And if came to pass in those days, that there came a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.

And this taxing was first made when Cyrenus was governor of Syria.

And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.

And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judaea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David)

To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

And so it was when they were there, the days were accomplished, that she should be delivered. And she brought forth her first born son, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not, for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go and show this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

And when they had seen it, they marvelled, as when they heard the saying; then they returned, and glorified and praised God for all that they had heard and seen, as it was said by the prophets.

And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.—Luke 2:1-22.

Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judaea in the days of Herod the king, behold there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem, Saying, where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him.

When Herod the king heard these things he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him.

... When they had heard the king, they departed; and lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was.

When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy.

And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold, and frankincense and myrrh.—Matthew, 2:1-3, 9-11.

Do You Care?

Doesn't your personal privacy mean anything to you?

Students, faculty, and townspeople again have complained about the promiscuous "courtship" which goes on day and night, Monday through Sunday, on the University campus. The campus police have asked what they can do about the situation.

Everyone realizes that love flourishes on a college campus; most girls admit they're looking for a husband and training for a job just in case. But when students are embarrassed to have their parents visit them on account of the parked cars around the dorms in the afternoons, the pursuit has gone a little too far.

And the dorms aren't the only places. The drives behind the Union, the drive behind the library, and the circle drive also are popular.

At a recent meeting of the House Presidents council, a suggestion to forbid women to sit in parked cars in the afternoons or at night around the campus was brought up. No vote has been taken. The council is waiting to see if anything else will help matters.

Most of us think many of the rules governing women in the dormitories are "silly"; many of us will think such a rule as this is silly, and we will complain about it. But a little good taste and discretion on the part of a few persons could count a great deal toward keeping the rest of the student body out of embarrassing situations.

Wright or Wrong

By Orman Wright

Well, the football season is over. We won seven and lost three. We scored 228 points to our opponents' 90 points. We got out of the cellar in the SEC. In fact, we just completed the most successful season we've had in the past two decades or so.

These are some of the facts and they look nice, don't they? For once we don't have to start talking about our basketball team everytime someone brings up the subject of football. We had a football team this year that we can well be proud of. No doubt you are beginning to tire of reading laudatory articles about Mr. Bryant and his boys but I can't resist.

I think it was about this time last year when I, Deanna, announced that the search for a new Kentucky coach was over. A young man (the youngest man interviewed, by the way) named Paul "Bear" Bryant had been signed. After all of the advance publicity our search for a new coach had received, most of us were let down. Who in the hell was "Bear" Bryant, anyway? We had been expecting someone like Wallace Wade. Then, after a nice build-up, Coach Bryant made his first appearance. The co-eds went crazy and most of the men liked Mr. Bryant's straight-forward attitude. Now all he had to do was produce a winning team. Mr. Bryant wasted no time in getting started.

Our new coach immediately asked for a few members of his coaching staff and set about getting ready for next fall. He knew a reason UK did not have a good football team was because a great many of the best high-school players in this state were going to other states to play the college football. Bryant set out to tour the state and get high-school coaches behind him. And what a job he did! By the time spring practice rolled around, Bryant had put in an appearance at most of the larger high-schools. The whole football ball is played. The impression wherever he went and, as a consequence, he had a fine treatment ball club this year with prospects for an even better one next year.

With the groundwork well laid, Bryant was just beginning to hit his stride. All summer long he held practice sessions and presided at try-outs for high-school graduates. He steered, pleaded and cajoled and generally did the work of ten men. By the time school started in the fall of unity and school spirit in the student body which has been lacking for a long time—as far as football teams were concerned. Congratulations to Coach Bryant, his assistants and his players. They certainly deserve it.

The rest of the story is too fresh on our memories to repeat. The finale effort by a brilliant well-coached football team. Mr. Bryant and his boys got best 7-0, but their fine, a little skeptical showing attracted a lot of attention about Susie's sobriety.

LETTER TO EDITOR: Greeks Outstanding Athletes Or Of Rich Or Noble Birth

Editor, Kentucky Kernel: How did such an undemocratic organization as the American system of fraternities and sororities get into our colleges and Universities? In this country, of all places, why does it hold such a prominent place in our higher institutions of learning where our leaders of tomorrow are training for clean, democratic living. Everyone knows that they stand for everything else except this. Along with class distinction, which they tend to keep alive, they promote selfish interests which have effect on the independent students. It is evident that these "Greeks" seek to look down on the other students who were not so fortunate as to be pledged to the great social organization where "all members are brothers; all others including outsiders" are subordinate to us. Yes, since enrolling at the University I have clearly understood the real effect of the fraternities. At a party one night my girl companion casually inquired about my fraternity, and when I replied that I did not approve of them, she looked dismayed and exclaimed "Oh! I haven't seen her since. I have found that they control practically every office in the Student Government Association while the independent students, those who are not members of social clubs, have only a few. If you are an independent student you

It's the first of the month— every few days.

The first few days of the month were once a time of feverish activity for telephone accounting personnel. In that short period millions of telephone bills had to be prepared, checked and mailed. But the Bell System accounting staff, seeking to level off this work peak, found a practical solution. It's called "rotation billing."

Now in our accounting departments, a new month begins every few days. Accounts are divided into six or more even groups, each with a different billing date. This spreads the work evenly and eliminates the old last-minute rush.

This special problem, solved by telephone accountants, is typical of those which often confront management in the many branches of our business. They present a stimulating challenge to the young men with initiative and imagination who will find just such practical solutions... young men who find telephony an exciting and rewarding career.

UK Bureau Prints Book

Martin Reports On Investigation
The financial well-being of Kentucky cities requires that every city avoid present wastes by so organizing its work and so managing its business that each dollar spent goes as far as possible. Even with ideal administration, some Kentucky cities are so short of revenue that if they are to support the services their people are willing to pay for, they must find additional money.

Thus, James W. Martin, director of the University bureau of business research, gives the upshot of the bureau's new book on "Kentucky City Finances" which reports an investigation which he directed and which is currently published jointly by the University and the Kentucky Municipal League.

As to making available city money "provide more goods and services than it now does," the report points to the need for legislation authorizing all classes of cities—as it now permits some—to find "ways to look after things." It also stresses as desirable the elimination of the distinction between legislative and executive functions. The principal suggestions for achieving both purposes is to assure a chief executive a chance to be the chief executive in the "dollar sticking" process, too, the report emphasizes that good financial management can save every city money and can more fairly distribute the costs and benefits of local government. Budget practices in every city as good as those now found in the best-managed Kentucky cities would buy more and better government services at reduced cost.

Such over-all management the writers suggest can reach maximum efficiency and economy only if it is accompanied by modernized accounting, efficient city buying, rigid control of disbursements and deposits, and attractive and frank financial reporting to citizens. All these purposes can be aided by persistent auditing preferably on a uniform basis.

Although the University study canvasses numerous methods by which cities could make revenue adjustments, the authors place primary stress on modernizing property tax administration. This is generally used actual performance in Kentucky as a practical measure of efficiency, but they admit that many Kentucky cities fall short in property tax assessment—if one may accept the best performance elsewhere as a standard.

In addition to its quest for means of financial freedom for cities the new analysis brings together more facts about the finances of Kentucky cities than have ever been published previously. The entire book, however, is written in the light of local finance developments all over the United States.

Livestock Judging Team Places Eighth

22 Canadian, U S Entrants Present

Awarded eighth place among teams from 22 U.S. and Canadian universities, the University livestock judging team returned Wednesday from the three-day Chicago International Livestock Exhibit with two major trophies.

The trophies, Dean L. J. Horlacher announced, were won as first prize in judging Berkshire hogs and Percheron horses.

Second place among 110 contestants in the hog judging contest was taken by Charles Thompson, the team as a whole won first position in both hog and draft horse judging.

Champion prize for all sheep was awarded the University team of three Southdown lambs, Dean Horlacher said. In the Southdown class, University lambs took second, third, tenth and twelfth places, and University Hampshire were second and fifth individual prizes, and second prize in pen exhibits.

Harold Barber, University shepherd, assisted by James Corbin, graduate student in animal husbandry, exhibited the sheep.

Couched by Prof. R. W. Pifer, the judging team includes William Cropper, Edal Karrick, Robert Koch, Charles Thompson, Patch Woolfolk, and Jack J. Scott.

They were well pleased by the record made by the judging team as well as by the sheep, said Dean Horlacher. "We are looking forward to an even better record next year."

The team, Dr. W. P. Garrigus, Prof. Pifer and Dean Horlacher were entertained Monday at a luncheon given by Garvey Heyburn, agriculture graduate of 1939, now head lamb and calf buyer for Armour and Company.

Rolling Lab Aids Research

$10,000 Surplus Truck Purchased
Biological research at the University has been given a figurative "shot in the arm" with the recent addition of a new $10,000, completely equipped "laboratory on wheels" to the field facilities of the UK biological science departments.

A large six-wheeled affair with four-wheel drive, the new laboratory truck was purchased by the University recently as war surplus and for only a fraction of its value. During the war, the government ordered several of these "traveling laboratories" built for use in the various corner theaters to study sanitary conditions.

Only a few, however, saw actual service before the end of hostilities and the remaining small number were made available to departments of health and institutions engaged in the education of students in the biological sciences. The University's truck is virtually new, having been driven only 21 miles when purchased, and is believed to be one of the few in the country owned by an educational institution.

Placed under the custody of Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, head of the department of zoology, the laboratory truck has been equipped with the latest in facilities that make up a modern biological laboratory, including an incubator, refrigerator, A.C. and D.C. currents compressed air, steam, electric light, dissecting tables and storage cabinets. With its furnishings and equipment the truck is valued at approximately $10,000, Dr. Funkhouser said.

The motorized laboratory, with room for at least four technicians to work at a time, will be used by the zoology department for field trips and conducting field experiments, especially in research in ichthyology, ornithology, entomology and parasitology, he explained. The Zoological Museum, dismantled during the war years, will be re-activated and stocked primarily with materials gathered in the field with the aid of the truck.

Other biological science departments also plan extensive use of the "laboratory on wheels" for scientific field investigations in various parts of the state.

Couched by Prof. R. W. Pifer, the Father: Be careful with that money, son. Remember, a fool and his money are soon parted.
Son: I know, dad, but thank you for parting with it just the same.

Chess Club Makes Intercollegiate Competition Debut

The University chess team will make its debut in intercollegiate chess competition Sunday, December 8, when it meets the University of Louisville in a five-board, two-round all-student match beginning at noon.

This will be Louisville's second match of the year, since it dropped a close 4-2 contest to DePauw University November 24 in the opening event of the newly formed Indiana-Ohio-Kentucky Intercollegiate Chess League.

A second event of the day will feature Mr. Jack Moppe, state chess champion, and members of his Louisville Chess Club in a 10-board match with members of the local club. The matches will be played simultaneously, and will be held in the Faculty Club.

"All persons interested in chess are cordially invited to attend the matches," president W. C. MacQuinn states.

Constitution Is Discussion Panel Subject

A discussion panel featuring both sides of the currently hotly-debated subject of whether or not Kentucky should have a new Constitution was presented to the campus Monday afternoon in the browsing room of the University library.

The four-member discussion group was composed of Cassius M. Clay, Paris lawyer, economist, and writer; Edward P. Pritchard, Paris lawyer and officer who served in many capacities in Washington during the war; Dr. Thomas D. Clark, head of the University's history department; and Edward T. Breatthitt, Jr., Hopkinsville Junior in the College of Commerce.

Dr. Frank L. McVey, president emeritus of the University, was host for the library and welcomed the capacity audience that overflowed the browsing room. Dr. McVey introduced each member of the panel and turned the program over to Mr. Clay, chairman of the discussion.

Clay Defends 1892 Document

In his opening remarks, Mr. Clay briefly reviewed the history of the present state constitution and defended the essential tone of the document adopted in 1892 as presenting the state of today with as sound a governing organ organ as other contemporary measures such as the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

Dr. Clark, in leading the arguments of the other three speakers for drafting a new constitution, pointed out that a review of the debates at the convention that drew up the present constitution would indicate that the drafters did not intend the convention that drew up the present constitution to be permanent one. Dr. Clark stated that this drive for a new constitution was not a wet-dry fight and neither was it "a movement to destroy a single Kentucky institution. Among the reasons for drafting a new constitution, Dr. Clark listed the need for raising the state debt limit of $500,000 and the eliminating of elections of officers that should be appointed.

Pritchard Points To Needs

Edward Pritchard opened his remarks by urging the adoption of a new constitution because "all restrictions of the 1892 constitution seem to hamper our government's functioning." He pointed out the need for change in the present constitution because of actual defense of the present constitution but rather because of the lack of education of the voters a situation that the present movement is attempting to remedy.

The program was sponsored and arranged jointly by the library staff, the Campus League of Women Voters, the Veterans club, and the University YWCA.

BASKETBALL WILL HEADLINE WINTER INTRAMURALS; ATO'S, SX'S, SAE'S, DELTS IN VOLLEYBALL FINALS

By O. C. Halyard

With the opening rounds of volleyball finals played last night in Alumni gym, intramurals were about to wind up a successful fall quarter. But after the Christmas vacation, Bill McCubbin, intramural director, and W. W. Cooper, intramural manager, have big plans for the winter quarter.

Basketball along with boxing and wrestling, will lead the sports parade during the coming quarter. Ping pong is in for its share of the time, and those persons skilled in keeping the little ball on the table might be worrying up.

The Sigma Chi's were the only team, according to the intramural office, that went into the volleyball finals undefeated. However, in the opening round of the tourney a close one, going the full three had to go three games before downing the Pi Kaps. The Sigma Chi took the first game, 15-9, but dropped the next, 15-10, and squeaked by the third one, 15-10.

The SAE's had little trouble handling the Phi Sig's in the opening round of the play off. They took the first two games, 15-12, and 15-11. The ATO-Sig by contest was a close one, going the full three games. Again the ATO's jumped in front by taking the first game, 15-10, lost the next, 15-12, came back and eked out a narrow 15-13 win.

In the other set of games in the opening round the Delts had little trouble taking the first game, 15-7, from the Sigma Nus who looked rather sloppy. They looked just as sloppy in the next game and the Sigma Nus evened up the count by taking it, 15-8. The final game was a tight one, ending 15-12 in favor of the Delts.

Clays Rout Murray in Shrine Gridrama

Lexington Henry Clay not only holds another Shrine game decision but a strengthened claim for at least a partial share in Kentucky's mythical high school football championship. The Blue Devils took an easy 38-0 win over Murray Thanksgiving Day on Still field before 8,000 fans in the Shrine's ninth annual charity tilt.

The success made eight out of nine tries for Coach John Heber's Demons, who had just captured their third straight Central Kentucky Conference grid title. Murray, allegedly western Kentucky's best and kingpin of the Little 16, had won seven, tied one and lost one. Henry Clay's only loss was registered by Covington Holmes high, 12-6; the Devils were unscored on in loop play.

Big Jim Hibbard and little Ray Current—opposites in physical dimensions but more nearly matched in point potentially—laid all the winners' touchdowns. Hibbard hinged the ball across four times. Current twice. Ed Fox, Clay's tackle, kicked two conversions.

Murray failed to show much of the pigskin power which had placed it at the top of western Kentucky elevens. At times Billy Ferguson, triple-threat tailback, looked good on advances but the drives were not sustained enough to prove the all-important touchdowns and Henry Clay would take over. Statistics

From The Coaches—

Very complimentary comment followed all visiting coaches' stays here, regarding Kentucky's basketball team and its chances to retain its Southeastern conference championship and national ranking.

Coach Ed Bright, whose Indiana Central five was the 'Cats' first victim, thinks Kentucky is headed for a great season, especially he liked the Wildcat depth of material. Also accompanying the Hoosier team was R. C. Pruitt, big booster of Greerhound athletics and who played with Bright on the first IC basketball team more than two decades ago.

Pruitt, likewise, was optimistic about Kentucky's chances with future foes, Cliff Wells, Tulane tutor, opined that "Kentucky will have an easy time in the conference, should win going away." He cited his team's inexperience and hoped to present more opposition next year, but for the present sees "too much Kentucky."

Bud Bruner, soldier strategist, is another mentor who sees little use for Kentucky in its net schedule this winter. The Fort Knox coach has probably seen enough of Kentucky athletics for a while, for he directed the Knox eleven that lost two games to the Beecats this fall.

Clays Rout Murray in Shrine Gridrama

Several thousand tickets have been sold already, according to Jack Bryan, chairman of arrangements for the tussle, and a capacity crowd is likely. Cuck seats are priced at $5; stadium seats are $4, and bleacher admissions $3. Checks should be made payable to the "Tobacco Bowl," and addressed to P.O. Box 1439, Lexington. Enclose 30 cents for each six ducats to cover mailing costs, five cents for each additional one. They may also be obtained downtown at Graves-Cox, Inc.

Wildcats Open Season Ominously With Three Top-Heavy Triumphs

St. Bonaventure, Muhlenberg To Meet In Tobacco Bowl Bonnies, Mules Here Dec. 14

The first Tobacco Bowl tilt will offer Muhlenberg's Mules against St. Bonaventure's Bonnies Saturday, December 14, on Still field. Sponsored by Lexington Kiwanis, the game will get under way at 2 o'clock and is expected to be an annual affair with possibly a tobacco pageant and other events included in winter years.

St. Bonaventure of Olean, N. Y., is coached by Hugh Dewore, Notre Dame skipper during Frank Leahy's absence, and has been undefeated since its opening game loss to Youngstown college. Since then the Bonnies have topped Scranton, St. Vincent, Cuyahoga, Bowling Green and the Kings Point Miners.

Muhlenberg located at Allentown, Pa. and tutored by Frank Schwartzwalder, compiled his record in an exact opposite, winning eight straight before losing, 20-12, to Delaware in the wind-up. Victims included Lafayette, Albright, Bucknell, Swarthmore, Franklin and Marshall, Lehigh, Gettysburg and Moravian.

A huge block of the stadium has been reserved for each school, which hopes to bring many rooters along with its team. This will depend on success in obtaining special trains, since the short shortage has crippled that mode of transportation. In any event, both institutions will probably have large followings. The Bonnie band and Muhlenberg musical organization will be here. If plans are completed.

38 Lettermen Is UK Record

From football field to basketball court, Kentucky's Wildcats have accepted a tribute for the season's play. Lead-off on the dinner circuit was the Alumni dinner-dance November 25 in the Bluegrass room of the Student Union. The event marked the alumni's twenty-first such affair for the dridders.

George Winkler from Louisville's WHAS presented a floor show; Reggie Walsh, sportscaster, was master of ceremonies. Dr. Leo Chamberlain, university dean and registrar, made a short talk praising the players' performances. Coach "Ben" Bryant spoke briefly, thanking the boys for their cooperation and fine spirit. Athletic director Bernie Shively also gave a short address.

Phil Cutchin, ace passer and all-around threat, was presented a trophy for his being voted as the team's outstanding senior. The veteran half was also named starting captain for the year, and this practice of naming the leader at the season's end will remain in effect as long as he stays here. Coach Bryant will remain in effect.

Announcement of lettermen highlighted the evening. Thirty-eight varsity awards, the highest number in Kentucky's history, went to Bob, Burt, Blanda, Boller, Bradshaw, Browning, Chambers, Claiborne, Cutchin, Dawson, Ferris, Ferrell, Carl Griffin, Griffin, Haas, Hamilton, Hutcheson, Hunsley, Foscoe Jones, Wallace Jones, Kennard, Klein, Lair, McDonald, Meeks, Moseley, Phelps, Preston, Rice, Rhodemer, Ridge, Sengel, Serini, Tunstall, Ullrich, Walker, McHenry and student manager Sailer. Aside from Cutchin, only Tunstall and Walker are seniors.

Busy Xmas Sked For Rupp Raiders

Kentucky's basketball season is at least launched in the merry manner which many cage critics claim Coach Adolph Rupp's boys will maintain all season, following three easy wins over Indiana Central, Tulane and Fort Knox. Averaging a 36-point margin in the trio of tries, Rupp's Raiders humbled Indiana Central, 73-36, in the opener Thanksgiving night; had little trouble in taming Tulane Saturday, 52-35, then triumphed over an impatient Fort Knox quietest, 68-31, Monday.

Ralph Beard, sophomore guard, paced point-making in the first two tilts, led with Alex Groza and Jim Line for top tally honors against the soldiers. Picking out individual stars among the Wildcat basketers, however, is about as easy as stopping their offense. The Baron has will his entire squad in 31 games thus far, has such a wealth in reserves that any of the first three teams could have beaten any opponent to date, possibly many times.

Kentucky 78, Indiana Central 36

The minds of Indiana Central's defenders were willing, but their individual capacities were not, when the Wildcats romped to their opening win. Quite admirably was the manner in which the Greyhounds fought all the way, despite a steadily mounting lead. Kentucky ran up a 20-2 lead in the first seven and a half minutes of play. A starting quintet of Jack Tingle and Joe Holland at forwards, Groza at center, Beard and Ken Rollins at guards built the framework for the 'Cats' topheavy win, before Coach Rupp started substituting freely, sent a total of 15 players into the game.

Beard's 15 point top tally was followed by Holland's 10. Muff Deane and Tommie's eight. Every one of the 'Cats' scored except Malcolm McMullen, who entered late in the game. A capacity crowd—public, that is—watched the game.

Kentucky 64, Tulane 35

Tulane's Green Wave failed to offer the resistance expected, when the 'Cats' achieved their second decisive triumph, and first in Southeastern play. Five minutes elapsed before the visiting Louisianians were able to tally a field goal. The Wildcats ran their margin to 39-15 by halftime.

Because of Coach Rupp's continual substitutions to give all his boys a chance, no Kentuckian amassed an individual high total of points. Charlie McMillan, second-string Greenie center, led all scorers with 17. Beard again warmed up an impressive in 22 years at Louisville, Ind., high school. The Wave looks like a comer, but hasn't started to roll yet. Only one senior is listed on the Tulane roster, a majority are freshmen and sophomores, so the Greenies will be a power to reckon with by next season.

Kentucky 68, Fort Knox 31

A Fort Knox sound—all of them in their teams—did little more than offer the Wildcats a workout in Kentucky's latest start. The ragged play of the Cats at times was probably a result of the opposition's feisty resistance; the inevitable outcome soon apparent.

Four Kentucky boys were on the Knox roster. Gene Rodes, Al Gussinger and Jack Grannigan are all from Louisville, and Joe Draffen is from Benton.

'Cats In Cincy Saturday, Idaho Here Monday Night

Kentucky's three-victorious Wildcats have a busy four-game card in the next eight days, including two starts at home, before undertaking a six-game Yuletide schedule that takes them as far north as New York's Madison Square Garden, Dixieward to the Sugar Bowl.

Saturday night our scrappy Wildcats invade the Queen City to re-enact with the University of Cincinnati Bearcats, at the Music Hall arena. The Black and Red cage squad, under Coach John Wiehe, has hopes of avenging the humiliating defeat our gridders gave the Bearcats last September 28, in Cincinnati, after they had upset the Indiana eleven. The game will be the second for Cincinnati which opened its season Tuesday night successfully against Kentucky Wesleyan. The Wildcat-Bearcat fray will be the second of the evening. Eastern Kentucky goes against Akron university in the opener.

Idaho Here Monday

Each Guy Wicks brings his Idaho squad to Lexington Monday. This is the fourth stop for the vandals on their tour east. Previous to the Kentucky game, the tall westerners will have met C.C.N.Y., Georgetown U. and St. Joseph's of Philadelphia before coming to Lexington. Led by Fred Quinn, all-American second team forward last year and six-foot, nine-inch Jack Phoenix, the Vandals may furnish the upper plenty of competition. They are defending champions of the northern division of the Pacific conference. Don Dillard, who played his freshman basketball at Kentucky, will be on Idaho's squad. Odd-numbered ticket books will be honored.

Serini, Yarusit Get Blue-Gray Game Bids

The Wildcats will be among the southern gridders meeting Yankee footballers in Granton bowl at Montgomery, Ala. December 28. Leo Yarusit, guard, and "Wah" Serini, tackle, have accepted invitations to play with Dixie's representatives in the annual Blue-Gray game.

Serini's appearance will be his second, for the 225-pound lineman participated as a freshman in 1945 when the Grays won. Yarusit, out much of the season with a broken arm, will make his debut in the post-season bowl. Yarusit would have been an outstanding candidate for All-Conference honors if he had been able to play the entire schedule, drew much praise for his performances in the last few games, though playing with his fractured limb in a cast.

Both Kentucky delegates, ironically, are transplanted Northerners. Yarusit, a sophomore is from Gary, Indiana. Serini, a junior, from Buckalew, N. Y. The game, won last year by the North, 26-0, is played at the site of this year's Kentucky-Alabama tussle.

Head coach for the south will be Allyn McKee of Mississippi State, assisted by "Dutch" Meyer of Texas Christian.

MUSING with Melton

By Baxter Melton, Kernel Sports Editor

Almost everyone is familiar with the "old woman who lived in a shoe, having so many children she didn't know what to do." This Old Mother Goose verse is applicable to Coach Adolph Rupp and his basketball candidates in a way; but not over a tired "Cat" team also hurt by injuries.

The Baron has surplus stock in hoop hopefuls, but the similarity just about ends there. His charges are no kids, but men of such court calibre that any coach in the country would welcome any of them with greatest pleasure. Equally apparent is the baron's most definitely knowing what to do; his teams' near-perpetual perch atop Southeastern conference standings, the Wildcats' national ranking and annual contention for the nation's net crown are first-hand evidence.

No Key Man

The peculiar (though pleasantly peculiar) situation Kentucky's colorful coach finds himself in is most enviable to other members. There is no key man whose injury will wreck chances in any crucial game. This will be of great importance in series, sending strong teams against the "Cats" successively. Beginning in early January, Rupp's Raiders meet Vanderbilt, Tennessee, Georgia Tech, Georgia and Xavier in that order. Michigan State may offer a hill, but even this cannot be counted on. All SEC schools are definitely stronger.

After this part of the schedule come Notre Dame, Alabama, and DePaul, then Georgia, Tennessee, Alabama, Xavier, Vandy, Georgia Tech again before the hoop tourney and finale against Temple.

Especially will the depth of material be felt in tournaments. Many meets are decided in semi-finals, when two normally near-equal fives in the finals are not that, because of physical handicaps. One has met a push-over last time out, the other

The "Bear" Stays

To Lead Clay Games

The Bear is not only going to remain at Kentucky, but will direct "Cat" gridders far at least 10 more years, following his signing a contract for that lengthy tenure last week. The pact, announced by the athletic association's board of directors, replaces the five-year one under which he started last spring, just an end to rumors that had him taking over the football reins at his alma mater, Alabama.

Terms of the pact were not announced, the news came only three days after the end of his first season, which produced Kentucky's best record since 1912. The "Cats" lost only three games, two to teams which are bowl-bound. Georgia's unbeaten Bulldogs will appear against North Carolina in the Sugar bowl; Tennessee has accepted a bid to meet Rice in the Orange bowl, Alabama, only other conqueror of the amazing Wildcats and preseason favorite to share national honors with Army, fails to show the win wizardry so typical of the Tide team.

Immediately after signing he left for a brief vacation, returned to Lexington early this week.

Ex-UK Star, Coach To Lead Clay Games

Of interest to UK's sports public was the announcement this week that Elmer "Baldy" Glibb, former "Cat" three-sport star, and assistant coach, will be head basketball coach at Henry Clay high. For many years "Baldy" has assisted John Heber in both football and the cage game; the change gives Heber more time with his grid proteges and to carry out the proposed physical education enlargement at the Main street school.

Glibb, who graduated in 1929, won three varsity letters in football from 1926 through 1928—at a different position each season. His awards came for end, tackle and backfield play, in that order. He assisted Harry Gamage with "Cat" clemency from 1929 through 1931, came back to help Ak Kirwan in 1942, then again last year under Bernie Shivers. He also aided Coach Rupp with the national invitational basketball championships last winter.

Billiard Tourney Here Next Month

A pocket billiard tourney will be held in the Student Union game room during the second week in January, the SUB tournament committee has announced. The winner will represent UK in the intercollegiate matches in February, making the first time Kentucky has been represented since 1928, when its five-man team was disqualified after setting a world's record in team scoring. The record still stands, though Florida was adjudged the winner because of Kentucky's delay in sending in its score.

The tourney winner will captain the team, made up of semi-finalists while three alternates will be taken from quarter-finalists. Anyone interested in entering the most must sign up in the game room of the SUB by Tuesday, December 16.

Remember 1947:
The national high school scoring record of 2286 points in four years of competition with Harlan's Green Dragons, a mark that will probably stand for many years to come. He has been playing the cage game since he was in the third grade; by the time he reached the eighth grade was playing regularly on the high school team. Another record, the tall Kentuckian posted while at Harlan was the making of the all-state basketball team three times—as a freshman, a junior, and as a senior. He led the Green Dragons to the state championship in his junior year. This all-state status might have reached the four-year mark, had not the Dragons been eliminated from tourney play in the district meet his sophomore season.
