so I don't care whether I work or not. (Didn't get quite enough soap in that paragraph did I? Ha.)

The Endeavor is going to have a picnic next Sunday evening but I don't care much about going. Rather just have a date with you. So suppose that I just wander down to your place along about 7 or 7:30.

What? Adios Senorita "Maybe"

Your friend as ever,

"Brownie"

P.S. I'll be expecting an answer. But you can't write another letter that will be any better to me than that first.

Dear "Pal O' Mine",

I just heard they were going to have a New Years party Jan. 1 and I just thought I would write up and ask if I might have a date, that is if ~~you~~ you are going to come home by that time. Are you?

I worked in the hay field all last week and when I went over home Sat. morning to start on a week end

I suppose you think that I am a little tardy in answering your letter but our Sunday School class took that camping trip this week end and this is the first time I've had time enough to write a letter and I think I will have to cut this short as it has stopped raining and I'll have to go to work. I hoped that it would rain all day so I wouldn't have to work. I swam so much yesterday that I'm still tired and had a date last ^{nite} ^{at 10:00 am} ~~sleepin~~ than usual camping trip your letter was there. Mother said that it had been there for two or three days and when I asked her why she didn't call me and tell me it was there she said she didn't think it was anything important.

Believe me her ideas and mine are very different as to whether some things are important or not.

I'm glad that your having a good time but gosh two weeks is a long long time.
Seems like ages since my sweetie went away. I get sorta lonesome sometimes.

Dear Miss Bernhardt.

Please don't think that because I am sending this damned old ring back to you this way that I'm so awfully sore at you. I don't blame you for giving Stan a date if you want to.

Stan's alright and a good friend of mine but please remember that I think you have a very thin excuse for the way you give your dates. I haven't changed my mind about it in the least either.

I'm sorry I can't send your cdmpac however
you spell it in this note but I will give it to you later probably
Sat.

Hope you have a very nice evening.

Miss Edna Bernhardt.
