MRAP SURVEY

Results of the MRAP general staff survey have been received and are available in John Bryant's office. The data were summarized in two ways: first, the number of responses in each category for each question was tabulated. For example, 80.2% of the persons surveyed thought that inflation is a very important issue for the library. Another 16.8% thought it was important, while only 3.3% thought it was less important. No one checked responses 4 and 5 on this question ("not important at all" and "no response"). Second, a cross-tabulation for each question was produced showing the number of responses in each category by job classification. For example, it is possible to determine how the Librarian I's and II's responded to the statement, "Length of service should be an evaluation factor."

THE GREEN
BEAN

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY LIBRARIES
NEWSLETTER 12/20/74

The survey indicated that the staff feels strongly about the importance of good communication at all levels, the effects of inflation, improvements which should be made in public services and concern with user satisfaction, relationships between professional and support staff, and filling positions of leadership with capable, enthusiastic people. Survey questions about these topics received from 70% - 80% of the responses in the "Very important/Strongly agree" category.

The survey will be used as a data bank for the MRAP study team and especially for the individual task forces to be organized early next semester. The study team would like to thank the staff for their excellent response to this part of the self-study.
