Dear Mr. Anderson.

I see by last Farm home that they have got in ahead of me on the prolific sow idea, but it is all right, only I wanted to suggest to them that this matter shld be set up in a certain form which they wld follow in others so the artciles cld be cut out and pasted in a scrap book.

I wld like to know whether you have any sows of the character described in the article, for sale. I am looking for ~~a~~ lot of young sows, not bred and about a year old. I want such as are good prospects as brood sows. If you have any

Mr. C. H. C. Anderson,
Carlinville, Ill.

Dear Sir:-

You have been informed, through the notes of the National Child Labor Committee published in the Woman's Home Companion, of the fact that the Anti-Child Slavery League, of which you are a member, has been merged with the National Child Labor Committee. This was for the purpose of more effective work through the union of forces and to prevent unnecessary duplication or waste of any resources. Your name has been placed upon a roll of honor together with many of our most public-spirited citizens who thus unite in a public protest against the evils of child labor.

This Committee is a militant body and is actively engaged in the dissemination of literature, the work of investigation, the collection of facts, the advocacy of appropriate legislation in the several states and by the National Government, and the better enforcement of our child labor and compulsory education laws. In this work we need financial as well as moral support, and if in addition to the interest that you have already expressed you are willing to contribute two dollars or over to the further prosecution of this work, we shall be glad to enroll your name formally in our membership, either as an associate member (one who contributes annually from $2 to $25), a sustaining member (from $25 to $100), or guarantor ($100 or over).

In addition to your personal membership, if you are interested in organizing the forces in your community, this Committee stands ready to advise concerning outlines of study, speakers and illustrated lectures. Associations, clubs, leagues, unions, Sunday schools, churches, etc., may become associate members in their corporate capacity upon payment of a single fee as provided in the case of an individual. Further inquiries on this subject may be addressed to the Secretary.

Awaiting the favor of a reply upon the enclosed blank, we remain,

Yours very truly

Lillian D. Wald

OBJECTS

- TO PROMOTE THE WELFARE OF SOCIETY, WITH RESPECT TO THE EMPLOYMENT OF CHILDREN IN GAINFUL OCCUPATIONS.
- TO INVESTIGATE AND REPORT THE FACTS CONCERNING CHILD LABOR.
- TO RAISE THE STANDARD OF PUBLIC OPINION AND PARENTAL RESPONSIBILITY WITH RESPECT TO THE EMPLOYMENT OF CHILDREN.
- TO ASSIST IN PROTECTING CHILDREN BY SUITABLE LEGISLATION AGAINST PREMATURE OR OTHERWISE INJURIOUS EMPLOYMENT, AND THUS TO AID IN SECURING FOR THEM AN OPPORTUNITY FOR ELEMENTARY EDUCATION AND PHYSICAL DEVELOPMENT SUFFICIENT FOR THE DEMANDS OF CITIZENSHIP AND THE REQUIREMENTS OF INDUSTRIAL EFFICIENCY.
- TO AID IN PROMOTING THE ENFORCEMENT OF LAWS RELATING TO CHILD LABOR.
- TO CO-ORDINATE, UNIFY AND SUPPLEMENT THE WORK OF STATE OR LOCAL CHILD LABOR COMMITTEES, AND ENCOURAGE THE FORMATION OF SUCH COMMITTEES WHERE THEY DO NOT EXIST.

ABSTRACT OF THE SECOND ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SECRETARY SEPTEMBER 30, 1906

LEGISLATION.—Last year was the off year in the biennial meetings of state legislatures. Fourteen state legislatures, however, were in session, and in all but three child labor legislation was under discussion. Additional protection for children was obtained in Massachusetts, New York, Georgia, Iowa, Kentucky, Louisiana and Maryland. Georgia and Iowa, after discussion, agitation and work covering several years, practically for the first time joined the list of states which legislate for their working children. Kentucky and Maryland made important changes which promise more effective regulation than they had before. Massachusetts and New York raised their standard by defining the educational test in the first and further restricting night work in the second. Louisiana made a beginning in legislation to take effect January 1, 1907, but applicable only to cities and towns of over 10,000 persons.

The National Committee co-operated in all of this work through distribution of literature, correspondence and general support. In Iowa it was instrumental in bringing together into a state committee the various elements that had, unorganized, struggled for years without success. In Maryland, Georgia and Kentucky representatives of our committee appeared before the legislative assemblies in active support of the bills, and the work of our Southern office, opened in Atlanta early in 1906, was concentrated on the situation in Georgia, which presented the most difficult legislative battle that has yet been fought for the protection of childhood in this country.

Proposed legislation in Mississippi, New Jersey, Ohio and Virginia failed of passage. Mississippi and Virginia require a larger educational campaign. The night work clause which is desired in the New Jersey law is opposed by the glass industry. The minor changes asked for by our strong Ohio State Committee, in what is already a good law, will be obtained in due time.

In Congress, a bill to incorporate our National Committee passed the Senate and is pending in the House. Good progress was made toward securing a model child labor law for the District of Columbia, a bill having passed the House and now pending in the Senate. We worked through the Citizens' District of Columbia Child Labor Committee, organized through our efforts, for this measure. We also actively supported bills for compulsory education and for a national investigation of the condition of working women and children, and directly for a National Children's Bureau (the Crane-Gardner bill), introduced at our request.

ENFORCEMENT.—Everywhere the greatest need has been to secure better enforcement of existing child labor legislation and to prevent evasion of the law, which is now so general in many states. This is the hardest task, demanding better organization of state and local bodies, and, above all, that slow and general education of public sentiment which alone will enable officials who are struggling to do their duty in enforcing the law to get the necessary support from the courts and in legislative appropriations from their states.

PUBLICITY.—A large share of the efforts of our committee during the past year has been spent in securing wider publicity for the facts which we have gathered and the volume of which is increasing. The country is not yet alive to the inroad that child labor is making in the American home and in our most cherished institutions. The public schools are growing in efficiency and must not be robbed of the material which will enable them to fulfil their mission to teach all the children of the nation.

LITERATURE AND MEETINGS.—The second annual meeting of the National Committee, held in Washington, December, 1905, brought together many interesting papers and reports on child labor conditions, which have been circulated both in the form of an annual volume and in separate pamphlets, together with other publications of the committee. Over 80,000 pamphlets, aggregating 800,000 pages of literature, have thus been distributed. Meetings have been held in practically every state in the Union, at which the National Committee has been represented, and the work of the executive officers has required many thousand miles of travel and included over 100 formal addresses, in addition to numerous conferences and smaller meetings. Requests for literature and information have come from several hundred correspondents, and many of these requests have required us to make special investigations.

MEMBERSHIP.—During the year an associate membership was organized, made up as follows: 1, Guarantors, or those who contribute to the financial support of the committee for any one fiscal year the sum of $100 or over; 2, Sustaining Members, being those who contribute $25 or over but less than $100; and, 3, Associates, who contribute less than $25 but at least the minimum fee of $2, which is intended to cover merely the proportionate cost of preparation and distribution of such literature as is sent to all members. In response to appeals for membership we had received on September 30th acceptances from 981 persons, whose total contributions aggregated for the year the sum of $4,973.10. The results are gratifying, but at least 10,000 members are needed to properly sustain the work that this committee has voluntarily undertaken to do and for the satisfactory prosecution of which we are dependent upon voluntary contributions.

The total expenses of the committee for the second fiscal year amounted to $22,098.65, which, by strict economy, accomplished the work laid out for the year for about $3,000 less than the estimated budget. The estimates for the third year, in order to provide for a deficit of $1,500 still owing from the first year, and without providing for any pronounced enlargement of our work, will require the sum of $25,000.

The results thus far attained, the publicity that has been given to this great and important cause, and the fact that it is now a national problem discussed in every part of the country, imposes on us new obligations and promises far-reaching remedies, in case we meet them. The fact that child labor is apparently on the increase for the country as a whole and for all occupations collectively considered, and is certainly on the marked increase in many of our industrial states and in occupations that are particularly harmful to the health, morals and education of the children who enter them, is a challenge to every decent and right-thinking American. Will you help us to meet that challenge?
