HIGH SCHOOL LADS TO BEGIN BATTLE TODAY

Fight For Kentucky Championship Will Be Held in University Gymnasium Friday and Saturday

DANCE SAT'DAY NIGHT

The Second Annual Tournament of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association will be held in the University of Kentucky gymnasium Friday and Saturday, March 14 and 15. By the games of these two days the championship of High School basketball teams will be decided and a handsome silver loving cup will be given to the winner of the finals in the University tournament.

Louisville High School

Word has been received from Louisville High School, which was to have had one of the strongest teams on the floor, that for various reasons she will be unable to be represented at the tournament. The schools which are to send basketball teams to the contest are Lexington, Paris, Georgetown, Danville, Winchester, Lawrenceburg, Maysville, Shepherdsville and Carrollton.

No Expense to Schools.

The expenses of the teams will be met by the University. The contestants are expected to begin arriving Thursday night and Friday morning, and will be cared for at the different hotels of the city. A drawing will be held Thursday for the purpose of matching the different teams, and arranging the schedule for the tournament. The first game will be played at 10 o'clock Friday morning, and the last is expected to be played Saturday afternoon or night.

Dance For Visitors.

A dance will be given in the Army for the visiting athletes either Saturday afternoon from 4 until 6, or Saturday night from 9 until 11 o'clock. The dance will be held immediately after the last game of the tournament. The management of the dance is in the hands of the "K" men of the University, and tickets may be obtained from them. All members of the visiting teams are to be admitted without charge, and the students of the University will be admitted to the dance for fifty cents.

Tickets From "K" Men

Tickets to the tournament may also be obtained from any "K" man. University students will be allowed to use their season tickets at all of these games, and students of The Lexington High Schools and Transylvania College will be sold season tickets to the tournament for $1.00. Season tickets to outsiders will be $1.50, and admission to each game will be fifty cents.

HOT SCHEDULE ARRANGED FOR VARSITY BASEBALL

Pre-Season Training is Going Good—Candidates Get On Diamond For First Time

The preliminary training for the 1919 baseball season is now in full swing. Several days of favorable weather have permitted the candidates to familiarize themselves with the diamond on Stoll Field, and to begin loosening up their muscles. Quite a number of candidates have reported, yet Coach Gill says there are not enough, and that everyone who has had any experience at all should come out and help start the season off with plenty of pep. The outlook for a winning team is indeed promising.

Letter Men Candidates

Several letter men are again candidates for the team, and about two score others have reported. The following is a partial list of the candidates and the positions to which they aspire: Catcher, Thomas, Faulconer, Baugh and Kingsland; Pitcher, McClelland, Lasley, Winters, Slomer and Watkins; First Base, Wilkerson, Morris and Marsh; Second Base, Hall, Burnham, Taylor and Pinson; Third Base, Baker and Propps; Shortstop, Zerfoss, Brown and Filbeck; Outfield, McCarty, Brown, Smith, A. ### ARTS AND SCIENCE DEFEAT ENGINEERS

Hayden, Center for A. B. Team, is Easily Star of Inter-Mural Game Score 18 to 9.

A basketball team composed of students from the Arts and Science College defeated a team of Engineers Tuesday afternoon by a score of 18 to 9. A great deal of interest in the game was demonstrated by the students of the two colleges. The two teams have been practicing at the regular "gym hours" and play a brand of basketball that would do credit to some 'varsity teams.

The following were the lineups for the game:

Arts and Science	Engineers.
Seaton, A. E.....F.....	Lewis, A. E.
Mays.....F.....	Baugh
Hayden.....C.....	Lewis, A. D.
Kenny.....G.....	Riley
Wheat, Cameron.G.....	Sauer

Hayden, center for the Arts and Science team, was easily the star of the game. A. E. Lewis, for the Engineers, also played an excellent game.

NEW MILITARY OFFICER REVIEWS U. K. BATTALION

Major Byars, Former Student Here, Appointed as New Professor of Science and Tactics

The first review of the R. O. T. C. was held last Monday morning before Major David O. Byars, who inspected the corps. Major Byars, the new professor of the department of military science and tactics which has lately been introduced into the College of Arts and Science, arrived in Lexington last Friday from Washington, where he was an Inspector General in a staff department.

The major is a Kentuckian by birth and attended the University of Kentucky in 1905, before he received his appointment to West Point. After graduating from West Point in 1910, he was assigned to various regiments in this country and in 1914 was in action at Vera Cruz, for which he wears the Mexican Campaign badge.

He is awaiting the courses which the Committee on Education and Special Training of the General Staff is preparing. These plans are very comprehensive, embracing beginning courses for freshmen and sophomores and advanced courses for Juniors and seniors.

KERNEL NOTICE

To arrange a few conflicts in assignments and to make plans for future Kernel staffs a staff meeting will be held in the Kernel office Tuesday, March 18 at the fifth hour. The presence of every member is necessary.

BIG RED TEAM MAKES WILDCATS "KAMERAD"

Blue and White Net Artists Lose Last Game to Miami By 37 to 14 Score

The basketball season at the University of Kentucky closed last Saturday night with the Miami game, in which the visitors were easy victors. The Big Red team was unusually swift and every player seemed able to shoot a goal when given a ghost of a chance. Miami scored 37 points to Kentucky's 14, but the game was a great deal better than the score might indicate.

Miami Gains Lead.

Miami gained the lead early in the game, topping the score at the end of the first half with 20 to the Wildcat 14. In the last half she succeeded in adding 17 points and in keeping Kentucky from scoring.

The feature of the game was the floor work and goal shooting of Moore, Miami's center. Until only the night before he had been a substitute for the Miami team, but at the beginning of the Kentucky game he was placed at center, where he played a star game. In the first half he secured four field goals, and during the second half shot five from the floor, most of them at a distance from the net.

Lavin and Burnham.

For Kentucky Lavin and Burnham played good basketball. Lavin, at forward, succeeded in breaking up many of the Miami plays, and did much to keep the ball near the Wildcat goal. Burnham played his usual steady game. He is probably the best standing guard in the State.

Nine fouls were called during the game by Referee Hansen. Lavin threw two of his four, while Brate got only two of his five trials.

Everett Gets Three

Everett, center for Kentucky, did some exceedingly good goal shooting, getting three baskets from the field. The floor work of Dishman was good.

The lineup and summary follows:

Miami	Kentucky
Lavin (4).....F.....	Munns (6)
Dishman (2).....F.....	French (6)
Everett (6).....C.....	Moore (18)
Burnham.....G.....	Brate (2)
Zerfoss.....G.....	Fry (4)

Substitutions—University of Kentucky, Thomas for Dishman. Foul goals thrown—For Kentucky, Lavin, two out of five; for Miami, Brate, two out of five. Referee—Hansen, Transylvania College.

SENIORS ATTENTION!

All seniors who want class rings must see either Tapscott or Wallingford before Wednesday, March 19. Approximate price of rings is $7.00 if 50 or more are ordered.

CAPTAIN K. G. PULLIAM CONTRADICTS CHARGES

Official Record of Aviator Published in Answer to Article Headed "Ace of Four Flushers."

FORMER U. K. STUDENT

Captain Keeling G. Pulliam, former student in the University, in answer to a widely circulated article in Plane News, a paper published by the air forces in France, which was headed, "Bunkhouse Bunk, Furnished for Home Folks by Ace of Four Flushers—Non Combatant Aviator Tells How He Was Going to Return to a Front He Never Saw," has issued a formal statement, which is in part as follows:

March 8, 1919.

"It is with the greatest regret that I feel called upon, in view of a certain report which has gained circulation in this city, to refer to my official record while in the service of the American Flying Corps in France.

"I freely gave the three best years of my life to the most dangerous branch of army service and was willing to give my all in the defense of our country, but am now called upon in my home city in order to contradict a malicious lie, to publish certain official records which naturally I have heretofore refrained from making public.

"The report, above mentioned appeared in a paper called the "Plane News," which paper is published by certain members of the flying corps in France, and prior to the date of the armistice was censored by some American officer, but is now published the same as any other paper and does not receive any official censorship. This article, which was received by a young man in Lexington a few days ago, stated that I had never been wounded in the service, nor had I been awarded the French Cross of War which is usually called Croix de Guerre.

"This report has gained such a wide circulation, I feel that is due myself and my friends to make this brief statement in contradiction of the report.

"After receiving a captain's commission in the regular army I was sent overseas December 17, 1917, in charge of the 135th Aviation Squadron. After landing in England the 135th was separated, some were sent to France, others were retained in England. I was assigned to patrol duty at London. On the night of January 17, 1918, there was an attack by Hun planes. I was sent up as gunner with Captain Wintworth, R. A. F., and after being in the air some time we were shot down. I receiving an injury to my shoulder. I was sent to the hospital at Netley, England, where I remained for five weeks. After recovering from this injury, I was sent to France. After going to France I was assigned to a training field and then sent to the front. It is of no interest in this article that I should detail my service during this period, excepting to state that on March 12, 1918, French Squadron No. 102 of five planes were sent out for the purpose of making photographs of German territory. I was given permission to accompany this squadron. All five planes returned and all pilots and gunners were afterward awarded the Cross of War.

Pulliam's statement is substantiated by official documents from both French and American authorities.

HORACE MANN HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

The Horace Mann Literary Society held its regular meeting Thursday night, March 6, in the Education building. The new officers elected at the last meeting presided. The membership has been more than doubled and a large crowd attended.

An interesting program was presented. Miss Margaret Smith gave a reading called "Fluorette." A paper on "The League of Nations," was read by Miss Mary Beall. An original short story called "Love and Khaki," was read by Miss Adele Slade.

Plans are being made now for a party which is to be given at Patterson Hall March 22, in honor of the new members. The program for the next meeting will be posted on the bulletin board in the main hall of the Educational building.

PATTERSON SOCIETY ARRANGES CONTESTS

At the regular meeting of the Patterson Literary Society Friday evening, March 7, what is considered the best program, yet held this season, was given. H. B. McGregor declaimed the famous appeal of Danton when he was urging the French assembly to stand firm against the enemies of France. The question of American naval supremacy was discussed at some length by Messrs. Hargrave and Bryant, who favored increase and Messrs. Green and McGregor, who opposed a larger naval program. The question seems to be open until the result of the peace conference is announced.

The ownership of Dalmatia and its effect on the international situation was discussed by Mr. Redwine.

The declamation contest for the George W. Crum medal was set for the second Friday in May.

The Patterson Union debating teams will be selected at the preliminary contest to be held in chapel the evening of March 18. All members are eligible and any information concerning the preliminary may be had by consulting Mr. Dommitt of the law school.

The contest for the Patterson oration medal will be held on Dr. Patterson's birthday, March 26. The speech must be original, numbers are entering the contest.

SOPHOMORE CLASS BUSINESS MEETING

Important business will be discussed and a vice-president will be elected Friday at 3:30 in chapel.

PAN HELLENIC DANCE GIVES MUCH PLEASURE

Blue Grass Society Attend Popular University Affair, Formal Anyhow

The annual Pan-Hellenic banquet and dance was given by the fraternities Friday evening for four short hours, from 9 until 1 o'clock, in the Phoenix Hotel. The affair was arranged by the Pan-Hellenic Council, made up of representatives from the fraternities and was attended by a most distinguished representation of Bluegrass society.

The dance had been declared informal by the council, but a large majority of the guests were in full evening dress, and the affair, despite the absence of the grand march, was formal.

The ball room was decorated with ferns and palms, and electric illuminations, representing the pin designs and emblems of each fraternity. As the dance for each fraternity was played, the ball room was darkened with the exception of the shield of the fraternity. This was left brilliantly lighted.

The programs were pretty favors, having covers of soft white kid, with the Greek letters standing for each fraternity done in gold.

A popular saxophone orchestra furnished the music.

The fraternities represented and the members of the Pan-Hellenic Council are:

Edward S. Dabney, Alpha Tau Omega.

R. Smith Park, Phi Delta Theta.

J. Thompson Guthrie, Sigma Chi.

Cardwell D. Triplett, Pi Kappa Alpha.

Raymond Glenn, Kappa Sigma.

Eger Murphree, Sigma Nu.

John Davis, Kappa Alpha.

J. A. Dishman, Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

The committee were:

Program—J. T. Guthrie, C. D. Triplett.

Supper—Eger Murphree.

Floor—J. A. Dishman, R. S. Park.

They were assisted in receiving and entertaining by the chaperones: President and Mrs. Frank L. McVey, Dean and Mrs. William T. Lafferty, Dean and Mrs. F. Paul Anderson, Dean and Mrs. Paul P. ### "Y" NOTES.

Mr. Owens has planned a real treat for the Y. M. C. A. Sunday night. Doctor W. D. Funkhouser, head of the Department of Zoology, is to talk on the "Living Conditions in Egypt." Doctor Funkhouser speaks from first hand knowledge. He is an able speaker and tho this is only the second time that the students have had the opportunity of hearing him; his fame has already been spread broadcast thruout the campus.

The second Y. M. C. A. tea is to be held at 3:30 next Wednesday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. rooms. This is a series of teas planned for every Wednesday, and is given by the "Y" with the aid of the University Woman's Club. All faculty members and students are invited; a good time is promised all.

DRY TURF CALLS TRACK TEAM ONTO STOLLFIELD

Inside Work Has Put Form and Wind Into Candidates Jumpers and Pole Vaulters Needed

Continued bad weather has impeded the progress of the track squad, but the time has been spent in the gymnasium under the direction of Coach Gill loosening up muscles and gaining wind and endurance on the indoor track. It has been possible only two days for the candidates to be given a workout on the outdoor track, but the kind of weather for the last few days will soon have the track on Stoll Field in excellent condition.

Good Stuff Here.

Most of the candidates for the track squad are freshmen. These are being given careful training by Coach Gill, and he sees in them prospects for many victories for the University in the future. Jimmy Wilhelm, of Paducah, who lately returned from the navy, is a promising candidate. He is specializing on the half mile and the mile, and is also a good high jumper. A. Kahn, a senior in Mechanical Engineering, is out again this year. He is a letter man in both track and baseball. In 1916 he was on the winning relay team at Louisville for the University. M. Forman was on the track team two years ago, and is out for the dash and broad jump. Arthur Grabfelder is one of the prospects this year. He has made 100 yards in ten seconds.

The three letter men on the team this year are Knight, Planck, Kahn. No captain for the track squad has yet been elected. It is safe to say, however, that the new captain will be one of the above three men.

Coach Gill says he needs candidates for the pole vault, high jump, and broad jump.

Good Schedule Arranged.

Arrangements are now being made for a big track meet with Centre, to be held in Danville sometime in May. This promises to be one of the most interesting events of the season.

The following partial schedule has been arranged:

April 26—Miami vs. Kentucky at Oxford, Ohio.

May 3—Georgetown College vs. Kentucky at Georgetown.

May 17—University of Cincinnati vs. Kentucky at Lexington.

PERSONALS

Mr. Lawrence Cover, formerly musical director at the University and who has been, for the past ten months, Y. M. C. A. song leader at Camp Zachary Taylor has taken charge of the community singing for the city at Canton, Ohio.

Doctor Maxon's students are extremely sorry to learn that he was confined to his bed Monday on account of a severe cold.

LAW DEPT. NOTES

With a view to securing the publication of the Kentucky Law Journal for the remainder of the present year and for the purpose of securing a temporary staff, the faculty of the College of Law has adopted the following plan of temporary re-organization:

1. The editorial staff of the Kentucky Law Journal shall consist of two members of the faculty of the College of Law, and not more than nine students of the second and third year classes.

2. The faculty shall select one of their number as editor and one as business manager.

3. Student members of the staff shall be selected by the faculty on the basis of merit in the following manner:

All students of the second and third year classes desirous of membership on the student staff shall prepare a "Comment" on a recent case and submit same to the faculty. These comments will be graded by the faculty on a numerical basis. The faculty will make an average of all grades of the last semester based on final examinations, of each student submitting a "Comment," and will make an average of the semester grade and "Comment" grade of each student, selecting the seven or nine students making the highest average as student members of the staff. The student making the highest average will be the "Comment Editor" and the student making the second highest grade will be the assistant business manager.

At the meeting of the faculty of the Law College last week, Prof. W. L. Summers was chosen as editor-in-chief and Judge W. T. Lafferty as business manager. All material for the next issue is ready and will be sent to the printers this week.

Instead of publishing nine copies a year the Journal will be published four times a year. Two issues will be published this semester.

POETS AT PHILOSOPH'N

"Modern War Poets" was the subject for the program held at the meeting of the Philosopherian Literary Society, Wednesday night, March 5, at Patterson Hall, with Misses Mina White, Margaret Smith, and Lorraine West as speakers.

Miss White's talk was a general discussion of the subject, stressing the fact that the poets whose contributions will probably be more lasting, wrote from experience, and not from what we call "arm-chair observation." Among notable examples, the speaker considered Robert W. Service, John McCray, Rupert Brooke, whose five sonnets have been pronounced the best which have been written during the war, and John Maysfield. Of the probable influence of these poets, Miss White said, "It is thought that after the war, literature will be richer than ever."

Miss Smith chose Joyce Kilmer for consideration, the brilliant young American man of letters of whom it was said, "He died as he lived, in action." "In his death," said Miss Smith, "the world lost not only a man, but a genius."

Alan Seeger was the topic of Miss Lorraine West's talk. Miss West compared the intense love of life evident in his early work with the poet's attitude toward death, reflected in the poems written just before he died, a hero, in action.

DATE OF ORATORICAL CONTEST IS MAY 15.

Will Be Held in Georgetown Patterson and Union to Represent University

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Intercollegiate Oratorical Association of Kentucky held at the Phoenix Hotel on March 10, the date of the contest for this year was fixed for May 15. The contest will be held at Georgetown.

The preliminary contests at the University of Kentucky will be held in the Union and Patterson Literary Societies, March 18-21. Students who desire to enter the oratorical contests should become members of the literary societies. Following the contests in each society an intersociety contest will be held. The winner of the intersociety contest will represent the University in the intercollegiate contest at Georgetown.

E. A. Dabney, Redwine and Kallbreier represented the University of Kentucky at the Conference.

The association appointed a committee to investigate the possibility of making the Kentucky Association a member of the Interstate Oratorical Association which now includes about a dozen oratorical associations in nearby states.

BOTANY CLUB IS STUDENTS' PLAN

Botany students of the University are planning to organize a department club. This club is to be open to all botany students and others who might be interested along that line. It is to be semi-social in nature.

"I have found in my work at the University of Kansas," said Doctor Shull, head of the department, in outlining the activities of the club, "that a club of this nature is of great value in stimulating student interest. The club is to be democratic. Everyone interested in botany is invited to join. We propose not only to work, but also to have a good time. Field tours are being planned and when the weather is too bad to go out, indoor social hours will be held."

The work of the club is to consist of talks to be given by the staff and advanced students on botanical subjects. Dates for the meetings this semester will be announced later.

SERGEANT CARTER IS ON WAY HOME

Sergeant John W. Carter, son of J. W. Carter, 336 Transylvania Park, in a letter home stated that he, with 194 other members of the 113th Field Battalion, have made their first move homeward. They have been transferred to Company C, 323 Field Signal Battalion in the Bordeaux area from a replacement depot in Blois.

Sergeant Carter writes that the 113th Battalion, originally Signal Corps, Co. A, of Lexington, has been scattered all over fighting Europe from Greece to Northern France. Harry Johnston, Pendleton Roberts and Corp. Wm. Prewitt, are among the 194 transferred. They are at present quartered in the barn of an old chateau and do not expect to be sent home for some time. Camp Taylor will probably be the mustering out station.

LET US RUN AND NOT BE UNEASY.

"There is a tide in the affairs of men, which taken at the flood, leads on to fortune."

Ambition is the force which moves every man who comes to college. We are either ambitious to get a degree and rest on that, or we are ambitious to learn so that our part in the world's life may be recognized and remembered. Ambition, like the good, often dies young. How many students of your high school have not come with you into the University? Their reason is simple. When they graduated, they saw jobs ahead which usually will never be more than jobs and which presented to them possibilities of being independent, possibilities of leisure and money. Even the ambition exists to be the world's greatest engineer, a boy will often allow himself to be drawn to a side issue that will lead him to be a clerk in a dry goods store for "$20 a week to start," and perhaps $29 a week to end with, 20 years hence.

This same rule applies to the college graduate and the same pitfalls and sidetracks are open to him as were open when he left high school. More care is required by the college graduate in avoiding such distraction also, because more strenuous effort will be made to procure the college man as an employe than is made to obtain the services of untrained men. There are places galore for every graduate of a college. Any girl or boy leaving this University could be a traveling salesman, a manager of a store, a reporter, a secretary, a teacher, or a government employe, granting, of course, that a short period of special training be obtained. But consider the end of this beginning. Where will you be years from now? Perhaps at the head of a force of salesmen; perhaps the owner of a store; perhaps a sub-editor. Who will know your name? Who will point to your works and praise? Who will name you as a benefactor of mankind? What place will your name occupy?

Every one of us are right now headed for one great goal spurred on by our one ambition. Every one of us wants to do the world some service, to make names for ourselves before God and man. Therefore let us lay aside all encumbrance; look neither to the right nor to the left and run the course set before us. Nothing can keep a determined man from his ultimate goal. If it is necessary for some of us to drop down with the diggers in the ditch, and work our way up, let's do that with the single mindedness of purpose with which we shall later speed on to our own set goal. If some of us have wealth in our keeping, and our ambition in our hearts, for our own sakes let us not allow that wealth to retard the race for the goal.

No attractions by the side of the road must prevail.

THE STUDENT'S CREED

President McVey, at a joint meeting of the University Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. Sunday night, spoke on "The Student's Creed." The University, for a long time, has needed a talk like that from one of its own members. President McVey is not a preacher. He is an educator and a man of affairs and when he speaks, the student realizes that he hears not a creed of the church, but the belief of a student among students, a belief that has helped him solve life's problems.

Universities have never had the time to consider the student's religious beliefs and doubts. Faculties have generally been too busy to be interested in what the student thinks concerning the things that count. Hence the student's spiritual life (and every student has this in some form), has too often been turned to one of indifference or of unbelief. This is true not only of Kentucky, but it is true everywhere; and until men, who have been over the road as students, elect to help those plodding along that route that indifference will continue. Kentucky is now changing as is the whole world. Will this important phase of a student's life be stressed in the new age? We think so. It is the duty first of the church to so vitalize itself and broaden itself that the student can accept what it offers. It is the duty of the student also, to be open minded and be willing to see all sides of the question; and it is up to the university to impart such understanding as is needed.

President McVey has taken the first step. He stressed a firm belief in God, one's fellow man, oneself; belief that religion is essential to keep men and women free from that which bsmirches the soul; belief in a clean body, domination of mind over the purely physical, the training of the will, education; belief that right principles and high ideals must guide the State and the individual and with this in view, "to work and play in the spirit of right living, pledging myself to the higher welfare of those I love, to the University, the fostering mother of the arts, and to the State, knowing that by such action guided by the higher purpose of life, I can do my part."

The creed is simple and every student should be able to embrace it. Intellectually it is broader than that of the church and can be accepted for that reason. Ethically it is more strict than that of the church and should be accepted for that reason also.

SHOT FIRED FROM THE DARK.

Yellow journalism is the scourge of newspaper men. It cannot be condemned too strongly. It attacks the weak and it attacks the strong. It ruthlessly breaks men and women by blackening their reputation for truth and honesty. It is like a thief in the night. It filches reputation, while its victim sleeps. He may make denials and offer contradictory proof, but the poison of the yellow scorpion has done its deadly work.

There recently came to the notice of the Kernel an uncensored newspaper printed by a unit of the A. E. F. in France. In this particular issue, a former student of this University who is held in high esteem by all who know him, was made the object of attack. The young captain in question, immediately upon hearing of the attack submitted proof of his innocence which was published.

The Kernel takes great pleasure in declaring that it implicitly believes in the innocence of Captain Keeling Pulliam, who, from a sense of duty and patriotism, enlisted at the beginning and remained in service until the end of the war, and who now has been made the object of this unexpected attack. Further, in making such a declaration, the Kernel believes that it is giving voice but to the consensus of the entire student body.

The Kernel's Koachman observes that "Fresh eggs may come from the country; but fresh chickens come from the city (Observe the campus for examples of this observation.)"

Duck Or Off Goes Your Head.

We do not know much. But the minute a man tells that he is not superstitious we mentally class him as a dandle.

Pay Up.

Some men worry more over what they owe to their ancestors than they do over what they owe to their creditors.

While the University is undergoing a process of reconstruction, the sign in the Library "Low Talk Only Permitted Here," should be cast upon the heap.

"Imitation is the sincerest form of flattery," asserts that most excellent philosopher of the third flood Administration building.

"Not when you give a girl an imitation diamond ring," commented the Poor Fool.

Worse Than Prohibition.

Jumping Jupiter! Shades of the immortal Senior Court made famous by JI mMoore and Virgil Chapman, that this should ever happen! They now have a girls' Rest Room in the New Dorm.

Dogs and Mechanicals

It is recorded by Matt Cohen, Commissioner of Agriculture, that 179,128 dogs have been listed for taxation. If the "dog catcher" would only make a visit to the "sweat shop" of the campus, he would most certainly add a number of these poor dogs of circumstance to his list. These fellows come up here and spend four years in the penitentiary, so to speak, then go out and "hit the ball" good and hard for the next eight or ten years at a dollar a day, thinking they are getting their "just dues." Well they are only somebody; possibly the University should pay taxes on them.

It is a common occurrence for some of these young bloods of the campus to depart from the presence of their fair lady loves as True Knights, especially when the father of the affectionate damsel is booted and the young one spurred.

Grand, oh how grand! These women have something new to talk about now that one of our young swains and his lady love, from the western part of the State, have bought passage on the good ship, Matrimony. For a few days perhaps these Patt Hallinites can gossip without assailing their next door neighbor.

The Pan-Hellenic Dance ended successfully for most of those who attended, but really White Lillies and slow music should have predominated, so that everything would have been in harmony, dress, music and dancers.

FACULTY FACTS

Doctor A. W. Calhoun, professor of sociology, has just accepted an offer to teach sociology at the summer school of Ohio State University.

Doctor Calhoun's new book "Social History of the American Family," has just been received from the publishers; this is the third volume of the work and is of great interest to students of sociology.

Doctor W. D. Funkhouser, head of the Department of Zoology at the University will talk on the Okefinokee swamp in Georgia and Florida at the monthly meeting of the Get-in-and-Get-Out-Club Wednesday evening. Doctor Funkhouser is well qualified to talk on this subject, being one of the five Cornell men who formed the expedition to investigate this swamp. He tells many interesting stories of the primitive living conditions found existing there.

Dr. P. P. Boyd, Robert J. Raible, R. W. Owens and Judge Lyman Chalkley, representing the University of Kentucky, went to Louisville this morning to attend the annual meeting of the State Y. M. C. A. which will be held on Thursday and Friday.

CAPTAIN GRAHAM WRITES FROM CAMP IN FRANCE

Former U. K. Student Says That He Expects to be "Back in States" By June

Captain Herbert Graham, First Provisional Regiment, American Embarkation Center, A. P. O. 762 France, expects to be "back in the states" by June, according to a letter received this week by Professor Enoch Grehan, of the Journalism Department.

Captain Graham was graduated from this University in 1916, with a degree of A. B. in Journalism. During the school year 1916-17, he held a fellowship in the Department of Journalism. He went to the first training camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison, where he was commissioned first lieutenant. Captain Graham was a member of Sigma Chi and Alpha Delta Sigma fraternities while a student in the University.

Excerpts from his letter follow:

"The life of luxurious ease that I have been leading during the last two months has quite wiped out the memory of the—there was until November.

"At present I am in command of a company. Each day I sign the Morning Report, and occasionally an official letter. My lieutenants give the boys fifteen minutes' drill at Retreat. The remainder of the time they spend working on routine details. . . .

"In the evening, if I want a bit of female companionship I just walk over to the American Nurses' Home in the camp, and say to the prettiest one there 'you can come take a walk with me,' or 'you may sit in the corner and talk to me and let me look at you.' That is how easy it is. . . .

"This camp has two movies and a stock company that plays two burlesque shows a week. The Y. M. C. A. and Red Cross furnish all the magazines we want to read. There is a dance each week at the Officers' Club, and something doing all the time at Le Mans, a city of 125,000, which is only six miles from here."

Before going to France Captain Graham made quite an enviable record as an officer in the camps on this side.

UNIVERSITY ORCHESTRA

A concert given by the University Orchestra was held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock under the direction of Professor Lampert in University chapel. This was the first of a series of concerts to be given by the orchestra.

The following selections comprised the program:

1. Selection, "Martha" . . . . .Flotow
2. Andante from "Surprise" Symphony.
3. "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" . . . . . St. Saens
Mrs. L. L. Dantzier
4. March, "Aida"

It is planned that in the near future the University orchestra will serve as an accompanying body to the Oratorio Society, which is now working on the Stabat Mater by Rossini, and the Messiah by Handel, and Prof. Lampert believes these works can only be rendered more effectively, accompanied by the orchestra.

STUDENTS' FORUM

Chivalry is a product of the middle age, but it did not die with them. Chivalry was one of the most valued attributes of the character of our forefathers, and one of the most priceless of our inheritance. It is a universal commodity, upon which there is placed only a small price. It will fit any age or time, and grace the man of millions or the wandering tramp. It may even be the precious jewel set in the head of a villain, which will redeem him before men.

Chivalry cannot be confined in its application to women. It originated in relation to women, but it is capable of a much wider interpretation. In few places is there more opportunity for exercise of chivalry, than in a university. Men and women come in daily contact, sports among men encourage exercise of chivalry; relation of faculty and student are conducive to the thoughtful consideration which chivalry generates.

On our campus one opportunity to exercise chivalry is often missed by many students, true sons of chivalrous Kentucky, tho they may be. The "Grand Old Man" of the campus, has perhaps made more sacrifices for our University than any other one man, and yet he is often passed by without so much as sign of recognition; not that he expects it, and is grieved not to receive it, but that his services, and his age deserve it. A man of culture and chivalrous instincts, he is able to return such recognition in two-fold manner, so that the giver even is the gainer. The Kernel would suggest that our president emeritus be saluted with a lifting of the hat, by the male students and a courteous bow by the girls. Thus will our reputation for Southern chivalry be vindicated. . . . .

PROBLEMS LECTURES GIVEN AS SCHEDULED

The first lecture of the Forum of World Problems conducted under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. was not held as was scheduled and announced, because of the illness of Judge Lyman Chalkley, who was to speak on "China at the Peace Conference."

The other lectures, however, will be given according to schedule. Dr. A. W. Calhoun, one of the new members of the faculty and professor in the Department of Sociology, will speak Thursday, March 13, at 3:45 o'clock on "Russia and Bolshevism."

MASONS NOTICE

Masonic Club meets in Law Department Thursday 7:45 p. m. All Masons invited. O. C. Walker, Sec'y.

TWO MORE CADET HOPS

The first cadet hop of the season was held Saturday afternoon at Buell Armory from 2:30 to 5:30. A large number of students and out-of-town visitors were present. Garr's orchestra, of Lexington, furnished the music. Two more cadet dances are planned for this semester. They will be on March 29 and April 26.

PROFESSORS AGREE TO DISCUSS BIG SUBJECT

Faculty Heads Will Help Promote Discussion of the "Practical Side of Theory"

Is there any University girl who is not interested in anything on the campus? If so she is not interested in the following notice.

There is a rare treat in store for all women of the University. It is an absolutely new one never attempted before and promising to be the success of the season. The Dramatis Personae are:

- Dr. Calhoun—Representing Sociology.
- Dr. Funkhouser—Representing Natural Science.
- Dr. Maxson—Representing Practical Science.
- Professor Farquhar—Representing Literature.
- Dr. Boyd—Representing Mathematics.
- Miss Jewell—Representing Industry.

The scene will be laid in Patterson Hall.

According to the reports every girl in school will be there.

Here is the plan. A series of discussions will be held for the next five weeks at Patterson Hall. The before-mentioned professors leading the discussion. On Monday nights from 7:30 to 8:15, the groups under Dr. Funkhouser, Dr. Maxson and Dr. Boyd will be held; on Tuesday nights at the same time Professor Farquhar, Dr. Calhoun and Miss Jewell will hold their groups. The nights can be changed to suit convenience of groups. The course is called "The Philosophy Behind the Class Room," or "The Practical Side of Theory."

Those girls interested in Sociology will register with Dr. Calhoun; those interested in literature, with Professor Farquhar; those interested in Biology and Science, with Dr. Funkhouser and so on. Choose your group. The work is to be entirely discussonal and the hotter the arguments, the greater the fun. Even Dr. Boyd will remember is the gainer. The Kernel would suggest and will expect contradiction and disagreement. That is the attitude needed. Go and see the relation.

The professors have consented to the plan and are having meetings among themselves to gain strength against the expected feminine discussions.

Town girls are especially invited and urged to come. Sign up with Ruth Duckwall or Mildred Graham.

RESOLUTIONS

At a meeting of the faculty of the College of Arts and Science of the University Thursday afternoon, March 6, tribute was paid to the late Miss Stella Pauline Porter by members who had had the privilege of teaching her in the University. A set of resolutions were adopted by the faculty and sent to the parents of Miss Porter.

The committee was composed of Miss Marguerite McLaughlin, Prof. William E. Butt, Prof. L. L. Dantzier.

ROMANCE LANGUAGE CLUB ORGANIZED

New Student Association Has Twelve Charter Members and Will Meet Bi-Monthly

The Romance Language Club was organized at the home of Professor and Mrs. A. C. Zembrod Tuesday night with twelve charter members from the advanced classes in French, Spanish and Italian. Officers were elected and it was decided to hold bi-monthly meetings in the classroom of Professor Zembrod. The program will include readings, short plays and songs in the modern languages.

The club was organized at the suggestion of Professor Zembrod, who gave a program including some French songs and Anthony's oration over Caesar's dead body in Italian. The meeting was entirely informal and Mrs. Zembrod served a delicious salad course.

The officers elected were Miss Logan Figg, president; Miss Margaret Tuttle, vice-president; and Miss Catherine Herring, secretary-treasurer. Professor Zembrod and Miss Barrett were made an advisory committee, and Mrs. Zembrod was unanimously named an honorary member.

Miss Figg appointed a constitution committee composed of Misses Margaret Tuttle, Ora Lee Jones, and Ruth Cardwell; and a program committee of Misses Alberta Wilson, Claribel Kay and Elizabeth Featherstone. The committee will report at the next meeting which will be held Monday evening, March 24.

SONGS IN CHAPEL

At chapel, held Friday morning, Chaplain Sales, of Camp Shelby, Mississippi, gave an interesting review of his three months' stay at that camp. Mr. and Mrs. Butler, of Camp Shelby, were also present, and Mr. Butler, who was Community Leader at Hattiesburg, sang several songs, including "The Bugler," for which he is especially famous. Mr. Butler received much applause and students seemed unwilling for his part of the program to end. President McVey presented the speakers.

WE HATE TO SAY IT

Centre College ended its basketball season last week by defeating the Georgetown College five with a score of 50 to 20, making a perfect record for Centre's team and clinching the State college championship.

Team work and ability to shoot goals from any place on the floor have characterized the successful team. Especially have Bell, McMillan and Roberts contributed to the success with their accuracy in goal shooting.

Money has been raised by the people of Danville to buy gold basketball ornaments to be awarded to the players as a souvenir of the successful season.

HOME EC. NOTES.

U. of Tenn. to Standardize College Degrees.

(The Orange and White.)

This bill would demand that degree conferring institutions of Tennessee conform to the recognized standards of the Southern College Association.

SPECIALTIES FEATURE MIAMI KENTUCKY GAME

Faculty Gets Licked Three Times to Students' Glee First Wrestling Match Held

Immediately before the basketball game between the University of Kentucky and Miami Saturday night a volleyball contest was held between the Faculty of the University and the City Y. M. C. A. Three games were played, resulting in three victories for the "Y." The score for the first game was 4 to 21, for the second was 6 to 21, and for the third was 3 to 15.

The games were interesting and full of pep. A large crowd came to the Miami game early in order to witness the contest. Representing the Faculty and Y. M. C. A. were:

Enlow is a freshman in the Agricultural College, and has lately matriculated in the University, having spent the past seven months at West Point. He succeeded in putting McGregor's shoulders to the mat in both attempts, but "Mac" made him work hard for his victories.

Professor Bower Publishes Book.
(Crimson Rambler.)

Professor William C. Bower, professor of Religious Education in Transylvania College and the College of the Bible, is the author of a very valuable and attractively presented volume just published by The University of Chicago Press. Copies have been received by the college library and the college book store.

The volume is entitled "A Survey of Religious Education in the Local Church," and is one of a series of University of Chicago publications in Religious Education. The series is edited by Ernest D. Burton, Shailer Mathews, and Theodore G. Soares.

Purdue Livestock to be Snapped by Pathe Weekly.
(Purdue Exponent.)

Purdue is about to break into the movie limelight. A representative of the Pathe News, of Chicago, will visit the university on Friday, February 7, and photograph various notable personages and events, especially on the Purdue farm. The movie men have been seeking the opportunity to visit Purdue for some time and finally decided upon this date.

Fame, merited because of the numerous winnings of Purdue livestock at the International Live Stock Show in recent years is responsible for the interest the movie men are taking in the university farm.

Dad's to Blame.

The College President:
Such rawness in a student is a shame,
But lack of preparation is to blame.

High School Principal:
Good heavens! What crudity! The boy's a fool;
The fault, of course, is with the grammar school.

Grammar School Principal:
From such as this we pray that we might be spared!
They send them up to me so unprepared.

Primary Teacher:
Poor kindergarten blockhead! And they call
That "preparation!" Worse than none at all.

Kindergarten Teacher:
Never such a lack of training did I see,
What sort of person can the mother be?

The Mother:
You stupid child! But then you're not to blame;
Your father's family are all the same.

Georgetown Gets Gas Masks.
(Georgetownian.)

Capt. Rucker Bristow, of Chemical Warfare Service U. S. A. gave the Chemistry department four gas masks. The types of masks run from the first one the United States used to the very latest type developed by this country.

The Chemistry department is very thankful for this gift from an old Georgetown College man.

Tribute to University Immortal.
(Georgia Tech.)

To mention the name of Chief Blevens at Georgia Tech means to gain the undivided attention of all who knew him.

Here he made a loyal friend out of every man in college. No question was too small to gain Chief's attention and nothing large enough to daunt his powerful will.

He lent a willing ear and a heart full of sympathy to every trouble and no one was more enthusiastic than he over victory.

But Chief left us, and why; he loved Tech and all that belonged to Tech; but there was something greater: America had gone to war, and with her went Chief. He left a college that he loved next only to his Alma Mater for a greater duty—the duty of a man to his country.

He went away with that whole-hearted smile that burned its way into the heart of every Techite. A smile that only Chief could give and one that meant that Tech would forever hold a goodly part of his devotion.

Chief entered the Aviation Corps, gained his commission and was sent to England. There he remained until his death, caused by airplane accident November 14th, 1918. He was buried with military honors at Winchester, England.

There is not beauty enough in the English language to paint the character of this man, and never could one speak evil against him.

He was a man among men, a leader a Christian gentleman, a noble character, and a true patriot. One whom Georgia Tech does well to be proud of, and in truth speaks as one of her sons.

Tech never felt more keenly the loss of any man, and all who knew him feel that not only they, but the world is the loser by Chief's death.

Editor's Note—Mr. Blevens was a 1915 graduate of the University. Soon after his graduation he accepted the position of assistant Y. M. C. A. secretary at Georgia Tech. News of his untimely death has been heard with sorrow by his many friends here, not unmixd with pride, however, that he should have deservingly gained such a hold on the hearts of those among whom he had elected to labor.

It's Not the School It's You.
(The Industrial Collegian.)

If you want to be in the kind of a school,

Like the kind of a school you like,

You needn't slip your suit in a grip

And start on a long, long hike;

You'll only find what you left behind.

For there's nothing that's really new,

It's a knock at yourself when you knock your school—

It isn't your school, it's you.

Real schools are not made by those afraid

Least somebody else gets ahead,

When everyone works and nobody shirks,

You can raise a school from the dead.

And if, while you make your personal stake,

Your neighbors can make one, too,

Your school will be what you want to see—

It isn't the school, it's you.

JAPANESE ART SALE

The Department of Art and Design held an interesting exhibit Tuesday and Wednesday, March 4 and 5, in which old and rare Chinese embroideries and Japanese prints were displayed. This exhibit was brought to Lexington for two purposes: the educational value to students and to serve the needs of many in Lexington who are planning home decoration.

Among the most famous artists whose works were shown, are Horashiga, who is noted for his landscapes, Kunisada, and Toyo-Kuni, who are noted for their figures.

JOE AND "SASSY" NOW MR. AND MRS. CAMBRON

Marriage of Popular Students Takes University By Surprise—News Spreads Like Wildfire

Whether it was a childhood romance or a short acquaintance is yet to be determined, but Joe Cambron and "Sassy" Martin were married Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock by the Rev. Father W. T. Punch at his home. Miss Marjorie Riddle and John M. Crowe were the attendants.

After the ceremony the couple left for Louisville, whence they will take a trip West. Their final destination is Denver, Col., where Cambron has a position with a mining corporation.

Both young people were very well known at school, Cambron being a letter man in baseball, and both members of the Junior class. The surprise of the students at the wedding was reflected by the rapidity with which the news spread, so that by the time the newspapers were issued, it was old stuff.

The polite names of the two were Miss Minnie Waller Martin, of Greenville, and Mr. Joseph William Cambron of Morganfield.
