DEDICATION

This 1963 edition of the University of Kentucky Football Facts Book is respectfully dedicated to one of the gamest guys ever to don the blue and white of the Wildcats—Giles Smith.

If he had his way and the doctors relented, Giles would be pursuing his football career at Kentucky even today and his unyielding spirit, sacrificing effort and innate talent would justify much being said about him in this book. But Giles is going to have to be content with lending just moral support this season as he thanks God for giving him the will power to recuperate in remarkable fashion from the brink of death to a normal life.

The outstanding young Lexingtonian, who was to have been in the thick of battling for one of the end posts this season, was hospitalized last April following a routine game scrimmage. Emergency cranial surgery was performed to correct dangerous bleeding from a laceration of the brain stem. What caused the sudden hemorrhage was never determined by doctors. A review of game films offered no clue as Giles received no hard blow to the head during brief action.

After a second operation, Giles lapsed into a coma for a long period of time. He snapped out of it as suddenly as it came on and it was then, in the trying weeks of recovery, that Giles' spirit came to the forefront. His concern for others—teammates and his coaches—in the face of his own condition exuded a rare type of spirit to those around him. His courage, confidence and good humor aided others as much as they did Giles.

Giles' faith and that of his parents, girl friend, coaches and the team members played a major role in his recovery to a normal life after three long months of intensive care in the University Hospital.

There are many, too, that credit the high ideal of fighting hard for victory learned in football with a big part . . . Among them is Giles Smith, who will be the Wildcats' biggest rooter in 1963.

ATHLETICS AT KENTUCKY

Kentucky's athletic program, a well-balanced and ambitious activity featuring inter-collegiate competition in nine different sports, is organized under the Department of Athletics and a corporation known as the University of Kentucky Athletics Association.

The program is conducted without overemphasis or sacrifice of educational objectives and in strict compliance with the rules of the University, the Southeastern Conference and the National Collegiate Association.

A board of directors, headed by University President John W. Oswald in the capacity of chairman, maintains overall policy supervision of the athletic program. Ex-officio members, in addition to the president, include Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, Dr. W. L. Matthews in the capacity of secretary to the board, and a student representative—all appointed by the president. Twelve other men, drawn from the University faculty and the general public, also serve on the board as appointees of the president.

Supervising the steady growth and balanced development of one of the nation's top athletic programs is Bernie A. Shively, a former Illinois grid All-American and a veteran of 25 years in the post of Director of Athletics.

The Association's Board of Directors is composed of the following:

Dr. John W. Oswald, Chairman	Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain
Dr. W. L. Matthews, Jr., Secretary	(Student Representative)
James B. Allen	Prof. John Kuiper
Dr. Ralph Angelucci	Robert Stephens
Dr. Aubrey Brown	Dr. D. V. Terrell

Dr. Lyman Ginger	Floyd Wright
Dr. A. D. Kirwan	(Member to be appointed)

WILDCAT MASCOTS HAD COLORFUL NAMES

Over the years, Kentucky athletic teams have been spurred on in efforts toward victory by numerous colorfully-named wildcat mascots. Records indicate the first animal was given to the University in 1921. Named "Tom," this live Kentucky wildcat died quickly in captivity and was replaced with "TNT." Other live mascots followed—including "Whiskers," "Hot Tamale," and "Colonel"—only to pass from the scene due to death or being turned loose in the mountains after they did not thrive out of their native habitat. The current mascot, displayed at football and basketball games by SUKY (student pep organization), is a stuffed Kentucky wildcat obtained in 1958 from a Brooklyn taxidermist.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS
BERNIE A. SHIVELY

Supervising the steady growth and balanced development of one of the nation's top athletic programs is the Herculean task being carried out successfully by Bernie A. Shively.

Few who have observed the untiring efforts of the tall, silver-haired former All-America footballer in the service of the University of Kentucky since 1927 and as Director of Athletics since 1938 will argue his fitness as an athletic Hercules. Not only has Shively guided the development of Kentucky as a nationally-respected power in major sports, but he has also gained personal prestige through a fair-minded approach to many problems.

During his quarter-century tenure as Athletic Director, Shively has directly supervised major expansions in Kentucky's athletic plant resulting from the progression of the school's football and basketball teams to greater national prominence and increased patronage by the sports-minded public.

The seating capacity of Kentucky's football stadium, McLean Stadium on Stoll Field, has been doubled to bring the current number of seats to approximately 37,500 and on par with most other schools located in heavier-populated areas. Powerful lighting equipment also was installed during the 1948-49 construction and a new-type "iodized" light put up in 1961 to bring night football into new popularity. Partly to satisfy the overwhelming number of basketball devotees, who could not squeeze into the 2,800-seat Alumni Gymnasium, a long-planned Memorial Coliseum was completed in 1950. Seating 11,500 persons for cage contests, the four-million dollar Coliseum also houses the Athletic Department. More recently, Shively directed the acquisition of a pair of modern, ranch-style living units which have served as the home of the football team since 1954. "Wildcat Manor" and "Kitten Lodge" replace three frame houses which the gridgers had occupied since 1949.

Plans Spacious New Sports Center

A large dressing room building and football practice field, used since 1955, was abandoned in 1959 to make way for a huge new men's dorm. Under Shively's supervision, a spacious new Sports Center was prepared a short distance away on the University farm to take even better care of the footballers and spring sports teams. The Sports Center is generally regarded as one of the finest sports facilities in the nation.

Stoll Field recently underwent, with Shively's supervision, a major "face-lifting" to improve its playing surface and the view of the fans sitting in the lower rows of the stands.

Born in Oliver, Ill., May 26, 1903, Shively attended Paris (Ill.) High school and there began his athletic career by participating in track and football. Although he was considered an outstanding backfield man in high school, Shively didn't attract the serious attention of collegiate scouts. He entered Illinois and tried out for the football team on his own. From that humble beginning, Shively went on to become a great guard under Coach Bob Zuppke on the same Illini team made famous by the immortal Red Grange.

Shive played two years with Grange, running interference for the "Galloping Ghost" and made All-America in 1926 as a senior despite a bad knee that handicapped his playing. He also won the heavyweight wrestling championship of the Big 10 and was a standout in track to rank as one of the finest all-around athletes in Illinois' history.

Shively came to Kentucky in 1927 as line coach of football under Harry Gammage and six years later was named head of the UK Physical Education Department. He succeeded Chet Wynne as Athletic Director in 1938. During this period and the years following, he also served as track and baseball coach for several seasons and continued to assist the football staff as line coach until 1944. The next year, 1945, he assumed full charge of the grid squad for one season before turning the job over to mentor Paul (Bear) Bryant in 1946.

The Kentucky Athletic Director is currently chairman of the NCAA Basketball Tournament Committee and for the past 10 years has been president of the Southeastern Conference Coaches and Athletic Directors Association. He served as chairman of the SEC Basketball Committee for a number of years and is a past chairman of the NCAA summer baseball group.

Shively and his wife, Ruth, have two children. Doug was a star end on the UK grid team for three years ending in 1958 and is now coaching at VPI while daughter Suzanne was a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of UK in 1957.

THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

. . . The State Is Our Campus

Located in Lexington, an urban community of over 100,000 population in the heart of Kentucky's famed Blue Grass region, University of Kentucky is a state-supported, land-grant institution now approaching its centennial year to be celebrated in 1965.

The present school, which this fall expects 11,800 students and now offers instruction in 10 academic colleges plus a Graduate School and a division of Extended Programs, had its beginnings in 1865 when it was established as a part of old Kentucky University. This action by the State Legislature united sectarian and public education under one organization for the first time. Federal funds authorized under the Morrill Act were used to develop agriculture and mechanical arts within KU and, in 1878, A&M College was separated from KU to become a separate state institution on the general site of what is now the 706-acre main campus. Name changes in 1908 and 1916 resulted in the title by which the school is now known.

President Oswald

A new chief administrative officer, Dr. John W. Oswald, takes over reins of the University for the 1963-64 school year. The 46-year-old new president, who succeeds Dr. Frank Dickey, has an athletic background including collegiate football play at DePauw and letters in basketball and track. He was selected on the Sports Illustrated Silver Anniversary All-America Team in 1962. Dr. Oswald, whose special field is plant pathology, comes to Kentucky from a position as vice-president-administration, Statewide University, University of California.

The University is on the approved list of the Association of American Universities and is a member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. It is fully accredited in its respective colleges and departments by all of the major professional societies and educational organizations.

VICTORY KICKS

A game unique in University of Kentucky football history occurred in 1900. Kentucky beat the Louisville YMCA, 12-6, without running a single offensive play during the entire game. Kicking on first down every time they gained possession of the ball, Kentucky made its scores through the recovery of opponent fumbles in the end zone.

HEAD COACH CHARLIE BRADSHAW

(Kentucky '49)

(Second Year As A Head Coach)

The personification of qualities of inner toughness, outwardly serious demeanor, quiet determination, ability, confidence and integrity . . . That's Kentucky's capable Head Football Coach.

Youthful Charlie Bradshaw, 38-year-old ex-Wildcat player and assistant coach, fulfills all these qualities that are the background for success and goes a step further. He's an inspirational leader who exudes the toughness that it takes for those around him—staff and players—to get the job at hand done in a way that will pay off with success. His influence already has made an indelible impression in relations with alumni, coaches of the state, followers of Kentucky football, prospects and players.

The football philosophy of Bradshaw, who assumed his first head coaching position in January, 1962, when he succeeded Blanton Collier as the institution's third alumnus coach, has been schooled into him by nine years' service in an assistant's capacity on the staffs of UK and Alabama. Yet, the approach to the game taken by the new Wildcat mentor is mainly and uniquely Bradshaw in nature.

A positive approach is foremost with Charlie Bradshaw. Illustrative of his thinking is his simple statement of determination made as a comment upon his being hired as Kentucky's coach: "If I didn't think I could get the job done, I wouldn't be here!"

Emphasizes Winning Ways

He believes in the direct way of doing things. The emphasis is on how to win instead of what mistakes can be costly enough to cause a loss. He makes a habit of being fair, sincere and honest with his team and in turn expects the same from his players. He stresses the pride to be gained from 100 percent effort and of doing things right—which he feels to be synonymous with winning football. The church and school also play prominent roles in the plan of devoutly Christian (Baptist) Bradshaw.

Directness and the positive approach sometimes get mixed up with toughness and extreme roughness. While demanding to some degree in relations with the squad on the field, Coach Bradshaw sees the reputed "tough guy" approach a little differently than most people. "There's a lot of difference between toughness and unnecessary roughness," he explains. "We are always going to be tough, I assure you. Football is a contact type of game in which you have to be tough to win. We intend to demand a great deal through strict discipline rather than brute force."

Charlie grew up in Montgomery, Ala., and started his football at the age of 15 in Sidney Lanier High. Upon graduation, he was attracted to the University of Kentucky and attended one semester in 1942 without seeing any grid action.

After that first semester, he withdrew to enter the Marine Corps. He served for three years and saw 19 months' action in the Pacific Theater. Following his discharge, Bradshaw returned to UK to play on Paul Bryant's first three Wildcat aggregations. He earned the first of four letters as a center in 1946 and picked up his three subsequent monograms as a 165-pound end. Attempting to get in an allowable fourth year of competition as a graduate student in 1949, he was ruled ineligible after three games by SEC Commissioner Bernie Moore.

Coached Under Collier, Bryant

Bradshaw remained on the coaching staff as a student assistant for the remainder of the season and then, in 1950, returned to his home town high school (Sidney Lanier in Montgomery, Ala.) as coach and co-ordinator of a junior high program—a position he retained until chosen an aide on the first UK staff of Blanton Collier in 1954. After five years as end coach and later offensive back-field coach, Charlie moved in 1959 to Alabama as a line tutor for Coach Bryant. In this position and then as offensive coach in 1961, he gained much recognition for contributing greatly to the Crimson Tide's success in progressing to the peak of undefeated National Champion in 1961.

Coach Bradshaw was graduated from the University of Kentucky in 1949 with an AB in Commerce and physical education and later was awarded a master's degree in school administration. He married his high school sweetheart, Martha Austin of Montgomery, in 1945 and they have a daughter, six-year-old Leigh.

The new Wildcat football chief is operating under a four-year contract. In his first year as a head coach, Bradshaw's Wildcats—tagged the "Thin Thirty" when wholesale departures reduced squad strength to 30 men—posted a 3-5-2 record.

Bradshaw served as an assistant on the Grays' coaching staff for the 1962 renewal of the Blue-Gray Game in his home town of Montgomery, Ala.

BRADSHAW THIRD ALUMNUS COACH

Charlie Bradshaw, an alumnus of the University of Kentucky class of 1949, became the third graduate of the school to take over the head football coaching reins when he was hired January 10, 1962. The first coach with that distinction was J. White Guyn, tutor of the Wildcats in 1906-08, and the only other grad to take up duties at his alma mater was A. D. (Ab) Kirwan, coach for the seasons 1938-44.

Like their new boss, four members of the coaching staff did their collegiate footballing at Kentucky. The playing careers of assistants Matt Lair and George Sengel overlapped that of Bradshaw (player 1942, 46-49; staff '54-58) while aides George Boone and Ray Callahan played when Bradshaw was on the staff. In addition, Lair served as a Blanton Collier assistant the same years as his current chief.

GALS' COACH FIRST UK MENTOR

Prof. A. M. Miller, who became Kentucky's first football coach in 1892, was chosen because he had learned about the game from sideline observations while a student at Princeton. His only previous coaching experience was at a girls' school in Pennsylvania.

WILDCAT COACHING STAFF

MATT LAIR

Assistant Head Coach

Widely-experienced Matt Lair returned to his alma mater in 1962 as the first UK aide ever to hold the title of assistant head coach. The 39-year-old native of North Middletown, Ky., brought to the staff a background of 13 years' coaching experience in high school and collegiate ranks. Following play as a blocking back and guard at UK in 1941-42 and 1946-47 (after Air Force duty), Lair spent five years as line coach at Lanier High in Montgomery, Ala., moved to Louisville Manual for one season and then became head coach at Parrish High in Selma, Ala. He next worked five seasons on the UK staff before shifting to Texas A & M in 1959 for a two-year hitch. In 1961, Lair was line coach at Texas Tech and his primary duties at Kentucky are with the defensive line. Born 5/25/24 . . . Married to former Helen Davis of Lexington. No children.

HOMER RICE

Offensive Coach

Entering the collegiate field in 1962 after a highly-successful career in high school, Homer Rice is assigned responsibility for making Kentucky's T offense operations go. His 11-year coaching record in schoolboy ranks was an amazing 101-9-7. Rice-coached teams went undefeated in 50 straight games, posted seven perfect seasons and annexed nine championships. He was personally recognized with seven "Coach of the Year" awards. Rice started his coaching career in 1951 at Wartburg (Tenn.) High following graduation from Centre College where he was a Little All-America QB. He spent the next two seasons at Spring City, Tenn., and then took over at Ft. Thomas. In each assignment, he produced the best record in the school's history. He is a World War II veteran (Pacific Theater), holds a master's degree from Eastern Ky. State College, and is author of a book on "The Explosive Short-T." Born 2/20/27 . . . Home town: Ft. Thomas, Ky. . . . Married to former Phyllis Wardrup of Middlesboro, Ky., and they have three daughters—Nancy 12, Phyllis 10, and Angela 7.

DAVE HART

Defensive Coach

Tough and tested, 37-year-old Dave Hart enters his second year on the Bradshaw staff as an established football coach and widely-respected recruiter. This year he takes over the chief responsibility of directing all Wildcat defensive preparations after working with the defensive secondary last season. A native Pennsylvanian and former successful prep coach in that state, Dave has deep roots that make him an invaluable recruiter in that area. For the 11 years prior to joining the Wildcats in 1962, Hart-coached teams compiled a record of 86-18-3. He began his coaching career in 1950 as backfield coach at St. Vincent College in Latrobe, Pa., following graduation from that institution, coached at Hurst High School of Mt. Pleasant, Pa., the next three seasons and then took over at Johnstown (Pa.) High. In eight years (1954-61), Hart's teams recorded 63 wins, 12 losses and three ties and copped the Western Pennsylvania championship in 1958 on a perfect, 11-0 mark that also earned him Class AA "Coach of the Year" honor. Hart is a veteran of 28 months in the Air Force with 30 combat missions over Europe and holder of the Air Medal with Oak Leaf Clusters. He picked up a master's degree in education from University of Pittsburgh in 1959. Born 5/25/26 . . . Home town: Connellsville, Pa. . . . Married to former Patti Furtney of Connellsville and they have three sons and a daughter—David Jr. 14, Dickie 12, Danny 5, and Candy 2.

GEORGE SENDEL

End Coach

A holdover from one year (1961) on the Kentucky grid staff, George (Chink) Sengel was retained by Charlie Bradshaw out of confidence in his coaching ability. Sengel's collegiate career at Kentucky spanned three of the same years (1942, 1946-47) as his new boss. A native of Louisville "Chink" was an All-State end at Louisville Manual High in 1939 and started his collegiate career at Kentucky in 1940. After lettering as the team's regular end in 1942, he spent three years in the Army Air Corps. Returning to UK in 1946, he picked up two more letters prior to graduation in 1948 and then spent one year as a revenue agent. He began his coaching career as a freshman assistant at Kentucky in 1949. For the next five years (1950-54), Sengel served as head coach and athletic director at Clay County High in Green Cove Springs, Fla., and was head coach-AD at Apoptka (Fla.) High two seasons before returning to his home town as end coach for Male High. He joined Blanton Collier's staff in 1961 as coach of ends and continues in the same capacity for Bradshaw. Born 9/14/21 . . . Married to former Mary Alice Duncan of Lawrenceburg, Ky., with two sons—George III 12 and David 5½.

GEORGE BOONE

Assistant Line Coach

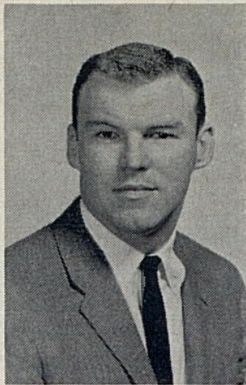

One of the most determined players ever to perform on the gridiron for University of Kentucky and a self-made man, George Boone retains his coach position as an assistant working with the defensive line. He was held over by Coach Bradshaw after one year as a full-time aide on the Collier staff due to the personal knowledge and confidence of UK's new grid chief, who tutored Boone in three of his UK years. A native of Louisville, Boone attended St. Joe Prep school in Bardstown, Ky. Although he entered the state university in 1956 without a grant-in-aid, he soon convinced coaches of his ability and determination and was given a scholarship. Boone was an outstanding tackle for the Wildcats from 1956 through 1959 and was named by the Associated Press in 1957 on the All-Southeastern Conference Sophomore team. He was bothered as a junior by a shoulder injury, but came back to turn in consistently good defensive play that impressed both opponents and Kentucky coaches. George stayed on the Wildcat coaching staff in a part-time capacity for the 1960 season after completing his eligibility and was hired as a full-time coach in 1961. Born 5/25/38 . . . Graduate Kentucky '61 . . . Married to former Dorothy Leet of Lexington and they have a son, Dickie 2½ and a one-year-old daughter, Georgia.

BUD MOORE

Assistant Line Coach

A native Alabamian and graduate of its state university, Bud Moore joined the Bradshaw staff in '62 with high recommendations as a rapidly developing young grid tutor. He picked up his playing and initial coaching experience under the tutelage of Paul (Bear) Bryant at Alabama. He was a star end and tackle for the Crimson Tide elevens in 1958-59-60—a period during which Alabama was building toward its national championship. During the final two years that Moore was on the squad, the Tide lost only three games and twice went to bowls. Bud picked up three letters and much acclaim prior to graduation in 1961 with a major in PE and minor in math. Alabama coaches considered him the team's outstanding lineman in the last three games of his senior campaign after he had been switched to tackle. His coaching experience started as a student assistant on the Bryant staff during spring training of 1961 while Bradshaw was offensive coach. He spent the '61 season as coach at Gadsden (Ala.) High school. In high school at West End in Birmingham, Bud was a four-sport standout. Will work some with frosh line. Born 10/16/39 . . . Married to former Beth Marion of Birmingham and they have a one-year-old son, Matt Wayne.

RALPH HAWKINS

Assistant Backfield Coach

A veteran of rounded experience, Ralph Hawkins joined the UK staff in '62 with a background as a collegiate and professional player and coach in both high school and college ranks. The energetic bachelor from Washington, D. C., graduated from the University of Maryland in 1957 with a major in physical education and a minor in sociology after playing both quarterback and halfback for the Terps under the tutelage of the late Jim Tatum. He served as a freshman backfield coach at Maryland on the staff of Tom Nugent for one season (1957) before entering the professional football ranks to play as a defensive safety for the New York Titans of the AFL. Later, Hawkins coached one year at Bishop Dennis J. O'Connell High School in Arlington, Va., and spent the 1961 season as an assistant backfield coach at Southern Methodist University on the staff of Bill Meek. During the school year he lives in the freshman football house, Kitten Lodge, as a supervisor of the student athletes. He works mainly with the offensive backs. Born 5/4/35 in Washington, D. C.

BILL JASPER

Assistant Line Coach

A native Kentuckian who traversed a route through enemy territory en route to a position with his former rival, Bill Jasper joined the Kentucky staff of Charlie Bradshaw in 1962 with a background of 10 years as a successful high school mentor. He played his collegiate ball for arch-rival Tennessee as a linebacker and center, graduating after the '51 national championship season. After two seasons as head coach at Morristown (Tenn.) High, he spent four years each in the same capacity at Louisville (Ky.) Manual and Kingsport (Tenn.) Highs. His Kingsport teams won the state championship in 1959 and 1960. Bill this season takes on the added responsibility of supervising the study habits of Kentucky's footballers and assisting them with academic problems. Born 1/9/29 . . . Home town: Somerset, Ky. . . . Graduate Tennessee 1952 . . . Married to former Jane Norwood of Somerset and they have three boys—Steve 10, John 6, and another son born in August.

RAY CALLAHAN

Assistant Coach

Appointed only last July to fill one of two vacancies existing on the Bradshaw staff, Ray Callahan is an ex-Kentucky Wildcat who enters the collegiate coaching field for the first time. However, the former UK back and guard is no stranger in state grid coaching circles as he boasts a highly creditable record of 28-13-2 for four seasons as a head tutor in high school and earlier served with distinction as an assistant at two schools. Ray enrolled at UK in 1952 following a star career at home town Lebanon (Ky.) High school, where he played three years as a halfback. As a Wildcat, he was first used at fullback but switched over to guard in his junior season. Although he had never played the position before, he came along fast and played regularly through his final two campaigns. He made good in coaching following graduation, holding assistant jobs at Versailles (Ky.) High in 1956 and at Louisville's Manual High for the 1957 and 1958 seasons before accepting the head coaching position at Danville (Ky.) High. This past season, Callahan capped his fourth season with the Admirals by winning the Kentucky Class AA title and picking up personal honor as "AA Coach of the Year." . . . Born 4/28/33 . . . Married to the former Essie Lee Dorsey of Lebanon and they have two children, Kenny 5 and Karen 3.

JIM CARMODY

Assistant Coach

Newest addition to the Bradshaw staff, Jim Carmody reported in late July of this year after transferring allegiance from Tulane University where he graduated and served as an assistant football coach. The tall, crew-cut blonde gives the impression on looks alone that he is still a player but he is 30 years old and has been in the profession of coaching for seven years. A native of New Orleans, La., Jim started his football career at Holy Cross High. He spent 1952-53 at Copiah-Lincoln Junior College in Wesson, Miss., and then transferred to Tulane for a final two years during which he developed into an outstanding center for the Green Wave. During 16 months service in Korea he coached (along with resigned aide Bob Ford) an Army team to the Far East championship. Upon return to civilian life, he spent three years as a line coach on the Holy Cross staff and switched to Tulane in 1961 to serve as freshman coach. He was an assistant line coach last season as the only aide retained by new Head Coach Tommy O'Boyle . . . Born 8/24/33 . . . Married to the former Earlyn Regouffre of New Orleans and they have two children, Stephen 2½ and Brian 1½.

Staff Changes Since 1962

Departures: Offensive Line Coach Chuck Knox (to New York Jets), Defensive Coach Bob Ford (to private business in Wynne, Ark.), Assistant Coach Leeman Bennett (to service), and Academic Supervisor Bill McCubbin (to Virginia Tech).

Appointments: Ray Callahan (from Danville High) and Jim Carmody (from Tulane).
Status Change: Graduate Assistant Bill Jasper made full time.

BROWN

PAYNE

BUSTER BROWN—Equipment Manager: Handling the duties of handing out thousand of dollars' worth of football gear to the team is a seasoned veteran, S. C. (Buster) Brown. The tough-but-popular Brown served the University athletic teams in the capacity of Equipment Manager for several years before World War II. After wartime work as a stevedore on the West Coast, Buster returned to Kentucky and his old job in 1952.

KEN KUHN—Publicity Director: A veteran of 16 years in the job of publicizing Wildcat football and other sports activities of UK, Kuhn came to Lexington via Michigan State from which he was graduated in 1942 and later served as an assistant in the Public Relations Department. Before moving over to the Athletic Department in 1948, he worked two years as News Editor in UK's Department of Public Relations. Kuhn is a past president of the Southeastern Conference Sports Publicity Association.

JOHN (Rusty) PAYNE—Trainer: John first came in contact with Kentucky football when he helped out his predecessor, Smoky Harper, during the Wildcats' pre-Sugar Bowl practice on the Louisiana State campus in 1950. After graduating from LSU that year, the red-haired Arkansas native spent two years in the Marine Corps at Paris Island and Quantico, serving much of the time as athletic trainer. He joined the Kentucky staff in 1954. Payne is a past president of the SEC Trainers Association and on the executive board of the national trainers' body.

HONORS COME LATELY

From its football beginnings in 1881 through 1942, Kentucky had only one player named to a recognized All-America team. In the short span of years since, no less than eight have earned first team mention on the national honor rolls and four of the stars were repeaters. Seventeen Wildcats have received All-Conference recognition a total of 25 times since the loop was organized in 1933.

KENTUCKY FOOTBALL OUTLOOK — 1963

There's an age-old axiom in the football world that warns the optimistic: "You can't win with sophomores."

To this assertion, Kentucky's youthful and determined grid chief Charlie Bradshaw replies calmly and confidently that "it has been done before and I dare say it will be done again. At least, you can bet your last Tennessee ticket that the Wildcats will be giving it a good effort to win this year. I am confident that hard work and the right mental attitude will get the job done in a winning fashion."

Thus is pointed up both the chief problem facing Kentucky's football force in 1963 and the planned solution.

Inexperience and dependence on sophomores—who make up nearly 65 percent of total squad strength—certainly will be one of the main factors standing in the path of the first winning season since 1960.

Although again thinly-manned with less than 50 hands on the roster, Kentucky will enter the '63 campaign slightly better off than last year from a depth standpoint due to the very presence of the talented and aggressive soph group. While hopes for improvement on the 3-5-2 record posted in 1962 by the notable "Thin Thirty" are hinged to a great degree on the promoting sophomores (as many as six could be in the opening lineup with another half dozen backing them up on the No. 2 unit), the squad will have the services of 14 returning lettermen and much dependence is being placed on their talent and leadership.

Strength Lies In Leadership

In fact, as Coach Bradshaw analyzes the situation confronting his second Wildcat edition, the team's principal strength has to be in the leadership qualities of its veterans. "We are counting very heavily on their steadying influence to carry our sophomore group to even greater heights than they showed promise this spring of reaching," he declares. "This Southeastern Conference is a man's league, not one for boys, and our youngsters are going to be subjected to a lot of pressures in the process of growing up quickly to responsibilities. Here is where our older men come in and, if the situation develops as we are hoping, Kentucky will definitely be a force to be reckoned with by any team."

The Wildcats may be inexperienced in their overall picture and still much "thinner" than the normal SEC football powerhouse, but they are not exactly untalented.

In huge senior tackle Herschel Turner, the Kentuckians have wrapped up in one explosive package both leadership and talent. A 6-3 and 225 pound gentleman who is "rough as a cob" on the field, Turner won consistent praise from Bradshaw this spring for his play and was the "apple of the eye" of every professional scout who witnessed his improved play. Not the least of Turner's attributes are good lateral movement and agility that allow him to range the entire front of the defense perimeter to make a tackle.

Although experiencing the fight of his life for a starting assignment over a heralded sophomore, another vet who adds much danger to the Kentucky offense is versatile halfback Darrell Cox. The 1962 second team All-SEC performer led the 'Cats in ground gained in '62 with a 4.4 average and ranked among SEC leaders in almost every offensive department.

And lending further steadying influence in the backfield is senior Perky Bryant, returning fullback regular. He might be the lone veteran in the starting combo of backs.

Super star of the sophomores—at least one with a big responsibility and indications of meeting it well—is quarterback Rick Norton. He stepped in as heir-apparent to graduated hurler Jerry Woolum and this spring proved himself fully capable of eventual stardom. Norton, former Louisville prep All-America, is at his best as a passer and shows great poise and confidence in his play calls.

Manning the halfback posts may be a pair of soph scatbacks, sensational Rodger Bird at left (in the event he can maintain his spring lead on Cox) and “surprise find” of the spring, Mike (Quick Draw) McGraw, at right. Although not exactly unknown since he was second to Bird in freshman ground operations with a 4.6 average, McGraw surprised most observers with the quick adjustment he made from fullback to halfback and starred in many spring scrimmages as a slashing runner.

Sophs Could Steal Spotlight

In the line, Turner will hold the spotlight but there are several top-flight sophs capable of being “scene stealers.” One of the best prospects to command public and opponent attention is rangy Rick Kestner, successor to graduated All-American Tom Hutchinson at left end and a prime target for Norton aerials.

Along the rest of the forward wall there is a harmonized blend of returnees and sophomores with many positions a toss-up as far as the actual starter is concerned. Soph tackles Sam Ball (6-4 and 218) and 215-pound Rich Tucci (also a talented place kicker) typify the sizeable and talented material on hand.

Overall, the Wildcats bid to be an exciting, highly dangerous Split T offensive group with Norton's pinpoint passing complimented by the running of speed demons Bird and McGraw and the power drives of fullback Bryant. And there will be no letup when a different unit is in the game. Diminutive quarterback Tom Becherer, a standout in spring work, is equally effective as a runner and passer and will have the services of Cox, veteran Ken Bocard at fullback and promising halfback Doug Thomson, a transfer from Virginia, as a prospective second unit.

Defense is another matter for the time being. One of Bradshaw's major concerns is the absence of adequate linebacking and defensive guard play. The situation in the defensive secondary is better and improved over a year ago.

The schedule, however, may be the toughest problem that Kentucky has to lick. Early season tests against Mississippi and Auburn—two of the nation's best—and a mid-year clash in the home lair of Louisiana State's Tigers highlight the Wildcats' 1963 assignment sheet.

But there's no defeatist attitude in the Kentucky camp despite all the problems that must be resolved satisfactorily. As Bradshaw spells it out, “I feel real optimistic over our chances. We have a bunch of youngsters with a burning desire to be good football players and some older boys with valuable experience and sound leadership. They can't tell you a single game they expect to lose.”

POSITION ANALYSIS

ENDS—Adequate with more depth than '62 . . . Youth here (no seniors) indicative of squad as whole . . . Converted QB Bill Jenkins, starter final three games last year, again due man right flank . . . Newcomer Rick Kestner, exceptional receiver and one of team's top sophs, succeeds graduated All-America Tom Hutchinson at left side . . . Competition due from sophs John Andrighetti and Ed Stanko, junior letterman Jim Komara and ex-halfback Denny Cardwell (also junior) . . . One of team's strongest positions.

TACKLES—Lacking in sufficient experienced personnel . . . Presence of "top gun" Herschel Turner, 6-3 and 225 pound strongman on right side, will strengthen otherwise untested band . . . Speedy, agile senior ranks as South's leading interior lineman . . . Sam Ball, 6-4 and 218, should win out as replacement for departed All-Conference LT Junior Hawthorne . . . Depth dependent on sizeable and talented but untried sophomores . . . Pair sure to see action are 6-4, 225-pound Doug Davis (one of most improved) and Rich Tucci (6-1, 215-pound place-kicker) . . . Better depth but woefully weak in experience . . . Strength of position depends on Turner and eagerness of youngsters to learn and adjust quickly.

GUARDS—Position is problem spot, particularly on defense . . . Only two lettermen—Jim Foley and Bob Brown—return with average capabilities . . . Rest are sizeable and promising sophs who are unknown quantity from competition standpoint . . . Both '62 starters, Vince Smary and Jesse Grant, back but Smary likely to see only specialty duty as linebacker due to bad shoulder and Grant now back at tackle . . . Starters likely to be Foley, small but great competitor, and soph Tony Manzonelli (RG) . . . Promising but inexperienced sophs back them up.

CENTER—No better from experience standpoint . . . Lone returning letterman Clyde Richardson started just four games but saw considerable amount of game duty, particularly on offense, and should command position again . . . Soph Jim Miles could be one of best ever here in time as adjusts to new job (former guard) . . . Position thinly-manned, inexperienced.

QUARTERBACK—Young and immature but promising . . . All sophomores with superb passing sensation Rick Norton leading pack and diminutive but versatile Tom Becherer coming fast as capable back-up man . . . Pair complement each other—Norton as needle-threading passer able to throw long or short and Becherer a particularly elusive runner for a quarterback—to give UK dangerous offense . . . Close behind this duo is soph Talbott Todd, a good prospect held back by injury . . . Norton looms as heir-apparent to graduated tosser, Jerry Woolum.

HALFBACKS—Potentially improved . . . Thin but encouraging from standpoint of marked improvement in offensive play during spring practices inspired by sophs Rodger Bird and Mike (Quick Draw) McGraw—both leading contenders for starting assignments . . . Darrell Cox, late season star and second team All-SEC choice, returns to challenge the spring lead gained by Bird in a classic battle at left half . . . McGraw, possibly the "surprise find" of spring practice as he made terrific adjustment from fullback, is probable opener at RH . . . Transfer Doug Thomson and injured Phil Pickett, both juniors, could give position depth good shot in the arm if they come through and letterman Bob Kosid also should help . . . Chief loss from '62: starting RH Gary Steward (No. 3 ground gainer).

FULLBACKS—Inadequate . . . Only one dependable performer in returning regular Perky Bryant, 5-9 and 195-pound senior who showed much offensive improvement in spring workouts as well as picking up as an inside linebacker and blocker . . . Behind him is converted halfback Ken Bocard, able but inconsistent senior letterman, and improving soph Jim Bolling.

OBSERVATIONS AND MISCELLANY

SUB RULE: Coach Bradshaw is not strictly and entirely in favor of the rules changes at the present time. "Due to youngness of our club this season, I would prefer free substitution. Also, I believe the rules now unnecessarily control innovations and ability to exploit a situation when it develops. I do approve the elimination of the check-off as it will speed up the game and I like the general aim of encouraging the two-way, complete football player."

SCHEDULE: Most difficult in years, Bradshaw says, "But I guarantee you that our kids can't tell you a single game they expect to lose." Major changes see Virginia Tech come in for season opener and traditional pre-Tennessee foe Xavier replaced by Baylor.

OFFENSE: Bradshaw promises Kentucky will be exciting team to watch in 1963. "We feel like we have the ability to move the ball and stimulate excitement." At this point, offense is slightly ahead of defense. Wildcats will continue to operate on battle plan of 70 percent runs and 30 percent passes. Coach Bradshaw explains that he believes "excessive passing detracts from aggressiveness in line . . . I know of no winning team that relies more on passing than its running game. We fully expect to exploit fully our passing potential at advantageous times."

RUNNING: Expected to be better. Should get reckless and effective running from fine corps of halfbacks and improvement noted in fullback Perky Bryant this spring.

PASSING: Fine potential. Quarterbacks, headed by soph Rick Norton, have good throwing ability and ends shape up as excellent receivers as do some backs. Success may depend on protection of passer given by young line.

KICKING: Much improved. Halfback Darrell Cox returns with aims of bettering his 36.9 punting average of last season. Newcomer Ed Smith (an end) handled all frosh punting and posted a 34.9 average. Quarterback Tom Becherer, another soph, also punts and new halfback Rodger Bird is considered excellent prospect. In place-kicking department, soph tacklfe Rich Tucci looms large as threat in both field goals and extra points. Converted seven out of eight and had a pair of FG's in '62. John Andrighetti, soph end, strong at short range. Overall, stronger field goal threat and slightly better in punting and extra point kicking.

TEAM SPEED: Considered better than in 1962 but still only average by SEC standards.

DEFENSE: One of major concerns is linebacking and defensive guard play. Overall, defense is behind the offense but if things get ironed out Kentucky could develop into a pretty fair defensive outfit.

PASS DEFENSE: Improved. Ace defensive safetyman Darrell Cox returns to provide major help.

MENTAL ATTITUDE: "These kids care about image they are creating. They do not want to be just hard-nose football players; they want to be winners, too."—Bradshaw

ORIGIN OF "WILDCATS" NICKNAME

Kentucky's athletic teams are known to sports fans as the Wildcats. This first and only nickname borne by University varsities had its origin in 1909 in a speech made by Commandant Corbusier, then head of the military department of old State College. Speaking to a chapel audience of students on the showing of the Kentucky football team in defeating Illinois six to two, the Commandant declared "they fought like Wildcats." The tag was popularized by word of mouth and by the press with the result that it has since become synonymous with all major Kentucky athletic teams.

While the name is old in origin, no claim is made regarding precedence over similar nicknames boasted by Northwestern, Villanova and about 10 other major athletic teams.

An alumnus in 1947 presented a live Kentucky Wildcat to SUKY, student pep organization. Named "The Colonel," the cat served as a live mascot for UK teams until his death in 1955. The current mascot is a stuffed wildcat obtained from a Brooklyn taxidermist just before the 1958 football season and named "Tucky."

TOUGHNESS IS INSIDE

Much has been written about the tough approach of ex-Marine Charlie Bradshaw, UK's new head football coach. He is a demanding tutor on the field, but makes no greater demands than he asks of himself. Back in 1946, freshly returned from South Pacific battles, he underwent an emergency appendectomy on the second day of practice and came back to scrimmage 10 days later as well as to play two quarters of a game 19 days hence.

UK TOSSES FIRST PASS IN '06

The first forward pass ever attempted by a Kentucky football team was thrown in a game played at Lexington Oct. 13, 1906—the year that the forward pass was legalized by national rules—against Eminence Athletic Club. Accounts of this early contest do not mention whether the pass was completed or the name of the thrower. Earl Stone was listed as quarterback of Coach J. White Guyn's Kentuckians.

THE 'THIN THIRTY'

Ordinarily, true-blue alumni and participating players and coaches would just as soon forget all about a season in which the football team managed to wrestle only three decisions and a pair of ties out of 10 matches—the situation that confronted all following the unique 1962 campaign endured by University of Kentucky's grid force.

However, surprisingly enough, such was not the case after Coach Charlie Bradshaw's initial season as head coach of the Wildcats saw the posting of only a 3-5-2 mark.

Admittedly, the record was not as good as the staunch Kentucky fans had anticipated after five straight so-so seasons. Certainly, it was far below the goal set by a dedicated Coach Bradshaw. But the usual grumbling that inevitably accompanies a losing year was strangely at a minimum and actually there was little thought given by most people to forgetting the season. Instead, the loyal segment of Kentucky fandom praised the showing of Bradshaw's determined Wildcat band in the face of circumstances that easily could have been disastrous to a less courageous outfit.

Coach Bradshaw, determined to get Wildcat football back on a winning plane, demanded much of himself, his aides and his players. Some of the weaker willed players threw in the towel at the mere thought of working hard at winning. Squad strength dwindled from 80 to 28 able bodies that upset arch-rival Tennessee in the season finale with one of the greatest displays of raw courage ever seen on an American gridiron.

In the course of the season, the nickname "Thin 30" got tagged on the short-handed Kentuckians and the tag line seemed to be the rallying point that held the proud squad together in tests against overwhelming odds. Only spirit could be credited with causing the supreme effort that saw the Wildcats carry the fight to every foe on their schedule. They lost some but never were humiliated.

The numerically thin 'Cats, some taking "iron men" roles by playing nearly 60 minutes a game, faded only in the fourth quarter after depth-rich opponents wore them down physically. Only twice were they behind going into the fourth quarter. In the final period, opponents outscored UK by 42-18. Only one team (Miami) is able to boast of scoring more than two touchdowns on the defensively stingy 'Cats. Powerful LSU was extended into the final period before eeking out a 7-0 decision and SEC champ Ole Miss managed only a 14-0 win.

In the face of such courageous showings by a bunch of boys who believed in the system and in their coach, it is little wonder that praise overwhelmed criticism and the "Thin 30" will long be remembered.

SERIES HISTORY: Kentucky holds a slight edge (2-1-2) in gridiron relations with the Virginia Tech Gobblers. The series got underway Oct. 30, 1926 at Lexington as Coach Fred J. Murphy's Wildcats and the visiting Virginians battled to an indecisive, 13-13 standoff. Another meeting the following season, in the heyday of John Simms (Shipwreck) Kelly, saw UK emerge on the long end of a 20-6 count. VPI notched its only win over Kentucky in 1932 at Blacksburg, 7-0, in a game that was to be the last in nine years. Meeting on neutral territory as the series resumed in the war years of 1941 and 1942, UK took a high scoring (37-14) decision at Louisville and then had to settle for a 21-21 tie at Roanoke in the last game played.

LAST MEETING: Kentucky picked up touchdowns in each of the opening two periods to take a decisive intermission lead and seemed to have the contest well in hand even after the count reached 21-7 midway of the third stanza. VPI had capitalized on a blocked quick kick for its first score and then roared from behind with renewed enthusiasm in the late stages of the game to add two more markers on drives of 68 and 70 yards for the tie that was to interrupt the series for 21 years. The game was played in neutral Roanoke, Va., Oct. 17, 1942.

1963 OUTLOOK: With 30 lettermen returning, ex-Wildcat Jerry Claiborne concedes that the prospects for his third edition of Virginia Tech Gobblers are the brightest in six years. The former Kentucky blocking back and end of the late forties bemoans only the knocking out of last year's three-team system. On the bright side, he foresees adequate depth for the first time and feels Tech's defense should be more rugged than that which has led the Southern Conference in total and pass defense for the last two seasons. Offensively, Tech will be building its hopes around late-blooming quarterback Bob Schweickert and strong fullback Sonny Utz. For established star leadership, tackle Gene Breen (All-Conference in 1961) and Newt Green, All-Conference guard last season, are in the fold. Claiborne will again utilize the Winged T as a basic offense.

SERIES HISTORY: A strange sequence of upsets and near-upsets flavors the comparatively young, but colorful and intense rivalry between the Wildcats and Ole Miss. Nineteen meetings have been held since the series got underway in 1944, but it was 1958 before the Rebels could claim a distinctive edge in the battling. The Wildcats got the series off to an auspicious start by winning the first game, but Mississippi took the decision in three out of the next four meetings. The fireworks really started in 1949 as Kentucky claimed a 47-0 upset in Oxford and started on the road to big-time prominence. Since then, the Kentucky game has been a "make or break" situation on the Rebels' schedule. The 1954 meeting in Memphis was a penalty-marred spectacle resulting in several conference records for violations that still stand. In 1955,

UK added new fire to the "beat the favorite" series history by upending the defending SEC champs in Lexington for their only loss enroute to a second straight title and Cotton Bowl win. Ole Miss has achieved a measure of revenge by winning every game since, but the final result on the scoreboard failed generally to reflect the closeness of the battles. UK extended the SEC "Team of the Decade" four years ago by forcing a long field goal and a freakish, 51-yard quarterback sneak TD in final seconds for a 16-0 decision.

LAST MEETING: Just as predicted, Kentucky's "Thin Thirty" football team did improve over its season opener performance, but the improvement was not enough to cope completely with Mississippi's nationally-seventh-ranked Rebels and the Bradshaw forces had to settle for a 14-0 defeat in racially-troubled Jackson, Miss. True to tradition, Kentucky's outmanned Wildcats kept Ole Miss in hot water throughout and the final score again failed accurately to reflect the closeness of the battle. UK's "iron men" mounted a major threat early on passing of Jerry Woolum but the drive fizzled after gaining a first down inside the 20.

1963 OUTLOOK: Ole Miss could pick up all the marbles again in 1963. Undeclared a year ago for the first time ever as they picked up a fifth SEC title in the past 10 years, the Rebels may have a hard time equalling that mark but are picked to emerge on top in a duel with Alabama. Losses like All-America quarterback Glynn Griffing might wreck many a team but Coach Johnny Vaught turns out stars like the University does Miss Americas. Hopes for '63 will be pinned to the jersey tail of such operatives as quarterback Perry Lee Dunn, pre-season All-SEC end Allen Brown, center Kenny Dill and tackle Whaley Hall to mention only a few. Mississippi is talented enough and the schedule easy enough to overcome rebuilding problems.

SERIES HISTORY: Former Southeastern Conference football “dormats,” Kentucky and Auburn, first got together on the gridiron at Lexington in 1934—the year after the league was organized—and played another game the following season at Montgomery before interrupting their series for nearly two decades. Each held a victory out of the early meetings and the 1954 scrap, which resumed the rivalry, resulted in a 21-14 decision in the Wildcats’ favor. Tilts between the new-found powers in the years since have been fraught with frustration. With but one axception (a 33-0 Auburn win in 1959), the annual clashes have seen neither influence a decisive change in the trend to close games. Kentucky walked away with a memorable 14-12 upset victory in 1961 on the Tigers’ home ground where no Auburn eleven had been beaten in 30 straight games. Prior to the win, UK had been able to score on the stingy Plainsmen only once in five years.

LAST MEETING: Gaining their revenge for Kentucky’s sweet upset in Cliff Hare Stadium the year before, Coach Shug Jordan’s Tigers tagged the home-standing Wildcats with a 16-6 loss in a strong demonstration of early season power. Disappointing as the final accounting was, partisans freely declared a similar effort by Bradshaw's forces would have toppled Ole Miss and Florida State. UK actually drew first blood on a 10-yard power sweep by fullback Perky Bryant for the initial score of the season. But the lead was short-lived against the nation's strongest defensive club, which flexed offensive muscles with three field goals and a closing-minutes touchdown.

1963 OUTLOOK: The one thing most experts credit with making Auburn one of the most feared clubs in the nation is the same thing that Coach Shug Jordan fears may be his team's weak suit in 1963. That is defense. The Tiger chief worries about the "smallest line in my years at Auburn" and reports depth is sorely missing at most positions. While defense may be a problem, there's optimism that offense may be able to take up the slack. Included in a strong backfield are quarterback Jimmy Sidle, one of the league's top passers, and advance All-SEC halfback Tucker Frederickson, highly-touted youngster who came into his own last year as the replacement for injured Jimmy Burson. In addition to these top-flight operatives, Auburn can call on halfback George Rose, voted the probable best sideback in '63 SEC circles, and top fullback Doc Griffith. Still the Tigers are not given much of a chance to improve on their sixth place finish of last year.

SERIES HISTORY: Only two meetings on the gridiron are recorded between the Wildcats and major midwestern independent Detroit, both on the Titans' home ground and each resulting in a Kentucky win that got the visiting Blue Grass eleven on the victory trail for the first time in the campaign. The inaugural game came only four years back on Oct. 2, 1959, and saw the 'Cats humble the Titans, 32-7, mainly on the strength of a powerful ground attack that rolled up 344 yards. Ambitious Detroit simply could not cope with UK's defense and depth. The lone long run allowed by Kentucky came on a 51-yard gallop by Bruce Maher after the game was wrapped up. Detroit opens the season in Lexington next year.

LAST MEETING: Despite the injury-enforced absence of passing star Jerry Woolum and two other regulars, crippled Kentucky rolled over the Titans, 27-8, behind the substitute generalship of Elmer Jackson and thus avoided the undeserved tag of one of the losingest grid outfits in UK football history. Only one other team in Wildcat grid annals (1957) had failed to chalk up its first win by the fourth game of the season. Fullback Perky Bryant had a field day to account for three of UK's four TDs. Detroit passer Jerry Gross, the national leader, put the Kentucky defense to a severe test but it leaked only once.

1963 OUTLOOK: Despite the major loss of one of the nation's leading passers, Jerry Gross, Detroit Coach John Idzik enters his second year at the Titan helm hopeful of an improved season. Optimism is based on the surprising showing of some sophomores in spring workouts and the prospect of a solution to the depth problem of 1962. The most likely replacement for Gross seems to be promising soph Tom Zientek, whom Idzik classes as a fine passer and excellent runner. Detroit plans to play a different type of ball in '63 with defense and the running attack stressed more. Much of the Titan offense is due to be built around 195 pound junior fullback Fred Beier, number two ground gainer (4.2) behind graduated Vic Barrini.

SERIES HISTORY: Inaugurated with a game at Baton Rouge in 1949, the Kentucky-Louisiana State grid series is the youngest football rivalry within the Southeastern Conference. A total of 13 meetings make up the series which has seen annual encounters with the exception of the 1951 season and the count now stands tipped in the Bengals' favor, seven wins to five plus a 6-6 tie in 1953. The Billy Cannon-led Tigers, enjoying their greatest seasons during the 1957-59 period, overcame the Wildcats' 4-2-1 edge in the series by taking three straight decisions in these years. UK tied it up three years ago with a 3-0 upset victory in Lexington and then nationally-ranked LSU survived determined bids for glory by the upstart 'Cats in the last two seasons to notch successes that again gave it the lead. A new era now dawns in the rivalry with a pair of youthful ex-Wildcats at the grid helms of the respective schools.

LAST MEETING: For the fourth straight season, powerful Louisiana State knew it had been in a fight when the annual scrap with Kentucky's Wildcats was finished. The latest game, on Stoll Field last season, proved one of the best short of victory as the outnumbered "Thin Thirty" force of new Coach Charlie Bradshaw held off LSU's three platoons of talent until the final 10 minutes before dropping a heart-breaking, 7-0 decision. A near-capacity crowd rendered the 'Cats a standing ovation for their almost fanatic efforts in staving off repeated challenges from the nation's fourth-ranked power.

1963 OUTLOOK: Unquestionably one of the worst hit teams in the country by the new rules that knocked out the three-platoon system, Louisiana State is faced with some quick and effective regrouping in 1963 that may keep it from equalling the stellar, 9-1-1 record posted a year ago. Ex-Wildcat Charlie McClendon, who made the most of the situation he inherited last season, is expected to rely greatly on defense in the coming season and utilize many of the former Chinese Bandits as starters. Superlative soph Pat Screen, who avoided action last year while gaining maturity, is set to guide the offense while such operatives as 218-pound senior guard Robbie Hucklebridge hold the fort long the front line.

SERIES HISTORY: Georgia and Kentucky began their rivalry on the football field with a game at Louisville on Oct. 21, 1939. The two schools met almost annually from that time until the series was broken off after the 1949 game and not resumed until 1956 with a game at Athens. During the 22 years that Wally Butts tutored the Bulldogs (he switched to full-time Athletic Director duties after the '60 season), Georgia laid claim to nine victories in the 14-game series. Kentucky took the initial game in 1939 and tied the following year, but it was 1947 before it picked up another win. All told, UK shows but four victories with the last in 1956. Despite Georgia's superiority, the series generally has been interesting as reflected by the fact that Butt's four SEC championship outfits managed an average win margin of only 11 points over Kentucky. Only 12 points separates the two clubs in their last four meetings, capped by a frustrating, 7-7 tie at Athens last season.

LAST MEETING: Emotionally and physically drained after fighting their hearts out in uphill battles against some of the nation's elite football teams, Kentucky's gallant Wildcats proved a little too generous as they handed (or, more properly, passed) a 7-7 tie to Georgia at Athens a year ago. UK's "Thin Thirty" had the battle well in hand when Jerry Woolum connected on a 10-yard pass to Ken Bocard for a score midway of the second quarter. But Kentucky seemingly couldn't stand prosperity. Woolum, rushed hard on a third-quarter pass attempt, got away a hurried toss that Georgia intercepted and returned for a score. A successful PAT tied the contest at 7-7 and that's the way it ended.

1963 OUTLOOK: Pre-season forecasts generally are pegging the Georgia Bulldogs about three notches down the ladder from where they finished a hectic 1962 campaign (tied with Kentucky for seventh place), but there's no pressure on Johnny Griffith's charges to prevent a surprise climb. One possible factor in Georgia's favor is the lack of dependence on sophomores to a degree not equalled in days since the SEC and Orange Bowl championship club of 1959. The Bulldogs have experienced depth, good running backs and, in the person of Larry Rakestraw, possibly the second best passer in the league. End Mickey Babb, tackle Benny Boyd and halfback Don Porterfield were advance All-SEC second unit choices. If the sophs develop, watch Georgia growl on Kentucky's Homecoming Day.

SERIES HISTORY: Gridiron relations with Miami of Florida date back only to 1948 and involve only seven games, making the Hurricanes one of the newer rivals on the Kentucky schedule. In the five encounters playing during the years prior to the 1961 season, Kentucky had things pretty much its own way—winning all games by generally decisive scores. The Wildcats used a 21-6 shellacking of a good Miami team in 1949 as the stepping stone to their first major bowl invitation—to the Orange Bowl where they lost a heartbreaker to Santa Clara. Miami, annually one of the top southern independents, had managed to score only 14 points against the Wildcats up to the 1961 game. But all that went by the board that season with Miami not only matching their previous total output but also toppling the host Wildcats with the aid of its famed "M Squad" (QB George Mira and end Bill Miller). Although they carried the fight to the Hurricanes much of the time in the humid Orange Bowl last year, the Wildcats wilted in the late stages before heat and depth to suffer their second setback of the series.

LAST MEETING: Striking with a devastating aerial attack that threatened to beat Miami at its own game, Kentucky carried the fight to its opponent through nearly three quarters of a humid night in the Orange Bowl before wilting in the face of a late Hurricane surge that gave the Miamians a hard-earned, 25-17 win. Wildcat quarterback Jerry Woolum, enjoying the greatest night of his career, connected on 18 of 31 tosses for 274 yards. His highly-touted opponent, George Mira, managed only nine strikes in 17 "swings" for 93 yards. Before the 96 percent humidity took the toll of the long-playing 'Cats, they had taken an astonishing, 17-6 lead early in the third period. Several other scoring opportunities faded and Miami stormed back in the final 18 minutes with three TD's to take the decision.

1963 OUTLOOK: Sensational George Mira winds up his collegiate career this season and that incentive alone could be enough to push the talented Hurricanes to great heights—possibly even into the top 10 if it were not for a formidable schedule. Veteran Coach Andy Gustafson, who also winds up his tutoring career to move into the Athletic Director chair full time, has a few new wrinkles planned to shake up his foes. Apparently more dependence will be put on the ground game to keep the defense more honest and make Mira even more effective. Chief operative in this phase looms as soph halfback Russell Smith, a 190-pounder. And help also could be forthcoming from powerful fullback Pete Banaszak. In the line, agile tackle Dan Connors is being boomed for honors.

SERIES HISTORY: Kentucky and the Vanderbilt Commodores first got together on the gridiron way back in 1896 at Nashville and the rivalry has been perpetuated intermittently ever since with the result that it is one of the oldest in the South from the standpoint of first meeting and number of games. History shows a record solidly in Vandy's favor—23 wins to Kentucky's nine and three ties. Vandy registered 12 shutouts in the first 26 years of the rivalry and UK did not get into the win column until 1939. However, the post-war record shows only four setbacks. Kentucky's 27-0 homecoming rout of the Commodores in 1960 ended a three-year trend to close games, but the rivalry got back in the groove in 1961 as UK struggled strangely before taking a 16-3 decision. Last year proved almost a carbon copy of that game as UK just could not connect on all the scoring chances weak Vanderbilt offered.

LAST MEETING: The "Thin Thirty" could capitalize on only one of nine good scoring opportunities before a sparse Homecoming crowd of 26,000 (held down by threat of rain) and had to settle for only a 7-0 decision over Vanderbilt for their first win of the season on Stoll Field and in SEC competition. Kentucky completely dominated the game that saw star halfback Darrell Cox scoot 16 yards to the green-dyed grass of the end zone on a pitchout from Jerry Woolum minutes after the fourth period opened. Clarkie Mayfield converted. Otherwise the battle was a frustrating standoff. A second quarter, 48-yard TD punt return by Cox was called back for clipping and a Mayfield field goal try in the third stanza failed.

1963 OUTLOOK: Hope reigns supreme in the Vanderbilt camp that new Head Coach Jack Green, former Shelbyville (Ky.) High and Army standout who succeeded Art Guepe, can pull the Commodores up by the bootstraps to a respectable season this year. That might be a tall order but Green isn't ready to be merely content with a so-so output by the meager material on hand as indicated by a rugged spring practice. Much position shifting and revitalizing is underway and it could pay off with a better finish than the 11th place predicted by most of the experts. One of the big moves that may pay off was the switch of two-year tackle starter Sam Sullins to center. Biggest of the problems may be at quarterback. Vanderbilt may not have the ready material this year to be a serious first-division contender, but don't sell the Commodores short.

SERIES HISTORY: Kentucky and Baylor have never faced each other on the grid-iron, although there have been athletic relations between the two schools in the form of four basketball games. The cagers have made a clean sweep of the competition with four straight victories, including the 1948 success for the NCAA title. In addition, Kentucky's football teams show meetings with five other Southwest Conference members that have resulted in a 4-3 aggregate record in the Wildcats favor. UK's most notable visit to the Lone Star State came in 1952 when it tripped Texas Christian in the Cotton Bowl. The Wildcats also have games in record against Southern Methodist, Texas, Texas A & M and Rice. Baylor is scheduled to repay Kentucky's 1963 visit with a game in Lexington on the same weekend in 1964.

LAST MEETING: No previous games. On its last invasion of Texas in 1953, the Woldcats tripped Rice, 19-13, as they met for the first time in football.

1963 OUTLOOK: With the nation's most successful passer of 1962 returning in the person of Don Trull (125 completions), Coach John Bridgers' Bears should be rough for anyone to deal with in 1963. Augmenting the exciting, pro-type offense will be a bevy of big backs and sizeable linemen—both described as having more size than a year ago and leading to the assumption of a better running game and more balanced attack. Defense, a major weakness in 1962, is expected to improve this season. Bridgers points to a lack of experienced depth at center and the guards as a big weakness. Probable leading recipient of Trull's aeriels is swift wingback Lawrence Elkins, junior letterman declared to have the potential to be one of the Southwest Conference's greatest receivers. Leading Bruin linemen are expcted to be 234-pound Co-Capt. Bobby Crenshaw at tackle and 186-pound Ronnie (Stump) Rogers, who has started the last 17 Baylor games at guard. All told, Baylor in 1963 is capable of being an interesting ball club and a particularly dangerous one if defensive savvy is added to an offense of proven capability.

SERIES HISTORY: Among the six oldest football rivalries in the South, the Kentucky-Tennessee series dates from a memorable encounter in Knoxville 70 years ago. In that meeting, Oct. 21, 1893, the Wildcats annexed a 60-0 victory to get the warfare off to an auspicious start in a fashion that hasn't been equalled in the many and colorful renewals of the traditional rivalry. Except for three war years (1917-18 and 1943), the two schools have met annually on the gridiron with the result that the Vols hold a distinct-but-fading edge of 31 wins to Kentucky's 18 and nine ties. Tennessee's sparkling advantage has become tarnished in the past few seasons as Kentucky started reversing the victory trend with an upsetting tie in 1952 and ate into the Vols' polished record with successes in seven of the last nine meetings. The seniors on the 1955 UK squad became the first class in 43 years to graduate with the accomplishment of never playing in a game in which the Vols emerged victorious and they bowed out in a blaze of glory, triumphing 23-0 over the bowl-hungry Vols in the most one-sided Kentucky win since 1935. Tennessee took the 1961 meeting for its first victory in five years, but UK's courageous "Thin Thirty" fought back to win a 12-10 squeaker a year ago.

Since 1925, the two schools have stimulated their grid rivalry with a rotating trophy—a battered old beer barrel. Much shenanigans on the part of the rival student bodies have added to the color of the series. Following the 1953 UK win, disgruntled Tennessee students raided the Kentucky campus and “kegnapped” the barrel—holding it until persuaded to return it by threats of reprisal against their coon dog mascot, Smoky. In 1955, UK students visited the Tennessee campus hiding place of Smoky and “dognapped” him. UT students promptly retaliated by painting up the Kentucky campus in a surprise raid and carting away “Colonel,” UK’s stuffed wildcat mascot. A trade was engineered at the ’55 game. For a couple of years, things were comparatively quiet. Then the stunts erupted again in 1958 as Vol students caught a guard “napping” and slipped away with UK’s stuffed Wildcat. Despite promises to return it at halftime of a nationally-televised basketball game, the mascot wasn’t given back until nearly four months later. A post-game sidelight to Kentucky’s victory in 1959 saw a strange calm shattered by rioting UK students protesting a faculty refusal to reward the win with a traditional pre-Thanksgiving holiday. Up to 5,000 demonstrators and onlookers carried on for about four and one-half hours, marching on the UK president’s home and setting a bonfire at a main intersection in downtown Lexington. The famed beer barrel, which had remained in hiding during “Tennessee week” in 1960, came up missing almost four months later under unusual circumstances. Vanderbilt students “kegnapped” the trophy in a surprise attempt to gain support of Vol fans for the Commodores basketball team which was meeting the Wildcats in Knoxville in a playoff for an NCAA Tournament berth. The stunt backfired, however, as UK won. Embarrassed Vandy students did not return the trophy until several months later. Two years ago, another chapter was added to the keg’s history as two UK freshman players forgot to bring the barrel to the game and the Vols left town without claiming it. Kentucky sent the keg on to Knoxville later.

LAST MEETING: All the hard work that had gone before in a hectic season for the “Thin Thirty” (which had dwindled to 28 for the game) seemed well worth the effort as Kentucky’s outmanned but courageous Wildcats presented their new chief, Charlie Bradshaw, with his first success against the school’s arch-rival. The score of the Tennessee tilt at Knoxville in surprisingly good weather was 12-10 in Kentucky’s favor. Aside from the fact that this represented a mild upset, the score failed to reflect the fact that the game proved to be one of the oddest and most thrilling of the long and colorful Wildcat-Vol rivalry. Kentucky came of age with the big help of one of its smallest players, 170-pound halfback Darrell Cox. Operating out of a surprise "shotgun" formation, Darrell was virtually a one-man show as he personally outgained the entire Tennessee team on the ground, caught vital passes, punted out of danger consistently well, passed out of the "shotgun" and played defense as if he invented it. The performance more than repaid his debt to teammates who had voted him back after he had quit the team in the spring. Tennessee scored first on a field goal in the opening quarter, but UK's iron men came right back to tie it 3-3 on a 36-yard boot by Clarkie Mayfield. The Vols jumped into another lead early in the fourth period after a 73-yard pass interception return to the UK one set up an easy score, but UK retaliated again on a 58-yard TD pass play from Jerry Woolum to Cox. A two-point PAT pass gamble failed and things looked dark until Mayfield booted another geld goal (19 yards) in the final 16 seconds for the winning margin.

1963 OUTLOOK: A new coach and a new deal at Tennessee are enough reasons to observe caution when dealing with the Vols in 1963. On paper, the Orange Ogres don't seem likely to be first division finishers this season—a theory supported by pre-season forecasts in which the experts have pegged UT to wind up seventh. But that's two notches ahead of the spot accorded Kentucky and all the more reason to be wary. If further proof is needed, add in Mr. Mallon Faircloth—one of the best running backs in the league—and a top-notch guard operative named Steve DeLong, voted the probable best defensive lineman in the SEC. Biggest news in Volunteer land, however, is new Coach Jim McDonald's disclosure that he plans to install some T-formation plays in Tennessee's offense to go along with the traditional single wing. The pattern will bear the name of multiple offense, but essentially will resemble a modified single wing. Defense, particularly against passing, looms as one of the big problems inherited by McDonald. The Vol backfield should be stronger with depth and young new talent available. Soph Stan Mitchell leads the parade that hopes to improve fullback to the fearsome status it normally occupies.

FROM THE WILDCAT WATCHTOWER

Kentucky's Wildcats boast the distinction of being the first football team in the Southeastern Conference to start pre-season practice in 1963. A new University of Kentucky school calendar, which goes into effect this fall, advances the fall and spring semesters about two weeks and rules of the NCAA allow practice to start two weeks prior to the opening of classes or Sept. 1—whichever is earlier. UK classes start Sept. 5 and the footballers get activity underway on Aug. 26, earliest in history.

* * * *

It'll be a veritable cat fight on two weekends during the forthcoming season as ex-Wildcats, now head coaches at opponent schools, face former UK teammate Charlie Bradshaw. The first such scrap comes with the opening encounter of the season as Jerry Claiborne (Kentucky '52) brings his Virginia Tech Gobblers to town. In mid-season, Kentucky alum Bradshaw (class of '49) turns loose his Wildcat band to battle former teammate Charlie McClendon ('51) and his LSU Bengal Tigers in Baton Rouge. The Blue Grass school also can boast of another grad as a major college head coach in Phil Cutchin ('47), Oklahoma State chief. Former staff assistants now head coaches include Paul Dietzel at Army and Jim Owens at Washington.

* * * *

Kentucky's football coaching staff is youthful but experienced. Statistics on Coach Charlie Bradshaw and his 10 aides provide an average look of 33 years of age and a background of nine years in the coaching profession. Asst. Head Coach Matt Lair boasts no less than 16 seasons of grid tutoring to lead the group while Coach Bradshaw and Asst. Coach George Sengel are close behind at 14. All told, the staff represents 101 years of coaching experience.

* * * *

A unique Lexington experiment has resulted in the appointment of three current Wildcat gridders and one 1962 graduate of the football wars to posts as juvenile probation officers. Graduated All-SEC tackle Junior Hawthorne, along with sophs Howard Keyes and Tony Manzonelli and senior Bob Kosid, work with delinquent youngsters probated to them by Fayette County Juvenile Court. It is the belief and hope of officials that the youngsters will straighten themselves out under the influence and example of outstanding Wildcat football players.

BACKGROUND BRIEFS

(Player Sketches Alphabetically Arranged)

ANDRIGHETTI

JOHN ANDRIGHETTI Soph. End 6-0 190 19 (11/19/43) Grapeville, Pa.

One of the outstanding pass-catching ends in western Pennsylvania history as a stellar schoolboy at Hempfield Area High, Andrighetti looms as a highly capable collegiate receiver who could surpass even his prep reputation . . . Apparently only lack of experience in the "big time" will hold him back this season, but he's due to be a much-used No. 2 man and definitely is counted on to be pushing returnee Bill Jenkins at right end . . . Capable of being pressed into service as short-range field goal kicker and PAT man . . . During four years of high school football under Coach Bill Abraham, John was used as a lonesome end in an unbalanced line as a senior and hauled in a school record 47 passes for nearly 500 yards . . . Also stood out defensively for Hempfield, the school also attended by teammate Rich Tucci . . . All-State, All-WPIAL and Big 33 Game participant . . . Starting RE as Kentucky yearling in '62 . . . Caught seven for 96 yards and one TD to rank as second best frosh pass snatcher . . . Turns 20 week of Tennessee game . . . Born Greensburg, Pa. . . . Italian ancestry . . . Likes slow songs and Italian foods.

BOB ASHWORTH Soph. Halfback 6-2 180 20 (3/26/43) Miami, Fla.

This highly-touted All-State halfback, who picked up his initial grid savvy at Miami Edison High (the same school attended by senior halfback Darrell Cox), is experiencing a little difficulty in staving off top-flight competition in his bid for regular duty . . . However, Wildcat coaches like the potential of Ashworth and declare that toward the end of spring practice this year he was showing signs of playing up to his strong capability . . . May be a little slow starting, but Bob is fleet afoot and should see considerable action during a learning year . . . Biggest of Wildcat halfbacks at 6-2 and 180 . . . Starting right half as UK freshman in 1962 . . . Gained 77 yards on the ground during 14 carries for 5.5 rushing average . . . Best day came against Cincinnati Frosh as he scored once on a 43-yard jaunt (longest run from scrimmage by freshman last season) and returned an intercepted pass 54 yards to pay dirt . . . Born in Huntington, W. Va. . . . All-City (Miami) football, basketball and track.

SAM BALL Soph. Tackle 6-4 218 19 (6/1/44) Henderson, Ky.

A cousin of former Kentucky basketball All-America Frank Ramsey, Sam (Foot) Ball already being eyed by the pros and pleased coaches confident he may have Ramsey-like career in football before he graduates . . . At 6-4 and 218 pounds, Ball is one of current squad's biggest performers—ranking alongside Herschel Turner (6-3, 225) and Doug Davis (6-4, 225) . . . Sizeable native Kentuckian culminated seven seasons standout grid play Henderson County High by achieving host of awards and honors—including All-Area Football Award, All-State and mention on scholastic All-America unit . . . Typical of great promise, potential and pressure akin to Kentucky's outstanding sophomore group, Ball likely to get nod as starter at left tackle in first varsity season as collegian . . . Coach Bradshaw is on record with opinion Ball should play reasonably well as adjusts to highly competitive standards of Southeastern Conference ball . . . He's eager and may make few mistakes early but has confidence of both coaches and teammates . . . Started at right tackle as freshman in '62 . . . Chosen Sgt.-at-Arms of Kitten Lodge (freshman house) last year . . . Set high school shot put record and played basketball . . . Won speech award as schoolboy and lists favorite subject as biological science . . . His hobbies are hunting and cars.

TOM BECHERER (Beck'-er) Soph. Quarterback 5-10 169 19 (11/24/43) Canton, Ohio

Quick, fast and comparatively short for quarterback . . . Many sideline observers had it all figured that this speedy youngster would move over to halfback in initial varsity campaign . . . But Tom had other ideas and terrific performance in Blue-White intra-squad game last spring justified confidence Coach Bradshaw had placed in him as a quarterback possibility . . . Connected on 8 of 13 aerials for 103 yards in directing losing cause of White team . . . As Wildcat chief sees it, Becherer's lack of quarterback size is overemphasized and running ability compliments stronger passing potential of other UK quarterbacks—lending varied attack possibility . . . He's elusive type runner, thoroughly capable passer and can punt if called upon for this duty . . . Actually, he's as big or bigger than many better quarterbacks Kentucky faced last season . . . As quarterback-defensive halfback for Canton Central Catholic, he was instrumental in helping team post one of best records in Ohio schoolboy grid circles and won spot on All-County defensive team . . . During his first collegiate year, Tom was No. 3 ground gainer for UK frosh with 81 yards on 10 trips—a sensational 8.1 average . . . Passed for three out of four completions netting 47 yards . . . Credited with three catches for 99 yards, including 73-yard gain against Tennessee's Baby Vols . . . Came along fast this spring and probably will rank No. 2 quarterback position . . . Although four-sport star in high school, has had no time for anything except football at UK . . . Plans tentatively to go on to medical school . . . Family background German and Irish.

RODGER BIRD Soph. Halfback 5-11 186 20 (7/2/43) Corbin, Ky.

Latest in succession of Bird brothers who have starred in athletics at Kentucky, Rodger could well be best of all in opinion of many close followers of Wildcats . . . Preceding him to Blue Grass campus were brothers Jerry, who finished basketball

BIRD

BLUBAUGH

BOCARD

career in '56; Calvin, star halfback whose last season came three years ago; and Billy, who left after freshman grid campaign in 1961 . . . Blessed with good speed like brother Calvin, Rodger utilizes it to best advantage—he runs for goal line on every play he has hand on ball . . . Running is best suit and seems likely to earn him post of starting left half over returning veteran Darrell Cox if he maintains lead held at conclusion of spirited spring practice position battle with second-team All-SEC teammate . . . Besides running, proved in spring game that he's capable passer as completed surprise, 16-yard toss to quarterback Rick Norton . . . Doesn't rely entirely on speed to gain ground—he's perfectly willing to fight way through rather than take long way around . . . As star of Corbin's Redhounds, Rodger attained All-State and All-South honors in football, set new state scoring record of 212 points as a junior, chalked up conference mark in shot put, and stood out as cager . . . Corbin Comet picked up as collegian where left off in sensational schoolboy career, earning starting left half assignments in frosh season and becoming team's leading ground gainer with a 4.4 average based on 92 yards in 21 trips . . . Scored four touchdowns and returned punts and kickoffs beautifully . . . He was scourge to opposition in virtually every scrimmage last spring and paced all ball carriers with 60 yards in 11 carries during Blue-White spring game . . . Considered good defensive back and excellent punting prospect . . . Coach Bradshaw praises boy's attitude and willingness to work . . . Sportswriters already touting Bird as potentially UK's first "pure" All-America halfback . . . Steve Meilinger previous halfback honoree but alternated at two additional positions (end and quarterback).

JIM BLUBAUGH Soph. Center 5-11 210 19 (1/31/44) Canton, Ohio

Considered one of best schoolboy linebackers to come out of Buckeye State when signed in 1962, Blubaugh is type who knows what score is whether he's on offense or defense . . . Jim was defensive linebacker and offensive fullback at Canton Central Catholic (on the same team with current Wildcat quarterback Tom Becherer) and instrumental in seeing club drop only three games in three years . . . Picked up personal recognition as All-Stater and high mention on prep All-America squad . . . The "blue chip" athlete was widely courted by colleges upon graduation . . . At Kentucky, Blubaugh shed surplus weight and picked up speed as freshman but failed to see much action at fullback . . . Shifted over to center at start of spring practice to make more effective use of linebacking ability and gain opportunity to develop faster . . . Likely will rate No. 3 at position going into campaign . . . Has long way to go, but should come fast this season . . . Family nationaliy German . . . Likes rock and roll music and history.

KEN BOCARD Senior Fullback 5-11 205 21 (3/29/42) Ashland, Ky.

Back in "old stamping ground" at fullback after sojourn in 1962 at halfback, Ken (correctly it's Kendall) Bocard is being counted on for major contribution this season if he performs consistently up to potential . . . Work in spring practice and as leading ground gainer for losing Whites in spring game lends indication that consistency will be forthcoming . . . Senior letterman, who boasts good size and speed, should fit into picture as No. 2 man behind returning regular Perky Bryant . . . In 1962, filling in at halfback on "Thin Thirty," Bocard became starter on right side for final four games nad posted 226:41 action time in all 10 contests . . . Wound up fourth in ground gaining with a 4.4 average for 160 yards on 36 trips—including 47-yard TD jaunt against Detroit . . . Also third in pass catching (10/127/1TD), punt and kickoff returning, fourth interceptions and second in scoring . . . In yards gained, Bocard's best game was against Detroit as he netted 78 yards in six carries . . . Also turned in tremendous performance versus Mississippi by gaining vital ground in key situations, catching clutch passes and turning in excellent defensive work . . . Son of a former All-State cager won honorable mention All-State as quarterback at Ashland High . . . Alternated between FB-HB as freshman in 1960 but development held back by injuries . . . Played 85:23 in eight games as soph in '61—operating from fullback and posting 62 yards on 14 trips.

JIM BOLLING Soph. Fullback 5-11 197 19 (9/2/44) Big Stone Gap, Va.

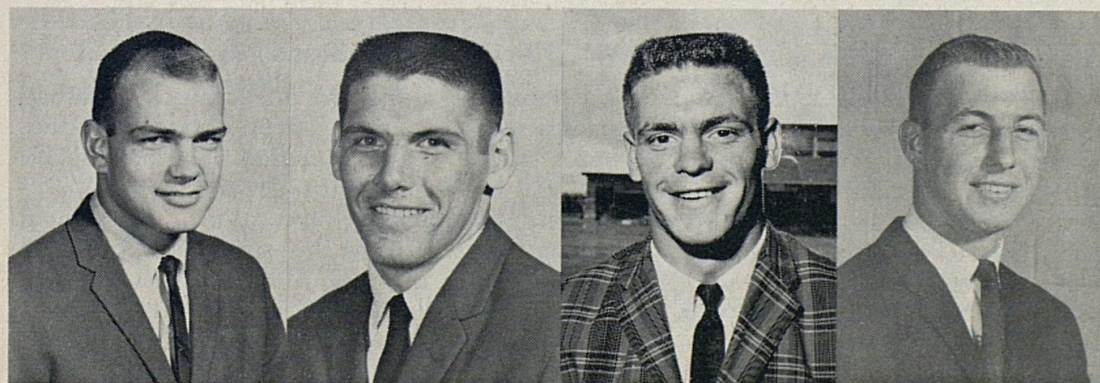

Although he failed to make much impression in statistics as freshman, Bolling made tremendous progress this spring after switching from halfback to fullback . . . Should rank No. 3 at position during initial varsity campaign . . . Blessed with good size (second biggest of fullback crops at 5-11 and 197) and expected to improve with experience . . . Regarded as outstanding player in western Virginia at time of signing . . . Hails from same home town as ex-UK great Frank Seale . . . Follows in footsteps of Seale, who became first boy from Big Stone Gap to play for major school when he was outstanding center for Wildcats in early thirties, by becoming first youngster to gain major grid scholarship from new consolidated high school (Powell Valley) . . . Hard-nosed Virginian registered 80 points as high school senior halfback and was classed as good tackler . . . Also excelled in track and was All-State outfielder in baseball . . . Born Appalachia, Va., and once lived in Neon, Ky. . . . Hobby is weight lifting . . . Chose Kentucky partly because of medical school and is thinking about medical career.

FRANK BROCKARDT Soph. Tackle 6-3 196 19 (6/10/44) Wheeling, W. Va.

Despite knee operation that sidelined him in late stages of off-season practice this spring, Brockardt is figured to be "comer" at new tackle position . . . Coach Bradshaw moved sizeable youngster to tackle at start of spring workouts after he had been stationed at center during freshman campaign and gained prep experience at center and end . . . Should rate about No. 3 at left tackle on pre-season depth chart . . . An honor student both in classroom and on field at Tridelfphia High in Wheeling, W. Va., he was third team All-State selection in both his junior and senior years and member of National Honor Society . . . Also named by coaches to Ohio Valley Athletic Conference All-Star team and chosen All-City twice . . . Captained basketball team and standout in baseball and track . . . German descent . . . Favorite subject mathematics.

BOB BROWN Junior Guard 5-11 190 20 (5/5/43) Darlington, Pa.

This quiet-mannered and likeable student of game saw only shade more than 51 minutes of action time in seven of Wildcats' 10 games last season, but his contributions at three positions (LG, RG and RT) netted him first varsity letter and experience that should stand him in good stead in 1963 . . . Ranked No. 2 at right guard on pre-season form chart . . . Brown doesn't have size that some of his competitors (both on own team and on opponents') are blessed with but handles himself adequately . . . Rarely makes the "big play," but steady performance wherever stationed is rewarding and plays up to capability most of time . . . The Pennsylvania import, known as "Poncho" to Northwestern High teammates, was four-year prep letterman in football and picked up All-Conference honors in tough league . . . Played in Pennsylvania's "Big 33" Game, one of country's top schoolboy All-Star classics . . . Born in Beaver Falls, Pa. . . . Married.

BROCKARDT

BROWN

BRYANT

CARDWELL

PERKY BRYANT Senior Fullback 5-9 195 21 (2/13/42) Evarts, Ky.

A clutch performer who more often than not is called upon to produce when going is toughest and has thrilling habit of contributing "big play" when it is most needed, Charles Verlin (Perky) Bryant has credentials to rate as one of South's leading fullbacks in his final season . . . Wound up as ninth ranked ground gainer in elite Southeastern Conference company year ago despite handicap of playing with comparatively weak team . . . Perky's total of 326 yards on 108 trips with pigskin gave him 3.2 rushing average that was second best among league fullbacks . . . He's "fire plug" type (short and solid) who doesn't look part of top-flight collegiate fullback—except when he's carrying ball . . . Although speed will fool you (covers 40-yards in less than five seconds in full uniform), Bryant's greatest attribute is concentration on making vital short gain . . . Longest run from scrimmage in 1962 was 16 yards against Florida State and Xavier . . . Best afternoon's work came against Vanderbilt with 83 yards on 20 carries . . . Led all Wildcat scorers last season with 24 points . . . During first varsity year (1961), netted 165 yards in 42 jaunts with the long run being one of 27 for a TD versus Vanderbilt . . . Lettered twice, first as soph as posted 152:28 action time in 10 games as sub fullback . . . Last season, as six-starts regular, upped time to 370:32 and kept record clean by not missing game for third straight season . . . Coach Bradshaw cited Bryant for offensive improvement this spring, mentioning particularly work on inside holes and running for goal line instead of just next yard . . . Coach also said Bryant picked up considerably as inside linebacker and blocker and cannot be overlooked defensively . . . Second highest ground gainer with 54 yards in spring game . . . Perky won 13 letters in four sports at Evarts, small mining community in Southeastern Kentucky . . . Captained footballers and honorable mention All-State . . . Second in rushing with 4.6 average and longest run from scrimmage (34 yards) as UK freshman halfback in 1960.

DENNY CARDWELL Junior End 6-1 192 21 (4/21/42) Louisville, Ky.

A year ago, Cardwell attracted little attention until he came down with mumps during pre-season practice and created temporary scare among rest of the squad and coaches that was not eliminated until test results proved negative . . . This season, newly-stationed at end, gives every indication will attract plenty of attention in different and more normal way . . . Louisville Trinity quarterback standout had no offensive statistics as freshman signal caller but developed well as defensive specialist . . . Converted to halfback during a year out of action in 1961 and ranked high in picture at right half start of last season . . . But failed to develop as expected and saw only 16:48 action time in four games . . . Carried ball again against Detroit, gaining 17 yards on four tries . . . Shifted to end this spring, seems to have adapted well and should see considerable action as No. 3 man on left side . . . German and Irish background . . . All-City and honorable mention All-State in football . . . Basketball and track standout.

LLOYD CAUDILL Soph. Tackle 6-0 208 18 (10/17/44) Hazard, Ky.

First of 1962 freshman crop to be signed to University of Kentucky football scholarship, Lloyd Caudill had tremendous schoolboy grid career at Hazard High capped by selection to first team All-State unit . . . Also honored as team captain and chosen All-Conference . . . Coaches like his mental attitude and class him as hard worker who should improve with experience under fire this season . . . Switched from high school guard position to fill in at tackle starting this spring and adjusted well although he likely will see only reserve action this year . . . But he's got size and desire that will stand him in good stead for possible surprise role . . . Father, James Caudill, is principal of Hazard High and one-time football coach . . . Lloyd's hobby reading . . . Favorite subject chemistry . . . Interested in becoming dentist . . . Born Paintsville, lived Morehead and Louisa.

TOM CHAPALA (Cha'-pal-ah) Junior Guard 5-11 202 20 (3/24/43) Ambridge, Pa.

Having spent required year on sidelines under rules governing transfers, Chapala will be eligible for varsity action this season . . . Transferred from University of Michigan where participated in freshman football in 1961 . . . An All-Conference high school fullback from football hotbed of Ambridge, Pa., Tom now operates at guard in bid for extensive action . . . Only lack of experience under actual game conditions should hold him back this year . . . Boasts good size at 5-11 and 202 . . . Eager and aggressive with plenty of power . . . Polish nationality . . . Father is teacher and Tom aspires to follow in his footsteps . . . Likes science subjects . . . Hobby is archery.

DARRELL COX Senior Halfback 5-7 166 22 (2/20/41) Miami, Fla.

This "Little Man" got just about everybody's vote last season as one of most versatile performers in college football . . . Not only does he do lot of things, he does all of them well . . . Won second team All-Southeastern Conference honors in 1962 for outstanding feats that belie small stature (smallest man on team and one of smallest collegiate gridgers playing regularly anywhere) . . . Cox ranked among conference leaders in almost every offensive department of play—8th net yardage (363), 3rd kickoff returns, 7th pass interceptions and punt returns, 8th in punting (36.9) and 12th in pass receiving . . . Also tossed passes off special play designed for his benefit and played sensationally as defensive safetyman . . . No greater display of his "one man show" capability was seen than the all-around performance he put on to almost single-handedly account for Kentucky's season-end upset of Tennessee in '62 . . . Playing 54½ minutes, Cox contributed 111 yards rushing to outgain entire Tennessee team, completed only pass he tried for vital yardage, caught two passes (one of them 58-yard touchdown play on which he made great run), recovered two key fumbles, held ball on two successful field goal attempts which his running set up, made three unassisted tackles from safety, returned three punts, brought back one kickoff 22 yards, punted four times for 41yard average, and personally broke up two Tennessee passes at goal line as Vols threatened in final 16 seconds . . . Cox started every game last season at left half and averaged 49 minutes of action per contest . . . Oddly, former Miami (Fla.) Edison prep All-America almost never got opportunity to shine as he quit squad in first week spring practice 1962 . . . Realizing error immediately, petitioned for reinstatement and taken back by vote of squad—only one of many who quit to be allowed to return . . . Led UK in rushing last season with 363 yards on 81 carries, second receiving with 18 catches for 310 yards and top punter with 36.9 average on 58 boots . . . Also paced team punt and kickoff returns and interceptions . . . As sophomore two seasons back, Cox led SEC and ranked fourth nationally in punt runbacks (21/281/13.4) . . . All-SEC sophomore team choice . . . Posted 331:38 action time that year in nine games, but started only three . . . Longest run 86-yard TD punt return vs.

Florida State '61 . . . Best from scrimmage 41 against Xavier as soph, 29 in Tennessee tilt '62 . . . Recognized both varsity seasons as team's best defensive back . . . As prep star, he was Florida's top schoolboy scorer with record 167 points and gained 1,482 yards during undefeated season . . . Outstanding player 1960 high school North-South classic. One of fastest men on team . . . Southpaw but kicks right footed . . . Two letters . . . Despite credentials has tough fight on hands to gain starting nod over soph Rodger Bird . . . Cox was coming fast final two weeks spring practice.

DOUG DAVIS Soph. Tackle 6-4 225 19 (7/2/44) Centerburg, Ohio

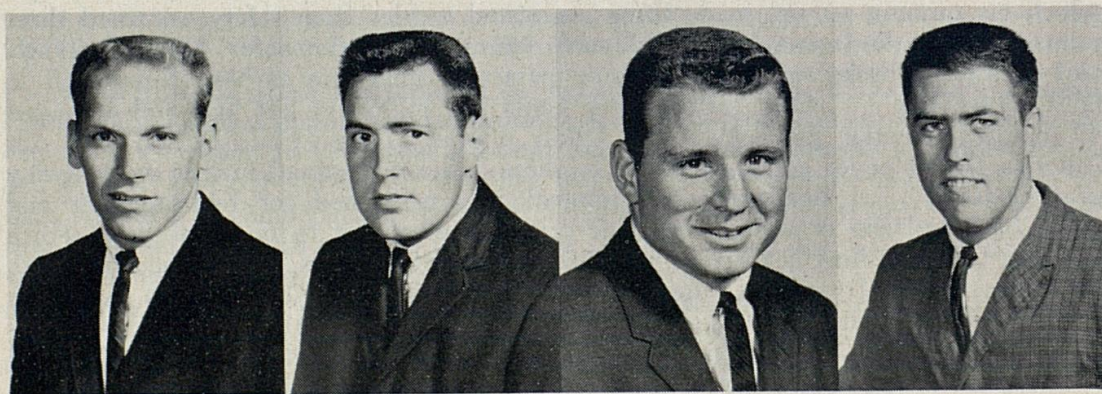

Biggest of 1963 Wildcats from standpoint of sheer size, Davis out to make big name for himself from standpoint of demonstrated ability . . . Few who observed him as outstanding freshman lineman and as one of the most improved men in camp this spring will argue with bid for notoriety . . . Ranks as probable relief man this season for All-America candidate Herschel Turner at right tackle . . . Sensational prepster achieved All-America honor on Wigwam Wiseman selections and proved his merit with fine game in high school All-America classic at Dallas spring before enrollment here . . . Also honored as All-State and All-Mid Buckeye while playing at Centerburg, small town north of Columbus, Ohio . . . Also schoolboy standout in basketball, baseball and track . . . Did some punting in high school but not likely to use his skill as Wildcat . . . Shows great concentration on details and fine hustle . . . Extensively recruited youngster lists fishing as hobby . . . Born Elkton, Md., and lived in Blackey, Va.

BOB DUNCAN Soph. End 6-1 195 19 (4/7/44) Strongstown, Pa.

A good schoolboy training and willingness to learn should stand this sizeable youngster in good stead during break-in varsity year but he likely will have to be content with reserve duty at start . . . Coaches are confident will come through with proper aging to be helpful at end . . . Runs pass routes well but had no catches last year as UK freshman . . . Had outstanding career at Penns Manor High in nearby Clymer, in Pennsylvania coal fields east of Pittsburgh . . . Lineman of Year in county and twice area's leading scorer . . . Chosen on All-State team and gained honorable mention on All-America selections . . . Also top cage scorer with 19-point average . . . Born Indiana, Pa. . . Likes water skiing . . . Plans coaching career.

JACK DUNN Soph. Guard 5-11 198 20 (3/4/43) Lexington, Ky.

As first graduate of Lexington's Bryan Station High to be awarded football scholarship at Kentucky, Dunn will experience considerable pressure this season as he inaugurates varsity career . . . One of only two home town products on team—Lafayette's Jim Foley is other—and will be bucking "jinx" that has dogged all but handful of Lexington gridders during careers as Wildcats . . . Added to this, Dunn

DUNN

will be trying hand at new position . . . Switched from fullback to guard at start of spring workouts . . . Unimpressive in FB role as yearling and it's hoped he will see more action as lineman . . . UK coaches pleased with defensive potential as middle linebacker . . . Enrolled in Agriculture College with plans to go into veterinary medicine . . . Father manages Hamburg Farm near Lexington.

JIM FOLEY Junior Guard 5-11 190 20 (2/14/43) Lexington, Ky.

Like teammate Jack Dunn, this local product feels the added pressure of being one of few Lexingtonians to play at state university located in their home town . . . But Jim is "over the hump" after turning in creditable season's work last year that earned him first varsity letter . . . Probable starter at left guard in '63 on strength of fine spring practice showing . . . Coach Bradshaw cited Foley as a "fierce competitor who made marked improvement" . . . Still must come along better defensively but there's confidence he will . . . Experts declare, after first look at Jim, that he has no business playing major college ball . . . Lacks size to cope with big boys . . . But will fight you and hits as hard as man twice the size of his 5-11, 190-pound frame . . . Saw action in all 10 games last season for total playing time of 164:45 . . . Started final game with Tennessee in place of injured Vince Semaury . . . Gained first string All-State and All-America mention during prep career at Lexington Lafayette . . . Turned in creditable freshman season in '61 . . . Born in St. Augustine, Fla. . . . Majoring in industrial management.

BOB GARRETSON Soph. Center 5-11 193 19 (9/19/44) Hamilton, Ohio

High expectations riding on broad shoulders of this sizeable young Buckeye if he can develop fast enough this season . . . Considered fine linebacker and should prove most valuable to Wildcat cause in this capacity during initial experience with Southeastern Conference football this season . . . Switched from guard over to center as a freshman at UK to make more effective use of his particular abilities as a linebacking specialist . . . First team All-Ohio guard during standout career Hamilton Garfield . . . Played fine defensive ball as member of winning South team in 1962 Ohio North-South All-Star Game . . . Also had star-type career in track, under coaching direction of his father, and as freestyler-butterfly man in swimming . . . Born in Cincinnati . . . Favorite subject biology . . . Likes swimming, fishing and hunting.

JESSE GRANT Junior Tackle 5-10 210 21 (11/13/41) Corbin, Ky.

Guard was weakest position in Wildcats' armor a year ago, but Jesse Grant did utmost to strengthen situation on right side by filling in when injury struck regular Jim Hill . . . Making most of his unanticipated chance at regular duty, Grant (who had been listed No. 3 at position on pre-season depth chart) piled up 345:47 action time in all 10 games . . . Started seven times and had high game of 50:30 against Vanderbilt . . . Picked up first varsity letter for valuable contribution . . . This season, moved over to tackle without complaint and, like last year, doesn't figure too prominently in position picture as stands now . . . But Jesse is looking for another break and could be important factor . . . All-State and honorable mention All-America guard in 1960 on same honor eleven as current teammate Jim Foley . . . Born in Kenvir, Ky., and attended Corbin High.

RAY HEFFINGTON Junior Tackle 6-0 195 20 (12/22/42) Cadiz, Ky.

After being shifted "from pillar to post" in effort to find place where he can see most action, Heffington has apparently settled down at tackle—where he was located as sophomore last season . . . Previously the high school fullback had tried hand at center, end and guard . . . Development as collegian hampered by broken leg sustained on opening kickoff of game with Tennessee Baby Vols in freshman season of 1960 . . . Recovery was slow process and Heffington laid out of competition the following season on advice of team physicians . . . In his initial action last year, Ray registered 42:37 action time in six games as reserve tackle . . . Coached at Trigg County High by father, Raymond, an ex-Wildcat . . . Earned honorable mention All-State two years . . . Studying in Agriculture College.

BILL JENKINS Junior End 6-2 195 20 (1/9/43) Elizabethtown, Ky.

Bill made unusual move from one end of Kentucky's aerial battery to other last season and switch paid off handsomely . . . Just before the third game of the 1962 season with Auburn, Jenkins switched from role as reserve quarterback to key spot on right flank . . . While he had been pegged for some duty as defensive replacement for quarterback Jerry Woolum, shift to end proved more palatable as he adjusted quickly to unfamiliar job and became late season starter . . . Bill's total time in action (all as an end) amounted to 191:22 in eight games with three starts . . . High playing time came against Tennessee in season finale as he logged nearly 41 minutes . . . Best performance saw Jenkins catch four passes for 59 yards and one TD in Xavier game . . . For season, he had seven receptions for 88 yards, one TD . . . Honored on All-Conference Sophomore Team . . . Looms as No. 1 RE prospect for '63 if can hold off challenge of sophs . . . Tough competitor who makes clutch catch . . . Prize grab as schoolboy All-State quarterback sensation in 1960 . . . Alternate starter as frosh QB, completing four of 13.

RICK KESTNER Soph. End 6-1 200 18 (11/6/44) Stone, Ky.

A sticky-fingered receiver who is sure to be on other end of what promises to develop into one of South's finest aerial batteries (Norton to Kestner) . . . Former schoolboy All-America sensation at Belfry High in eastern Kentucky mountains is blessed with fine hands, possesses great strength, quickness and agility . . . Taking up pass catching slack created by graduation of All-America end Tom Hutchinson, Kestner runs good patterns and decoys well . . . Comes up with ball even when closely guarded . . . Two-time All-Stater set three state records for pass catching and scoring by lineman as schoolboy—latching onto 17 TD passes, scoring 18 touchdowns and accumulating 109 points . . . Called one of top grid prospects to come out of mountains in years and proved it last season by chalking up new UK record for freshmen by ambling 245 yards with nine catches . . . Previous mark 171 by Calvin Bird in '61 . . . Also proved one-man wrecking crew on defense as Kentucky Kitten, although he looks anything but a hard-nosed griddier when you see him on campus . . . Made auspicious collegiate debut last year against Vandy Frosh by catching four passes, picking up 55 yards and scoring pair of TDs . . . Picked up 14 letters in high school sports and was honor student . . . Born in Bluefield, W. Va. . . German-Irish background . . . Father is coal company store manager . . . HOWARD KEYES Soph. Guard 5-10 204 19 (8/18/44) Altoona, Pa.

A first team All-State selection and honorable mention on Wigwam Wiseman prep All-America during sensational high school career, Howard Keyes is looked to for major contribution this season . . . Competition is stiff, however, and he's likely to have to be content with gaining experience during break-in year . . . Considered promising by coaches . . . Quick and agile . . . Capped brilliant high school season with play in Pennsylvania Big 33 Game as representative of Altoona and most valuable player of Blair County . . . Honor student as schoolboy . . . JIM KOMARA (Ko'-mar-ah) Junior End 6-0 195 21 (8/26/42) Conneautville, Pa.

Minor injuries and illnesses have dogged Komara virtually all of his career as Wildcat to extent that he never has quite been able to develop into outstanding type of player he showed promise of becoming during sensational high school career at Conneaut Valley . . . Latest misfortune was slight shoulder separation late in spring practice which prevented him from mixing in during heavy work that makes football players . . . As UK freshman in '61, had fine debut and then was sidelined by illness . . . During spring preceding his soph year, Jim was badly shaken up in first game scrimmage and had to lay out of rough work for remainder of session . . . Although behind in development, Komara turned in good performance as soph after being moved from halfback to end . . . Caught three passes for 27 yards, played in all games for total time of 99:44 and received honorable mention on All-SEC Soph team . . . Lettered and probably will rank high in left end picture.

BOB KOSID (Kah'-sid) Senior Halfback 5-10 185 21 (2/27/42) Glenview, Ill.

New and complicated substitution rules apparently have put crimp into Kosid's style . . . In 1962, as junior, Bob was utilized extensively in important defensive specialist role . . . Subbed for quarterback on defense and played left sideback as offensive LH (Darrell Cox) shifted to safety . . . Regarded as top-flight pass defense man . . . Shows real good speed and quick reactions . . . Posted total time in action of 226:01, playing all 10 games entirely on defense . . . Played well this spring in offensive capacity . . . Ran ball better than ever before and caught passes well . . . Will have to be reckoned with at LH . . . Native Canadian, born in Brandon, Manitoba, but now calls Glenview, Ill., home . . . As soph, saw 29:31 action two games and carried six times for 17 yards . . . Along with three teammates, Kosid serves as juvenile probation officer in unique experiment.

TONY MANZONELLI Soph. Guard 6-0 210 18 (12/31/44) Pittsburgh, Pa.

A product of tough Pennsylvania AA classification of football and one of finest physical specimens among current Wildcats, Tony Manzonelli seems destined for great things before he graduates from Kentucky . . . Due to pick up starting nod over stiff competition at right guard in first varsity season . . . Sows lot of promise and savvy for a sophomore with only inexperience standing in his way . . . Tony boasts excellent strength (powered by 18¾-inch calves) and good speed-quickness in his offensive charge and defensive adjustments . . . Well coordinated for big man . . . In high school at South Hill Catholic, an all-male school in Pittsburgh, he was outstanding tackle sought by great many colleges . . . Also won 43 of 44 wrestling matches in unlimited classification, tossed shot in track and served as president of senior class and member of student council . . . Trimmed weight down from 235 reporting size to present 210 . . . Shifted to guard as freshman . . . Italian descent . . . Classical music fan. Appointed juvenile probation officer in unique Lexington experiment.

MIKE McGRAW Soph. Halfback 5-11 182 19 (9/23/44) Ft. Thomas, Ky.

One of "surprise finds" of spring practice, this right halfback already has captured fancy of public with his strong running . . . Mike was standout of spring scrimmages after being switched to halfback from fullback post had occupied from high school days through freshman season at UK . . . Surprise element stemmed from rapidity with which he made adjustment . . . Ability was known factor since he ranked No. 2 (behind prospective halfback running mate Rodger Bird) in freshman ground gaining operations during 1962 with 82 yards on 18 trips for 4.6 average in three games . . . Long run was 27 against Cincinnati Frosh . . . Teamed with Bird and FB Perky Bryant to give Blues victory in spring Blue-White Game, chipped in with 42 yards and a freakish pass catch that set up winning TD . . . Tripped over defender Darrell Cox and was flat on back on ground as pass headed his way . . . Cox seemingly made great save, but batted ball downward and McGraw made catch while still laying on his back . . . Second team All-State, honorable mention All-America as FB-HB star at Ft. Thomas Highlands—where coach was Homer Rice, now offensive tutor of Wildcats . . . Scored record 138 points at Highlands, had five TDs in one game and helped team win state Class AA title as senior . . . "Quick Draw," as he's now nicknamed, does lot of things extremely well . . . Good blocking back . . . Ranked as probable RH opener after inspiring adjustment this spring . . . Born in Lexington, lived in Ann Arbor, Mich.; Miami; Detroit; Atlanta; Park Hills and Ryland, Ky., before Ft. Thomas in northern Kentucky . . . Father, Jim, once played football at UK and mother was cheerleader . . . Vice-President Kitten Lodge in 1962-63.

JIM MILES Soph. Center 6-0 205 19 (5/21/44) Finley, Ky.

Coaches consider Miles very promising prospect who needs only experience that comes with game play to become exceptional football player . . . Head Coach Bradshaw on record with opinion that native Kentuckian, whose highest prep honor was honorable mention All-State, "in time will be as fine a center as ever played here" . . . Located in new position, it is question of time until Miles acquires necessary know-how to use fine attributes to advantage . . . Started out last fall as guard after high school experience at tackle . . . Moved to center at start of spring practice and impressed with good performance backing up line . . . One of squad's best linebackers and classed as team's fastest lineman . . . Came along real well in spring despite broken small bone in hand . . . No. 1 at position in early stages but likely to start season as reliefer for junior Clyde Richardson . . . Coached at St. Joe Prep by ex-UK center Dick Blocker ('58) . . . Born in Lebanon, Ky., and now calls Finley home.

BASIL MULLINS Soph. Tackle 6-4 198 19 (5/25/44) Paintsville, Ky.

After outstanding all-around high school athletic career, during which he was captain and most valuable player in both football and basketball plus being standout outfielder in baseball, Mullins is finding going to collegiate stardom little rough . . . UK coaches are well pleased with work of big boy and feel he's capable of helping in important way this season as gains maturity . . . Tries hard and should come along with experience gained through practice and play . . . Mullins operated at three different positions (end-tackle-center) at Paintsville High and picked up honorable mention on All-State list . . . Irish background . . . Likes rock-n-roll music, hunting and fishing . . . Plans to coach.

GERARD MURPHY Soph. Guard 5-11 201 18 (12/10/44) Latrobe, Pa.

With guard still remaining one of team's weakest positions, Murphy is being heavily counted on to bolster depth situation on left side . . . The All-Western Pennsylvania (WPIAL) tackle, who was switched to guard as outstanding freshman last year, is considered very promising and likely will rank as back-up man at left guard in initial varsity campaign . . . He was starting LG as Kentucky yearling a year ago . . . Has made good progress as collegian . . . Murphy, who has unusual first name (many make a mistake in calling him Gerald), made second unit All-State and was considered one of most outstanding linemen to be produced in football hotbed outside Pittsburgh . . . Honor student at Latrobe High . . . Also undefeated heavyweight wrestler . . . Enrolled in Commerce College majoring in marketing.

RICK NORTON Soph. Quarterback 6-1 189 19 (11/16/43) Louisville, Ky.

Sought by just about every major school in country while achieving All-America stardom and reputation as nation's best prep passer at Louisville Flaget High, Norton was landed by Coach Bradshaw as result of novel "direct mail advertising campaign" . . . Sensational schoolboy, besieged with scholarship offers, settled on Kentucky after several hundred fans all over state heeded Bradshaw's plea to "let Rick know his home state university wants him" and flooded the Norton home with letters . . . Plan convinced Rick to choose UK over Notre Dame in final showdown . . . Norton had tremendous break-in year as Kentucky freshman and this spring gave every indication that he is headed for All-America stardom . . . As UK yearling, Rick surpassed all previous records for passing by completing 21 of 40 attempts for 381 yards and four touchdowns in three encounters . . . Only two of his aerials were intercepted . . . During season, also proved consistent thorn in side of varsity in practice scrimmages . . . Coach Bradshaw classes his ace as "tremendous passer" and cites Norton's greatest attribute as superb wrist action that allows him to snap off pass toward receiver quickly, putting defense at disadvantage . . . He's passer not a thrower, has natural ability and throws hard and accurately, either long or short, with equal effectiveness . . . Bradshaw also pleased at Norton's great confidence in his calls and his coolness under pressure of onrushing linemen . . . Prep honors claimed by Norton extensive enough to fill book . . . Took part in only one losing game in three years at Flaget High (also did not lose as UK freshman and was on winning side in Blue-White spring game) . . . Guided Louisvillians to undefeated season and state AAA championship in 1961 . . . All-South and All-State in 1960-61 . . . Honorary captain All-State team as senior . . . All-America . . . German-Irish background . . . Coached at Flaget by Paulie Miller, who also tutored top pro Paul Hornung as schoolboy . . . Celebrates 20th birthday on day of Baylor game.

PHIL PICKETT Junior Halfback 5-10 175 20 (1/30/43) Huntsville, Ala.

Hampered throughout career as collegian by minor injuries, Pickett's development into dependable varsity performer has regrettably yet to materialize . . . Latest stroke of misfortune was knee injury that sidelined him this spring and required surgical correction . . . Early last season, after terrific pre-sophomore-year spring practice had tabbed him as one of team's most promising rookies, he suffered bruised shoulder . . . Slowed by this handicap, Pickett saw only limited service during soph campaign—piling up 80:27 action time in brief appearances in all 10 games as sub halfback . . . Best game of '62 came in season finale with Tennessee as carried three times for 23 yards . . . For entire campaign, credited with just eight trips that netted 35 yards plus two punt returns and pair of interceptions . . . Starting HB as freshman with 15 yards gained on nine rushes . . . Improved steadily since yearling days and should see much action this season if stays healthy . . . Native of Lincoln County, Tennessee, and lived in Russellville, Ky., before moving to Missile City of Huntsville, Ala., where picked up second team All-State honors . . . Good blocker and defensive man.

BILL POCHCIOL (Po'-shul) Soph. Tackle 6-2 210 20 (7/28/43) Wilkesburg, Pa.

One of top schoolboy linemen, 1961 Pennsylvania vintage, to join Wildcats last year, Bill Pochiol is believed destined for collegiate career equal to or surpassing his fine high school showing . . . In final year at Wilkesburg High, in grid-talent-rich Beaver Valley area outside Pittsburgh, Bill was outstanding center and linebacker honored by selection on first team All-State and Class AA All-WPIAL outfit . . . Played in Big 33 All-Star Game at Hershey, Pa., in summer of '62 before enrolling at UK along with current Kentucky teammates John Andrighetti and Howard Keyes . . . Coached in high school by ex-Eastern Kentucky standout Ted Miller and vital in team's record of losing only twice in his final two seasons . . . Led team in tackles and called defensive signals . . . Started as center during freshman season at UK but shifted to tackle this spring . . . Figures prominently in right tackle picture and should do well as gains experience at unfamiliar position . . . Hobby is weight lifting . . . German descent.

CLYDE RICHARDSON Junior Center 6-1 195 20 (2/14/43) Frankfort, Ky.

A hard worker who should command No. 1 center job this season if he maintains improvement noted in 1962 and this spring, Richardson came through in something like darkhorse fashion last year when stationed at center for first time . . . During prep days at Millersburg (Ky.) Military Institute, Clyde performed as an outstanding fullback and started his collegiate career in this position . . . Tried at end next in brief experiment and then moved over to center during spring workouts in advance of 1962 season . . . Turned in good report card on 316:08 action time in 10 games . . . Started four times, first against Auburn . . . High duty 40:10 vs. Miami . . . Cited by Coach Bradshaw for steady improvement offensively, particularly in blocking . . . Made considerable progress this spring until sustained minor arm injury . . . OK now . . . Honorable mention All-State at MMI and mentioned on All-SEC Soph Team in '62 . . . Secretary-Treasurer of Wildcat Manor (varsity house) during past school year . . . Travel with father, one-time agricultural advisor to Jordanian government, saw Clyde live as youngster in Misuratta, Libya, and Valetta, Malta . . . Now studying agriculture at UK.

JOHN SCHORNICK (Shore'-nick) Soph. Guard 6-0 200 19 (8/6/44) Ebenburg, Pa.

An All-Central Pennsylvania tackle during outstanding prep career at Central Cambria High in Ebenburg, Schornick has moved over one spot as collegian to try hand at guard . . . Position remains one of most vital with depth sorely needed and Schornick's contribution could be important help . . . John ran No. 1 at right guard at times during spring practice but likely will have to settle for role of key reserve at start of season . . . Should log much action time and coaches are counting on his fast development . . . One of most promising young linemen in camp . . . Sports career at Central Cambria included four years each of football, basketball and baseball . . . Made All-District team for central Pennsylvania and Johnstown All-Scholastic eleven . . . Top notch catcher and long ball hitter (16 home runs in two seasons) in baseball . . . Father is medical doctor . . . Born Phillipsburg, Pa.

VINCE SEMARY (See'-mary) Sr. Guard 5-10 182 23 (2/21/40) Cleveland, Ohio

A year ago, Semary made one of most dramatic jumps in status of any gridder in land as switched from fourth-string fullback to starting guard . . . Now, playing status is somewhat in doubt due to shoulder injury that caused him to miss spring practice . . . Trouble is deterioration of deltoid muscle which affects strength in upper arm and shoulder . . . Likely to be used in role of linebacking specialist . . . Popular with everybody and morale booster . . . President last school year of Wildcat Manor (varsity house) . . . Great desire and leadership plus determination makes up what lacks in size . . . Got big chance last season when wholesale dropout of players left squad shorthanded at guard . . . Semary wasn't particularly guard type but was a body and experienced at shifting positions (had moved to fullback in soph year after starting as halfback) . . . Experiment paid off as Vince adjusted quickly and started first nine games of season . . . Missed finale with Tennessee due to ankle injury . . . Total time 371:37 . . . Tough little customer played 14:49 in eight games as reserve fullback in '61 . . . Missed entire first varsity year 1960 due to wrist injury . . . As freshman in '59, gained 16 yards on five trips . . . At West

ED SMITH Soph. End 6-2 195 19 (8/25/44) Pineville, Ky.

Better known to teammates as "The Toe," Smith has ability to boot ball "a country mile" . . . Handled all punting chores as a freshman last year and posted an average of 34.8 yards per try (10 kicks went 348 yards) . . . Longest kick came against Vanderbilt freshmen—60 yards counting roll . . . Punting is "long suit," but also a threat as pass catcher . . . Likely to see some action in both categories this fall . . . Must gain added grid savvy to become outstanding flankman . . . Honorable mention All-State at Pineville . . . Captained team and won MVP honors . . . Rock and roll devotee.

ED STANKO Soph. End 6-1 198 19 (5/18/44) McKeesport, Pa.

Although flanks are so well manned that end could be the team's strongest position this fall, Stanko may be hard to hold back . . . Definitely due to see extensive and important action in role of leading reserve—probably on right side . . . Boasts good moves and alertness that will make him outstanding pass receiver in time . . . Needs only seasoning that comes with game experience to develop into dependable performer . . . Brilliant schoolboy career at McKeesport High capped by selection on All-America unit picked by Wigwam Wiseman and play in All-America Game at Dallas in spring of 1962 . . . Almost equally renowned as baseball pitcher and late reporting as freshman due to participation in American Legion tournament . . . Polish and Hungarian descent . . . Favorite subject geometry . . . Likes classical music.

GORDON THOMPSON Soph. Quarterback 5-11 184 19 (2/4/44) Fern Creek, Ky.

A high-type individual who could easily blossom into a high-type football player, Thompson is "darkhorse" of all-sophomore quarterback corps . . . He's good bet to see some action this fall but how much depends on development as season progresses. Hospitalized last spring with infected toe that caused him to miss out on some spring practice . . . Did not play in spring Blue-White Game . . . Gained valuable experience running "Scout" team (unit representing week's opponent) at times during spring sessions . . . Saw only limited action as freshman quarterback . . . Served as president of Kitten Lodge (freshman house) during past school year . . . Hobbies are hunting and fishing . . . Likes folk songs.

DOUG THOMSON Junior Halfback 5-11 188 22 (1/13/41) Baltimore, Md.

One of two transfers (guard Tom Chapala is other) who joined Wildcats last season, spent required year on sidelines and now is eligible for game duty, Thomson fits into Kentucky's halfback picture in important fashion . . . Husky transfer from Virginia, biggest of halfbacks at 5-11 and 188, could give running game distinct "shot in the arm" if he comes through . . . Considered very promising . . . Boasts good speed and built to power his way through holes . . . Ranks No. 2 at right half on pre-season depth chart and may be hard to keep out of starting lineup . . . More mature than most halfbacks on roster . . . Hampered to some extent last spring by minor injuries . . . Played one freshman and one varsity season at University of Virginia after finishing up at Winchester (Mass.) High School and spending one year at Williston Academy in Easthampton, Mass. . . . All-State in high school as fullback . . . Ninth in state scoring junior year . . . Third team All-State basketball and baseball . . . Born Medford, Mass. . . . Swedish and Scotch ancestry . . . Family name correctly spelled without usual letter "p" in it.

TALBOTT TODD Soph. Quarterback 6-1 190 18 (7/8/45) Richmond, Ky.

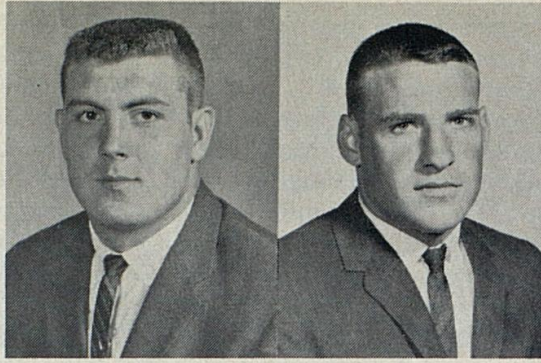

Todd did not make as much progress as expected last spring due to handicap of knee twisted in early scrimmage, but has world of inner toughness and being counted on for important contribution at quarterback . . . Coach Bradshaw considers Todd "good young prospect" who will come along fast with experience . . . Knee expected to be OK . . . Probably share No. 2 duties with Tom Becherer . . . Youngest of current varsitymen, Todd turned 18 only last July . . . He's big, strong youngster who is fine defensive performer as well as outstanding offensive quarterback . . . Talbott was "Mr. Everything" for strong Madison High team undefeated 13 games in 1961 until losing to Highlands High (then coached by current UK assistant Homer Rice) in state championship playoff . . . During season, Todd passed for 11 TDs, personally scored 114 points, posted remarkable 6.8 rushing average and punted for 40.1 average . . . Had 16 TD passes as junior, 8 as soph . . . As UK freshman in '62, All-Stater tossed 12 strikes in 16 attempts for 205 yards and 1 TD to stand second to Rick Norton . . . Follows in footsteps of ex-Madison star Jerry Woolum, who became one of South's leading passers prior to graduation from UK after last season . . . Uncle, Doc Ferrell, one-time Wildcat tackle.

RICH TUCCI (Too'-see) Soph. Tackle 6-1 215 18 (11/21/44) Youngwood, Pa.

A sizeable operator hard to move out of position on defense and strong blocker, Tucci seems destined to see extensive and important action during break-in campaign with varsity . . . Size and talent will make him key figure . . . Also outstanding place kicking specialist . . . Kicked seven out of eight PAT tries and two field goals as freshman last season . . . In final prep campaign at Hempfield Area High, Tucci was successful 19 out of 21 times at PAT line and connected on 35-yard field goal plus handling kickoff chores . . . Listed No. 2 at left tackle on pre-season depth chart . . . Born Greensburg, Pa. . . . Now calls Youngwood home . . . Neighbor was George Blanda, ex-Wildcat quarterback and later professional star . . . Italian descent . . . Played on same high school eleven as UK teammate John Andrighetti.

HERSCHEL TURNER Senior Tackle 6-3 225 21 (6/17/42) Alexandria, Ky.

A unanimous advance All-Southeastern Conference selection for 1963, Herschel Turner is agile and speedy gentleman who is rough customer to handle as executes precision blocking and roams full width of defensive perimeter . . . The "Iron Man" (piled up highest playing time) of last season's "Thin Thirty" Kentucky team should be one of fine interior linemen of country during 1963 in opinion of Coach Bradshaw . . . Cited as one of those rare types who does everything exceptionally well . . . Not the least of his attributes is willingness and stamina for hard work that results in continual improvement . . . Turner has heart of great competitor and seemed to come into own in both maturity and leadership qualities during good spring practice . . . A versatile lineman, the native Kentuckian is gifted with unusual mobility for his size—a trim 6-3 and 225 pounds playing weight—that enables him to range afar when occasion demands to bring down opponent ball carrier or break up interference . . . His speed gets him into enemy backfields fast and he's especially adept at rushing passer . . . Strong on defense, but pro scouts think of him in terms of offensive guard or tackle due to agility in preference to stationing him as defensive operative . . . Pros particularly like his speed (40 yards normally in five seconds flat) and ability as blocker . . . Scouts predict great season for Turner if he maintains level of improvement noted in spring and rate him good chance to be high draft choice . . . An eager competitor never quite satisfied with himself, Turner was almost overlooked by collegiate scouts in final, unspectacular schoolboy campaign of 1959 at Campbell County High . . . Not signed until mid-August following great showing in all-star game . . . Failed to command All-State honors, but immediately captured attention UK coaches with crisp blocking and defensive prowess . . . Progress evidenced by selection to All-SEC Sophomore team in 1961 as he piled up 320:49 playing time in distinguished fashion as reliefer . . . Last season, Turner paced the team in action time with 523:57 in all 10 games, starting every one and averaging 52 minutes a game . . . High was late season, iron-man performance of 56:55.

ERNIE WALKER Soph. Fullback 5-10 181 20 (5/23/42) Morristown, Tenn.

A real "comer" in lingo of coaching fraternity, this young import from the Volunteer State turned in promising report card during spring practice . . . Looked particularly good in scrimmages as ball carrier . . . Must pick up skill as line-backer . . . Although he was starter at fullback as Kentucky yearling last season, Walker failed to make much impression in statistics—chalking up net gain of just 23 yards for eight official trips with ball . . . Improvement between freshman season and end of spring workouts stamp him as boy to watch. Second team All-State and All-East Tennessee at Morristown High where set rushing record of 237 yards in one game . . . Born Bybee, Tenn., and once lived in Knoxville . . . Favorite subject art and aspires to career in commercial art.

PAGES OUT OF THE HISTORY BOOK

Kentucky's first inter-collegiate football game of record occurred Nov. 12, 1881, when Kentucky A & M College took the measure of Kentucky University (later Transylvania) by a score of 7¼ to 1 . . . One of the most illustrious pages in UK football history covers the perfect-season exploits of the 1898 team which became the first and only Kentucky grid outfit to go undefeated, untied and unscored on . . . Spring practice was held for the first time in UK grid history in 1926 by Coach Fred Murphy . . . Coach E. R. Sweetland experimented with a new formation at the start of the 1910 season that saw all four backfield men lined up side by side instead of in the conventional pattern with the quarterback directly behind center . . . One of the greatest individual performances ever seen on the nation's gridirons took place in Lexington in 1914 as Kentucky quarterback Jim Park, later active in politics, passed for five TD's and personally scored five more in an 81-3 rout of Earlham . . . Only All-America Babe Parilli has come close to surpassing the school record as he twice connected for five scoring aerials in the 1951 season . . . The "Kentucky Babe" still holds the major college record for TD passes thrown in a single season, accounting for 23 in regular season play in his junior year of 1950. He connected for one more as the Wildcats upset Oklahoma in the Sugar Bowl on New Year's Day, 1951 . . . Kentucky copped the Southeastern Conference football championship for the first and only time in history in the 1950 season.

STOLL FIELD — McLEAN STADIUM

Much confusion among the general public and the sports-writing fraternity apparently exists over a seeming duplication of titles in referring to the University of Kentucky's football setup along "Avenue of Champions."

Officially, by action of the University Board of Trustees, the general area encompassing the playing field is known as "Stoll Field." Likewise, by authority of the same body, the stadium proper is known as "McLean Stadium."

Kentucky's first football field, occupying the general site of what is now an intramural field west of the stadium, was first given a name when it was dedicated on October 14, 1916, as Stoll Field in honor of the late Judge Richard C. Stoll, prominent alumnus, trustee and benefactor of the University of Kentucky. Soon after the first sections of the present concrete stadium were completed on September 4, 1924, the new field site and stadium were likewise officially known as Stoll Field.

The first attraction to be held on the new Stoll Field was a football game with the University of Louisville on October 4, 1924. A gridiron clash between Kentucky and the then-powerful Centre College team was the first game played in the fully-completed stadium on November 1, 1924.

The later reference to the concrete stands as "McLean Stadium" has existed since November 1, 1924, when the stadium was officially dedicated in memory of Price Innes McLean and a bronze plaque placed in the south stands by the Class of 1925. McLean, regular center on the 1923 Kentucky football squad, died November 7, 1923, as the result of injuries sustained in the U.K.-Cincinnati game played in the Queen City the afternoon before.

Major expansions of McLean Stadium in 1948, 1949 and 1959 have resulted in a current over-all seating capacity of approximately 37,500. The latest construction installed 3,655 new permanent box seats at a cost of $115,000 and increased capacity by 1,629. New-type, "iodized" lights were installed in 1961.

A complete "face lifting" was accomplished on Stoll Field during the spring of 1962 at a cost of several thousand dollars. In the interest of preparing a durable turf that will eliminate the almost annual resodding process, a complete new drainage system was installed and tons of specially mixed topsoil hauled in to replace the existing hardpan. The project also raised the crown of the playing surface for better visibility by spectators. With the special strain of Bermuda grass thriving to an extent never before seen at Kentucky, the Wildcats now entertain foes on one of the best football fields in the nation.

New practice facilities were prepared in 1960 for the football Wildcats on the University farm. As part of a $320,000 Sports Center, the varsity and freshman gridders now practice on an area equivalent to five football fields in size. Along with the new field, they have space in a large new dressing room building—making a facility recognized as one of the best in the nation.

The former practice lot and dressing room building, off Rose Street, were abandoned to make way for a new men's dormitory.

"Avenue of Champions" came into being in the spring of 1950 as an honorary title for that stretch of Euclid Avenue running between the University's $4,000,000 Memorial Coliseum and McLean Stadium. The street was officially re-named by the City of Lexington in recognition of the UK athletic teams' unprecedented success of 1950 in annexing the Southeastern Conference titles in both football and basketball and their national championships in the Sugar Bowl grid game and the NCAA cage tournament.

KENTUCKY'S COLORS

The blue and white of the University of Kentucky are known to sports fans everywhere. Officially the colors are Yale blue and white, but in the beginning, when the Lexington institution was still known as the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Kentucky, the colors were "Stoll blue" and white. One day back in the 1890's a group of Kentucky football stalwarts met to choose their school colors. Someone suggested blue and white—"blue like Dick Stoll's necktie"—and those colors were immediately adopted. "Dick" Stoll was to become Judge Richard C. Stoll, distinguished public servant and, for more than fifty years before his death, a member of the U.K. board of trustees.

FOOTBALL WRITERS SALUTE KENTUCKY PRESS BOX

University of Kentucky's football press box on Stoll Field rates as one of the best in the country from the standpoint of both working facilities and service to writers—so says the Football Writers Association of America. The national organization in 1958 added Kentucky to an exclusive list of schools that had been cited in both categories. Up to that time, only 67 institutions had won the award for press box services and 45 for facilities since the FWA started officially honoring the nation's best press boxes and sports publicity departments (who are responsible for service) several years ago.

(Kentucky University is not to be confused with the present day University of Kentucky. U. of K., known in these early days as A&M College, was separated from K.U. in 1878. Transylvania College of Lexington evolved from old K.U. while A&M became Univ. of Ky. During the process, U. of K. carried successive titles of A&M College, Kentucky State College, and State University of Kentucky. See footnote A for explanation of scoring in early games.)

STOLL FIELD 'COW PASTURE' BIRTHPLACE OF DIXIE GRID SPORT

University of Kentucky's campus boasts the distinction of serving as the birth-place of Dixie football. Ironically, however, the forerunners of the present day Wildcats were not involved in the early grid contest.

The first inter-collegiate football game ever played in the South, and probably the first to take place west of the Alleghanies, came about April 9, 1880, on old Stoll Field. This gridiron, located adjacent to the present U.K. stadium, was the site of the early tilt saw Kentucky University (now known as Transylvania College) take the measure of Centre College, 13¾ to 0. The match, which was said to resemble a combination of soccer and rugby, followed by only six years the introduction of the game of football to the United States.

University of Kentucky (then called A & M College of Kentucky) did not play its first game until a year later on the same field, which once served as the private pasture for University President James Patterson's bovine herd.
