The minutes of the regular meeting of December 9, 1968, were approved as circulated.

The Senate approved the request of Miss Dana Ewell of the Kernel to attend the meeting.

The Senate approved the request of Miss Debbie Clark, a student, to attend the meeting.

Dr. Stanley Wall, Associate Dean of the Community College System, presented resolutions on the death of Dr. James C. Falkenstine, Director, Southeast Commu- nity College. The Senate approved the resolutions for incorporation in the min- utes and requested that an expression of sincere sympathy of the University com- munity be extended to his family.

JAMES C. FALKENSTINE

James C. Falkenstine, teacher, administrator, and public servant, was born in the highlands of West Virginia at Valley Point on January 31, 1921. Possessed with an enduring interest in the natural sciences, he pursued the study of agriculture at West Virginia University and was awarded the B.S. and M.S. degrees from that institution. Subsequently, the Doctor of Educa- tion degree was conferred upon him by the University of Kentucky. His mem- bership in numerous honoraries attests to his ability as a scholar. He served with distinction as a teacher and administrator in the public school of Scott and Bourbon counties. In 1965, he was chosen to be Director of Southeast Community College at Cumberland, Kentucky.

Southeast Community College, under his direction, made great progress toward becoming a truly organic part of the region. Transfer and techni- cal curricula and continuing education programs were strengthened and an effort was made at diversity in order to render the best possible service to the people of southeastern Kentucky. The acceptance of these programs was evidenced by a marked increase in enrollment. His forthright approach to educational problems earned him the respect of his faculty and staff. An unusually symbiotic relationship developed between the college and the city of Cumberland and its environs largely as a result of the pervasive influence and leadership exercised by this remarkable man.

During his tenure at Southeast, he became deeply involved in community action. He was a member of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, Chairman of the Cumberland Citizen's Advisory Committee, President of the Rotary Club, and Chairman of the Official Board of the Cumberland United Methodist Church. In addition, he was a member of the Harlan Library Board, the Rebecca Caudill Library Board, and the Little Shepherd Trail Association. His concern for the welfare of the people in his area led him to become intimately involved in the drive for better community hospital facilities. He was indeed a fitting representative of the University of Kentucky to the citizens of this distinctive region of the Commonwealth.

James C. Falkenstine was in every sense -- a gentleman. He was, by birth and demeanor, the product of his beloved mountains. Calm, soft-spoken, dignified, honorable, religious, and sincere, he dedicated his life to the youth and people of the region he understood and loved. In his passing, the Commonwealth has lost an able leader, the University has lost an outstanding administrator, and all of us who knew him have lost a beloved colleague and friend. Therefore, be it accordingly resolved that this tribute and expression of sorrow be incorporated in the Minutes of the University of Kentucky Senate and that the sincere sympathy of the University community be extended to the family of Dr. James C. Falkenstine.

On behalf of the faculty of the College of Agriculture, Dr. Robert W. Rudd presented resolutions on the death of Dr. William A. Seay, Dean, College of Agriculture and Director, Agricultural Experiment Station. The Senate approved the resolution for incorporation in the Minutes of the Senate and directed that an expression of its deep sense of personal loss and sympathy be extended to his family.

The members of the Senate stood for a moment of silence in tribute to Dr. Falkenstine and Dean Seay.

Resolution on the Death of

DEAN WILLIAM A. SEAY
(1920-1969)

William A. Seay was born in Charleston, Missouri, on September 12, 1920. Moving to Kentucky at an early age with his family, he received his elementary and secondary education in the schools of Hickman County. After completing bachelors and masters degrees in agriculture at the University of Kentucky, Bill Seay completed a Ph.D. in Soils at the University of Wisconsin. Returning to the University of Kentucky as a faculty member in 1949, Bill Seay moved rapidly through the academic ranks to become Professor of Soils in the Department of Agronomy in 1954. Departing from academic pursuits in his University career in 1956, Bill Seay became, successively, Administrative Assistant to the Dean and Director, Vice Director, and Acting Dean and Director of the College of Agriculture before being appointed Dean and Director in 1962. Dean Seay met his untimely death in the crash of his private plane on a mountain ridge near Martinsburg, West Virginia, on February 1, 1969, while returning from a professional meeting.

Dean Seay was a member of a number of professional and honorary societies, including Alpha Zeta, Sigma Xi, the American Soil Science Society, the Kentucky Academy of Science, and many others. Although administration claimed his time during recent years, he was the author of more than twenty scientific papers on soil chemistry, fertility and the use of radioisotopes.

In addition to his career as administrator and academician, Bill Seay served his country as a decorated combat officer during World War II, and at the time of his death held the rank of Lieutenant Colonel in the United States Army Reserve.

A former letterman on the University of Kentucky Rifle Team as a student, Dean Seay was awarded the University of Kentucky Athletic Association Achievement Award during the Centennial Year of the University of Kentucky for his outstanding leadership and service in his chosen profession of agriculture. In 1968 he received the medallion authorized by the Congress of the United States and presented by the Federal Land Bank of Louisville for outstanding contributions to American agriculture. He also received the Soil Conservation award for outstanding contributions to the wise use and management of the nation's natural resources.

Dean Seay's contributions to his University and to his College will long be remembered. His reorganization of the Agricultural Extension Service with an increased emphasis on specialization is regarded as a path-breaking innovation. Dean Seay's interest in students and their welfare are well known and his efforts have led to the expansion of scholarship opportunities in the college as well as constructive innovations in courses and curricula of the undergraduate and graduate programs of the College of Agriculture.

To his faculty, Bill Seay was a warm friend, a trusted counsellor and an imaginative and dedicated administrator. His vision, courage and determination were a rare combination, and will be sorely missed by his College, his University and his state.

Be it resolved, therefore, that the Senate and the entire University community express a deep sense of personal loss at Dean Seay's death and extend its sympathy to his family.

The Chairman introduced to the Senators Dr. Nicholas J. Pisacano, Vice Chairman, and Dr. William K. Plucknett, Secretary, of the University Senate Council. In addition, the remaining members of the Council were asked to stand.

Minutes of the University Senate, February 10, 1969 (Cont'd)

Dr. Elbert Ockerman, Secretary of the University Senate, reported to the Senate that the procedure which had been followed for this meeting, that of circulating the list of degree candidates in advance of the meeting, would be followed in the future. He then presented the list of candidates for degrees at the December 21, 1968, Commencement, together with a brief summary, certified that they had completed requirements for degrees as indicated, and recommended that the list of candidates be approved for recommendation to the Board of Trustees. The Senate approved the list as circulated and certified.

Dean Robert M. Drake, Chairman of the Committee on Honorary Degrees, presented a recommendation that honorary degrees be conferred on five persons (the fifth having been recommended and approved by the Senate and the Board of Trustees in 1968 but was unable to accept) at the May 1969 Commencement. The Senate approved the four new persons as presented for recommendation to the Acting President and Board of Trustees with the request to the press that the names be withheld until the Board has taken action and the nominees have accepted.

Dr. Nicholas J. Pisacano, Chairman of the University Senate Advisory Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics, presented a brief tentative interim report of that Committee. He stated that the final, full written report would be circulated to the faculty to be followed by an open meeting of the Committee with the faculty. He further reported that the new Athletic Director, Harry Lancaster, and the new football coach, John Ray, would appear before the Senate at the March meeting, to speak to the Senators and to answer questions. Dr. Pisacano urged the Senators to feel free to communicate with any of the members of the Committee which is composed of Professor David K. Blythe, Engineering; Professor Thomas Brower, Surgery; Dr. Stephen Diachun, Agriculture; Dean Lyman V. Ginger, Education; Dr. Joseph Logan Massie, Business and Economics; Dr. Wimberly C. Royster, Mathematics; Dean W. L. Matthews, Jr., Law, acting as secretary; and Dr. Pisacano.

The Chairman announced that a University Convocation would be held on Thursday, February 20, 1969, beginning at 2:30, and that classes would be dismissed from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. The speaker will be Dr. Elvis Stahr.

The meeting adjourned at 4:30 p.m.

Elbert W. Ockerman
Secretary
