The position will command good local talent, already offered, but selection is delayed that new stockholders may have a voice in the same.

The new directors are expected to exercise the same prudence and economy inaugurated in the past. The expense account has always been small, amounting to about $10,000 annually.

It is confidently believed that the bank can earn on its capital after the proposed increase 12 per cent. net annually. The policy of the bank will be to pay 4 to 5 per cent. semi-annual cash dividends and pass the additional earnings to surplus fund.

Subscriptions will be received and awarded in the order of their arrival, and as soon as the increase is consumed, the subscription books will be closed, and a call made for $56.00 per share. The remaining $50.00 will be due in monthly payments of $10.00 each per share.

I was just 43 days in placing the stock of the Continental National Bank, St. Louis, of $2,000,000, and have had nearly as much more offered and the orders are still coming in, and $1,13 has already been bid, with no sellers. As the Fourth National offers even more tempting advantages than the Continental, on account of the small banking capital of Dallas, and a much larger interest rate, I apprehend this stock will be quickly taken.

Please address all orders direct to me. You can telegraph me your order at my expense, and at the same time, mail me the order. In this way I hold same for you and on arrival of subscription properly signed, mail you the award. The first call will not be made before July 1st to 15th.

The last official statement made by this bank we submit herewith.

Respectfully Yours,

WM. A. WILSON,

A GOOD FOUR TO FIVE PER CENT. SEMI-ANNUAL CASH DIVIDEND INVESTMENT.

THE FOURTH NATIONAL BANK

Dallas, Texas

Will Increase its Capital from $200,000 to $600,000, and offer a part of the Increase to new Subscribers on unusual favorable terms.

Interest rates are high and security good; the legal rate in Texas being 12 per cent, and commands the best names and collateral in the country.

DALLAS,

Population 60,000; Five National Banks, with a Combined Capital of $1,575,000, and 10 State Banks, Texas having no State Banking Law.

The Fourth National Bank of Dallas, Texas commenced business April 4th, 1887, with a cash capital of $200,000. Five semi-annual 5 per cent. cash dividends have been paid to stockholders, and a nice reserve accumulated. The growth of the city, the increase of business, the good demand for money at large rates with good security and flattering prospects for the future, have induced them to increase their capital from $200,000. to $600,000. Much of this increase will be absorbed by the old stockholders and local capitalists of Texas. The remainder I control, and offer the same at $100.00 per share, par value of $100.00 each.

I regard this as desirable stock, and a good investment at the price named. Before assuming this charge I made a special visit to Dallas, to assure myself that this was an enterprise deserving my efforts and my confidence. My convictions rest on the following facts:

TEXAS.

Texas is in the "New South", and abreast with the new life and enterprises assumed by the South in the last few years. Texas is an empire of itself. Note the following area: 374,356 square miles; 750 miles from north to south; 810 miles from east to west; 100 square miles larger than all the eastern and middle states combined; six times larger than New York; larger than England, Ireland, Scotland, Belgium, Holland, Greece, Switzerland, Denmark and half of Italy, all combined. In variety and richness of soil for field, garden and orchard purposes Texas is unsurpassed by any state in the Union. Population in 1870, 818,579; in 1880, 1,591,749; in 1888, 2,375,032; in 1889, estimated 2,600,000. Productions for 1887: cotton, 1,123,238 bales; wheat, 5,174,454 bushels; oats, 13,490,925 bushels; sweet potatoes, 3,823,563 bushels; hay, 171,016 tons; orchard and garden, $4,100,000; poultry and product, $1,177,000; milk and butter, $17,000,000; wool clip, 19,143,000 pounds; cattle statistics not at command, but by far the largest product of the state.

The people are intelligent, progressive and ambitious.

DALLAS

Is the commercial, business and manufacturing centre for this vast domain and these large resources. Located in the north and east part of the state, it is not subject to the complaints common to points further south. It is the largest and most progressive city in the state. Situated in the heart of one of the richest agricultural regions in the world, it has become the railway centre of the state, with twelve lines of road, radiating in as many different directions, and several others projected.

Dallas is the largest city in Texas, as evidenced by the following population: Dallas 60,000, San Antonio 44,000, Galveston 40,000, Houston 36,000, Fort Worth 25,000, Austin 23,000, Waco 20,000.

Dallas has about 100 factories, representing clothing, trunk and caning factories, oil mills, cotton and woolen factories, brewing and distilling companies, iron works, flouring mills, furniture factories, cotton compresses, grain elevators, &c., &c. Dallas has 50 wholesale houses; 5 national banks with a capital of $1,575,000. Texas has no state banks on account of no state banking law. The growth of the city has been regular and constant. Population 1872, 2,000; 1880, 10,000; 1889 estimated 60,000. Dallas County property valuation in 1887 was $26,851,750.00; estimated 1889, $40,000,000.

Comparative table by counties of ad valorem and school taxes, collected for the fiscal year ending April 30th, 1888:

Dallas, County	Seat	Dallas	Ad Valorem	School Taxes
Dallas	"	"	$114,798.90
Bexar	"	San Antonio	83,482.17
Galveston	"	Galveston	88,087.86
Mc Lemman	"	Waco	67,907.02
Grayson	"	Sherman	65,359.10
Travis	"	Austin	64,182.92
Tarrant	"	Fort Worth	59,568.65
Harris	"	Houston	46,181.93
Ellis	"	Waxahachie	8,570.88

Dallas enjoys the confidence of her own people. As an evidence of their faith in her continued prosperity, her business men and men of means are investing largely in various local enterprises. Distant capitalists seeing the faith of her own citizens are making inquiries from every quarter, seeking information about the feasibility of establishing factories and various lines of trade there. Capital from the north and east is moving freely towards Dallas. Many new enterprises of importance and value to the city are being inaugurated by men of recognized wealth, ability, energy and integrity. New factories are being started, giving employment to the masses. These facts justify the conviction that Dallas is fast becoming the metropolis of the south-west, and will possess exceeding 100,000 people in the near future. More banking capital is needed, and can be used with safety and advantage both to the lender and borrower. Interest rates are high, and security good, the legal rate in Texas being 12 per cent. per annum, and this rate commands the best names, and best collateral in the country. Taxes are not excessive. The rate of taxes for all purposes at Dallas, this year, 1889, is only 1 1/4 per cent. on a 1/2 valuation.

With these facts before them, the directors of the Fourth National Bank feel justified in the increase of capital proposed. The terms to the new subscribers are favorable. It is proposed that the increase shall date as of July 1st, 1889. If the new arrangement cannot be consummated by that time, viz: stock subscribed and paid in and much other detail work accomplished, the change will occur as soon thereafter as possible. July 1st, 1889, the accustomed 5 per cent. semi-annual cash dividend will be declared to the old stockholders and the remaining profits passed to reserve. The bank has now $10,000. reserve, and from the earnings of the past six months, after the payment of a 5 per cent. dividend, the reserve will be increased. Hence the book value of the stock July 2nd, 1889, will be about $1.06. The present stockholders retain their holdings, and increase them on the same terms offered new subscribers, viz, $1.06.

The assets of the bank are guaranteed by the old stockholders and will give to the new management a thorough and searching examination in addition to the examination required by the department controlling national banks. The accumulated business and good will of the institution are all surrendered without direct compensation, in the belief that a large capital and larger resources are needed, and that the same will be profitable alike to both old and new subscribers.

I am assured that every detail in the enterprise will be conducted in the utmost good faith and honor. It is proposed to increase the present directory from nine to fifteen and grant the entire increase to the new stockholders.

The present directors are all prominent and successful business men in Dallas. It is thought best to retain and utilize the good name and influence of the present board in conjunction with the other six new directors, to be elected by, and from the new subscribers.

The present officers and directors are as follows:

W. H. PRATHER, Pres't.	T. F. WALLACE, Wholesale Grocer,
E. M. TILLMAN, Vice Pres't	W. J. BETTERTON, Real Estate Broker,
and Wholesale Grocer,	T. J. OLIVER, Capitalist,
S. B. HOPKINS, Cash.	J. B. SIMPSON, Attorney,
H. B. STRANGE, Ass't Cash.	W. C. CONNOR, Mayor of Dallas.

The real estate item in the statement represents a nice and convenient bank building well worth the money. The same would readily command the price at which it is held by the bank.

The services of the present very efficient cashier, S. B. Hopkins, will be continued. He is a man of business experience, enjoys the full confidence of the community, and has been cashier since the bank was organized; he is a man of wealth, will hold $100,000. of the stock after the increase is made, and gives strength and patronage to the institution. Mr. Griggs, the first President, died last November. Since his death W. H. Prather has acted as President, without giving active service, or drawing a salary. After the increase it is proposed that the president shall be active in the management. The good judgment of the new directory will be asked to name such a president. The best interest of the bank will be considered in this selection.

Dear Sir,

Your letter is in receipt. We think a 75th to Ream No 1. sized & supercalendered paper <sup>which is</sup> 15th heavier than the paper in '88 Catalogue will make a very handsome book. It will be so nearly like the '86
Catalogue paper that an expert eye would detect the difference.
Our pressman says he can make a better job on the 75th paper than on heavier weight.

We will furnish this paper at additional cost of 5¢ per page - making our bid  $$2^{30}$  instead of $$2^{25}$  per page. This is less than the the extra weight paper will cost us, but we do not wish to have you send out your Catalogue with any other imprint.
Yours truly

Patients who receive benefit from the treatment, in very many cases, send for our literature and hand to their friends. That is the best way to answer the question usually asked, "What has helped you?" We publish a treatise of nearly two hundred pages with the title "Compound Oxygen--its mode of action and results," and monographs on various diseases which have yielded to the treatment, which are freely mailed to all applicants, and we are glad to send any of these publications to addresses furnished us by our patrons.

Will the person receiving these please hand to their friends, or any one who may need information about our Compound Oxygen?

"Compound Oxygen—its Mode of Action and Results," is the title of a new brochure of two hundred pages, published by Drs. Starkey & Palen, which gives to all inquirers full information as to this remarkable curative agent and a record of several hundred surprising cures in a wide range of chronic cases—many of them after being abandoned to die by other physicians. Will be mailed free to any address on application. Read the brochure!

CHANGES IN ADDRESSES.

The constantly widening and enlarging stream of patrons of "Compound Oxygen" has made it a necessity that we should provide larger and better quarters, both in the City of Philadelphia and at several of our Depositories.

In Philadelphia we have purchased for our Main Offices a large brick residence at No. 1529 Arch street, which, in the hands of an architect, has been transformed into "one of the handsomest and most complete establishments in the world devoted to the practice of Medical Science." Here we have ample room for the continued growth of the next few years, with yard space for enlargement when that shall become essential.

The DEPOSITORY AT SAN FRANCISCO, California, has been removed from No. 615 Powell street to the fine building, No. 331 Montgomery street, and is in charge of Mr. H. A. Mathews, who will receive orders for any part of the Pacific coast, or from the Hawaiian Islands, and also from Japan and China.

The AUSTRALIAN DEPOSITORIES are in charge of G. H. Townley, Stanmore road, Petersham, Sydney, N. S. W., and Elliott Brothers (Limited), Brisbane, Queensland.

Our DEPOSITORY IN ENGLAND is in charge of Mr. William Garner, Holly Bank, Halton, Cheshire, England.

Our CANADIAN DEPOSITORY is in charge of Charles G. King, 53 Church street, Toronto, Ontario, Canada.

A. W. MOORE, of South Carolina, Canvassing Agent.

The Curiosity in regard to Compound Oxygen is natural; and we are pleased to aid all who care to gratify it. A volume of nearly two hundred pages on "Compound Oxygen—Its Mode of Action and Results," will be mailed free to every inquirer on receipt of address; and if particularly interested in the cure of any special disease, a monograph on that will also be sent. Postage is prepaid, and the literature is free to all.

EVERY ONE SHOULD KNOW THAT OUR GREAT SUCCESS HAS LED TO IMITATION. In using the Home Treatment, to be sure that you have the genuine Compound Oxygen, see that it has our trade-mark, as below, and that our names are blown in glass of each bottle.

FRAUDS AND IMITATIONS.

The daily receipt of letters, asking us if other parties are making and dispensing a genuine Compound Oxygen, leads us to caution our patients to purchase only of us, or through our accredited depositories.

The remarkable results which have attended the administration of Compound Oxygen, the remedy for chronic and so-called "incurable diseases," are without a parallel in medical history.

As dispensers of this well-tried remedy, we have, after eighteen years of earnest, untiring, and costly effort to introduce it to those who need its vitalizing and health restoring influences, succeeded in resting its claims on the basis of facts and results of so wide and universal a character—facts and results on record, and open to the closest investigations—that no room for a question remains as to its marvellous action in restoring the diseased to health.

The rapidly increasing number of those who have obtained relief from pain or been restored to health by Compound Oxygen, reaching now to many thousands, scattered throughout the whole country, is having a wide influence on public sentiment. There are no arguments so convincing as well-known facts. Accumulate similar results to the number of hundreds and thousands, and in the widest range of chronic and "desperate" diseases and abandoned cases, and you have a weight of evidence that is irresistible. On this weight of indisputable evidence we rest the claims of Compound Oxygen.

And now it becomes our duty to warn the public against frauds and imitations. Scarcely any higher assurance of the value of a useful discovery or invention can be given than the fact that unscrupulous persons attempt to deceive the public by offering them an article to which they give the same or similar name, and to which they attribute the same qualities. Please notice the long list of imitators and imitations that we are having in every large city in the United States, namely, the "inhaling tubes," "inhalers," "perfected oxygen," "oxygen treatment," "the ammoniaphone," "inhalers," "the nebulizer," etc, each and all proving at once its great value and intrinsic worth as the most important and successful therapeutic discovery now known in the world. The intrinsic value of a thing becomes evident in the efforts to make gain through an imitation or counterfeit. Our new Treatment is no exception to the rule. No sooner was its great curative value demonstrated beyond the reach of cavil or contradiction, than frauds and imitations began to appear, and worthless articles were offered to the public as the genuine Compound Oxygen.

In another instance individuals engaged in this disreputable business actually put forth their claim that they were employed by us in confidential positions, through which they were able, in a surreptitious manner, to discover the secret of its manufacture. And, with a dullness of perception equaled only by their moral obliquity, they ask the public to credit their assertions, while at the same time claiming to possess the secret of making Compound Oxygen through a betrayal of confidence. As if the public would put faith in men who declare themselves to be untrustworthy. Their circulars open with statements which one of our patients, in writing to us, characterizes as "An outrage on truth, honor, and honesty."

The substance used by us to give to the Compound the vitalizing elements and curative force it contains is a secret which we do not communicate to any one employed in our laboratory.

In another case a Western physician dispensed an imitation of our Treatment, which he called Compound Oxygen, and then took a number of our testimonials and reports of cases, and published them as having been given for cures made by his spurious preparation. A threat to publicly expose him caused him to withdraw, so far as we know, our testimonials, but he still offers the public his worthless article.

Many little towns are visited by so-called Oxygen doctors, who travel through the country purporting to dispense our Compound Oxygen; staying a few days only, they leave for fresh fields. We might cite other cases, but the above will suffice.

In most of the cases which have come under our observation the spurious substance is offered at lower prices than we ask for the genuine article.

It might seem at first sight that they do us harm; but so do counterfeit bills and coins. Upon the back of every United States bill is a caution against counterfeiting, and the person receiving a bill should be sure of its genuineness. Upon the back of this sheet is our "Trade Mark" and the full list of our only accredited Depositories; and in every bottle sent out by us are our names, blown in the glass. All using Compound Oxygen have abundant opportunity of knowing whether they get the genuine or not. You need have no doubts of a coin you get directly from the Mint; you need have none of the Compound Oxygen you get directly from us.

Let it be clearly understood that Compound Oxygen is only manufactured in Philadelphia, Pa., at No. 1529 Arch street, by Drs. Starkey & Palen. Any substance made elsewhere, and called Compound Oxygen, is spurious and worthless, and those who buy it simply throw away their money, as they will in the end discover.

Our new Treatise on Compound Oxygen, an interesting book of 200 pages, is sent free of charge. It contains a history of the discovery, nature, and action of this new remedy, and a record of many of the two hundred and fifty of the thousands of remarkable results which have so far attended its use.

Also sent free, "Health and Life," a quarterly record of cases and cures under the Compound Oxygen Treatment, in which will be found, as reported by patients themselves, AND OPEN FOR VERIFICATION, more remarkable results in a single period of three months than all the medical journals in the United States can show in a year.

FOR THE CURE OF ALL KINDS OF CHRONIC DISEASES.

J. K. Patterson, Lexington, Ky.

Dear Sir :-

At the request of Rev. A. W. Moore, we send you our treatise.

On page 182 you will find the price for a two months' supply, with all necessary medicine and advice, to be $15.00. Please give us a statement of your case, and we will give you our opinion whether it is amenable to the action of the C. O., or not. This will cost you nothing. Do not forget to state your present condition of body, and just how much you are able to do. See page 179 of Treatise.

We have no Agents. C. O. can only be had from us in San Francisco; Toronto, Canada; or here.

Will be pleased to hear from you.

Yours truly,

Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,

I have the pleasure to enclose herewith invoice £188. 1. 5, Consular invoice & press copy of same for some books which have been sent to your college in compliance your instructions and in accordance with the accompanying shipping advice. I could not send the goods in bond for Liverpool. I have therefore sent them in bond for Louisville, which I trust you will find in order. Kindly instruct your Custom House broker to see about clearing them free of duty.

I am happy to say that the set of "Liebig's Amaloni" I have sent you is perfectly complete. It is very rarely such a complete set is met with.

Since packing this shipment I have received a report of a further series of the Gardener's Chronicle, 1874-86, being the end of the series. These I can supply in cloth (26 vols) for £4 and my usual Commission. Then again since this series there are the two years <sup>1884 & 1885</sup> (Number 4th) These volumes would cost about 25<sup>s</sup> in cloth. They a different size to the previous ones - smaller.

As this report came in too late to go with the others I have decided to wait your further orders before doing anything in the matter

Thanking you for past favours and awaiting the pleasure of your further instructions

I remain

Yours faithfully,

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

KINGSTON DAILY LEADER.

*** It is a most interesting volume, and no historical collection will be complete without it.

BOSTON EVENING TRAVELLER.

His contemporaries are rapidly becoming fewer, and it must be recognized as a most entertaining and valuable biographical service that Mr. Allen Thorndike Rice has performed in securing from the most prominent of those now living, and from those who since making their contributions, have passed away, reminiscences of their associations with this great man in the widely varied relations which they sustained to him. A mere list of the names of the more than thirty contributors to the volume is enough to assure one that it is of supreme value, and that no one of its 736 consecutive pages can be dull or uninteresting. Mr. Rice himself contributes a most valuable paper, which serves as an introduction. *** It is doubtful if any volume yet published has ever furnished so deep an insight into the character of Abraham Lincoln. *** The book is one that cannot fail to find a wide reading. Mr. Rice thought of weaving together these scattered and rapidly fading reminiscences was a most happy one, and it has been most thoroughly and happily carried into execution.

BUFFALO EXPRESS.

A remarkable book about a remarkable man. Its character is well set forth in its title. As for timeliness, when was ever one of Mr. Lincoln's stories untimely? *** The reminiscences are something more than anecdote, though the salt of Lincoln's humor savors the whole volume. Portraits and biographical sketches of the contributors, together with fac-simile letters and other interesting material, lend further scope and value to this delightful volume. It is an authoritative Lincolniana.

UTICA MORNING HERALD.

*** These sketches are a careful study of the high qualities of mind and heart which Lincoln possessed. They are not a mere string of anecdotes, but the genius and nature of the man find in them adequate expression.

NEW YORK TIMES.

The editor, in his introduction, describes Lincoln's humor, his melancholy, his strange mingling of energy and indolence, his generosity, his unconventional character, his frugality, his tenderness, his courage, a traceable to his ancestry as well as to the strange society which molded the boy and nerved the man to face without fear every danger that beset his path.

SARATOGIAN.

This work will be found to harbor many things relative to Lincoln never before seen in popular print.

BOSTON GLOBE.

*** A volume is formed, where no one may read so lightly that he may not admire and revere the subject as a hero.

ROCHESTER (N. Y.) UNION.

*** The volume contains innumerable stories about him, and some very valuable bits of history which Mr. Rice's industry has exhumed,

HARRISBURG (Pa.) TELEGRAPH.

The book embraces thirty-three sketches, each written from a different standpoint, each of great interest, and acceptable in the superlative degree.

UNITED PRESBYTERIAN (Pittsburgh).

The most valuable collection of American historical material that has ever been made is "The Reminiscences of Abraham Lincoln," the work of that industrious genius, Allen Thorndike Rice, of The North American Review.

TROY BUDGET.

*** The book is one of the few "subscription books" which are worth buying, worth reading, and worth retaining in the library.

CHICAGO CURRENT.

The editor of the present volume, and the eminent men who have contributed to its valuable pages, have honored themselves in thus honoring him. They have added a tribute due to his name. They lived with him and by him, nearest to his heart with its burdens, in that heart in his triumph. They have here given to the living present and those who will come after, sentiments that will more closely unite their affections with his great and gracious memory. It is not a biography, it is not a history of the man or the exciting scenes through which he passed. We have had these, and this is better, being that of which we have not before had.

CHICAGO MAIL.

Twenty-one years have the people mourned for him. Latterly many books have appeared showing this or that trait of his peculiar character. The last is the best.

MISSOURI REPUBLICAN.

This splendid volume should have a wide reading.

THE NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW,

EDITED BY ALLEN THORNDIKE RICE.

The Leading Periodical of the Country. Fearless, Just, and Abreast of the Times.

For 73 years The North American Review has held the foremost place in the periodical literature of the United States. Under Mr. Rice's management it brings to all classes the profoundest thought and highest scholarship in the discussion of the most vital, living, and interesting topics of the day.

Seeking truth wherever it may be found, it presents both sides of questions in every field of research. Equal justice to all is its motto. The readers are the judge and jury; the writers the witnesses and advocates.

Religion is discussed by the greatest exponents of each creed; Unbelief, by its doughtiest champions; Science, by the cleverest students; History, by the makers of history; Medicine, by those familiar with its deepest secrets; Law, by eminent jurists; Politics, by political leaders; Warfare, by the greatest soldiers of the age; Civil Service, by well-known reformers; Great Men, by those who met them face to face; Statecraft, by statesmen;

Education, Finance, Insurance, Music, Philosophy, Authors, Political Economy,
Socialism, Poetry, Evolution, Novels, Land, Commerce, Art, Art, Railway, Drama, Discovery, Ethics, Tariff, Etc., Etc.,

by the ablest men in each department. No expense has been spared to secure the most talented contributors. Under its present management the REVIEW has numbered among its contributors most of the great men of the world—men of action as well as men of letters. Nearly every writer who has risen to eminence is on its roll of honor. It enjoys to-day what is believed to be the largest circulation of any review published in Europe or America.

THE NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW is published on the first day of each month. Subscription price, $5 per annum. POSTAGE PREPAID BY THE REVIEW.

Dictated.

March, 27, 1889.

Prof. Jas. K. Patterson, Pres.,
Lexington, Ky.

Dear Sir:-- The Democrat Printing Co. has been in the special business of printing catalogues, and periodicals for schools, colleges, etc., for more than a year, and in that time has done more work for representative institutions than any other house in the country. We are thoroughly fitted for this special work, having the most complete machinery, the newest designs of type, and the most skilful supervision that can be procured. Conducting business in a small town where rent and the necessities of life are cheap, and at the same time enjoying the very best facilities, we are enabled to turn out a high grade of work for a little less money than others doing the same class of work. We feel assured that we can especially guarantee accuracy, promptness, and clear, handsome press-work. We prepay expressage on copy and proofs, and every care is taken to facilitate the business of our patrons. When you come to get ready the matter for your catalogue we ask that you will allow us to bid on the work. Samples and estimates cheerfully furnished.

Please let us hear from you.

We are, Yours Truly,

Dear Mr Patterson

I have just received the postal card of N J Stearns you so kindly mailed me.

I regret to state that I am unable at present to make the purchase of Dryden's Works, notwithstanding the low price quoted, and when next you write please withdraw the order.

My recollection is that we have now only one order out for books, the "Stafford Gallery" which I think we will procure this time.

Your son called on me yesterday in regard to the G. & E., I mailed you the G. & E. for $8.50

47-M-64

Tuesday morning last at 8 o'clock, and trust that you received it.

With thanks for favors,

Yours truly

Lexington, Ky, April 20th. 1889.

Pres. J. K. Patterson,

Lexington, Ky.

Dear sir: -

In reference to the coverings of the cannon, I beg leave to report as follows:

It appears from the statement of Mr. Murray that the Station used the canvas covers first in 1886. They were borrowed of Col. Phelps and were in the possession of the Station about six [6] weeks at that time.

Mr. Murray reports that they were then in fair condition.

They were borrowed again in the winter of 1888, for a short time, to cover up some tobacco to keep it "in case".

They were then returned and placed on the cannon.

In June, '88, they were again borrowed to put under the "fan", and at this time Mr. Murray reports that he found them on the ground and considerably torn.

Just how much the Station damaged them, I can not tell, but am inclined to believe that the weather had more to do with their destruction than our use of them.

Very respectfully,

M. A. Scovell
Director.

and acceptable. Another and very important element in the question of economy is the respective yield of cooked meat from the coal and gas ranges. This in case of the coal range is 60 per cent. of the raw material, and of the gas range 75 per cent. ; which practically means : that a joint weighing 10 lbs., as purchased from the butcher, will come out of the coal range, in a cooked condition, weighing 6 lbs., and out of the gas range weighing 7½ lbs., being a difference of 1½ lbs. in favor of the gas ranges. This is due in part to the meat juices being more thoroughly kept in the gas-cooked meat. The practical dietetic result is, that the latter cuts out better and goes farther in the proportion of 25 per cent. more than the coal-cooked meat. Taking this excess of cooked meat alone into consideration, the saving is far more than ample to cover the whole cost of gas fuel, allowance for cost of stove, and even attendance thereon. Taking everything into consideration, I am of the opinion that gas-cooking will beat coal-cooking in cost of material, as well as in facilities of doing work, in cleanliness and in efficiency."

is cheaper than coal for all uses in kitchen and laundry.

WE are prepared to furnish complete kitchen ranges, and water heaters, which may be readily connected with the kitchen boilers now in use. These burners are of sufficient capacity to broil, roast, toast, bake and boil, as well as to furnish an abundance of hot water through the usual plumbing of the house, with gas as fuel, at a cost less than for coal. Fuel-gas has already revolutionized many branches of manufacture, and since suitable apparatus has been devised for combustion, so perfect as to make its economy over coal no longer a doubt, it must be widely adopted for domestic use. Dear Sir :

The Teachers Cooperation Assn. of Chicago has just notified me of a vacancy in your science (biological) dept., salary $1500.

I wish to inquire about the grade of the work in biology in your institution and whether the college is provided with a laboratory for this work. The appointment is to the professor chair and permanent, as I am led to infer, but is there any advance in salary upon longer service?

I am well pleased with climate and country and can if advisable be in Lexington about June 1st to determine whether the conditions of appointment are equally satisfactory to all concerned

After June 1st my address will be as given

The Marine Biological Laboratory.

INCORPORATED IN 1888.

SECOND SEASON, 1889.

Wood's Hole
Mass.

CORPS OF INSTRUCTORS:

Dr. C. O. WHITMAN, Director.

Investigators' Department.

Students' Department.

HOWARD AYERS, Ph. D.,

J. S. KINGSLEY, Sc. D.,

E. G. GARDINER, Ph. D.,

JAMES E. HUMPHREY, S. B.,

PLAYFAIR McMURRICH, Ph. D.,

Artist.

Instructor in Microscopical Technique.

Assistants.

Instructor in Zoölogy.

Instructor in Botany.

In addition to the regular courses of instruction, and the appointed aids in Laboratory work, occasional lectures, or informal accounts of results obtained in special lines of research carried on at the Laboratory, may be expected from some of those who will occupy investigators' tables. Professor E. B. Wilson, of Bryn Mawr, and Professor C. S. Minot, of Harvard Medical School, will be among the number of such contributors.

The new Laboratory is located on the shore, at Wood's Holl, Massachusetts, near the Laboratories of the United States Fish Commission. The building consists of two stories: the lower, for the use of students receiving instruction, the upper, exclusively for investigators. The Laboratory has aquaria supplied with running sea water, boats, collecting apparatus, and dredges; it will also be supplied with alcohol and other reagents, glassware, and a limited number of microtomes and microscopes. By the munificence of friends the library will be provided henceforth not only with the ordinary text-books and works of reference, but also with the more important Journals of Zoölogy and Botany, and many of them in complete series.

THE LABORATORY FOR INVESTIGATORS

will be open from JUNE 3 to AUGUST 31. It will be fully equipped with aquaria, glassware, reagents, etc., but microscopes and microtomes will not be provided.

In this department there are eight private rooms for the use of investigators not requiring instruction, who are invited to carry on their researches at the Laboratory. Those who require supervision in their work, or, being already prepared to begin original work, desire special suggestions and criticism, or extended instruction in technique, will occupy tables in the general laboratory for investigators, and will pay for its privileges a fee of fifty dollars.

THE LABORATORY FOR STUDENTS

will be opened on WEDNESDAY, JULY 10, for regular courses of seven weeks in Marine Zoölogy, and Microscopical Technique. Botany will be taught for the present season during August. Opportunities will be given for collecting and preparing material for use in the class-room and for special lines of study. Hand lenses, dissecting instruments, drawing materials, etc., may be bought at cost in the Laboratory. It is desired that students owning microscopes or microtomes should bring them, and applicants for admission should state whether this requirement can be complied with. The fee for workers in this department is twenty-five dollars, payable in advance. The number of students will be limited to twenty-five, and preference will be given to teachers or others already qualified. By permission of the Director, students may begin their individual work as early as June 15, without extra charge, but the regular courses of instruction will not begin before July 10.

Applications for places in either department should be addressed to Miss A. D. PHILLIPS, Secretary, 23 Marlborough Street, Boston.

Rooms accommodating two persons may be obtained near the Laboratory, at prices varying from $3.00 to $4.00 a week, and board from $4.50 to $7.00. Gardiner Cottage, a small house not far from the Laboratory, has, for the second time, been placed at the disposal of the trustees by Miss Sarah B. Fay. In this Cottage, which will be under the superintendence of Mrs. S. F. Stantial, of Boston, table board will be supplied to members of the Laboratory, after July 9, at $5.00 a week.

Wood's Holl, owing to the richness of the marine life in the neighboring waters, offers exceptional advantages. It is situated on the north shore of Vineyard Sound, at the entrance to Buzzard's Bay, and may be reached by the Old Colony Railroad (2½ hours from Boston), or by rail and boat from Providence, Fall River or New Bedford. Persons coming by the way of Boston should buy round-trip tickets ($2.85).

The new Laboratory is intended to continue and enlarge the work of the Laboratory at Annisquam, carried on for six years by the Woman's Education Association, with the coöperation of the Boston Society of Natural History. The first annual Report of the Trustees, containing an account of its organization and of the work of the first year, may be obtained from the Secretary.
