PREFACE

The Historical Records Survey Program operates as a series of state-wide projects in the several states in the Division of Community Service Programs of the Work Projects Administration. This program was organized in Florida in 1936 under the national direction of Dr. Luther H. Evans. On March 1, 1940, Dr. Evans left to become Director of the Legislative Reference Section of the Library of Congress, and was succeeded by Sargent B. Child.

The Survey program includes an inventory of state, county, municipal and church archives, of American imprints, and of manuscript depositories and collections. In keeping with its object of making hitherto inaccessible source material available to historians and genealogists, the Survey in Florida is issuing a translation in abstract form of the Register of White Baptisms of the Roman Catholic Church of the Parish of St. Augustine. The published volumes include the same entries and cover the same period of time as do the corresponding original volumes. A volume for the period October 3, 1784, to July 30, 1792, was published in May 1941. The present volume continues the record to May 31, 1799. This volume was prepared under the supervision of Dorothy Dodd, former Project Technician, and was indexed by Theo Smith, Research Assistant.

We wish to express our appreciation to the most Reverend Joseph P. Hurley, Bishop of St. Augustine, for his approval of the publication of this volume. Acknowledgment is also due the St. Augustine Historical Society and Institute of Science for its courtesies in providing supplies and desk space for our translators and for furnishing materials for publication of the volume.

Publications of the Florida Historical Records Survey are issued for free distribution to public and institutional libraries. Requests for information concerning the publications or work of the Survey in Florida should be addressed to the State Administrator, Work Projects Administration, 49 West Duval Street, Jacksonville, Florida.

1. The first section of the report is a general introduction to the subject of the study. It discusses the importance of the study and the objectives of the research. The introduction also provides a brief overview of the methodology used in the study.

2. The second section of the report is a detailed description of the methodology used in the study. This section includes a description of the data sources, the data collection methods, and the data analysis methods. It also includes a description of the statistical tests used in the study.

3. The third section of the report is a detailed description of the results of the study. This section includes a description of the data, the results of the statistical tests, and the conclusions drawn from the results. It also includes a discussion of the implications of the results for the field of study.

4. The fourth section of the report is a conclusion and a summary of the findings of the study. This section includes a brief summary of the results and a discussion of the implications of the results for the field of study. It also includes a list of references to the literature cited in the report.

INTRODUCTION

The records of the Roman Catholic Church of the Parish of St. Augustine form the oldest extant series of records in the United States. Continuous from 1594 to 1763, they are interrupted for the period during which the English occupied Florida, as the Parish did not function officially during those years. The records resume, however, in 1784, when Florida was returned to Spain. The records from that year until the War between the States are of particular interest because many of the persons named therein are represented in Florida today by their descendants.

A volume published by the Florida Historical Records Survey in May 1941 contains entries of 521 white baptisms performed in the Parish of St. Augustine between October 8, 1784, and July 30, 1792, taken from the original register marked Book I. The present volume presents a record of 582 white baptisms performed in the same parish between July 30, 1792, and May 31, 1799, the original register of which is marked Book II.

Entries in the register are numbered and the original numbering is being preserved in the publications. Some of the entries from which the previous publication was taken were in Latin, the remainder in Spanish, and in an Appendix illustrations were given of verbatim translations of entries and the briefed forms in which they appear in that publication, with the ecclesiastical phraseology omitted. All entries in the register from which the present volume is translated were written in Spanish and have been briefed to conform to the style adopted for this series of translations.

The original spelling has been preserved, although often the same name appears in several different forms, and frequently both English and Spanish names are misspelled. This is probably attributable to the fact that the entries were made by Irish priests, who resorted to phonetic spelling of Spanish names and of English names previously corrupted by the Spanish-speaking community. The full titles of the priests who made the entries are given the first time they appear and are thereafter omitted. All civil and military titles are given in full, both in the original language and in translation. Words underscored in the original are also underscored in the published volumes.

The word vale which formerly appeared in many of the entries indicating that a gift had been made to the church does not appear in the register from which the present volume is taken. Baptisms performed at home or in the outlying districts of the Parish were incomplete, and are designated as baptismo non solemni or bautismo no solemne in the entries. The parents, and sometimes the godparents, or sponsors, were then advised by the priest to bring the child to the church as soon as possible "to perform upon him the ceremonies and prayers of Holy Mother Church," which, of necessity, had been omitted. In some instances a marginal note attests that this instruction was later complied with.
