A. & M. COLLEGE ACT INTRODUCED

State of Kentucky Is Asked to Establish Agricultural and Mechanical Branch of University

LAND SCRIP SALE IS MADE

"Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:"

Section 1. "That there shall be and is hereby established the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Kentucky, located in the county of Fayette, in or near the city of Lexington, which shall be a College of the Kentucky University."

Section 2 provided that "those branches of learning related to Agriculture and Mechanic Arts" shall be taught and that "other scientific and classic studies may be taught."

Section 5 provides that the Curators of Kentucky University shall organize said Agricultural and Mechanical College by establishing the proper professorships and officers with the salaries and compensation thereof and filling the same from time to time by their appointments, provide necessary grounds, buildings, and improvements, and conduct, manage and carry on said colleges as provided in this act...

Section 6 provides for the appointment of a Board of Visitors, six in number, who shall have power to visit the Agricultural and Mechanical College from time to time, to ascertain by inspection the efficiency of its management, the character of the work done by its professors and other officers and employees of said college and other expenses of conducting the same and the farm and other pursuits incidental thereto and to no other purpose whatsoever."

Section 7 provides for the selection and appointment to free tuition of beneficiaries from each county in the Commonwealth, and the same appointments to be made by the County Courts.

Section 8 provides that when the Trustees of Transylvania and the Curators of Kentucky University shall by properly certified copies of a resolution passed by their respective boards, request the Governor of the Commonwealth of their acceptance of the provisions of this act and of their readiness to comply with its conditions...

Section 9. "The General Assembly reserves the right to modify or repeal so much of this act as refers to the establishment of the Agricultural and Mechanical College."

Catcher on Wildcat 9 To Play With Colonels

Sidney Goodwin Has Contract With Louisville Team for Season of 1927

Sidney Goodwin, former catcher on the University of Kentucky varsity baseball team, will have a regular berth on the squad of the Louisville Colonels this year according to news received here recently. Goodwin signed a contract with the Colonels last September for the season of 1927.

Sid Goodwin began his ball playing while he still was in the Corbin city schools. For four years he was catcher for the high school team and was captain in 1923. He entered the University of Kentucky in the fall of 1923 and the following spring served as back stop on the freshman nine. In 1925-26 he was a regular member of the varsity and would have been captain of the Wildcats this spring if he had remained in school. However, he left school this semester in order to begin his playing with the Louisville team.

He will leave for Mobile on March 6 to begin training with the Colonels.

were authorized to note and report abuses to the Board of Curators and to request their corrections, and failing in this to report to the Governor with such recommendation as they might see proper.

Section 7 provides for the selection and appointment to free tuition of beneficiaries from each county in the Commonwealth, and the same appointments to be made by the County Courts.

Section 8 provides that when the Trustees of Transylvania and the Curators of Kentucky University shall by properly certified copies of a resolution passed by their respective boards, request the Governor of the Commonwealth of their acceptance of the provisions of this act and of their readiness to comply with its conditions...

Section 9. "The General Assembly reserves the right to modify or repeal so much of this act as refers to the establishment of the Agricultural and Mechanical College."

Approved February 22, 1865 A subsequent act authorized the Sinking Fund Commissioners to sell the land scrip given by Congress to Kentucky. They appointed for this purpose an agent, Madison C. Johnson, who sold the scrip representing 200,000 acres of land (625 square miles), for fifty cents per acre, realizing from that splendid domain only

Know Your Faculty

Charles Joseph Turck, Jr., of the College of Law, is the youngest member of the faculty to hold such an important office. He was born in 1890 in New Orleans, La. where he received his early education. In 1911 he was graduated from the College of Arts and Sciences of Tulane University, where he was a member of the Phi Beta Kappa, national honor society and the Phi Kappa Psi, local honor society. In 1912 he received the Master of Arts degree from Columbia University and the next year the LL. B. degree from the same institution.

Following graduation from Columbia, Dean Turck practiced law in New York City with the firm of Lord, Day and Lord until 1916, when he became Professor of Law at the Tulane University Law School. In 1919 he was educational director of the War Work Council of the Y.M.C.A. at Pensacola, Fla., and Paris Island, S. C. He was associated with Isaac Heller as counsel at law in New Orleans, La. The next year, Dean Turck accepted the position of Professor of Law and secretary of the Law School of Vanderbilt University.

In 1924, Dean Turck came to the University of Kentucky as Dean of the College of Law. He is a prominent and popular member of the university faculty, and it is under his guidance that the Henry Clay Law Society has progressed so favorably this year.

Dean Turck is the author of various articles which have been published from time to time in the American Law Review and in the Kentucky Law Journal. He is a member of the American Bar Association and of the Kentucky Bar Association, Phi Delta Phi, honorary law fraternity, Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Nu, Rotary Club and is director of the Lexington Automobile Club for the ensuing year.

Catholic Club Meets The Catholic club of the university met in the parlour of the Phoenix hotel at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. Mr. Elwood Schulte presided at the meeting and the Reverend Father Pynch delivered a short talk to the members.

Fraternity Supper The Sigma Nu fraternity entertained Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at their chapter house on Winslow street, with a dinner in honor of the members of the fraternity who reside in Lexington.

Council to Meet The regular meeting of the university council will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the office of the president.

Star and Triangle Club Initiates The Star and Triangle club of the university held its initiation services Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in Boyd Hall.

Those who were initiated into the club were: Misses Ellen Bell, Claudia Payne, Bess Ross, Mary Anna Ray, Mrs. N. T. Hook and Mrs. Susan Kidd Slaughter.

Following the initiation, refreshments of brick cream and cake were served.

Military Ball One of the most impressive and beautiful dances of the school year was the Military Ball which took place Monday evening from 9 until 1 o'clock in the men's gymnasium. The decorations, carrying out the military effect, were of red, white and blue crepe paper streamers and blue crepe paper and machine guns placed in various parts of the room. The programs were white booklets tied with blue ribbons containing "no-break" dances and an extra one for the active members and the

KITTENS STRIM BUE DEVILS AT GAME, 31-19

3,000 FANS SEE FROSH UPSET HEBERMEN

The University of Kentucky Kittens powerful basketball team ran a string of consecutive victories to last Tuesday night in the Euclid Avenue gymnasium. By defeating the famed Lexington high school Blue Devils by the score of 31 to 19. Approximately 3,000 persons witnessed the contest.

The game had hardly started when Spicer, star Blue Devil center, broke through the Kittens defense to score a crisp. Jeffries came right back with a free throw, following this immediately with a goal from mid-floor. Then Combs and Milward both registered from the floor, making the score 7 to 2 as the quarter ended.

The second quarter was the most exciting part of the game. In this period the Blue Devils, with Boden leading, fought an uphill fight and came within one point of a tie with the Kittens as the half ended. Scores: Freshmen 13, Blue Devils 12.

In the third quarter, with Combs putting on from everywhere, and the Kittens drew away from the Blue Devils rapidly. The blue team did not make a point in this period. The score at the end of the third quarter was: Kittens 23, Blue Devils 12.

The two teams fought on even terms in the last quarter, the freshmen being content to hold the score as it was.

Spicer was the mainstay for the Blue Devils. He was always in the thick of the fight. For the Kittens, Miller, Milward and Combs played brilliantly throughout the contest. Irvine Jeffries, playing his first game since he was hurt two weeks ago, received a slight injury to his ankle and left early in the contest, but returned near the end of the game.

The lineups:

Kittens (31)	Pos.	(19)	Lexington
Jeffries (3)	G.	(6)	Williams
Lyons (2)	F.	(2)	Kleiser

ENTIRE WORLD FOR CAMPUS

The diary of the up-to-date collegian in the near future promises to include accounts of such events as sleeping through a dull lecture in ancient history, or dipping the ever-erratic frosh in the Pyramids, or flunking a zoology mid-term, while a school of sharks sport beneath the quiz room windows. Sounds fishy, eh?

Can you picture a delightful little love tryst under the Hawaiian moon, or dipping the ever-erratic frosh in the Dead Sea? Can you of the journalistic clique imagine a reporter of the University's publication "scoping" the Associated Press, on the discovery of the missing link in Borneo? And why not?

All because the large number of college students, both graduate and undergraduate, who wish to travel, while in the pursuit of enlightenment, has influenced the University Travel Association to undertake a novel kind of college course, in the form of a cruise around the world. A "college aboard ship" it has been called, for the students sail in September of each year, spend the year abroad, and return late in May.

A faculty of about forty men and women travel with the students, arranging lectures and tours, and planning the courses of study while on board ship. Visits are made to more than thirty foreign countries.

The boat which is selected for this "ocean voyage" is equipped with a library, study halls, gymnasium and swimming pool, so that the young people may work and play, and engage in all their regular college activities.

While the "university afloat" is the primary for college students who, if they take passage for the year's trip, and fulfill all the requirements, are given regular college credits, a limited number of postgraduate students are also accepted.—McGill Daily.

Butcher, hefty center of the University of Tennessee basketball team, lived up to his name Saturday night, for at that time he and his cohorts did butcher the hard-fighting Wildcats of the University of Kentucky by the score of 31 to 20 in the Euclid gymnasium.

The 'Cats were the first to score, Jenkins making two field goals in rapid succession. Helm quickly followed with another basket, giving the 'Cats a 6 to 0 lead. But Butcher started and made nine points before Kentucky scored again. Tennessee led from that stage to the end of the game. At one time in the first half Butcher had scored 12 of Tennessee's 13 points. The score at the end of the first half was, Kentucky 11, Tennessee 15, 12 of which were made by Butcher.

In the final half the 'Cats managed to cover Butcher and held him to one point, but he had already butchered the home boys enough. However, while the 'Cats were holding Butcher the other Tennessee sharpshooters were romping away from the game.

Near the close of the contest Sharpe was injured and Ropke, who was substituted for him, thrilled the on-lookers with his long shots and all-round good playing.

Butcher, Dean and Rice were Tennessee's luminaries. For Kentucky, Jenkins and Ropke played well. If Ropke had entered the game sooner there might have been a different tale to relate.

TENNESSEE WINS FROM CATS IN FINAL

On Trial! Evils of College Football Are Discussed at Educational Parley

(From the Dartmouth)

Perhaps the most outstanding feature, from the point of view of actual accomplishment, of the recent Educational Parley at Wesleyan was its discussion of the case of Intercollegiate Football. The whole problem was clearly and concisely stated by Dean Wilkins, Chairman of the American Association of University Professors. The result was the Conference, with one exception, stood unanimously opposed to the sport in its present status and in favor of definite and drastic revision. The one exception was Mr. H. B. Holton, Chairman of the Wesleyan Alumni Council.

In the first place let it be said that the question was treated from the standpoint of the "mass" of college students. From the standpoint of those who actuate the game and the advantages of the sport could not be denied, but the part of the player is a far cry from that of the plaintiff and the plaintiff are the mass. There is only one player out of every sixty college students. In other words, out of every sixty men in college fifty-nine get practically none of the advantages and practically all of the evils connected with the sport in its present dimensions. With this fact as the axis, the case may be stated:

1. It is an absorbing recreation by means of which anxiety and staleness may be expelled and pep and freshness instilled.
2. It is a means of strengthening the union of the group, giving it a common interest and a common bond.
3. It is a clean and interesting topic of thought and conversation.
4. It is a means, by virtue of the game's draw, of maintaining other sports, less profitable financially, with the college.

The evils of the sport on its present scale are:

1. It tends to distort in the student's mind the normal scale of values of college work and of the student's interest and of the student's financial position.
2. It is a means of strengthening the union of the group, giving it a common interest and a common bond.
3. It is a clean and interesting topic of thought and conversation.
4. It is a means, by virtue of the game's draw, of maintaining other sports, less profitable financially, with the college.

THE CONTINUES IN B. B. LEAGUE

Kappa Sigma and Sigma Nu Occupy First Place in Interfraternity League; Others Follow Close Behind

FURTHER PLANS STATED

In the field of intra-mural basketball, the leadership in the fraternity divisions remains unchanged. The Kappa Sigmas, with five wins and no losses, and the Sigma Nus, with four wins and no defeats, are tied for first place in Division I. In the second division, the Alpha Sigs are leading, with Alpha Gamma Eho and Sigma Beta Xi close seconds. In the other two divisions, Men's Dorm and Company C are the leaders. This week's classes wind up the preliminary games. From the looks of things now, it seems as though the topmost contest of the entire program will be unfolded on March 1 when the Kappa Sigs and Sigma Nus meet, probably for the division championship.

March 14-19, after basketball closes, there will be an intra-mural free-throw contest. Each entrant will throw fifty times. There will be fraternity teams, composed of ten men each, of which the highest eight will compose each team. Suitable cups will be awarded. The last week in March an intra-mural track meet will be held, and after that, an intra-mural boxing contest, with seven weight divisions, from bantam to heavy. Tennis and baseball will also be played, trophies being offered to the respective winners.

JUST AS GOOD

The grocer had just put a new boy to work, and among the other instructions was this:

"If you don't happen to have what a customer wants, suggest something else as nearly like as possible."

Soon a woman came into the store and asked the boy, "Have you any fresh green stuff, today?"

"No, ma'am," answered the boy, "but we have some nice bluing."—Forbes Magazine.

KITTENS TACKLE GOOD TEAMS THIS WEEK

The Kentucky Kittens stellar basketball quintet had a very busy last week, and according to schedule, they should have a much busier time in their games this week. The Kittens have continued to mow down all opposition, having won their sixteen games so far this season. They took the Wesleyan Cubs over by a 52-24 score, and followed up a night later by drubbing the Smith Specials, an independent team in Richmond, Ky., by a 61-23 count. Last Saturday night the frosh, under Jeffries, defeated the Woodland A. C. 50-27, and last Tuesday night the Kittens managed to eke out a victory over the Lexington High Blue Devils, 31-29.

The Wesleyan freshmen at Louisville. This week they play the University of Louisville freshmen at Louisville. This game should prove very good, as the Louisville frosh are reported to be considerably strengthened since their last game in the game against the Georgetown Tiger Cubs will be engaged at Georgetown Saturday night, while the Wesleyan freshmen may meet also. Thus, it is clearly to be seen that the Kittens have quite a task on their hands, but they are perfectly capable of handling the situation, it is believed, and by the end of the week, their list of victories should be considerably lengthened.

The frosh defeated the Smith Specials in an easy and one-sided game. Combs and Miller were the only regulars to start the game. Lou Ellis performed remarkably well, making eight points. Lyons made 13 and Milward had a total of 10 points to his credit. Moberly was best for the Independents, making 12 of his team's points.

In the Wesleyan game Jeffries was unable to participate on account of his ankle, but he drew a long line of the game, making 16 points. At the beginning of the second half, the substitutes were given a chance and every one performed creditably. Turner was Wesleyan's star performer, and besides playing a good floor game, he contributed 10 points to his side's cause.

One of the closest and most interesting basketball games seen this season came off Tuesday night at the University gymnasium. The Kittens defeated Coach John Heber's Blue Devils, but the game was no more than a long struggle, and some idea of the closeness of the scores, the Kittens led by 7-3 score at the end of the first quarter, but only by 12 at the half. The Kittens started off with a rush in the second half, and their greater endurance and reserve power enabled them to lead by 23-12 at the third quarter by a 23-12 score, and the game ended 31-19, the teams holding just about their respective positions as to scoring.

Jeffries, in the time he played, was an outstanding star. "Spooks" Milward was high point man with a total of 12 points. The Kittens' guard and Lyons completed the brilliant teamwork of the Kittens. Boden and Spicer were outstanding for the Blue Devils, scoring eight and seven points respectively. Miller at guard was also an outstanding cog in the Lexington High team. All in all, the game was excellent, and the Blue Devils proved themselves a powerful quintet.

measuring up to the conventional school standards, it was a wide-angle technical understanding and appreciation of the sport by permitting more to participate; and lastly, it would not noticeably decrease popularity, interest in and enjoyment in the sport, per se, which means that competition among candidates for team would be done. The above statement was made by colleges concerned and the desire to have good teams would not be reduced.

Intercollegiate football has been on trial for three years. It is now a major concern in almost every American college, and it is time something were done. The above statement we trust will clarify the issue so that Dartmouth, of all colleges one which should be most deeply concerned, may judge it. The Dartmouth stands heartily in accord with the reform of some kind, be it constructive or radical. Inevitable discussion and plead for action.

WOODLAND FIVE IS EASY FOR KITTEENS

The University of Kentucky Kittens won their fifteenth consecutive game by beating Woodland Euclid club by 50 to 27 at the Euclid gymnasium Saturday night.

Although the Kittens got away to a slow start and although their lead was small during the greater part of the first half, they warmed up to the task in the latter part of the first half and during all the second half, and soon were so far out in front that no doubt of the outcome was left in anyone's mind. It was just another game for the Kittens.

Jimmy McFarland was in the Woodland lineup, and played a good game. Irvine Jeffries managed the freshmen in the absence of McFarland, and plenty of substitutions were made.

McFarland was high point man for Woodland with 14 points. For the Kittens, Lyons, with 16 points, was high scorer, and Miller played brilliantly at back guard.

The lineups:

Kittens (50)	Pos.	(27)	Woodland
Lyons (16)	F.	(14)	McFarland
McBrayer (11)	F.	(1)	Brock
Milward (11)	C.	(2)	Slisner
Combs (6)	G.	(7)	King
Miller (2)	G.	(2)	Adams

Substitutions: Kittens—Owens, Ellis (4), McLane, Sisk (2), Williams (4), Torok, Meyers, Jones, Byrnes, Hampton, Woodland—Clark (3). Referee—Underwood, of Kentucky

WANTS TO BE AN ANGEL

Mrs. W. M. writes: "My little four-year-old girl said to me the other day, 'Mumver, how long is it to my birthday?'"

"Not very long, dear," I told her.

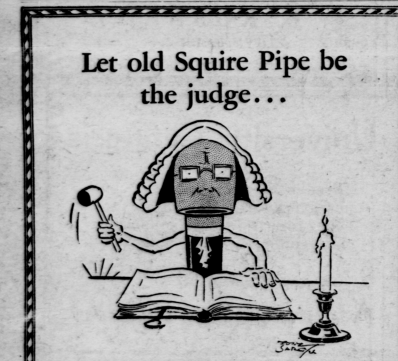

"Well," she asked, "is it time for me to begin being a good girl?"—Boston Transcript.

Let old Squire Pipe be the judge...

His HONOR, old Squire Pipe is unquestionably the world's ablest judge of pipe tobaccos. Who else is by nature, training and experience so well-qualified to try a tobacco and hand down a decision on it? . . . So, in the case of Granger Rough Cut, the plea is that Judge Pipe's verdict be accepted as FINAL!

To make a long brief brief: Character witnesses everywhere have sworn to Granger's sterling quality. Experts have vouched for the superiority of its rough cut. Chemists have testified that the new "glassine-sealed" foil-pouch keeps the tobacco in perfect condition.

Finally, it has been shown that by using this foil-pouch (instead of a costly tin) it is possible to sell Granger at just ten cents. On these arguments Granger rests its case! A couple of pipefuls will convince Squire Pipe that it is the world's greatest pipe tobacco. . . . and any good judge of tobaccos will confirm the decision!

GRANGER ROUGH CUT

The half-pouch vacuum tin is forty-five cents. The foil-pouch package, sealed in glassine, is ten cents.

Made for pipes only!
