KENTUCKY STATE GOES INTO EARLHAM GAME WITH SEVERAL VARSITY MEN ON INJURED LIST

Server, Thompson, Crutcher, Dempsey, Rodes, Corn and Schrader May Not Play in Saturday's Game.

CHANGES IN THE LINE-UP ARE ANNOUNCED

State will oppose the eleven from Earlham College, Richmond, Indiana, on Stoll Field Saturday afternoon for the second game of the season. The Blue and White varsity will go into the game seriously handicapped, as Server, Thompson, Crutcher, Dempsey, Rodes, Corn and Schrader are on the "nurses' list." Most of these men will be able to play though with charlie horse's, hurt joints, and other ailments, their best work will not be forthcoming.

George Park, one of the scrubs, and a brother of Jim and Curt Park, had the misfortune to break his nose one day last week.

As Earlham is put down on the schedule as one of the practice games, many of the scrubs and Freshmen will be used. Tigert had thirty-three men out in togs last Saturday and thirty-one of them were used in the game.

Earlham, it will be remembered, was defeated by the Blue and White team 81 to 3 last year. This team, however, is always reckoned as good as Butler, so the rooters may expect to see a good if not a better article of ball Saturday than was put up in our opening game. The weather, it is hoped, will be more suitable for the sport.

It is not unlikely that several changes will be noticed in the line Saturday. Coach Tigert would not say how he expected to play the men. Kinne may be seen in action on end in place of Simpson and Schrader also may be used in this position. Britton will probably go to fullback with the big Simpson at guard or tackle. This seems to be the logical position for the Lexington youth. The side line enthusiasts would welcome Capt. Schrader back on end, as he played a stellar game at this place last season. No one doubts Britton's ability to play fullback.

Dr. Tigert will go to Mississippi to be present at the Transylvania-Mississippi A. & M. game. Southern writers are not considering Transylvania as one of Mississippi's big games. Coach Stewart hopes to "slip up" on the big Aggies as he did on the Ohio University eleven in September.

Assistant Coach Tuttle will have charge of the team Saturday.

MINING SOCIETY MEETS.

At a meeting of the Kentucky Mining Society in the Mining Building last Tuesday night, the named officers were elected for the ensuing term: president, Piedmont Hill; vice president, Fred Jones; secretary and treasurer, James F. Irvine.

BUTLER PROVES EASY FOR K. S. U. TEAM

Lack of Team Work Is Noted In the Work of the Wildcats

33-0 WAS THE SCORE

State christened her new Blue and White football gridiron last Saturday by defeating the Butler College boys 33-0. It was each team's first start this season and consequently poor football was played.

The superior attacks and the open field running of the backs, particularly Rodes and Hayden, is responsible for the 33 points.

Rodes played his expected star game, Grabfelder showed up well, Captain Schrader had an off-day, except when called on to punt, and Hayden proved a "find" for the coaches. Several times he skirted the ends for considerable gains and as one has said did a Ruth St. Denis through the whole Butler team.

In the line Dempsey and Britton proved to be the surprises. Both of these men seemed to be in every play. Crutcher, Server, Clayton, Thompson and Simpson also played good individual games, however, a lack of team work in the line was apparent.

Server kicked off to Butler. State held them for downs and on the next play Rodes went across from the thirty-yard line. This happened within the first three minutes of play. Schrader missed goal. Three minutes later "Grabby" grabbed an attempted forward pass of Butler on their 25-yard line and ran through a broken field for the second touchdown. "Dutch" booted the oval squarely between the posts on this occasion. Server kicked off again. A few minutes later Rodes carried over the third touchdown.

The Butler boys were evidently suffering from a bad attack of stage fright, or else they were still gazing at State's now "fixed up" field and not playing football.

Butler began a series of rushes at the beginning of the next quarter and made first down four times in succession. The situation was critical when Butler fumbled on State's 15-yard line and Hedges recovered. Captain Goode, Quarterback Bonham and Halfback Loy, who played the best game for the visitors throughout,

GOOD PROGRAM GIVEN BY UNION SOCIETY

Enthusiasm Is Manifest and New Members are Enrolled.

The Union Literary Society met in its hall, on the third floor of the Gymnasium Building, last Saturday night and a good program was given. It was one of the most interesting meetings in the history of the society. Several new men were initiated and the names of others presented for membership.

In the absence of Messrs. J. H. Coleman and C. R. Bourland, G. R. Smith and H. Felix were placed on the program.

In the business session the important change was made that the society should meet at 7 p. m., the program to last until 8:30 and the business meeting from 8:30 until 9 o'clock. This arrangement gives all an opportunity to go to town after the society closes.

President J. T. Gooch insists that all members be prompt and invites all who are interested in literary society work to pay them a visit. Watch the bulletin board in the hall of the Main Building for the weekly program.

The following program will be given by the members of the society next Saturday evening at 7 p. m.:

Devotional exercises—H. Felix. Seven minute speeches by the following new members initiated at the last session—J. B. Hutson, J. V. Sellers, E. C. Kelley, V. Mills, C. P. Wyatt, W. Garrison.

"Reasoning, Inductive and Deductive"—W. D. Iler.

"Edgar Allen Poe"—H. Scott. Critic—E. J. Elmer.

Business meeting. All members are urged to be present and those who are interested in literary work are invited to pay us a visit.

UNIV. TO HAVE NORMAL CLASS IN GYMNASTICS

Instruction To Be Given Men Who Expect To Teach

H. G. Stack, physical director, will start a normal class the early part of next week for men who are interested in or who may some day expect to secure a position as gymnasium instructors. The work will consist of light physiology and anatomy. Light gymnastic drills and simple dances will be taught, also kinesiology, or the study of the mechanism of the joints. The class will meet two hours a week, the time to be arranged to suit those who wish to enter.

INTERCLASS TRACK MEET TO BE HELD OCTOBER 16

State Has Best Prospects In Years For Winning Team

GOOD MEN ARE OUT

The new physical director, H. G. Stack, announced Tuesday that the inter-class track meet which was to have been held at the trotting track last Saturday afternoon, will be held Saturday, October 16, on Stoll Field. Mr. Stack seems to have awakened interest in this branch of athletics, which for many years past has only been considered in a half-hearted manner. Teams have been one or two-men teams and often some of the best track material in the University failed to appear in a track suit. This is not to be the case this year and Mr. Stack intends to turn out a track team worthy to oppose any team in this part of the country.

He himself is no "mean" track man, and is a high hurdler of national fame.

In Bill Kendrick, a California high-jumper, the coach will have a man whom he expects to trim any man in the South this year. Only last Saturday he went out and cleared the bar at 5 feet 11 inches, thus breaking all previous Kentucky records. He made a mark of 6 feet 1 inch at the University of Lower California last year. Kendrick is matriculated in the Law College. He also is a promising high hurdler. Glen Brooks, of Pittsburgh, is another new man who has chosen the Blue Grass State University to win fame on the cinder path.

He holds a mark of 4 minutes and 31 seconds for the mile, which will, if he can repeat, establish another record here. Still others who are good track men are here. Some have never been out yet and a lot will wait until spring to don the scanty togs and the long-spiked shoes.

Captain Hickerson, who was the only man who managed to wrestle a first away from the Volunteers at the trotting track last May is in the University and will be seen heaving the weights many feet when the spring meets are at hand. Other track men in school who have taken interest in the fall work-outs are Wilder, Clark, Mayhew, Sallee, Hogrefe, Faulkner, Simmons and others.

The officials and time of the meet October 16 are to be announced later. The events will be: 100-yard dash; 200-yard dash; mile run; 70 yards high hurdler and the discus throw.

It is not too late for you to come out to get in condition for the meet, and possibly add a few points to your class score.

William Sallee, Elmer Lambert, Earl Mayhew, John Hogrefe, Ben Roth, Robert Duncan, Jeff Clark and others have already signified their intention of joining this normal class.

PATTERSON SOCIETY PROGRAM A SUCCESS

Good Program Announced for the Meeting Next Saturday

The Patterson Literary Society met in its hall on the third floor of the Gym last Saturday evening. The meeting was a success, as all those on the program handled their topics creditably, and the hall was filled. Never in the history of the society did there ever before fail to be a sufficient number of chairs to seat the audience.

This is very gratifying to President O. M. Edwards, who is putting forth every effort possible to place the society on a satisfactory working basis. The following program will be rendered October 9:

Essay, "Some Phases of the European War"—C. W. Harney.

Declamation—F. O. Mayes.

Declamation—Mr. Crawford.

Debate, "Resolved That in Kentucky Women Should Be Granted Equal Suffrage With Men." Affirmative—W. C. Shinnick, G. C. Wilson and J. J. Hume. Negative—W. U. Condit and B. Fishback.

Senior critic's report.

Junior critic's report.

Business meeting. All members are urged to come, be prompt and help make the society a go. An especial invitation is given to the new men of the University. Watch on the bulletin board in the hall of the Main Building.

RHODES SCHOLARSHIP EXAMS ARE HELD

Winner to Be Given Scholarship at Oxford, England.

The Rhodes Scholarship examination in Kentucky was held Tuesday and Wednesday, October 5 and 6, in the faculty room of the Gymnasium Building for the purpose of selecting one student from the state to whom will be given a scholarship of 300 pounds per annum to the University of Oxford, England. This examination is open to all students of the Kentucky colleges who will be nineteen years of age and will have completed at least their sophomore year at college before the date of entry.

Those who took the examination were: G. C. Wilson, Paul Lick, State University; Robert S. Byars, Lexington, Transylvania College, and J. D. McCready, Kentucky Wesleyan College. On December 20 this committee will again meet, when they will select Kentucky's representative from the names sent them. In October, 1916, the winner will take up his residence at Oxford.

SEPTEMBER MORN.

"September Morn," the season's greatest musical comedy hit framed in series of pretty stage pictures instead of dear, old Nature as the only environment, comes to the Ben All Friday and Saturday and Saturday matinee. A jolly riot of fun, dancing, singing coterie of Tango Girls in the lively chorus numbers is "September Morn." Carl George is principal comedy peddler with a company of fifty assisting. The attraction but recently closed a sensational run at the LaSalle Opera House, Chicago.

ADA MEADE.

The change in prices at the Ada Meade seems to have met with instant favor, as it brings with it more expensive and spectacular vaudeville shows.

For instance, Dena Cooper & Company who are featured the last half of this week have never before appeared in a city as small as Lexington. Don't fail to see their wonderful work in "Hari Karl." It will make you gasp. —(Adv.)

MISS MARY SPENCER UNHARMED IN ARDMORE, OKLA., DISASTER.

Miss Mary Spencer, a graduate of K. S. U., who was teaching in Ardmore, Okla., when the town was almost destroyed by the explosion of a gasoline tank car, has written a letter describing the event to her father, J. M. Spencer, president of Sayre College.

Miss Spencer, who is a teacher of modern languages in the Ardmore High School, was conducting a class at the time of the explosion and was hurled against a table by its force. Recovering from the shock, she aided the students in escaping from the building, all of the windows of which had been shattered. She received no injury, with the exception of a flesh wound on her hip.

JUNIOR CLASS ELECTS

At a meeting of the Junior class held in the chapel last Thursday afternoon, Frank Crum, of Inez, was elected president of the class; Miss Blanch Wiemann, of Lexington, vice president; Miss Edna Martin, of Midway, secretary; Newland Waters, of Middletown, treasurer, and William Shinnick, of Shelbyville, class orator. About one hundred members of the class were present at the meeting, and the vote for several of the offices was very close.

NEWS OF THE FRATS.

The nine fraternities in the University are in their own houses this year for the first time in the history of the school.

The Kappa Alphas have taken up quarters at 218 South Broadway. The chapter from Transylvania is with the State chapter.

The Sigma Chi's have gotten a house at 120 East Maxwell. They moved there from Hagerman Court.

The Pi Kappa Alphas moved from Aylesford Place to 245 East High Street.

Another change is that of the Sigma Nu's, who recently moved into a house which has just been completed at 319 East Maxwell Street. They were on the corner of Pine and Mill Streets last year.

The Phi Delta Thetas also deemed it wise to make a change and moved from South Upper Street to the A. N. Gordon residence, at the corner of Lexington Avenue and Maxwell. All but one of their men who did not graduate returned to the University this year.

The Kappa Sigmas will remain in their last year quarters, at Pine and Mill Streets, as will the Alpha Tau Omegas, who have been located at the corner of Arlington Avenue and Maxwell Street.

The Delta Chis have moved from Madison Place to 411 East Maxwell. They report that the outlook for the year is promising.

The Sigma Alpha Epsilon boys will remain in their spacious quarters at 326 Grosvenor Avenue.

Gamma Alpha Kappa, the fraternity for chemists, reports that there are six active members who returned this year and one pledge. Through an error, no mention of this fraternity was made in the Varsity Handbook.

Sigma Nus Entertain.

The local chapter of Sigma Nu entertained at their home on East Maxwell Street Saturday evening. After the dinner there was a theater party at the Ada Meade.

Kappa Alpha Housewarming.

The Transylvania and "State" chapters of Kappa Alpha had a housewarming at their new home on South Broadway. There were about fifty guests present and the hosts were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Freeman, Mrs. J. E. Cassidy and Mrs. Hornbrook.

were responsible for the ferocious attack during the early stages of this quarter. The entire Freshman team was substituted during the last few minutes of the third quarter. The Klitten wrested the ball from the Butler team and were assuming a most aggressive policy when time was called.

The Varsity team was returned to the game at the beginning of the last quarter which was a repetition of the first, three touchdowns being scored.

The Butler line resisted many Blue attacks and State resorted to open plays mostly end runs and runs from punt formations to accomplish their advance. Good and Bonham did most of the gaining for the Hoosiers. With better interference they might have scored on the Wildcats.

The summary of the game follows:
Crutcher L. E. Good
Server L. T. Ball
Dempsey C. Mullane

MRS. SMITH AND PROFESSOR MATTHEWS ARE OUT FOR SCHOOL BOARD POSITIONS.

The State University Alumni Club has endorsed Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, a prominent graduate of the University, as a candidate for the Board of Education in Lexington in the regular election in November. Professor C. W. Matthews, a member of the faculty, is also a candidate to succeed himself as a member of the board.

RHODES SCHOLARSHIP EXAM

The subjects in which the applicants were examined were Latin, Greek, algebra or geometry and arithmetic. The judges were President Emeritus James K. Patterson, of State University; M. B. Adams, president of Georgetown College; Thomas B. McCartney, of Transylvania; Rev. J. T. Clark, president of Kentucky Wesleyan, and President Ganfield, of Center College.

In a recent rearrangement made by the Rhodes Trust in the United States, determined by the interest taken in the competition, Kentucky was placed in List A.

OUR CATECHISM CLASS

"Good morning, gentlemen, are you prepared to recite this morning?"
"Yes, sir; thank you, sir."
"We have the chapter on the military this morning. Mr. Brown, what is an army?"
"An army is composed of one lieutenant and two hundred and eighty-nine atoms, otherwise known as cadets."
"Are these atoms alive?"
"That has not occurred to me, but I am sure that they exist."
"Very good, I thank you for your exact use of English. Mr. Jones, why do these cosmic particles suffer to clutter the earth?"
"That they may drill perspiringly and add to the fame of the lieutenant and to the glorification of the principles laid down by Kaiser Wilhelm."
"The members of an army are clothed in uniforms, the book says. What is a uniform?"
"A cloth fabrication which makes a cadet's stomach look like a chest. Some uniforms have brass buttons and gold lace, and these add much to the scenery and the pride of the wearer. However, atoms never attain this distinction."
"Students who worked their way through the University were formerly excused from the army. Why was this nefarious practice discontinued this year, Mr. Jones?"
"Because it is a long way from the State campus to the Mexican border, in my opinion."
"I am surprised, Mr. Jones, that you give an opinion. Your text states that no atom is allowed to have an opinion. Will some one give Mr. Jones the answer in the book?"
"The reason they are not excused is because students who work their way through college have too much fun."
"Thank you; I have one more question. Mr. Jones, what is the reward for being a member of the army?"
"If one stays in the army long enough he will eventually have the exquisite pleasure of being shot or destroyed in some other approved manner."
"The hour is now up. Almost all of you have done well. Please remember, however, that no one but an officer may have an opinion. Study diligently and you will truly see the beauties of warfare much more clearly. We are now trying to have drill required of atoms five times a week, so that by acquaintance you may grow to love to carry your gun. Good day."

Miss Dean accepted this place, as her parents live at Anniston, her father, who for many years was in charge of the Weather Bureau here, having been transferred to Georgia.

Miss Dean was a member of Alpha Xi Delta Sorority and very active in college circles.

Miss Cornelia Page, previously in Mr. Curtis' office, will fill the vacancy by Miss Dean's resignation.

W. C. SHINNICK, STAGE MANAGER OF STROLLERS

Jas. McConnell Chosen Business Manager and Mr. Grehan Advisor

The first regular business meeting of the Strollers, the dramatic organization of the University, was held Monday afternoon in the newly equipped room in the basement of the Main Building, at which W. C. Shinnick, of Shelbyville, a Junior in the Department of Journalism was elected to the position of Stage Manager and will direct all of the Strollers' performances this year. James McConnell, of Arlington, a Senior Ag student was elected Business Manager. Enoch Grehan, head of the Department of Journalism, who writes for the Lexington Herald, and is one of the best dramatic critics in the South, was chosen by the Strollers as their faculty adviser for the coming year.

It was voted to continue the practice of holding an amateur night which was begun last year, and this will be the latter part of this month probably, in connect with the annual Halloween entertainment. At this time all newcomers at the University are given an opportunity to display their talent in dramatics and the Strollers are able to get in touch with the new material.

A Kick and a Suggestion.

Have we reached a point where Kentuckians can be said to have no pride; to possess no loyalty for their Alma Mater?

Several days ago three yell-leaders were selected from the student body. These men practiced together and came out on the day of the Kentucky-Butler game prepared to lead yells as they had never been lead before and to help show the Wildcats that the students were behind them from the very start.

These men did their part well. No one can deny it. What was the result?

About one-third of the "bleacherites" yelled feebly, as if troubled with influenza; another third gazed dreamily into space, occasionally dividing attention between the players and the beautiful sky; the remaining third laughed at the yell leaders.

It is possible that this condition was accentuated by an unfamiliarity with our yells, on the part of the new men. We hope so. And, again, the Kentucky "rooters" may have been too widely separated for concerted yelling.

We should like to advance two suggestions. First, that the Freshmen get together and learn the Wildcat yells. Second, that a portion of the bleachers be reserved each game for "ooters" only.

And herein lies an opportunity for the Freshmen again to show the admirable class and college spirit, which they have manifested thus far, by coming out to every game and helping to cheer the team on to victory.

WE MEAN THIS!

A downtown merchant recently told a University committee, which was canvassing the downtown section with athletic tickets, to get to H—1 out of his store.

We desire to serve notice to the above-mentioned merchant, and all others like him, that rather than buy from men of such spirit we will go to H—1 for our commodities.

Furthermore, we believe that better goods than they offer can be found there.

SQUIRREL FOOD

The poetical Freshman has not yet burst his bonds, but pretty soon you will see stuff like this in the Kernel:

"I am not imitating Poe, But I can tell a tale I know Of how I loved a blond-haired girl With eyes of sea-green pearl. And when I told her of my love, Her heart, like angel wings above, Went pit-a-pat."

EMERY FRAZIER.

AN ANSWER.

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 29, 1915.

Dear Editor: Will you please publish the following editorial from the Y. M. C. A. handbook, and the Parable for an answer to same:

Fraternities.

"There are nine men's general fraternities in the University and five women's fraternities. They exist with the idea of bringing together those who seek closer friendship and association than is found in an unorganized group, to stimulate better and more earnest work among the students and to cultivate to a certain extent the social side of college life.

The number of fraternity men and women in the University is necessarily limited, because of the small number of chapters of fraternities in the University and the limited number of members of each. No man need feel ashamed if at the end of the first few days or weeks or even a year, if he is not "asked" to become a member of one of them.

Each man who feels the inclination to become a "fraternity man" should be stimulated to do earnest work in every line, for that is the deep-rooted principle on which fraternities are founded. Each girl might do well to remember that the same thing may be applied to a woman's fraternity.

Be independent and bide your time is that advice handed down by older and more experienced persons. If you are "wanted" you will be "asked." Never broach the subject to one who is a member of a fraternity. Secret societies are based on the principle that they shall be "secret" and the secret sign by which one member is known to the other is not supposed to be understood by any other.

The old maxim of mind your own business is truly applicable here. It is true that the non-fraternity man or woman may have the respect, admiration and friendship of any truly representative member of a fraternity, which ought to convince any one that there is no barrier between those who are members and those who are not."

ANSWER.

Parable.

Once upon a time many citizens of England, who were dissatisfied with the government, came to America and started a Democratic rule. After many struggles the weaker surpassed the arrogant nation. But in its infancy those men, who are now remembered as the Fathers of their country, were looked upon by the nobility of the Mother country as mere and straggling and low-bred outcasts. So castigated were the Gentry of England in their supposed Royalty that men who believed in any Democratic ideas were "NOT WANTED." So they pinched down on the undesirable and at the same time isolated themselves more and more. They blew cold on the one class and hot on the other. They created class. Thus the Revolutionary war followed.

One of the Democratic patriots, having been recognized in direct proportion to his ability by his associates, was given his ample share of the honors. These rewards came after four years of service in the ranks of America's baby army. But he was so ambitious. Blinded by a sudden glare of the surface beauty of British gold and all the mysteries of its secret chambers with their secrets, his spirit flamed from the lure of that unseasoned glory and was beckoned on. He reasoned then that Washington's army was almost lost, and that it would be unwise to perish on a sinking ship. So he told England's Lords that "American revolutionists were ambitious politicians." And he deserted. Men who had hearts of pure gold, men whose spirits exalted that of any British Lord who ever lived, men who dared to do or die, those men he deserted. This was his—Yet he did more. He wrote many papers, pamphlets and editorials in which he slapped his boyhood associates. And so high did his head that only a Lord could...

But small men are near-when on crutches. Congratulate to England for calling him a traitor.

America is the greatest country now. Yet she appreciates and needs no land. And it is pleasant to see two countries, exchanging ideas, men hold their noses when the of Benedict Arnold is mentioned.

Thanking you in advance for favors, I am yours very truly, GEORGE R. SMITH,

Mechanical Department News

A. S. M. E.

The next regular meeting of the State University branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers will be held in the heat engineering recitation room, Mechanical Hall, at 8 a. m., October 8.

The meetings are held alternate Fridays and visitors are welcome.

The program to be given tomorrow includes the following discussions:

C. K. Dunn—"Ice Making As a By-Product of Central Stations."

J. W. Thompson—"The Electric Locomotive."

E. H. Clark—"Metal Spray Processes in Engineering and Art."

H. Worsham—"Some Engineering Problems Arising in the Transportation of Natural Gas."

W. M. Glenn—"The Washburn Shops of the Worcester Polytechnic Institute."

Julius Wolf—"Wind Motors."

English for Seniors.

Many persons have said, and probably with justification, that graduates of technical courses are handicapped in the matter of literary and academic training, but this charge can no longer be hurled at the engineers from State. Dean Anderson and Dr. Mackenzie have taken the Seniors in hand, and every Wednesday a group is formed in the attractive Senior Room, and the members entertain each other by a display of their shortcomings. Just at present they are learning to spell, and no man is properly equipped unless he carries somewhere on his person that small treasure known as a pocket dictionary.

By June every Senior Mechanical expects to have gained untold advantages from this training and association with each other and with such capable teachers.

Mechanical Freshmen, Notice!

Do you know what a "Get-Together" is? If not, better ask an upper classman, for there is going to be a big one "pulled off" in the very near future. Will tell you more about it next week if you can't find out before then.

Old Graduates Back.

Mechanical Hall was visited this week by Mr. Joe Shelby, 1910, and Mr. Bryan Shanklin, 1911. Mr. Shelby is switchboard specialist of the G. E. Co., in New York City, and Mr. Shanklin is in the G. E. Co. laboratories at Schenectady, under Charles P. Steinmetz.

ORCHESTRA AND CHORAL CLUBS ARE ORGANIZED

Glee Club To Be Developed From 20 Best Male Voices

The choral society was re-organized Tuesday afternoon in the chapel with about fifty members. Charles Louis Bennett, of the Lexington College of Music, will be the director of the organization for the year. Plans were discussed for a cantata which will be held sometime in the near future.

The Glee Club will be composed of twenty of the best male voices in the University and will be trained by Professor Bennett. The first rehearsal will be held Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. Building.

The orchestra was organized Monday afternoon with Herbert J. Jenny, of the Lexington College of Music as director. The orchestra will be composed of about twenty of the students of the University and promises to be one of the best that State has ever produced.

NAME OF STOLL FIELD WILL STILL BE USED

President H. S. Barker, in a statement made recently to a Kernel reporter, reiterated his public statement, made in one of the local papers, that he thought it in keeping with the tender memories connected with the University athletic field to retain the old name, Stoll Field, and to erase from the minds of the students the tendency to use the new name of Barker Stadium.

Stoll Field was named in honor of Richard Stoll, a prominent alumnus, of this city, and it is in due respect to Mr. Stoll that Judge Barker asks that the old name be retained. Judge Barker said in conclusion:

"Stoll Field has a place in the hearts of Kentucky State students and alumni as the scene of victories and defeats for the Blue and White and it should always be Stoll Field."

MICH. ALUMNI HOLD "GET-TOGETHER" MEET

The alumni of the University of Michigan who reside in Lexington and Central Kentucky held their annual "get together" meeting last Saturday night at the Phoenix Hotel simultaneously, with similar dinners served in 205 cities where the Michigan institution has representatives. Foremost among the topics of the evening was the discussion of a plan entertained by 35,000 alumni to raise $1,000,000 during the month of October for the benefit of the University.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. held its weekly meeting at Patterson Hall Sunday evening, October 3. They had expected Miss Scherback, traveling secretary, for the South Central Field, to be present at this meeting, but she was unable to be there.

The program consisted of the introduction of the cabinet to the new girls and was as follows:

Hymn.
Scripture.
Instrumental Solo—Miss Celia Cregar.

Each cabinet member introduced by president.

Hymn.
Benediction.

HEARNE-SERENA.

Miss Virginia Hearne, of Lexington, and a member of class of '04, was united in marriage to Mr. Joseph Serena at her home October 2.

Miss Hearne was very active in school during the time spent at old State.

HORACE MANN.

The Horace Mann Literary Society held its second meeting of the year October 1, 1915, at 7 p. m.

Owing to the inclement weather, but one member on the program for the evening was present. This number was a very interesting paper on "The Influence of Literature on Life," by Miss Sue Hunt Frost.

The meeting was then given over to the representatives of the other literary societies in the University, who greeted the Horace Mann and extended invitations to hold joint sessions with their societies.

At this meeting fifteen new members were enrolled. This new enrollment will raise the membership of the society to its usual standard.

Shower for Miss Cassidy.

Mrs. Alfred Zembrod, who is a patroness of Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority, gave a beautiful linen shower Friday afternoon in honor of Miss Marietta Cassidy, a member of the sorority and a bride-elect of the autumn.

The home was decorated in the sorority colors, red, buff and green. A delicious lunch was served, the table being presided over by Miss Katherine Wiley.

Kinne-Barnett.

Lexington friends have received announcements of the marriage of Miss Theresa Kinne to Mr. Brinkley Barnett, which took place at the home of the bride in Stearns, Ky., October 6.

Miss Kinne was a student in the University last year, where she won many friends by her charming manner.

Mr. Barnett graduated from the University with the class of 1913 and will be remembered by many students as basketball star and captain of the team.

Party For New Girls.

The Y. W. C. A. of the University entertained in honor of the Freshmen girls living at Patterson Hall with an old-fashioned party at the Hall Saturday evening, from 8 to 10.

Each new girl was escorted by an old girl, who devoted herself to entertaining the newcomer. Progressive games were played, and a series of improvised races were held. Miss Helen Burkholder and Lois Powell won the three-legged sprint from a big field of entries. Miss Natalie Woodruff was first in the peanut race, and Miss Mary Howard was returned winner in the peanut rolling contest.

Refreshments of punch, sandwiches and mints, were served to the guests.

Hank—Robinson.

The following invitations have been received by many students in the University:

Mr. and Mrs. Gus E. Hank will give in marriage their daughter Pauline to

Mr. Thomas Robinson on the evening of Wednesday, the sixth of October nineteen hundred and fifteen at eight-thirty o'clock First Presbyterian Church Paducah, Kentucky.

The honor of your presence is requested.

Both "Pauline" and "Tom" have the good wishes of a host of friends at State.

Miss Hank has been much entertained by her friends since the announcement, last week. Among the pre-nuptial functions was a shower given in her honor by Miss Annabel Grainger, State '15, at her home in Paducah, October 2.

Library Club Meets.

The Library Club held its first meeting Friday afternoon, October 1, in its room in the Library Building.

Miss Marie Louise Michot, the president, opened the session with a speech of welcome. Dean Anna J. Hamilton spoke on "The Appreciation of Books," and presented the club with a handsome copy of the well-known picture, "The Book-Worm."

After the regular meeting, a social hour was enjoyed. Tea and sandwiches were served.

Miss McLaughlin Entertains.

Miss Marguerite McLaughlin entertained with a dance at her home Thursday evening, September 30.

The guests were Misses Christine Hopkins, Marie Louise Michot, Katherine Mitchell, Lila Estes, Edness Kimball, Marie Becker, Leonore Zimmerman, Dew Flanery, Dawn Flanery, Rebecca Smith, and Messrs. Henry Morrison, Owen Lee, F. L. Elkelberger, Herbert Graham, Ralph Morgan, James Park, J. O. Reynolds, Ben May, William Shinnick, W. L. Smith, John Marsh and McClarty Harbison.

Party to Students.

Miss Frances Jewell entertained the girls in her Sunday school class at the Presbyterian Church with a buffet luncheon at her home Saturday, October 2.

Misses Katherine Mitchell and Marie Louise Michot, of the University, and Miss Cook, of Seattle, rendered a charming program while the guests were served with a delicious luncheon.

Among the guests were a large number of State students.

"K." Dance a Success.

The annual K dance Friday, October 1, was a complete success from every point of view. Music, floor, crowd and chaperones were all just "right," and all who went can testify to the jollity of the occasion.

The Kentuckian staff is to be congratulated upon the excellent management of the dance.
