KENTUCKY NEWSPAPER PROJECT RECEIVES N.E.H. FUNDING

The UK Libraries have been awarded an additional $137,563.00 from the National Endowment for the Humanities to continue the Kentucky Newspaper Project through December 1990. The supplemental funding will be used for the preservation microfilming of previously unfiled newspapers held in Kentucky repositories. Since filming began in late 1987, over 675,000 pages of Kentucky newspapers have been preserved by the Project.

The Kentucky Newspaper Project is headquartered in the Periodicals/Newspapers/Microforms Department and microfilming is being done by the Libraries' Microfilm Center. For further information, contact Judy Sackett, Project Director, at 257-3493. (Submitted by Judy Sackett.)

FRENCH CULTURAL DINNER

The University of Kentucky presents "Le Tour de France: La cuisine, la culture, et la conversation." Experience the special romance of France at a French banquet and a grand tour on February 16 or 17. The dinner, sponsored by the UK Office of Special Programs, will be served at 6:30 p.m. in the UK Student Center Grand Ballroom. The grand tour will begin immediately following dinner. The tour guide for the evening will be Dr. Raymond F. Betts, Professor of History and Director of the UK Honors Program. Dr. Betts has traveled extensively through France and is thoroughly enthralled by its culture and history. The tour will be illustrated by the instructor's experiences and slides.

Individual and group reservations are being accepted for Friday, February 16 and Saturday, February 17 with dinner guests being seated at tables of six or eight. Tickets are $19.00 per person and may be paid by cash, check, or credit card. Call now for reservations at 257-3929. The next Office of Special Programs dinner will feature the Caribbean on April 13 and 14.

INTEGRATIVE STUDIES SEMINARS

The UK Integrative Seminars for 1990 will begin on January 22. The seminars will deal with the nature of integrative study with the focus on integrated systems (namely living systems) ranging from the cell, through the human, to the mythical. Each evening will be devoted to a few pages culled from a short story or other text--reading the text a few lines at a time and contemplating what is read. Panelists assembled for each session will initiate some of the discussion. They will be there not to represent areas of expertise but to bring their life experiences to bear on emerging issues. They meetings will be held on Mondays 7:30 to 9:30 in Kastle Hall, Room 216. For more information, contact the Office of Integrative Studies, MN-502, Medical Center, 00840, 233-5563.

OKLAHOMA ACQUISITION BUDGET CONFERENCE

The University of Oklahoma Libraries and Foundation present "Acquisition Budgets: Strategies for Serials, Monographs, and Electronic Formats." The conference will be held March 1 and 2, 1990 at the Embassy Suites Hotel in Oklahoma City. Speakers will include librarians from the Universities of Texas, Utah, Michigan, Louisiana State, and Vanderbilt in addition to representatives of Baker & Taylor, ARL, and the National Library of Medicine. The registration fee is $75.00 with a deadline of February 16, 1990. For additional information, contact Donald C. Hudson, conference coordinator, at (405) 325-2611.

CENTER FOR RENAISSANCE STUDIES OFFERINGS

The Center for Renaissance Studies at The Newberry Library has announced two upcoming programs. "Exploring the Newberry's Resources: Medieval and Renaissance Studies," will be held February 2-3, 1990 at the Newberry Library. This colloquium is designed to introduce scholars to research possibilities at the Newberry by detailing various strengths in the library's collections.

The 1990 Summer Institute in the English Archival Sciences will be held July 9 to August 17, 1990. It will provide six weeks of intensive training in the reading, transcribing, and editing of English manuscript books and documents from the late medieval through the Early Modern periods, as well as a thorough orientation in the archives and manuscript collections available for work in the English tradition. The application deadline is March 1, 1990. Stipends of up to $3,000.00 are available. For more information on either program, contact the Center for Renaissance Studies, The Newberry Library, 60 West Walton Street, Chicago, IL 60610, (312) 943-9090.

The following letter was received by Sandee McAninch from Rep. Jim Bates, Chairman of the Committee on House Administration:

Enclosed please find a copy of the report on the Subcommittee on Procurement and Printing's hearings earlier this year on the government printing laws. Once again, I would like to thank you for participating in the hearings. Your comments were most informative and helpful to the subcommittee. In addition, I have enclosed a copy of a revised draft bill to amend Title 44 of the United States Code. I would be pleased to have your comments on this new bill.

Rob Aken received this letter from Becky Jordan and Betty Hall, Co-coordinators of UK 100:

Thank you for your involvement in the pilot UK 100 freshman orientation course. We have received strong support and approval of this course from UK 100 students, faculty, and student assistants. In written class evaluations, a large majority of students stated that they would recommend UK 100 to incoming freshmen. Your efforts, combined with the efforts of many other faculty and staff, significantly contributed to the success of the course.

We very much appreciate the contribution you made in preparing and presenting the "Using the Library and LS2000" session. A summary of student evaluations for all four UK 100 sections of this session is enclosed. . .

This letter was sent by Lynn Fogle, Ann Davidson, and Candace Owens of Greenbaum,, Doll & McDonald to Russell Powell:

We would like to express our appreciation for your time and assistance in instructing us in engineering bibliography. This information will be helpful to us in our future research projects. If we have further questions, we will be sure to call you. If we can ever be of service to you, please call us. Again, thanks for your help.

Jeffrey Suchanek was the recipient of this letter from William E. Leuchtenburg, William Rand Kenan Professor at the University of North Carolina:

It was extraordinarily generous of you to write to me and to send me the two transcripts. I have worked in scores of archives around the country, and I cannot recall that anyone has ever done anything so thoughtful before. I am most appreciative. Thank you warmly for your kindness.

THANKS

Thanks so much for the gift certificate. Barbara and I will enjoy lunch in Versailles over the holidays. Thanks too, for a successful 1989 in the Library. I appreciate your thoughtfulness.

Paul Willis
