Professors Take Warning--Students Express Opinions

Note to all University professors: If you want to be popular and get the glory for your desk over morning and free drinks in the basement every night, I've got the solution: namely, let dogs come to your classes. If you do, you might as well let your lead trousers and a boytoy by your lead dog's subject matter. Those dogs are filling.

This week 48 University students were asked the things they liked best about their professors or what their idea of a professor was like. The only conclusion from the poll was that everybody had a hanger over the idea of a professor who is close to a dog.

Fortunately, we students have an easier road to go than the professor who wants to win friends and influence people. Our surferide way is to indefinitely postpone all tests, including finals. Until the gasoline has gone on, it is also a good idea to be in the library every day, especially if there are any 8 a.m. tests. Try to get a question, though he has to give tests, a professor should never choose Monday. Don't let your subject matter develop it and get it over with, so we can come to a definite conclusion.

Convention Speakers Point Out High Level Of States Production

The present high production level of Kentucky agriculture was emphasized by the speakers at the annual Farm and Home Convention, held on the University campus last week.

President H. L. Donovan pointed out that the incapacity of some of the speakers of the state, as represented by John Gunther's book, "Inside the Belt," is giving us a distorted picture of this state.

He said that barriers within the state, such as the lack of transportation, now are disappearing through the work of state, newspaper, and radio.

Touching on the economic recession, the paper is entitled, "The Effect of Pregnancy Rate Serum on the Activity of the Thyroid Gland in Rats."

Dr. Thomas P. Cooper of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, told delegates that state farm production is 25 percent higher than before the war, due in part to wide adoption of practices advocated by the Agricultural Experiment station.

The predominantly veteran enrollment - 90 percent of the total - of the college is responsible for the increased interest focused on the practical experience in developing and applying the generalities learned in classes has been operation a number of years, but the veterans are particularly interested in the chance to simulate actual court action. They are responsible for the increase in the number of students of the law college curriculum, according to William L. Matthews Jr., associate professor of law who supervises the Practice Court.

Novel Practice Court Serves As Law Students' Laboratory

A novel Practice Court has been put into action at the University College of Law and so far has worked so well that the plan of practical experience in developing and applying the generalities learned in classes has been operation a number of years, but the veterans are particularly interested in the chance to simulate actual court action. They are responsible for the increase in the number of students of the law college curriculum, according to William L. Matthews Jr., associate professor of law who supervises the Practice Court.

Practice Court offered as a regular part of the law school curriculum with two quarter hours credit toward graduation. Positions as defense counsels, prosecuting attorneys and jurymen are alternated during the quarter to allow each student experience in all type of work. The class goes through the full process from motion form to trying a case in which a jury returns a verdict. Motion form is conducted by a faculty judge. An all-student jury is instructed before they retire to decide on the merits of the case. Every legal phase of circuit court is studied.

Various types of cases are used, some of which are simulated by book discussions and others based on actual situations the students have heard. Sometimes the case is purely fictional and designed to test hypothetical points of law under courtroom conditions. Following the trial, a critique is held on the procedure from the standpoint of technical matters of law and rulings by the judge.

The law in Practice Court is aimed toward helping student lawyers to develop fuller confidence in their ability to present a case and to apply the law they have learned about pleading, evidence and jury trial procedure.

Cooperstown Commissary Is Doing Well On Little Profit

The Cooperstown commissary is now on the experimental stage, but C. A. Shields, 165 Parkman Park, manager of the grocery, thinks it's running well on its little profit basis.

Philosophy
If I should labor through daylight and dark,
Consecrate, valorous, serious, true,
Then on the world I may blazon my myth.
And what if I don't, and what if I do?
—Dorothy Parker
Many persons have inquired about purchasing a Kentuckian for this year. For your information, they will be on sale for two weeks after the Beauty Queen contest and dance is over. A notice will be placed in the Kernel and signs will be posted on campus.
This week has been quite busy with the nights of the campus singing, the Kyian contest, and the coronation of the Mardi Gras Queen which will take place tomorrow night. This column, as well as the Kernel, labors under a serious handicap by being published on Friday, which makes most news a week old before it gets into print. Ah, for a twice a week publication again.
And now to the gossip—Have you heard? Why the Alpha Sigs are so crazy about Newton Pike? That Ione Miller and Bob Jones are pinned for the third time? That the Sigma Nus and their dates sail peacefully at the dinner table, brother Bud Zerner got up and announced his pinning to Beverly Durham which took place during dinner? We might add the Sigma Nus finally calmed down enough to sing the appropriate songs to the crazy about Newton Pike? That Betty Gray was caught in a rather embarrassing situation last week-end when she refused a date with Roy Wallace because she was going to stay in to study and then decided to go out with a boy from North Carolina. There was an SAE lurking behind every corner. You can never win.
The Sigma Chis are giving Shirley Silvers a mad rush these days.
Two boys were caught in a circulation when the girls wish were in circulation are English Kaster and Bob Miller. Could Patsy Allen have been the cause for one of their decisions to become a hermit?
Celia Moore and Billy Bruce Isaacs are seen studying in the library together quite often.
Flash, even though the Herald did beat us—Walt Serini is engaged to Marian Honeywell, a cute little blond who used to attend Transy. It couldn't have happened to a better person.
The poems that end up in the Jewell hall elevator make the ride up and down so much more interesting. Also Mary Sue McWhorter's colorful drawings and classified ads help the atmosphere.

Former campaigne Vincent Spagnuolo is engaged to Frances Pappas.

Editor, Kentucky Kernel:
Intramural basketball competition has begun among the societies on the campus, and the WAA basketball squad starts play today. Women are permitted to witness these games; however there has been a request that no men be permitted to attend these events. Such a request, naturally, from the office of the Dean of Women is really an order.
Could it mean that women are indecent when dressed in shorts, or that they are guilty of actions "unbecoming to a lady" when they participate in intramurals. I have seen girls in competition in basketball, hockey and volleyball in previous times, including the volleyball and hockey season of this year. They were not indecent in shorts, and they did not exhibit actions that could be considered "unbecoming to a lady." If this were the case, women could never major in physical education.
The fraternities are now engaged in intramural basketball competition, and many girls are at the games cheering for their favorite side or just watching. I see no reason why the men on the campus could not reciprocate the favor. I am sure the women would certainly be in favor of mixed audiences at their games. They want to be recognized for their efforts as much as the varsity basketball squad.
I call the request an order of ridiculous restriction.
A DISAPPOINTED ENGINEER
Editor: The Kernel:
The coeds of Jewell Annex feel that they have been maligned and brought to public ridicule as a result of the article appearing in a recent Kernel on the girls' barracks. This letter, written by a full-fledged occupant of one of the three "push pajamas," sets forth their views perfectly:

My Dear Mr. Schill:
We of Jewell Annex O beg to differ with you on certain points set forth in your article entitled, "Yet Slugs for Phusy Life as Lived in Jewell Annex."
We disagree with the following points:
1. "The women even have automatic kerosene stoves . . . We too have those 'real burning' dust-distributing monstrosities." One of the weaker sex shivers out of bed every morning at five o'clock to refuel said monstrosities. This prevents our constantly wearing our "good heavy fur coats" to bed. May we recommend that the stronger sex do the same.
2. Our room and board of $130 a quarter is the same paid by other women students on the campus who live in Jewell, Boyd, and Patterson Halls. We are not getting a bargain in comparison.
3. Out of 44 students who live in the combined Jewell Hall Annex, there are only five women veterans. Our sympathy is aroused by the fact that the poor male veterans do not have a living room - we wish to extend an invitation to them - we hope they feel free to use our living rooms any time after 10 o'clock in the morning until 10:30 at night.

Bitter? Not us! We love our "phusy" life!

Drainage Problem

There are quite a few members of the student body, both male and female, who have neither hip boots nor swimming suits handy for daily wading purposes.
The pond which periodically forms at the foot of the steps leading to the walk between Jewell Hall and the three women's barracks is a tradition with which we could well do away.
The melting of the recent snow has again shown us the acuteness of this oft-mentioned drainage problem. Why can't it be dealt with now before the coming of spring rains and its impending recurrence?

A Commendation

The student members of the University of Kentucky have on the whole been a very well behaved body. Since commendation has been slow in coming from the faculty and other quarters, perhaps the students, themselves, will have to sing their own praises.
Granted that self plaudits reek of conceit, there is, nevertheless, a direful need for some kick in the kits of UK ego.
Yes, this student body has lacked some of the "fiz and vingar" of student bodies at other great and near great American universities and colleges, still it is a sobering sight to see a university of industrious students pursuing education by way of the hard work route.
Students, we commend ourselves! Now let us have a wee bit (just a trifle) of that vinegar and fizz or, esprit de corps, and we shall adore ourselves.

Dangerous Steps

Some months and quarters ago there appeared in the Kernel an editorial concerning the steps which lead up to McVey Hall and the University post office. New steps were installed the following week.
There are other steps on the campus which are now just as rounded out, just as slanting, and just as dangerous as were the old McVey Hall steps in their worst condition. Several persons have slipped and suffered painful injuries on both the front steps of Miller Hall and the rear steps of McVey Hall, which lead down into the Department of Journalism.
This hazard to members of the faculty, staff, and student body should be corrected as soon as possible. May history repeat itself and may new steps be put in next week.

Fraternity To Hold Next Bridge Tournament

The Alpha Sigma Phi social fraternity will sponsor the first annual Greek Letter Bridge tournament during the latter part of February. Prizes and scores will be notified of the date by mail.
One team from each fraternity and society will compete in the event, which will be held at the ASP house. Fifteen and fifteen trophies will be presented to the winner and runner-up.

Editor's Reply

Upon receipt of the letter from "The Disappointed Engineer," I called Dean Holmes who told me that competitive sports among campus women is discouraged. She further stated that stress is upon "play" while competition, which is the key to men's intramural sports, is de-emphasized.
From the national and state angle, we discourage competition for "Bill Hornback, pinned Mary Kay LaMaster, pinned Mary Kay LaMaster, pinned Mary Kay LaMaster." In answer to Miss Kelly's letter about the situation in the girls' barracks, I have contacted Stanley Schill, the author of "Phusy Life," and find that you are looking at his feature through the wrong colored glasses.
Mr. Schill does not mean to imply that your barracks are luxurious and not conforming them to the dorm rooms in which many other girls are privileged to live. He does mean to imply that your quarters are better than those of some of the male veterans, a condition which you will find true upon examination of the situation.

It's familiar to almost everyone because pictures and stories of the atomic bomb tests at Bikini appeared in newspapers throughout the nation within hours after the historic blast.
Speed is a creed with newsmen and the Bell System helps make that speed possible.
It provides the local, Long Distance and radio-telephone, telegraph, teletypewriter and wire-photo facilities over which news is channeled to presses and microphones.
Keeping these facilities in top condition, ever improving and ever expanding, is the interesting job of many qualified men.
It is but one phase of the many-sided telephone industry in which thousands have found challenging and rewarding careers.
There's a future in telephony.

Intramurals Elimination Tourney Near

By Allen Terhune

With only five playing nights remaining in the intramural round-robin basketball tournament before the elimination affair gets underway February 11, official records show have perfect chart as far as won-loss records are concerned.

Heading the list in the first division is Lambda Chi Alpha, which can boast a clean slate of triumphs for their first five tilts, having defeated the Sigma Nu outfit 21-16 in the last outing.

Lambda Chi is now recognized as the only unbeaten outfit in the first division after the Phi Deltis, who held a similar distinction a week ago when dumped in the loss column by a hard fighting Delta Chi aggregation, 25-21, in an overtime final.

Still grasping their all-win glory in the second division is the Sigma Chiis, who furthered their fame by trouncing the ZBT's, 43-13.

In the third section the SAE squad is maintaining a no-loss record, although they had to scratch hard rock-bottom to beat the Delta Z's earlier this week.

The independent teams who make up most of the entries in the basketball meet appear to be dominated by the three "football-basketball" squads—Patt Hall, Jewell Hall and the "K" Club, plus Frank and the Kincaid Halls. Each of the three has rolled over all competition set before them and have made scores greater than any other three teams in the tournament.

Looking ahead of the basketball tourney the intramural office announces the deadline for entering teams in the bowling tournament has been set for Feb. 13.

Entry fee per five man team is $5.00, according to Bill McCubbin, intramural director, who says that the teams will begin bowling February 13 at the Colonial Lanes, and will play their first game at 8:00 p.m. Last year a maximum turnout was the result of the bowling meet, and it is thought that this year the interest will gain momentum, as has every other sport offered by the intramural office.

Introducing... 'Mr. Rebound Himself'

By Stan Schill

Joseph "Rebound" Holland, the "Leapin' Lena" of Rupp's Gamblers, is doing sentry duty once again on the basketball court, all basketball courts where the Wildcats are appearing.

The Cat jumping-jack was voted all-conference last year when he held down a regular forward berth. This year, however, he has been alternating with "Wh" Jones and Cliff Barker at forward, and with Alex Groza at the pivot.

Coch Rupp regards this 190-pound, 6 foot 4 inch junior as one of the best rebounders of the squad, which of course, makes him one of the best rebounders in the nation. He's definitely not a novice on the scoring side, either. He discovered this position of the baskets quite a few years ago, and he's been pouring the shot through the hoop since.

Last year Holland scored 224 points, and this season so far, Joe is leading for 76 markers in spite of the fact that he hasn't been playing steadily.

Alex Groza, you know, is considered the top rebounder of the squad, mainly because of his height. Well, the Sky-scraper has three inches on Holland, and in spite of this, and the fact that he is a member of a team of million dollar hoopers, Joe has come to be known by sportswriters who follow Kentucky, as "Mr. Rebound Himself".

Holland, who hails from Benton, Tenn., is an underdog, because he's a member of the Commonswealth, is no stranger to this game of losing a ball through a hoop.

This is his second season with the Wildcats, and before that, while he was in the western part of the Kentucky, he was a member of the 1944-45 team of the 44-45 team.

Joe is fast on a court, as are all Rupp's Sterilites, and he works well with the rest of the boys. That is an understatement, because he's a team player if there ever was one.

When the tourist arrived home he fell on his face and kissed the pavement. "Emotion!" "No, banana skin!"

Trackmen Start Work; Frosh Meet Scheduled

The freshman track team will participate in a meet with Union College, tentatively arranged for May 1, according to track manager Don Seaton. The remainder of the frosh schedule is yet to be arranged. Earlier this winter would take part in their first meet March 27, at Lafayette, Indiana, in the Purdue Relays.

Seaton requested that all men who have signed up for track begin reporting for practice regularly, so that the teams will be ready for their first meets. At the same time he repeated his plea for at least a half hundred more men, regardless of past experience, especially freshmen. The track coach promised that everyone would be given a chance and that no one would be dropped from the squad.

Seaton also announced that student managers are needed for the coming season. Applicants are requested to apply soon to his office in the Physical Education department, in the basement of Alumni Gym.

The track manager announced that a new managerial system will be inaugurated this year, whereby each team will have a senior manager. Seaton stated that the senior manager would be practically his assistant during the season.

From the group of sophomores who apply the number will be paired to two juniors, and when their senior year rolls around, one will be chosen manager by vote of the squad and Coach Seaton.

To be eligible to serve as a track manager, sophomores must have a 1.5 standing, juniors a 1.8, and the senior manager will have to maintain an even 2.0.

Notre Dame Clips Cats In South Bend

By Kent Hollingsworth

The "Fighting" Irish of Notre Dame met and soundly trounced the Kentucky Wildcats to win their 38th straight game in the South Bend fieldhouse, by a score of 64-55.

"A shure 'n real Irishman, Kevin O'Shea, out gunned, out shot and all-around, outplayed Kentucky's star clustered first and second teams. O'Shea, whose parents were both born in Ireland, had his excellent shooting and floor play scored only when Ralph Beard guarded him for a short period.

Big Al Groza, who couldn't get going in Chicago, was the mainstay of the Kentuckians, scoring 9 of the Wildcats' first 14 points and racking up 23 markers for the evening. He either tied or put his team in front four times during the game. With the score reading 48-50, Big Al came out for a rest and the Irish scored 4 quick points before Groza went back in. The Kentuckians were never again close in the scoring column.

Kentucky Drops DePaul In Chicago By 68-51 Count

By Kent Hollingsworth

Barney Barnhart, with 19 Kentucky 68-51, finally showed the form he has been displaying in practice sessions, to score 17 points and lead the Kentucky Wildcats to their greatest win of the year, over DePaul, 68-51.

The Wildcats led at the half with the DePaul Demons breathing hot on their necks, by 22-7. Then with two and a half minutes gone by in the second canto and the count reading 34-31, Kentucky poured on the power—Jones, Beard, and Barney, all hitting from way out—and never was in danger again.

With Jones playing his best game of the year, both rebounding and shooting, Beard playing like the All-American he is, scoring 16 points, and Barnhart hitting from far out, Kentucky looked like there wasn't a team in the nation that could come close to them.

After connecting on an amazing 45 per cent of their shots in the second half, the Cats had an overall average of 39 per cent.

Wildcats Still Rate As Nation's Best With US

When a highly regarded and much talked about team like Kentucky loses a tough game like the Notre Dame contest last Monday night, it's easy enough to hop off their band wagon, and start running along the side shouting, "I knew they didn't have it all the time. That just proves they're only a second rate team."

Yes, it's much easier to do that, even for those who had been tooting the horns the loudest, than to blurt a little, forget about the sour note, take a deep breath, and begin blowing again.

As sports editor of the school paper, sure we admit that we'd be the last to forsake a Wildcat team participating in any sport. But also we want to say — disappointed though we are in the Irish's 64-55 thumping of the Cats — we don't think it reason enough to even consider deserting the team.

We feel that it's the third big disappointment we've had in the last two seasons. The other two being when Oklahoma A & M beat us in the Sugar Bowl, and Utah clipped us in the finals of the NIT. But that's not bad for 37 tries. Only figures about one in 20.

To sum up the game in a few words, without making any excuses, it was an "off night" for the Cats, and an "on night" for the Irish. Kentucky's percentage of shots made was only 23.6 — one of the lowest credited to the Wildcats this season, while Notre Dame connected for 32.4 percent of their efforts.

Last year in the Jefferson County Armory with a Kentucky crowd on hand, it was a reverse of this year's proceeding. Then the Irish had a definite "off night" while the Wildcats clicked like the smoothest machinery and racked up an easy, 60-30, win.

Without a doubt, we feel that Kentucky has the greatest collection of basketball players that ever made up a college team. Notre Dame has some top players too, among them Kevin O'Shea. Back when the season was just starting, Gene Kessler, sports editor of the Chicago Times, tabbed O'Shea for "Player of the Year" honors — the same award presented to Beard last season. All this poppycock about Notre Dame not having much of a team this year is quite amusing. Don't ever sell the Irish short, they just don't field a second rate team in any sport.

However, we believe in a return bout, the Kentuckians could mark up as decisive a margin, as the one by which they lost. And if the game was played in the Notre Dame field house, then the Irish's long home winning streak would be cut short. For the Irish have had their night, and obtained their revenge. Even with a shamrock in each hand, the Irish would have a mighty hard time stopping the Cats. Our boys hated to lose that one, too.

In winding up our say on this matter, we'd like to quote Tommy Fitzgerald of the Louisville Courier-Journal:

"Sporting goods dealers predict that the war-induced equipment shortages will end late this year. Promised for next basketball season are enough basketball shoes for everybody, including, we suppose, the spectator who sits up there in the stands and says what an All-American is doing wrong."

Kentucky, Groza Lead In S.E.C. Race

By Dudley Saunders

With barely a month remaining before the annual SEC tourney at Louisville, March 4, 5, and 6, Kentucky and Tulane continue to reign supreme in the not-too-sunny South. The Cats 19-2 record and the 16-1 mark maintained by the Green Wave held on as the two leading teams in the conference.

Already it seems agreed that Kentucky and Tulane will draw the top-seeded berths in the tourney and eventually meet in the finals. If anyone should upset the dog bucket, it probably will be either Georgia, Alabama, or Tennessee, each of whom have shown occasional bursts of strength. However, these three darkhorses will probably end up scrambling for third place honors if past records mean anything.

Big surprise of the week came in a non-conference game in which Notre Dame dropped Kentucky, 64-55. In the conference the only notable happening was Vandy's upset victory over Auburn, 55-47.

Kentucky's All-American pivotman, Alex Groza, continued to lead the league in scoring with 200 points in 20 games, followed closely by Georgia's Bob Henley and Vandy's Bill Adcock with 246 and 243 points respectively. Groza's average, however, was far from being the league's best. In 20 games this season his average is only 12.5.

Billy Joe Adcock, Vanderbilt's sophomore sensation, has the best average in the conference, a sterling 17.5 in 14 games. Second and third best averages belong to two players not listed among the 15 leading scorers. William Daley of Mississippi State has 154 points in ten games for a 15.4 average, and Jack Marshall of Ole Miss, has 153 in ten games for a 15.3 average.

Kentucky's Ralph Beard is the conference's fourth leading scorer, with 221 points in 19 engagements.

Cat Cagers Play Washington U. Saturday; Meet Vandy Monday For Fifth S.E.C. Tilt

By Tom Dick

Still snarling and snapping from the 64-55 licking by Notre Dame last Monday, the Kentucky Wildcats will meet Washington University of St. Louis tomorrow night in the Memphis, Tenn., Auditorium, before an expected capacity crowd of 4,000 people. Two nights later, on Monday, the Lexington Lexingtonmen move to Nashville, where they will play a weak Vanderbilt quietest. This game will be played in Vanderbilt's small Classification Center gymnasium, which seats only 1,219 persons.

Both contests are expected to be more-or-less exhibition games for the twice-beaten Cats of Kentucky. Washington and Vanderbilt have been taking it on the chin constantly this season and will have little more than a hopeful prayer against UK, which has a record of 19 victories and two defeats for the campaign.

Washington U. Has 4-9 Record

Washington University has a record of four wins as against nine losses for the 1947-48 season. Their win has been over Drury, Central Missouri, Westminster (of Missouri) and Auburn. One of the bright spots in the past record for WU was holding the strong Michigan State Spartans to a one-point victory last month. Brantum & Co. won out, 46-45, in a hard-fought game.

Last Saturday, Washington suffered their ninth loss of the year by falling before the University of Louisville, 54-38, in a game played in the Army. Guard Stan London led the St. Louis aggregation by scoring 15 markers. Forward Bill

Gerstung, one of Washington's outstanding football players, followed with six points. WU's centers, Barker and Lausche, were held to two and three tumbles each in the contest with Louisville.

Adcock Leads Vanderbilt Five

Forward Billy Joe Adcock, who scored 187 points in 14 games last season, is Vanderbilt's top scoring threat. The 19-year-old Nashville lad has plenty of speed and natural ability. He tossed in 24 points against the highly-touted Tulane Greenies recently to top the high-scoring honors for both teams. Adcock, who stands six-foot, two and weighs 185 pounds, has been one of the high scorers in the nation for average points made per game. Last week, he was No. 10 in the national ratings with a 17.7 average per contest. Billy Joe Adcock is a sure bet to break the Vanderbilt scoring mark of 215 points set by Pinky Lipcomb in 1941 unless Ole Man Injury steps in.

In the Xavier game, which Vandy lost, 62-42, Adcock flung in 20 points to score nearly 50% of his team's total for the contest.

Guard Bobby McGuire, of Hazard, Ky., after a slow start this season, has become one of the Commodore's regulars. He is a fleet freshman, and plays a hard-driving game somewhat reminiscent of UK's Ralph Beard. McGuire is 18 years old and stands an even six-feet in height.

Other guards are Mike Craig, a six-foot, one sophomore who concentrates on rebounds and feeding the ball for the Vandy hoopers, and Irv Munday, another Kentuckian who excels on the defense. He is a five-foot, eleven sophomore from Hopkinsville.

The pivotmen are Pete Robinson, a six-foot, four cager from Nashville and Dick Williams, a six-foot, seven-inch center from Marietta, Ohio, who lacks experience for top-flight competition but has shown promise in several games.

Parks At Forward Position

Starting at the forward position with Adcock will probably be Blade Parks, a lanky 6' 7" sophomore who finished second in team scoring last year with 125 points in 11 games for an 11.4 average.

Reserve forwards are Ed Tate, a 9' 2" lad from Waverly, Tenn., and Andrew Jack Todd, of Murfreesboro, who stands six-foot, three and was the ace of Vandy's "B" team last season.

Cheating On Geology Tests Fast Becoming Impossibility

By E. P. Schraeder

Students in geology are becoming reconciled to the fact that cheating on the rock and mineral quizzes is now almost an impossibility.

That's the opinion of F. L. Lewis and W. R. King, geology majors, who give tests to students taking one of the elementary courses in geology.

"There are some, however, who have devised one or two rather ingenious methods of tricking," King says.

"But they are usually caught," he points out.

All students in the classes are required to pass tests in which they must identify correctly a number of rocks and minerals.

"The technical names of some of the rocks or minerals present a difficulty to some students who have trouble spelling the names of the matter to be identified," Lewis said.

He explained that the "favorite trick" to avoid this is to prepare a list of rocks before the quiz. Then the student asks to be permitted to write a list from memory before he starts the test.

"On the surface this seems o. k. but the rub comes when the unsuspecting supervisor turns his back momentarily and the student switches lists," Lewis said.

Another trick has been one student taking the examination for a friend who doubled his ability to sort out correctly the required number of specimens.

"This trick, it has been pointed out, works this way. The assistant giving the tests isn't acquainted with the students in the classes. After the test, the student lists his name and class in which he is enrolled. By taking tests under different supervisors some students have been able to earn a bit of spending money in addition to helping a buddy.

"Another trick is switching of the specimens to be identified. Some students have been known to carry in their pockets a number of rocks or minerals difficult to identify. And sometime during the process of the test, they switch the known material for the unknown material.

Lewis said that each student is given a box containing fifteen mineral specimens. With various means of testing, such as tapping, soft, or testing, or rubbing the specimen against another material the student is able to identify the various minerals "and with some persistent study, he can make a perfect score without resorting to underhanded methods," Lewis said.

WSSF Seeks To Aid India

The decision to send aid to students in a university in India highlighted two recent meetings of the All-Campus World Student Service Fund Committee. The group, headed by Harold Frosdy, voted to send one-half of the funds raised in the March drive to needy Indian students in a university as yet unspecified.

Charles Boggs, publicity chairman, announced that the group will establish direct contact with one of several Indian colleges, listed by WSSF as in urgent need of aid.

A goal of $6500.00 has been set for this year's campaign, Boggs stated.

All campus organized groups will be urged to cooperate in the campaign which is sponsored nationally by the United Student Christian Council, Hill Foundation, National Student Association and the American Federation of Women's Clubs. Last year students gave $275 to aid reconstruction of university life in war-torn countries. More than 800 American colleges and universities took part in the national program of student-to-student relief.

Boggs, SCA delegate to Europe last summer, told the committee of his meetings with students who had been given help by WSSF.

"They were happy to hear my stories of American student giving," Boggs stated. "At the International Student Relief Home in Combsburg, Pa., I displayed pictures, charts, and statistics about our 1947 WSSF Drive, "Operation University."

Solicitation committees will be set up in order to reach every UK student with the appeal. Special events, planned for the March drive, will dramatize the need for student support of WSSF.

NSA Queries Are Answered By President

By F. Ford Waller

The question as to whether the National Student Association should join with the International Union of Students, was partially answered by Bill Welch, president of NSA, at a meeting of Student Government Monday night.

In view of the fact that NSA is made up of student representatives from the United States and IUS is comprised of student representatives from Finland, Yugoslavia, Russia, from the United States and IUS is and other countries, Welch said NSA should join with IUS.

Admitting the general tone of IUS is communistic, Welch explained the need of the United States' participation, as a democratic nation. He warned, however, against the continuance of "neo-democratic minority group" representation of current American student groups, if NSA should join with IUS.

Final decision on this matter, Welch said, would be left to "campus referendums" sometime in 1948.

Welch explained the general purpose and functions of NSA as "a service organization" functioning in two capacities: (1) as a coordinating group supplying information for students on the campus; and (2) as a group of democratically represented students with special interests.

This idea of student representation he called something new, pointing out that heretofore such representation had been carried by churches and outside organizations.

A group of 750 delegates organized NSA in the United States, at Madison, Wisconsin, last summer where they worked out a constitution in nine days. The organization now has a membership of some 115 U. S. colleges.

NSA's additional stands and services, as told by Welch, include suggestions available to various colleges with unsolved parking problems, a general stand opposing racial segregation and discrimination in higher education, and an issuance of data concerning universal military training, problems of campus' students, government associations, and proposed trips to Europe (via wartime converted-troops) for students and faculty members for study and conference this summer.

Gets Award

Most students agreed that professors were dull subjects, at least dull to the point of producing sleep regularly. Many were frank in saying that they didn't like anything about their professors.

Yep, I know this is mid-term week but I'm not scared of the possible consequences of this article. I have two apples in each pocket, a mouthful of sticks for the tobacco machine, and eight kinds of cigarettes, cigars, and chewing tobacco.

What the professor? I tried last quarter said when I showed my piece of paper? "Where's the beef?"

So we had class on Rose Street the rest of the quarter.

World Peace First Topic In Forums

Dr. Herrick B. Young, executive secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, told the first forum of Religious Emphasis Week that among the challenges to world peace are a general breakdown of established cultures caused by the recent war.

Other challenges, he said, are the general upheaval of moral ideas caused by the atomic bomb which demonstrated the destructive use of scientific discoveries, and the vast extent of selfish nationalism rampant.

Dr. Young pointed out that "to make peace we must possess it."

Professors Take

(Continued from Page 1) human aspects, such as letting all classes out early, so the Grill will lose money due to the ten-minute limit between classes. It has proved best not to remember names and faces for reasons which students refuse to release for publication.

Homework is not popular, as it leaves little time for extra-curricular activities at the Tavern. Never assign library work, give only work which can be done on the way to and from classes. And why make us go to classes in the first place?

The student body guarantees to cooperate to the fullest extent with any professor who adopts the solutions suggested by the poll.

The needs of popularity drop to a minimum point on Monday mornings and on Fridays when each faculty member has a habit of saying, "And now for your Monday asignment..."

Most students agreed that professors were dull subjects, at least dull to the point of producing sleep regularly. Many were frank in saying that they didn't like anything about their professors.

Yep, I know this is mid-term week but I'm not scared of the possible consequences of this article. I have two apples in each pocket, a mouthful of sticks for the tobacco machine, and eight kinds of cigarettes, cigars, and chewing tobacco.

What the professor? I tried last quarter said when I showed my piece of paper? "Where's the beef?"

So we had class on Rose Street the rest of the quarter.

"According to S. G. A. Law 2, the date for the election is Thursday, April 1. The Constitution requires that for a student to become a candidate for membership in the Assembly, he must have completed a 12 semester course and must have had the quarters of residence at the University. He must also have filed a statement of his candidacy with the Registrar at least seven days before the election, indicating what office he seeks. In this election, the deadline for filing statement of candidacy is Thursday, March 21.

"To the Assembly, the election committee makes the following recommendations:

- (a) That one be elected to the Student Union Building for Graduate and Arts and Sciences students; that one poll be situated in the Agriculture Building for Agriculture and Home Economics students; that one poll be situated in the White Hall for Commerce students; that one poll be situated in the Engineering Study Hall for Engineering students.
- (b) That polls be open from 9:00 a. m. until 5:00 p. m.
- (c) That the Australian Ballot be used, and one ballot printed thereon with early admission, if any.

- (e) That the election committee be empowered to work out necessary details for the election, and to supervise the election, but with all its action subject to the approval of the Student Government Association.

The report of the committee to study the bill to govern use of bulletin boards was given by the secretary and approved by the assembly.

Russell moved the acceptance of the original bill.

Cover seconded.

Rolls received for "twenty-four hours" in the sentence "The organization responsible for the signs must remove them within twenty-four hours after the event has occurred, be it a dance or the 'hot' and 'cold' days." The committee is to make recommendations as to the bill to be presented to each organization of the campus of the University of Kentucky.

Miller stated that under the constitution the Judiciary Committee has the power to judge all cases of violation of Student Government legislation. Under the University enforces the bill the committee is powerless.

Miller suggested that the bill be referred to the faculty at its next meeting.

Miller moved to take S. G. A. Law 2 and to refer it to the University of Kentucky faculty.

Minutes approved.

Myers moved amendment be adopted so that William Welch, President of the National Student Association, might speak to the assembly.

Miller seconded.

Respectfully submitted,
ELIZABETH WALTERS, Secretary

Washington University, the foe of Kentucky's Wildcats tomorrow night in Memphis, is coached by the veteran Bill Gullick, a former Big Ten case star of two decades ago. Paul Gordon and Sophomores Ken O'Shea, John Foley and Leo Barnett. In addition, John Brennan, ND's leading scorer of last season, is only a sophomore. However he broke his arm in a game against Denver last December and has seen no action since.

The best loss for the Irish on their home court was in December of 1941 when they were beaten, 46-42 by Western Michigan. Their victory over UK was No. 38 in a row. Only three more home games are slated for ND this season—St. Louis U., Michigan State and Marquette, St. Louis and the MSU Spartans. A slight chance to stop the streak.

Vanderbilt's basketball coach is 22-year-old Bob Polk, who is in his first year at the Nashville school. Polk was appointed to the post after Ted Hornack, coach, had been named Navy head coach, expected to remain at Western Kentucky with the Hilltoppers.

Polk is a former Evansville College case star. He served in the Navy Y-12 program during the war at Georgia Tech and after his discharge was given the assistant coaching position of the Tech basketball team.

Vanderbilt nabbed him last year to help initiate a rebuilding program for the Gold and Black case team, which has been one of the weak sisters of the SEC for many years. At the present time, the Vandy students take very little interest in the "round-ball" game. They must buy tickets for the home games, only a few are sold.

The Tulane Greenies, with eight straight conference wins, will meet the Alabama basketball team tonight which will give sport followers a comparison between the UK Cats and Tulane since both teams will have played the Crimson Tite quintet in a space of only three days.

Down around New Orleans, and especially on the Tulane campus, they are beginning to talk of national tournaments, All-Americans, and even a national championship for their Greenie warriors. The school paper, "The Tulane Hula-bula," is leading the drums for All-American honors for the high-scoring Warren Perkins.

In 17 games, the Big Green has lost only once—that being a 41-37 defeat by unbeaten NYU in the season. In this game Perkins and Jim Ruffey, two of the Greenies top players, fouled out in the second half which allowed Coach Cliff Wells' cagers considerably. This is one team that Kentucky will have to worry about in the Southeastern Conference tournament, which gets underway March 4 in Louisville's Army.

American honors for the high-scoring Warren Perkins.

Intramurals Elimination Tourney Near

By Allen Terhune

With only five playing nights remaining in the intramural round-robin basketball tournament before the elimination affair gets underway February 11, official records show have perfect chart as far as won-lost records are concerned.

Heading the list in the first division is Lambda Chi Alpha, who can boast a clean slate of triumphs for their first five tilts, having defeated the Sigma Nu outfit 21-16 in the last outing.

Lambda Chi is now recognized as the only unbeaten outfit in the first division after the Phi Deltis, which held a similar distinction a week ago were dumped in the loss column by a hard fighting Delta Chi aggregation, 25-21, in an overtime period.

Still grasping their all-win glory in the second division are the Sigma Nu's who furthered their fame by trouncing the ZBT's, 43-13.

In the third section the SAE squad is maintaining a no-loss record, although they had to scrape hard for a win over the Delta 27-24 earlier this week.

The independent teams who make up most of the entries in the basketball meet appear to be dominated by the three "football-basketball" squads—Phi Hall, Jewell Hall and the "K" Club, plus Bradley and Maxwell club players.

Looking ahead of the basketball tourney the intramural office announces that the deadline for entering teams in the bowling tournament has been set for Feb. 12.

Entry fee for five man team is $5.00, and a maximum of three intramural directors, who says that the teams will begin bowling February 10 at the Colonial Lanes, and the result of the bowling meet, and it is thought that this year has interest will gain momentum, as has every other sport offered by the intramural office.

Breck Hall forfeited to Dukes; Barracks Buns 27; Pat Hall 50—Warren County 15; "K" Club 57—Rose Street Barracks 15; Jewell Hall 38—Hoodlums 18; Jumpers 39—Newman Club 18; Maxwell club forfeited to Dukes; and Jewell Hall 43—Shoemen 31; Jewell Hall 42—Newman Club 18; Hoodlums 44—Maxwell Club 8; Jewell Hall 38—Jumpers 22; Shoemen 30—Bagles 22; Crumbs 37; Breck Hall 15; Warren Co. 15; Dukes 20; "K" Club 61—Atonics 16; Kincaid Hall 38—Turtles 15 and YMCA 52—Bullets 9.

Introducing... 'Mr. Rebound Himself'

By Stan Reich

Joseph "Rebound" Holland, the "Leapin' Lena" of Rupp's Ramblers, is doing seventy duty once again on the backboards of all basketball courts where the Wildcats are appearing.

The Cat jumping-jack was voted all-conference last year when he held down a regular forward berth. This year, however, he has been alternating with "Wah" Jones and Cliff Barker at forward, and with Alex Groza at the pivot.

Cochs Rupp regards this 190-pound, 6-foot 4-inch junior as one of the top rebounders of the squad, which of course, makes him one of the best rebounders in the nation. He's definitely not a novice on the scoring side, either. He discovered the position of the baskets quite a few years ago, and he's been pouring the shots through ever since.

Last year Holland scored 224 points, and this season so far, Joe has connected for 76 markers in 100 games. The fact that he hasn't been playing steadily.

Alex Groza, you know, is considered the top rebounder of the team, mainly because of his height. Well, the Skyscraper has three inches on Holland, and in spite of this, and the fact that he is a member of a team of million dollar hoopers, Joe has come to be known by sportswriters who follow Kentucky, as "Mr. Rebound Himself".

Holland, who hails from Benton, down in the western part of the Kentucky Commonwealth, is no stranger to this game of tossing a ball through a basket.

This is his second season with the Wildcats, and before that he was with the "swabbies." Joe tallied 224 points for the Iowa Seawalks in the 44-45 campaign.

Joe is fast on a court, as are all rebounders, and he works well with the rest of the boys. That is an understatement, because he's a rebounder, and he's a rebounder. Unfortunately for the fair sex around the school, he's already married.

Notre Dame Clips Cats In South Bend

By Kent Hollingsworth

The Fighting Irish of Notre Dame met and soundly trounced the Kentucky Wildcats to win their 28th straight game in the South Bend gymnasium, by a score of 69-35.

"A shure 'n real Irishman, Kevin O'Shea, out generated, out shot and out rebounded Kentucky's star O'Shea, whose parents were both born in Ireland, had his excellent shooting and floor play showed only when Ralph Beard guarded him for a short period.

Big Al Groza, who couldn't get going in Chicago, was the mainstay of the Kentucky team. He scored 9 of the Wildcat's 14 points and racking up 23 markers in the evening. He either tied or put his team in front four times during the game. With the score reading 45-50, Big Al came out for a rest and the Irish scored 8 quick points before Groza went back in. The Kentuckians were never again close in the scoring column.

The Kentucky quintet, unable for the last two seasons to win a game in which they were trailing at half time, again proved the rule, when O'Shea and Beardshot followed the tie-breaking trip to put Notre Dame in front for the rest of the period, 34-32.

National Invitational Tournament. Joe Holland is one boy who will be right in there patching to give the Wildcats a chance for the NIT championship and a shot at the Olympic trophy in New York on March 27 to 31.

To ravid Kentucky fans, of course, there is no question that the Blue and White will go to the Invitational, is there?

In the receiving line were Dr. and Mrs. Donovan, Dr. Frank L. McVey, president emeritus of the University, Mrs. Kate McVey Park, Dean and Mrs. Thomas P. Cooper, Mrs. W. K. Morris, Hopkinsville, Miss Myrtle Weldon, Harry Walters, Commissioner of Agriculture, and Mrs. Walters, Shelbyville.

Kentucky Drops DePaul In Chicago By 68-51 Count

By Kent Hollingsworth

Barney Barnstable, playing before 50 relatives and 15,240 spectators, DePaul fans, finally showed the form he has been displaying in practice sessions, to score 17 points and lead the Kentucky Wildcats to their greatest win of the year, over De Paul, 68-51.

The Wildcats led at the half with the DePaul Demons breathing hot on their necks, by 32-27. Then with two and a half minutes gone by in the second canto and the count reading 24-31, Kentucky poured on the power—Jones, Beard, and Barber, all hitting from way out and never was in danger again.

With Jones playing his best game of the year, both rebounding and shooting, Beard playing like the All-American he is, scoring 16 points, Ted Barnstable hitting from far out, Kentucky looked like there wasn't a team in the nation that could come close to them.

After connecting on an amazing 45 per cent of their shots in the second half, the Cats had an overall average of 39 per cent.

Big Ed Milon, miserably outplayed by Groza in the first DePaul-Kentucky contest in Louisville played a great game for the Demons, scoring 23 points while holding Groza to 3.

Associated Press dispatches released Thursday morning, disclosed that Western Kentucky held on to fourth place in the nation in the team offensive standings, and that Kentucky fell from fifth to sixth place. Western, with an average of 98.5 points per game, is 7 points above the Cats, who have an average of 91.1. North Carolina State continues to lead the nation's offensive teams with an average of 78.2, or nearly two points per game.

Kentucky traffic deaths for 1947 totaled 81, slightly lower than the 1946 total, figures released by the state highway patrol showed today.

SWIRLING SKIRTS—Do you know our shop is not exclusively for men? We have a smart ladies department too, some of the numbers we carry ring the bell for style and quality. Here is our "new look" feature that is perfect for round the clock wear—a two piece, silk fitted suit and matching skirt and short fitted jacket with a Peter Pan collar. This model comes in gray, blue and navy blue. A suit that can be highlighted with a touch of costume jewelry or worn plain—so you like!

DOUBLE OR SINGLE—Take your pick. If I could have my choice of all the good looking suits hanging on our racks—but I can't, our boss is looking! I wouldn't know which fine drapes to sport, what with flen plaids in double breasted one button roll, bouge models, gray-green cardigans in two button single breasted coats, hand finished wadded in a variety of stripes and patterns... so confound but each one is the right style for someone. You are more than welcome to know through them and find YOUR style.

MY OPINION—My opinion was formed this week by Robert Stamper's neatness and excellent taste in casual dress (there's a great difference between casual dress and sloppiness). I was chewing the fat with him at the V.F.W. Club Saturday, and noticed he was wearing a maroon corduroy coat—gray flannel sport slacks—very narrow sheathing belt and moccasin loaf dark brown shoes—His shirt was a pale blue oxford cloth button down, embellished by a dark blue and yellow plaid tie (tuber tie pin and matching blue and yellow tie clip)—Very casual, very neat and very correct for Sunday. He is taking engineering and is a Triangle pledge.

HALYARD'S SPORT SIDE SHOW

Featuring Today —

Wildcats Still Rate As Nation's Best With US

When a highly regarded and much talked about team like Kentucky loses a tough game like the Notre Dame contest last Monday night, it's easy enough to hop off their band wagon, and start running along the side shouting, "I knew they didn't have it all the time. That just proves they're only a second rate team."

Yes, it's much easier to do that, even for those who had been tooting the horns the loudest, than to blush a little, forget about the sour note, take a deep breath, and begin blowing again.

As sports editor of the school paper, sure we admit that we'd be the last to forsake a Wildcat team participating in any sport. But also we must say — disappointed though we are in the Irish's 64-55 thumping of the Cats — we don't think it reason enough to even consider deserting the team.

We feel that it's the third big disappointment we've had in the last two seasons. The other two being when Oklahoma A & M beat us in the Sugar Bowl, and Utah clipped us in the finals of the NIT. But that's not bad for 57 tilts. Only figures about one in 20.

To sum up the game in a few words, without making any excuses, it was an "off night" for the Cats, and an "on night" for the Irish. Kentucky's percentage of shots made was only 23.6 — one of the lowest credited to the Wildcats this season, while Notre Dame connected for 32.4 percent of their efforts.

Last year in the Jefferson County Armory with a Kentucky crowd on hand, it was a reverse of this year's proceeding. Then the Irish had a definite "off night" while the Wildcats clicked like the smoothest machinery and racked up an easy, 60-30, win.

Without a doubt, we feel that Kentucky has the greatest collection of basketball players that ever made up a college team. Notre Dame has some top players too, among them Kevin O'Shea. Back when the season was just starting, Gene Kessler, sports editor of the Chicago Times, tabbed O'Shea for "Player of the Year" honors — the same award presented to Beard last season.

All this poppycock about Notre Dame not having much of a team this year is quite amusing. Don't ever sell the Irish short, they just don't field a second rate team in any sport.

However, we believe in a return bout, the Kentuckians could mark up as decisive a margin, as the one by which they lost. And if the game was played in the Notre Dame field house, then the Irish's long home winning streak would be cut short. For the Irish have had their night, and obtained their revenge. Even with a shamrock in each hand, the Irish would have a mighty hard time stopping the Cats. Our boys hated to lose that one, too.

In winding up our say on this matter, we'd like to quote Tommy Fitzgerald of the Louisville Courier-Journal:

"Sporting goods dealers predict that the war-induced equipment shortages will end late this year. Promised for next basketball season are enough basketball shoes for everybody, including, we suppose, the spectator who sits up there in the stands and says what an All-American is doing wrong."

Kentucky, Groza Lead In S.E.C. Race

By Dudley Saunders

With barely a month remaining before the annual SEC tournament at Louisville, March 4-5, and G. Kentucky and Tulane continue to fight supreme in the not-to-sunshine South. The Cats 19-2 record and the 16-1 mark maintained by the Green Wave held on as the two leading seasons records by conference teams. Next best records belong to Tennessee (13-3) and Georgia (14-5).

Already it seems agreed that Kentucky and Tulane will draw the top-seeded berths in the tourney, and eventually meet in the finals. If anyone should upset the dog in the bucket, it probably will be either Georgia, Alabama, or Tennessee, each of whom have shown occasional bursts of strength. However, these three distasteful will probably end up scrambling for third place honors if past records mean anything.

Big surprise of the week came in a non-conference game in which Notre Dame dropped Kentucky, 64-55. In the conference the only notable happening was Vandy's upset victory over Auburn, 47-47.

Kentucky's All-America pivotman, Alex Groza, continued to lead the league in scoring with 210 points in 20 games, followed closely by Georgia's Bob Henley and Vandy's Bill Adcock with 246 and 245 points respectively. Groza's average, however, far from being the league's best. In 20 games this season his average is only 12.5.

Billy Joe Adcock, Vanderbilt's sophomore sensation, has the best average in the conference, a sterling 17.3 in 14 games. Second and third best averages belong to two players not listed among the 15 leading scorers. Willard Daley of Mississippi State has 154 points in ten games for a 15.4 average, and Jack Marshall of Ole Miss, has 133 in ten games for a 13.3 average.

Kentucky's Ralph Beard is the conference's fourth leading scorer, with 221 points in 19 engagements.

Cat Cagers Play Washington U. Saturday; Meet Vandy Monday For Fifth S.E.C. Tilt

by Tom Diskin

Still snarling and snapping from the 64-55 licking by Notre Dame last Monday, the Kentucky Wildcats will meet Washington University of St. Louis tomorrow night in the Memphis, Tenn., Auditorium, before an expected capacity crowd of 4,000 people. Two nights later, on Monday, the Lexington Lexington men move to Nashville, where they will play a week Vanderbilt quiet. This game will be played in Vanderbilt's small Classification Center gymnasium, which seats only 1,219 persons.

Both contests are expected to be more-or-less exhibition games for the two-beaten Cats of Kentucky. Washington and Vanderbilt have been taking it on the chin constantly this season and will have little more than a hopeful prayer against UK, which has a record of 19 victories and two defeats for the campaign.

Washington U. Has 4-9 Record

Washington University has a record of four wins against nine losses for the 1947-48 season. Their wins have been over Emory, Central Missouri, Westminster (of Missouri) and Auburn. One of the bright spots in the past record for WU was holding the strong Michigan State Spartans to a one-point victory last month. Braunam & Co. won out, 46-45, in a hard-fought game.

Last Saturday, Washington suffered their ninth loss of the year by falling before the University of Louisville, 54-39, in a game played in the Army, Guard Stan London and the St. Louis aggregation by scoring 18 markers. Forward Bill

Gerstung, one of Washington's outstanding football players, followed with six points. WU's centers, Barker and Lausebe, were held to two and three tallies each in the contest with Louisville.

Adcock Leads Vanderbilt Five

Forward Billy Joe Adcock, who scored 157 points in 14 games last week, is a fleet freshman, and plays a hard-driving game somewhat reminiscent of UK's Ralph Beard. McGuire is 18 years old and stands an even six-feet in height.

Other guards are Mike Craik, six-foot, one sophomore who concentrates on rebounds and feeding the ball for the Vandy hoopers, and Irv Munday, another Kentuckian who excels on the defense. He is a five-foot, eleven sophomore from Hopkinsville.

The pivots are Pete Robinson, a six-foot, four cager from Nashville and Dick Williams, a six-foot, seven-inch center from Marietta, Ohio, who lacks experience for top-flight competition but has shown promise in several games.

Parks At Forward Position

Starting at the forward position with Adcock will probably be Blade Parks, a lanky 6' 2" sophomore who dashed record in team scoring last year with 125 points in 11 games — for an 11.4 average.

Reserve forwards are Ed Tate, a 6' 2" lad from Waverly, Tenn., and Andrew "Jack" Todd of Murfreesboro, who stands six-foot, three and was the ace of Vandy's "B" team last season.

Guard Bobby McGuire, of Hazard, Ky., after a slow start this season, has become one of the Commodore's sophomores, except McGuire and Williams, who are in their first year at the Gold and Black.

Last season, UK trimmed Vanderbilt decisively in each of their three meetings. Kentucky won 83-30 and 84-41 in the regular season, and 56 wins and 9 losses against the Nashville Commodores in basketball.

The Payette County Felines will leave the Tennessee capital by plane immediately after the Vanderbilt contest and will arrive here early Tuesday morning.
