

Central Kentucky Jewish Federation

VOL. XIII

JANUARY 1990

NO. 1

On Super Sunday, you will receive a call from one of your neighbors asking you to help Jews in need at home, in Israel and around the world.

Don't put this call on hold. Too many people are waiting already.

Your support is essential to keep our Jewish community strong.

- To assure lives of dignity and self-reliance for the elderly.
- To help our youth understand the depth and richness of our Jewish culture.
- To help families find Jewish answers to the challenges imposed by a modern mobile society.

ANSWER THE CALL!

CKJF BUDGET & ALLOCATION PROCESS TO BEGIN

CKJF's Budget and Allocations Committee will meet next month to discuss which charities, besides the United Jewish Appeal, should receive money from the Federation.

The committee welcomes suggestions for funding, both for Jewish and non-Jewish charities. The deadline for submitting them is February 15, and they should be sent to the CKJF office.

CKJF sends 70 percent of the money it raises through the General Campaign to the UJA. Money contributed to designated funds such as Project Renewal is used only for that purpose.

Administrative expenses are taken from the remaining 30 percent.

The balance at the end of the fiscal year is then combined with other federation income, such as interest on investments, and is distributed to other charities.

Funding recommendations of the Budget and Allocations Committee must be approved by the CKJF board. After this year's recipients are designated, a list will be published in the CKJF bulletin.

Chairing this year's B & A Committee is Bob Baumann. Serving with him are Gail Cohen, Alvin Goldman, Judy Levine, Simone Salomon and Merle Wekstein.

In 1989 over $33,000 was distributed to charities in the United States and abroad, aiding medical and welfare programs as well as educational institutions and youth activities. It included $12,600 in support of programs in Central Kentucky.

PASSAGE TO FREEDOM

The following individuals were inadvertently omitted from the listing of contributors to the Passage to Freedom campaign in the last bulletin:

Barbara Baumann
Steven & Susan Goldstein
David & Vivian Weil

PROGRAM COORDINATOR SEARCH CONTINUES

The Program Coordinator will be a part-time employee of approximately 1,000 hours per year and be directly responsible to the Executive Director. The Coordinator will provide programming assistance to all CKJF committees with primary focus towards the Community Activities and Community Relations committees, as well as local Soviet resettlement, and assistance to the Executive Director as necessary.

Among the duties on behalf of CKJF committees will be the organization and scheduling of committee meetings, programs, and projects; arrangements for out-of-town visitors; production and distribution of correspondence; materials and documents appropriate for committee meetings and functions; advertising and publicity arrangements for committee programs. The program coordinator will work closely with the committee chairpersons and the Executive Director.

The desired qualifications include a college degree, strong interpersonal skills and abilities, experience in organization and program activities, and flexibility. Salary negotiable. Resume to: Central Kentucky Jewish Federation, 333 Waller Ave., Suite 5, Lexington, KY. 40504.

EXHIBIT SHIFTS TO TRANSYLVANIA UNIVERSITY

The CKJF exhibit, "Jewish Life in Central Kentucky: Shalom Y'All," completed a very successful showing at the main branch of the Lexington Public Library. The opening day's events were attended by a large audience who listened to Dr. Lee Shai Weissbach of the University of Louisville. He spoke on the history of the Jewish community in Central Kentucky. A lively question-and-answer session followed his presentation.

The exhibit is presently at the Transylvania University Library throughout the month of January.

An audio tape of Dr. Weissbach's presentation is available for loan from the CKJF Office (252-7622).

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE THE RUSSIAN JEWS ARE COMING!

The Russian Jews are coming! The Russian Jews are coming!

The CKJF Board voted unanimously to resettle three to five Soviet Jewish families in Lexington this year. The decision at the December Board Meeting was a response to the dramatic easing of Soviet emigration restrictions bringing the monthly emigrants to over ten thousand with projections of several hundred thousand over the next few years. The great majority will resettle in Israel. Approximately 50,000 are anticipated to come to the United States in the next year or two.

Because the large cities, which have been the primary resettlement centers, simply can not take all of the families, smaller Jewish communities across the country are urgently requested to accept families.

To have a successful resettlement program in Lexington, we will be calling on many of you to help provide and locate housing, furnishings, employment opportunities, health and social service needs, language training and interpreters, and general assistance in establishing a new life in a new country.

We are thrilled and thankful to be permitted to play this role. At the same time we think and pray for those still in the Soviet Union and other countries who are persecuted and unable to seek a new life.

We look forward to your support and aid in this truly important and life giving program.

RABBI ADLAND TO VISIT CENTRAL AMERICA

Rabbi Jon Adland will be a member of a five-person delegation to visit Jewish communities in Central America, February 11-18, 1990. The delegation is being organized by the World Union for Progressive Judaism. The trip will include visits to liberal Jewish groups in Mexico City (three days), Guatemala City (one day), and San Jose, Costa Rica (three days). He plans to contact emerging Jewish liberal and progressive groups to determine their needs and to learn how the Lexington community can help them. The cost of Rabbi Adland's trip is being assisted with monies from Central Kentucky Jewish Federation and Temple Adath Israel. For additional information, contact Rabbi Adland at the Temple (269-2979)

ETHIOPIAN EMERGENCY EXISTS

Although more Ethiopian Jews are emigrating due to better relations between Ethiopia and Israel, most Jews in this war-torn country are desperately in need of help.

Those living in a slum community outside Addis Ababa have no means of support. Others in Gondar are trapped between warring armies amid hostile people who have burned their Torahs, raped their women, and sold their young girls into slavery.

Our contributions to the CKJF-UJA campaign assists the efforts to relieve the terrible conditions existing in Ethiopia. The American Joint Distribution Committee, which is funded by UJA; therefore by us, is the agency which assists Jews throughout the world who are in distress.

We encourage you to send letters to the President, Kentucky senators and congressmen, and Secretary of State Baker to call their attention to the plight of the Ethiopian Jews and to demonstrate the American Jewish community's concern about them.

DON'T MISS A UJA MISSION

As I sit here this dreary Sunday, January 14, I'm thinking that a year ago today nineteen of us from Lexington were boarding an El-Al flight in New York. Can a year really have flown by since then? Our UJA Mission last January 15th-25th was a special occasion to share Israel with good friends and new friends from Omaha, South Bend, and other communities around the Midwest. Our group bonded right away and we spent nine great days seeing Israel from north to south and east to west (all 15 miles wide across the midsection!). Israel, as a vacationer or as a mission participant, is an indescribable trip for first time travelers and for our dozenth trip too.

Susan and I have been on several types of trips to Israel before, but UJA Missions are the most unforgettable. The programming with government leaders, everyday Israelis, soldiers at the borders, newly arrived immigrants, relatives, old friends, and the sharing with new friends makes for a rich range of emotion. The pride in seeing the Jewish homeland and the institutions which we have created in just a few years warms even the coldest of doubters. We've been most places we ever dreamed about going, but we're always ready to return and renew our ties in Israel.

If you've never been to Israel, you owe it to yourself, your spouse and your children to see first hand the Jewish homeland. What better way than a UJA Mission? UJA arranges all of the details, gets you the least expensive price for five star accommodations, and the entire trip is tax deductible. Sure, you have to make a pledge, but wouldn't you do it anyway? So what are you waiting for? It's 1990 and time to expand your horizons. Call the CKJF office (252-7622, 252-7600) or me (266-1314) and let us put you in touch with an upcoming trip. You'll thank us!

THIS YEAR IN JERUSALEM!

CALLING ALL CAMPERS

Summer is still far away, but it's never too early for parents to start thinking about camps for their children. The following four should appeal to the young in heart and body:

Camp Shalom: A three-week day camp for children ages 4-8. The 4-5 age group will attend for half a day; the 6-8 group for a full day (9 a.m.-3 p.m.).

Located in the Richmond Road area, Camp Shalom will hold its 22nd session from June 4 - 22. For additional information contact Terry Goldfarb (223-9521), Camp Shalom Chair.

G.U.C.I.: Located in Zionsville, Indiana (a 3-4 hour drive from Lexington), the camp is for boys and girls entering grades 4 through 10.

There are two sessions: June 19 - July 15 and July 17 - August 12. In addition, there is an OVFTY Institute from August 13 - August 19 for members in grades 9-12 and an AVODAH work/study program from June 13 - August 12 for campers entering the 11th grade.

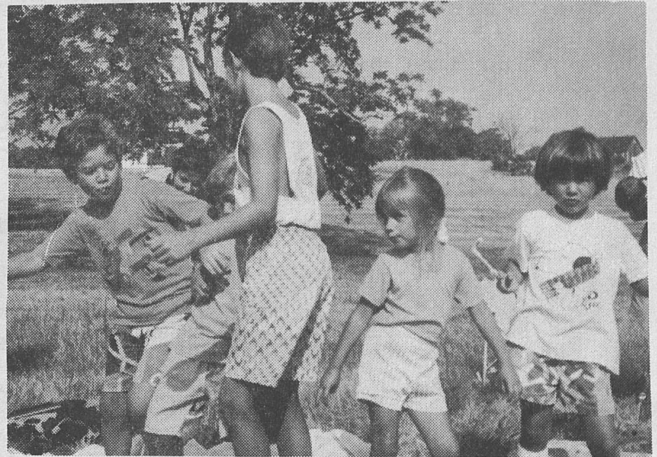

A Union of American Hebrew Congregations' camp, G.U.C.I. will be having its 32nd season of Reform Judaism programming. For an application form and a brochure or additional information, call the Temple office (269-2979) or contact the Camp Director, Rabbi Ronald Klotz, 9349 Moore Road, Zionsville, IN 46077, (317) 873-3361.

Camp Young Judaea: A residential camp for youngsters ages 8-15 with June 25 - July 18, July 23 - August 15, July 23 - August 5 (only children entering grades 3 & 4) sessions. Campers may attend one or two sessions. Sponsored by Hadassah, CYJ is located in Waupaca, Wisconsin, a 2 1/2 hour drive north of Milwaukee. For a brochure and additional information, contact Dawn Jacobs, 273-0539.

Camp Anytown: A program of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, the camp is located near Litchfield, Kentucky. Designed for students entering their junior or senior high school years, Anytown offers a rich human relations experience by providing campers an opportunity to live for a week (June 10-16) with others from different racial, religious, and cultural backgrounds and to discuss such topics as parental relationships, sex roles, stress, and prejudice.

For further information about Camp Anytown, contact Lauren Weinberg, 277-4434.

As in previous years, camperships are available from CKJF to children in the Jewish community who wish to attend a non-profit Jewish camp. These camperships are based on need and all information is kept confidential. Also, scholarships (not based on need) to help defray the cost of attending Camp Anytown are available. For further information on camperships or scholarships, contact the CKJF office (252-7622 or 252-7600).

UNITING THE GENERATIONS THROUGH GIVING

Super Sunday '90

February 25, 1990

For the eighth consecutive year, the Central Kentucky Jewish community joins Jews in communities around the nation in holding a day-long, fund-raising phonathon. A major objective this year is to enlighten the Jewish community about the diversity of recipients who benefit from your contribution to this campaign.

When you help in "Uniting the Generations Through Giving," you strengthen the quality of life for the people of Israel; sustain Jewish life throughout the world; and build the communal life of the Central Kentucky Jewish community.

Money raised on Super Sunday helps provide opportunities for Jews locally, overseas, and in Israel. Your dollars support numerous programs in Central Kentucky, which provide educational and community services to everyone from Jewish youth to Jewish elderly:

- $25 - pays a month's rent for an elderly Jewish couple in Sousse, Tunisia
- $40 - helps send a child to Camp Shalom
- $200 - provides 100 meals at Community Kitchen
- $300 - provides a month's care in a hostel for an elderly immigrant to Israel
- $800 - provides annual funds for Central Kentucky's Transient Relief
- $2000 - subsidizes as many as five young people to Jewish summer camps associated with the Lexington Jewish community
- $4800 - provides a year of learning and working on a kibbutz to a new immigrant family

Many members of the Jewish community are already involved in this effort. Ellie and Alvin Goldman, Sara Hoffman, Charles Stern, Nancy Hoffman, Vicki Doukas, Stephanie Gilinsky, Liz and Bruce Broudy, Abe and Judy Levine, and Leon Cooper all have volunteered their time to coordinate key functions in this campaign. You can join your friends in this important effort and help to "UNITE THE GENERATIONS THROUGH GIVING." Volunteers are urgently needed.

Please contact the CKJF office (252-7622) or complete and mail the following form to the CKJF, 333 Waller Ave., Suite 5, Lexington, KY. 40504.

PROJECT RENEWAL: PHASE II NEW DIRECTIONS

Project Renewal is a comprehensive, people-to-people, partnership program linking Jews from North America with Israelis in order to rehabilitate and revitalize disadvantaged neighborhoods and regions in Israel, both socially and economically.

Project Renewal aims radically to upgrade the quality of life in those neighborhoods, creating massive improvement in Israel nationwide. It will do so by working with Israelis neighborhood by neighborhood and block by block, helping the residents to help themselves.

Lexington, having fulfilled its commitment to the Netanya-Sela Community is now twinned with the Givat Harakasat Senior Citizens Day Care Center in Kiryat Ata.

The Lexington pledge of $200,000 paid over a 10 year period provides programming in an existing facility financed by a consortium of Federations from Massachusetts. One hundred to one hundred twenty individuals attend the center daily and benefit from activities including courses in Hebrew, Gymnastics and Drama. Twenty-two to thirty handicapped individuals are transported to the center and benefit from hot meals, occupational therapy, laundry and shower facilities. The center also delivers meals to people restricted to their homes and provides laundry services and special visits and gifts for the holidays for these individuals.
