

seen from Gen. Burnside, & that we are to accompany him as far as is necessary. I don't much think he will let us go until we anchor him in Albemarle Sound. We are to stop at Fortress Monroe going down, to receive last orders from Gen Wool, & to get the whole regiment together, & I shall mail this letter from there. For fun, good singing etc, I'll back the 8th A. S. against any regiment in the service. I saw more of Co. A. than any of the rest, & they are the best looking set I have yet seen. They own their horses & of course keep them in first rate order. Some of the privates are worth from three to four ^{hundred} thousand dollars.

My Dear Mother

I find I shall have a chance to mail a letter at Fortress Monroe to-morrow, so before I go to bed I will try & give you the "news to date." I wrote to you on Sunday last, so I shall give you a sort of journal of my doings this week. On Monday I went to Washington in the morning to try for a cook. I didn't stay very long however, for I was afraid the boat might be ordered off, so I came down by three o'clock.

The orders hadn't come, so I took the sail boat & one of the crew, & went down the river a mile or two & landed on the Maryland side. I took a walk round a little way, & stayed there looking about for an hour, & then returned to Alexandria. Tuesday I wrote a few letters & then went fishing. The hooks father sent came into play, for we caught enough Eels in a couple of hours to let all hands make their supper off fresh fish. At four P.M. our orders came. We left the dock & went alongside the schooner "Maryland," & it being nearly dark by that time, we lay in the stream by her all night.

Mr. Snow (Dr. M's Agent) told us that we should have to take six vessels down, which were bound for Hatteras. He did not know how far we should have to go with them, but told us that Colonel Mix would give us our orders.

The next morning - Wednesday, we got all on board together - two brigs, the "Centurion" & "Susan Duncan", & four Schooners, the "G.C. Morris", "Gen: G. Higgins", "Maryland", and "John Farum"; & about 9 A.M. we left Alexandria & proceeded down the river. The troops on board the vessels are, Van Allen's Cavalry, the 3^d N. Y. Col. Mix (under whose orders we now are) is a first rate fellow, & most of his officers seem to be the same. The Col. & his staff are on board of the "John Farum", & we took her alongside on the starboard hand, & the "Maryland", with C. A. on board, on the port side. The Officers & soldiers have been on the boat a good deal, & we of course have been over to see them. The Col. tells me that they are going down to the afternoon with Capt. Hinman, Major Lewis, Dr. Palmer, & several of the officers & men of the regiment. Piney Pt. used to be quite a watering place, although it is pretty much deserted now.

We went up to the hotel, & then up to the bowling ally, & along the beach. I had my first swim in fresh waters, & have felt better for it ever since. The water was awfully cold & we only stayed in a few moments, but the plunge did me good.

When we got back to the boat we found a contraband alongside with a puny load of Oysters.

We got quite a lot from him & emptied them on our after deck & then went to work with our Pocket Knives. Opening Oysters is a science. We are rapidly learning it however, & by the time we get home shall almost equal the men down at Fulton Market. In the evening I listened to the singing until high call, & "laps," (about 8 o'clock) & then went on board the "John Farmer" to see the Col. I found all the officers playing "Loo" in the cabin, & sat there talking with them until nearly midnight. This morning it was stormy again, & we lay still at Piney Point until noon. By dinner time it had cleared away a little & we got our tim in order & started. We shall run all night, unless something new turns up, & get in to Fortress Monroe by daylight tomorrow. I don't of course know how long we shall lay there, it will depend on Col. May altogether. If we go all the way to Natteras with these vessels it will probably be a week or ten days before we get back. If we only take them thirty or forty miles outside of Cape Henry however, we shall be gone but a day or two. I don't suppose we shall know till the last moment. We are ordered to report at Ship P. on our return, & from there Col. Ingalls may send us up the York river, or Heaven knows where. I shall write to Father before going to bed, & I may get another chance to send you a letter before long. I am still quite well. Give my love Grandmother, Aunt Esther Lizzie & all —

Your loving son

I send some C.A. notes - As Co. first $5.00 one, - I have of course they have lots of leisure, & spar, fence, etc, all the time. There is a regular Glee Club in the Company, & every evening after supper they ~~would~~ go forward, & sing about everything, from "Lexie" to "Hail Columbia." "Hallelujah," seems to be the prime favorite & they sing it splendidly.

Wednesday night it came on very thick & stormy, & we anchored under Pine Point near the mouth of the river. The next morning it was nearly as bad so we lay there all day. About noon the rain stopped, & it would have been very pleasant if it had not been for a dense fog. We could not see half a mile ahead, while it was quite clear astern & on our larboard quarter. I went on shore in
