Montgomery, Morgan Give Sunday Musicales

UK Duo-Pianists Present Program

Ford Montgomery and Robert Morgan, pianists on the University music faculty will present a duo-piano concert in Memorial hall at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon in a continuation of the series of Sunday musicales being presented on the campus this quarter.

Following the recent trend in joint piano recitals, Sunday afternoon will feature the two musicians together for their initial appearance on the Sunday afternoon series of campus musical arrangements.

Mr. Montgomery studied at the New England Conservatory in Boston and graduated with a soloist's diploma in piano and a bachelor of music degree. He joined the University staff in 1941 but entered the army in 1942. Re-joining the University faculty last year after his discharge, Mr. Montgomery resumed his duties as an instructor in piano.

Mr. Morgan studied music at Syracuse university and received his bachelor of music and master of music degrees from that institution. Having received his M.A. in piano during the year, he joined the University faculty last September.

The program to be presented by the two pianists Sunday afternoon will consist of "Sheep May Safely Graze" by Debussy, "The Old Major" by Mozart, "Variations on 'Theme by Beethoven'" by Saint-Saens, and "Searaucouche" by Milhaud.

The first selections will make up the first of the three parts into which the program has been divided, and the final two numbers will make up the final two parts of the program.

This afternoon, representatives of several corporations and state departments will hold final interviews with senior students in the Career Conference which began yesterday.

The Women's Vocational Conference will be held on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, featuring discussions on various vocations, such as advertising, interior decorating, and medical technology by persons connected with these fields.

According to Miss Margaret Storey, head resident of Jewell hall, the subjects discussed will be based on answers received from questionnaires to test student interest, but because of the shortage of rooms, not all of the most popular subject could be presented.

Fewer Interviews
Seventy-five men and women made appointments to be interviewed during the Career Conference. Mr. Dorothy Evans, university social director, stated that this number was smaller than in previous years and he is planning to get married when they graduate.

At the third consecutive year that both conferences have been held during the same week.

Donovan Will Ask For 10 Million In '48, He Tells Kiwanians

Dr. H. L. Donovan and Coach Adolph Rupp were the principal speakers at luncheon meeting of the Lexington Kiwanis club Tuesday afternoon at the Lafayette hotel. The University president stated that he would ask the 1948 General Assembly for $10,000,000 for new buildings and urged members of the club to support him in efforts to equip the school for an enrollment of 8,000 to 10,000.

He added, "We are not asking the state to give us anything, but to invest in the University. For every dollar it invests, it will get something back."

Following the luncheon Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, UK vice president presented Coach Rupp with an honorary membership in the Kiwanis club. He cited the coach's many contributions to the University, to the city, and to the state.

Other honors given in addition to Dr. Donovan and Coach Rupp were Assistant Coach Harry Lancaster, Team Manager Humay Yessin, and players Kenneth Rollin, Ben Braun- um, Buddy Parker, Alex Groza, Cliff Barker, Dale Barnable, Jack Tingle, James Lane, and Wallace Jones. The booth will accommodate four organizations at a time, and bulletin board space will be made available. Student organizations wanting to use the booth are asked to make application in the director's office.

A check for $750 was presented by the assembly to Tommy Gish for the Kentucky UK yearbook, at the regular meeting Monday, March 4, at the home of Mrs. M. A. Rich, as treasurer of the Women's Home Presidents' council.

Prizes of $100 for the course "A quarter and 10 in the fall was passed by the assembly. Formerly there were three elections each year.

Power to direct any student to appear before the assembly or a committee for an act deemed con- trary to SGA regulations was given to the SGA president, subject to assembly approval, in another amendment to the by-laws.

Nomination of five outstanding seniors to be honored by the Alumni Club is to be made by a com- mittee composed of Mary Keith Dos- ker, chairman, Elizabeth Carey, Jr., Eastman, and Dr. Hoversen, Beers, faculty member. If approved by the assembly, the five will be guests of the alumni at their April dinner meeting. One of the five will be chosen to be honored as a sabbatical honorarium member of the alumni executive board.

Final examinations for the present winter quarter will begin on Mon- day, March 17 and continue through Wednesday, March 19, the regis- trar's office announced this week.

In releasing the examination schedule for all colleges except law, the registrar's office emphasized the fact that any conflicts in the schedule must be reported to that of- fice by the instructor of the courses. Survey Finds Plenty Of Jobs Available For '47 Graduates

Will there be jobs for the classes graduating this year? In spite of some dire predictions concerning unemployment which have been issued by certain agencies in recent weeks, there is no evidence of a slackening of demand for university graduates, a survey of various departments and colleges at the University indicates.

Chemists, accountants, journalists, physicists, stenographers, teachers, physicists, assessmen—prospective employ- ers in many categories—are being called for daily by employers who write to the University for recom- mendations.

Take the matter of engineers, for example. Dean D. V. Yerrill of the College of Engineering said that there is a current shortage of approximately 50,000 engineers.

"We have opportunities for a great many more than we will be able to supply. Not only are organizations seeking the service of graduates, but of returned veterans out of college for two or three years. Almost every day, representa- tives are here to interview people we now have in the upper classes."

Almost the same conditions ap- pertain in the College of Commerce. Last week, about 200 students were interviewed in one day.

Dr. L. H. Carter, Professor of Economics, states that the "demand is greater than the supply in all kinds of jobs, but the most serious lies in the fields of accounting, philosophy, and sales."

In the various fields of journalis- tic employment, ranging from general publications through advertising and radio-journalism, there is no sign of a shrinking mar- ket for graduates, according to Dr. Niel Plummer, head of the depart- ment of journalism.

Even the last week alone we have received calls for ten graduates to take jobs. In as many cases as possible we are arranging for employ- ers to hold places for the next big class, which will be graduated in June."

Some of the students have already been part-time jobs around Lexing- ton, and should be well established by the time of their graduation, Dr. Plummer added.

Dr. William S. Webb, head of the Physics Department, says "There is a very definite shortage of trained physicists, and the shortage will continue for several years until the education process can catch up with the demand. It is highly probable that there will always be a demand for graduates of this institution were always placed long before the end of the school year."

Dr. Webb has been associated with the University for 12 years.

Perrine Talks On Radar AT&T Man Speaks To All Engineers

Mech "how it can be told" information on the wartime development and application of radar was the main theme of the demonstration lecture, "Radar in Microwaves," by J. O. Perrine, assistant vice president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Com- pany, given in the Student Union today in an all-engineering assembly.

In his talk, Dr. Perrine, who is noted for making technical subjects come alive to the layman, will de- scribe, among other things, the mar- ches of radar, the "electric eye" which enabled American flyers and vessels in the war to find enemy targets in fog, smoke and darkness.

Dr. Perrine, a graduate of Iowa, Michigan and Cornell universities, is a member of three honorary scholarship fraternities, Sigma Xi, Phi Delta Kappa, and Sigma Pi.

He served as a captain in World War I, at the Signal Corps Officers Training School at Yale university, and remained on the Yale engineering faculty until 1921, when he joined the research department of the American Telephone and Tele- graph Company.

Dr. Perrine is editor of the Bell System technical bulletin, "The Physical Properties of Dial Telephone Operation," and has been constantly occupied with research in tele- vision activities in the Bell Sys- tem. He is an editor of the Bell System technical bulletin.

In 1927 Dr. Perrine represented the Bell System at the World's Con- gress of Telephone Engineers and the World's Congress of Physicists, at Como, Italy; and in 1929 and 1930 he gave the de Forest lecture on communication at the Sheffield Scientific School, Yale University, in 1946 Dr. Perrine was awarded the

'No Comment' About Knox Threat To Sue, Says Dr. Donovan

Dr. H. L. Donovan, president of the University, said Tuesday that he has "no comment" to make upon reports that Knox is planning to sue the University to force it to issue a new state constitution in its publications.

"Knox originally demanded a Uni- versity statement in a Bulletin contain- ing an editorial favoring a new state constitution. President Donovan re- fused to issue such a statement last week defining the right of the University to print opinions of professors in college publications."

Chinese Scholar Will Teach History And Political Science

A Chinese author and scholar, Dr. No-Yong Park, will come to the University during the spring quarter as visiting professor of Far Eastern affairs in response to an in-creasing student interest in Chinese civilization, administration officials have announced.

"History of the Far East" and "Contemporary Far Eastern Problems," newly created courses, will be taught by Dr. Park, whose appointment was at their last meeting. The courses will be held in the Biological Sciences building.

Dr. Park is now on the west coast conducting a lecture tour under the sponsorship of Rotary International of Chicago. After this series of lec- tures is completed, the plan is to publish a book in the last decade. His latest work, "The White Man's Burden," is a compilation of historical treatises and acclaims the white man's con- tributions to peace. He also has had several articles on Far Eastern subjects published in the United States. Among these is an article in the September issue of "Current History," which foretold that General George Marshall would not suc- ceed in making peace in China.

Basketball Game, Melodrama Planned By WSSF Leaders

A women's basketball game and an old-fashioned melodrama with fac- tually members playing leading roles are scheduled to keep the World Stu- dent Service Fund campus drive mov- ing Monday and Tuesday, according to Charlie Boggs, publicity chairman.

The basketball game, between the Women's Athletic Association vary- sity and the Cincinnati university women's team, will be played at 7 p.m. Monday in Alumni gym. Pro- ceeds from the 25 cent admission will go to the fund.

Tentatively scheduled for Tuesday night is "Meditations to the Sublime," especially written for the event by William Hubbell. If the play goes through planned students of soci- eties will present a program between acts of the play.

Drive Opened Monday
The year's drive opened on the campus with a rally of all solicitors for "Operation University" in the Student Union Monday night. Over 125 solicitors, representing campus residence units and fraternal, reli- gious, and social groups heard Wend- ell Foundation, chairman of the drive, outline the program for the week. Co-chairman of the drive, Johnny Crockett and Howard Steinhorn, presided. Boggs gave a special talk on the progress made in informing students about WSSF.

Goal Of $8,555.55
Working toward a goal of $8,555.55 solicitors have approached students individually this week to urge that they support the reconstruction of college life throughout the world through WSSF. Contributors are given a receipt and a WSSF bag, especially designed for the UK campaign, which they are urged to wear throughout the drive.

A full report on the drive will be made public next week. Listing of contributions by fraternities, soci- eties, residence units and town sec- tions and per capita giving, by units, will be announced.

Prof. John Kulp, treasurer, re- ports that faculty and staff contri- butions average $5, but that only a small percentage have responded to the appeal. He added, however, that many faculty members have not had time to get contributions, and that many solicitors reports are not complete as yet, but Julie Maxwell, head of solicitations in Boyd Hall, has in- formed the committee that the average contribution there is over two dollars per student to date. Alpha Delta Pi representatives report aver- aging of one dollar per member in that sorority.

Writes Report
A report on the tests, written by Savage has just been released. It covers the data on conditions encountered in regard to weather, which varied from 32 degrees F. to -15 degrees F., winds of 10-15 miles per hour, and snow of 36 inches deep, and the many specific difficulties personnel and equipment found in trying to maintain efficient performance.

The conclusions reached by Savage in his report were: (1) the need for a thin, five fingered electrically heated glove for use with equipment with small dials, switches, buttons etc., with provision of a power plug right in the equipment; (2) Equipment requiring fine adjustments in the field should be redesigned to provide accuracy even with gloved hand operation, since a power supply may not be practical; (3) surveying apparatus; and (3) tank crews be supplied with electrically heated suits similar to those in the AAF, thus providing warm, streamlined gear which would result in more efficient crew operation.

Saw New Helicopter
As a sidelight, Savage, when interviewed, told of seeing the very new Bell YR-13 helicopter in operation and talking to Bell Aircraft officials there to observe its flights. The YR-13 is the latest and most practical development yet for rescue and relief work, along with the helicopter's multitude of other uses.

The report, as promised, suggests several possibilities for research that may be initiated on the UK campus. Specific plans for such work have not been made as yet, however.

VETS NEWS

By Claude S. Sprowls

On January 6, 1947, Mrs. Edith Norris, Rogers of Massachusetts, chairman of the House Committee on Veterans' Legislation, introduced in congress H. R. Bill No. 488, amending the G. I. Bill and eliminating the subsistence ceilings.

The Reemployment and Retraining Administration of the Department of Labor reports that more than three out of four war veterans, enrolled in educational or training courses under the G. I. Bill when the subsistence ceilings went into effect last August, have had or will have their subsistence allotments reduced or eliminated. Thousands of students have been forced to quit because of financial conditions brought about by the ceiling limits.

The amendments passed during the closing days of the 79th Congress, provided a total income ceiling of $200 for married student-veterans and trainees and $175 for veterans without dependents drawing subsistence payments under the G. I. Bill. In other words, if additional earnings plus subsistence payments exceed $200, the subsistence payments must be reduced accordingly.

The average unmarried veteran enrolled in college under terms of the G. I. Bill and living on the campus must pay $32.23 of his $65 monthly subsistence allowance for room and board alone, leaving only $32.77 for other necessities such as laundry, insurance, carfare, and clothing, according to a nationwide survey conducted in December, 1946, by the American Council on Education.

A married student-veteran with more than one child, who must reside off the campus, pays a monthly average of $140.96 for food and lodging for himself and his family, according to the survey, leaving a deficit of $50.56 below his monthly subsistence allowance of $90.

It is clear that with the increased cost of living it is impossible for married men to live on any such income; and by comparison, it is interesting to note that even the page boys in the House and Senate receive approximately $225 per month and, being under seventeen years of age, they are entitled to their education free. Mrs. Rogers agrees that increases are necessary for in a signed article appearing in a January issue of the Boston Herald, she wrote: "The present ceilings are very unfair. Some ceilings appear to be necessary, but they certainly must be increased."

Copies of H. R. Bill 488 may be had by addressing requests to Claude S. Sprowls, in care of The Kernel office.

Fast-Breaking Wildcats Win Ninth SEC Title

Kentucky has its ninth Southeastern Conference basketball championship and fourth in a row. Loop schools are beginning to wonder if the boys of Rupp and Ready will ever relinquish their perch atop the league.

Their latest laurels were attained in record-breaking, opponent-smashing performances as the Cats rolled to victory in the fourteenth renewal of the conference tourney in Louisville's Armory last week. The Bluegrass basketballers blasted Vanderbilt, 58-29, then hapless Auburn, 54-18. Georgia Tech fell 75-52 to semi-finals, before surprising Tulane acquiesced to a third but triumphant Wildcat assault, 55-38, in the windup.

The tournament would have been very dull indeed had it not been for the spectacular demonstration of basketball staged by the polished products of Coach Adolph Rupp. Cliff Barker, versatile Cat forward, was the talk of the town with his agile antics on the Louisville court. Rollins, Holland, Line and Jones all seemed to have reached their peak for the season during the four important contests. Rollins, playing seasonal ball and masterfully directing the favorites, racked up 40 points, as did freshman Jim Line. "Wah-Wah" Jones, however, was the leading scorer with 50 markers in the 190 minutes that he played. Most of the time he was in the game, big "Wah" was all over the court and against Auburn he hit his season-high 18 tallies on seven goals and four free tosses. Holland never played better this season. The Benton Ky. basketballer was, as usual, all over the boards, both on offense and defense, came through with markers in the four games. Holland got 14 points against Tech to share high scoring honors for that tilt with colorful Barker. Line, the left-handed ace from Akron, rained Vandy with 20 points in the opening scuffle, collected nine against the Engineers from Atlanta, and cut the cords for 11 tallies in the one-sided Auburn game Friday night. Line looked like a veteran playing in the tourney, hitting about fifty percent of his tries.

Kentucky 98, Vanderbilt 29

The bewildered and inexperienced Commodores of Vanderbilt were continually tormented by Barker, Line and eight other Kentucky crushers. The score rapidly moved to amazing proportions, going up to 48-14, 77-15, 86-19, 91-23 and then 98-29, for the most one-sided contest in SEC tournament history. In the final moments, the Cats tried to push it to the 100 mark, but time ran out.

Kentucky 84, Auburn 18

Making 50 percent of their shots in the first half, Kentucky pulled away from the Plainsmen from Ala-

ma. Every eager on the Wildcat team scored. Jones was high with 18; Line had 11; and Barker hit for 9 to lead the colossal Cats.

In this game, Adolph Rupp had many uncomfortable moments for Alex Groza was shaken up early in the game and left after eight minutes of playing time had elapsed. Jones took his place. Then in the second part, Beard was kicked accidentally by a fellow-player and had to leave the game with a painful back injury. However, both of these stellar players were back on Saturday morning to start against Georgia Tech.

Kentucky 75, Georgia Tech 53

Holland and Rollins were hot in the opening chapter of this semi-final session. The former pushed in 18 points, while Rollins had 8 at the mid-way point of the struggle. Tech was much more stubborn than the two previous foes that UK had met thus far. Pawson, Anderson, Nolan and Broyles were able to break the Big Blue defense once in a while to keep near the fast-breaking netters from Lexington.

Kentucky 55, Tulane 38

In their second game of the scheduled season Kentucky has beaten the Green Wave group from New Orleans, La., by 29 points, 64-35, in a game played in the Cats' air on Euclid avenue.

For the first 25 minutes of the championship game Saturday, it appeared as if Tulane might turn the tables and give UK a real battle. With Alex Groza again riding the bench after playing only nine minutes, Tulane actually kept up with the Wildcat wonders in a fast-breaking, hard-fought fracas. The score moved from 4-4 to 8-4, 14-15, 18-17 and then 23-20 to end the see-saw first portion with UK ahead five points. Groza, despite his ailing back, re-entered the game when Tomcat Temple was forced to leave due to an injured ankle. Jones was switched from center to forward when giant Groza returned. Tulane in the first half, displayed rare speed and agility much to the surprise of the 7,500 partisan rooters. However, in the second half, Tulane was noticeably tired and this slowed the game up considerably. The Wickliffe wonder, Ken Rollins hit the hoop from any and all angles, and with plenty of aid from Holland gradually pulled away from the tired Tulane team. It went 31-22, 42-29, 48-32 and then 55-38.

UK Scorers

Jones was high man for the tourney with 50 points in the four games. Rollins got 40, the same number as Line. Holland was fourth with 37 tallies, closely followed by Barker (36), Beard (25), Temple (25), Parker (22), Groza (17) and Barnstable (16).

Kentucky Cuemen Prepare For Tourney

By Winfield Leathers

Kentucky's pocket billiards team, winner of the South Central group in the Sectional Collegiate qualifying tournament, is doing much practicing this week in preparation for their bid for the Gene Tunney championship trophy two weeks hence.

The National Collegiate qualifying tournament, which is scheduled for March 19, will be held at the University a week earlier because of final examinations.

Kentucky's team, composed of Frank Griffin, captain, Louis Pope, Russell Hughes, William Jones, and John Victor, will be pitting its ability against Ohio State, Minnesota, and Oklahoma, winners of the New England and Eastern, North Central, and Western sections, respectively.

Minnesota broke two world records by the 29 Kentucky team in the tourney held two weeks ago. Thus, this year's UK team will have two goals in its match next week: to bring the Tunney championship trophy to Lexington, and to top the national records set by Minnesota.

The local contest will be held in the Student Union game room on March 12, and will begin at 6:30 p.m., but how the result stacks up with the scores of the other competing schools will not be known until a week later.

I-M Bowling Tourney Starts Today

PDT's, DTD's Win First Round Byes

By O. C. Hysard

Four intramural bowling teams start the balls rolling this afternoon in a three-day, sudden-death tourney. The tourney is a six-team event with the two top seeded teams automatically drawing byes and advancing to Monday afternoon's semi-finals.

The three teams going in the play-off from division I were the Phi Deltis with 16 wins out of 18, the Phi Sigs with 16 victories, and the ATO's with 12 wins. The Phi Deltis were seeded as the No. 1 team by virtue of their wins over the Phi Sigs.

From division II, the Deltis and the KA's with 14 and 13 wins respectively advanced to the elimination tourney. The Kappa Sig and the Sigma Nus tied with nine all for the third place honors, and will have to roll a three game series to determine who enters the play-off. The Deltis were seeded from division II.

This afternoon's games, which start at 4 o'clock at the Bowl, bring together the ATO's and the KA's, and the PSI's and the winner of the Sigma Nus contest. Semi-finals are scheduled for Monday with the finals to be played Tuesday.

Badminton Hampered

Play in the badminton tournament has been hampered somewhat by Alumni gym being used for other things. Bill McCubbin, intramural director, said the balance of the games would probably have to be played in the U-High gym, and asks that all contestants keep close check with the bulletin board.

Finals in the singles are still scheduled for Monday night. The semi-final contestants are Larrard, PKT, vs. Rush, DTD, and Sprovs, ATO, vs. Smith, LXA. The doubles have progressed to the finals with the LXA team of Smith and Duncas pitted against the ATO combination of Angerick and Eschborn.

Ping pong has been dragging and most of the quarter finals still remain to be played in the singles. The doubles semis will feature McLain and Dougherty, DTD, playing Hanley and Smith, LXA, and Hatchett and Corman, Alpha Sigma Phi, against Rush and Montgomery, ATO.

Boxing And Wrestling Ready

McCubbin announced that boxing and wrestling will be the first sports offered in the spring quarter. Registration for these sports will begin with the new quarter. However, all persons interested should see McCubbin and make arrangements to work out in the gym. The gym is open throughout the day, and there are weights, gloves, bags, and other equipment for training.

Each contestant will be required to be in good physical condition, and should spend a minimum of time in the gym conditioning. Both sports will be divided into weight divisions.

Inclement weather last Saturday kept the Kentucky fencing club from making their trip to Charleston, W. Va., to achieve their first win this season. The bladesmen made an attempt to travel, but after slipping off the icy road twice before 10 miles, Coach Miller Holland decided the risk was too great.

However, Coach Holland has not given up hope for avenging the UK fencers' first defeat and has written the Charlestantians in an effort to reschedule the match for March 20.

MUSING with Melton

By Baxter Melton, Kernel Sports Editor

As synonymous as Kentucky's own winning basketball are Bowen Chest and Dan Tehan with officiating the cage sport. Both were on hand again last week for the Southeastern Conference tournament in Louisville, the seventh consecutive SEC meet they have "called" together.

Chest, however, has called every one of 'em since the first eliminations in 1933. Prior to that he did the whole thing at two Southern Conference show-downs. Each side several Kentucky scheduled starts annually. Chest has worked six Cat clashes this season. Tehan, four. Tehan, by the way, called his first basketball game in Alumni gym February 23, 1929 when Kentucky topped Ole Miss, 32-21.

Chest From Nashville, Tehan From Cincinnati
During the off season Chest serves as business manager of the Nashville Linn Supply Co. In peacetime he attended Hume-Pogg high school there, made all-state in basketball four straight years to establish something of a record. At Cumberland university he was more active in baseball, for in those days—the late 20's—the hardcourt sport had not attracted the attention it now enjoys.

Tehan is a graduate of Xavier university in Cincinnati, played on the football and basketball squads. As a griddle he was a back, made the All-Ohio eleven, was given honorable mention of the All-Midwest. In cage competition he was standing as a guard—one of those old lusted glories that just about did what the position suggests, he laughingly recalls. While Chest confines his decisions to net tilts, Tehan calls in on football and baseball as well, thinks the diamond sport the hardest to officiate. For several years he umpired in the American Association, Piedmont and Mid-Atlantic baseball leagues, now calls several games each fall in the National Professional Football League. A restaurant in Cincinnati known as Tehan's Pub is his business interest.

"Let 'em Ho!"
Most remarkable about the manner in which these two "bated eyes" do a game is the nonchalance with which they work, the apparent ease in their working a contest. It comes from their long experience, no doubt, and their appearance in many games each year. Each averages about 60 each winter, so the matter assumes something of the routine. Also quite obvious is their deaf ears to raucous from the crowd, hecklers in the stands. "Fans pay to get in, that gives 'em a right to an opinion," both will tell you.

Chest's hobby is fishing, and he hasn't pass up many chances to angle in the streams in his area. Tehan likes handball for diversion, plays daily at the Fenwick Club in Cincinnati.

Both coincidentally are 40, and as most fast agree—among the best in the business.

Sportsmanship of a most commendable nature was displayed by Tulane, Louisiana State, Kentucky, and Georgia Tech in the SEC eliminations. Fair play as exhibited by these quartets was especially obvious, since they were the last four fires in the meet. Among early losers Florida and Mississippi were a credit to the conference, but two teams in particular cast a bad light on the league by a first-round slug-

Cats Meet Owls In Armory, Go To New York Next Week

Injuries May Hinder UK Against Temple

Excellent is the rating for the jobs turned out by Cliff Wells at Tulane and Harry Ravenhorst at Louisiana State in lifting these two schools from the basketball basement. An over-emphasis on football at these institutions has kept hoop hopefuls in the background for many years. These two are on their way up the ladder, as well as other league entries.

Never before and probably never again will the tournament assume the complex it did this year. That the champion would be Kentucky was not very much doubt, but the whole tourney seemed dominated by the Bluegrass basketballers. The question was not so much who would get to the finals, as who would make the best showing against Rupp's Rifles. Louisiana State's semi-final upset by Tulane was probably augmented by its thinking ahead to the night clash with the Cats, not enough concentration on the Cavaliers until it was too late.

The Tulane roster is full of lower classmen, is sure to be a power in future bouts for the hunting. Dwyer Wells they will always play a hustling, heads-up game, and talent is beginning to enroll at the New Orleans institution.

What Xavier Thinks

Xavier's school paper last week added more honors for the Kentucky Wildcats hoopers. Selections were:
Best all-around team, Kentucky
Best defensive team, Kentucky
Smoothest offense, Marshall
Best players:
Forwards, Hall (Marshall), and Bolton (Xavier); Center, Groza (Kentucky); Guards, Rollins (Kentucky), and Zuber (Tulane).

Good Track Year Forecast As 38 Candidates Report

Kentucky is taking up track on a full scale again after a lay-off of four years, and Coach Phil Hudson says that he expects to send a full squad of at least 16 men to the Southeastern conference meet in Baton Rouge, La., early in May.

Coach Hudson has announced that he is holding a very important meeting for all track tryouts this afternoon at 4 o'clock on the gym floor.

Thirty eight aspirants for track honors have reported thus far, including three of the four men UK sent to last year's tourney. These three are Charles Ruppard, Jim Weber, and George Blanda. Ruppard ran the mile and the half mile, while Blanda, football quarterback for the past two seasons, hurled the javelin. Weber earned 14 points for the University in this meet. This fall track man, six feet, seven inches, entered the high jump, the discus throw, and the 120 high and low hurdles. Despite spraining an ankle in a semi-final heat of 120 high hurdles and winning, he placed second in the final run. Last year's team had only one

UK Sets 11 Records
Eleven records were set by Kentucky's conquering Cats in their domination of the Southeastern Conference tournament.
Most points scored in one game—82 against Vanderbilt; in four games, 312; most points scored in one game by both teams—Kentucky 88, Vanderbilt 29; biggest margin—59 over Vandy; most tournaments won, nine; most times to reach finals—11; most points in tourney—312 (previous record also set by Kentucky in 1946 with 286); most consecutive titles—four; most field goals—137; most men on all-conference team—five; and most field goals in one game—44 against Vandy.

Five Cats On All-SEC

For the first time in Southeastern history, possibly any conference's annual, five players from one team were named on the all-league squad. Kentucky not only placed all the first five, but still another on the second team. In fact, most writers agree, were it not for the "looks of the thing," still other Cats would have been named.

Joe Holland and Jack Tingle, forwards, "Wah-Wah" Jones, center, and Ralph Beard and Captain Ken Rollins, guards, were the All-SEC selections. Jones' outstanding play after an injury kept Alex Groza on the honor roster. Groza was named on the second squad.

Cigarette Shortage Still Acute
Crowds Queue Up...Millions Try Different Brands...Smoke Whatever They Can Get

EXPERIENCE TAUGHT MILLIONS THE DIFFERENCES IN CIGARETTE QUALITY!
IT'S ONLY a memory now, the cigarette shortage. But it was during that shortage that people found themselves comparing brands whether they intended to or not. But, no matter how great the demand, this you can be sure of: We don't compromise with Camel quality.
