Information For The Working Press And Radio

The Stoll Field press box, re-built entirely during 1949-50 at a cost of more than $30,000, is believed to be one of the most modern in the country. Among the unusual facilities of this "eye in the sky" are two unique press-radio lounges located on the second floor at both ends of the box, and heat-resisting, glare-reducing plate glass panels increasing visibility of the field. Working spaces in the press section are 30 inches in width and radio crews have booths approximately eight feet square to work in. The press section of the heated and ventilated box has two levels occupying the first floor and the radio section is located on the second floor. Restrooms are located near the entrances at both ends of the press box, which stretches between the 25-yard stripes.

Admission to the press box is limited to male working members of the press and radio, statistical and clerical assistants, scouts, and certain other athletic representatives. Space assignment inquiries should be directed to the Sports Publicity Editor in care of either the Department of Public Relations or the Department of Athletics, University of Kentucky, Lexington.

Sideline passes will be issued to accredited photographers and assistants. Space for newsreel men and photographers working with telephoto lens will be made available upon request to the Sports Publicity Editor. Complimentary press-radio tickets for seats in the stands are awarded only by the University Complimentary Ticket Committee and are issued prior to the opening of the season.

Radio stations desiring to broadcast Kentucky's home football contests must first secure a permit from the University Radio Director. Address requests to Elmer G. Sulzer, University of Kentucky Radio Studios, Lexington. Tickets will be issued to the working crew by the Sports Publicity Office upon notification that a permit has been granted. Spotters are available to sportcasters if requested in advance. Kentucky's current broadcast policy prohibits simultaneous television of home games, but permits delayed televising of motion pictures of the game upon advance approval by the University.

Newspaper and radio representatives should order their own line facilities through the Lexington Telephone Company and Western Union to assure reservation of direct lines and loops from the press box. Permanent installations in the Stoll Field box include 12 direct WU circuits and nine telephone loop outlets which can be routed to any point in the country. Hotel reservations should be made direct. Among the better hotels are the Lafayette, Phoenix and Kentuckian, all in downtown Lexington and within a few blocks of the stadium. All assistance possible will be rendered by the Sports Publicity Office.

Programs, brochures, current rosters on both teams, mimeographed running play-by-play accounts, halftime and final individual-team statistics, substitution and scoring summaries, and other pertinent information will be supplied the working press and radio. Starting lineups will be announced over the Public Address system and may be checked against the probable starters listed on the center spread of the program. Mimeographed explanation of band maneuvers and halftime entertainment also will be distributed.

Refreshments will be served to your seats at halftime and coffee or Coca Cola may be obtained anytime from the attendant. Outside telephone service is available.

When leaving the press box late after the game, you will find a gate open under the West end (your left facing from the press box) of the stands on the opposite side of the field. This gate is an exit to Euclid Ave., directly in front of the Memorial Coliseum.

Bryant Year V

The Outlook For 1950

How to mould a smattering of potentially good sophomores and an all-too-small group of seasoned veterans into a smooth-functioning, Gibraltar-strong front line may be the key problem in Kentucky Coach Paul Bryant's efforts to keep his Bluegrass grid machine on a winning plane in 1950.

Plagued most seriously by the loss of 16 lettermen from last season's "surprise team of the South," the Wildcat chieftain foresees many vulnerable spots in the combination slated to carry the Kentucky colors in the race for Southeastern and national honors.

In general, the biggest difficulties will revolve around an over-all lack of depth at most positions, especially in the line, of men with good sound football ability, the absence of team speed that characterized last year's aggregation, and particular weakness in the pass receiving and defensive secondary departments.

None, however, seems to quite as acute as the general lack of depth in the line caused by the absence of 10 key men who bolstered the forward wall rated at season's end as the toughest major-college line to score on and supported the Wildcats' claim to the nation's "best all-around defense" title. Only once in five Southeastern contests was Kentucky's goal line crossed during the 1949 campaign and, in 11 regular-season games prior to the Orange Bowl encounter, opponents were allowed an average of only 153.9 yards per game in combined rushing-passing offense.

A glance down the Wildcats' roster for the coming season reveals the cause for Bryant's worries in regard to the lack of impregnability in the forward wall. Although All-America tackle Bob Gain (Co-captain for 1950) returns for his final year of competition, the line otherwise shows signs of being only a shadow of its 1949 self with two ends and a tackle missing from the offensive starting lineup and a center, tackle, and end absent from the defensive squadron. The most serious losses were without doubt on defense in the persons of Capt. Harry Ulinski, 210-pound line-backing center, and hefty tackle Lloyd McDermott, both of whom were quickly grabbed up by the pro ranks.

Only one sophomore has proved a top-flight prospect for first-string line duty. Gene Donaldson, one of the most sought after rookies in the country a year ago, is expected to see a lot of guard duty. The East Chicago, Ind., schoolboy star stands 5-9 and tips the scales at 190. He was All-State three straight years at Roosevelt High school in the Chicago suburb, playing one season each as a tackle, fullback, and guard, and was state high school wrestling champion two years straight without ever losing a match.

Filling the remaining gaps in the all-important line, which Coach Bryant credits with playing a considerable part in Kentucky's best season in its football history last year, will be relatively inexperienced reserves and upcoming sophomore prospects. Starting berths are rated a toss up but one thing is certain—two platoon substitution, used so effectively by the Kentuckians last season, will be virtually abandoned in favor of a modified plan. According to Bryant, "the team just does not have the depth necessary for the platoon system and we plan to stick to it only partially, keeping our best 11 men on the field at all times necessary."

The Wildcats will again use the T-formation style of attack but there may be a few less complicated wrinkles in the offensive pattern this year.

Summing up the potentialities on the credit side of the 1950 prospects ledger, Bryant sagely points out that the services of 31 lettermen from the Orange Bowl squad will be available for assignments, the probability of a slightly better offense, a strengthened passing attack, and the prospect of material help from two prize rookies.

While he will not admit to having anywhere near the strength in depth of dependable reserves that was on tap last year, the Kentucky mentor will have the advantage of a seemingly sufficient number of returnees from the 44-man squad that represented the Bluegrass in the Orange Bowl classic. Also on hand will be upwards of 25 members of last season's freshman aggregation and 1949 B-team men. From among the group, Bryant will have to replace the 10 starters lost from last year's first offensive and defensive combinations.

The prospects of a "slightly improved" offense seems hinged to a large extent on an increase in the effectiveness of a passing attack already firmly impressive. Six veteran backfield men will be missing and all were primarily cogs in the ground attack. The Wildcats' 1950 backfield, without the services of such speed merchants as Don (Dopey) Phelps and ten-second-man Ralph Genito, will be lacking much of the demoralizing speed of last season as well as capable replacements. On the defensive side, the secondary also appears weak with four men missing from the group that lead the nation in pass interceptions during most of the season.

On the shoulders of the Southeastern Conference's top passer of 1949, Vito (Babe) Parilli, and a promising rookie flinger in the person of Bill Farley, sophomore all-state quarterback from Charleston, W. Va., rest Kentucky's chief hopes for a devastating aerial attack. The classy Parilli, as a yearling varsity man last season, topped all other SEC passers by hitting a receiver on 54 per cent of his tosses for a net gain of 1,081 yards. With a capable replacement behind him this year, observers look for the Wildcats to fill the air with passes in an effort to bolster a slightly-crippled ground attack. Passing efficiency also will depend greatly on the finding of capable replacements for the team's four top flankmen lost via graduation route.

While Coach Bryant is not overly-optimistic about the crop of sophomore prospects reporting for varsity duty, he freely singles out Gene Donaldson and Bill Farley as the "best bets" to see action with the regulars. Donaldson likely will grab a left guard berth on either offense or defense and Farley can be depended upon to press passing-ace Parilli in the T-quarterback position.

Facing a difficult, 11-game schedule again this season, the Wildcats will have to settle their problems quickly. It will be imperative for them to round into top form to avoid being knocked out of title and bowl contention by early engagements with such powerhouses as Louisiana State, last year's Sugar Bowl runner-up, and Mississippi, hotly seeking revenge for a crushing defeat at the Cats' hands last season. Later engagements call for top-notch play against such standout elevens as Cincinnati, Villanova, Georgia Tech, Florida, Mississippi State, and Tennessee.

Origin Of "Wildcats" Nickname

Kentucky's athletic teams are known to sports fans as the Wildcats. This first and only nickname borne by University varsities had its origin in 1909 in a speech made by Commandant Carbusier, then head of the military department of old State University. Speaking to a chapel audience of students on the showing of the Kentucky football team in defeating Illinois six to two, the Commandant declared "they fought like Wildcats." The tag was popularized by word of mouth and by the press with the result that it has since become synonymous with all major Kentucky athletic teams.

While the name is old in origin, no claim is made regarding precedence over similar nicknames boasted by Northwestern, Villanova and other schools.

An alumnus in 1947 presented a live Kentucky Wildcat to SUKY, student pep organization. Named "The Colonel," the cat is cared for by the group and is displayed in a cage on the sidelines at all home football games.

The Bryant Story

One of the nation's outstanding young football mentors, Paul Bryant's name has become synonymous in the South with the rise to national prominence of Kentucky's Bluegrass Wildcats.

In four seasons at the helm of the Kentucky football machine, the 36-year-old former Alabama star has lifted the victory-famished Wildcats out of the doldrums of the Southeastern Conference football cellar and firmly established them as one of the nation's leading elevens.

To accomplish this assignment, which few young coaches would have cared to risk their futures on, the former Crimson Tide flankman successfully battled difficulties built up over a long period of years and fielded teams equal in calibre to the best conference gridiron aggregations.

The outcome of the efforts of Bear Bryant and his staff of capable assistants has been Kentucky's best record in the modern history of the school, its first major post-season bowl (Orange Bowl) appearance, and the promise of even better times to come.

A native of Fordyce, Arkansas, Bryant starred in football under Frank Thomas at Alabama from 1933-35, climaxing his collegiate career as the Tide's regular right end by playing on the famous 'Bama Rose Bowl eleven of 1935. While generally overlooked in press notices and by fans watching the great Don Hutson perform at the opposite end, Bryant nevertheless was singled out to become a Thomas assistant following graduation in 1936.

After four seasons at the Capstone, he moved to Vanderbilt in 1939 as line coach and worked with the Commodores two years before entering the Navy in the war year of 1941. Shortly after his return from overseas service in Africa in 1945, the war ended and Lieutenant Commander Bryant was discharged.

With the football season fast approaching, he accepted position of the head gridiron coach at the University of Maryland. In one year at the Old Liner school, he gave the Terps their best football record in history — six victories, two losses and a tie.

Moving to Kentucky for the 1946 season, Bryant took just one year to accomplish the seemingly-miraculous feat of rebuilding the shattered foundations of Kentucky football into a solid front that resulted in a season record of seven victories against three defeats — the Wildcats' most successful campaign since 1912. During the next year, he piloted the Wildcats to a similarly-successful campaign (seven wins and three losses) for the regular season and then added a triumph over Villanova in the Great Lake Bowl inaugural at Cleveland — Kentucky's first bowl appearance.

The 1948 season saw the Wildcat mentor without the services of nine first-string players and the resulting 5-3-2 record surprised even the most optimistic observers. The only losses were to the three teams who finished first, second, and fourth in the conference race.

An even greater surprise was in store for the football world in 1949. The fourth chapter in the Bryant story at Kentucky proved a brilliant one as the youthful mentor's charges accomplished goals no other Kentucky team had managed to attain in the school's 61-year football history — finished second in the conference race and participated in a major post-season bowl game.

Prior to the Bryant era, the Wildcats gained seventh place in the conference standings twice to mark their best efforts in 58 SEC games over a 12-year period. Under Bryant, the fast-rising Cats took just four seasons and 20 conference tilts to finish breathing down the neck of the league leader and accept an invitation to perform in the Orange Bowl. The 1949 record, prior to the close decision (13-21) lost to Santa Clara in the bowl, was marred by only two defeats — Southern Methodist (7-20) and Tennessee (0-6) — in an eleven-game regular season.

Professional and collegiate clubs alike have tried to lure the amazingly successful, 36-year-old mentor into lusher fields, but Paul Bryant chooses to remain at the challenging job of building Kentucky football into "big-time" prominence.

The Wildcat Offense

SYSTEM—Kentucky will stick to the T-formation style of attack in 1950, but it's likely play patterns will be more streamlined. Possibly some split-T formations will be introduced. Two-platoon substitution, used so effectively last season, is expected to be virtually abandoned due to a lack of depth.

AERIAL ATTACK—With the good right arm of Babe Parilli, the Southeastern Conference's leading passer as a sophomore last season, to depend on this year, the Wildcats can be expected to fill the air with passes — if capable receivers can be uncovered. Passing efficiency will depend on the development of replacements for the team's four top flankmen lost via the graduation route. A top-flight soph prospect, quarterback Bill Farley, stands ready to lend superb assistance in the passing department.

RUNNING GAME—Crippled by the loss of six veteran backfield speed merchants, the ground attack is a big question mark in Kentucky's offensive plans. The '49 speed can not be equalled nor can the depth of capable performers be matched. Diminishing speed should make for less effective outside running, possibly add to power of inside attack.

PUNTING—At the forefront in this department will be Dom Fucci (35.6 yards per try in 1949) and Clayton Webb (34.0 yards average). Quarterback Babe Parilli (30.1 average) may do some of the chore also. The punting game will be no better than last year unless unexpected improvement develops.

EXTRA POINTS—KICKOFFS—Halfback Bobby Brooks, who equalled the SEC record at 17 consecutive points after touchdown successfully made but missed on the 18th try, probably will get the PAT assignment. Kicking off in all probability will be Zaranka, Gain or Ignarski. QB Parilli or Co-Capt. Jamerson probably will hold for extra point tries.

DEFENSIVE GAME—Expected to be considerably weaker due to graduation losses of 10 key men in the forward wall and four defensive standouts in the secondary. The Wildcats last season earned the title of the nation's toughest major college eleven to score on as well as the country's No. 1 ranking for the best defense of any major grid team against combined rushing-passing. Kentucky also set a new, all-time major collegiate record for pass interception runback yardage in one season and established a single game team record by running back six intercepted Ole Miss aerials 240 yards.

SAFETY MEN—A question that may not be settled before mid-season. Last year's ace defensive safety man, Jerry Claiborne, graduated and left a big gap. Possible replacements are not numerous. Back for kickoff and punt returns most likely will be scatback Clark, Co-Capt. Jamerson, halfbacks Hamilton, Brooks or Harry Jones, or some other untested performer.

FIELD GENERALS—Kentucky will have co-captains for the first time this season as All-America tackle Bob Gain and stellar halfback Wilbur (Shorty) Jamerson share the honor. Babe Parilli or a quarterback replacement will call the signals in the huddle. The defensive signal caller has not been determined.

Summary By Positions

ENDS—Possibly weakest link in Wildcat attack . . . First four of last season lost and soph replacements not outstanding. Remaining men lighter, inexperienced.

TACKLES—Slightly weaker . . . Despite presence of All-America Bob Gain, the outlook here is far from encouraging. Defensive stalwarts lost and no soph replacements moving up fast.

GUARDS—Stronger . . . Veterans at this spot in the line more experienced and ranks strengthened by top flight soph prospect in person of Gene Donaldson.

CENTERS—Weaker . . . Captain Harry Ulinski, ace defensive anchor of last season's top line in the country, has graduated to the pro ranks. Regular offensive center Doug Moseley returns, but depth lacking and no soph help appears ready.

QUARTERBACKS—Strongest position in backfield . . . The SEC's passing champion as a sophomore, flinging Babe Parilli may hit his peak this season. Capable help stands ready from outstanding sophomore passer Bill Farley.

HALFBACKS—Weaker, especially on defense . . . With the loss of four men from the defensive secondary that established a new all-time major collegiate record for pass interception runback yardage last year, the halfbacks will be a problem. Speed demon Don (Dopey) Phelps and Jim Howe graduated to definitely slacken the team's offensive speed. Only one sophomore, Harry Jones, seems ready to give material help.

FULLBACKS—Strength in depth lacking . . . Bruising Bill Leskovar, leading ground gainer on the '49 team, remains and is only veteran at the position.

LEFT ENDS

JOHN NETOSKIE — Junior — 6-0 — 193 — 20 — New Kensington, Pa. Played major role in outstanding success of Kentucky's nation-ranking defensive unit last season . . . Cinched the Miami game (and thus a bid for his team to the Orange Bowl) when he snagged a Hurricane aerial and galloped 80 yards for a TD . . . His father is a grocer in New Kensington and John played track and basketball besides the grid sport at the local high school.

BEN ZARANKA — Senior — 6-3 — 188 — 22 — East Chicago, Ind. Tallest and most experienced of Wildcat flankmen . . . Has yet to hit expected peak performance due to injuries. Benny nevertheless, has been a generally consistent performer for three seasons . . . Centerfielder on baseball team, he was selected on the NCAA District II All-Tournament team in both 1949 and 1950 . . . An All-State selection at Roosevelt High and three letter winner at U.K.

CHARLES McCLENDON — Senior — 6-1 — 193 — 22 — Lewisville, Ark. Hard and rugged player whose work gives impression he loves the game . . . Earned berth on All-Southeastern Sophomore team in his first varsity year . . . Exceptionally good as defensive performer, "Mac" seems certain to see lot of action . . . Played four years football and basketball at Lewisville High and is a veteran of three years' service in the Navy.

BOB FRY — Sophomore — 6-3 — 190 — 20 — Cincinnati, Ohio. Promising newcomer who has shown some exceptional potentialities . . . Performances as U.K. freshman and during Blue-White tilts this spring indicate he may be ready for extensive reserve duty despite inexperience . . . His father carries mail in the Queen City . . . Bob attended Cincy's Elder High and was a halfback all four years.

LEFT TACKLES

CO-CAPTAIN BOB GAIN — Senior — 6-3 — 230 — 21 — Weirton, W. Va. One of the nation's outstanding nominees for All-America honors . . . Received first team All-America laurels in 1949 on the NEA Service and New York Sun honor teams and made the first team of the Chicago-Tribune's All Players' All-America team, selected by a poll of collegiate gridders . . . Awarded second team All-America honors on virtually every other major selection last season as a junior, including teams announced by the Associated Press and Look Magazine . . . Selected on the Collier's Magazine All-South team in both 1948 and 1949 . . . Chosen on the All-Southeastern Conference team last year for the first time . . . Honored by the influential Atlanta Touchdown Club and Birmingham Quarterback Club as the "best lineman in the SEC" in 1949 . . . Picked by conference coaches in pre-season poll to be "not only the standout player in the conference but the best tackle in the country" this year . . . As a sophomore, Gain received honorable mention on the All-America selections of United Press, Associated Press and several national magazines . . . Captain and an All-State tackle on Weir High team under Coach Carl Hamill . . . Lettered his first season (1947) and each succeeding year at Kentucky and will serve as CO-CAPTAIN of the 1950 Wildcats . . . He's the biggest man on the team in stature, but surprisingly fast and agile and possesses all the physical-mental qualities of a great lineman.

BOB POPE — Senior — 6-2 — 222 — 24 — Harlan, Ky. An outstanding tackle in his own right, Bob saw extensive action with the Wildcats last season and Coach Bryant is counting heavily on this experience . . . Hailing from one of Kentucky's most publicized places — the coal mining, snake-handling mountain town of Harlan — Pope is big and rugged by nature and thrives on rough body contact of line play . . . He was named Charles Robert, but goes by nickname Bob . . . His grid career at Harlan High was interrupted by two and one-half years' Navy service in the Pacific . . . Returned to play 1946 season and earn All-State and All-Southern prep honors before enrolling at Kentucky in 1947 . . . Earned varsity letter in 1948 and 1949.

JIM McCONNAUGHEY — Junior — 6-2 — 188 — 22 — New Orleans, La. One of the hardest-to-pronounce monikers on the ball club doesn't stop "Mac" from trying hard on the field . . . CHET LUKAWSKI — Sophomore — 6-0 — 190 — 20 — East Chicago, Ind. Another promising prospect from the football hotbed of East Chicago's Roosevelt High school, "Luke" played four years as a tackle before coming to Kentucky and achieved All-State honors as well as captaining team in final season . . . Has ability and determination, but lacks experience.

LEFT GUARDS

BILL WANNAMAKER — Senior — 6-1 — 200 — 20 — Charleston, S. C. One of several converted high school fullbacks on the Kentucky team, Bill's switch to line play obviously agrees with him . . . Called best defensive lineman on the field in some games last season . . . Expected to be top candidate to fill position vacated by Alternate Captain Dick Holway, who graduated to a Wildcat assistant coach assignment . . . Played basketball and track, besides football, at Charleston High.

GENE DONALDSON — Sophomore — 5-9 — 190 — 20 — East Chicago, Ind. Considered one of the most promising linemen ever to enroll at the Bluegrass school . . . He has a star-studded background, including three consecutive seasons as an All-State selection . . . Each year at a different position (1946 as a tackle, 1947 at fullback and 1948 at guard) . . . Also, while at Roosevelt High, Gene was state high school wrestling champion for two straight years without losing a match . . . Showed mettle as a prospective future Wildcat star in both his freshman year at UK and in Spring training this season . . . Can be expected to see a lot of action and may gain a starting assignment.

ALLEN HAMILTON — Senior — 5-9 — 185 — 25 — Louisville, Ky. A hard-charging lineman who can be depended upon to give his "all" when in the game, "Ham" is a graduate of Louisville Male High where he made All-State in '42 and '43 . . . Served in Navy during World War II . . . Earned varsity letter as a freshman at UK in 1946 and his second "K" was awarded last year . . . Oldest man on the team at 25 . . . Brother of halfback Ed Hamilton.

RAY CORRELL — Sophomore — 6-0 — 190 — 19 — Somerset, Ky. A newcomer who showed up well with the Kentucky yearling squad last season and displayed promise in 1950 Spring practice . . . Considered good prospect and seems likely to see a lot of action to groom him for replacement job next year . . . Graduate of Somerset High school.

CENTERS

DOUG MOSELEY — Junior — 6-1 — 200 — 23 — Luverne, Ala. A prize rookie last season who served as the Cats' number one offensive center, Doug probably will be called upon to do double duty this year due to the graduation to pro ranks of defensive stalwart and 1949 Captain, Harry Ulinski . . . Played fullback at Luverne High, captained team made second string All-State Assistant Coach Frank Moseley is a namesake, but no relation despite fact both are native Alabamians.

BILL SCHAFFNIT — Senior — 6-0 — 185 — 24 — West Haven, Conn. One of the dependable, steady influences on the Wildcat ball club . . . Served in Navy during World War II Married and father of a son.

Plans to go into business following graduation in preference to career in pro football.

Hailing from the nearby, central Kentucky town of Winchester, Buckner is another rookie who will be groomed this season as a 1951 replacement . . . Showed some outstanding line-backing ability in Spring practice games. Played with UK freshman team last season . . . Shifted from Fullback to center this Spring.

RIGHT GUARDS

PAT JAMES — Senior — 6-0 — 185 — 23 — New Boston, Ohio. A reliable veteran who gives mistaken impression of an easy-going boy on the campus . . . He's a serious, tough competitor once he dons the mole-skins . . . Underrated by most observers, but ranked by Coach Bryant as probably third best ballplayer on the '50 squad . . . Selected on several all-opponent teams last season . . . Plays consistently good defensive ball and has necessary speed and ability to be an offensive standout . . . Expected to how well this year under pressure of final season and upcoming reserves . . . Played backfield and captained Glenwood High team . . . shifted to tackle as UK freshman.

RIGHT TACKLES

WALT YOWARSKY — Senior — 6-2 — 208 — 22 — Cleveland, Ohio. Rougher and tougher than he seems out of uniform, "Smitty" has been the valuable utility man of the Wildcat team — shifting from position to position to bolster sagging defenses . . . Seems to have found himself after a season at tackle and he's coming fast . . . Might compete with All-America teammate Bob Gain, at opposite tackle slot, for some choice adjectives from sportswriters if continues improvement . . . Looked good in Spring practice . . . He was All-State at Cleveland's Lincoln High.

WENDELL VANCE — Junior — 6-3 — 212 — 24 — Louisville, Ky. One of biggest men on the squad, this former Louisville Male Star can be expected to produce in a big way this season . . . Probably will move into the defensive slot vacated by big Lloyd McDermott . . . Gained considerable experience in relief roles last year . . . Veteran of two years Navy service.

JIM MACKENZIE — Junior — 6-1 — 216 — 19 — Gary, Ind. Big and rugged, "Mac" can be counted upon to give the opposition plenty of trouble . . . He was outstanding as sophomore last season . . . Used principally on defense as relief for All-America tackle Bob Gain . . . He was an All-Conference tackle at Lew Wallace High in Gary.

RIGHT ENDS

DOMINIC FUCCI — Senior — 5-11 — 178 — 22 — New Village, N.J. One of the team's most liked athletes, "Dom" will see important action at end this season . . . Shifted to flank position after demonstrating surprising pass-catching ability last year . . . Saw service as reserve quarterback and special occasion halfback in '49 and was team's number one punter with a 35.6 average for the season . . . Catcher and one of heaviest hitters on the Wildcat baseball team, Fucci was named in 1949 to the first All-America nine ever selected by collegiate baseball coaches . . . Graduate of Washington High in New Jersey where he was an All-State end.

AL BRUNO — Senior — 6-3 — 185 — 22 — West Chester, Pa. A sticky-fingered receiver who surprises with seemingly impossible catches . . . Aggressive and fast, Al led the team in the aerial receiving department last season — yet he did not start a single game and never caught a touchdown pass . . . Played as reserve forward with Kentucky's NCAA champion basketeers in 1948.

JOHN GRIGGS — Sophomore — 6-2 — 195 — 19 — Morganfield, Ky. Coach Bryant confidently expects this big, blond-haired boy to develop into an outstanding football player . . . QUARTERBACKS

VITO PARILLI — Junior — 6-1 — 183 — 21 — Rochester, Pa. Honorable mention on many major All-America selections, including the Associated Press . . . Named to Collier's Magazine's All-South team and nominated by Southern sportswriters for "Sophomore of the Year" honors . . . Garnered highest number of votes and honorary captaincy of AP's All-Southern Sophomore team . . . Picked by conference coaches on 1950 pre-season All-SEC squad . . . A triple threat performer in truest sense — excels as a passer, runs well and punts with a good average . . . Typical of sports writers' comments in this assurance: "He handles the leather with the baffling skill of a trans-Atlantic card shark and can dot a receiver's eye at 50 yards." . . . A single-wing fullback at Rochester High under Coach Mike Sebastian, "Babe" had to be converted to a T-quarterback at Kentucky by Coach Bryant . . . Observers confidently expect a more polished, more dangerous Parilli this year to perform more consistently and do a better job of running the team on the field.

BILL FARLEY — Sophomore — 5-11 — 175 — 20 — Charleston, W. Va. Fills an important gap as a capable replacement for Parilli . . . His excellent passing and generally good all-around field work make him a threat in his own right . . . Great things are expected of Farley, but it's likely that inexperience will hold him back to some extent this season . . . Captained the southern squad in the high school North-South game of 1948 . . . Played quarterback three years at Stonewall Jackson High in Charleston.

LARRY JONES — Sophomore — 5-10 — 152 — Louisville, Ky. One half of a pair of talented, identical twins . . . Brother Harry is a halfback and teammates can't tell them apart . . . LEFT HALFBACKS

EMORY CLARK — Junior — 5-9 — 162 — 20 — Carlisle, Ky. Diminutive in size, but packs a knockout wallop in his broken field running . . . At one time last season, he was one of the nation's leaders in punt returns . . . He's exceptionally fast and elusive . . . Expected to bear the brunt of the offensive burden during the '50 season . . . Comes from a farming family and is majoring in Agriculture . . . Played quarterback four years at Carlisle High and captained both the grid squad and cage team.

CLAYTON WEBB — Senior — 6-0 — 195 — 21 — St. Albans, W. Va. As the team's most experienced left halfback, Webb is expected to see considerable important action this season . . . Lettered in 1948 and '49 . . . Played halfback and helped consistently in the punting department last year . . . Probably will see extensive service in both punting and running roles this season . . . Could be a great performer and Coach Bryant is counting on the added incentive of a final year of competition to blossom Webb out in his full potentialities . . . Captain and All-State in football at St. Albans High in 1946.

HARRY JONES — Sophomore — 5-10 — 152 — 19 — Louisville, Ky. Identical twin brother of quarterback Larry Jones . . . He's one of team's most promising soph backfield prospects . . . Although one of the smallest and lightest men on squad, he makes up for lack of size with terrific speed and change of pace . . . Picks openings well and shows good headwork . . . Expected by Coach Bryant to be real scoring threat early in career . . . Graduate of Louisville Manual High and outstanding student in Engineering at U.K.

JOHN CRON — Sophomore — 5-11 — 163 — 21 — Springfield, Tenn. Up from a starring role with successful Kentucky freshman gridgers . . . A scatback and hard runner who showed promise in Spring practice this year . . . He's a novice, but coaches and fans expect him to go well in U.K. football . . . An All-State fullback at Springfield High.

FULLBACKS

BILL LESKOVAR — Junior — 6-2 — 195 — 21 — Fairmont, W. Va. Leading ground gainer (722 yards on 152 rushes) for the Wildcats last season . . . He's a human battering ram on line plunges and surprisingly fast for his size once in secondary . . . His father is a coal miner . . . Graduated from West Fairmont High where he was All-State in football, basketball and baseball . . . Has tried all three sports at Kentucky, but his first love is football . . . He's the quiet, scholarly type off the gridiron.

CLIFF LAWSON — Junior — 6-0 — 174 — 20 — Pocahontas, Ark. Shifted to fullback as an experiment this Spring after playing right half last season in his freshman year . . . He's light, but speedy and swivel hipped in the tradition of Kentucky fullbacks of the last few years . . . "Buck," as Cliff is known to teammates, played four years of football at Pocahontas High and was captain in final season.

JOHN BRAINARD — Sophomore — 5-9 — 174 — 20 — New Britain, Conn. An upcoming prospect who could help the team . . . Shows potentialities in speed and determination . . . Played fullback three years at New Britain Senior High and performed in same position with U.K. freshmen in '49.

TOM FILLION — Sophomore — 5-10 — 173 — 20 — Owensboro, Ky. If he continues to display form shown in Spring practice this year and as a freshman last season, Coach Bryant will have a capable replacement in this native son . . . Played left halfback with Owensboro High.

RIGHT HALFBACKS

CO-CAPTAIN WILBUR JAMERSON — Senior — 5-9 — 168 — 21 — Henderson, Ky. Co-captain of the Wildcats for 1950 . . . A great leader who sets fine example . . . Sure to reach his peak and be a star this season . . . "Shorty," as he's nicknamed by teammates, was used primarily at defensive left half last season to take advantage of uncanny pass defense ability . . . Expected to switch back to offense this year to bolster running attack . . . A powerful runner with tricky change of pace . . . Played in backfield at Barret Manual High in Henderson where he captained the team and made All-State in his final season . . . He's already earned three letters in football at Kentucky.

DICK MARTIN — Senior — 6-0 — 181 — 21 — Chicago, Ill. One of the Wildcats' best all-around players and rated as the best defensive halfback on the '50 aggregation . . . Has seen first line reserve action in virtually every Kentucky game of past three seasons and lettered each year . . . Played defensive right half in '49 and materially aided in the Wildcats' establishment of a new national record for pass interception runback yardage . . . Selected on All-Chicago team while a gridder at Fenwick High in the Windy City.

ED HAMILTON — Junior — 5-11 — 171 — 20 — Louisville, Ky. Handicapped by injuries in past, but he's being counted on heavily this season for both offensive and defensive duties . . . Conference—Southeastern

Nickname—Tigers

Colors—Purple and Gold

Coach—Gaynell Tinsley (LSU '37)

Publicity Director—Bob Lynch

Series History and Information

Certain to be one of the top games in the nation, the 1950 meeting of the Sugar Bowl Bengals and the Orange Bowl Wildcats should provide an insight extraordinary in the SEC picture as well as deciding the mythical bowl consolation of the South title. Various pegged in pre-season polls to finish anywhere from first to third in the conference race on the basis of few losses from a wonderfully balanced team and promising yearling reinforcements, LSU should be tougher this year.

The Ole War Skule also will be seeking revenge for a stunning, early-season upset at the hands of Kentucky last season. Later, the Tigers tore to shreds no less than three conference champions—Tulane of SEC, North Carolina of Southern, and Rice of Southwest. 1949 Record—Won 8, Lost 3. Conference Standing—Fifth (4-2).

 Coach—John Vaught (TCU '33) Publicity Director—Billy Gates

Series History and Information

Joltin' John Dottley, Reb fullback who led the nation last season with 1,312 yards rushing, will be back for his final campaign and his stormy forays deep into enemy territory may provide Ole Miss with the necessary stimulus to develop into the surprise team of the season. A rejuvenated defense, built around seasoned campaigner Ken Farragut at center, could hold the Rebels dangerously high in the conference structure. It was the Kentuckians stunning 47-0 upset of the Rebels that astounded the nation early in 1949. The contest was highlighted by the Cats' establishment of a new, all-time major collegiate record for pass interception runback yardage of 240 yards on six steals. 1949 Record—Won 4, Lost 5, Tied 1. Conference Standing—Eighth (2-4).

Facts About Dayton

Location—Dayton, Ohio	Conference—None
Nickname—Flyers	Colors—Red & Blue
Coach—Joseph J. Gavin (Notre Dame '31)	Sports Publicity Director—Pepper Wilson

Series History and Information

The visit of the neighboring gridders from across the Mason-Dixon line will mark the first gridiron meeting of the two teams. There's every reason to be suspicious of the Yankee Flyers—A Notre Dame impregnated coaching staff plus a suspected wealth of potentially good material. Seventeen lettermen are returning to tackle a man-sized schedule that includes tilts with three '50 bowl teams. Dayton has one of the Midwest's most colorful backs in a sensational Hawaiian boy with the difficult-to-pronounce moniker, Leroy Ka-Ne. 1949 Record—Won 6, Lost 3.

Facts About Cincinnati

Location—Cincinnati, Ohio	Conference—Mid-American
Nickname—Bearcats	Colors—Red and Black
Coach—Sidney Gillman (Ohio State '34)	Publicity Director—Hank Zureick

Series History and Information

The Mid-America Conference and Glass Bowl champions could easily be the "dark horse" upsetting Kentucky's bid for national honors. Coach Sid Gillman's second edition of the Bearcat brigade will catch the Wildcats at mid-season the week before an important intersectional tilt with Villanova in Philadelphia. A letdown similar to the low ebb reached in the Cincy game last season following the Southern Methodist clash might blemish a respectable record. The Queen City team will have 18 lettermen back to form the nucleus of another dangerous aggregation. 1949 Record—Won 7, Lost 4.

Facts About Villanova

Location—Villanova, Pa.

Nickname—Wildcats

Coach—James Leonard (Notre Dame '34)

Publicity Director—Eugene Ruane

Series History and Information

The Pennsylvania-brand Wildcats, pride of the Eastern independents in 1949 with an impressive eight wins against a lone defeat by a two-point margin, lost 22 lettermen and have only two first-stringers to build around this season. However, national reports quote Coach Jim Leonard as surprisingly buoyant with optimism that he can fashion another winner. The two Wildcat teams will be renewing a rivalry that began with the Great Lakes Bowl game in Cleveland in 1947 and continued with a thrilling deadlock in a 1948 meeting on Stoll Field. 1949 Record—Won 8, Lost 1.

Facts About Georgia Tech

Location—Atlanta, Ga. Conference—Southeastern
 Nickname—Yellow Jackets Colors—White and Gold
 Coach—Bobby Dodd (Tennessee '31) Publicity Director—Chick Hosch

Series History and Information

Resumption of a long-standing rivalry with the Yellow Jackets, which dates back to 1923, will mark the first contest on the gridiron between the two conference schools since 1942. Ringmaster Bobby Dodd promises a virtual aerial circus and plenty of razzle-dazzle this year to fool the opposition into forgetting "inexperience" in the line. Chief performer in the Dodd menagerie promises to be a crafty sophomore artist named Robby Robinson, who specializes in passing the ball behind his back, under-handed and on a bee-line for 25 or 30 yards, with startling accuracy. The Ramblin' Wrecks could be dangerous with 21 lettermen in the fold and 30-odd sophomores developing as the season progresses. 1949 Record—Won 7, Lost 3. Conference Standing—Fourth (5-2).

Facts About Florida

Location—Gainesville, Fla. Conference—Southeastern
 Nickname—'Gators Colors—Orange and Blue
 Coach—Bob Woodruff (Tennessee '39) Publicity Director—Joe Sherman

Series History and Information

The Kentucky-Florida series is an old one, but comparatively few games have been played in the 33 years since the initial contest in 1917. Two gaps in the record of approximately 10 years each account for the fact that the series stands at a total of only nine games. With a new coach at the helm this season, the Gators will be starting virtually from scratch. Only nine lettermen return and the sophomore situation is a deep mystery, but the lads from the land o' sunshine can't be counted out before the season and quite likely would like nothing better than to be taken lightly. They could upset the dope bucket. 1949 Record—Won 4, Lost 5, Tied 1. Conference Standing—Tenth (1-4-1).

Series History and Information

Gridiron relations with Mississippi State (formerly Miss. A & M) began before the first World War, on Oct. 17, 1914, but only five games have been played. The 1950 meeting will be the first since 1944. Slick Morton's second season at the maroon helm should produce a more impressive and dangerous unit. A disastrous season last year provided bitter experience and the 1950 edition should be wiser in the ways of grid warfare, possibly smart enough to show decided improvement. The Maroons will stand careful scouting to bar upset potentialities. 1949 Record—Won 0, Lost 8, Tied 1. Conference Standing—Last (0-6).

Series History and Information

The Dakota Sioux and Kentucky's Wildcats have never met on the football field, but their 1950 meeting could make U.K. fans wish even the first game had not been scheduled. A small, near-western school without a "big-time" football reputation, the Nodaks reportedly can not be taken lightly on the basis of reputation and might prove to be a real "sleeper" on the Kentucky schedule if the Cats are concentrating too intensely on the following week's game with arch-rival Tennessee. 1949 Record—Won 4, Lost 3, Tied 1.

Facts About Tennessee

Location—Knoxville, Tenn. Conference—Southeastern
Nickname—Volunteers Colors—Orange and White
Coach—Gen. Robert Neyland Publicity Director—Tucker Musser
(West Point '16)

Series History and Information

One of the oldest football rivalries in the South, the Kentucky Tennessee grid history goes back to the 1893 season. The ancient and hotly-contested series got off to an auspicious start in those early days as old Kentucky University walloped the Volunteers 56-0—a margin of victory which has never been equalled in the 44 games played in the 57 years since that initial game. The Wildcats and Vols have met continuously since 1906, except for three war years (1917-18 and 1943). In the 45 meetings thus far, Tennessee has gained an advantage of 27 victories against Kentucky's 11 wins and seven ties. Neyland boasts the distinction of never having been defeated by a Kentucky team, but the four Bryant-coached aggregations have come nearer to breaking that record than any Wildcat squad in recent years—holding the Vols to a scoreless deadlock in 1948 and succumbing by mere one-touchdown margins in 1946-47-49. Last season's stunning 6-0 upset at the hands of a pre-game underdog Tennessee eleven almost knocked Kentucky out of bowl consideration and did succeed in costing the Wildcats their first SEC championship. Early reports this season tip the Volunteers as having "dream team" balance in both line and backfield. The latter department will be bolstered by the return of seven of last season's first eight men, including a more experienced Hank Lauricella at tailback and devastating wingback J. W. Sherrill. The game should claim nation-wide attention and might decide the conference halo if the Cats get by early-season obstacles. 1949 Record—Won 7, Lost 2, Tied 1. Conference Standing—Third (4-1-1).

KENTUCKY'S COLORS

The blue and white of the University of Kentucky are known to sports fans everywhere. Officially the colors are Yale blue and white, but in the beginning, when the Lexington institution was still known as the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Kentucky, the colors were "Stoll blue" and white. One day back in the 1890's a group of Kentucky football stalwarts met to choose their school colors. Someone suggested blue and white—"blue like Dick Stoll's necktie"—and those colors were immediately adopted. "Dick" Stoll was to become Judge Richard C. Stoll, distinguished public servant and, for more than fifty years before his death, a member of the U.K. board of trustees.

STOLL FIELD — McLEAN STADIUM

Much confusion exists over the duplication of titles in referring to the University of Kentucky's football setup. Officially, by action of the University Board of Trustees, the field-stadium is known as Stoll Field. Unofficially, by usage originating with sportswriters and alumni, the stadium alone is known as McLean Stadium.

Kentucky's first football field, occupying the general site of what is now the practice field west of the stadium, was first given a name when it was dedicated on October 14, 1916, as Stoll Field in honor of the late Judge Richard C. Stoll, prominent alumnus, trustee and benefactor of the University of Kentucky. Soon after the first sections of the present concrete stadium were completed on September 4, 1924, the new field site and stadium were likewise officially known as Stoll Field.

The first attraction to be held on the new Stoll Field was a football game with the University of Louisville on October 4, 1924. A gridiron clash between Kentucky and the then-powerful Centre College team was the first game played in the fully-completed stadium on November 1, 1924.

The popular reference to the concrete stands portion of the Stoll Field athletic setup as McLean Stadium apparently comes from a bronze plaque placed in the stands by the class of 1925 in memory of Price Innes McLean, a Kentucky football player who died November 7, 1923, apparently from injuries sustained in the U.K.-Cincinnati game played in the Queen City the afternoon before. As far as can be learned, no official action ever was taken in dedicating the stadium in the boy's honor.

Major expansions of Stoll Field stadium in 1948 and 1949 have resulted in a current over-all seating capacity of 35,454. The present concrete stands accommodate 27,516 and steel sections in each end zone seat approximately 4,000 each.

Kentucky's first touchdown under the tutelage of Paul (Bear) Bryant was made by a player who, at the time was six months older than his coach . . . Bill Portwood, about to turn 34 years of age, came into Kentucky's opening game with Ole Miss in 1946 as a substitute for end Chink Sengel after the latter had dropped two touchdown passes in the end zone . . . Thrown the same pass that Sengel had fumbled, Portwood snatched it to make Kentucky's first TD under Bryant . . . The Wildcats went on to win the game 20-7.

Footnote A — Although numerical scoring had not yet been introduced in Rugby football, either here or in Great Britain, when Kentucky and Transylvania (then known as Kentucky University) played their series in 1881, persons in charge of the games obviously had arrived at some sort of agreement assigning numerical values to the various scoring plays. Records never existed and men who played in the games are scattered or dead. All we can do is accept the scores printed in the newspapers — and surmise that a touchdown perhaps counted $\frac{1}{4}$ point and that a goal or an end-kick (a punt into the modern end zone) counted 1. That seems logical, since in the ratio scoring of that day, a touchdown was worth one-quarter of a goal. The end-kick, a British heritage, undoubtedly was introduced because all realized that green players would score few goals, if any.

Footnote B — The football rules took no official position on the score of a forfeited game until 1908 when it was pegged at 1-0 to make it different from any other score possible in the game. By common consent, forfeited games prior to that were entered into the records as victories by 6-0 for the offended team—everywhere, that is, except in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association, predecessor of the Southern Conference and the Southeastern Conference. In the S. I. A. A. the 6-0 practice was followed unless the offended team had a greater number of points. In that case, the offended team won by the greater score to nothing. Thus, Kentucky's forfeiture to Central University in 1900 is 6-0, since Kentucky led by 11-0 at the time. Kentucky led Cumberland by 12-11 in 1905 when the Tennesseans forfeited. The Blue and White, under S. I. A. A. rules, gets credit for a 12-0 victory.
