Start A-Runnin', Men

By Charles Whaley

Once in the life of every man there comes a time when... (gulp) let face it, men, Sadie Hawkins day is just 15 days, 10 hours, 6 minutes, and 23 miserable seconds away.

Some females (no doubt upperclasswomen who didn't catch up with their men in past races) has staked out claims for beartrap sites in Botanical Gardens.

Some females (no doubt upperclasswomen who didn't catch up with their men in past races) has staked out claims for beartrap sites in Botanical Gardens.

Anything goes startin' November 8th, the (groan) eve of Sadie Hawkins Day. All the (sob) festivities will end Saturday night with the (sigh) big shindig that Keys and Sukey is puttin' on in the Student Union ballroom.

All (sob) that we can do is get in trainin', try to locate some good hidin'-places, and hope for the best.

Cats Fly To Meet Bama Crimson Tide

Though Coach Paul has grinned... "We'll have lots of fun on this one," Kentucky followers knew he has more in mind than a flight south.

Not only is the "Bear" the last fellow we know who would concede defeat, but he also would like to see Frank Thomas, Bama head man, a few things he has learned.

So Bryant and his boys, though details undergo, could do something more than provide 60 minutes of football for the 21,000 who will witness Crampton Bowl.

About Bama's Gilmer... Gilmer is one of the country's most publicized backs and rightly so, for he had done most of Bama's

These men, most of whom no longer have any connection with the Military Department, met to plan the reactivation of the organization which meant so much to them before and during the war.

Dr. Donovan Dislikes Russian Government; Lauds Sportsmanship

I am not particularly fond of the Russian people and I dislike cordially their form of government. But I do admire certain characteristics I observed in them when I visited the Soviet Union ten years ago. They faced them, as we do now, an acute shortage of goods and services, far more acute than anything we have ever known in this country. There was not enough of anything to go around. They lined up to get meat, to ride on trains, to buy news papers, to purchase shoes; they were in queues for everything they had to obtain for existence. Those people in the rear of the lines were usually never served. However, never once did I observe any cutting of the line.

There was no outward evidence of impatience, no ugly demonstration of disappointment. Apparently they understood the situation. There was a marked courtesy on the part of everyone whether he succeeded or failed to secure the goods or services he was seeking.

Sometimes I am told that there are individuals who fail to observe the kind of sportsmanship so greatly appreciated by everyone. They cut lines to get ahead of those who have been standing for a long time. Such practice is irritating to those who have been waiting patiently. I trust every student in the University will be sportsmanlike in this conduct when it is necessary for everyone whether he succeeds or fails to obtain what he is seeking.

Happy Homecoming As 'Cats Top Vandy 10-7; First Victory For Old Grads In 20 Years

Kentucky alumni are back in their hometowns, talking about the Wildcats' first Homecoming win in 20 years. The 'Cats edged Vanderbilt's Commodores 10-7, Saturday on Stoll field before 21,000—another record crowd—with Phil Cutchin figuring in all the point-making.

His toes to "Wah-Wah" ones for a touchdown on a "double-fake" in the third quarter was the first time Vandy's goal-line had been crossed this season. 'Twas his field goal later in the same period, however, which proved to be the margin of victory, as the Commodores scored in the last stanza. Even the extra point was tallied by 'em Murray left half.

The entire game was one of the best defensive contests ever staged on Stoll field. More times than the visitors probably care to remember, Vandy backs were thrown for losses by alert Kentucky linemen, and the Commodore line, on the other hand, need make no excuses for its showing. The Wildcats ran only seven series of plays during the first half, being forced to kick from deep in their own territory several times.

Twice before intermission the visitors advanced within Kentucky's 10-yard stripe, where goal-line stands turned them back. A blocked Kentucky punt on the 'Cat 11 did Coach 'Red' Sanders' bids no good, thanks chiefly to "Wash" Serind. The veteran tackle broke through to down Vandy's "Bunks" Bushmaster for a six-yard loss, after the Commodores had driven to the four.

The losers recovered Bill Bolter's fumble on the Kentucky 15 midway of the last quarter, went across on four straight line backs by J. P. Moore, who was the Commodores' chief ball-toter all afternoon. Bobby Berry converted.

"They were all good," says Coach Paul Bryant of Kentucky's gridirers. He calls the play of Jones and Dick Henley, ends; tackle work by Serind; backfield roles of Quarterbacks Harry Ulinaki, Bill Blanda and Jerry Claiborne particularly outstanding. Cutchin's leadership and all-around game was a big factor in the win, Kentucky's fourth in five starts, according to the 'Cats' young mentor.

For Vandy, other than Moore, John North was outstanding via his tackling and general defensive performance. Bushmaster did none of the yard-gaining runs that marked his pre-war appearances against Kentucky, and scabbard "Squirrel" Simmons was in the game hardly at all.

The Wildcats committed fewer mistakes than in previous games, looked like real champions in the last quarter when they protected their small lead. Rather than try for more points on passes, the Blues resorted to time-consuming plays. Their scoring strategy provided a real thrill for returning alumni when Cutchin faked a "Statue of Liberty" to "Dopey" Phelps, then heaved to Jones in the end zone.

Bill another joy to Kentucky followers is the fact that no injuries were received by Wildcat gridirers. Phelps was in the lineup for the first time since the Cincinnati game, got away for two long runs. Bill Portwood, co-captain for the tilt with Bill Griffin, was not in uniform, is still recovering from a leg injury.

Summary: VANDERBILT 7; 10 KENTUCKY North 1-7 Henley 1-7 Robertson 1-0 Serind 1-0 Cutchin 1-0 Moore 1-0 Henley 1-0 Serind 1-0 Phelps 1-0 Ulinaki 1-0 Blanda 1-0

Officials: Referee, J. J. Lynch, Holy Cross, umpire, J. B. Buregard, Mississippi College, line-man, Harry Sharp, Tennessee, field judge, H. O. Monte, Arsenal, clock operator, Fred Kuster, Louisville.

Score by periods: Kentucky 0 0 0 7—7; Vanderbilt 0 0 0 7—7

Kentucky scoring: Touchdown—W. Jones (pass from Cutchin); field goal—Cutchin; point after touchdown—Cutchin (pass).

Vanderbilt scoring: Touchdown—Moore (pass after touchdown—Berry (place kick).

MUSING with Melton

For the second straight week members of Kentucky's coaching staff have personal reasons for wishing a Wildcat victory. Against Vanderbilt Joe Atkinson, line coach and 1941 Commodore captain, got the "punch line" for much future ribbing when the 'Cats triumphed, 10-7. "Bear" Bryant, head Blue maestro who assisted at Vandy before Navy service, was gladdened more than somewhat, too, in besting his ex-boss, "Red" Sanders.

This week no less than three Kentucky football fashioniers will have "out to beat my alma-mater" and "let's hang one on the 'old man'" hopes when the Wildcats meet ever-powerful Alabama in Montgomery Saturday. Bryant, tackle coach Carney Laslic and backfield director Frank Mosley are all former 'Bama stars, Bryant and Laslic remaining as assistant coaches after graduation.

Moreover, Bill Mosley, 'Cat back, and Coach Mosley (no relation) are Montgomery natives, so Homecoming which is held here will be extended for them. Frank's brother, Max, is sports-editor of the Montgomery Advertiser, and has said that he hopes to report a victory over his brother, but hopes it won't be too bad. Still another Mosley is listed on the 'Bama roster this year. He and "Herky" Mosley, Tide ball-toter of a few seasons back, are brothers, no kin to Bill or Frank, as they are of the "Arkansas Mosleys."

On the other hand, Lou Bostick, Crimson assistant, was an aide last year to Bernie Shivey, UK athletic director now, but head football coach last fall. He returned to Tusculoosa this spring, will no doubt prize a decision over his former associate.

Another assistant 'Bama mentor is "Dixie" Howell, who succeeded Coach Mosley as first-string quarterback for the Tide, after "Mose" graduated in 1933. "Dixie" had served as relief man for "Mose" during the previous season. Coach Bryant and Mosley played only one campaign together, as 1933 was the "Bear's" freshman year. Laslic, a tackle, and Mosley were teammates on the 1931 and 1932 elevens. That was in the era of "Sugar" Cain, one of Alabama's all-time great backs. On the other end from Bryant, incidentally, was Don Hutson, probably the best flank-man ever on the gridiron and who later made headlines with the pro Green Bay Packers.

Upon graduation Laslic helped Thomas before going to VMI as an assistant. Bryant was named line coach after his 1935 graduation, stayed four years until Vandy beckoned. Mosley came to Kentucky immediately after his diploma days, had been backfield coach for eight years when he entered service. All three served as Naval officers during the war. Both Laslic and Mosley joined Bryant when he was made head coach at Maryland last year, were more than a small part in Maryland's most successful season in history. When the "Bear" accepted Kentucky's bid to lead it to bigger and better things, he brought them with him.

Two of the trio—Laslic and Bryant—realized football's greatest glory—participation in the Rose Bowl classic—while playing with the Red Elephants. Laslic's "dream game" came in 1931, when Alabama topped Washington State, 24-0. Bryant's turn was in 1935, when the Tide defeated Stanford, 29-13. Mosley laughingly says he was "just in between," since he was on the frosh eleven when the 1931 game was played, had been out of school a year when 'Bama got its next bid.

Since all of them performed under Frank Thomas, still director of Tide grid destiny, Saturday start means much more than just another ball game. Bill Mosley will want to show the homefolks a bit of his know-how; Frank Mosley hopes to change that "Tide Tops 'Cats" headline that brother Max is contemplating for Sunday's "Advertiser."

Simultaneous Chess Matches Scheduled

The feature exhibit of next Tuesday night's meeting of The UK Chess and Checkers Club will be a simultaneous chess presentation by Professor Jose Puente of the Department of Romance Languages. The organization's officers hope that 25 or more boards can be arranged for Professor Puente, who will play all boards at the same time. Players are requested to bring their own chess sets and boards.

Club Room Needed

President W. C. MacQueen requests that all members continue their efforts to locate a regular club room for the organization. It should be a large room containing several long tables or desks on which players can spread their boards, he explained. Temporarily, the club will continue to meet on Thursday's nights at 7:30 in Miller hall with everyone welcome.

Proposed Chess League

W. B. Long, secretary-treasurer of the club, announced that the Universities of Kentucky, Louisville, and Depue are forming an intercollegiate chess league with match play to begin later this month. Other colleges and universities have been invited to enter the league. Long added.

Culling Over, Rupp Divides Netters Into Two Sections

By Tom Dinkin

Coach Adolph Rupp has divided his basketball squad into two sections, the "A" squad listing 19 players and the "B" team 23 candidates. Both squads will be cut to about 15 players each, possibly by late next month.

The Wildcat mentor emphasized offense in the practice sessions this week and Alex Groza, Jim Kieran, Jack Tingle, Ralph Beard, and Buddy Parker hit the hoop with consistency to show that they will be top candidates for the starting five.

On the "A" squad are Brannum, Groza, Demotsey, Jordan, Lane, Persebnum, McMullen, Campbell, Beard Barker, Tuell, Yesin, Barnstable, Tinsle, Davis, Rollins, Parker, Holland and Cummins.

The "B" team includes McNaught-ton, Pannell, Weber, Crockett, Duncan, McCann, Holder, Gardner, Daniels, Stevens, Day, Harder, Cor-gill, Johnson, Lewis, L. Hammett.

On hand late last week to see how the Baron does it was Leopold Frank Dewper, basketball coach at the University of Ghent in Ghent, Belgium. Apparently Coach Dewper reasoned that anyone who could produce a team that won 28 of 30 games and the national invitational tournament—Kentucky's record last year—must have something worth watching.

Dewper's career hardly follows the "college star turns coach" pattern he was started teaching the cage sport to obtain his release from a Nazi prison. Last season his Ghent team won the European championship, so he and Adolph Rupp have something in common.

The Ghent court mentor was born in Belgium, of American parentage. He returned to Ghent in 1923 after finishing his education over here.

R. Hammett, Buller, Coffey, Gordon, Hill, Townes and Francis.

This makes a total of 42 members on the two teams, as compared with the 71 candidates that reported to Coach Rupp a week ago.

Six Livestock Judging Team scholarships were awarded, and ten men were initiated into the Block and Bridle club at a banquet held Tuesday night in the Union building.

Scholarships were awarded to William B. Cropper, Lexington; Edsel L. Kerrick, Salt Lake; Robert S. Koch, Hamilton, Ohio; James J. Scott, Lexington; Charles M. Thompson, Stark; and Patch G. Woolfolk, Brandenburg. These men make up the judging team which will represent UK's College of Agriculture at the International Livestock show to be held in Chicago November 30.

Those initiated into the club were Charles W. Crabtree, Bowen; William B. Cropper, Lexington; Wayne Esterling, Blair's Mill; T. Johnson Hill, Jr., Lebanon; Robert S. Koch, Hamilton, Ohio; Jack J. Scott, Lex-

Wildkittens Seek Revenge Against Miami Saturday

Kentucky's Bee-Cats, after their first defeat for this year, will seek revenge against the "B" squad of Miami U. when the two teams meet tomorrow afternoon on Stoll field for their second encounter of the season.

The Miami team handed the Wildkittens a 2-0 setback last Friday night at Oxford, Ohio, when the Bees tried to make it two games within 48 hours. They had beaten Fort Knox Wednesday night on their home field, so the record reads two wins and one tie now.

Saturday's game is scheduled for 2 o'clock, and will furnish Lexington grid fans some exciting action while the varsity is in Alabama. A play-by-play of the Kentucky-Alabama game in Montgomery will be heard all during the "B" contest, as a radio will be set by the loud-speaker. Students will be admitted to the game on their student books.

Team Looking Good

Coach Bill McCubbin has said that the team looked good in work-outs this week, and will be ready for the contest. Spirit seemed first-rate on the squad with every member anxious to make up for last week's 2-0 deficit.

With the varsity coaching staff all out of town, and McCubbin slated to be in East Lansing scout- ing Michigan State, the interim job may fall to the able Charlie Kuhn. Kuhn has been helping McCubbin with the duties of B squad coach, since he found that his foot would not heal satisfactorily for him to continue playing with the varsity.

SAE's Sig Eps, Sigma Chis Still Ahead In Football With Tourney Time Near

By O. C. Halvard

With just one week of round-robin play left in intramural football, the SAEs, Sigma Chis, and Sig Eps are still leading their respective divisions. The round-robin play will wind up next week, and the nine top teams will be seeded for the elimination tourney scheduled to get under way November 5.

The second round of play in the tennis singles and doubles will end tomorrow, while third round play in golf is already in progress. The semi-finals in the tennis doubles should be completed by Tuesday along with the semi-finals in the golf doubles. Finals in tennis will be played by November 1, while the finals in the golf tourney have until November 6.

Third round play in the singles of both sports should be in by Tuesday. Semi-finals in net singles must be played by November 1, and finals completed by the sixth.

Results for the fourth round in the future for the intramural golf singles are due November 1, and semi-finals by November 6, with the finals getting until November 8.

Intramural director Bill McCubbin stresses the importance of all players meeting the deadline date. "With the large program we still have planned for the fall quarter we can't afford to postpone play in these sports. He also added that the good weather could not be expected to last much longer.

Valleyball, Boxing, Wrestling

McCubbin announced that entries could now be filed for volleyball, boxing, and wrestling. The deadline date for all entries will be November 5. Play in the volleyball tournament will begin November 1.

Entrants for competition in boxing and wrestling will be given three weeks to condition and train. Thus the first bouts won't be scheduled until November 26. Facilities will be available for participants to work out in the gym, and each student entered in either sport will be required to work out at least twice a week for the three week period. This will enable him to get in fairly good condition before he sees action.

Volleyball was offered on last year's program, but this represents

Meeting Called Thursday

W. W. Cooper, senior intramural manager, has called a meeting of all intramural managers and representatives of teams for next Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Cooper urged that all managers attend and plan to discuss any question they or members of their teams might have pertaining to rules, eligibility, and further play in intramurals.

An intramural council will be chosen from the representatives and will act as a governing body in the future for the intramural program. Plans for the council will be outlined at the meeting.

Flying To 'Bama

Coach Paul Bryant named a squad of 40 players to make the Montgomery flight today. The gridderies are Bradshaw, Browning, Bentley, Blanda, Buller, Babo, Calburne, Chambers, Cutchin, Dawson, Ferrel, Bill Griffin, Carl Genito, Hol-

Tennessee Tops SEC Grid Teams

Tennessee's Volunteers lead all other Southeastern conference teams this week with two wins and no losses. Georgia is undefeated, but has won only one hoop start—against Kentucky. Kentucky is tied with Georgia Tech, Vanderbilt and Tulane for third place.

The Cats toppled Vanderbilt from the league lead by their Homecoming win. Alabama, almost always atop the eleven, and Louisiana State are tied for seventh place with a win and a loss. Both teams were favored to win their latest games—the Tide against Tennessee, the Tigers meeting Georgia Tech.

Florida still trails all others with no victories in three tries.
