Kentucky Grid Chief Paul (Bear) Bryant (right) gratefully accepts the solid silver antique Sugar Bowl symbolic of his Wildcats' stunning victory over the Oklahoma Sooners in the 1951 gridiron classic at New Orleans from Charles Zatarin, president of the city's Mid-Winter Sports Association. The trophy is the original bowl made by silver-smiths in London, England, in 1830 and will be replaced by a replica before being returned for the 18th renewal of the Sugar Bowl game on New Year's Day, 1952.

Information For The Working Press And Radio

The Stoll Field press box, re-built entirely during 1949-50 at a cost of more than $30,000, is believed to be one of the finest in the country. Constructed in two decks, the box has a two-level lower deck that is enclosed with heat-resisting, glare-reducing plate glass to increase visibility of the field for the working press and an upper deck partitioned off into 14 open-front booths for radio stations and newsreels. Also located on the upper deck, at each end, are unique press-radio lounges — large, glass-enclosed rooms where writers, sportscasters and photographers may congregate.

The press section of the box can be ventilated in warm weather and is electrically heated in cool weather by thermostat-controlled blower heaters. Restrooms are located near the entrances at each end of the box. Outside telephone service is available at seat number 104 on the back row of the press deck.

Applications for space assignment by members of the working press, photographers and radio men should be addressed, as far in advance as possible, to Ken Kuhn, Sports Publicity Editor, University of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky. Telephone Lexington 2-2200, Extension 2241. Admission to the press box is limited to male personnel.

If you intend to file from the field, please advise that when making space reservations so that you may be assigned a seat next to, or as near as possible to, the Western Union operator who will handle your file. It is advisable also to make advance reservations with the Lexington office of Western Union, particularly if a direct, guaranteed wire is required.

Radio stations desiring to broadcast Kentucky's home games must first secure a permit from the University Radio Director outlining sponsors, fees paid, and any network arrangement. Address requests to broadcast to Elmer G. Sulzer, University of Kentucky Radio Studios, Lexington, Ky., as far in advance of the game as possible. Booth assignment will be made and tickets issued to the working crew by the Sports Publicity Office upon notification that permit has been granted. Spotters are available if requested in advance. Stations should order lines installed by contacting the Lexington Telephone Company. Linemen also are on duty in the press box during the game to correct any trouble that may arise.

Kentucky's current broadcast policy prohibits simultaneous television of home games, but permits delayed televising of motion pictures of the game upon advance approval by the University.

Sideline passes will be issued only to accredited photographers shooting for daily newspapers or picture services. We ask that you limit yourself to one assistant for messenger or caption writing duties. Space for newsreel men and photographers working with long range cameras will be made available in the upper deck of the press box.

Complimentary stands tickets are awarded only by the University Complimentary Ticket Committee and are distributed prior to the opening of the season.

Your press-radio-photographer pass admits your car to the reserved parking space along the circular campus drive west of the stadium enclosure.

Possession of this pass also entitles you to enter any stadium gate on your way to the press box. However, other members of your party without such pass must enter the gate designated on their ticket.

When leaving the press box late after the game, you will find gate number one open. This gate, under section A at the left end of the stands on the opposite side of the field from the press box, is an exit to Avenue of Champions (formerly Euclid Ave.) in front of Memorial Coliseum.

Programs, brochures, current rosters on both teams, mimeographed running play-by-play accounts, halftime and final individual-team statistics, substitution and scoring summaries, and other pertinent information will be supplied the working press and radio. Starting lineups will be announced over the Public Address system and may be checked against the probable starters listed on the center spread of the program. Mimeographed explanation of band maneuvers and halftime entertainment also will be distributed.

Refreshments will be served to your seats at halftime and coffee or Coca Cola may be obtained anytime from the attendant.

BRYANT YEAR VI

The Outlook For 1951

When Paul Bryant took over the reins of the Kentucky football Wildcats five years ago, he calmly proclaimed to sportswriters assembled at his first press conference two highly significant aims for his tutoring administration.

First off, he declared in a language appropriate to the Bluegrass horse country that he was "not interested in place or show."

Secondly, he said in effect that to produce a winner and a football "name" with national prestige for Kentucky would take five years.

That the "five year plan" proved amazingly successful and even more amazingly an accurate timetable of the Wildcats' climb up the national football ladder is attested by the history of the 1950 season that saw Kentucky reach climactic heights in annexing a Sugar Bowl championship at the expense of the nation's number one ranking team — Oklahoma.

Today, a wiser and more experienced Bryant can't be pinned down to such accuracy in his predictions on the prospects of the 1951 version of the gridiron Wildcats. But he figures to start a new "five year plan" and hopes for a stepped up production of winning teams.

The possibilities of taking up where he left off New Year's Day and tutoring another bowl team of the same or better calibre are pretty remote for '51, according to the man who should know.

Faced with what is unqualifiedly termed one of the toughest schedules ever handicapped for a Kentucky eleven and a squad virtually riddled by graduation of key men. Coach Bryant fears that 1951 will be a long, hard winter of re-building a solid foundation for future progress.

Kentucky's 1951 team will be the most inexperienced, weakest in reserves of any team fielded by Coach Bryant since his entry on the Bluegrass scene five years ago.

Nineteen lettermen, 13 of whom started the Sugar Bowl game on either offense or defense, will be missing from the lineup during the coming season and only five of the 17 lettermen returning were starters in the post-season scrap.

The Wildcats appear destined to be only a shadow of their former defensive selves, far weaker than the standards set by the 1949 and 1950 Kentucky teams which ranked as the number one and runner-up units in the nation in the all-around defense department.

Big gaps in the line have been produced by the graduation loss of such outstanding performers as All-America tackle Bob Gain; Walt Yowarsky, tackle voted the most valuable player of the Sugar Bowl game; Pat James and Bill Wannamaker, considered two of the best defensive guards in the South; and regular ends Al Bruno, Charlie McClendon and Benny Zaranka. Only two offensive and two defensive starters off the Sugar Bowl squad return to take over their regular positions in the forward wall—guards Gene Donaldson and John Ignarski, tackle Jim Mackenzie and center-linebacker Doug Moseley. The secondary also will be particularly weak in both first line and reserve personnel.

Despite glaring weaknesses, one good defensive unit undoubtedly can be fielded by the Wildcats but they will be definitely handicapped by the necessity of doing double duty as the number one offensive outfit as well. The outlook for sufficient capable personnel to operate a two-platoon system appears very dim.

On the brighter side of the ledger, the team shapes up as having very fine leadership from within the squad in the persons of returning Sugar Bowl veterans. They appear to be ambitious and have the right spirit and if the younger boys get the same spirit quick enough the situation should be right to win some ball games. Besides the prospect of good leadership, the 1951 Kentucky team will have an extremely dangerous passing attack led by All-America quarterback Babe Parilli, back for his final season. Bryant's also hoping for a slightly improved running game, but the personnel which will carry most of the burden is a big question mark. Bruising Bill Leskovar, first string fullback last year, is back, along with halfbacks Emery Clark and Ed Hamilton, neither of whom played first string on offense last season.

Freshmen will be eligible for varsity competition this year due to a relaxed Southeastern Conference ruling, but Coach Bryant puts his lack of faith in any appreciable help from the yearlings in these words: "If anybody's really helped by freshmen this year, I just hope we play that team."

The big question mark in the Wildcats' plans for '51 seems to be whether a top flight offense can offset a woefully weak defense. In other words, will the military strategy axiom of "The best defense is a strong offense" hold true on the gridiron as it sometimes does on the battlefield.

The Bryant Story

Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant has taught Kentucky footballers and fans how the other half lives and they love it.

For years, Kentucky spent the majority of its Saturday afternoons getting its collective gridiron teeth kicked in. Like being slugged repeatedly on the head with a sledge hammer, this was not regarded as morale building.

In 1946, Bryant gave up the reins at the University of Maryland and accepted a five-year contract at Kentucky. He explained at the time that it would take that amount of time to get the Wildcats off the floor, shake the cobwebs from their respective heads and start them moving up the national grid ladder — an assignment few young mentors would have cared to risk their futures on.

Last year was the final chapter of Bryant's "Five-Year Plan" and at the season's end the Wildcats capped a sensational climb to fame by smacking down the nation's number-one-ranked team, the Oklahoma Sooners, 13 to 7, in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans.

The 1950 Bryant edition won 11 and lost only one in annexing the first Southeastern Conference football title ever won by the school. Over the five-year period, the Cats won 40, lost 13 and tied two; appeared in three bowl games (Great Lakes Bowl, 1947; Orange Bowl, 1950; and Sugar Bowl, 1951) and won two of them.

A record of two victories and eight pastings was the best Kentucky could do in 1945, which was one year B.B. (Before Bryant). The next season, Bear rewrote the script and the Cats stunned everyone by winning seven and dropping three. The Wildcats felt something like an elephant in a bird cage with this overnight success — their best season record in football since 1912.

But they began to get used to the feeling. In 1947, Bryant's charges copped eight and again dropped a trio of tilts. Recognition of their "dark horse" rise to national prominence came as they accepted a bid to perform in the inaugural Great Lakes Bowl game at Cleveland in December, 1947, and defeated Villanova 24 to 14. The game marked Kentucky's first post-season bowl appearance.

Hit hard by graduation, Kentucky still managed to stay on the winning side of the ledger in 1948 with a mark of five victories, three setbacks and two ties which kept intact the Bryant record of never having lost more than three games in a single season.

A new surprise was in store for the football world in the next year as the 1949 club won nine and dropped only three, including a 21-13 loss to Santa Clara in the Orange Bowl at Miami, while playing what was considered at the time to be the school's most difficult schedule. Bryant's charges also finished breathing down the neck of the league leader in the conference race, second by a scant 33 percentage points.

The fourth chapter in the Bryant story at Kentucky proved a brilliant one. His team had accomplished goals which no other UK grid aggregation had managed to attain in the school's 61-year football history—finish second in the SEC and participate in a major post-season bowl game. Prior to the Bryant era, the Wildcats gained seventh place in the Conference standings twice to mark their best efforts in 58 SEC games over a 12-year period.

At the close of Bryant's first season with UK, school officials were so pleased with his accomplishments that they tore up his original five-year pact and replaced it with a then-unique, 10-year agreement. After Kentucky's Sugar Bowl victory, UK officials again voted confidence in the youthful mentor by tossing out his 10-year contract—which still had five seasons to run—and replacing it with an unprecedented 12-year pact extending through the 1962 season.

Before coming to Kentucky in 1946, Bryant, an Alabama end from 1933-35, tutored Maryland to a 6-2-1 record in 1945 for that school's best mark in years. His one-season Maryland post was the first head coaching job he held.

During his days at the Capstone, Bryant was Bama's regular right end and was a member of the famed Crimson Tide Rose Bowl eleven of 1935. The 37-year-old native of Fordyce, Arkansas, became an assistant coach on Frank Thomas' staff at Alabama following his graduation in 1936. He moved to Vanderbilt in 1939 as line coach and two years later entered the Navy. He was discharged in 1945 as a lieutenant commander. Following a season as head coach at Maryland in 1945, the former Bama flankman started his career at Kentucky in 1946.

Professional and collegiate clubs alike have tried to lure the amazing Mr. Bryant into lush fields, but he has consistently chosen to remain at the challenging task of building Kentucky football into "big-time" prominence and keeping it there.

The Coaching Staff

CARNEY LASLIE (Alabama '33) . . . Silver-haired Laslie has been associated with Paul Bryant almost continuously since the days when both were performing with Alabama's Crimson Tide in the early thirties. He lettered three years ('30-'31-'32) as a Bama tackle and starred on the famous Rose Bowl eleven of 1932. Following graduation in 1933, he remained at the Capstone one season as an assistant to Frank Thomas. It was this same year that sophomore end Bryant was developing into a Tide great. Laslie became head coach at Blytheville, Ark., High school in 1934 and enjoyed outstanding success as his teams went undefeated for three successive seasons. In 1937, he moved to V.M.I. as line coach. From the Lexington, Va., military school, he entered the Navy shortly after Pearl Harbor. He was associated with Bryant again as both were assigned to prepare the North Carolina Pre-Flight team for the 1945 season. Discharged in 1945 as a lieutenant commander after three and a half years' service, Laslie joined Bryant as an assistant at Maryland for the '45 season and came to Kentucky when Bryant was named head coach of the Wildcats in 1946.

ERMAL ALLEN (Kentucky '42) . . . One of Kentucky's most famous athlete graduates, Allen at 31 has had a full career as a collegiate star, pro-football player and successful college grid coach. He starred at quarterback for the Wildcat forces from 1939 to 1941 and entered military service following graduation. Returning as a graduate student after his discharge, Allen became the center of one of the Southeastern Conference's most controversial cases when he attempted to play a fourth year of football in 1946 and was declared ineligible after two games. He had not played varsity ball as a freshman and was certified by the University as eligible under an interpretation of a war-time SEC ruling allowing freshmen to compete in varsity ball and, in effect, permitting four years of varsity competition. Allen joined the U.K. coaching staff for the remainder of the '46 season, spent the '47 campaign as a T-quarterback with the professional Cleveland Browns, then re-joined the Wildcat staff in 1948. He became head freshmen mentor in 1950 and was promoted at season's end to fill the backfield coach vacancy.

CLARENCE UNDERWOOD (Marshall '38) . . . Friends call Underwood by the somewhat un-respectful nickname of "Buckshot," but he has earned high respect from players and fellow coaches, alike, since he joined the Kentucky staff in 1948. Besides the usual duties on the football field, he has the sometimes difficult task of keeping gridders eligible by prodding them to tackle the daily classroom grind with the same forcefulness demanded of them on the greensward. He had a successful career as a high school coach at Beckley, W. Va., from 1938-43 and served three years in the Navy as a lieutenant during World War II.

CHARLES McCLENDON (Kentucky '51) . . . Added to the coaching staff after concluding his collegiate career with the Wildcats in the 1951 Sugar Bowl game, McClendon gives the impression of being as hard a worker as a coach as he was while playing defensive end from 1948-50. He made the All-SEC Sophomore team and earned two letters during his playing days. In World War II, Mac served three years in the Navy.

PAUL DIETZEL (Miami, Ohio, U. '47) . . . An indefatigable football laborer, Dietzel has a background of fine play as a Little All-America center at Miami U. and as a college coach. After his graduation from Miami in 1947, he joined Sid Gillman's staff and served with the school until Gillman took him to West Point in 1948. At the Academy, he was Plebe football and basketball coach. When Gillman moved on to University of Cincinnati in 1949, he took Dietzel with him as an assistant. Kentucky called for Dietzel's services after the 1950 season and he joined the staff for 1951 spring practice. He was a B-29 pilot with the Army Air Force during World War II.

JIM OWENS (Oklahoma '50) . . . All-America end and co-captain of the Oklahoma Sugar Bowl team of two seasons ago, Owens joined the Kentucky coaching staff shortly after the Wildcats humbled the Sooners in the '51 New Orleans classic. During his playing days under Coach Bud Wilkinson at O.U. from 1947-49, Owens performed in four bowl games (Gator, 1946; Sugar, 1949-50; Senior, 1950) and the All-Star Game at Chicago. Last fall, he played pro ball with the Baltimore Colts and served as end coach on the Johns Hopkins staff. During World War II, he was in the Naval Air Corps as an enlisted air crewman.

BILL McCUBBIN (Kentucky 40) . . . A former Wildcat end (1937-39), McCubbin has been a part-time assistant on the football coaching staff for six seasons. He also is a member of the University Physical Education teaching staff and serves as director of intra-mural athletics. During the grid season, he helps coach the freshmen and B-team squad members and sandwiches in a large slice of scouting duties.

J. D. LANGLEY (Chattanooga '43) . . . Langley brings to Kentucky a background of outstanding experience as a college football player, professional baseball player and high school grid coach. Performed at center for University of Chattanooga from 1941-43; spent seven years with the Washington Senators baseball chain; and achieved an overall coaching record of 44-14-5 at Bremen and Rockmart, Ga., High schools. His 1950 Rockmart team went undefeated and Langley was voted "High School Coach of the Year" in Georgia.

VIC BRADFORD (Alabama '39) . . . All-Southern quarterback at Alabama in 1938, Bradford has a record of five seasons as a college back-field coach and five years in professional baseball with the New York Giants farm system. He was an All-American in baseball at 'Bama in 1938. His first coaching experience was at University of Kansas in 1946 immediately following discharge from the Navy as a lieutenant senior grade. After two successful campaigns with the Jayhawks, he moved to the Naval Academy when George Saeur became headmaster there. His next move came when Saeur transferred to Baylor after two years at Annapolis and he coached the varsity backs and served as baseball chief at the Texas school. Joined Kentucky for the '51 season.

The Wildcat Offense

SYSTEM—Coach Bryant plans to employ a somewhat varied pattern of offense this season, as last year, but again will stick basically to the T-formation. Variations used liberally during 1950 included single wing, double wing, split-T, man-in-motion-T, and combinations of these systems. Two-platoon football will be out due to lack of depth.

PASSING—Certain to be Kentucky's most dangerous offensive weapon again this year. All-American quarterback Babe Parilli, the Southeastern Conference's leading passer for two consecutive seasons and national record breaker in 1950, is back for a final fling. Only the necessity of developing replacements for top notch receivers lost by graduation and adequate pass protection stands between the Kentucky Babe and a sensational aerial attack.

RUSHING—Kentucky's running game should be improved slightly over last season. Much of uncertainty revolves around condition of fullback Bill Leskovar, who in spring practice appeared fully recovered from 1950 injuries. If he's OK, the running attack should be too. If not, the forecast is trouble.

PUNTING—The absence of the Southeastern Conference's leading punter of last season, Dominic Fucci, will be keenly felt. Parilli likely will do some of the kicking, but no regular replacement appeared outstanding in spring drills. Unless a powerful punter is uncovered among as-yet-untested men, the outlook is for one of the team's leanest seasons in this department.

KICKOFFS—POINTS AFTER TD—Best men in both departments departed after last season and replacements must be found among generally untested men. Guard John Ignarski likely will do much of the kicking off while reserve quarterback Bill Farley may be slated for the PAT duty.

DEFENSE—Kentucky's 1951 team will be woefully weak in over-all defense due to the graduation loss of seven starters and seven first line reserves from the defensive platoon that started the Sugar Bowl game and was rated at season end as the nation's number two aggregation on total defense. Despite the graduation of All-American tackle Bob Gain, Sugar Bowl "most valuable" tackle Walt Yowarsky, and other key men out of the line, the defensive secondary seems to be destined as the weakest link this season.

SAFETY MEN—A final answer may not be found until mid-season, but the outlook is for the Jones twins, Harry and Larry, to perform in double safety much of the time. In the event of a single safety man, it probably will be Harry Jones or an untested sophomore.

FIELD GENERALS—All the offensive signal calling will be handled by quarterback Babe Parilli or his substitute. Team leadership will be in the hands of co-captains again this season for the second time in the school's grid history. Captains elect are Parilli and center Doug Moseley, both probable All-America performers.

Summary By Positions

ENDS—Generally inexperienced . . . Only three look like real prospects to replace regulars lost . . . Two sophomores may get call to start on offense. Steve Meilinger and Jim Proffitt.

TACKLES—Deep in reserves but green in football "know-how" . . . Should be greatly improved by mid-season . . . All-America Bob Gain and Walt Yowarsky, most valuable player of Sugar Bowl game, lost . . . Regulars returning include Jim Mackenzie and John Netoskie, the latter shifted from defensive end.

GUARDS—Probably weakest position in over-all strength . . . Both offensive regulars, John Ignarski and Gene Donaldson, return but defensive stars Pat James and Bill Wannamaker will be missing along with top reserves . . . Donaldson should hit All-America form.

CENTERS—Should be stronger offensively, but defense is likely to be weak . . . Co-Captain Moseley, named on many pre-season All-America teams, may have to do double duty on defense as well as offense unless unforeseen help arises . . . Help must come from '50 reserves or soph-frosh prospects.

QUARTERBACKS—Parilli.

HALFBACKS—Adequate strength on offense . . . No defensive standouts . . . Emery Clark, Ed Hamilton and Cliff Lawson will carry burden for the full 60 minutes barring outstanding help from upcoming sophomores or freshmen backs.

FULLBACKS—Biggest question mark . . . If Bill Leskovar returns to form, team will be potent offensively at this position . . . Considerable experimentation and shifting will be necessary to find good relief man.

Kentucky's first touchdown under the tutelage of Paul (Bear) Bryant was made by a player who, at the time was six months older than his coach . . . Bill Portwood, about to turn 34 years of age, came into Kentucky's opening game with Ole Miss in 1946 as a substitute for end Chink Sengel after the latter had dropped two touchdown passes in the end zone . . . Thrown the same pass that Sengel had fumbled. Portwood snatched it to make Kentucky's first TD under Bryant . . . The Wildcats went on to win the game 20-7.

Origin of "Wildcats" Nickname

Kentucky's athletic teams are known to sports fans as the Wildcats. This first and only nickname borne by University varsities had its origin in 1909 in a speech made by Commandant Carbusier, then head of the military department of old State University. Speaking to a chapel audience of students on the showing of the Kentucky football team in defeating Illinois six to two, the Commandant declared "they fought like Wildcats." The tag was popularized by word of mouth and by the press with the result that it has since become synonymous with all major Kentucky athletic teams.

While the name is old in origin, no claim is made regarding precedence over similar nicknames boasted by Northwestern, Villanova and other schools.

An alumnus in 1947 presented a live Kentucky Wildcat to SUKY, student pep organization. Named "The Colonel," the cat is cared for by the group and is displayed in a cage on the sidelines at all home football games.

The Kentucky Babe

Who will be the top quarterback of 1951?

To the more than 400,000 fans who saw him play last year, there can be only one answer — Kentucky's Vito (Babe) Parilli.

The six-foot one-inch, 190-pound Rochester, Pa., wizard was selected on eleven All-America first teams last season and only the fact that he was a junior kept him off many others. The Washington, D. C., Touch-down Club honored Babe as the "Outstanding Back in the Nation."

Parilli climaxed a brilliant season on New Year's Day by passing for one touchdown and setting up a second with a 48-yard aerial to the one yard line as Kentucky snapped Oklahoma's 31-game winning streak, 13-7, in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans.

During the 1950 season, while leading Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant's blue-clad warriors to a 10-1 pre-bowl record, Parilli set or tied the following marks:

A new all-time national collegiate record for most touchdown passes in one season when he rang the bell 23 times to eclipse by one the mark set by Nevada's Stan Heath in 1948. This achievement also shaded the existing SEC record of 18 made in 1947 by Connerly of Ole Miss.

A new SEC record for yards gained by passing in one game (338 against Cincinnati) and in one season (1,627). The old single game mark of 323 was set by Georgia's Charley Trippi in 1945. The season's mark was formerly held by another Georgia star, Frankie Sinkwich who passed for 1,392 yards in 1942.

A new SEC record for touchdown accountability in one season (28) — 23 passing and five rushing.

Twice tied the SEC record for most touchdown passes in single game (5) against Cincinnati and North Dakota.

Parilli undoubtedly could have shattered the single game touchdown record beyond recognition against North Dakota had not Coach Bryant yanked the Pennsylvanian after he had completed 15 of 20 passes for five touchdowns in the first 18 minutes of the game.

During the regular season, Parilli completed 114 of 203 passes for a percentage of 56.1, just one percentage point off the national record set by Mississippi's Charley Conerly in 1947. Including the Sugar Bowl, where Babe completed nine of twelve passes, he upped his percentage of completions to 57.2.

For the twelve games, including the Sugar Bowl, Babe completed 123 of 215 tosses for a net gain of 1,732 yards and 24 touchdowns. He had only a dozen heaves fall into enemy hands.

But his tremendous passing magic isn't all that makes Parilli great.

Probably his strongest weapon is his faking ability at which he has no equal in college or professional ball. He could hide a six-room house on a vacant lot if he thought it were a football, according to admiring sports writers who have seen him in action.

Coach Bryant calls Parilli "the finest back I've ever coached or seen." The Babe is Kentucky's first All-American back in the 69-year gridiron history of the school.

At the close of the 1950 season, Parilli, champion passer of the SEC for the second straight season, ranked as the nation's fourth leading passer and was sixth in the country in total individual offensive gain. He was named by an Associated Press poll as the conference's "best passer" and "most valuable player," an honor he also received from the Nashville Banner, Birmingham and Atlanta Touchdown Clubs.

Parilli in 1950 was ninth in a national AP poll to select the "Male Athlete of the Year" (pro and amateur), fourth in United Press' poll to determine the "Player of the Year" in college football, and runner-up for "Back of the Year" honors in the UP balloting.

The Babe hands all the credit for his success to Bryant and Backfield Coach Ermal Allen who "taught me everything I know about the T." When Babe first burst upon the Lexington scene he was a tailback and had only played the single wing. Bryant took a look at him and decided that here was his T-quarterback. Kentucky agreed to sink or swim with Parilli. They proved fine swimmers.

Parilli, who says he isn't very fast afoot, certainly fools a lot of people. But it's actually not so much that he is fast, but that he is as quick as a cat. Quicker, perhaps.

On Parilli's faking talents, Zipp Newman of the Birmingham News wrote after Kentucky had jumped all over Mississippi State, 48-21:

"Babe Parilli, 28,000 said he was wonderful, too, but how do they know when they couldn't see what he was doing . . . Miss. State was rated the best defensive team in college football just before the passes fell out of Kentucky, driving the Maroons' secondary defense as dizzy as the crowd that tried to follow the ball the officials guaranteed Parilli had — but you couldn't prove it."

Speaking of former college greats in the South he wrote:

"Dixie Howell was great. Harry Gilmer was a wizard. Billy Spears wonderful, but this Babe Parilli, faking around with a football, is the Eighth Wonder of the World . . . He could take an elephant out on the field and told it was a football, hide it."

It would only be natural for Kentuckians to be high on Parilli. But what do others think about Babe? Here are some answers:

Slick Morton, Mississippi State Coach — "Babe Parilli is the greatest faker I've ever seen. It's awfully hard to set up a defense against him."

Johnny Vaught, Mississippi Coach — "The best quarterback in the business, bar none, including the pros."

Sid Gillman, University of Cincinnati Coach — "In Parilli we saw one of the finest quarterbacks in the history of the game."

Barney Poole, Ole Miss End Coach — "He's the best I've ever seen in college."

Gen. Robert Neyland, Tennessee Coach: "We regard Parilli as the best passer in the country."

David Bloom, Memphis Commercial Appeal — "With T-quarterbacking, the fakes are the thing . . . Parilli carries this past credibility. Just where and how he hides the ball is mystery enough, but to baffle people further, he's always doing something with his hands well after the ball has been disposed of. As a consequence, the opposition mills around in utter confusion."

Walter Stewart, Memphis Commercial-Appeal: "His mastery with the ball took the breath away and held it prisoner. He faked so superbly that the Tiger (LSU) line made a practice of tackling the wrong victim."

Gene Kessler, Chicago Sun-Times: "Bryant has the best T-quarterback in college football — Babe Parilli."

Ed Danforth, Atlanta Journal: "Vito Parilli is one of the best T-quarterbacks in the country, if not the peer of them all, in passing and handling the ball."

F. M. Williams, Nashville Tennessean: "Here in the Blue Grass of Kentucky, the name of Babe Parilli is on its way to the hallowed halls of athletic fame previously reserved for Man O'War, Twenty Grand. . ."

Al Wesson, secretary, Southern California Football Writers Assn.: "If all the All-America football pickers don't take a good look at that boy (Parilli) before they make their selections they might be missing their best bet . . . I've been looking at the best professional quarterbacks in the business and Parilli looks as though he has all the natural ability and finesse to join their ranks."

Morris McLemore, Miami Daily News: "Parilli's the most improved player I've seen this year (1950). He was sharp as crisp lettuce."

Zipp Newman, Birmingham News: "Parilli could take an elephant out on the field and, told it was a football, hide it."

Bill Corum, New York Journal-American: "I doubt if there is a better college quarterback and passer in the country today than Babe Parilli."

Will Grimsley, New York Associated Press: "The Wildcats have one of the country's great passers in Babe Parilli."

Bill Fay, Collier's: "Parilli did everything a T-formation quarterback could do — and a little more."

In the "Quarterback Derby," Parilli has been setting a sizzling pace. It's up to the others to catch the number one citizen of the football world.

KENTUCKY'S COLORS

The blue and white of the University of Kentucky are known to sports fans everywhere. Officially the colors are Yale blue and white, but in the beginning, when the Lexington institution was still known as the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Kentucky, the colors were "Stoll Blue" and white. One day back in the 1890's a group of Kentucky football stalwarts met to choose their school colors. Someone suggested blue and white—"blue like Dick Stoll's necktie"—and those colors were immediately adopted. "Dick" Stoll was to become Judge Richard C. Stoll, distinguished public servant and, for more than fifty years before his death, a member of the U.K. board of trustees.

ENDS

BOB FRY — Junior — 6-4 — 200 — 21 — Cincinnati, Ohio . . . A very promising performer who should get one of the first calls to replace starting flankmen lost by graduation . . . Saw extensive reserve service on both offense and defense last season . . . Played as halfback four years at Elder High in Queen City.

JIM PROFFITT — Sophomore — 6-2 — 200 — 19 — Louisville, Ky. . . . Big and fast with determination and fight, Proffitt has the qualities needed to star . . . He's a likely starter at right end . . . Graduate of DuPont Manual High in Louisville where he played end.

STEVE MEILINGER — Sophomore — 6-2 — 210 — 19 — Bethlehem, Pa. A top flight flank prospect, Steve is quick and aggressive and looks like an offensive starter barring a letdown in his desire to play . . . Principal target for Parilli passes in Spring intra-squad game . . . Captain All-State team in Pennsylvania in 1949.

TED KIRN — Sophomore — 6-1 — 180 — 19 — Louisville, Ky. . . . Played end and fullback at Louisville Male High and was a defensive line-backer on U.K. freshmen team last year . . . Expected to see considerable reserve duty this year.

SAM PETROVICH — Sophomore — 6-1 — 175 — 19 — Weirton, W. Va. . . . Hails from the same hometown as the graduated All-America tackle Bob Gain . . . Developed by Coach Carl Hamill at Weir High . . . Considered good pass snatcher but needs experience under game conditions . . .

PAUL JONES — Senior — 5-11 — 175 — 25 — Corbin, Ky. . . . Candidate for end but may be shifted to strengthen another position . . . Lettered in '49 and served as reserve quarterback last season . . . Has played half-back and fullback . . . Coxswain in Navy during World War II . . . Studying Educational Administration.

DON BINGHAM — Sophomore — 6-0 — 180 — 19 — Harlan, Ky. . . . Quick and aggressive . . . Has desire but needs seasoning . . . Honorable mention All-State two years at Hall High in Gray's Knob, Ky. . . . Earned freshman numeral as end last season.

NEIL CARROTHERS — Sophomore — 6-3 — 190 — 19 — Chicago, Ill. . . . Played at the flank position three years at Fenwick High in Oak Park, Ill. . . . End on UK freshman team last season . . . Tough, aggressive and has determination to play

OWEN RUDD — Sophomore — 6-1 — 180 — 22 — Madisonville, Ky. . . .
Converted to end on UK freshman team last season . . . Played center in high school football and captained school teams in baseball and basketball . . . Made second team All-Navy at Marine Base, N. C., while in service with Marines three years.

DICK NARVEZ — Junior — 6-0 — 200 — 20 — Seaside, Calif. . . .
Transfer from Monterey (Calif.) Junior College . . . Considered excellent prospect as flankman . . . Alert and aggressive and goes full speed at all times . . . Should see plenty of action this fall.

CHARLES LANCASTER — Freshman — 6-0 — 175 — 20 — LaGrange, Ga. . . . Showed up well in spring drills . . . Has potentialities of developing into a fine player with seasoning under game conditions
. . . May see some action this year in relief roles.

JESSE HOCKER — Freshman — 6-0 — 180 — 19 — Stanford, Ky. . . .
Looked like a good prospect in spring training . . . Has speed and capabilities of becoming future star . . . Captained high school football and cage teams and received honorable mention All-State selection in both sports.

HARRY KIRK — Freshman — 6-4 — 190 — 18 — Mt. Sterling, Ky. . . .
Another fine prospect from among fast-improving corps of talented Kentucky gridders . . . He's big and aggressive with all necessary qualities to develop into future great.

DICK WITSKIN — Freshman — 6-1 — 200 — 17 — Cincinnati, Ohio . . .
Considered by Coach Bryant to be excellent prospect for flank duty . . .
Made All-Greater Cincinnati team as an outstanding prep star . . .
Experience should make him a top-flight player.

JIM MACKENZIE — Senior — 6-1 — 220 — 21 — Gary, Ind. . . .
Graduation of last season's offensive starters may put a double load on MacKenzie this year . . . He had an outstanding campaign in '50 as defensive right tackle . . . Big, fast, rough and strong, Mac should give opponents a lot of headaches this fall . . . Has the ability to become great performer . . . He was an All-Conference tackle at Lew Wallace High in Gary . . . Veteran of Orange and Sugar Bowl games.

JOHN NETOSKIE — Senior — 6-0 — 193 — 21 — New Kensington, Pa.
. . . . Converted from defensive end, Netoskie shows promise of developing into the team's top offensive tackle . . . Has played on two UK bowl teams — Orange in '50 and Sugar in '51 . . . His interception of Miami pass and 80 runback to TD in final game of 1949 season cinched Kentucky's first major post season bowl bid . . . He was a halfback in high school.

CHET LUKAWSKI — Junior — 6-0 — 190 — 21 — East Chicago, Ind. . . . Lost in the shuffle of a wealth of good tackles last season, "Luke" should come into his own this year and provide needed strength in the forward wall . . . He was All-State at Roosevelt High, a hotbed of football talent, in 1947 . . . He's majoring in personnel management.

CALVIN SMITH — Sophomore — 6-3 — 220 — 21 — Barbourville, Ky. . . . Outstanding as All-State tackle in high school . . . Big and hard charging, he should develop into top notch tackle . . . Probably will play considerable defense . . . Physical Education major.

JIM MONTGOMERY — Sophomore — 6-2 — 220 — 18 — Olney, Ill. . . . Gave indications of becoming good offensive tackle in Spring drills . . . Has determination to play, but needs seasoning . . . One of few Illinois boys on squad.

DON WEAVER — Sophomore — 6-3 — 210 — 20 — Pleasantville, N. J. . . . With a little experience this season, he should strengthen the right side of the line considerably . . . Expected to see extensive reserve duty . . . He's big and rugged with lots of natural ability.

TOM HARPER — Sophomore — 6-3 — 220 — 21 — Madisonville, Ky. . . . A good bet to play regularly after this season . . . He was a tackle four years in high school, All-Conference and honorable mention All-State three years.

JERRY HEMLEPP — Sophomore — 6-3 — 215 — 22 — Ashland, Ky. . . . Inexperience will be a handicap, but he should come along well this season . . . Has determination and ability to play . . . Served as enlisted man with occupation forces in Europe two years.

GEORGE CLAIBORNE — Senior — 6-1 — 195 — 23 — Hopkinsville, Ky. . . . Withdrew in 1948 after playing with the Wildcats . . . Returned this year for final year of eligibility . . . All-State two years in high school . . . Brother of Jerry Claiborne, star safetyman on '49 UK Orange Bowl team.

NUNZIO REHM — Freshman — 6-2 — 225 — 18 — Altoona, Pa. . . . One of the hottest tackle prospects since Bob Gain . . . He's big, aggressive, strong and fast . . . Coach Bryant is really counting on this boy for help this year . . . He was All-State in talent-laden Pennsylvania.

BILL DAWSON — Freshman — 6-3 — 215 — 18 — Shelbyville, Ky. . . . Needs plenty of seasoning under expert coaching and varsity action . . . Should develop into fine tackle by next year . . . Has lots of competitive spirit and the necessary desire to make good.

GUARDS

GENE DONALDSON — Junior — 5-9 — 202 — 21 — East Chicago, Ind. . . . One of the finest guards ever to enroll at Kentucky . . . Considered by Coach Bryant to be most improved player on squad . . . Looked like second best football player in camp during spring practice . . . Bryant says if he plays like he's capable of he will be a great performer and certain All-American . . . At Roosevelt High in E. Chicago he was three times All-State, each year at a different position (1946 as a tackle, 1947 at fullback and 1948 at guard), and also was undefeated state high school light heavy and heavyweight wrestling champion for three consecutive years . . . "Peanuts" thrives on hard work and plays best when the going is the roughest . . . Lettered in '50 as starting offensive left guard . . . Watch this boy — a potential All-American.

JOHN IGNARSKI — Senior — 6-0 — 202 — 21 — South Milwaukee, Wis. . . . Regular on two bowl teams as an offensive right guard, John is one of the under-rated steady, dependable performers forming the hard core necessary to a winning aggregation . . . He's strong in the shoulders, arms, legs and back and smart besides . . . Expected to show up extremely well under the pressure of a final season . . . Also outstanding as shot-putter on the track team . . . All-State at S. Milwaukee High . . . Captained All-State team and all-star squad in Milwaukee North-South game in 1946.

JOHN BALDWIN — Junior — 6-1 — 200 — 21 — Madisonville, Ky. . . . Earned his letter on the Sugar Bowl team of '50 as a relief man . . . Inexperience held him back last year, but he's being counted on to provide considerable help this season at the weakened guard posts . . . Probably will see most action on defense . . . He was All-Western Kentucky Conference tackle in 1947 while at Madisonville High.

NEIL LOWRY — Sophomore — 6-0 — 185 — 19 — Youngstown, Ohio . . . Certain to be pushing regulars for a prominent role in '51 campaign plans . . . Looked like a real comer in spring practice . . . Co-Captain and All-City while attending Ursuline High in Youngstown.

RAY CORRELL — Sophomore — 6-1 — 190 — 20 — Somerset, Ky. . . . Considered capable of becoming a regular and may come through this season . . . Played guard as a U.K. freshman and was an honorable mention All-State selection at Somerset High . . . Infantry veteran of World War II.

BILL CONDE — Senior — 5-11 — 190 — 25 — Charleston, W. Va. . . . Veteran of four seasons with the Wildcats . . . Has seen extensive reserve duty and aided the Kentucky cause materially for the past two years to earn letters . . . One of three married men on squad . . . Served as Seaman 1/c with Navy amphibious force in European Theater during last war.

DON DYER — Sophomore — 6-2 — 190 — 21 — Morristown, Tenn. . . . With a little experience, "D.D." should prove extremely helpful to Coach Bryant's plans . . . Has fine competitive spirit under outward calm appearance . . . Played end and center as U.K. freshman . . . All-East Tennessee in high school.

BILL HALL — Sophomore — 6-0 — 182 — 19 — Paris, Ky. . . . Came to Kentucky with high recommendations and has shown promise of developing into a regular with the benefit of experience under game conditions . . . Honorable mention All-State in '49 and captain Paris High team.

BOB TRIVITS — Sophomore — 5-9 — 180 — 19 — Stanton, Del. . . . An All-State performer at Conrad High in Wilmington . . . Showed good potentialities while playing guard as U.K. freshman last season . . . Experience should turn him into top contender for a starting role in '52.

BILL SPICER — Freshman — 5-10 — 210 — 19 — Irvine, Ky. . . . Sturdy and dependable performer under fire . . . Good blocker . . . Quick and aggressive when it counts . . . Should see considerable relief duty despite inexperience . . . Coach Bryant lists him as one of a "baker's dozen" freshman he's counting on for the varsity.

DICK SCHAEFFER — Freshman — 6-1 — 195 — 18 — Pittsburg, Pa. . . . Fast and rugged, Dick has necessary qualities to develop into the kind of guard Bryant's teams are becoming noted for . . . Comes highly recommended from good high school background . . . Should see varsity action in spite of lack of experience.

JACK APPEL — Freshman — 6-1 — 195 — 17 — Portsmouth, Ohio . . . Could prove best of the lot in the yearling crop of guards . . . He's being counted on by Bryant for some varsity duty this year . . . All-State as a schoolboy performer . . . Considered terrific prospect.

DOUG MOSELEY — Senior — 6-1 — 200 — 24 — Luverne, Ala. . . . Co-Captain of the 1951 Wildcats . . . Virtual unanimous choice as All-American and All-Conference in pre-season polls by national magazines and newspapers.

An active 200-pounder who can block smartly on offense and back up the line with equal effectiveness, "Mose" has had two seasons of first-string varsity experience and is being counted upon heavily by Coach Bryant in defense of the Wildcats' Sugar Bowl and Southeastern Conference championships. This year Doug is scheduled to perform double duty, as offensive center and defensive linebacker. In 1949 he was the team's regular offensive center and last season played virtually exclusively on defense.

Moseley is older than most college grid performers, being 24, and is probably more mature than many due to the sobering experience of two years as an Army private in the Pacific Theater.

At Luverne, Ala., High in his hometown, Doug was a prize all-around athlete. He played in the fullback slot and was an all-state selection in his final year. Entering Kentucky in 1948, he was immediately converted into a center principally because of his size and proven line-backing abilities. He became a prize rookie in his sophomore season as he filled in very capably at the center slot on offense in Bryant's first real trial of two-platoon-system football at Kentucky. As a junior last year, he switched back to defense to fill an important gap in one of the toughest lines in college football.

Moseley is not a spectacular, crowd-pleasing showman type of player, but he is looked on as "money in the bank" by Bryant and other coaches of Southeastern clubs who named him as a probable All-Conference choice in a pre-season poll who place more value on his unassuming temperment, steady dependability and near-flawless play.

With such personal qualities, an abundance of talent and valuable experience of a varied nature behind him, Doug Moseley should capture a lot of attention this season and prove one of the country's leading "dark horse" All-America candidates.

TOMMY ADKINS — Sophomore — 6-0 — 185 — 18 — Corbin, Ky. . . . Considered as one of team's top sophomore hopefuls . . . Expected to see extensive varsity action as linebacker and possibly will be sued also at offensive guard . . . Second team All-State in '49 and runner-up in outstanding player poll at Kentucky East-West All-Star Game . . . Played center as U.K. freshman.

JOHN GRIGGS — Junior — 6-2 — 195 — 20 — Morganfield, Ky. . . . Switched from end to center, Griggs looks like a real comer at his new position . . . Coach Bryant confidently expects him to develop into an outstanding player . . . Earned a letter last year as reserve end and played end as U.K. freshman . . . Performed at a flank position and at fullback in high school.

FRANK FULLER — Junior — 6-4 — 210 — 22 — DuBois, Pa. . . . Converted from a tackle to offensive center . . . He's rangy and fast and a good blocker . . . Should see a lot of action as relief man this season . . . Made the All-County team as a tackle on DuBois High team and played same position as a U.K. freshman.

JIM CRACE — Sophomore — 6-0 — 190 — 21 Catlettsburg, Ky. . . . should develop into mature star with varsity experience . . . Outstanding as a high school performer . . . Honorable mention All-State two years and outstanding player in Eastern Kentucky Conference in '49 . . . Captained high school team two seasons.

JOHN SMYTON — Sophomore — 6-0 — 190 — 19 — Bridgeton, N. J. . . . Has plenty of hustle needed to give competition a close race for primary relief roles . . . Needs experience under game conditions to develop . . . Played center as U.K. freshman.

FRANK JURGENS — Sophomore — 6-3 — 220 — 19 — Newport, Ky. . . . Transferred from tackle to center in attempt to better use his talents . . . He's second biggest man at this position . . . Should see considerable varsity action in relief roles while gaining experience . . . Played tackle as U.K. freshman.

RALPH PHILLIPS — Freshman — 6-0 — 200 — 19 — Alexandria, Va. . . . One of the few top-flight freshmen being really counted on for varsity duty by Coach Bryant . . . Outstanding as high school athlete . . . Considered excellent prospect . . . Needs game experience to develop into future star.

QUARTERBACKS

VITO PARILLI — Senior — 6-1 — 188 — 22 — Rochester, Pa. . . . Co-Captain of the Wildcats for 1951 . . . All-America and outstanding player in Southeastern Conference in 1950 . . . SEE STORY ON "THE KENTUCKY BABE" ELSEWHERE IN THIS BOOK.

BILL FARLEY — Junior — 5-11 — 175 — 21 — Charleston, W. Va. . . . Fills the most important position of number one replacement for Parilli . . . An ace passer and signal caller in his own right . . . With experience under fire gained last season, he should be the best number two quarterback in the South this year . . . Opponents can't let down when Farley's in there . . . Played three years at quarterback for Stonewall Jackson High in Charleston and captained southern squad in high school North-South game of '48.

HERB HUNT — Sophomore — 6-1 — 160 — 20 — Mayfield, Ky. . . . A talented performer who has shown considerable promise of developing into top flight field general . . . Lacks experience under game conditions . . . Should see extensive action in relief roles this season . . . Played QB four years at Mayfield High and has a season's experience directing the U.K. freshman team.

ROY SMITH — Sophomore — 5-10 — 165 — 20 — Deming, N. Mex. . . . Highly talented passer and runner . . . Starred with U.K. freshman team last season . . . Will seek experience and improvement enough this season to replace Babe Parilli in '52 . . . All-State as halfback-quarterback in New Mexico . . . Studying Engineering.

CHUCK PHILLIPPI — Sophomore — 6-1 — 170 — 21 — Somerset, Ky. . . . Has lots of ability and determination to succeed . . . Looked good in spring drills . . . Could be a real comer with experience under game conditions . . . Played quarterback at Somerset High and as U.K. freshman . . . Majoring in Engineering.

MILES WILLARD — Sophomore — 6-0 — 160 — 19 — Vandergrift, Pa. . . . All-around athlete in high school . . . Starred in baseball and basketball as well as grid sport . . . Played halfback and quarterback in high school and as U.K. freshman . . . Experience this season should make him a real threat.

RUDY MATTIOLI — Freshman — 6-1 — 185 — 18 — Brackenridge, Pa. . . . All-State in football two years in tough Pennsylvania league . . . Considered excellent prospect for replacement after Parilli graduates . . . Looks a lot like Babe and has lot in common with the Cats' All-America flinger, including Italian ancestry . . . Coach Bryant is counting on this boy to develop this season . . . Has real potentialities.

BOB HARDY — Freshman — 6-1 — 175 — 18 — Paducah, Ky. . . . All-State last season . . . Coach Bryant is looking for help this season from Hardy and expects fine things from him as he ages with experience . . . Has determination to overcome handicap of talented competition.

HALFBACKS

ED HAMILTON — Senior — 5-11 — 171 — 21 — Louisville, Ky. . . . Handicapped to some extent by injuries as a freshman and sophomore, "Ham" came into his own last year to materially help the Wildcat cause . . . Played first string defensive left half and earned second letter . . . Expected to see more offensive action this season . . . Coach Bryant calls him the best pass receiver on the team and has tentatively pegged him for duty as starting right half.

EMERY CLARK — Senior — 5-9 — 162 — 21 — Carlisle, Ky. . . . Saw mostly limited duty last season due to injured knee . . . Should be ready to resume full-speed action this year at left half . . . Great things have been expected of him since fine showing as a sophomore . . . Had an average gain rushing of 4.8 yards per try last year . . . Two letter winner . . . Excellent broken field runner and punt return man . . . Majoring in Agriculture.

CLIFF LAWSON — Senior — 6-0 — 174 — 20 — Pocahontas, Ark. . . . Light but speedy and shifty runner . . . "Buck," as he's known to teammates, was tried at fullback early last season but shifted back to halfback slot and can be expected to fight to stay there this season . . . Should push Hamilton for starting assignment at right half . . . Has earned letters last two seasons . . . Also track star.

HARRY AND LARRY JONES — Juniors — 5-10 — 152 — 20 — Louisville, Ky. . . . One of the few identical twin combinations operating in collegiate football . . . Teammates and coaches can't tell them apart generally and call both by nickname "Bub" . . . Even their parents are confused on correct identities from a distance . . . Both earned letter last season as front line reserve halfbacks . . . Bryant uses them in double safety to confuse opposition . . . Harry, first born of the twin duo, wear 1A on his jersey while brother Larry carries 1B in the best tradition of the Bluegrass horse country practice of so numbering two entries from the same stable in a horse race.

RALPH PATRICK — Sophomore — 5-10 — 175 — 19 — Weirton, W. Va. . . . Another good product of Coach Carl Hamill at Weir High . . . All-State halfback in '49 . . . Also made All-Valley and All-Northern teams in talented grid section . . . He's fast, capable and determined . . . Only experience seems to be holding him back . . . Should develop into real comer this season . . . Bryant is counting on him . . . Looked good in spring practice.

LOUIS KARIBO — Sophomore — 5-8 — 150 — 19 — Louisville, Ky. . . . Should provide plenty of competition in reserve role at left half . . . Played halfback three years at Louisville Flaget High . . . Looked good in same position as U.K. freshman and in spring practice . . . Averaged five yards per try in four rushes in spring intra-squad game . . . Shifty, powerful and fast . . . Could provide plenty of help.

HAROLD GRUNER — Sophomore — 5-10 — 165 — 21 — Louisville, Ky. Captain All-State team in '48 and '49 . . . All-Southern and outstanding player in Kentucky same years . . . With experience, he should develop into fine performer . . . Hard runner and has potentialities of being top contender for starting role . . . Nicknamed "Bunky."

DICK MITCHELL — Sophomore — 5-8 — 155 — 20 — Somerset, Ky. . . . Another fine home-state prospect lured to the University . . . All-State in '49 . . . Shows excellent potentialities as runner . . . Carried ball three times in spring intra-squad game for 16 yards . . . Could provide plenty of reserve strength.

BOB HAYDON — Sophomore — 6-0 — 160 — 21 — Springfield, Ky. . . . Captained his high school team and selected on All-State team in 1948 . . . Voted outstanding player of Kentucky All-Star game of same year . . . Looked like a real prospect as a U.K. freshman team halfback last season . . . Expected to go good this year while gaining experience.

JIM BOUDRIE — Sophomore — 6-0 — 170 — 19 — Fort Mitchell, Ky. Looked good as as U.K. frosh halfback . . . Showed determination to succeed as a varsity player . . . Fast and shifty runner . . . Should definitely be helpful in relief roles . . . His father is a Boy Scout field executive.

JIMMY COLVIN — Sophomore — 6-0 — 180 — 19 — Tuscon, Ariz. . . . Attended high school in Cartersville, Ga. . . . Captained All-Regional team and voted most valuable back . . . Did not play on U.K. freshman team . . . Plans to major in Philosophy . . . His father is an operating engineer.

EARL CARTER — Sophomore — 5-11 — 165 — 18 — Louisville, Ky. . . . Graduate of St. Xavier High . . . Considered fine prospect to see regular action by '52 . . . Needs experience under game conditions . . . Flashy and shifty runner . . . Fast.

JOE PLATT — Freshman — 5-10 — 170 — 20 — Kokomo, Ind. . . . Smooth working ball carrier of whom fine things are expected in the future . . . Needs the experience to be gained in reserve action . . . Looks capable and showed promise by carrying four times for 38 yards in spring intra-squad game.

JACK HANLEY — Freshman — 5-9 — 170 — 19 — Hartford, Conn. . . . Captained high school team and made All-State in both 1948 and 1949 . . . Did not play on U.K. freshman team last season . . . Enrolled in time to participate in spring drills . . . Looks to have fine capabilities and should prove helpful with experience.

MAX MASON — Freshman — 6-1 — 195 — 18 — Rockmart, Ga. . . . Comes to U.K. with fabulous high school background . . . One of most sought after prospects in country . . . Captain All-State and All-Southern . . . Played in All-America game . . . Selected by Atlanta Touch-down Club as prep player of year in Georgia last season . . . He's a real triple threat and observers say he reminds one of the great Steve Van Burean . . . Bryant is counting on Mason to see plenty of varsity action this fall.

HUGH BLACK — Freshman — 5-9 — 170 — 18 — Harlan, Ky. . . . One of the state's best backfield prospects in years, according to sportswriters who have seen him in action . . . "Boonie" was the apple of many a scout's eye this spring . . . He's a powerful runner and seems determined to make a place for himself alongside the best of the squad . . . May see considerably varsity action despite inexperience.

HARLAN SILLIMAN — Freshman — 5-11 — 170 — 18 — Buechel, Ky. . . . His schoolboy exploits on the cinder paths nearly overshadowed his gridiron prowess . . . State champion in several track events . . . Star of St. Xavier of Louisville . . . Considered top flight prospect to see varsity grid action this season with the Wildcats . . .

FULLBACKS

BILL LESKOVAR — Senior — 6-2 — 195 — 23 — Fairmont, W. Va.— Looked great again in spring practice and could be the key to unexpected offensive potency in the important fullback slot if he comes through without re-injury . . . Handicapped by injuries numerous times since he came to U.K. as a much-heralded All-State back . . . Started out like a house afire last season . . . Player of Week after L.S.U. game . . . Suffered slight concussion in the Mississippi game following week and never regained top form . . . Early season gains kept him in top spot among team's ground attack leaders with final 5.7 yards per try average . . . He's big question mark and, if he's ready and able, can provide opponents with a lot of headaches.

TOM FILLION — Sophomore — 6-0 — 176 — 21 — Owensboro, Ky. . . . Hardest runner on the field during spring practice . . . If he keeps up the "old college try" drive something or somebody will have to move to make way for a future star . . . He was All-State and All-Southern and state's outstanding player in high school . . . Played halfback as U.K. freshman . . . Plans to follow Geological Engineering profession after graduation.

ALLEN BUCKNER — Sophomore — 6-0 — 185 — 21 — Winchester, Ky. . . . Shifted to the backfield from center position . . . Played fullback as U.K. freshman . . . All-State and member of Kentucky All-Star football team in high school . . . He's smart, eager and determined to play top flight ball.

DON LANGSTON — Freshman — 6-0 — 190 — 18 — Lexington, Ky. . . . A home town boy who is being counted on by Coach Bryant to fill an important role as relief fullback this year . . . He's big and aggressive . . . Hard runner . . . Should develop into fine player with seasoning under game conditions.

Facts About Tennessee Tech

Location — Cookeville, Tenn.	Conference — Ohio Valley
Nickname — Eagles	Colors — Purple and Gold
Coach — Star Wood (Milligan '34)	Publicitor — Sid McGee

Series History and Information

A "T-formation" team meeting Kentucky for the first time, TPI will offer a test of the condition of UK's re-built football machine the week before their major inter-sectional clash with Texas. The Eagles for the last four years have met University of Tennessee and last fall held the mighty Vols to a 27-14 halftime lead before succumbing by a five-touchdown final margin. Star of the Tech team is Little All America end Flavious Smith, recipient of the two TD passes scored by TPI in the Vol game.

Facts About Texas U.

Location — Austin, Texas	Conference — Southwest
Nickname — Longhorns	Colors — Orange and White
Coach — Ed Price (Texas '33)	Publicitor — Wilbur Evans

Series History and Information

Defending Southwest Conference champions and surprise losers to Tennessee in the Cotton Bowl, the Longhorns this season will be working under a new coach and employing a different offensive system (split-T). But rivals expect Texas to be extremely dangerous again with a large nucleus of fine veterans returning, including a number of exceptional backs like Bryon Townsend, the best short yardage carrier in

Facts About Georgia Tech

Location — Atlanta, Ga. Conference — Southeastern
 Nickname — Yellow Jackets Colors — White and Gold
 Coach — Bobby Dodd (Tenn. '31) Publicitor — Jack Jackson

Series History and Information

Reports out of the Deep South have it that the amazing Mr. Bobby Dodd is hard pressed to field a team of second-division calibre due primarily to the absence of a top flight quarterback and passer. But the same grapevine adds the sobering note that the Jackets have a bevy of good running backs and a forward wall boasting a lot of football savvy and experience. If the never-to-be-underestimated Mr. Dodd suddenly develops a passer, Tech could just as suddenly become a very dangerous aggregation. More razzle-dazzle appears in store for opponents since Dodd has switched to the split-T attack this year. The visit to Lexington will be the first since 1937 for Georgia Tech.

Facts About Mississippi State

Location — State College, Miss. Conference — Southeastern (Starkville)

Nickname — Maroons Colors — Maroon and White

Coach — Arthur (Slick) Morton Publicitor — Bob Hartley

Series History and Information

Gridiron relations with Mississippi State (formerly Miss. A & M) began before World War, on Oct. 17, 1914, but only six games have been played in the series resumed last season after a six-year lapse. Surprise conquerors of Tennessee last year, the Maroons have 23 lettermen returning and may prove a factor to be seriously reckoned with in the SEC race.

Facts About Villanova

Location – Villanova, Pa.

Conference – Independent

Nickname – Wildcats

Colors – Blue and White

Coach – James Leonard (Notre Dame '34)

Publicitor – Eugene Ruane

Series History and Information

The Pennsylvania-brand Wildcats lost their entire first string back-field by graduation, but there is a scattering of good veterans back to form a strong front line and a large group of sophomores labeled "green but potentially good." Coach Leonard should have his team rolling by mid-season when he hits Kentucky's Wildcats. The two teams will be continuing a rivalry that began with the Great Lakes Bowl game in Cleveland in 1947, U.K.'s first bowl visit and initial post-season victory.

Facts About Florida

Location – Gainesville, Fla.

Conference – Southeastern

Nickname – 'Gators

Colors – Orange and Blue

Coach – Bob Woodruff (Tenn. '39)

Publicitor – Joe Sherman

Series History and Information

The Kentucky-Florida series is an old one, but comparatively few games have been played in the 34 years since the initial contest in 1917. Two gaps in the record of approximately 10 years each account for the fact that the series stands at a total of only ten games. The Gators are in the midst of an awesome building program designed to throw off the shackles of defeatism in much the same way that Kentucky got out of the cellar a few years back. With some very capable personnel back this year, headed by aerial ace Haywood Sullivan, they can not be counted out as a dark horse prospect in the conference race.

Facts About Miami U.

Location — Coral Gables, Fla.

Conference — None

Nickname — Hurricanes

Colors — Orange, Green, White

Coach — Andy Gustafson (Pitt. '26)

Publicitor — George Gallett and Wilbert Bach

Series History and Information

One of the most recent and most interesting rivalries on the Kentucky schedule, the Sunshine State Hurricanes have met U.K.'s Wildcats twice. It was a decisive 21-6 victory over Miami in the final game of the '49 season that won Kentucky its first major post season bowl bid to the Orange Bowl. Coach Gustafson reportedly will field a stronger team this season than the outfit which lost by one point (15 to 14) to Clemson in the 1951 Orange Bowl game. The Hurricanes, undefeated in regular season play in '50, are slated to get a lot of help from last year's freshmen, rated the best in the history of the school, and could easily be a sleeper nationally. The game will mark Miami's first Lexington visit.

Facts About Tulane

Location — New Orleans, La.	Conference — Southeastern
Nickname — Green Wave	Colors — Green and Sky Blue
Coach — Henry Frnka (Austin Coll. '26)	Publicitor — Andy Rogers

Series History and Information

The Kentucky-Tulane grid series dates back to a contest played in Lexington Oct. 29, 1910, which the Wildcats annexed by a 10 to 3 margin. No further games were carded in the rivalry until 1932 and then the Wave was a regular opponent each year until 1935, when the series was interrupted. Tulane should be suffering from inexperience and losses that were second only to Kentucky in number, but SEC coaches in their pre-season poll tipped the Orleanians to finish fourth in the conference — right behind Kentucky. This year's game will be played in the Sugar Bowl, also Tulane Stadium, scene of the Wildcats' greatest gridiron triumph as they eclipsed mighty Oklahoma in the 1951 renewal of the annual classic.

Facts About George Washington U.

Location — Washington, D.C.	Conference — Southern
Nickname — Colonials	Colors — Buff and Blue
Coach — John Rowland (Vanderbilt '24)	Publicitor — Tom Coleman

Series History and Information

Kentucky and George Washington have met twice before on the gridiron, the first game of which was played in Lexington Oct. 19, 1940, and won by the Wildcats 24 to 0. The only other tilt (1942) was played in the nation's capital and resulted in a Kentucky victory 27 to 6. Coach Rowland expects to field his best post-war team this season built around "Handy Andy" Davis, a triple threat back.

Series History and Information

One of the oldest football rivalries in the South, the Kentucky Tennessee grid history goes back to the 1893 season. The ancient and hotly-contested series got off to an auspicious start in those early days as old Kentucky University walloped the Volunteers 56-0 — a margin of victory which has never been equalled in the 45 games played in the 58 years since that initial game. The Wildcats and Vols have met continuously since 1906, except for three war years (1917-18 and 1943). In the 46 meetings thus far, Tennessee has gained an advantage of 28 victories against Kentucky's 11 wins and seven ties. Neyland boasts the distinction of never having been defeated by a Kentucky team, but the five Bryant-coached aggregations have come nearer to breaking that record than any Wildcat squad in recent years — holding the Vols to a scoreless deadlock in 1948 and succumbing by mere one-touchdown margins in 1946-47-49-50. Last season's "Refrigerator Bowl" contest, played in near-zero temperatures, ended in a one touchdown victory for the Vols but failed to knock Kentucky out of their first SEC championship and Sugar Bowl bid. The Vols went on to the Cotton Bowl and edged Texas 20 to 14.

Pre-season forecasts pinpoint Tennessee as national championship calibre with thundering power based solidly on depth throughout the squad, experience to burn, and confidence galore. Losses were few and replacements are exceptionally gifted. Among those still in the fold are tailback Hank Lauricalla, fullback Andy Kozar, halfback Bert Rechichar. The Vols are likely to find themselves cast in the favorite's role again and they probably won't like it for the reason that the Wildcats have generally played their best as the underdog. The game will capture national attention as the Cats and Vols, traditional rivals and both bowl champions, battle in a contest that could decide whether Kentucky can capture its second straight conference title.

1950 Record — Won 11, Lost 1 (Includes Bowl). Conference Standing — Second.

STOLL FIELD — McLEAN STADIUM

Much confusion among the general public and the sports-writing fraternity apparently exists over a seeming duplication of titles in referring to the University of Kentucky's football setup along "Avenue of Champions."

Officially, by action of the University Board of Trustees, the general area encompassing the playing field is known as "Stoll Field." Likewise, by authority of the same body, the stadium proper is known as "McLean Stadium."

Kentucky's first football field, occupying the general site of what is now the practice field west of the stadium, was first given a name when it was dedicated on October 14, 1916, as Stoll Field in honor of the late Judge Richard C. Stoll, prominent alumnus, trustee and benefactor of the University of Kentucky. Soon after the first sections of the present concrete stadium were completed on September 4, 1924, the new field site and stadium were likewise officially known as Stoll Field.

The first attraction to be held on the new Stoll Field was a football game with the University of Louisville on October 4, 1924. A gridiron clash between Kentucky and the then-powerful Centre College team was the first game played in the fully-completed stadium on November 1, 1924.

The later reference to the concrete stands as "McLean Stadium" has existed since November 1, 1924, when the stadium was officially dedicated in memory of Price Innes McLean and a bronze plaque placed in the south stands by the Class of 1925. McLean, regular center on the 1923 Kentucky football squad, died November 7, 1923, as the result of injuries sustained in the U.K.-Cincinnati game played in the Queen City the afternoon before.

Major expansions of McLean Stadium in 1948 and 1949 have resulted in a current over-all seating capacity of better than 36,000 — more than double the number of seats available when Coach Bryant assumed the head coaching duties in 1946.

"Avenue of Champions" came into being in the spring of 1950 as an honorary title for that stretch of Euclid Avenue running between the University's $4,000,000 Memorial Coliseum (home of Baron Rupp's national cage champions) and McLean Stadium (stamping grounds of Bear Bryant's Sugar Bowl grid champions). The street was officially re-named by the City of Lexington in recognition of the UK athletic teams' unprecented success of last season in annexing the Southeastern Conference titles in both football and basketball and their national championships in the Sugar Bowl grid game and the NCAA cage tournament.

The University of Kentucky

Located in Lexington, an urban community of 75,000 population, UK is a state supported institution which operates under the direction of the Board of Trustees. Membership of this Board includes the Governor, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and the Commissioner of Agriculture, ex officio, and twelve members appointed by the Governor, three of whom are alumni of the University and three members of the State Board of Agriculture. It is one of a number of institutions known as land-grant colleges, which were established by the Morrill Act of 1862, and which will continue to receive federal assistance under the provisions.

The University is on the approved list of the Association of American Universities, and is a member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and the Kentucky Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. It is accredited in its respective colleges or departments by the Association of American Law Schools, the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business, the American Association of Schools and Departments of Journalism, the American Library Association, the National Association of Schools of Music, and the Engineers' Council for Professional Development.

The major function of the University is that of instruction. For the performance of this function it is organized into the College of Arts and Sciences, the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, the College of Engineering, the College of Law, the College of Education, the College of Commerce, the Graduate School, a College of Pharmacy, located at Louisville, and a Northern Kentucky Extension Center at Covington.

In addition to giving instruction to its student body, the University contributes to the welfare of the state through research, experimentation, and public service. While all departments make important contributions along these lines, certain divisions and bureaus have been established specifically for these purposes.

The University began as a part of Kentucky University under a cooperative plan authorized by the legislature in 1865. The purpose of this plan was to unite sectarian and public education under one organization. This experiment was tried for a number of years. In the meantime, the Federal funds authorized under the Morrill Act were used to develop agriculture and mechanical arts in Kentucky University. In 1878, when the people of Kentucky decided to establish a state institution of higher learning, the College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts was separated from Kentucky University and reestablished on land given by the City of Lexington and the County of Fayette. Thirty years later the legislature changed the name of the institution to the State University of Kentucky, and gave it additional financial support. In 1916 the name was again changed, this time to the present title, and additional maintenance was arranged by legislative act.

SUGAR BOWL

(New Orleans, La.)

Jan. 1	Oklahoma U.	13	7

Footnote A — Although numerical scoring had not yet been introduced in Rugby football, either here or in Great Britain, when Kentucky and Transylvania (then known as Kentucky University) played their series in 1881, persons in charge of the games obviously had arrived at some sort of agreement assigning numerical values to the various scoring plays. Records never existed and men who played in the games are scattered or dead. All we can do is accept the scores printed in the newspapers — and surmise that a touchdown perhaps counted $\frac{1}{4}$ point and that a goal or an end-kick (a punt into the modern end zone) counted 1. That seems logical, since in the ratio scoring of that day, a touchdown was worth one-quarter of a goal. The end-kick, a British heritage, undoubtedly was introduced because all realized that green players would score few goals, if any.

Footnote B — The football rules took no official position on the score of a forfeited game until 1908 when it was pagged at 1-0 to make it different from any other score possible in the game. By common consent, forfeited games prior to that were entered into the records as victories by 6-0 for the offended team — everywhere, that is, except in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association, predecessor of the Southern Conference and the Southeastern Conference. In the S. I. A. A. the 6-0 practice was followed unless the offended team had a greater number of points. In that case, the offended team won by the greater score to nothing. Thus, Kentucky's forfeiture to Central University in 1900 is 6-0, since Kentucky led by 11-0 at the time. Kentucky led Cumberland by 12-11 in 1905 when the Tennesseans forfeited. The Blue and White, under S. I. A. A. rules, gets credit for a 12-0 victory.
