LSO PICNIC

Come one and all to the Library Staff Organization picnic Friday, July 21, from 11:30 am - 1:30 pm in the Botanical Gardens (the area between M.I. King Library and the Student Center). Members will bring a dish; non-members will bring a dish and pay a $3.00 fee. If it rains, the picnic will be held in the staff lounge, King North.

In addition to food and fellowship, we will be treated to entertainment from 12:00 noon to 12:45 pm by Tim Lake, a nationally recognized singer/songwriter and master banjo and guitar player. Tim performs original and traditional selections in his distinctive style. In any given show, one can hear jazz, country, rock, or bluegrass, all performed with the versatility of a polished artist. Tim and his group have represented the United States in international music festivals in Ecuador and Austria. He has released three albums of original songs and has played with Earl Scruggs, Lester Flatt, Bill Monroe, and Ricky Skaggs.

See you at the picnic! (Submitted by Judy Brown.)

AG LIBRARY OFFICES CLOSED

The Agriculture Library will be vacating offices on July 25th for some long awaited renovation. This will require the removal of all phones except the 7-8369 number. It is not certain where this phone will be placed, so answering it may be a problem. The Library offices are expected to be back in business by August 9th, but that depends on the painters and other installers. If your call can wait, please do so, otherwise try the 7-8369 number. The library itself will be open as usual with some limitations.

your staff, however, which made the experience complete. They were both helpful and knowledgeable -- the two things every researcher needs from a library staff.

Once again, thank you for your help. I look forward to seeing you again in San Francisco in December.

ABOVE AND BEYOND

Terry Birdwhistle recently received the following letter from Alex Burckin of Fountain Valley, CA:

I'm writing to express my appreciation to you and your staff, especially Claire McCann, for the help and guidance offered me during my recent trip to Kentucky. I gathered some very good material from your archives which will prove very helpful in writing my dissertation.

The facilities of the King Library were very conducive to research. It was, indeed, a pleasure to work there. It was

FROM THE EDITOR

Bonnie Cox has retired as Editor of the Green Bean due to the increased responsibilities of her new position as Director of Women's Studies. She served as Editor for, I believe, six years and has handed on a publication which is informative and professional in appearance and tone. Bonnie certainly deserves our thanks and appreciation for her efforts, and as the new editor I hope to maintain the standards she has set.
