PUBLISHED WEEKLY AT THE MARGARET I. KING LIBRARY, UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY, LEXINGTON, KY. 40506

ABOUT THE LIBRARIES

Architecture gives over $8.00 in nickels every day to use in their copy machine.

As a matter of curiosity. A check with Chemistry/Physics Library shows that of the week of December 7, they transmitted 2,480 nickels. The machine has been in position there since February 23, 1978 and as of the week of December 14, they have transmitted 69,115 nickels. And then we saw all those figures in the Annual Report.

The Biological Sciences Library had a group of ten Trigg County seniors who were working on science research papers visit the library Monday evening and our student Ed Butler showed how to use the various aids we have to assist in research.

Census Workshop

In view of the heavy demand for Census materials and the approaching 1980 U.S. Census, the Government Publications Department in cooperation with the College of Library Science is planning a workshop on the use of census documents for the spring of 1979. Mr. Lawrence E. McNutt, data user service officer of the U.S. Bureau of the Census, has tentatively agreed to conduct the workshop on Friday, June 1. The workshop will be free but a small deposit will be required to cover the cost of the refreshments and lunch. CEU credits will be awarded for attending the workshop. A formal announcement of the workshop will be made after the first of the year but it would be helpful in planning the event if you would indicate to Susan Csaky in GPD (7-2639) or Rebekah Harleston how many of you intend to attend as participation in the workshop will have to be limited to 25-30 persons.

Green Bean Reclassified

Realizing the undying worth of this institutional organ, Miss Emilie Varden Smith, Head of the Catalog Department herself, has kept it up to date with a new LC number:

ABOUT THE LIBRARIANS

On January 5 & 6, 1979 Tari Keller will be attending the ARL/LC meeting to review and revise the draft document National Level Bibliographic Record--Books. The document which was issued by LC in September 1978, defines the data elements to be included in an organization's records so that the records are at a level acceptable for sharing with other organizations, or to be contributed to a national data base.

Trudi Bellardo will be one of three speakers at St. John's 1979 Congress for Librarians: Data Base Use in Libraries--Now and in the Future. The annual Congress will be held in New York on Monday, February 14.

Rebekah Harleston will be working on the ALA Legislation Committee, Federal Depository Legislation Subcommittee during the ALA Midwinter Conference.

Martha Jane Whiteside is with Government Publications Department through June 30, 1979.

Ellen Baxter, Chemistry/Physics Librarian, is on sabbatical leave for the spring semester 1979.

KING LIBRARY PRESS HONORED

Three books produced by the King Library Press at the University of Kentucky are included in an exhibit which will open on Wednesday (Dec. 20) at the Grolier Club in New York, the nation's most prestigious private club of book collectors. The exhibit of more than 100 books from 41 presses is entitled "Printers' Choice: A Selection of American Press Books, 1968-1978." "Press Book" is a term used by printers and collectors to cover the work of presses that specialize in the production of fine books, but are not commercial printing houses. The three UK King Library Press books chosen for the exhibit are "Rabinal," "The Day Book of John Cozine," and Aratus's "Phenomena." The books are printed on handmade paper, have classic and innovative typography and illustrations, and are handbound. In organizing the exhibition, a number of long established and respected American printers were asked to suggest younger or lesser known printers. The exhibit is believed to be the first representative of the period from across the nation and has the added interest of reflecting regional developments. The collection was privately organized by Ruth Fine, curator of prints of the Alverthorpe Gallery, Jenkintown, Pa., and William Matheson, head of rare books and special collections of the Library of Congress.

ALA MIDWINTER

This working session has been scheduled for January 5-12, 1979, in Washington, D.C. This is a good time and place to become involved with the activities of the organization. The smaller groups allow more intimate acquaintance with others with similar interests.

WOMEN IN MANAGEMENT

There will be a three-day seminar entitled Management Skills for Women, February 14-16 at Vanderbilt University. For further information, see Faith Harders.

RULES FOR LIVING THE GOOD LIFE

1. Thou shalt not in undate (with trivialities)
vegetate
procrastinate
abdicate (your talents, your responsibilities)
2. Thou shalt activate re-create dedicate educate

Mrs. Joanne W. Sawyer, Director of Admissions, Midway College, and a UK graduate, offers these as a formula for a successful and productive life, keeping one young no matter the years on the calendar.

On the other hand, you might decide to start the New Year by living dangerously. Try acting in accord with Kentucky law, which says the pedestrian has the right-of-way at marked intersections.
