Play Final Net Game
In Alumni Gym

With the squad's three graduating seniors occupying starting positions, Kentucky last night sank the Vanderbilt Commodores, 48-24, in a slow licking game in Alumni gym.

The victory marked the second conference win the Cats have registered over the leaders in the Southeastern conference this season. The Wildcats performed without the services of their sensational sophomore guard, Layton Rouse, who was fouled out of the game by a severe cold, which hit the basket from all angles, led the scorers with 21 markers, the season's high for Wildcat scorers.

After the 30-20 seconds, when Opper cut in to drop a cup through the hoop, it was apparent that the Cats would have no trouble in subduing the golden-shirted invaders. At the half the Cats had invaded their way to a 24-10 advantage. After the intermission Kentucky started a scoring parade that ran the score to 30-12.

Commodore broke the spree with a long shot by Hagan, but Kentucky answered by the first few minutes, soon set up to a steady passing game, and started his first game as a Wildcat regular, goes the honor of playing the most aggressive game, as he held Vanderbilt's captain and star forward, Hunter, to a point.

When the game was five minutes old in the second half, with Kentucky leading 39-12, Coach Rupp began substituting for his starting pupils and from then to the close of the game a steady stream of players wended their way from the bench. Even this gesture failed to hold the score down as Chaghis and Head, the two extremes of the squad in height kept the score steadily mounting.

Chaghis supplied the customers with their best comedies by time and time again practically freezing the ball under the Kentucky goal by driving it up and down, and he attempted to slip one down the hoop. He did succeed in crumpling one of the goal to the delight of the fans, who thronged the Alumni band box.

Curtis, playing the greatest game of his career, led the Kentucky scoring by rifling 21 points into the net, followed by Hagan with 9. The remainder of the scoring was evenly distributed among the remaining 15 players who participated in the play. Rouse and Little were voted by Vandy with 5 points each. The game was remarkable from the standpoint that not a performer on either team was banished on fouls.

In the preliminary, Kentucky's Kittens kept intact their record of no losses to a college or high school team by scratching out a 35-18 win over the Marchand State Teachers College first year team.

On top at the half by 15-11, the young Cats returned to the floor and set up an almost flawless defense that kept Morehead from scoring until 12 minutes of the second half had elapsed.

As Athletic Director Former Line Coach Would Suggest Job Kirwan For Grid Mentor

Re-elected

ATHLETIC ARMISTICE

When the Selection committee today recommended Bernie Shively for athletic director and he in turn recommended Ab Kirwan for head football coach, it drew together the curtain on the last scene of the University's Reorganization project which was founded January 10, by the varsity football team and brought about vast reforms in our sports administration.

It is fitting at this moment that every student of the school and citizen of the state pledge himself to avid support of the renaissance. We have all realized that Kentucky's athletics have floundered in some departments, partly blamable on a lack of players and partly on incompetent management. Indeed we are fortunate in having two capable men available to recruit into these important positions. The Kernel hopes that these gentlemen will comprehend the present unique athletic set-up here and vow to treat their jobs with all the scrupulousness and ability they possess.

Mr. Shively has been a friend of the campus for years. A scholar and an athlete, he coached great defensive lines here during the reign of Harry Gamage. As a sports official he is popular throughout the state. He is well acquainted with all problems.

Mr. Kirwan was captain of the Wildcat grid team in 1925. Since then he has been an excellent coach at Louisville high schools. Being an alumnus, he too, is cognizant of the necessity for new methods which must be introduced for successful athletics here.

The Kernel, speaking for the student body, welcomes these men into their positions and promises unwavering support in behalf of their programs for the advancement of the University into the select circle of intercollegiate athletics.

At Athletic Committee's Nominations, Nine- Point Program Of Sports Reorganization Will Go To Board Of Trustee's Executive Committee For Approval At 10:30 A. M. Thursday

By Malcolm Patterson

Bernie Shively, acting head of the physical education department and former Wildcat line coach late Monday received the unanimous recommendation of the Athletic Council Friday to seek and to recommend an athletic director.

Ab Kirwan, captain of the '26 Wildcat football team and present head football coach at du Pont Manual High School, Louisville, will be recommended for the post of head football coach here. Mr. Shively said immediately after the committee's announcement was made at President McVey's office, the entire new athletic set-up, including the director, head football coach and the new Advisory Athletic Council.

The new administration is expected to get the approval of the executive committee of the Board of Trustees when it meets at 10:30 a. m. Thursday. The entire nine point program was passed by the old athletic council Friday, when Coach Chet Wynne's resignation was officially announced.

Monday's act of the committee was the last under the old Athletic Council. Members of the committee which gave Shively unanimous approval were Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, Dr. Frank Murray, William "Doc" Rodes and David Pettus. The committee was appointed by the old Athletic Council Friday to seek and to recommend an athletic director.

Under the new system coaches will not be given contracts but will be appointed for indefinite periods. Status of head coaches will be those of full professors.

Mr. Shively, who came here in the fall of 1927 as line and track coach under former Coach Harry Gamage, issued a statement after the committee announcement in which he said "I fully realize my duties and responsibilities that go with my position. I also realize and want you to realize that there are duties and responsibilities that are yours. With your help and cooperation we will go forward; without it progress is impossible."

He addressed his statement to the President of the University, student body, the faculty, the alumni, and the citizens of the entire state.

COMPLETE CAMPUS COVERAGE

A Writing Faculty

Just what are the advantages of having a writing faculty?

In the first place, the publication of these articles has a deeper meaning than the mere appearance of the men's names in print.

Secondly, and perhaps most important, is the recognition gained not only for the individual author, but for the University as a whole.

Each bit of print appearing under the by-line of one of our staff members adds one more point to the prestige of our future.

Speaking metaphorically, there are two types of skins offered to college graduates today.

Who Wants Smallpox

Cases of smallpox have felled persons in areas scattered throughout Kentucky and nearby states.

In this age there should be no necessity for a warning like this - especially among college men and women.

Smallpox is one of the oldest of epidemic diseases. Caused by a filtrable virus, according to scientists, it respects no age, sex, occupation, or race.

It is imperative that we, who have assembled here from communities where small pox is raging again, prove to our neighbors and to our individual selves that we will not permit a description like this - "Smallpox causes one-tenth of all deaths, and one-fourth of mankind are either killed, crippled, or disfigured for life by it" - to be true in the twentieth century as it was in the eighteenth century.

Scavengers In The Postoffice

Certain students, whether by accident or intent, have been tampering with postoffice boxes not belonging to them.

That it is quite possible to attempt to open another person's postoffice box by mistake is demonstrated when a process as stereotyped and automatic as the search for a box number is gone through every day, errors are probable.

To those who deliberately attempt to enter another's postoffice box, THE KERNEL can only reiterate its warning that in so doing they commit a federal offense.

Miss Carla Bean, post-mistress, has declared her intention to report any student found tampering with boxes. And, in the long run, Miss Bean and the federal law will win out.

Remedy For Ticket Book Transfer

THE NEWS that more than thirty "illegally transferred" athletic ticket books have been seized by federal investigators brings forth an old question.

Why should it be illegal to transfer student books?

There are times when students cannot or do not care to attend athletic contests. They were, at registration, given no choice in the matter of purchasing ticket books, and each time they do not attend an athletic event they may be considered as losing money.

That, however, is a federal offense, because it involves non-payment of the amusement tax. One cannot argue with the federal government. One cannot argue with the federal government.

Notwithstanding this, there is a solution. By charging an extra fee to take care of the amusement tax on each ticket, the University authorities could legalize the transfer of student books.

This would make it possible for those unable to attend certain athletic events to recompense themselves, and would remove the danger of their losing their ticket books altogether.

Why not try it?

SHEDSHOW

A TOUCH of warm weather in February always brings with it a deep nostalgia for summertime; an impatience that bristles at the slowness of season-change.

So there was a tingling radiance of sunlight that made the thought of further cold intolerable. And at night, when still it was not cold enough for overcoats, a glorious moon swimming through the foamy tides of the sky brought longing for sultry June evenings and bathing and crickets' songs.

Washington, and ruled that change the area of Nelson spoutly into Washington County. They wanted to go further and tried to enter the union under the title "State Of Washington."

However, here is where complications set in. At the time, border counties to the east of Kentucky, were intricate. Kentucky's border was involved in some border knots with Virginia's and North Carolina's. There followed a series of dissections and Kentucky was out in the cold.

Samuel M. Wilson, in his book "Contact with Kentucky," attempts to make the matter clearly understood. He explains that Virginia first honored Washington by applying his name to the county which originally included the main portion of Southwest Virginia and lay adjacent to what was shortly afterwards known as Washington county, North Carolina, and since divided under the jurisdiction of Tennessee.

Washington county, Virginia, was created by the purchase of the western portion of the Pinckney county, and at same time Montgomery and Kentucky counties were also divided.

Thus it was the merest accident that the county which received the name of Kentucky did not get the name of Washington. If it did, the state would have adopted the name, and this school would be the University of Washington.

Washington county, Virginia, was created by the purchase of the western portion of the Pinckney county, and at same time Montgomery and Kentucky counties were also divided.

Thus it was the merest accident that the county which received the name of Kentucky did not get the name of Washington.

PRESIDENT OF THE ALUMNI GIVES VIEW REGARDING THE ATHLETIC REORGANIZATION

"The Ligon Reorganization Committee has done an outstanding job and has rendered conspicuous public service that will be readily accepted and heartily approved by devout and interested alumni all over Kentucky. I have been away for a month and had no part in the various meetings held in all sections of the state, although anxious to state that our Executive committee set up these hearings before my departure and I wish to commend our loyal alumni for the fearless and fair consideration they gave the athletic reorganization question. The foresight, courage and wisdom of the alumni no doubt played a strong role in helping the Special Committee to solve this troublesome and complex problem at the University, as the Alumni Association recommended were followed in main.

"It is my humble opinion that the new plan will work splendidly and I wish to assure alumni everywhere that as a member of the Advisory Council I will fearlessly and zealously, though tactfully and considerately, represent them and as their spokesman on the Council I welcome everywhere where they will be faithfully carried to the deliberations of that body by me.

Gay-zing At Sports

By MARVIN GAY

THE UNIVERSITY'S athletic muddle is rapidly clearing and everyone, with a few exceptions, appears happy with the not unexpected turn of events.

A fitting climax will be reached when the athletic director is announced. Care in the selection of this official should be exercised, as he will wield virtual dictatorial powers under the new athletic plan.

The director should not only be a man familiar with athletics but a business man as well. From all indications, the chief difficulty confronting University athletics is a woeful lack of funds with which to operate.

Rupp, Shively Considered
At least two men, Adolph Rupp and Bernie Shively, are being considered for the arduous task of leading the Wildcats from the football wilderness.

Both these men are well known to students and alumni. Coach Rupp has achieved national fame for his outstanding net teams of the past seven years. At the present time, prior to last night's Vanderbilt game, his five was leading the Big 13 conference, and appears headed for another championship.

Shively, all-American tackle from Illinois, formerly was varsity line coach under Harry Grammer, Wynne's predecessor. With Shively at the helm the Cats had one of the best lines in the South for several consecutive seasons. At the present time, Shively is acting head of the department of physical education.

Six Positions Open
The task of selecting coaches is a difficult one, as the University has been flooded with innumerable applications. Coaching positions that must be filled include a head varsity coach, line coach, and coach head frosh coach, and two assistant frosh coaches.

Some persons believe that in the event Coach Rupp receives the director post, he may elevate Paul McBrayer, present yearling mentor, to the varsity post position. Others are equally as confident that Rupp, because of his love of the game, will decide to continue his coaching duties.

Shively and Ab Kirwan, present suter at Louisville du Pont Manual High school, are leading contenders for the head varsity job.

"Mark" After Job
Another rumor has it that Claude "Mark" Simon, from Murray, is being considered for the head varsity job. It is not after a position. The former all-American Tulane half-back has made an enviable record, especially when one considers his handicap of inadequate material and money.

While Simon is a young man, Len Miller, assistant to Ellis Johnson at Morehead college, is being boomed for an assistant coach by some observers.

Rated by many fans as the smartest quarterback ever to wear Blue and White togs, Miller has made rapid strides in the coaching profession, and is considered one of the finest coaches in this section of the country. Throughout his playing days, Miller was hampered by bad knees but gave Gamage invaluable assistance with his suggestions.

Undoubtedly, Miller should be given serious consideration.

Moseley To Leave?
Apparently, Head Frosh Coach Frank Moseley has quit the "Cat camp and is attempting to secure a position at the Mississippi school.

If possible, we believe the former Alabama quarterback should be retained as he has done an excellent job with the greens. He is a tireless chap who fairly dotes on hard work.

A Clean Slate!
The reorganization committee, composed of President McVey, Professor Eason, Dean Boyd, "Doc" Rhodes and David Pettus, deserves the praise of everyone interested in the future of the University's athletics.

After long hours of tedious work, the committee gave the public what it most desired—a new plan, with a clean slate from top to bottom.

Dr. Vandembosch Explains Situation In Central Europe

Dr. Amy Vandembosch, head of the political science department, spoke at the "Present Situation in Central Europe" at a meeting of the American student union Monday, in Room 210, McVey hall.

Speaking briefly of an attack of Jarrigitts, Doctor Vandembosch discussed the attitude of various countries in regard to German control of Austria. This control is another diplomatic defeat for France, he asserted.

Germany's next victim will be Czechoslovakia because the division in the British cabinet will strengthen Germany, and Hitler will take additional steps, said Dr. Vandembosch.

The mystery of the situation is the Italian attitude toward the new German diplomatic stroke. Have Germany and Italy made an agreement to divide the area of penetration in eastern Europe, or does Italy hope for concessions from England as the price for deserting Germany? asked Doctor Vandembosch.

RUPPS, WITH NO LOSSES, LEAD CONFERENCE

Kittens To Battle Mountaineer Five

Two Games With Cumberland Scheduled For Thursday, Friday Nights

Prior to last night's Vandy game, Coach Adolph Rupp's defending champs appeared headed for another championship as they were leading the Southeastern conference race with no defeats.

The Cats jumped into undisputed possession of first place when Auburn's high flying Plainsmen were upset by Georgia Tech, 42-42.

Kentucky holds decisive wins over Alabama, Vanderbilt and Tennessee. Playing outside their best form of the season last week in downing Xavier, 45-29, and Marquette in the last six seconds, 38-23.

If the Cats are to finish their conference slate with a clean record, they must hurdle the much improved Tennessee Vols Saturday night at Knoxville. Last season, the two traditional rivals battled in the finals of the tournament.

Tennessee showed its greatest improvement in submerging Florida, 41-28, and Vanderbilt, 38-26.

A Mississippi forward, Bonnie Graham, smashed the old conference scoring mark by racking up a total of 253 points. Bryant, Louisiana State forward, held the old mark with 209 points.
