Fiery defense helps Cats cancel Czechs to win opener 98-52

By JOHN JURY
Assistant Sports Editor

Even though UK coach Eddie Sutton started three guards against a taller opponent in last night's exhibition game, the trio still managed to hold its rival in Czech.

Guards James Blackmon, Ed Davender and Roger Harden combined for 42 points as the Wildcats blew out the Czechoslovakian National team 98-52 in Rupp Arena.

"These guys played tonight like they were capable of playing," said Sutton, who made his coaching debut before the crowd of 22,569. "They played like guys I've coached before."

Leading 65-36 with 11:10 remaining in the game, UK's lively defense sparked a 17-2 spurt that enabled the Cats to put the game out of reach at 89-50.

"It wasn't so much we scored off the offense, but we scored off the defense," Sutton said. "I thought offensively, we were sluggish at times and inconsistent. The big key, and it will be most of the time, is we played aggressive defense."

Harden, who scored 13 points off a 6-for-6 shooting night, scored seven points within 45 seconds with a three-pointer from the left side and two jumpers. The second came off this of a dazzling assist from Leroy Byrds.

Senior Kenny Walker then hit a driving reverse layup from a Harden assist at 8:45 which prompted a Czech timeout with the Cats leading 74-38.

"This game is not a good indication," Sutton said, "because the teams we'll play from now on will be better than this team. But (the Czech team has) to be a little tired."

After the timeout, Sutton inserted Davender, Blackmon, Richard Madison and Irving Thomas, who didn't let the fun end there.

from the top of the circle, then fed Blackmon for a layup.

Although he didn't score last night, the freshman Thomas kept the crowd on its feet when he fired a bullet to Davender on a backdoor sprint that capped off the Wildcats' scoring barrage.

"We've got a lot of firepower on this team," said Sutton, "but defense is the stabilizer."

"The last three weeks we've been practicing hard," said Davender, who scored 14 points. "We were tired of playing against each other. We were ready for some red meat."

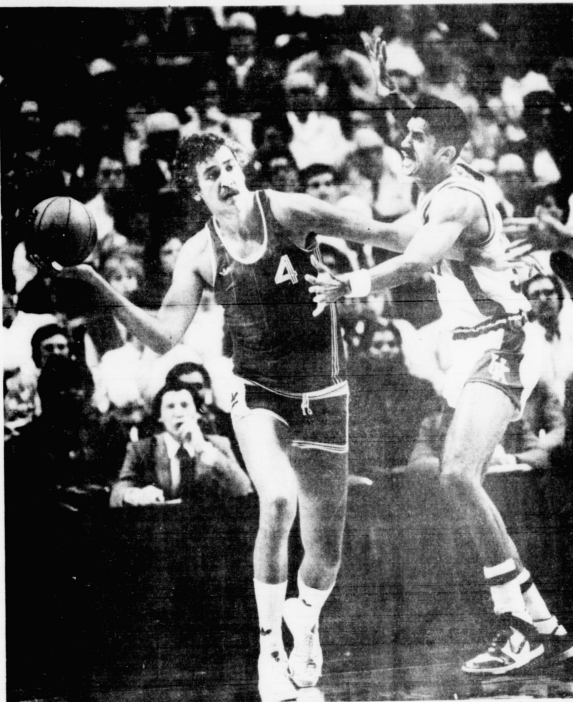

Walker started where he left off last year, leading the Cats in scoring with 21 points. Blackmon chipped in 16, and Winston Bennett got 13.

Five Wildcats scored in double figures.

UK never trailed in the game as it jumped out to a 14-lead after baskets from Walker, Davender and early. The Cats increased their lead to 20-11 on two Walker jumpers in the lane and a Blackmon rebound follow-up.

The Czechs got into foul trouble early. Their two tallest starters —

Kentucky forward Kenny Walker guards Czechoslovakia's center Jaroslav Skala during first-half action of the game last night at Rupp Arena. UK won the game 98-52.

7-foot Jaroslav Skala and 6-8 Oto Maticky — picked up five fouls with in the first six minutes of the game.

Guard Zdenek Boehm, shooting from outside 15 feet, led the Czechs in scoring with 13 points and hit the team's only three-pointer. Skala scored 10, but no other Czech reached double figures.

Team of Clary, Zander wins freshman election

By JAY BLANTON
Contributing Writer

"First we would just like to thank God for the College Republicans," said an excited Keith Clary after the announcement of his and his running mate Greg Zander's victory in yesterday's Student Government Association freshman election.

Clary said College Republican members John Fischer, Alan Holt and campaign manager Bill Maxwell were essential to his and Zander's campaign.

Clary received 138 of the 744 votes cast in the election to become the top vote-getter. Zander received 132 to beat out his nearest competitor by 22 votes.

College of Arts & Sciences Senator Kathy Ashcraft said about 7 percent of the freshman class voted in the election.

Clary, a political science and finance freshman, said he and Zander, also a political science freshman, hope to get input from freshmen on major senate issues by taking polls.

"Issues like divestment can't just be railroaded through the senate — the freshman must be polled," Clary said.

Zander added he hopes he and Clary will be able to give their best on every issue by representing both majority and minority views.

Another issue the newly elected senators would like to address is funds on overdue library books. "Twenty-five cents a day for overdue books is just a tad much," Clary said.

Congress approves increased debt limit

By CLIFF HAYS
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — The government's latest fiscal mess was temporarily cleaned up yesterday after the House gave final congressional approval to interim legislation raising federal borrowing authority — the national debt limit — to $19 trillion.

With no debate and only about two dozen members present, the House, on a voice vote, approved the legislation that postpones a credit crunch through Dec. 6 by raising the government's $184 trillion limit of credit to $19 billion. It now goes to the White House for President Reagan's expected signature.

The Senate passed the measure on a voice vote Wednesday night.

Senate Majority Leader Robert Dole, R-Kan., said the action would "relieve the president of any burden while he was at the summit" next week with Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev.

Without action, the government would have been in default. The president had ordered federal agencies to check stopped issuing new checks today if Congress had not increased the debt limit.

Attached to the legislation is an extension until Dec. 15 of the 16-cent-a-pack federal tax on cigarettes, today and question how faith is affected by them.

He earned a master's degree from St. Louis University and studied at the School of Divinity there. He also received a doctorate degree from the University of Pennsylvania.

He gave material to the Universities of Virginia, Harvard and Yale; the bulk of the collection went to UK, including a large gift dedicated in 1982. He also made a bequest of the rest of his collection when he died Dec. 24, 1984, said Birchfield.

"He said he'd do it (donate to the University) when he started collecting things," Birchfield said. "He was an important donor to the library."

The Rev. John M. Staudenmaier, noted lecturer and writer, will speak at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Newman Center on Rose Street.

The event is free and open to the public.

Staudenmaier, who is currently an associate professor of technology at the University of Detroit, will discuss the relationship between modern technology and religion. His lecture is titled "Technology, U.S.A. Style: Impacts on Faith Life." The purpose

Library naming gallery to honor donor

The man who gave the University over 15,000 rare books is being honored Sunday.

A donor for more than 30 years, W. Hugh Peel helped make UK one of the most important schools in the nation in its holdings of early English Romantics, said James D. Birchfield, associate director for collection development.

Fraternity to sponsor bowl-a-thon for charity

By DENISE V. SAUNDERS

Since 1980, Phi Kappa Tau fraternity has devoted time and money to the Bluegrass Chapter of the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation.

"This year the fraternity will sponsor the first March of Dimes Bowl-a-thon at 9 a.m. tomorrow at Joyland Bowl on Newtown Pike.

"All funds raised for the event will be donated to the March of Dimes to continue its vital work in birth defects, research and prevention," said John Dietz, executive director of the March of Dimes. "Fifty percent of it will go nationally and 50 percent of it will stay in Lexington for research."

Last year's Bowl-a-thon in Frankfort successfully raised $2,000 dollars," he added.

"We believe that every baby has a right to a healthy start in life," said Bill Hochleutner, Phi Tau chairman, in a press release. "By helping the March of Dimes, we are working toward providing a healthier tomorrow for our nation's children. We would like to encourage everyone to participate."

Pharmacy professor indicted

Instructor facing 21 felony counts

By ANN ROGERS
Contributing Writer

A UK associate professor of pharmacy has been indicted on 21 felony charges involving UK property.

Officers for UK Police and the sheriff's department arrested James Sieg, 40, at his home of 1309 Grayhawk Drive, Apt. C, at about 6 p.m. Wednesday.

Sieg was released on bond at 5 p.m. yesterday from the Fayette County Detention Center.

UK Police Chief Paul Harrison said Sieg has been charged with 17 counts of knowingly receiving stolen University property, two counts of failure to make required disposition, one count of obtaining illegal substances by fraud and one count of trafficking Desverine.

The charge of failing to make required disposition means Sieg's loss of receipt and disposition of certain controlled substances allegedly was not properly annotated, said Wally Skiba, director of Human Resource Services.

The UK Police Department initiated the investigation about three months ago, Skiba said.

The investigation was triggered by a request made through the state Drug Enforcement Agency, Skiba said. He said an examination of orders in the college for various substances revealed a greater amount of orders for some than the research being done would explain. The agency wanted to know where the substances were going, he added.

In a prepared statement issued by the UK, Medication Control officials said they are cooperating in the investigation and that Sieg has not been dismissed.

The temporary bill also would extend until Dec. 14 a government program of aid to workers and companies hurt by competition from imports, a limit on the size of federal Medicare reimbursements to doctors and hospitals, and the method of calculating benefits for unemployed railroad workers. Those programs also were expiring yesterday.

Wasting no time, the Treasury Department announced that it would borrow a total of $61 billion to replenish the government's depleted coffers in a series of seven securities auctions beginning today.

Today the government will raise $22 billion in new cash in order to cover government pay checks and a $16 billion interest payment that is coming due that day.

In September, the Reagan administration asked Congress to increase the debt limit from its current level to $270 trillion. But that necessary legislation has become tangled in congressional wrangling over rival plans passed by the House and Senate to force a balanced budget by the end of the decade.

Cats pinpoint problems entering SEC battle with Florida

By WILLIE HIATT
Sports Editor

Not that it's taken nine games for the Wildcats to realize something's wrong, it's just that the 31-24 loss to Vanderbilt last week has seemed to bring the problems into sharper focus.

"We keep saying something is missing," said wide receiver Cisco Bryant.

"Just what is another matter. We've been asking ourselves that question for the last four weeks," said UK Coach Jerry Claiborne.

Some say it's too little too late, but with two games remaining, the UK football team seems to have reached a consensus about why it has been less than impressive this season.

The explanations are nothing new — the team is just staying them with a little more certainty.

"The team's personality isn't the 'rah-rah' sort. They're good players, but they're not excitable," Claiborne said. "It's not anything against them, they're just not excited."

MATT LUCAS

"The team has never maintained a level of intensity. In order to make things happen, I think you have to learn to play 60 minutes of total football," said junior tight end Matt Lucas. "That is what made the big plays and good things happen to us last year."

"Which brings up the absence of 'big plays,' Claiborne cites UK's failure to convert on third down as the Vanderbilt loss as a recent example. "That's the telling down," he said. "You either get the ball on defense or keep the ball on offense. We did not convert the third down plays."

These failures aside, the Wildcats are optimistic entering tomorrow's 1:30 p.m. game with Florida in Gainesville. The Cats, 5-4 overall and 1-3 in the Southeastern Conference, will have to knock off Florida tomorrow and Tennessee in the final game of the season to be even considered for a bowl bid.

Florida on the other hand, is 7-1-1 overall and 3-1 in the SEC, and was ranked No. 1 in the nation before losing 24-3 to Georgia last week. The loss was the first under Gator coach Galen Hall, who has a 15-1 record since taking over the position three games into last season.

Although probation rules out post-season play for the Gators, they haven't lost their reason for playing.

"We still have a great deal to play for," Hall said. "We feel if we come out on top this Saturday the only team that could tie us would be Tennessee. We have defeated Tennessee, and we would feel like we were the best in the conference."

The Gators are led by sophomore quarterback Kirwan Bell, who came to Florida as a walk-on. Bell has thrown for 2,106 yards and 17 touchdowns this season in completing more than 80 percent of his passes.

Running backs Neal Anderson and John L. Williams, who have 806 and 598 yards respectively, lead the Gators rushing attack.

Lady Kats end scrimmages

Staff reports

Senior Karen Mosley's 10-foot jumper with 12 seconds left gave the Blue team a 74-72 win over the Whites in the Lady Kats' final intrasquad scrimmage game last night at Powell County High School.

Junior Debbie Miller led all scorers with a career-high 28 points for the White team. For the Whites, Leslie Nichols had 24, Monique Tarantini and Jodi Whitaker each added 9, and Lynne Elbert finished with two points.

The Blue team was led by Bebe Croley's 23 points. Mosley added 18, Sandy Harding 14, Shelly Miller 11, Laurie Hudgens 6, and Pam Shrum finished with 2 points.

Walker heads all-SEC team

Krush Groove — The Fat Boys and Run-D.M.C. head up the all-time, all-star rap lineup in this exploitative piece of celluloid. For people who like to make guffaw, nonsensical sounds in the base of their throat. Rated R. (Crossroads: 2, 3:50, 5:40, 7:40, 9:40; Friday and Saturday at 11:45).
Once Bitten — Lauren Hutton adds a humorous side to her role as a female vampire who falls in love with a college loser. Rated PG-13. (Fayette Mall: 1:30, 3:30, 5:30, 7:15, 9:30).
Rainbow Bright — Although this animated feature was made for the kiddies, don't expect a lot of cute, innocent little animals prancing through the forest. Rated PG. (Southpark: 2, 3:40, 5:20, 7).
Silverado — Yahoo!!! Saddle up for another ride through the wild, woolly West with Kevin Kline, Scott Glenn, Kevin Costner, and the rest of the gang. Rated R. (Chevy Chase: 3, 5:45, 8:15, 10).
Stephen King's Silver Bullet — Fitting perfectly into the Halloween spirit, King's latest monster movie pits Gary Busey ("The Buddy Holly Story") and Corey Haim ("Firstborn") against a graphically artificial werewolf. Unfortunately, Halloween is over. Rated R. (Southpark: 8:30, 10:15; Friday and Saturday at midnight).
Sweet Dreams — Jessica Lange ("Country") is magnificent as the frazzled country star Patsy Cline in this superb adaptation of her life. Produced by Bernard Schwartz ("Coal Miner's Daughter"), this film also stars Ed Harris ("The Right Stuff"). Rated PG-13. (Southpark: 2:20, 5:05, 7:35, 9:50; Friday and Saturday at 11:55).
Target — Gene Hackman ("The French Connection") is back on the silver screen as a former espionage agent whose wife is kidnapped by his former enemies, forcing him and his estranged son (Matt Dillon of "The Flamingo Kid") to track her down. Rated R. (Southpark: 2:15, 5:15, 7:30, 9:45; Friday and Saturday at 11:50).
That Was Then, This is Now — Emilio Estevez ("St. Elmo's Fire") stars in and wrote the screenplay for this adaptation of an S.E. Hinton novel about two friends who grow up together in the Midwest. Rated R. (Southpark: 2:10, 5:10, 7:30, 9:55; Friday and Saturday at 11:30).
To Live And Die In LA — Newcomer William L. Peterson plays a policeman who will do anything to catch a master counterfeiter (William Dale of "Streets of Fire") responsible for the death of his partner. Directed by William Friedkin ("The French Connection," "The Exorcist"). Rated R. (Lexington Mall: 2:10, 4:30, 7:30, 9:45; Friday and Saturday at 11:55).

The Wrestling Album Various artists
Epic/CBS Records

Hello, little people, how'ya doing today? No, forget it, I don't care. I gotta lot of respect for "Rowdy" Roddy Piper and his TV show "The Pit," but it's about time for a real man who knows everything about wrestling to come forward and tell it like it is. So, welcome to Smokin' Wes Miller's "The Grill."

For the two or three people out there who can read, I'm gonna use my wrestling genius to review the World Wrestling Federation's latest money-maker, The Wrestling Album, which features the heh-heh — "musical talents" of such wrestlers as Captain Lou Albano and Nikolai Volkoff.

It's my "humble" (and I use the term loosely) opinion that a wrestler's place is in the ring, and not the wrestling fan's. If they had to make an album with the WWF superstars, they could've improved it by consulting with me, the wrestling fan. If they had to, I mean, it should be obvious to even the stupidest wrestling fan (and you know who I'm talking to) that this is a comedy album, but I didn't laugh much, and, as I am the master of all that goes on in the wrestling world, that's all the proof anyone should need that this album isn't very funny.

Jesse "The Body" Ventura, one of the few objective announcers in the WWF and one of my personal heroes, is wasted as one of the three album narrators; he always gets cut off by "Mean" Gene Okerlund and "Vicious" Vince McMahon, who are as biased as usual toward those "goody-goody" wrestlers.

What little talent there is on the album belongs to the non-wrestlers who tossed in their two cents' worth: Rick Derringer does a fair job on "Real American," although I can't figure why this is the theme song for former tag-team champs Barry Windham and Mike Rotundo.

As for the wrestlers themselves, manager Jimmy "The Mouth of the South" Hart is the only one who can carry a tune, as he shows on "Eat

'THE WRESTLING ALBUM'

Your Hart Out, Rick Springfield." I'm not, I wouldn't buy this album, although that many "junkyard dog's" "Grab Them Cakes" is as good as most of the stuff on the dance charts these days.

I'll give you a simple example of how good this album is (so you can understand it, dear peasants). The best song is "Land Of A Thousand Dances!!!" which appears on MTV and features nearly 100 stars from the WWF. Does that tell you how good the album is? No, I didn't think it would.

If I were you, (which, thank God,

'50s prodigy to perform Monday night

By LYN CARLISLE
Assistant Arts Editor

Getting away from it all usually means a short vacation. Not in pianist Russell Sherman's case, who will perform the second concert of the University Artist Series this Monday.

RUSSELL SHERMAN

During the 1950s, native New Yorker Sherman made his debut in the Big Apple's Town Hall, followed by a performance at Carnegie Hall and then with the New York Philharmonic under Leonard Bernstein.

Fretty impressive for a man not yet 20 years old.

But the hectic pace was not what he wanted and, on the brink of a brilliant career, he backed out from the limelight and headed west.

"I was saturated with my background, my family, with the atmosphere of commerce, with the congestion of New York, which was suffocating me," he said in a recent press release. So he devoted his time to teaching music rather than selling it.

seeing the poetry, from allowing their imaginations to soar."

Now Sherman has come full circle and is back on stage for the magic of live performances that can't be found on tape. "I think the problem with recording in the studio or even recording a live performance is that there is this injunction that the playing has got to be error-free. This rarely happens in that live performance, which is truly interesting or creative."

Give up a successful performing career to teach? For his it's undeniable love for art and style over a perfected technique.

"While today we have become relatively good musicians we have perhaps become inferior artists," Sherman told Piano Quartet magazine. "It is not simply the notes that have to be played, but it is the different visions of the music which must be projected."

Almost two decades a teaching - loved him not only to observe student reaction to music but to see students face it as well (he said). "Look at the students! The least conscientious, their minds are often blank... They are often guided into a narrow constricted channel which prevents them from

Monday Sherman will bring that creativity to his performing works by Mozart, Janacek, Beethoven and Liszt. According to the Boston Globe, his concerts offer a "freshness of fantasy and perceptiveness, sensibility, dazzling pianistic skill, honesty, (and) a tremendous intelligence."

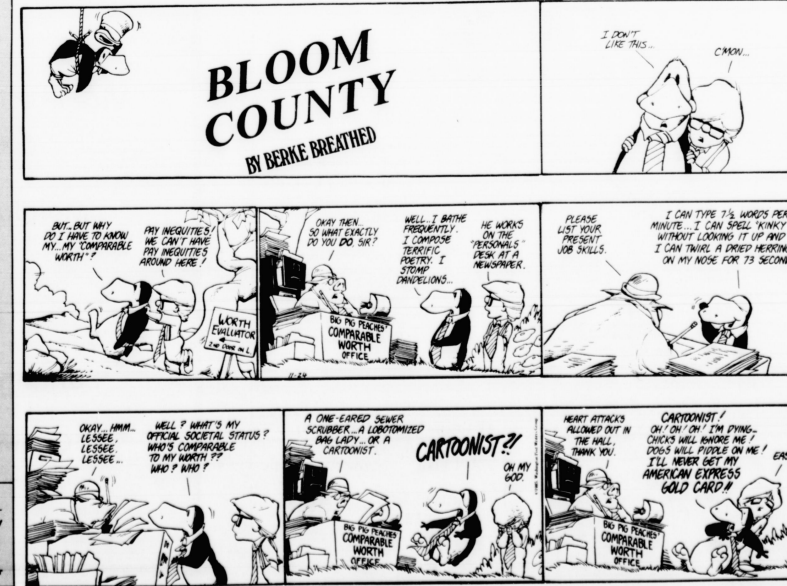

Russell Sherman will perform at 8 p.m., Monday, Nov. 18, in the Concert Hall of the Center for the Arts. Tickets are $7 for students, $11 for the general public, available at the Center's ticket office between noon and 4 p.m. today, tomorrow and Monday, and at the door Monday night.

Thanksgiving races will benefit God's Pantry and its programs for hungry Kentuckians

By VASIVA ANSARI
Contributing Writer

This Thanksgiving you have the chance to lose some of those extra pounds and at the same time help a good cause.

To benefit the programs of God's Pantry-Crisis Food Center, the first annual "Thanksgiving Morning Run For Hunger" will be held on Nov. 28 at Marriott's Griffin Gate Resort. The festivities will include a "one-mile fun run" beginning at 8:30 a.m. and a five-kilometer run beginning at 9 a.m.

Prizes, drawings, refreshments and T-shirts will be awarded, with string band music provided by Mad Catherine and the Moon Dog Pirates. Also, the top three finishers in the male and female categories will receive trophies.

Contributing sponsors for this year's race are the Pepsi Bottling Company, Foodtown Markets, Second National Bank, Great Harvest

Bread Company, the Carat Patch and the Marriott.

Entry fees are $6 per person and those interested may pick up entry forms from any of the sponsors and John's Bluegrass Running Shop. For more information, call 269-8313.

Located at the corner of Patterson and West High streets, God's Pantry is an ecumenical, community-based project established to meet the hunger and nutritional needs of people in Central and Eastern Kentucky. Founded in 1955, it became incorporated as God's Pantry-Crisis Food Center in 1979.

The agency operates two major programs: an Emergency Foodbox Program for individuals and families in Fayette County and a Foodbank Program serving 101 member organizations in 34 central and eastern Kentucky counties.

The Emergency Food Box Program, by using donated and purchased foods, provides a three-day supply of nutritionally balanced food parceled to family size. The centers can provide families with food boxes up to three times in six months.

A network of 56 churches and social service organizations screen and refer clients to six neighborhood centers for food assistance. "We don't turn away anyone who is in need of food," said Jim Deaton, executive director of God's Pantry.

In 1984, 2,921 food boxes were provided to 10,576 children and adults in Fayette County, an increase of 200 percent over 1983, when only the distribution center was in operation. Through October 1985, 253,905 pounds have been distributed.

The program distributed 83,458 pounds of food in 1984, with 31,050 pounds being donated by individuals, churches, schools, clubs and food companies. More than $28,000 was spent on purchased foods, which includes perishables.

"The program relies heavily on community donations," Deaton said.

The center collects food from local, regional and national donors.

Foodbanking has a simple purpose: to prevent usable food from going to waste and channeling it to hungry people and organizations that need and use it.

Only usable food that is over-produced is handled by foodbanks. Day care centers, nursing homes, halfway houses, emergency shelters, children's homes and soup kitchens are principle users of these foods. Using food banks is cost efficient and enables organizations to use needed funds for other purposes.

They benefit by reducing feeding program costs and by obtaining foods they could not otherwise afford.

Sharon apology ends Israeli crisis

By RUTH SINAI
Associated Press

TEL AVIV, Israel — Ariel Sharon gave Prime Minister Shimon Peres an apology of sorts late yesterday for criticizing his policies, thus ending a crisis that nearly brought down the coalition government, other Cabinet ministers reported.

The prime minister said Wednesday he intended to fire the outspoken Sharon, who is trade and industry minister. Sharon had accused him of conducting secret peace negotiations with Jordan and Palestinians, and following policies that would "cost a great deal of blood."

"The affair is over since Sharon addressed all the points raised by the prime minister," Education Minister Yitzhak Navon of Peres' Labor Party said on Israel television. "As far as we're concerned, there is regret or an admission that he either had not meant it or retracted the position he took."

In a compromise reached after an angry speech from Peres earlier last night, Sharon sent Peres a brief letter that was distributed to reporters. It did not contain the full retraction Peres had demanded.

On the other two points, Sharon said he accepted Peres' explanations and the decision of the majority of ministers. Sharon also said he would try to persuade the Cabinet to oppose Peres' willingness to negotiate peace with Jordan while Palestine Liberation Organization bases remained in Amman, the Jordanian capital.

Sharon did not appear on television, but issued a statement saying: "I hope the affair is over. I think my clarifications will improve the atmosphere in the government," the television reported.

Black student election winners announced

The Black Student Union elections were held Wednesday and the results are as follows: President, Tavis Williams; vice president, Nathan Banks; corresponding secretary, Andrea Boone; recording secretary, Shannon White; assisting recording secretary, Jodie Drees; treasurer, Joan Coates; parliamentary, Bonnie Brown; freshman representative, Ronald Davis; graduate student representative, Barbara Edwards; and attorney general, Tommy Frison.

Rajneesh to plead guilty, prosecutors say

PORTLAND, Ore. — Indian guru Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh told the nation last night that he is going to Geneva and his first summit meeting will be with a Soviet leader for search for "undiscovered avenues" of cooperation and to propose broad cultural exchanges of American and Soviet students, sports teams and musicians.

"My mission, stated simply, is a mission for peace," Rajneesh said in a speech prepared for national broadcast from the Oval Office.

Colombian volcano erupts, destroys town

BOGOTA, Colombia — A volcano that had been rumbling to life for months erupted early yesterday, melting its snowcap and sending down torrents of mud that buried four sleeping towns and may have killed more than 20,000 people.

Blazing volcanic ash cascaded into the Andes valleys, lava began flowing from the cone yesterday afternoon.

The Lanquilia River became a rushing wall of mud that destroyed at least 85 percent of Armero, a coffee-farming town of 50,000 people 30 miles from the Nevado del Ruiz volcano and 105 miles northwest of Bogota.

"Armero doesn't exist anymore," Red Cross rescue worker Fernando Duque said in an interview from the scene on Todelar road.

The three other towns, on the mountain range of the volcano and Armero, had a total population of about 20,000.

Returned defector scorns questions

MOSCOW — Vitaly Yurchenko, denying he defected and scorning questions about his connection to the KGB, made his first public appearance in the Soviet Union yesterday and insisted he was kidnapped and drugged by the CIA.

Flanked by Soviet officials, Yurchenko appeared at a news conference in a Foreign Ministry auditorium packed with Western reporters and Soviet journalists.

The Soviets frequently broke into laughter as Yurchenko derided the CIA, its director William Casey and some of the Western correspondents who asked questions. Yurchenko read a prepared statement in which he repeated most of what he told a news conference at the Soviet Embassy in Washington last week, when he announced that he would return to Moscow.

Civil War siblings topic for lecture

By SHARON RATCHFORD Contributing Writer

Politically divided families during the Civil War will be the topic of a lecture from noon to 1 p.m. today in 128 Erikson Hall.

John Crosby, UK family studies professor, will discuss the topic of "Brother Against Brother."

brothers, fathers and sons who either fought or sympathized with opposite sides of the war in his definition of divided siblings.

Crosby has been documenting these split families for the last year. He said he will spend the next eight to 10 "difficult" years searching his study's second stage: determining the "effect it (the Civil War) had on the divided family."

Reagan offers new exchanges with U.S.S.R. in TV address

By MICHAEL PUTZEL Associated Press

WASHINGTON — President Reagan told the nation last night that he is going to Geneva and his first summit meeting will be with a Soviet leader for search for "undiscovered avenues" of cooperation and to propose broad cultural exchanges of American and Soviet students, sports teams and musicians.

"My mission, stated simply, is a mission for peace," Reagan said in a speech prepared for national broadcast from the Oval Office.

"Despite our deep and abiding differences, we can and must prevent our international competition from spilling over into violence," Reagan said.

"I don't underestimate the difficulty of the task ahead," Reagan said, noting that eight of his predecessors throughout the world, including Afghanistan, he did not specifically point to the continuing presence there of 100,000 Soviet troops.

trust between us, reduce the levels of secrecy.

Thirty-six hours before leaving for Geneva and two days of summit talks next week with Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev, Reagan said the two sides "are close to completing a new agreement" to resume and expand the cultural and educational exchange programs that President John F. Kennedy initiated and Jimmy Carter suspended following the Soviet military push into Afghanistan in 1979.

Although he referred to regional strife throughout the world, including Afghanistan, he did not specifically point to the continuing presence there of 100,000 Soviet troops.

but not major sort that will be agreed on in Geneva.

Shultz did not specify what the items of agreement are, but he and other administration officials indicated the United States and Soviet Union are close to an accord that would result in resumption of cultural, educational and scientific exchanges between the two countries.

But Shultz told a news conference the two sides remain far apart on arms control issues, despite some narrowing of differences in the proposals put on the bargaining table at ongoing nuclear arms talks in Geneva.

Asked about a report that the Soviets had proposed a mutual 200- to 300-missile cut in intercontinental ballistic missiles as a goal for good faith in efforts to reduce nuclear arsenals, Shultz said that idea was contained in the Soviet counterproposal put forth early in the fall. He added, however, that "it wasn't discussed at all in my meetings in Moscow" and "I don't think it's any big deal."

Kennedy for IFC leader

As a fellow member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, I have decided to speak on behalf of Dave Kennedy for the new Interfraternity Council president.

I have been a member of UK's greek system for only two years, but I realize the importance of IFC as a ruling and regulatory organization for every fraternity on campus. Dave Kennedy made all of ATO realize that we are not a separate organization, but an integral part of a greek community that is governed by these rules and regulations.

Dave has been very much involved in the greek system at UK, and I feel he would lead IFC in a very promising way. Not only is Dave a capable leader, but he is an organized leader as well.

Now as a history and political science senior, Dave has been active in ATO for starting his third year. Of those three years, Dave has been an IFC member for over two years, serving on the Rush Committee and Judicial Board. Other current offices include member of the Greek Activities Steering Committee and chairman of ATO's improved little sister program.

When asked why he should represent IFC as president, Dave said, "I think I have the most experience in IFC. I've seen two administrations come and go, and I know the strengths and weaknesses of IFC. I know IFC could be improved, but I also realize its limitations."

If elected Dave said he proposes to adopt a philanthropy project he hopes to see IFC and Panhellenic work on together.

Dave said he also hopes to adopt a new rush brochure.

I urge all IFC representatives to vote for Dave Kennedy as IFC president on leadership capability and experience.

Legal clarification

Thanks for your editorial in support of the legal service review.

However, I believe two points were unclear. First, the entire legal service is up for review and not just the lawyer, as the editorial cartoon suggested. Secondly, the people who did not like the advice they received from the lawyer wouldn't like any legal advice because these people are at fault, not the advice.

The function of the Student Government Association committee on operations and evaluations is to prevent the repetition of past mistakes. The legal service is only the first of many programs to be evaluated. Review of the Student Organization Assistance Fund will start Wednesday, Nov. 20, at 7 p.m. in the SGA office. Student participation is always welcome.

No more veterans

Monday was Veterans Day, the day that we all honor our veterans. I am considered a Vietnam veteran although I didn't have to actually go to Vietnam. Monday brought back some memories of things that happened during our training.

With the Vietnam War over our training was a mixture of Vietnamese tactics and what were to be the tactics for the next one. They said the next war would be fought with nuclear weapons and we had better get ready.

One day they marched us all out in the woods and showed us a big concrete hole in the ground with a funny looking little sign nailed to a tree beside it.

They said if the dirty Ruski's attacked us that we were all going to run and get back in that hole until it was all over. They had this little machine that could tell us when we could breathe again so we would know when to come out. They said that when it was all over that they would come out and find every last one of the enemy and wipe them out.

Well I had me some questions to ask about that hole in the ground and about that machine, but when I tried to ask them my sergeant hit me with his walking stick that he always carried with him. He told me I was too stupid to be asking questions about tactics. He said that all I was good for was to shoot a rifle and sleep.

If he had kept still with that stick a minute or two I wanted to find out how that concrete hole was going to still be there when the world was blown to bits. I had another question or two about how we were going to get over to Russia and fight, and if we did get there what if all the people left had decided to give up fighting. What were we going to do? Should we shoot them anyway?

What were we going to eat? I always liked those C rations but I couldn't carry enough of them to last me over eight or 10 days. Should I leave? I had 10 days coming to me at the time; should I go home and see if any of my family was alive? While we marched back to camp I thought about my questions and decided that the sergeant was right: I didn't understand nuclear war at all.

Almost every day I hear about some new nuclear weapon being built. I understand that we have enough to destroy the earth almost 100 times now. Seems like enough to me, but like the sergeant said, I don't understand.

I do understand one thing: We had better treat the veterans we have well because they'll probably not have any more.
