Three hundred and sixty freshman caps have been ordered by Kaufman Clothing company, and are expected to be ready at the start of next week. They will cost 38c each. Design of the caps has been altered slightly from that of former years. The color will be blue, as usual, with the white numerals indicating the year of graduation for freshmen, but the peaks will be shortened and the crowns cut more shallow.

Members of the Men's Student Council have announced that this year they will strictly enforce the ruling that it is compulsory for all freshman boys, including those living in the dormitories, to wear freshman caps for a certain length of time. The exact time for the enforcement of this ruling has not been decided upon, but is expected to continue during the entire first semester or until May Day.

Certainly the editor's office with its pile of papers, its copy of newspaper clippings, its copy of press sheets, and what-not might resemble almost anything (if the editor's office had been in the best description), it most certainly bears in appearance no resemblance to the post office, in the best description, from whence this freshman must have sprung.

Now dummy questions like this are prevalent during the first two weeks of school—and dummy answers also—but ladies, gentlemen, and fellow students, I have here a choice piece of fatuousness which I wish to dish out for your amusement. Birch, Famous Magician, Has Interesting Program

By JOHN ST. JOHN. Birch, internationally famous magician, after two months in retirement, performing new illusions, will bring forth the latest feats of his profession at 7:30 p. m. Saturday afternoon in the Y.M.C.A.

Students in the College of Engineering have been constructing a packing box from which they claim Birch cannot escape. But in 12 trials, unfortunately, no one has been able to construct a box that he has been unable to escape from in 30 seconds.

There will be no illusions in the supporting cast of Birch. Magic will be given by a grand piano. Popular college songs as well as modern rhythm will relieve the tedium of the program.

HEAR YE Receiving the whole-hearted cooperation of campus organizations, the city and county school superintendents and the Lexington city government, the movement to prevent the "rushing" of downtown theaters following football games, has progressed to a point which cannot be overlooked.

That the patrons of the local theaters should be disturbed and in some instances shocked in a manner far from ludicrous is indeed regrettable. The reputation of the Kentucky student was at stake when this drive started and the students were not found wanting. They lent their influential and personal support in such a way as to demonstrate to all interested persons that they lacked neither character nor common sense. In doing so, they brought down upon themselves a number of favorable comments that have come to the attention of The Kernel.

Townpeople set in their ways and strong in their belief that all college students were rowdies of the lowest type, came down from their thrones and were forced to admit that the Kentucky students were ladies and gentlemen after the positive success of the "rushing" movement was demonstrated. If the students could, on their own initiative, curb such a deplorable practice, they deserved to be sincerely congratulated, thought these persons. The entire reaction to the student's attitude on this subject has been a source of satisfaction and joy to all concerned.

The Phoenix Amusement company, which has been so generous to Kentucky teams, organizations and students in general, has asked

The Kernel asks the students to remember these things and to eliminate occurrences that will bring adverse criticism to the University and cause students to lower themselves from their dignified position in the eyes of all citizens of Lexington and Kentucky.

THE NEW STUDENT COUNCIL

A new Men's Student Council has been set up and is beginning to function on the campus of the University of Kentucky. To avoid unfair political activity and unfair elections the members of the council are appointive rather than elective. It is much to be desired that this group of council members carry out the high purpose for which the student council has been organized. It is only fitting that the student body of a University should in a measure govern itself. For this reason a council must be set up. In order for a council to perform its functions satisfactorily it must be free from the bias and trivial interests which come from unwholesome political activity.

That the governing body of the students of the University should allow itself to become the tool of political factions is exceedingly undesirable. The responsibility for the position which the council shall assume in campus life and for the service it may render toward wholesome control of collegiate activities rests with the members of the new council. They have been given a clean slate upon which they may write the record of an intelligent, impartial management of campus affairs.

The responsibility rests likewise with the entire student body. The action of the council can mean nothing unless the force of student expression of sanction or disapproval will uphold the decisions made by the council. The governing body cannot force measures which do not meet the approval of the governed group. The integrity and wisdom of the administrative body will be wasted and ineffective unless it is understood in the activities of the entire student group.

With the re-organization of the council, there is presented a challenge to the undergraduate body to promote and maintain those principles of honor and integrity which are attributed to students when University officials authorize the establishment of a student governing group. The opportunity of accepting this challenge rests with the new council, selected by a new method and with the student body which may grant or withhold the cooperation and support that will make possible the effective functioning of the Men's Student Council.

SHOW YOU'RE ALIVE!

Now is the time for all good students to lend to the aid of the Wildcats! Come to the aid of the Wildcats! Send your vocal support to the team Saturday afternoon when they face the Ramblin' Wreck from Georgia Tech. Do not sit mute and stiff in the stands possibly because the club did not defeat the Sewanee Tigers by a one-sided score. Forget about that game and stand up and rood the air with mighty shouts, when the Big Blue team takes the field Saturday afternoon.

Many persons, which category includes some students, were prone to criticize the club following the contest last Saturday night. We will not attempt to comment on that game because of the simple reason that it is a past fact and past facts should be left to themselves. What interests us chiefly is that the student body greets the players in the good old Kentucky manner Saturday afternoon. The moment the first player emerges from the dressing rooms underneath the stadium, the entire student section should come to its feet and yell like — Remember this when you take your seat in the stands on that afternoon. It will be doing your part toward helping the 'Cats defeat the Southern club. We should be proud of the team. Show this pride by vocalizing your enthusiasm!

The publicity bureau is giving away free copies of a booklet of school songs so if you don't know the songs of your Alma Mater, get your copy of the booklet, learn the songs, and then go to the game and sing them. On to victory, Big Blue, we are behind you!

DRINKING AT DANCES

An age-old problem, to be sure, but drinking at dances is a practice which must be stopped for the good of the University. At the meeting of the new student council with the dean of men Wednesday afternoon, the council voiced their unanimous consent in being willing to cooperate in every possible manner to check the drinking by students at social affairs. Merely a rule against the practice is inadequate unless the rule has been formulated for the best interest of the group and is supported by public opinion. Undoubtedly a rule against drinking has proved its usefulness, so generally has it been adopted on college campuses.

Rules are necessary in order that people may dwell together more peacefully. Were a man to dwell by himself the question of whether he drinks or not could be his alone. When many are gathered in one place, one's liberty ceases where another's right begins.

Surely it is the inherent right of every student to attend social functions without having to tolerate the unpleasantness which results when unwise ones have imbibed too freely. Just as surely it is poor sportsmanship for the drinker to impose on the good nature of his associates. Since the ruling against the use of alcoholic beverages is necessary, it will be rigidly upheld by both administrative bodies and by student opinion.

APPRECIATION

As a slight token of appreciation of what the University of Kentucky means to Lexington and Kentucky, the Phoenix Drug, Incorporated, has used the colors of the University, blue and white, in the decoration of their store.

To people coming to Lexington for the football games and other events in the city, this should express the feeling that the business firms are supporting the institution which aids in supporting them.

Also, we believe that if other firms would do likewise it would have the effect of making the general public realize the loyalty and support which they really owe to the University.

Y.W.C.A. MEMBERSHIP FINANCE CAMPAIGN

The women students of the University have been responding most liberally and whole-heartedly to the membership-finance campaign of the Young Women's Christian Association which has been in progress Wednesday, Thursday, and which ends today, Friday. The money obtained from this drive is to be used by the organization to furnish entertainment of various sorts for the women students of the University.

This is one of the few organizations on the campus which is open for membership to both organized and independent girls, town girls, and commuters. The purpose of the Y.W.C.A. is the following: "We unite in the desire to realize full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God. We determine to have a part in making this life possible for all people. In this task we seek to understand Jesus and to follow Him."

The Young Women's Christian Association on this campus is affiliated nationally with the National Student Council of the Y.W.C.A.; and internationally with the World's Student Christian Federation which has members in twenty-three countries throughout the world.

The activities of the Y.W.C.A. are divided into two departments: the hobby group, and the social worker group. The hobby group includes bicycling, literature, astronomy, and handicraft. The other group includes social service, world fellowship, social music, publicity, program making, and welfare work.

In the past few years the girls have been very enthusiastic about the work done by the Young Women's Christian Association, and if this is true this year many things will be accomplished.

WISDOM PERSONIFIED

In a contemporary of recent date appeared a communication signed, "A Student," presumably of University of Kentucky, who undertakes to take the University to task in criticism of the recent inauguration upon the campus of parking rules designed to protect students and constitute parking privileges for all students and faculty members, who have cars, and desire to park them on the campus.

Of course this gentleman, if he is a student, is entitled to a prize for his worthy contribution, although just what the prize should be we are unable to say. If he continues his wise deliberations his services would be valuable to President Roosevelt and his "brain trust."

For years, the traffic congestion at the University has been very dangerous and it has been extremely difficult to find places to park. The regulation was adopted in order that students and faculty folk might be guaranteed places to park. The small fee charged is inadequate to cover the cost of the stickers, the signs for the cars, and pay those who direct the traffic. It has in the few days it has been in effect, proved successful.

It is criticism and uncooperative spirit of persons like this that have for years hampered the work of the University in all its forward looking endeavors.

Some of us pedestrians would just naturally rather be smashed into, knocked down, and run over, than to have one of those cursed beep-beep horns blown at us.

Old flame Genevieve Tobin, now married, appears and attaches herself as "inspiration." Then the farce starts, abetted by dumb husband Hugh Herbert, Helen Chandler and Wallace Ford. KEEPAKES

I had a word for blue,
And one for gold,
Where the wild aster grew
When the year was old
And the rustling goldenrod
Was tall and began to nod
In the long heaviness of time
Or sleep.

All this had been before,
Pull after fall,
Only the blue and vanishing lore,
And the heading, tall,
Golden word that came
And went too brief for fame,
Today I put into a rhyme
To keep.

We suggest that the Alpha Gamma Rhoes either tell their respective organization they are joining or teach them to spell the name of their lodge. Tuesday one of the Aylesford street boys came to the gym to have his picture snapped for the Kentuckian. He obtained his slip and after some time he bashfully approached one of the attendants with the request, "Will you please spell Alpha Gamma Rho for me?"

Oh yes, out of the several hundred students who will have a picture in this year's Kentuckian Sign-machi pleb Bob "Bluenose" Forsythe was listed as number one.

This little incident occurred last Saturday night at the Sewanee-Kentucky game. It seems that one of the freshman football players was stationed at one of the gates as guard and ticket taker. It also seems that he objected strongly about permitting President McVey, Governor Lafoon and their party to pass through the gate. A passing Suky seller informed our hero that the tall stately looking gentleman was none other than our esteemed president. Much embarrassed, the guard let the President by. But when Governor Lafoon advanced the frosh politely shut the gate in his governorship's face. Then turning to the perplexed Suky member, he asked, "Do I have to let that bozo by too?"

Alphas Oscar Rueter, former president of the sophomore class, has acquired a new name. It seems that Oscar has established quite a reputation as a survivor and is now known as "The Pencil Survivor."

Alphalambdeta J. Delmar Adams, the Grantland Rice of The Kernel, has decided to turn his affections from a long list of Nancys to Kadee pleb Joyce Moberly. First it was Nancy Alverson, then Nancy Trimble, then another Nancy. Now it has come to Joyce.

'Tis said that Joe "Fryedom" Mills has become very hard-bolled in his geology lab sections. The question of dirty nosing is obsolete as far as the "carrot-top" president is concerned.

the engineering college use some of their surplus energy and see if the traditional and very popularized Engineers ball can be revived. Several years ago this dance was perhaps the most outstanding feature of the social season of the University of Kentucky campus, but several drunks aroused the ire of the University officials... and the colorful dance just ceased to be from that time on.

A question has arisen. "Why not a fancy dress ball?" A dance of this nature is usually the high light of the social season on the Washington and Lee campus... so why not Kentucky?

Romances that HAVE NOT survived throughout the summer... that of Deltaw Ned Turnbull and Kadee Elizabeth Jones. The former band sponsor has been seen with H. V. Bastin many times recently.

It has been suggested that the Tri-delta and Kappas have another telephone installed... for the convenience of hurried college boys who wish to get dates in a hurry. It seems that both of the lodges have an annual large group of phone courtesies... which makes it very difficult to call either house.

We wonder what Deltaws George Nagel and Jack McConnell were doing parked at Grimes Mill last Saturday night. Listen, Jack old boy, you didn't have another date with that "Cotton Top" Jane Crain did you? In that case we don't blame you.

Delightful Cigarettes

Of all the ways in which tobacco is used the cigarette is the mildest form

YOU know, ever since the Indians found out the pleasure of smoking tobacco, there have been many ways of enjoying it. But of all the ways in which tobacco is used, the cigarette is the mildest form. Another thing—cigarettes are about the most convenient smoke. All you have to do is strike a match. Everything that money can buy and everything that science knows about is used to make Chesterfields. The right home-grown tobaccos—seasoned with just enough aromatic Turkish—are blended and cross-blended the Chesterfield way. Then the cigarettes are made right—firm, well-filled. Chesterfield uses the right kind of pure cigarette paper. There are other good cigarettes, of course, but Chesterfield is the cigarette that's milder, the cigarette that tastes better. Chesterfields satisfy—we ask you to try them.

The time has arrived when it will be known whether the Wildcats have their great football team, or whether they are just another ball team. The test is tomorrow afternoon when Coach W. A. Alexander will send his Yellow Jackets out on Stoll field to battle the Big Blue.

After the sub-par exhibition of the Cats against the so-called weak Sewanee aggregation, the wisecracks nodded their heads and said "Georgia Tech will stage another track meet next Saturday. It is just a question of how large the score will be."

But the long suffering Cats should be just about due to rise from the gutter, fling their rags and tatters from them and smite their foes. Those Big Blue athletes seem to have taken a new lease on life after the scare they received at the hand of the Purples. All this week they have practiced with every bit of energy they possess. The frosh, working Tech plays against them, were stopped cold, and then the Cats, using a rare collection of their own formations, dived, sliced, drove and passed their way from one end of the field to the other.

Reports from Atlanta give basis for the belief that Tech will "run away with the victory." Their backs are veterans, their ends are veterans, and their line is composed for the most part of lettermen. What have the Cats to match with such men as Galloway, Laws, and others? The fans ask.

Plenty, in our opinion. Ralph

Cats Have Upset Georgia-Tech In Previous Games

One Tie, and Last Victory Gives Hope to Big Blue Fans

By JAY LUCIAN
We're a Ramblin' Wreck from Georgia Tech and a (censored) of an Engineer!!!
For the first time in history, the environs of Stoll field will resound to the hitting refrain of this sparkling lyric, when the determined Buccaneers of Georgia Tech invade Kentucky to do battle with the Blue and White Saturday afternoon. The loyal supporters of the Wildcats hope and expect that when the fray over the hill will be more from the song, leaving the Techmen bereft of all the strains of their dignity except the censored word which will aptly describe their disgruntled feelings and the experience they have undergone.

Saturday will bring about the third meeting between the teams both undefeated, and even though the Engineers claim their greatest team in five years, they should be aware; for Kentucky may prove their nemesis as she did in both the previous encounters.

The first game was in '23 on Grant field in Atlanta. Tech had a great team and sports writers gave Kentucky, coached by J. J. Winn, absolutely no chance at all but the Wildcats charged the Ramblin' Wreck with unbeatable fury and ended with the contest 23-3 after Curtis Sanders had placed kicked a field goal for Kentucky. That was the year that the southern writers were so impressed by the playing of the Wildcat band, led by the inimitable Ed Gans, that they dubbed it the "Best Band in Dixie," a title which it has held ever since. It was here during one of the maneuvers on the field that Gans lost control of his baton which flew up in the air over the goal post crossbar and landed in his surprised hand, a feat which every one who saw it, claimed was predestined.

The second meeting between the teams took place last year, again in Atlanta. Again the Cats were not given an outside chance but they once more turned the tables by boarding the Wreck and after a desperate hand to hand struggle with the Buccaneers the Blue and White clad Wildcats emerged victorious and scuttled the Ramblin' Wreck to the tune of 12 to 6.

The Techmen may come determined to win but Kentucky with a majority of last year's veterans in the lineup believes "they have got their number" and will, at the end of the game, leave the Ramblin' Wreck, a fact and an appropriate name for the Engineers.

'CAT BASKETEERS BEGIN DRILLS MONDAY

Coach Adolph Rupp has announced that variety basketball practice will start Monday. Since the 'Cats have practically the same schedule as last year, and a marked scarcity of basketball stars, the genial mentor feels that an extra two weeks of fundamentals will go a long way in developing the new-come players whom he will largely depend.

Rupp plans to build his team around Captain DeMoisey and "Primer" Davis, stars of last year's champions; his aggregation of a stellar array of Juniors and sophomores filling the rest of the positions. It is too early to make any predictions, but any team stacking up for the Big Blue this season will certainly know they have been in a game.

As for the first year team, the University has the best freshman material in the history of the school. Such prep-school stars as Coach Louisville Mike Edwards, all-state center from Indiana Tech, Mansfield of Horse Cave, Scott, six-foot-five-inch center from Ohio; Ellington and Donahue, stars of many a St. X. victory, and other promising proteges. The freshmen will not practice before the middle or the last of November.

would be out for the rest of the year.
Bob Pritchard, who has been kept out of practice until that week because of a back injury that he received last year, has completely recovered from the injury and has been taking part in the scrimmages this week. He will probably start at one of the halfback positions in the place of Tom Cassidy who has been kept out of this week's practice because of injuries.

All reports that have come from the Tech camp seem to indicate that they have the best team that has represented them in recent years and they are out to win the first Southeastern football championship. The Cats are also greatly improved and they promise to give the Techmen plenty to worry about.

Although the coaches are not guaranteeing the lineups for tomorrow afternoon's game the probable lineup is as follows:

"but I don't know how to spell it." "So am I," said the second, and I don't know how to spell it either, but I can spell Catholic." Consequently, two brand new Catholics were suddenly brought into the picture. They might have been born in a sense, but I'll bet that at least they didn't put that they were born in 1933 some upper classmen have been guilty of doing.

There are some mistakes that we can hardly blame a freshman for making. For example, as we were strolling along between the Guignol and Limestone we were approached and asked what building that was there on the right. Upon informing our inquirer that it was Pat Hall, he immediately asked, "Is the men's dormitory?" Then as I looked up and saw the number of words issuing from the door and ambling across the lawn, I concluded that he wasn't so dumb!

Then there is the case of the freshman girl who wasn't so dumb either. At least she knew what she wanted—and was out to get it. A few days ago this young lady tripped into what was formerly "Bromo" Sulzer's haunt in the art center, and with a little hesitation whatever stated to all in hearing distance, "I wanna be a sponsor." "We love to have you, beautiful," spoke up our drum major, Bob McDowell, "but that office is elective and we have a full list." "Aw shucks! I thought that any good-looking girl could apply for the job." Well, anyway she realized that she possessed a certain amount of pulchritude and was out to capitalize on it.

Intramural

By J. B. WELLS
Entries in intramural cross-country will be required to run the 1-3-8 mile course at least nine times before the race which will be run October 27. All runners will be required to report to the managers on Stoll field before running the course in practice.

Each entry of every team participating in the cross-country race must take a physical examination before the meet. Names of those who are to be scratched on the different teams which have entered more than the allotted five men should be turned in to the Intramural office as soon as possible.

The course for the cross-country race will be staked off and practice runs should be started as soon as possible. The following organizations have entered teams: Phi Sigma Kappa, Alpha Tau Omega, Triangle, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Delta Tau Delta, Sigma Chi, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Kappa Alpha, Pi Kappa Alpha, Phi Kappa Tau, Alpha Gamma Rho, and Alpha Lambda Tau.

An extension of time has been given in tennis, horse shoes, and golf singles and doubles. The first round was due October 7. Due to heavy rains several were unable to play off their matches by October 2, so the extension was given.

Freshmen who desire to try out for freshman intramural managers are to report to the Intramural office as soon as possible.

An attendant will be placed in an old fashioned pillage, with his hands and head locked between wooden pieces. Birch will then hammer rivets into his head.
