

We were in a number of interesting situations over here. To begin with we were at Chateau-Thierry in June and July. I was near the Marne the night the Boche started on his excursion to Paris (July 15). He put down a barrage that was all you could expect that night. July 21 we crossed at Chateau-Thierry and chased up the hills as far as the Oreeq. In September we were in reserve at St. Mihiel and in October we spent the entire month in the Argonne, just north of Montfaucon, from the heights of which battered city the Kaiser and Kronprinz had watched their hopes dashed on the forts of Verdun in 1916. We had a real little war up there. I can assure you. November 1 we started to the rear and on November 12, we began the last advance. We're all glad the war is over and "over right," but I don't think anybody in the A. E. F. wanted it over at all unless it was right.

"We've got nothing to complain of here. Prices are reasonable, except for foodstuffs, which orders forbid us to buy anyhow, and marks are handed at the rate of eight to the dollar—half the peace time rate. The drinks are really better than we had in France. I'm afraid the wily Frenchman didn't always trot out the best champagne for his friend from over the water. The Dutchman has got to come across, under pain. The people on the whole, are easy to get along with, and have all flopped over to the side of Republicanism and right living. Apparently!

"I had a letter from John Marsh recently. He is still in England. He says McClarty Harbison has been mentioned in orders for conspicuous gallantry, and I hope he is right. Mc is in the 89th Div., a good one. I have heard nothing of Herbert Graham, Curt Park is reported to be a captain in a company of "culled" folks. I don't know much of anybody else.

"I trust I shall see you soon again, but one never knows what will happen in the army. I don't know whether it's any of my business or whether it's even proper, but there's one thing I want to say about our little old army it has been the most loyally supported military body of history. There is no question about it; we've received everything we should have from the people who weren't fortunate enough to be with us. They've eased everything they could for us and won the war as truly as the man in the uniform. For one, I think those who stood back of us did more than their part.

"My respects to my old friends and in particular to your good wife.
 "Sincerely yours,
 "BILL."

STUDENT COUNCIL ADVISED

The student government meeting at Patterson Hall Tuesday night recalls to the Kernel the Student Council which existed in this University a year or so ago. We belonged to the tribe of Freshmen when it breathed its last, so little can be written here regarding its cogs and wheels.

It is recalled tho, that the council was made up of representatives of various student activities on the campus. Each class had its representatives, numbered in proportion to whether the class was Senior, Junior, Sophomore or Freshman. Under the observation of the Council came every event in which students participated, whether that event was a final examination or a cadet hop. If things went awry among the students the council did its best to set them straight.

The Kernel is strongly in favor of forming a student council by plans worked out by the students themselves. It will further democratize the University and will, this paper believes, prove to be an important part of the machinery of University life. It is tho, too, that President McVey will set his stamp of hearty approval on it if it materializes. We suggest that student leaders in the University meet at their earliest opportunity to discuss this matter.

IT'S A QUESTION OF HONOR.

This observation is going to be short but it is going to deal with an important phase of a big subject. That subject is honor the phase is "in training for basketball."

Prospects for a winning basketball team in this University are brighter right now than they have been at any time so far this season. The Wildcats made a strong and rather unexpected showing against Centre College last Saturday night. They play the university quintet in Cincinnati Friday night. For next week there is to be an invasion of the South, Cumberland College Chattanooga University and the University of Tennessee. Capt. Dishman is out at present on account of influenza convalescence, but the rest of the team is in fine fettle. Another, or possibly two good basketball men are expected to be here and in the thick of it by next week. The Wildcats have chances of becoming champions of the State and of placing their team high on the roll of Southern athletic honor.

Coach Andy Gill is going to do his part. Of this we feel sure. It is, then, up to the men as individuals. No team can win unless its men are fit and no man will be fit for basketball or any other form of athletics unless he trains. There has been no trouble with the basketball men in regard to the breakage of training rules. The Kernel is delighted, consequently, but it desires to impress each individual with the fact that he is on his honor not to smoke, not to eat certain harmful foods, partake of forbidden drinks or in any other way break the training rules which have been laid down for him.

Zimmie Zane, the Kentucky wise owl, says: "We can't help but believe that Indian Schools must have something nifty in the way of class yells."

Adversity—A bottomless lake surrounded by near sighted friends.

Collector—A man whom few care to see, but many ask to call again.

Board—An implement for administering corporal punishment used by mothers and landladies.

"The Festive Board," may be a shingle, a hair-brush, a fish-hash breakfast or a stewed prune supper.

Alcohol—A liquid, good for preserving almost everything except secrets.

Cafe—A place where the public pays the proprietor for the privilege of tipping the waiter for something to eat.

We were impressed more keenly than ever with the fact that colleges take an interest in their graduates, when a certain near-by college recently sent out notes from the Registrar, saying that he would be glad to hear of the death of any of the alumni.

UNION DESIRES SOME INFORMAL DEBATES WITH RIVAL SOCIETY

The Union Literary Society held its first meeting of the new year Friday night at seven o'clock. Messrs. A. L. Lisansy, S. H. Rice, W. W. Seaton, R. L. Porter, S. W. Smith, H. W. Blakey, G. B. Bruner, O. E. Richardson and Ike Boles were elected to membership. Committees were appointed to confer with committees from the Patterson, for the purpose of arranging details connected with the annual debate and the annual oratorical contest. The program committee was given the authority to arrange informal debates with the Patterson Society from time to time. These debates are expected to create enthusiasm among the members of each society, and to arouse a greater spirit of rivalry between the two clubs. These debates are in no way expected to take the place of the big annual debate, but are to be arranged in order to give more men the experience of debating against the Patterson, than would be possible in the single debate that is held each year. It is also tho that these debates would be of advantage to the Law students of both clubs, who, by a rule of the Intercollegiate Debating Association, are prohibited from participating in the annual inter-society debate. The Patterson has not accepted the challenge of the Union as yet.

It has also decided to change the meeting night from Saturday to Friday, and to hold the meetings at seven instead of seven-thirty o'clock.

APPLES IN HISTORY.

Adam ate an apple and Had to leave a happy land. Take the case of William Tell, He shot apples very well. Isaac Newton saw one fall, "Gravitation" was his bawl. "Tis as plain as plain can be Apples have made history.

BOYS WILL BE BOYS.

A certain rural school board was discussing the advisability of procuring a library and an encyclopedia for the school. After much discussion, an old, tough-looking member arose and made known his opinion:

"I think," said he, "that any school needs a library, but I b'lieve we hadn't ort to get a encyclopedia, for them boys would ride it or die."

DIAGNOSIS

Into a general store in a rural section of Kentucky recently came a darkey complaining that a ham which he had purchased there was not good.

"The ham is all right, Mose," insisted the store-keeper.

"No, it ain't, boss," insisted the negro. "Dat ham's shore bad!"

"How can that be," argued the store-keeper, "when it was cured only last week?"

The darkey scratched his head reflectively, and finally suggested: "Den mebbe it's had a relapse."

KENTUCKY PROBLEMS TO BE DISCUSSED

University of Kentucky will be host March 4 and 5 to a number of men of national prominence who will attend the State Conference on Kentucky problems to be held under the auspices of the State Council of Defense. The conference will deal with problems distinctly related to Kentucky. It will be attended by many Kentucky men who were engaged in war work. President McVey, of this University, was State Director of the U. S. Public Service Labor Reserve.

MUSIC LOVERS MEET AT ORATORIO CLUB

The Lexington Oratorio Club, which was organized several weeks ago, due to the efforts of Professor Lampert, held its first rehearsal last Monday night in the Circuit Court room of the Fayette County court house. This club was organized because it was felt that it would be the best means of giving the people of Lexington and the vicinity a broader knowledge of the best things of all times that have been written in the way of oratorios. The club is, in few words, a big chorus composed of Lexington men and women who enjoy music and the work. Professor Lampert invites every University student who is interested, to join the club, not only for the excellent experience that it will give, but also for the liberal education that a knowledge of the oratorios will entail.

The club meets every Monday night at 8 o'clock at the court house. Next Monday the meeting will be held at 7 o'clock, in order to allow the members to attend the opera.

MISS WEAKLEY DROPS CLASSES FOR TREATMENT

Will Be Succeeded On Bulletin Staff by Miss Roberta Blackburn

Miss Katherine Weakley, Squirrel Food Editor of the Kernel, on advice of her physician, and greatly to the regret of her student companions, has decided to drop all her studies temporarily and take a much needed treatment.

It will be recalled that Miss Weakley suffered a severe attack of influenza earlier in the semester. She recovered apparently but the malady left her heart action somewhat impaired. Recently it was decided by her physician to advise Miss Weakley to drop all her class work for the time being, in the hope that her condition will become normal in sufficient time for her to take up second semester work. She will remain at Patterson Hall and take an absolute rest, with exception of preparing her weekly contribution to the Kernel.

Miss Weakley will be succeeded on the staff of the University Bulletin by Miss Roberta Blackburn, a student in the Department of Journalism, who, with Miss Adele Slade, will continue that work in Miss Weakley's absence.

FLU CALLS OFF 1919 "FARMERS' WEEK"

Because of conditions prevailing out in the State in connection with the recurrence of influenza in many sections, Farmers' Week, which was to have been held at the University this week, has been called off.

The Dairy Show, which is always held in connection with Farmers' Week will be conducted despite the cancellation of Farmers' Week, according to an announcement made by the College of Agriculture, yesterday.

McVEY SPEAKS IN LOUISVILLE

President Frank L. McVey returned yesterday morning from Louisville, where he addressed two social working bodies. On Monday afternoon he talked on "The Non-Professional in Social Work," before the School of Social Workers of that city. Monday evening, he made an address at the monthly meeting of the Social Workers' Conference on "After War Problems in Kentucky."

RHOADS AFTER "SUBS"

According to a letter received recently by Prof. McHenry Rhoads, his son, George William, who has been in the Navy for about two years, has been made a Chief Machinists' Mate. Shortly after enlistment at Newport, Ky., Rhoads was sent north and later assigned to duty on a submarine chaser. He received his promotion some time ago and is now on the "sub" chaser en route from the Azores to the West Indies, from whence his ship will go on to New York to participate in the big naval review to be held in New York City on February 15.

He was a student of the University of Kentucky prior to his enlistment and will return to this city as soon as he is discharged to continue his studies.

Captain H. N. Royden, commandant of the University and Professor of military tactics, has just received official notice that payment of commutation of subsistence would be made by the War Department to the members of the Senior Division of the R. O. T. C.

The order states that the Professor of Military Tactics of the University shall prepare a list of all senior members of the R. O. T. The rate of commutation of subsistence has been set by the War Department as forty cents a day, payment to be made quarterly.

Cadet Major Headley Shouse, formerly second lieutenant in the U. S. Army, announces to the cadets of the University the following ruling:

"Cadets are not required to salute their cadet officers on the campus, however off the campus all cadet officers shall be saluted. The commandant and such other officers not actually taking courses in the University shall be saluted at all times.

NEW DEPARTMENT TO BE ESTABLISHED HERE SOON

A Bureau of University Extension Plans to Extend Educational Work of the State

APPOINT COMMITTEE

The University of Kentucky in co-operation with the Bureau of Education of the Department of Interior will establish in the University a department of University Extension for the purpose of extending the educational work of the State beyond the confines of the University itself.

President McVey has selected a committee composed of T. T. Jones, McHenry Rhoads, J. T. C. Noe, W. D. Funkhouser and Enoch Grehan to develop the department in that field and to lend assistance in the selection of a man suitable to be the head of the department.

A contract has been made with the Department of the Interior which established recently a Division of Educational Extension in the Bureau of Education to co-operate with the State Department of Education and University Extension division in the educational extension activities. The President of the United States has given money from his special fund to conduct the work until June 30, 1919. The Department shall render service to the Extension Division by collecting educational material in conducting its war emergency educational work, by assistance thru field representative and general information, and by the development of Community centers. It is that by the Department at Washington that Congress will appropriate money to continue the work after June 30, 1919, with Federal aid for university extension similar to the land grant colleges for the co-operative extension service in the Department of Agriculture.

The University of Kentucky agrees to establish the extension work in the State, to appoint a member of the faculty as an official director of the Extension Division, establish sufficient clerical help and office space, to conduct extension work in the courses specified, and to attempt to establish a division that will provide the highest type of education feasible for the citizens of the commonwealth who are unable to attend established educational institutions, and to give to every one in the State the opportunity to obtain the highest education possible at the smallest practical expense. It is desired to bring the University and the home into closer relationship.

The University of Kentucky in outlining its courses of instruction in the various fields is following the plan of the Northern and Eastern universities which have established the extension work to the great uplift of their respective states. The purpose of University Extension is to carry its educational forces beyond the campus. The specific purpose of the department is to interest individuals and communities in self-improvement, higher education, and public enterprise. Its program is to facilitate the utilization of the educational and professional resources of the University and library training.

ADA MEADE

The Tip Top Merry Makers, the musical comedy tabloid company appearing at the Ada Meade theater this week, has never been excelled and rarely equalled by any similar organization that has been seen here. It is full of girls, fun and music, and the specialties are above the average even in the big vaudeville houses in the large cities.

There is a dog in the show this week and he is known by the euphonious title of Pete. Pete does lots of things, but he plays football better than anything else, so he is known as the football playing dog. He hits the ball out to the audience and when the sphere is thrown back at him, he is right on the job. And he seems to enjoy it just as much as the people who play with him.

The feature picture for the last half of the week is "Pals First," in which the lamented Harold Lockwood is the star. It will be remembered that Mr. Lockwood died recently of influenza, and "Pals First," was his last picture. Therefore, those who see him in this piece will have their last chance to witness his final acting on the world stage.

Performances are given at 2, 7 and 9 p. m. Reserved seats can be secured at the box office or ordered by telephoning 612. All final interurban and street cars are held until the Ada Meade's last performance is out.

SEALED BIDS RECEIVED FOR CAMP BUILDINGS

Sealed bids for the barracks and out-buildings at Camp Buell, Rose and Winslow streets have been received at the office of the business agent, University of Kentucky. Many inquiries about the buildings and terms of sale have come in, according to Senator D. H. Peak, business agent, who said yesterday that he expected the buildings to be sold and all trace of them to be removed from the campus on or before April 1.

The barracks were erected by the University at an expense of approximately $96,000 for the housing of the vocational training contingents which were sent there and the S. A. T. C. unit.

to co-operate with local organizations. The Bureau of Educational Co-operation, one division of the Extension work, includes correspondence study in college and vocational subjects, lectures in series and single lectures for special groups and general audiences, concerts and recitals for music and culture clubs and for community lectures and entertainment courses, extension courses for club study for the purposes of educational, cultural and vocational education; debating and public discussion to promote and direct interest in the study and discussion of public questions.

The Bureau of Public Information includes in its work, general information concerning public affairs and educational matters, suggestive aid for individual school boards, commercial clubs, municipal research, news service as already typified in the Bulletin of the University, conferences and community institutes and assistance in library training.

EXCHANGES

"Old Time College Spirit is Coming to Life Again," Message from New Mexico.

"The Roundup" State College, New Mexico.

Yes, let's advertise the fact. By the most careful examination it is now proven that the patient is returning to life after having been "deader" than the proverbial "door nail" for a period of several months and that there is every promise for a speedy recovery. The patient, in this case, is the old college spirit of N. M. A. C. It died a perfectly natural death. It was inevitable that it should be replaced by more of a spirit of national duty, that we should lose some, and in fact most, of our individuality as an institution in the tremendous times we have passed thru. Such has been the case in all similar institutions throughout the country.

The spirit of national duty which has been uppermost in the minds of all, will always remain with us, stronger, if anything, than ever before. However, with our time devoted, once more, to the work of peace instead of war, the revival of the old spirit, so valuable and, in fact, indispensable, is made possible.

Nebraska Revives Pre-War Methods of Promoting Friendship Between University and State.

The Nebraskan Daily.

University week, for many years an established tradition at the university, which was abandoned last year because of war conditions, is to return this year. It has been the custom in former years for the university to prepare a program which is given in the principal Nebraska towns, in order that the people out over the state may actually see and hear a representative body of the state university. The different organizations or departments of the university represented not only become acquainted with the people of Nebraska, but the Nebraskans become acquainted with the university.

Fire Destroys "Frat" House at the University of North Carolina ("Tar Heels," University of North Carolina.)

Early Thursday morning one of the most disastrous fires that has ever occurred on the campus destroyed three fraternity houses at the lower end of the Fraternity Row. The many sleepers on and about the campus were rudely awakened about two o'clock by the ringing of the class bell and by shouts of "Fire." At this time flames were noticed bursting forth from the rear of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house. At first the fire appeared to be of a comparatively trivial nature but a large part of the S. A. E. building was soon enveloped in flames. The fire spread rapidly and the whole house was soon doomed. The wind, coming from the west, aided in the rapid ignition of the Pi Kappa Phi house next door. The heated building burst into flames at once and it was evident the structure was doomed. From this building the flames were blown to the Sigma Nu house.

The immediate response of the student body at the first alarm made possible the rescue of practically all the furnishings from the three houses. The cause of the conflagration is unknown.

Beware of Love. (Crimson Rambler.)

It has been said by those who are in a position to know that the "flu" and a desperate case of love cause about the same feeling. It is fatal to be assailed by both at the same time. A hint to the wise is sufficient.

How to Produce More Eggs. ("Purdue Exponent.")

Artificial lights, used to increase the length of the day, will make hens lay more eggs, as demonstrated by recent experiments conducted by the poultry department.

Two pens of white leghorns of thirty-five pullets each were made up from stock which had been grown under exactly the same conditions. The experiment was started November first before any of the pullets had begun to lay and continued two months.

During November the electrically lighted pen produced 446 eggs, while the check pen laid only 356. In December the first pen laid 598 eggs and the second 490, making a difference of sixteen an done-half dozen eggs in two months.

Seven days were required before any effect could be seen in the number of eggs produced. The pullets under artificial lights matured two weeks earlier than those under normal conditions. Only slightly more feed was consumed by the first pen. The lights were on daily from 6:00 to 7:00 a. m. and 4:00 to 8:00 p. m. The cost of lights was about six cents per day.

How Old Was Ann?

(The Round-Up U. of New Mexico)

Johnny had a working agreement with his sisters covering the suppression of family history, so when the census man inquired as to the ages of Mary and Ann, Johnny clouded statistics in the following truthful statement: "The combined ages of Mary and Ann are forty-four years, and Mary is twice as old as Ann was when Mary was half as old as Ann will be when Ann is three times as old as Mary was when Mary was three times as old as Ann." How old was Ann?

What is "Campus?"
The Daily Nebraskan

A new course has been installed at the Ohio State University called "campus." It is unscheduled but is as important as any language or course in mathematics that is offered. Do you flunk in "campus?" This course is given entirely in laboratory periods and a full hour day may be easily put in with profit every week. Perhaps you have studied it at Nebraska but will soon find out how little you know in the following review questions:

- What is meant by Messiah?
- How does the chancellor of the university get his office?
- Who is the chancellor of the University?
- What does the word "Cornhusker" mean?
- How did University Hall get its name?
- What are the Olympics?
- Who wear the green caps?
- Why are all sophomore and freshmen male students required to take military drill?
- What is Charter Day?
- How many students are in the university?
- Name the colleges of the university?
- What are the traditions connected with Ivy Day?
- What men of national reputation are on the faculty?

How did The Daily Nebraskan become known as the "Rag?"

How many students' publications are published on the campus?

You are perhaps stuck on some of these, but it starts you to thinking just how much you are missing in the subject of "campus."

PROF. C. A. LAMPERT.

Every student is delighted with the new department of music of our University, yes, practically new, because it has never before been conducted in the same manner in which it is being conducted this year. Glee clubs, orchestra and band are attended by enthusiastic and eager students and all are making a splendid showing.

This is, without a doubt, due to the efforts of our new professor of music, Prof. Carl Albert Lampert. His ability, together with his engaging personality has drawn the students to take part in the work in his department.

For nine years he was with Theodore Thomas in orchestra work, and later taught music in Belmont College. He has studied in Chicago, Berlin and Prague, and was professor of music in Wesley College.

Especially interesting are his classes in the history of music, harmony of music and musical appreciation.

We are glad to have Professor Lampert with us and cordially welcome him to the University of Kentucky.

MR. OWENS.

Among the new men of the campus, we have Mr. Ralph W. Owens, general secretary of the University Y. M. C. A. Mr. Owens comes to us from Ft. Thomas, Ky., where he has been directing the religious work of the Y. M. C. A. since last July.

Mr. Owens was graduated from Maryville College at Maryville, Tennessee, with an A. B. degree, in 1913. He then went to the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, as general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., from which position he resigned and entered the Lane Theological Seminary at Cincinnati. He finished the work there last May.

The value of Mr. Owen's work will be greatly appreciated by the faculty and the student body, and we are glad to have so capable a man for our Y. M. C. A. secretary, to carry on this important phase of our college life.

PROF. WHITING.

The undoubted efficiency and excellence of our English Department has been increased by the addition to its faculty of Professor George W. Whiting.

Mr. Whiting made his A. B. degree at the University of West Virginia, and his M. A. degree at Harvard. He has been instructor in English in the University of West Virginia, in the State Normal School, at Shepherdstown, W. Va., in Pennsylvania College and in the University of Missouri.

Prof. Whiting has charge of the freshman and part of the sophomore English classes.

The College of arts and Science is glad to have Prof. Whiting as a member of its faculty and thru the Kernel, we welcome him to the University of Kentucky.

Thomas Gets Better.

In the last issue, a prediction was made by the writer of this column regarding one, Thomas, as good a forward as ever wore graduated B. V. D.s in Kentucky. Well, he arrived in the game with Centre. He played a hard, fast game, going into a mixup like a "Teufelhund" and coming out with the basketball, then shooting it the length of the floor to Everett or someone else for a basket. Thomas made eight points and was responsible, in a way, for as many more. Seven times, according to the coach and one of the substitutes he missed baskets by less than an inch. Thomas has been handicapped so far this season by a bad ankle, but he is fast rounding into form, and, this year and next, has a glorious future in front of him as a ranking Southern athlete.

Marsh, Simpson and Burnham, the other participants in the game last week played stellar basketball, especially in the last half when the Wildcats got 21 points to 13 for the Colonels. It was Simpson's first game since he went away to war by way of the first training camp. Boone, was good—there's no denying it.

Dishman Missed Badly.

The score was 38 to 30 with the other guy on top. "It would have been the other way around," said the coach, "if Dishman had been along. We would have beaten them easily. Thomas, Everett, Marsh, Simpson and Burnham lined up together for the first time last week in the Centre game, but they played basketball like fiends." But Captain Dishman was bested by influenza, which knocked him out for the Centre game and probably for the game with Cincinnati Friday night.

Speaking of that game with Cincinnati, the Wildcats are going up against a bunch of extremely good floor artists. It will be no easy pickins for the Wildcats, but neither will it be easy pickins for the boys at the Zoo. The same lineup will probably be started.

Prospects Brighter

Prospects for a championship basketball team are brighter right now than they have been during the present season. The team has hit its stride. Blakey, formerly of Centre College, is being held out of the lineup only for the reason that his credits have not arrived in this institution yet. George Zerfoss, who went away last fall to a naval aviation school is now back in school. George was a regular last year and he will undoubtedly be a worthy addition to the Wildcat squad.

The lineup and summary for the Centre game follows:

Kentucky	Position	Centre
Thomas (8)	F	Bell (4)
Everett (18)	F	Walden (6)
Marsh (4)	C	Adkins
Simpson	G	Davis (16)
Burnham	G	McMillan (12)

ly any other place. We owe it, finally to ourselves, for we will take on a greater pride in ourselves for having done this thing."

The discussion which followed showed that each girl present felt that the thing would be good and that it depended on the girls entirely as to its outcome. Louise Mayer in a short argument pointed out how important it was to have the thing run squarely and fairly.

She said, "Girls, this thing will go if we make it go. It will not go, it will be an utter failure if politics has any part in it. We have to remember our purpose and no matter how good a friend a girl may be we must vote against her if she is not the one for the place. We have an ideal and any politics at all will kill this ideal."

Every girl realized that this would be the case and the arguments and votes against the question were from this point of view. There were many arguments against politics, and it is chiefly for that reason that Student Government is only on trial until May. If politics are kept absolutely out, there will be no question as to its permanent success and every girl will stand for it. The girls realize that it depends upon them and their friends, who know them are justified in their belief that they will ever think of the welfare of the school and State and will let nothing interfere with the working out of the ideal.
