BANK OF LOUISVILLE.

(INCORPORATED 1833.)

LOUISVILLE, KY., January 3, 1899.

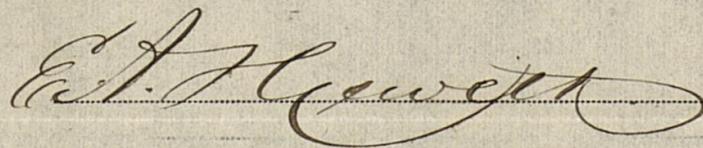

DEAR SIR:

At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held this day, the resignation of Mr. M. C. Peter, which had previously been tendered owing to the press of his private business, was accepted with much regret. Mr. Peter will still remain a director of the bank.

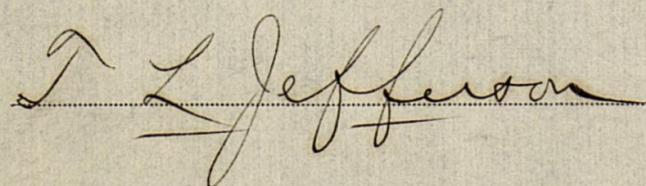

Mr. P. N. Clarke was elected President of the bank, to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Peter's resignation.

The signatures of the officers authorized to sign drafts, etc., will be found below.

Yours truly,

 CASHIER.

 PRESIDENT.

Confidential to Stockholders.

DEAR SIR:

In handing you the within Statement, it affords me much pleasure, to say, that we have now written off every dollar of bad assets heretofore under criticism of the Comptroller of the Currency and as suggested to him, from an examination of the Bank made on November 7th, last.

Having attained the end for which I have been striving for the past several years, I now feel privileged to submit the following facts, for your consideration.

This Bank was organized just prior to the financial disturbances, commencing with the Barings failure in 1890, embracing the panic of 1893, the Silver issue of 1896, and culminating in the Spanish-American war of this year, the whole forming a period of unexampled depression and business disaster, during which time many Banks have suspended, and others have experienced severe losses, which have been written off from previously acquired surplus and profits, or from the Capital Stock direct, we have done neither—organizing when we did, we had not acquired surplus and profits necessary to meet unexampled losses. Our capital has however been reduced in the meantime, but by the repayment to you of 50 per cent of your original investment at 100 cents on the dollar, in cash and the remainder with the resumption of dividends, should soon sell for the face value. These conditions have been accomplished by a temporary suspension of dividends, a fact which has been just as unpleasant and much more burdensome to me than to either of you, individually; at same time you must recognize that you and I and our combined stock go to make the Bank, which, in its concrete form, is the only guarantee of safety to depositors and other creditors, and our highest obligation is to protect these first and look to ourselves next.

To have paid dividends in the face of apparent losses would have been subversive of the very principles of correct banking, and might have proven an ultimate boomerang in the shape of a stock assessment—the payment of the latter would have offset the payment of dividends to you, and at same time, would have been very injurious to the future credit of the Bank.

As your President, I have attempted to deal with conditions as they presented themselves to me, and I am sure you will, at this time, credit me with having acted for the best. Our losses originated largely when my responsibility was divided with older and wiser heads and, while the infallible bank manager is yet unborn, I am as much disposed to credit these losses to the subsequent depression and general collapse, as to mistakes of judgment on our part when the loans were first made.

At this time I wish also to thank each and all of you for your patience and freedom from harsh criticism during our period of apparent apathy, and in doing this it affords me some pleasure to present to you a statement, which must indicate to you that the Galveston National Bank is still not without honor in its own country.

Respectfully,

T. J. GROCE,
President.

Dear Sir

In the hurry to get our accounts ready for the year we made a mistake against ourselves of $200.
I think it occurred in taking off your

Please took over your 7c
We expect to have such thing occur and will do our best not to have it occur again

Mr. James K. Patterson
Lexington, Ky.

Dear Sir. Enclosed please find check for $ 2.80 two hundred eighty dollars being the full amount of rent for '98 less $20 twenty dollars for grass seed and fence posts used on the place in '98 $10 being for grassseed and
" for posts.

Last spring you asked a list of questions to be answered.
I will endeavor to answer a few. First the amount of grass on the place. I have sowed and resowed 86-acres in tame grasses

some of which I sowed three different times and am plowing it up this spring to try it over again a new. I have sowed down some every year now for five years and but little grass to show for it. Then there is still fifty acres of the old original sod in the Northwest corner that has never been plowed

And for the fences they are moderately far I put in one hundred or more new posts each year but there is a good string of fences to keep up, inside and out.

Then as to the quality of the land I presume it is about an average of the land in this neighborhood which is a large percentage gumbo and hard pan. You asked also as to the price of land unimproved land as this would be classed is estimated at about $15-20 per acre but not much inquiry and few farms selling.

I believe this was all.

Your Respect,
J. W. Logan

ABRIDGED REPORT

OF THE

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING OF PROPRIETORS,

Held at the Head Office, Pietermaritzburg, on Thursday, 8th February, 1900.

The annual general meeting of proprietors of the Natal Bank, Ltd., was held at the head office, Pietermaritzburg, on the above-mentioned date. Mr. W. G. Baker presided, and there were also present Hon. J. T. Polkinghorne, P.L.C., Messrs. S. F. Benningfield, J.P., B. W. Greenacre, J.P., M.L.A., P. Davis, C. R. Glynn, J.P., K. H. Hathorn, H. C. Shepperson, C.M.G., T. P. O'Meara, P. F. Pava, Macton Green, J.P., J. Devernell, J. Freeman, J. E. Birch, J. A. Miller, W. Loney, Jesse Smith, J. Baines, J. A. Runciman, R. A. Holzgate, G. H. O'Meara, W. M. Cameron, Dr. Sutherland, Mr. Jas. Mackellar (general manager), and Mr. H. B. Collins (assistant general manager).

The annual report of the directors (which was taken as read) was as follows:—

The directors beg to present to the shareholders a statement, duly audited, of the accounts of the bank for the year ended 30th December, 1899. The net profit (including £5,555 11s. 0d. brought forward from the preceding year) after making all necessary deductions, amounts to £22,422 18s. 7d. Your directors now declare a dividend for the year referred to at the rate of 10 per cent. per annum. The interim dividend paid in July last absorbed £14,211 17s. 6d. The remaining portion of dividend amounts to £8,211 17s. 6d. Total, £22,422 18s. 7d. And the balance of the net profit is recommended to be appropriated as follows: To reserve fund, £20,000; to pension fund, £1,500; to credit of profit and loss, new account, £8,211 17s. 6d. The branches at Dundee, Lady Smith, Newcastle, and the Nile, have been closed, pending the restoration of peace between the Republics and the Empire. The directors retiring by rotation are Mr. Peter Davis and Mr. S. F. Benningfield, J.P., who being eligible offer themselves for re-election. Mr. J. A. Runciman was elected an auditor of the bank at a special general meeting of shareholders, on the 12th December last, to fill the vacancy caused by the lamented death of Mr. C. E. Tanton. Mr. Runciman and Mr. C. E. Tanton (the other auditor) now retire from office, but are eligible for re-election. Warrants for the dividend will be transmitted to shareholders on or about the 17th inst., immediately on receipt of the list of proprietors registered in the London branch register.

The chairman, in moving the adoption of the report and statement of accounts, said:—

Gentlemen,—Your directors now submit for your approval and adoption their report on the affairs of the bank for the past year, accompanied by the usual statement of accounts, duly audited. But for the political troubles, which have existed in the adjoining Transvaal Republic during the past year, as well as previous thereto, culminating on the 14th October last in the declaration of war by the Transvaal and Free State Governments against the British Empire, the statements laid before you would have shown still more satisfactory results in business transacted and profits earned. Consequently on the above occurrences, trade with these States has been much restricted during the first nine months of last year, and communication entirely stopped for the remaining three months thereof. Notwithstanding this, we find ourselves warranted in declaring you a dividend equal to that for last year, namely, at the rate of 10 per cent. per annum on the paid-up capital of the bank, consisting only the 2 per cent. bonus added for 1898. Of this dividend, 5 per cent. was paid out to you on 30th June last, and a further 5 per cent. will be paid you during the present month, for the half year ended 30th December last. You will note by the statement submitted that we carry forward to next account (as a precautionary measure) the sum of £12,559 8s. 7d. out of last year's profits, being nearly double the amount similarly dealt with the previous year. I would also inform you that no credit has been taken in these accounts for profits earned during the last three months of the past year by branches in the Transvaal, these profits having been carried to a separate account for the present. As a result, to some extent, of the adverse influence referred to, our net profits for 1899 (exclusive of carryings forward) were £10,088 less than for 1898, totalling up, however, to £25,517 7s. 7d. for the year. A sum of £10,000 has been added to the reserve fund from last year's profits, making it £120,000. A sum of £1,500 has been added to pension fund, raising it to £10,483 2s. 8d. On the debit side of the accounts you will find that notes in circulation were £20,767 10s., showing an increased issue during the year of £15,838. This increased circulation has been entirely in Natal. Fixed deposits and current accounts were £2,022,743 15s. 5d., being £36,947 10s. 4d. less than for 1898; ordinary deposits and current account balances having, however, increased during the year. The apparent decrease is entirely caused by the shrinkage of Colonial Government balances. Balances due other banks show an increase of £21,001 11s. 5d. Bills payable were lower by £22,222. On the credit side we find cash in hand, notes of other banks, drafts, orders, stand at £715,583 17s. 10d., or £23,519 5s. 5d. higher than the previous year, showing the present strong position of the bank in this respect. Remittances in transit were less by £75,975 10s. 8d. than on 31st December, 1922. Cash balances with London banks and short loans in London on good security showed an increase of £71,705 16s. 10d. These, with our other fairly liquid assets, such as British, Indian, and Colonial Government securities, bills of exchange, coin in hand, remittances in transit, and such like, all easily convertible into cash, represent, equal to 58.86 per cent. of our total indebtedness to the public, nearly 51 per cent. higher ratio than were held the previous year. Investments in Government securities show an increased value of £183,556 10s. 7d., consequent on purchases made during the year, the total value held now, at cost, being £240,011 13s. 10d. Bills discounted, loans advanced, showed a reduction of £23,215 0s. 3d. Bills of exchange were less by £31,857 16s. 10d. Bank premises and properties available credit for at £1,737 5s. 7d. higher than for 1922. Additions and alterations to our banking offices at various points, especially at Durban, caused the increase. Furniture and fittings, stamps and stationery figure at £1,707 less than the previous year, after the usual writings off for depreciation. General charges were lower by £815 4s. 10d. I hope that these comparisons will satisfy you in regard to the financial soundness of the bank's business, and of the continued confidence of the public in the institution. With regard to the erection of new banking offices at Johannesburg, I may tell you that a contract was entered into with Messrs. John Abbott and Co., of Johannesburg (Messrs. Carter and McIntosh being the architects) for the erection of the said premises. Rumours of impending war were current at the time, but in the belief and hope that a peaceful settlement would be effected, your directors decided to proceed with the work, reserving the right to stop it at any time upon war being declared. This having occurred, the work was stopped before excavations for the foundation were completed, and further action is for the present delayed. Following the declaration of war came orders from the Transvaal authorities for all sundries (foreigners) to leave the country. Permission was obtained for a limited number of our staff to remain in charge of our various branches in the Republic. We have therefore 31 members of our staff distributed amongst our seven Transvaal branches (the Nigel branch having been closed). These gentlemen have so far remained at their posts loyally and resolutely doing their duty, at great personal inconvenience, hardship, and risk, and are therefore entitled to the sympathy and consideration of the directors. Upon the occupation of Newcastle (in Natal) by the Boer forces, in October last, our manager there (Mr. Murray) elected to remain in charge and risk the possibilities. Our managers at Dundee and Ladysmith, with the sanction of the General Manager, very discreetly decided to close these branches subsequent to the battle at Dundee, removing the assets to the Maritzburg and Durban offices respectively. The members of our staff in Natal, London, and the Transvaal, have generally given full satisfaction in the performance of their several duties during the year, and we are pleased to recommend that they be granted the usual 5 per cent. bonus on their salaries. The past year has been an exceedingly trying and anxious time to the General Manager, and the managers of the Transvaal branches, and these gentlemen are deserving of your special thanks for safeguarding the bank's interests as they have done. Under the able management of Mr. J. S. Duncan and the London Committee, increased business of a profitable character has been done at our London branch during the year, and that branch has proved itself a useful adjunct to the head office here. Owing to one of your auditors (Mr. G. J. Macfarlane) being absent on duty with the Carbineers at Ladysmith, only Mr. J. A. Runciman's services as auditor have been available for last year's final audit. In the midst of our anxiety in regard to the future prospects of trade, and the possible outcome of the present deplorable war, and while expressing sincere sympathy with the many sorrowing ones who have been bereaved in connection therewith, both in England and South Africa, and with those whose homes have been wrecked and despoiled, let us hope that better times may soon come round, and that the results of it, all may be substantial prosperity and good Government in future, benefiting and giving confidence alike to the Uillander, as well as the sturdy Boer. (Applause.) The chairman then moved the adoption of the report and statement of accounts, and intimated his willingness to answer any questions which might be put. Mr. O'Meara seconded the adoption of the report, and called attention to the large amount of cash in hand. At the same time he did not know that it would be advisable under the present circumstances to invest any portion of the cash, even in gilt-edged securities. Mr. Hathorn suggested that the directors should consider whether it would not look well in the accounts if they allotted a particular portion, say, £110,000, in British and Colonial Government securities to the reserve fund. There would be no difference whatever in effect, but it was comforting to people who were not business people to see the proportion of the invested funds separately represented in the statement of accounts. Mr. Davis: Do you mean lock up the securities altogether? Mr. Hathorn replied in the negative. He did not wish to interfere in the slightest degree with the directors' administration of the assets, but it would be, he submitted, a comforting thing to people if they were able to see that, say, £140,000 were put away in such and such securities. The chairman, in replying to the point raised by Mr. O'Meara, as to the amount of cash in hand, said that the directors would continue to invest if it was considered safe to do so, but in the present state of the country they thought it as well—not knowing what might happen—to have a large amount in hand. If Mr. O'Meara could show the directors how they could invest and yet have the money in their coffers, they would be very pleased. With reference to Mr. Hathorn's suggestion, the directors had, acting on a previous hint, already allocated to the reserve fund a certain amount of the assets represented by securities. He thought the directors would be quite prepared to consider the question of showing in the statement the amount in the reserve fund represented by securities. The General Manager read the rule bearing on the question, and pointed out that it would be very difficult to keep the securities always at the exact amount of the reserve fund; in fact, it would be hardly practicable. Mr. Freeman: Do I understand that this recommendation is adopted by the meeting?

Mr. Hathorn: I don't make a proposition; I only throw out a suggestion. Mr. Freeman remarked that he did not think it was the opinion of the meeting that the suggestion should be carried out if it would hamper the Board in dealing with securities. The report and statement of accounts were then adopted. The next business was the election of two directors in the room of Messrs. P. Davis and S. F. Benningfield, who retire by rotation, and are eligible for re-election. The chairman said that the retiring directors were the only gentlemen nominated. Mr. P. P. Payn moved the re-election of Messrs. Davis and Benningfield. Mr. Devereux seconded, remarking that it would be a mistake to lose the services of two such cool-headed and zealous directors at any time, particularly at the present. The motion was adopted nem. con. Mr. Benningfield, in thanking the meeting, promised that his best attention would be devoted to the affairs of the bank as heretofore. Mr. Davis remarked that he was very much obliged to shareholders for re-electing him to the position, and was very glad to say that with regard to his friend, Mr. Benningfield, he was as well able to conduct and see to the affairs of the bank as ever he was. With regard to himself, he had a very large interest in the bank, and his family interest in it made it identical with that of shareholders, and he could promise them that the affairs of the institution would receive his best attention. Mr. P. O'Meara moved the re-election of the retiring auditors, Messrs. Macfarlane and Runciman. They re-elected.

The necessity which caused Mr. Macfarlane to be locked up in Ladysmith, and prevented him from attending to his duties as auditor, but he was doing his duty as a soldier in the defence of his country (hear, hear)—and the least they could do was to re-elect him to the position he occupied prior to hostilities breaking out. (Applause.) Mr. Runciman, too, was eminently qualified for the position, for he had been a bank manager himself, and knew the whole business from beginning to end. It was not in his opinion possible for the shareholders to get two gentlemen who would more zealously and honestly do their duty to the shareholders than Messrs. Macfarlane and Runciman. Mr. J. Devereux seconded the motion, and the retiring auditors, Messrs. Macfarlane and Runciman, were then re-elected. Mr. Runciman returned thanks on behalf of Mr. Macfarlane and himself. On the proposition of Mr. Hathorn, seconded by Mr. O'Meara, the remuneration of the auditors was fixed at the same amount as last year, namely, 150 guineas each. Mr. O'Meara moved a vote of thanks to the directors and to the staff of the bank for the successful manner in which the affairs of the institution had been managed during the past year, as shown by the balance sheet. The chairman, in acknowledging the compliment, said the Board had done their best. They had been passing through an anxious time from day to day, and it was a great thing to know that their services were appreciated by shareholders. He was sure that the Board would continue to do their best in the interest of shareholders. The general manager (Mr. Mackellar) also expressed thanks on behalf of the staff, and the meeting then terminated.

Hanover College Annual.

HANOVER, IND., January 21, 1899.

To the Alumni and Alumnae:

We, the class of 1900, are engaged in the preparation of an Annual for 1899. It is our purpose to make this Annual comprehensive of the brightest, most original representative features of life at Hanover, together with historical, literary, biographical and pictorial matter of interest to every Alumnus and Alumna of Hanover College. It will embrace matter of exceptional literary merit, from men of National fame. It will portray the prominent historical scenes, incidents and characters of the College, in original, graphic form. In short, we aim to make it truly representative of your "Alma Mater."

We invite your attention especially to one proposed original feature of the Annual. It is the insertion of every Alumnus and Alumna of the college, together with their name, class, and vocation. We offer you the privilege of insertion for one dollar. We believe that such a grouping of the Alumni and Alumnae will be of the greatest historical value and interest.

We take this means of soliciting your interest and co-operation, and earnestly request that you embrace this offer, and send us at the earliest possible moment your photo, name, address, class and vocation. These must be in our hands not later than March 15th.

We solicit your order for an Annual at the price of one dollar, upon receipt of which we will mail it to your address free of charge.

Advertising space can be had at the following rates: Full page, $8.00; half page, $5.00; quarter page, $3.00.

Hoping to receive your support, we are Very respt'ly.,

My Dear President:

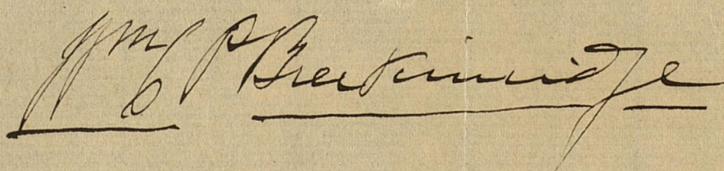

I have your note of the 2nd. I am not entitled to any thanks for the copies of The Morning Herald. Desha controls, manages and practically owns The Herald, and I have no other than a formal connection with it as nominal President of a merely nominal Board of Directors, which Board was selected by him to serve during his absence, when he thought that it might be necessary that there should be some authority for the Business manager or the Managing Editor to appeal to. The only other connection I have with it is, as a mere matter of paternal affection for Desha, to write editorials. And it is due both to you and to Desha that I should make this explanation.

But I knew how much it would gratify him to have the opportunity to print your address. I also knew what an advantage it would be to the community to have an opportunity to read it, and especially to those who should have the sense to preserve it.

As to my own lecture; I made the mistake of trying to cover too much ground. I dictated in full only that part which was a criticism upon our power to acquire and govern territory. I made an abstract of the remainder of the lecture, which Desha has taken and may put into some shape and print.

With sincere respect, I am,

Very truly yours,

Dear Professor Patterson

I thank you for

Hereabouts Cotton Trade is good after some years of politically I don't think there is anything very extraordinary now just now. There seems some trouble in the Church but I don't think it will result in much just yet, till matters get worse, & then dis-

I don't think there will

Dear Sir:-

Will you kindly send us a biographical sketch of yourself containing from 600 to 1000 words, for publication in The National Cyclopedia of American Biography, a description of which is enclosed. This is a national work which has been in preparation for over ten years and the nine volumes that have been published have met the most favorable endorsement and praise from both public and press. They are to be found in the leading libraries, historical societies and educational institutions throughout the country, where they are held in the highest estimation. The London "Times" says, "Its value as a work of historical and biographical reference is incontestable," and the New York "Herald" calls it "a permanent and worthy contribution to the literature of the country." This Cyclopedia unquestionably will be the biographical authority of this country for many years to come, and it is desirable therefore to have the account of your life as accurate and complete as possible so that it will be a permanent authority for future reference.

As you see, we are making a special feature of genealogies and family histories, and we want a record of your own ancestry, as well as a full account of your life and work, from which the editors can prepare a satisfactory biography, a copy of which will be submitted to you before publication. There will be no charge whatever for this and we hope you will kindly assist us in obtaining a suitable sketch, for which we thank you in advance.

Yours very truly,

THE "OXFORD INDIA PAPER."

The Best is always imitated.

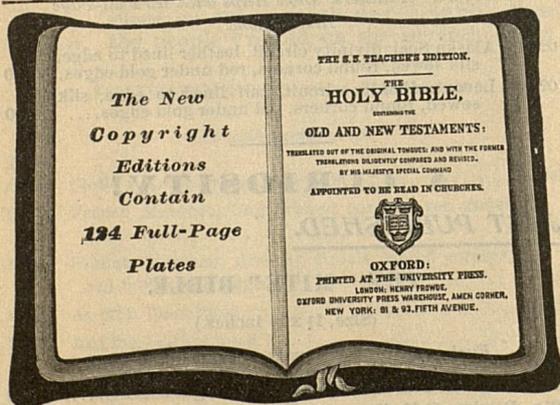

"Men do not counterfeit counterfeits or imitate that which is unknown or worthless."

The great success of the "Oxford India Paper" has induced a number of imitators to offer so-called India Paper Editions, said to be as good as the famous Oxford India Paper.

Don't be deceived!!

This wonderful paper is a specialty of the Oxford Press, and is manufactured at their own paper mills. It was first produced in the year 1875, and has steadily grown in popular favor.

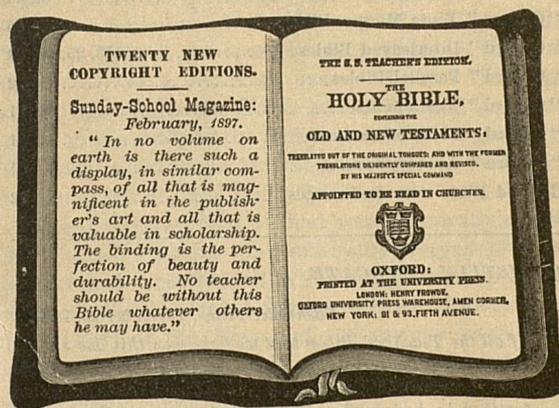

No other paper has yet been made that can approach it for its wonderful opacity, great toughness and softness, and its agreeable tone.

CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

Nashville, Tenn., December 23, 1897.

"Of all the Teachers' Bibles that we have seen this one strikes us as being the best. The 'helps' are real helps. Unlike those in many of the cheap Bibles, they are not simply thrown together in hodgepodge fashion, but represent the freshest and ablest work of the foremost modern scholars."

THE LIVING CHURCH.

Chicago, Ill., November 21, 1896.

"Without doubt, the best edition of the Bible yet published for Students, Teachers, and Clergymen."

SUNDAY-SCHOOL MAGAZINE.

"The publishers have just brought out an edition with revised helps, which again puts this work clearly in advance of all others. It is a great biblical library in one volume."

The BEST and MOST POPULAR Teachers' Bible in the World.

OVER 2,000,000 COPIES OF FORMER EDITIONS HAVE BEEN SOLD.

THE PRESENT EDITION.

The present edition is an attempt to carry to a still higher point the popularity and utility of the work. On the completion of the REVISED VERSION OF THE BIBLE in 1885, it was speedily recognized that the time had come for a yet more systematic and thorough attempt to render the Helps a complete and accurate guide to the study of the Scriptures. Public attention had been called to the text of the Bible to an extent before unknown, and many questions of textual criticism and of interpretation had been practically settled once for all. Again, the remarkable progress of archæology had necessitated a reinvestigation and consequent modification of many accepted opinions as to the history of the Jews and the various races with which they were associated. The work of the Palestine Exploration Fund had caused a revolution in long-established views as to the topography of the Holy Land. * Egypt, Assyria, Asia Minor, had yielded up many secrets that had been hidden for ages. Linguistic science had made notable advances. In fact, there was scarcely a single book of the Bible on which fresh and valuable light had not been thrown by recent investigations and discoveries. It was accordingly resolved that every section of the "Oxford" Helps should be subjected to a searching examination, and should as far as possible be brought up to the existing standard of knowledge.

RECENT REVIEWS

BY THE

AMERICAN PULPIT AND PRESS

OF THE

New Copyright Editions of the Genuine "Oxford" Teachers' Bible

REV. THEO. L. CUYLER, D.D.

BROOKLYN, October 8, 1896.

"It is about the 'high-water mark' of all the editions of God's Word that I have ever seen; and in its completeness leaves nothing more to be desired."

REV. A. F. SCHAUFFLER, D.D.

NEW YORK, October 6, 1896.

"It is the best Teachers' Bible I have ever seen. A most beautiful specimen of work, not only typographically considered, but because of the special care with which the Teachers' 'Helps' have been prepared."

REV. RICHARD S. STORRS, D.D.

BROOKLYN, October 14, 1896.

"Leaves nothing to be desired in the way of mechanical execution, or of carefully selected 'Helps' to Biblical study. Such a copy cannot but be of great and constant value to any Pastor or Teacher into whose hands it may come."

REV. RUSSELL H. CONWELL, D.D.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., October 15, 1896.

"The best edition of the Scriptures now published."

REV. ALVAH HOVEY, D.D.

PRESIDENT NEWTON CENTRE THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

November 5, 1896.

"I have examined with special satisfaction the New Copyright Edition of the Genuine 'Oxford' Teachers' Bible. It is a wonderfully interesting and useful edition, superior to anything of its kind that I have seen. The type is distinct and pleasant to the eye, while the plates are most instructive, giving to this edition a unique character and great value. Every Teacher surely would be more than satisfied with this Book. It is a gem."

SUNDAY-SCHOOL MAGAZINE.

NASHVILLE, TENN., February, 1897.

"In no volume on earth is there such a display, in similar compass, of all that is magnificent in the publisher's art and all that is valuable in scholarship. The binding is the perfection of beauty and durability. No teacher should be without this Bible whatever others he may have."

CHRISTIAN WORK. NEW YORK, December 31, 1896.

"The Genuine 'Oxford' Teachers' Bible is the best and most popular Teachers' Bible published. No one can make a mistake in buying one. They have all the 'Helps' and all the latest improvements in type and bindings."

CHRISTIAN INTELLIGENCER.

NEW YORK, December 16, 1896.

"Never has been and is not now equalled anywhere. These Bibles are durable, all the editions, for they are well made."

THE INTERIOR.

CHICAGO, ILL., December 24, 1896.

"'Helps' prepared for this work by the most eminent Biblical scholars of the day, and revised up to the latest possible date, to keep in touch with the last discoveries of science, the last lights of interpretation. This edition has reached, in former issues, a sale of over two million copies, and it is safe to say that nothing offers even fair competition with it in general favor."

THE CONGREGATIONALIST.

BOSTON, MASS., October 1, 1896.

"Everything which vigilant and unceasing care could do in editing, in selecting and manufacturing, in print, type, paper and binding, has been lavished on the effort to make this a perfect edition of the great Book of the world."

CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

NEW YORK, November 26, 1896.

"A delight to the sense of sight and of touch even before the covers are opened. This edition is an attempt to carry toward further perfection a Bible so thoroughly appreciated that over two million copies of former editions have been sold. It is impossible to summarize the contents, but we are strongly impressed by the variety, value and system of these aids. Critics unite in indorsing the painstaking work done."

THE BIBLE READER.

RICHMOND, VA., November, 1896.

"The 'Oxford' Bible is an unceasing wonder. About the time one has concluded that it has reached perfection, here comes another edition which eclipses all former efforts. These plates are by far the finest we have seen. They are authentic and their value is permanent."

THE CHURCHMAN.

NEW YORK, April 10, 1897.

"The 'Oxford' Bible has been constantly improving with every edition, until it has now reached a state of perfection beyond which it would seem impossible to go. The archaeological plates of the present edition are very fine, and furnish the student with the very latest records of the monuments. In fact, all the illustrations are from the very best plates, and may be thoroughly trusted. This is a great satisfaction, this feeling of confidence in one's authority, and fully repays the extra cost which is always to be expected with a guarantee of the best."

THE STANDARD OF EXCELLENCE MAINTAINED.

Fifteen years' review of the GENUINE "OXFORD" TEACHERS' BIBLE by the Sunday School Times of Philadelphia, Pa.

—1880—

"We have no hesitation in saying that, all things considered, the 'OXFORD' TEACHERS' BIBLES are better for the Sunday School Teacher than any other with which we are familiar."

—1883—

"It is only fair to say that, in the light of later examination, we have seen no reason to change our expressed opinion that the 'OXFORD' TEACHERS' BIBLE is the most serviceable for the use of the ordinary Sunday School Teacher."

—1885—

"The 'OXFORD' TEACHERS' BIBLE, the invaluable companion for the working Teacher."

—1894—

"The 'Oxford' Bible has won so great success, and now presents such improvements, that it will keep its firm hold. The publishers of these Teachers' Bibles deserve unstinted praise for their appreciation of the needs of their constituents, and for their enterprise in supplying these needs."

Referring to the Illustrations in the New Edition of the "Oxford" Teachers' Bible, the Sunday School Times, of June 7, 1894, says:

"In this respect the 'Oxford' Bible has placed itself far in advance of its competitors. It prints fine plates of well-selected objects illustrating various matters connected with Bible study; ancient alphabets; Assyrian, Egyptian, and Palestinian inscriptions; ancient monuments and coins; pictures from ancient monuments; fac-similes of celebrated copies of the Scriptures.

"These plates have large value. They can be depended upon as authentic. Their value is permanent. . . . These representations of objects are fixed facts of history, and will never need modification."

THE ILLUSTRATIONS.

The former series consisted of Sixty-eight Plates.

The Present Series has One Hundred and Twenty-four, with full Descriptive Letterpress.

The Illustrations form a distinctive feature of the new edition, and present a novel and valuable departure never before attempted in works of this description on a scale so full and complete. They have been selected and described by E. MAUNDE THOMPSON, D.C.L., LL.D., Principal Librarian of the British Museum; A. S. MURRAY, LL.D., F.S.A., Keeper of Greek and Roman Antiquities, British Museum; and E. A. WALLIS BUDGE, Litt.D., F.S.A., Acting Assistant-Keeper of Egyptian and Assyrian Antiquities, British Museum. Special care has been taken to insert only authentic copies of objects which bear upon matters recorded in Holy Scripture.

730 DELAWARE STREET.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 17, 1900.

Mr. J. K. Patterson,
Lexington, Ky.

Dear Sir:-

We recall that we have addressed you once or twice with reference to your holding of Union National Bank stock of this City. The stock is now quoted at 128 bid, 132 asked. These are the highest prices that have prevailed since 1890. In that year the high prices were followed by an immediate and continuous decline, and for years the stock stood at par and under. This looks like a generous price to us, when the risks to which western banks are exposed are taken into consideration. Should you think of disposing of your present holding, or wish to increase it at the current quotations, we should be glad to have you communicate with us at your earliest convenience.

We feel that prices have been advancing very rapidly during the last year, and that a reaction in the market for bank stocks may be looked for as reasonably as the reaction which is generally expected in the market for all other stocks. We note that in St. Louis where bank stocks have advanced so rapidly during the past year, that they are now sagging off steadily, with a manifest disposition to unload, but with very few investors who are willing to buy. We do not wish to say anything that can reflect in the slightest on the above bank, but it certainly looks as if the quoted prices is a very liberal one for a western bank.

We ask the favor of a prompt reply.

Yours very truly,

(Dict. by H.P.W. to A.J.S.)

Dear Sir:-

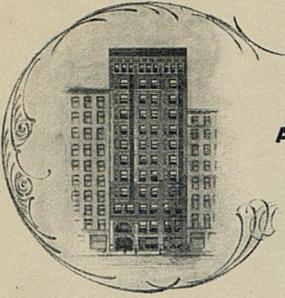

Replying to your esteemed favor of the 14th inst., we beg to say that upon investigation we did not find a biography of yourself in our files. Your name has recently been sent us through the courtesy of Hon. R. T. Durrett of Louisville, Ky.

This Cyclopedic is the largest and most comprehensive work of the kind ever published in this country, and we are endeavoring to have each of the States properly represented. Will you kindly send us your biography including genealogy, family history, etc.

Thanking you for your courteous letter, we are,
Yours very truly,

Feb. 24th 1900

Prof. James K. Patterson,

Lexington, Ky.,

Dear Sir:--

Will you kindly furnish us with data concerning yourself for use in the revised and enlarged edition of WHO'S WHO in America, now in course of preparation. The object and scope of the book (doubtless already well-known to you) are outlined in the accompanying circular pertaining to the 1899-1900 issue to which we call your attention. It will be our aim however, to make as many improvements as possible in the forthcoming volume. To that end many new names will be added, a few which appear in the present volume will be dropped, and such inaccuracies as have unavoidably crept in will be eliminated.

The personal sketches shown on the specimen page sent herewith will indicate the general character of the information desired.

We desire above all things to be accurate, and therefore request that you fill out and return the enclosed data blank with the necessary information for a concise personal sketch of yourself, using every care to insure exactness and legibility.

Prompt response is especially requested in order that we may be accurate and not have to use data taken from secondary sources.

We desire it to be especially understood that no charge will be made for the insertion of the personal sketch in this work, and persons kindly furnishing information will incur no obligation whatever but, on the contrary, will greatly oblige us by thus assisting to make the book accurate, reliable and useful.

WHO'S WHO in America has achieved popularity, wide-spread circulation and generally recognized usefulness seldom if ever accorded to any similar publication; it is, in fact, regarded as a standard authority by people of education and culture in all parts of the world, and we hope to make future editions worthy of still greater public recognition.

We enclose stamped envelope for answer and trust that you will kindly let us hear from you by return of mail.

Yours very truly,

WHAT THE CRITICS ARE SAYING ABOUT WHO'S WHO in America.

Indispensable in the library and editorial room and of daily service in the home where the newspaper makes the names of people prominent in every walk of life familiar.—Philadelphia Press.

In the editorial room, the home library and the business man's office it will be consulted daily.—New York Tribune.

This book will be indispensable to every reader of newspapers, to every library, and to every man and woman who reads or writes.—Chicago Tribune.

In a few weeks' practical use on the editorial table, "Who's Who in America" has rarely failed to give the desired bit of information.—Literary World.

As a biographical dictionary of about all the prominent living men and women of the United States it is unique; therefore there is no need of expatiating upon its great value.—Boston Journal.

It is perfectly safe to say that this is the most useful book published in this country this year, and it would be comparatively safe not to limit the period to 1899. The English publication of the same name has been published for fifty years and is a standard reference book of its class; the American offering promises to live as long and become as indispensable as its parent.—Public Opinion (N. Y.).

Covers a new field and cannot fail to be of great value as a book of references.—Chicago Record.

Ought to be particularly helpful to scientists and educators, partly as an up-to-date directory, partly because it gives prominence to distinction in their line of intellectual activity, perhaps more satisfactorily than any other biographical work extant. The book is admirably complete and convenient.—Science.

It is more than a valuable adjunct to every library and a necessity to every one who wishes to have the name and history of men of letters and fame at finger ends.—Brooklyn Times.

Occupies a unique field and will be found of inestimable value.—New Orleans Picayune.

Furnishes an enormous amount of well systematized information, and will assuredly soon take a high place among books of reference.—Philadelphia Telegram.

The first reference book of the kind that has ever appeared in this country, and it is difficult to see how it can avoid achieving a large success. It is remarkably complete and to the point.—Syracuse Post.

The usefulness of the book as a work of reference, and especially in newspaper offices, can hardly be exaggerated.—The Outlook.

The editor of "Who's Who in America" has been duly critical of the material offered him, and has strictly suppressed the efforts of self-seeking mediocrities to gain admission to its pages. The book will be found indispensable to many classes of people.—The Dial.

An exceedingly useful book.—Joseph B. Gilder, editor of The Critic.

It will prove a most welcome addition to all reference libraries.—Milwaukee Journal.

It is strangely enough an entirely new thing for the United States, notwithstanding the necessity that has been felt for a work of this kind.—Baltimore News.

It is certainly something new in American bookmaking, and occupies a field quite apart from biographical compilations and encyclopedias which deal almost exclusively with persons whose fame has survived them and passed into history. The object of this work is to present information concerning the living.—Detroit Free Press.

Heretofore it has been impossible for editors especially to secure data of living persons without great trouble and expense; the encyclopedias and other biographical works being confined almost exclusively to sketches of those eminent persons who have long since passed away. This work will apply supply the missing link and give valuable information about those who are with us and of us.—Iowa State Register.

From a newspaper man's standpoint this book will prove indispensable. It commends itself to all who need such a useful, valuable work of reference.—Denver Post.

It is a work of great practical utility.—Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

It is convenient in size and covers a wider range than any biographical encyclopedia of recent years. It is bound to be of great value and much use.—Utica Press.

The work is certainly complete from an American standpoint and should prove a very useful one for reference.—Toronto Mail and Empire.

The dictionary, while contained in one moderate sized volume, is most complete. The sketches are brief but they contain the salient points in the biography of each person, and a feature which will be much appreciated is the present addresses.—Troy Times.

One of those books that are really indispensable, so useful, so necessary, and so altogether interesting are they.—Pittsburg Press.

It will find an immediate place in public libraries and reference rooms, newspaper offices and on the desks of men and women of affairs.—Hartford Courant.

A reference library without "Who's Who in America" would not be complete.—Pittsburg Leader.

This much-longed-for, convenient book is at last before us.—New York Times.

As a work of reference it is a necessity to every library.—New York World.

Examination shows that the compilers have been thorough and discriminating. The work is practical and useful in the highest degree—one of the things that really "fills a long felt want."—Chicago Times Herald.

NEW REVISED AND ENLARGED EDITION NOW IN COURSE OF PREPARATION

WHO'S WHO in America

A BIOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY OF LIVING MEN AND WOMEN OF THE UNITED STATES, 1899-1900, EDITED BY JOHN W. LEONARD
Crown, 8vo, 872 pages (XXXII+840=872), bound in full cloth. Price, $2.75 Net

NO question is more frequently asked than "Who is he?" or "Who is she?" as we hear or read of some person who has done something or achieved something. As a usual thing the question remains unanswered, because the books of biography are generally silent about the living. "Who has fame?" asks Falstaff in his soliloquy, and immediately answers his own questions by saying: "He who died o' Wednesday."

The question of "Who's Who" often recurs to trouble mankind. We do not want to read columns of biography, but how often we would like to know in regard to some particular person—who he is, when and where born, what he does and has done, and how he became prominent.

WHO'S WHO in America aims to give (as near as may be) a short sketch of the living men and women in America who have gained more than local distinction—brief, crisp and to the point, giving no place to eulogy, but answering with sufficient fullness the question: Who's Who? It is a dictionary of the men of the hour—"Who they are, what they are and where they are."

It is confined to no class or profession, but tells something of those who are prominent in every walk of life. Americans who are active as statesmen, scientists, authors, artists, educators, clergymen, lawyers, physicians, engineers, poets, literateurs, librarians, historians, farmers, architects, reformers, labor leaders, musicians, actors, editors, merchants, manufacturers, sculptors, engravers, soldiers, sailors, public officials, inventors, financiers, business men, and, in fact, people of worth and note in all branches of usefulness.

WHO'S WHO in America resembles the English book in general plan, although there are numerous changes of arrangement and treatment, intended to adapt it more fully to American conditions. It contains 8,602 personal sketches of living men and women. The 1899 edition of the British "Who's Who" has 8,207 similar biographies. Thus a comparison of the two shows a difference of 395 in favor of the American book (in its very first edition), although the present excellent English volume is the result of fifty-one years of annual revision and enlargement.

A valuable feature of the book will be found in the appended addresses. No other work has attempted the laborious task of finding and furnishing the addresses of leading Americans in all parts of the world. Thus, the book possesses not only the best attributes of a Biographical Dictionary, but is also a handy Directory of the living people of the United States in which almost everybody is interested. Both the business and residence addresses have been given whenever practicable.

The volume is designed to take its place in many libraries, homes, offices, editorial rooms and elsewhere, with the dozen or so of books one keeps within easy reach for necessary and constant reference.

WHAT THE CRITICS WHO'S WHO in America. ARE SAYING ABOUT

The Boston Herald.

It is a singular thing that no convenient and thoroughly satisfactory biographical dictionary of the noted living men and women in the United States has appeared until the present year. For this reason "Who's Who in America" (Chicago: Marquis) takes its place at once as a reference book of the very first importance and interest. This volume, which is light, handy and printed in good type, contains brief records of the lives, doings, writings and occupations of 8,002 Americans who have attained fame and prominence. It embraces people in mercantile, professional, political and educational life, as well as leading men in the army and navy; perhaps it is, strongest of all in the domain of literature and art. In practically all cases the sketches have been supplied by the subjects themselves. A few people who were approached for biographical data were suspicious, having been treated unfairly in connection with other enterprises, which appeared to be of the same sort, but in practically every instance the facts given about each person have been either supplied or revised and approved at first hand.

In the case of each person, except a very few women, the place and the exact date of birth are given. Then follows a brief account of his education and of all the various kinds of work in which he has been engaged, with dates; a statement of the positions which he has held and the length of service; an account of all his main achievements; a list of the books, pamphlets, articles and other important works which he has written, and his personal address. This last is an exceedingly important matter, which no other volume has ever attempted to give.

In its own way this pioneer volume is the most important book that has been published in this country so far this year. Every one is sure to find in it a lot of interesting facts about people of whom he has heard. The compilers of the volume have preferred to err on the side of including too many people rather than to run the risk of excluding one who might suitably find a place in this aristocracy of brains and attainments, and in this respect they have acted with great wisdom, for it is just such people as these about whom it is hardest to secure definite information.

The Review of Reviews.

This volume impresses us as an exceptionally complete and satisfactory fulfillment of the publishers' promises. We have waited a long time in this country for a dictionary of living men and women, not necessarily of those personages of the very first rank and importance, but a book to which we may go to find the significant facts in the lives of thousands of Americans who at the present moment are most active in commercial, scientific, professional and political life. Such a book we seem to have at last in "Who's Who in America." The editor of this work has taken great pains to secure accuracy of data, and we are informed that each biographical sketch (and there are more than 8,000 of them) was submitted wherever possible, to the subject for verification. A plain, brief statement of facts important to know in the lives of these living Americans is all that the book pretends to supply, and if we are not greatly mistaken that is precisely what the American public will most appreciate. "Who's Who" serves the purpose of a directory, as well as a biographical dictionary. The address of each person whose life is sketched is appended to the brief biography.

Brief Comments.

I constantly use the work and constantly recommend it to others. It is worth many times the price to any busy man.—Thomas Wentworth Higginson, Author.

I congratulate you upon the issue of "Who's Who in America," an invaluable book of reference.—Hon. Levi P. Morton, ex-Vice-President of the United States.

Fills a want which has long been felt in this country.—Adrian S. Hewitt, ex-Mayor of New York.

Admirably conceived and comprehensively executed. Who's Who in America is a book which no intelligent man or woman in the United States can afford to be without.—Edward A. Grosvenor, Professor of European History, Amherst College.

ASSESSMENT ON SHAREHOLDERS.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

Office of the Comptroller of the Currency.

IN THE MATTER OF

The National Bank
OF KANSAS CITY, MISSOURI.

Washington, D. C., February 25, 1899.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

WHEREAS, upon a proper accounting by the receiver heretofore appointed to collect the assets of "THE NATIONAL BANK OF KANSAS CITY," Missouri, and upon a valuation of the uncollected assets remaining in his hands on the Twentieth day of January, 1896, it appeared to the satisfaction of the Comptroller of the Currency that in order to pay the debts of such association it would be necessary to enforce the individual liability of the stockholders thereof to the extent of One hundred and Sixty Thousand Dollars as prescribed by Sections 5151 and 5234 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, and an assessment for that amount was thereupon made upon the shareholders on the eleventh day of February, A. D., 1896;

AND, WHEREAS, upon a further accounting by the receiver, it appears to my satisfaction that the sum of One Hundred and Sixty Thousand Dollars was inadequate and that, in order to pay the debts of said association, it is necessary to further enforce the individual liability of the stockholders to the extent hereinafter mentioned, as provided by said Sections 5151 and 5234 of the Revised Statutes of the United States:

NOW, THEREFORE, by the virtue of the authority vested in me by law, I do hereby make an assessment and requisition upon the shareholders of the said "THE NATIONAL BANK OF KANSAS CITY," Missouri, for Seventy Thousand Dollars, to be paid by them ratably on or before the twenty-fifth day of March, 1899; and I hereby make demand upon each and every one of them for Seven Dollars upon each and every share of the capital stock of said association held or owned by them, respectively, at the time of its failure; and I hereby direct John Perry, the receiver, heretofore appointed, to take all necessary proceedings, by suit or otherwise, to enforce to that extent the said individual liability of the said shareholders.

[SEAL]

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereto set my hand and caused my seal of office to be affixed to these presents, at the City of Washington, in the District of Columbia, this Twenty-fifth day of February, A. D., 1899.

Dr. J. K. Patterson,

Dear Sir:-

Since your last I have been corresponding with Mr. Balyeat relative to the renting of your land at Blue Mound, Kans., and finally got a proposition out of him as follows: He says he has got it for the coming year; rented it from your former agent. Then he says he will give $150 per year for five years and pay the rent in advance after this year. Besides he will keep up the fences, etc., and he wants you to furnish what material is needed in keeping up the fence.

He says he will not pasture the stalks as he considers it best to leave them on the ground and plow them under, which is all right. He says there are only 150 acres which they can use, and some of it is white land and ash.

Now I think he should furnish the material to keep the fences in repair. I believe he will do it if asked to, and I believe if I were you I would accept his proposition, as I understand he is good pay. I know by experience that it would be better to rent to him at $150 per year and good pay than to rent to another party for $200 and not get it.

If this is satisfactory please let me know and I will prepare a lease to be executed in duplicate.

Yours truly,

G. D. Stinebaugh

Dear Professor Patterson

I should have acknowledged your kind note & remittance of rent of land
(£12.50). It was unexpected
& I thank you very much for your favour in the matter. Does this Mr.
McCormack rent the land himself. & will he have such as cattle grazing over it. If I can do anything for you in England
I will be pleased to do it.

This country has of late been wholly absorbed in the Boer war. If wanted I think they would easily get as many more soldiers - as the thing is so popular - perhaps the best of the thing is that lots of the soldiers gone out will go & live there afterwards - & help to make

South Africa a great country in the future. But the "so called"

Republics are I think doomed

Had the Dutch given equal rights there would have been no war. Had they gone on lines of true Republicanism they would have had plenty of support from England. But it appears a few - a ring of the leaders worked for their own special purposes but we shall I hope soon see clearer light on the matter by a free government instead of the unpopular Dutch rule - my brother James seems all right we have not heard from him lately but a few days ago we had a note from his wife & she says they are well & looking forward to coming to England next year if they can -

The season is getting on but these last few mornings we have had 12 & 14 degrees of frost which is reverse for the time; with a little snow
It will help to keep back the fruit blossom -

We hope Mrs Patterson & you have got over the winter quite safely - Father

Dear Sir:—

Your esteemed favor of the 18th inst. came to hand. The price of making Over-Coat is $15<sup>00</sup> Trimmings is seven $7<sup>00</sup> Dollars. The Trimmings consisting of first-rate mohair serge for linings, a silk sleeve lining, and a velvet collar. With silk linings, the trimmings would be Eleven Dollars. The fur can be used in a new coat, provided they are large enough, and the right shape for the new coat. Hoping to hear from you again.

Yours very Respectfully

Dear Sir:-

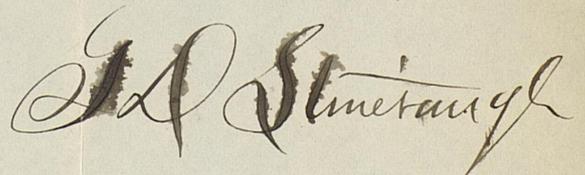

Your favor enclosing lease and check for fifteen dollars came duly to hand, and for which please accept thanks; also for your good letter. I received a similiar letter from my Pennsylvania man whom I referred to in my former letter to you.

Am sorry to learn of your illness. I can sympathize with any one having the grip as I had a siege of it myself this winter.

I will enquire ocassionally, as you request, about Mr. Darymple & Co., but from what I can learn they are good, reliable, men and I think we have made a good bargain.

I expect to go down to Richmond before very long and will try and go out and see Mr. Logan. I will also make inquiries about Mr. Webb, who has your Coffee county land.

Dear Mr Patterson

Please excuse me for not earlier replying to yours in regard to Mr Prown's claim but I did not see Col Bruce till today -

He says that he has made a close investigation of the matter and thinks the statement he made is correct. He says the Assessor should have paid about $800 as he made the mistake in double listing but it has been so long that he does not think it can be collected from him now. He says the lands are liable for the taxes claimed and it may be better to pay the balance claimed and finally settle the matter -

mother is improving others are in usual

My Dear Sir:--

We have a call for a teacher of Domestic Science at $1500. We have no one on our list suitable for such a position.

A Western school has asked us to recommend a man for Manual Training at $1000, Fine Arts, $800, Architectural Drawing $1500, one teacher of Sewing and Cooking at $800.

We will be greatly obliged if you or your faculty can suggest names of candidates for these places.

Thanking you in advance for the favor, I remain,

THE NATIONAL CYCLOPEDIA OF AMERICAN BIOGRAPHY

is not a Directory of living Americans or a Biographical Dictionary of Names, but a Cyclopedic, containing lengthy and carefully written biographies of persons prominently identified with the development and growth of this country since its discovery. It is a history of the United States as illustrated in the lives of the founders, builders and defenders of the republic, and of the men and women who are doing the work and moulding the thought of the present time.

Some of the Features Are:

1. The biographies are longer than are to be found in other cyclopedias, averaging in length from six hundred to one thousand words, the most important biographies containing from 10,000 to 12,000 words.

2. To insure completeness and to prevent the admittance of unworthy subjects, Nominating and Advisory Editors are appointed in each state, who determine without partiality or favor who shall be represented, and after that each name is finally passed upon by the Managing Editors.

3. No pains and expense are spared to insure the greatest accuracy and reliability. Information is obtained from the families if possible; otherwise the earliest and most authentic publications are consulted. The biographies are prepared with the utmost care, and in every case copies are submitted to the individuals themselves or to their relatives or descendants for correction and revision, and they are not published until they have been so corrected and revised, whenever the reliability of the original information is doubtful. In some cases copies have been submitted four and five times to insure complete accuracy. The statements, therefore, may be relied upon as absolutely correct.

4. The genealogies, family histories and marriage records of the subjects are included when obtainable, particularly the American ancestry, which, being carefully verified and corrected before publication, makes the Cyclopedic invaluable to those investigating the subject.

5. Instead of being inserted alphabetically, the names are grouped with reference to important institutions, events and movements with which they are connected: e. g., the American Revolution; the war with Spain; the Presidents of the United States grouped with their Cabinets; the Governors of a State, the Presidents of a College and the Bishops of a Diocese grouped in chronological order; abolitionists, Arctic explorers, inventors, etc., etc. In this relationship and continuity is presented a progressive narrative which gives to the biographies a greater interest and value. This plan has the recommendation and endorsement of the most prominent librarians, litterateurs and bookmen throughout the country.

6. There is a complete analytical and cross-reference index in each volume, covering all previous volumes, by which every name is found quite as readily as by the old arrangement, and the objectionable features of several biographies under one name, a supplement, appendix, etc., are avoided.

7. Nearly all biographies are accompanied by life-like portraits and fac-simile autographs, made from artistic pen-and-ink drawings, which are executed by skilled artists. There are nearly 10,000 of these portraits, and many of them have been drawn from new photographs from life and from oil paintings taken specially for the work. Never before in any country has such a collection of authentic portraits been attempted, and the Cyclo-pedia becomes the National Portrait Gallery of America.

8. It is the only National Cyclo-pedia covering every section of the country, and the only work entirely written at a date later than 1887.

9. It is thoroughly up to date, and contains the lives of many who are new before the public, whose sketches will not be found elsewhere, and whom the public will desire to read about.

10. A single volume is equal to a whole library in itself, containing over 500 pages and over 600,000 words.

11. The volumes are royal octavo, containing 540 pages; the type was newly purchased specially for this purpose; the paper is of the finest quality and the books are handsomely and substantially bound by the J. F. Tapley Co., whose reputation for fine book-binding stands second to none in America.

12. Although not yet completed and not on the market, thousands of advance orders have been received from Libraries, Historical Societies and Educational Institutions throughout the country, as well as from the United States Government, the Mexican Government, and many newspapers and libraries abroad. All who have seen the work are unanimous in endorsing it.

Complete in 12 volumes, half russia (only), price, $10.00 per volume. Send for prospectus and specimen pages.

How the Cyclopeda is Made.

[From the New York Times, July 1st, 1899.]

WHISTLER'S PERVERSENESS.

A little brochure recently brought out by the publishers of "The National Cyclopeda of American Biography" reveals the trials and tribulations of encyclopedic editors, and at the same time throws a side-light on the temper of J. McNeill Whistler, the famous artist. One of the greatest difficulties that a compiler of biographies has to contend with is that of securing trustworthy data from the subjects themselves. The subjects, either through modesty or supreme indifference, or from other motives, are not infrequently loath to reply to the polite notes from the editors requesting "the story of their life."

Take for example Mr. Whistler and the publishers of the Cyclopeda above mentioned, James T. White & Co. The publishers wrote just twenty letters before they received the desired information. The first three were addressed to Mr. Whistler. No response. Each one was more courteous than the preceding, and each inclosed full explanations, with apologies in the last two intimating that the first epistle had miscarried. Next, these enterprising editors tried Mr. Whistler's publishers, Messrs. Heinemann; then they tried Mr. Whistler again; then they once more tackled the artist. Then they asked Frank H. Norton of this city to write the biography. Mr. Norton found great difficulty in procuring Mr. Whistler's West Point record, and wrote to the Superintendent of the Military Academy for it.

Once more the publishers took a hand, and sent a number of epistles to persons that were supposed to be informed concerning the data of the artist's life. These epistles contained such questions as, "Have you any information regarding the birth and parentage of James A. McNeill Whistler, the artist? None of the books gives his exact birthday." To Thomas Wilson: "In the September Book Buyer appears an article by you on 'Whistler at West Point,' and in the article appears this statement: 'Young Whistler's mother was a Miss Winans of Baltimore, daughter of one of the oldest and most distinguished families of Maryland.' Will you kindly give us your authority for this statement?" Then Whistler's art dealer was appealed to.

At length, after four years of weary waiting, Mr. Whistler, through his London publisher, consented to revise his biography should the proof be submitted to him. But, of course, there was nothing ready. Then very slowly and from many and varied sources the matter began to accumulate. Then more waiting and appeals to John T. Whistler and to Jackson McNeill in the hope that these gentlemen were related to the imperturbable artist. And at length, after nearly five years had passed since the first note had been dispatched to London, what a sigh of relief must have gone forth from the editorial sanctum as these words were penned to James Abbott McNeill Whistler:

"Dear Sir: Inclosed please find a galley proof of your biography for our Cyclopeda, which is now submitted for final revision. Will you kindly have it returned at your earliest convenience."

Such is the story of the attempt to secure only 1,000 words concerning one solitary subject.

Dear Sir:-

The ninth volume of The National Cyclopedia of American Biography has just been published and proves to be a very interesting number. The editors are now engaged upon the tenth volume, and as the Cyclopedia is nearing completion, and knowing your interest in the same, we beg to ask if you won't kindly send us a list of the prominent characters in your State, either living or deceased, whose biography ought to appear in the work. As it will unquestionably be the biographical authority for the next century, our aim is to make it as complete and representative of every section of the country as possible. Under separate cover we mail you an index showing the names of those already published.

Enclosed find stamped envelope and thanking you in advance, we are,

Yours very truly,

We trust it will not be an infringement on your time to ask you to consider the contents of this letter, as we feel assured it will interest you in a question which at one time or another demands the consideration of every family.

The duty of selecting a design or purchasing a monument is usually forced upon one, and there are few subjects of which the general public has less knowledge. You will find that the most satisfactory way would be to know that you are dealing with the manufacturers; and those who have given the public prompt attention and fair dealing, and whose experience in designing and executing for the past forty-five years enables them to claim superior ~~and~~ advantages over others in furnishing a higher order of work and in quoting lower prices.

You will probably be visited by numerous agents or canvassers whose experience or knowledge of the business may scarcely exceed your own, selling on commission and traveling at considerable expense; and as a matter of course these expenses you will pay directly or indirectly should you patronize them.

Being a long established and well known firm in Central Kentucky, desiring to maintain our reputation for fair dealing and high grade work, we have always consulted the wishes and interests of our customers, aiding them to the best of our ability in making a suitable and appropriate selection.

Our present stock on hand embraces a very large selection of the latest designs in marble and granite, and it will be to your interest to call and see our stock before ordering. You will not be importuned or pressed to buy, but will make every endeavor to please you in design, style and price. If you contemplate purchasing monumental work of any kind we would be pleased to have you call on us, or will cheerfully wait on you at your residence with a choice selection of the latest designs.

Yours Respectfully,

Dear Uncle

I received your letter containing check for $20.00. I am very thankful for your generosity, as the money came at a very needful time. When I wrote to you for a loan I did not expect to have you send me money as a gratuity. But I receive it with many thanks, and hope to be able some time to repay your goodness to me. My health is in very good condition except rheumatic troubles. I thought I was able to resume work, so I went to work, and worked one week and was compelled to quit again, but as the spring time comes I think I will be all right again.

I think in justice to you, you should know something of my life, when leaving school I was employed on a farm for 2 years but not liking a farm life I engaged in R.R. service, and have been since 1889 excepting two years, I was employed in Mr John Garner's store as clerk and as assistant - Post Master, I do not know what views you may have in regard to secret orders, but I have carried myself, so that I have gained admission in the I. O. O. F. order in 1890 and the Masonic Order in 1898. I have always boarded with Christian people, for the last 3 years have boarded with Mr and Mrs Elliott both devout Christian workers in the M. E. Church, But with all this I have not connected myself with any Church, nor made a profession of Christianity

Hoping this line will find you and your family in good health, and wishing to hear from you occasionally. I am

Yours sincerely
