Dean Suspend Social Privileges Of Sigma Chi

By Bob Cox
Lambda Lambda chapter of Sigma Chi fraternity has been suspended from all social and athletic activities on the campus for the coming year as a result of infraction of University rules concerning the drinking of alcoholic beverages on fraternity premises, the dean of men has announced.

The punishment was imposed by the office of the Dean of Men. The Interfraternity Council took no action on the matter.

A letter from Dean A. D. Kirwan to William Benjamin, president of Sigma Chi, was read at the meeting of the Interfraternity Council Tuesday night by Fred Nichols, president of the organization.

Restrictions imposed
The letter stated that "several kegs" of beer had been consumed by members of the fraternity at the chapter house on Sunday, May 15. As a result, the letter said, the following restrictions have been imposed upon the Sigma Chi fraternity:

1. All officers must resign and never hold another office in the fraternity.
2. The fraternity can hold no initiation until February, 1950.
3. There will be no social activities during the coming year for the fraternity.
4. Sigma Chi's cannot take part in the University intramural activities.
5. No Vote in IFC
The fraternity will continue to have representation on the Interfraternity Council, but will have no vote. This rule is in accordance with the IFC constitution regarding the status of good standing with the University.
6. The fraternity will abide by the rules of the Interfraternity Council.

Dean Kirwan said later that he took this step "with deepest regret," but that University rules must be followed.

Leadership Group To Give Awards To UK Athletes

Four athletic scholarships for students outstanding in minor sports will be awarded for the 1949-50 school year by Omron Delta Kappa, men's leadership honorary.

Punds from ODK tag sales (the 25 percent usually appropriated to the Athletic Department) will go to the sports scholarship fund.

The awards of one-year's tuition to graduates at a Kentucky high school will be given to outstanding students in golf, tennis, track, and baseball. The selections will be made on the basis of scholarship, character, and achievement in one of the four minor sports. The University scholarship committee will select recipients upon the recommendation of the coach in each field.

Ned Breschitt is chairman of the sports scholarship committee. The other members are Jim Line, Johnny Owens, and Bernie Shively, athletic director.

Forman Urges Improved Food

The UK Society of Bacteriologists heard an address by Dr. Jonathan Forman, Ohio State University, at their meeting Monday in the Pankhouser Building.

Dr. Forman told his audience that people do not receive enough attention because of the discovery that bacteria caused diseases and generally received all of the attention.

He added that more energy should be directed toward teaching our people the importance of a good diet and good nutrition which together would do much to do away with disease.

"Good health comes from good food. The quality of our food depends upon the quality of the soil in which it was grown," he added.

Dr. Forman also paid tribute to the researchers in allergy now being conducted at UK under the direction of Prof. Morris Scheraga.

Venita Dawson was elected president of the society at the meeting. Other officers are Ruth Trez, vice-president; May Meade, treasurer; and Helen Smith, secretary.

Division Offers Six Scholarships

Six engineering scholarships valued at $500 each are being offered by the Division of Insurance of the Commonwealth of Kentucky. Only students who are residents of Kentucky and who are now students in the College of Engineering, expecting to graduate in June 1950 or June 1951 are eligible.

Selections will be made on a competition basis by the University scholarship committee. Previous grades, placement tests, interviews, interest tests, as well as interpersonal distribution will be considered.

Interviews and tests will be given May 30, and appointments will be announced June 3. The scholarships become effective for the school year 1949-50.

Additional information can be obtained from Dean D. V. Terrell in Anderson Hall.

Education Values To Be Studied By Workshop

A workshop on discovering spirals of value in education is to be conducted June 4-21 by the University in cooperation with the State Department of Education. Teachers from six pilot experimental schools in the state will attend the workshop which will be under the direction of William Clayton Bower, professor of sociology and professor emeritus from the University of Kentucky.

Dr. Bower said today that the workshop has grown out of the feeling that education ought to be as much concerned with teaching moral and spiritual values as it is with knowledge and techniques.

He added that while there has been an increase in this feeling throughout the nation, it has been a particularly strong and spontaneous movement in Kentucky.

Dr. Bower To Teach
Five teachers from each of the experimental schools have been chosen to attend the workshop. Scholarships have been made available for them by the General Educational Board in New York.

A general course on principles followed this each day, there will be five simultaneous projects conducted, each of which will be attended by one member from each school.

Course Names Listed
Names of the courses are "Social Analysis of the School Community and Behavior Situations," under the direction of Dr. Irwin Sanders, and Miss Katherine Kennedy; "Analysis of Curriculum Content," Robert Allen, director of curriculum research of the Louisville Public Schools; "Personal and Group Counseling," Dr. Paul Bowman, department of psychology at the University of Louisville.

Publicist From The University Of Heidelberg Explains German Newspaper System To Students

German newspaper staffs are not have not been educated to form opinions of their own.

The American Zone contrasts with the French and Russian in that there is little censorship of the press, she said. Freedom of opinion is allowed, and a great deal of space is given to "letters to the editor."

Russians Stereotyped
When asked for her opinion of the Russian press, Miss Roar said that Russian writers have vocabulary which they use constantly. Almost every news story is merely a rearrangement of such words as "capitalism" and "imperialism."

Dr. Roar drew applause from the students when she said that the German radio has no commercials. Instead, it is supported by the payment of two marks about $1 in purchasing power, by every radio owner. Neither do German newspapers carry comic strips although cartoons and jokes are printed. Dr. Roar told how the Nazi party look over the independent newspapers in Germany—gradually at first—and then more boldly after it had gained power. Newspapers have not yet been returned to private ownership.

Teaching Different
"Methods of teaching are quite different in Germany—much more formal," Miss Roar smiled and said when students voiced their disapproval of some assignments with less regard.

She added that practical training in journalism. The universities try to equip them with a good general background. It is left to the newspapers to train their workers as apprentices.

Dr. Roar visited and spoke on campus until yesterday. —By B. L. M.

What Next?

There is pathetically little campus activity life at the University of Kentucky.

This may seem like a strange statement in view of hundreds of campus organizations in existence. The old UK saw about the campus being "overorganized" is true in a sense, but only in a superficial sense.

The fact is that the campus is crowded with clubs and honoraries. But practically every one of them is just going through the motions, with no real enthusiasm or interest on the part of the members, who may have joined for many and varying reasons.

Too few of them have any purpose. And those that do, or could, have, are too feeble to achieve anything.

Look at one of the top organizations on the campus, the Student Government Association. It could, and should, be the key organization, the originator of new, helpful plans for the campus, the discoverer of solutions to old campus problems, and the means through which the large student body could be drawn together in support of ideas or corrections they need and want.

Is it? Far from it. Its suggestions, when it used to make suggestions, have been cold-shouldered, often as not. Its funds, coming from an addition to student fees for the specific purpose of supporting SGA, are now incorporated into University funds about which SGA has little to say. For instance, if SGA suggests new registration processes, it's turned aside with around-the-bush statements. If it wants to appropriate enough money to send a student to Europe, it can't without University approval, which this year was not forthcoming.

Take another big organization now hamstringed, largely through the removal of control from student hands. Sucky, once a lively, hustling group, is now a farce.

The list could go on and on. A major addition to it was made Tuesday night, when the other empty, figurehead organizations moved over to make room for the Interfraternity Council.

The Council had to sit idly by, without a word, and see an administrative disciplinary group make a drastic change of a fraternity.

Even though the University is as fair as possible in its dealings with students, why should such functionless organizations stay in existence when actually they are only dummies with no authority and little influence?

Student campus activity life has a dangerously low pulse these years. By taking the initiative, the control, the responsibility from student hands, the school has run the risk of removing also the zest, the enjoyment, the enthusiasm and interest.

As the campus organizations have become more and more moribund, about the last remaining element of color and life has been the sorority-fraternity element.

When encroachment on their initiative is complete, the few remaining campus functions of interest will become as forced as the pep rallies, and as artificial as the cooked-up "College Night," designed to encourage freshmen about the gaiety of college living.

Wise Stand On Negro Issue

In not appealing the Federal Court's decision permitting Negroes to enter UK's Graduate School, and in accepting Negroes in the Colleges of Pharmacy, Law, and Engineering, the University has acted sensibly and highly commendably.

The stand taken on this most controversial question is one for which UK students can be rightfully proud of their University.

Lucky Seniors

While congratulating graduating seniors, don't forget to congratulate them for not having to wait in line through the next fall's inevitable registration confusion.

If really large schools used our system, the semester would be gone before everyone was enrolled.

The Spice Of Life

By Jobie Anderson

Here goes the last of nothing!! One mo' weekend of "Jardies", and then... let's not mention it. The Sigma Xi, Alpha Xi, Sig Epi, Phi Delta and KA affairs were fine and fitting. This has been a wonderful spring of formal. There was some all round putting out on decorations, bands, and originality. Thanks for the memories, you Greek games!!

The seniors look kinda sad these days. Some felt so sad they had to drive around the KP yard in a jeep. Guess it's all in the departing... Who are we kidding?

Mimi Kirchdoeffer and Joe Benowitz had the honor of being profusely congratulated before they were even pinned.

J. C. Doyle and Pryor Hancock always go stag to dances so they can bustle the vocalists. That's a new one.

Betha Mouse Scaman is unhappy about Monte graduating. He won't find another little friend next fall that'll compare with that sweetie. Betty Strank and Tom Duncan are trying to relight their old flame. Owen Lewis and Dick Endicott will make that a nice summer quadrangle.

Wot Hoppened? Looks like we forgot about Miki Curtis and Tommy Zimmerman being pinned. They're still pinned even though his big brother had to have the pin back.

Gus Vassani has his fingers crossed. Nancy Sheburne says she'll forget about matrimony if she wins the Kentucky State Golf Tournament.

The Phi Deltas enjoyed their dance so much that they sat on the front porch, lugs and all, till 11 a.m. Saturday. Stan White went out on a date without any shut eye.

Mary Ann Hunter and J. W. Davis are putting brick on brick and hope to have their house finished by the "lucky day".

Walter Underwood loves upper-classwomen. Dot Richardson is the latest.

Constant 'ere school is out; Mildred Cox and Bob McCowan, Betty Billiter and Jerry Inman, Jimmy Inman and all the Alpha Xi's, Frances Goldstein and Richie Franks.

Charlie Woodward is a free man. He looks a lot more like his old self since Marilyn Bauer switched to Ralph Beard's team.

We thought Ruth McCracken would never weaken but she's hitting it with Janie Albrecht, again. Betty Thompson is so crazy about Gordon. Meney's Sigma Chi pin that she ever wears it on her bathing suit. Some fish will get a stomach ache one of these days.

Hope Jim Stiles found a good

The greatest liability to mental disorder exists between the ages of 20 and 40.

William F. Coyle, "Buffalo Bill," became a Pony Express rider at the age of 14.

time gal for the last few weeks of school?

Bill Forrester and Priscilla McVe are strictly steady now. That's a perfectly suited couple if we ever saw one.

Carolyn Glenn and Joe Campbell had a quick change of heart. They have split completely!!

All the bets fell through the floor. Frances "Bath Bird" Youtser and Clyde Spears are still pinned.

The Alpha Xi and Sig Epi dances were conveniently located. People had a lovely time traipsing to and fro.

Here's a lovely note. A female formal is still hanging in Phi Delta house.

John Hancock is spending his last moments of school singing "Only A Rose".

Libby LaRue and Bob Kaiser are building a boat on the Kappa Sigma back porch. Looks like a summer full of lake water for them.

Pinned: Jo Ann Talley and Dick Witt; Pat Conway and Bill Martin; Jo Patterson and Jack Moore; Martha Gaunt and Jim Leckey; Linda Smith and Robert Trimble; Billy Gault and Marilyn Haley; Joanne Marsh and Bill Hockensmith; Dotie Miller and Ken Skinner; Peggy Gleason and Sheri Polger; Jane Burnett and Jim Thomas; Barbara Johnson and Roger Pate. Quite a last weekend, huh?

Al Ernos is the new Tyrone Power on the campus. His Patt Hall serenade Sunday night caused it all.

Frankie Jones and Satch Settlemeyer are off the steady list and are planning to play it foot loose and fancy free for the summer months.

It appears that Nancie Vaughn has finally settled down to her freshman basketball player. That accounts for the happy look on C. M. Newton's face.

Al Pruitt seems to have a monopoly on Dot Wilkerson's date life these days.

D. Marson Stone is having a tough time deciding between two SAE's. Better make up your mind before school is out!!

We wonder if "Whitey" Pierson knows how many cats wish he'd ask them for a date. Better give 'em a break these last few days, "Whitey."

Bob "Superman" Link is a hard luck boy. All his dates go steady (with someone else).

Skip Whitaker is a field player these days. What happens to the old flame in Patt Hall????

Jean Williams has turned heart-breaker to her many admirers. She and Hank Locke are going steady again.

Alan Marsh has a priority on Marian Stone's time these days but rumor has it that she's still faithful to the frosh basketball team or is it a player?

Bobby Clarick and "Hank" are still most regular. Love is the glue. Must hold true for Jane Webb and Doug Moseley too.

Ruby Graham left a great trail of smoke for her followers at the Sig Epi dance. She's off to blaze a highroad up NOO Yawk way. We won't forget her!!

Jobie's leaving too, but next fall will find the same typewriter making trouble. So the Spice says: Here's to the parties and all the fun.

Here's to the friends we've lost and won.

We've done our best the times you were mad.

Just say you'll miss us and we'll be glad!!

Oh well, summer is coming. Have a goodie--seniors and all.

We'll try a reunion 'bout next fall!!

ZZZZZZT!!!!

Making long distance SHORTER

There's a new and faster way to handle Long Distance calls. Made possible by new electronic switching equipment, it's called operator toll dialing.

You give the Long Distance operator the number you want. On keys before her at the switchboard, she punches out your call. In instant response, the new equipment takes over. It speeds your call to the distant city and rings the telephone you want. Just like that.

Toll dialing now reaches some 300 cities and more and more will be added until the network is nationwide. It's a part of the effort to make your telephone service better and better, at a cost within the reach of everyone.

UK Wins Eastern SEC; Fucci Pacing Hitters

By Kent Hollingsworth

Outfielder Don Fucci's stratospheric 300 season batting average leads the Wildcats hit parade. He's driven 17 runners across the plate with his timely base knocks in 12 games this year.

Dick Ramsey (.375), Benny Zaranka (.368), Walt Hirsch (.359), Allen Hamilton (.358), and John Stough (.303) round out the 300 hitters on the slugging Kentucky baseball team that has an all over team average of .358 in 17 games this spring.

Third baseman Dick Ramsey stands out as the long ball hitter of the squad. He leads the team in runs batted in (18), home runs (5), triples (7) and is tied with Hirsch for two base knocks with four.

The big left-handed first baseman, Walt Hirsch, lead-off man in the batting lineup, has the most base hits (26) and has stolen the most bases (12). Captain John Stough, who has one of the best slides on the team, is next in base thefts with 12.

Ray Mignery has been the ace of the pitching staff this year winning five while losing one. Smiling Roy Ford is next with three mound victories to his credit and no losses; Bob Hatchett has won one and lost one, and Walt Hirsch pitched a brilliant victory over Tech, but lucky into submission with long hits. R H E Kentucky — 610 041 010— 7 11 4 Georgia — 332 200 013— 13 6 6 Batteries: Hirsch Ford (4) and Cummins, Turner (4); Kell, Callahan (7) and Johnson.

UK 4, UT 2 Ray Mignery pitched Kentucky back to the winning side after the Georgia nightmare, with a three-hitter over collar bogged Tennessee, Friday in Knoxville. Walt Hirsch and Don Fucci accounted for all of the Wildcats runs, Hirsch banging a triple and two singles and scoring three times, while Fucci scored the other marker after hitting a double and two singles in Kentucky's 4-2 victory.

R H E Kentucky — 002 010 100— 4 9 1 Tennessee — 022 100 100— 2 2 1 Batteries: Mignery and Turner; Blair and Worthington.

UK 10, UK 8 Kentucky celebrated Tech's victory over Georgia — that clinched the title for them — with a dismal sloppy defeat Saturday at the hands of lovely Tennessee. Three home runs and a triple couldn't knock the Wildcats out of the doldrums, as they committed seven miscues in the field. Roy Ford, making his second mound appearance in two days, tired in the fourth inning and had to be relieved.

Ramsey, Ford, and Hatchett hit homers, but the Cats left 11 potential runs stranded on the base paths. Tennessee capitalized on Kentucky's errors, five of their 10 runs scoring as the direct result of miscues. Ray Mignery pitched the last 1-3 innings, making his fourth appearance in the lineup in as many days.

R H E Kentucky — 001 106 000— 8 14 1 Tennessee — 100 300 51X— 10 10 3 Batteries: Ford, Fucci (5), Hatchett (7), Mignery (7) and Turner; Pierce, Gray (6), Blair (7) and Worthington.

DOM FUCCI, the Wildcats' center fielder and catcher, finished the regular season with a snappy .300 batting average. The New Jersey lad will be a big factor in Kentucky's hopes to win the series with Mississippi State for the conference championship. Needless to say, Fucci has been busy this season saying no to major league scouts who are anxious to sign him up.

Breck Hall Defeats Sig Eps, 4-3 For IM Softball Title

Breck Hall has done it again. Dr. Wall's team won the University Intramural softball championship Wednesday afternoon by defeating the Sigma Phi Epsilon (SPE), 4-3, as Pitcher Fred Lawson allowed the losers three scattered singles.

Last March, Breck Hall captured the IM basketball crown. In addition to these two trophies, the Men's Dorms won the softball crown last summer, after finishing as runners-up last spring, when the Tippers ousted out Breck Hall on the stellar hurling of Dick Ramsey, who is now playing third base for the varsity nine.

In winning the softball tournament this spring, Breck Hall was undefeated in six games. They swept past Delta Chi, Tau Kappa, Phi Kappa Alpha, Scott Street Baracks, Sigma Nu and finally the Sig Eps. Breck Hall beat Sigma Nu, 10-1 in the semis.

Dr. Wall's other entry in softball play this spring, Kinkaid Hall, got to the semifinals largely through the standout hurling of Lefty Ray Zimmerman. However, the Sig Eps blanked Kinkaid last Thursday, 3-0, as Gene McMurry turned in another fine mound performance for the SPE club.

Came From Behind Breck Hall was trailing 3-1 going into the top of the sixth, but came through to push across three runs and Lawson was able to stop the Sig Eps hitters in their final two turns at the plate.

IM Golf Golf singles and doubles tournaments are both scheduled to come to a close today. The KA's are favored in both, due to the excellent play of the Grugin — Griffin combination.

Semifinalists in the singles are: Griffin (KA), and Stewart (KS), and Abel (SN) and Grugin (KA). Doubles semifinalists are Grugin and Griffin (KA) opposing the winner of Abel — Brown and Stewart — Dunn match, and Imman and Burke (DTD) oppose Wagner and Stewart (DTD).

IM Tennis Tennis finals are to be finished if weather permits. Semifinals were completed yesterday.

Individuals in the quarterfinals of the singles divisions were: Graham (SX), Rhodmeyer (DTD), Ted Ray (PDT), Dobson (LXA), Imman (DTD), Maturro (ATO), Wood (SAR) and Lazius (DTD).

Doubles teams in the quarterfinals were: Maturro and Stamer (ATO), Humston and Wood (SAR), Scherer and Ewing (PDT), and Klein and Berman (SPE).

Participation Points Delta Tau Delta appears to have won the all-participation trophy. At the beginning of this week they had garnered 262 points while Sigma Alpha Epsilon is next with 252.

The largest number of points that is possible for the SAE's to obtain in the remaining time is nine, provided they win all contests they are entered in.

DisKintucky Sports Review

— By Tom Diskin, Sports Editor —

The new lights for the intramural field behind the Student Union Building are apparently some weeks, months or possibly years away, judging from information we were able to gather this past week. Negotiations for installing lights have slowed down to a walk and it looks as if this project might drag along all summer without anything being done.

We learned from various persons in the physical education department and the University engineers that three companies have been asked to make "recommendations" for the erection of lights, but this is about all the farther the project has advanced in the past month. This past spring there were several intramural softball teams that, for a total of six weeks, were able to play just a total of two games, including games in the single-elimination tournament mostly due to the lack of playing fields. Night lights would permit four, and possibly five, games if necessary to be played on the field each evening instead of just two contests per afternoon, as was the case this past season.

On Friday, June 17, 10 Kentucky high school basketball players, under the tutelage of Western State's Ed Diddle, will play the annual game against the best high school stars of Indiana in Butler University's spacious gymnasium in Indianapolis.

Eight of the 10 players, all seniors, have been selected by Coach Diddle. They are Cope (Brewers High); Ramsey (Madisonville); Shearer (Clark County); Slumbo (Morehead); Bertekamp (Manassas of Louisville); Stokes (Monticello); Dick (St. Joe of Bardonia) and White (Scottsville).

The series between the two states favors the Hoosiers six games to one. Kentucky's lone victory came in 1945, when it had Ralph Beard and Wah Jones on the squad. Unfortunately, the Blue Grass State will very probably lose again this year. We personally are going to be anxious to see the results of this contest. We think Indiana's team will win by a sizeable margin. And we have a couple of reasons for this view.

First, the systems of selecting the two teams are entirely different. Here, the coach of Kentucky's squad picks his own men; in Indiana, a state-wide pole is taken which assures the squad being of high caliber. Anyone familiar with high school basketball in Kentucky can run over our lineup of players for this year's game and find most of the top players missing.

Secondly, the contest, as usual, will be played in Indianapolis which automatically gives the Hoosier hotshots a decided advantage. Some plan should be worked out to have every other game played here in Kentucky—in Louisville, Lexington or Owensboro, for instance.

In the third place, the Kentucky team will begin to workout for this game on June 11—which will give them just five days to get organized, unless they practice on the 12th (Sunday).

We feel that this annual affair should be dropped by this state, unless some drastic changes are made in the present setup. Kentucky is losing more prestige each year as they take their annual linking at the hands of the Indiana basketballers. Up there the entire state takes an active interest in the game and goes all out to win. Here it seems to have developed into a one-man affair. But understand now, we are not trying to belittle Uncle Ed Diddle. Not after his fine record at Western in the past. We do feel that he should get the very best players each year to represent Kentucky, or if for some reason he cannot do this, drop the series entirely.

The Southeastern Conference coaches were polled recently as to how they figure the loop's gridiron teams will finish or the 1949 season.

Here is the result: Tulane was in order came Vanderbilt, Tennessee, Ole Miss, Georgia, Alabama, and Georgia Tech tied for sixth, Kentucky, then between LSU and Florida, with Mississippi State and Auburn in the basement.

We also like Tulane to be the power of the conference. However, after that we feel that Tech and LSU will be better than rated in the above poll. Vanderbilt is somewhat of a question mark this season, being under a new coach and using the T-formation instead of the single-wing offense of past years. The Vols will probably start off slow again, but be very tough by mid-season.

Ole Miss will be capable of knocking off any team, including the Green Wave, which is loaded with great prospects. We like 'em in this order: Tulane, Ole Miss, and Vanderbilt in the first level; Tennessee, Tech, Kentucky, LSU, and Georgia in the next set (not necessarily in that order); and Mississippi State, Florida and Auburn more or less in the gridiron doldrums for the '49 campaign.

It is reported that Dom Pucci, the Wildcat's hard hitting outfielder-catcher who finished the regular season with a 500 hitting average, was offered a very lucrative bonus to sign with the New York Yankees, while the Kentucky nine was in Georgia last week.

Although interest in baseball around Lexington picked up considerably this season, it was still in a pretty sad state of affairs throughout the nation. Down in Miami last month, only 90 or 100

IRVY MILMAN, ace backstop for Breck Hall, is shown sliding into third base in the game with Sigma Nu last Monday afternoon. Breck Hall won this semifinal game with SN, 10-1, and went on to capture the crown Wednesday by taking the Sig Eps, 4-3.

Rollins To Appear In Musical Show

Kenny Rollins, senior member of the 1948 Olympic basketball team, has been auditioned and selected as one of the four Central Kentucky amateurs to appear on the Dick Continuo musical talent show at Henry Clay High School auditorium Wednesday.

The program, sponsored by the Lexington Cooperative Club, will include two shows, beginning at 7 p.m. and 9 p.m.

Continuo, winner of the Horace Heidt musical talent show last year, has a cast of other Heidt show performers on the program.

Harriers Finish Tenth In SEC; Dallas Qualifies For Southern

By Earl L. Conn

Captain Tony Dallas will be the only Kentucky representative on the Southeastern Conference track team which will oppose the Southern Conference in a dual meet in Atlanta Saturday. Dallas qualified in the 120-high hurdles at the SEC meet held in Birmingham last Friday and Saturday.

Georgia Tech won the SEC meet with the favored team, Louisiana State University, finishing second and Auburn third. Georgia Tech won with 39 1-5 points while LSU tallied 35 1/2 and Auburn, 23 1-5. Kentucky was tenth with 8 1/2 points.

Coach Don Seaton said he would accompany Dallas to the meet. Arrangements are to fly to Atlanta Saturday morning for the meet, Coach Seaton added. He also said that Dallas may participate in the low hurdles if one of the SEC men is unable to compete. Dallas finished fourth in the low and second in the high. The first three men in each event are scheduled to compete.

Dallas secured six of Kentucky's points in the SEC meet with his two hurdle finishes. Frank Smotherman was fifth in the shotput; Dick Griffith fifth in the two-mile run; and Johnny Meihaus tied for fifth in the broad jump for the remainder of Kentucky's points. LSU had previously won the SEC meet 13 times in 16 years but failed to qualify key men Friday. Georgia Tech won several seconds and thirds to take the meet by their four point margin.

Lowther Breaks Leg
LSU's last chance disappeared when Charles (Buster) Lowther, their key pole vaulter, broke his leg during Saturday's events.

During the Friday qualification, Tech qualified 16 men while LSU qualified only 10. Auburn was next with nine.

Several of the SEC marks were expected to fall during the day. However, 16-mile-per-hour winds greeted most the dashmen and times were comparatively low.

Buddy Fowler was the mainstay for the Tech team as he captured both Tech firsts—in the low hurdles and the broad jump. He was also third in the 220-yard dash and fifth in the 100-yard dash.

The expected record dash battles between Paul Benz of Tulane and Telford Neely of Mississippi State failed to materialize, mainly because of the winds. Benz won both of the dash events. He had been clocked at 9.2 in the century dash in an earlier dual meet. The record did not stand, however, because of the wind at his back.

The finish of the teams was as follows: Georgia Tech 39 1-5; LSU

35 1/2; Florida 24 1-5; Alabama 17 1/2; Tulane 16; Tennessee 16; Georgia 13 7-10; Mississippi State 12; Mississippi 9 1-5; KENTUCKY 8 1/2; and Vanderbilt none.
