

Legislature Authorizes Investigation of Coop; Four New Bills Read

Kendall, Morris Explain Stands In Controversy

An immediate investigation of the former Students Cooperative Association by the Student Standards Committee was authorized at an action-filled meeting of the state legislature Tuesday night.

The meeting also heard discussions of the book store controversy by George Herman Kendall, business manager of the cooperative, and Mr. Jimmy Morris, manager of the Campus book store, and heard the first readings of four new bills.

The new bills, all of which were automatically referred to the Rules committee for further consideration included:

- 1 A measure, introduced by Jack Lovell, arts and sciences senior representative, which would set up a student loan fund from the surplus in the Student Standards Committee treasury, to be administered by the Student Welfare committee.

2 A bill, introduced by John Conrad, Interfraternity council president, proposing to pay the president of the Student Standards Committee $100 per semester and the vice-presidents $50 per semester.

3 A proposed change in the rules of the Student Standards Committee which would allow residents there to use the telephone during quiet hours on Friday and Sunday nights.

4 A bill, introduced by Margaret Trent, women's vice-president, asking for purchase and installation of five additional telephones for women's halls.

Ball Week Bill
The much battered-about hell week bill, which has been making occasional appearances in the legislature for almost a year, was finally disposed of. Reported back unfavorably from the Rules committee, the measure was finally taken out of the hands of the Student Government association and turned over to the Interfraternity council, Panhellenic, and the officers of other campus organizations which have had the bill.

Men Knit Women Knit For Britain

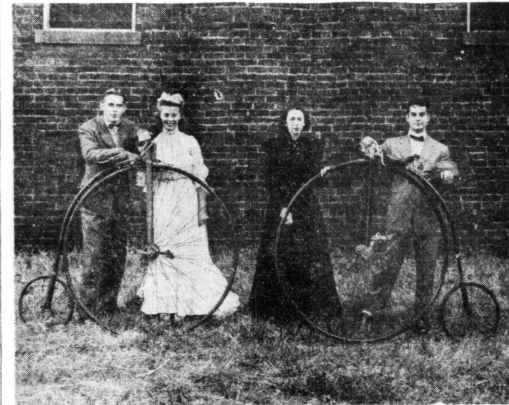

BY PAT HANAUER
Coincident with the registration of college men, 14 residents of the women's halls began knitting "Bundles for Britain."

These women may be merely practicing before asking their favorite men to knit for them. In a few weeks, they are sufficiently increased to pay for yarn, meet in the Board hall recreation room, and work steadily on the garments.

Miss Mildred Hart, knitting chairman, was represented at the Board hall meeting at which the organization of "Bundles for Britain, Inc." was discussed. This non-profit group plans to help Great Britain. Shipments will be made every two weeks.

Garments Shown
Completed garments, made by Lexington women, were shown at the meeting, attended by eight of the women now knitting.

Some of them are taking this opportunity to learn, and are beginning with a scarf. Others, more skilled, are making socks, long the most difficult of knitted clothing. Other garments being made are sleeveless and long-sleeved sweaters, mittens and baby blankets.

DESIGN FOR BOWLING (See Below)

STOP! LOOK! and GLISTEN!

By JANE BAYNHAM

Are you feeling droopy? Do you tire easily? Have you lost your summer snap. Then try—no, not Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but to "bow" them over! It's grand fun and surprising how much better a game or two of bowling can make you feel. You'll enjoy getting in the swing this winter on a bowling alley. This sport is rapidly gaining ground as one of the best indoor games for girls, and you'll make a "strike" in more ways than one when your best best sees you cutting a pretty figure at something besides the high fantasia.

And "pretties" is the word for you, if you sport one of the new knee-length skirts, ideal for bowling, such as the two beauties pictured above are wearing, in gray flannel. One wears a dark blue blouse and the other a cashmere pullover. Blue knit socks, hitting a new high of course, and bucko shoes complete their bowling get-ups.

It's Healthy Too
Besides being grand fun, bowling is one of the surest ways to health and beauty, through stretching and relaxing the muscles rhythmically. The very first game poses "diverse stresses." Long unused muscles are given a good stretching in the right direction. Circulation is stimulated and, as taut nerves are relaxed, you will become refreshed and exhilarated. Then, too, the careful timing and agility of the footwork adds so much to the fun and skill of bowling, and encourages proper balancing of the weight—an essential to the true health which comes through correct posture.

If you are a novice at bowling, I'd like to introduce you to the elementary principles of the game. Each bowler is permitted to bowl two balls in an attempt to knock down as many of the pins as possible. The number of pins knocked down is a determining factor in computing the score for each player. If all the pins are knocked down by the bowler with his first thrown ball, that is called a "Strike" and it is therefore not necessary for him to roll his second ball.

However, if some of the pins are left standing it is necessary for the bowler to use his second ball in an effort to knock down the remaining pins. If, in this second try, all of the remaining pins are knocked down, that is called a "frame," and ten "frames" for each player constitutes a game.

Above everything else, be sure the ball you select fits your fingers and grip, and feels comfortable in your hand. The thumb and first and third fingers should feel natural, with holes just large enough to permit easy, natural release of the ball when it leaves your hand.

Footwork Important
Footwork comes next in line of importance. The four-step delivery is recommended because it is so simple and well-balanced. It is an even glide and the ball and feet go into action simultaneously. Always start with the right foot and finish with the left one sliding up to a point two or three inches behind the foul line.

As the first step is taken, the ball is extended forward and then allowed to drop from just above the waist, elbows close to the sides. As the left foot comes forward, the ball is at the lowest point of each swing. Third step finds the ball well back and ready for the forward swing, shoulders parallel to foul line with right arm swinging like a pendulum. Both knees begin to bend starting the slide on the last step. Right arm begins the forward swing. On the slide, the right leg also aids in controlling your balance as well as the left arm which has been used throughout for balance. A smooth release, full follow-through and perfect balance complete the ideal delivery, and the ball is on its way to a perfect strike.

I haven't room to tell you about the scoring of the game, and even if I had I doubt if I could do it, as to me that is the most difficult point of bowling. But any bowling ally manager or player will be glad to show you how to do it.

Kyian Pictures Deadline Set For Tomorrow

Kyian pictures will be made during the remainder of the last week in the basement of Memorial Hall. This is the last week that pictures will be made. Students who have had pictures made should call for and return their proofs to the Lafayette studio.

Pictures are made between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. daily except on Saturdays, when they are made from 9:00 a. m. to 12:00 noon.

CARD STUNT RULES FOR GEORGE WASHINGTON GAME

1. Cards will be found in canvas bags hooked underneath your seats.
2. At the beginning of the game, remove cards from bag, being careful to keep edges in view of opposite stands.
3. As each stand is called, look on your program sheet bearing that numbered stand, raise color printed there.
4. Hold cards called for by program sheet high and to the front. (Program sheets will be inside flap of bag.)
5. Cards are raised UP ON THE GUN and DOWN ON THE WHISTLE. In case of up stands, gun will go off for each formation and cards will be lowered only on the whistle.
6. "Flip" stunts will be indicated by parentheses including two stunts on program sheet. Before stunts, place two ropes called for back to back, so that the colors to be used in the act will be outward and flip movement can be executed smoothly.
7. Remember! DO NOT TREAT THE CARDS! THEY ARE TO BE USED AT EVERY GAME! Upon completion of the last stunt, replace cards in sack and pass to the aide.

FDR Rolls Up 2-1 Majority In Kernel's Poll Of Students

Students Voice Reasons For Choice Of Candidates

By RUSH BROOKE

Reminiscence of the 1936 "Landslide," President Franklin D. Roosevelt's precedent-breaking third-term band wagon rolled to nearly a 2 to 1 majority over Republican Wendell L. Wilkie in The Kernel "straw" vote conducted on the campus during the last week.

The poll, based on a cross-section survey of the student body, gave Roosevelt a majority over all of the (bad sheets except one, where the GOP nominee received a slim two-vote margin. Norman Thomas, perennial Socialist candidate, accounted for only two votes, and Earl Browder, Communist ticket choice, trailed the pack with a single tally.

In answer to the question, "Who, of the candidates announced, do you want to see elected president of the United States this November," students favored the candidates as follows:

FDR	62.4 per cent
Wilkie	34.2 per cent
Thomas	1.2 per cent
Browder	1.8 per cent

The survey was conducted along lines similar to the national poll methods of the Gallup Institute of Public Opinion. A cross-section of the student body was made with tally distributions based proportionately on the enrollments of the various colleges.

Reasons Cited
The attack or support of the Democratic nominee was heard primarily upon approval or disapproval of the New Deal, third term aspirations, conservatism and economic results. Objections to Wilkie were registered because he was a former Democrat, or because he was an industrialist. Conservatism he was approved because of his business affiliations and "realism."

An arts and sciences freshman thought "the only sensible move made in years is the army conscription bill and rearmament of the Roosevelt administration," another student wistfully "chance horses in the mid-stream," while a third declared Roosevelt's record during the past eight years has proven his ability. Wilkie's okay echoed from several flanks. A sophomore coed wasn't much for Wilkie as she was "against Roosevelt," a grad student declared, "Wilkie because he dislikes the policies of FDR; an engineer declared, "No third term for me; anyway, Roosevelt is a spendthrift, and a commerce junior upholds the GOP because he thinks "we need a good business man in office now."

The sole Communist comment came from a graduate student, who declared, "Communism has always been the perfect government in history. Perhaps it is the only one. An intelligent community it would prove most successful." A Socialist supporter will vote for Thomas because "he is the lesser of the evils."

They Say...

By ARTHUR SANDERS

In order to find out how the student body of the University feels about the ever-present question of what kind of dances the Union should have, The Kernel has asked several students what they thought of the two bit hop last Saturday night. The orchestra was colorful and the maestro was Snake Richardson.

Ellen Sullivan, Ohio and A sophomore, said, "The dance was very good. There were plenty of steps."

Joe Lewis, a Pi Kap and a Law junior, replied, "Great relaxation—swell dance!" Sounds like a law student, doesn't it?

Tiny Perry, Com, sophomore and the pride of Phi Kappa Tau, is all for this kind of dance. He said, "It was the best dance since the 'Sadie Hawkins Day' dance of last year. I'm a 'hog' about it."

Laughing, Nervousness Mark Registration In Gym

By ROYCE TAYLOR

From classrooms and offices, football practice and research laboratories came 1,340 students and staff members, 21 to 36 years old, to register for compulsory military service at the gymnasium Wednesday.

Some laughed and some were quiet, and still others showed signs of nervousness as they signed up for the Selective Service Act.

Nearly all of them faced this, the first peace time conscription in the history of the country, with the same attitude: when and if they are called, they will be ready to lay down their text books, put their "eyes" in moth balls, don olive drab, shoulder a rifle along with the next man and take their year's military training as part of their duty as good citizens.

Cooper Writes Letter
Acting President Thomas F. Cooper, in a letter to The Kernel, commended the staff and students of University, saying, "It is with a great deal of pride in you, as citizens of the University, that I wish to acknowledge the fine spirit of cooperation manifested on the campus Wednesday."

"Your willingness to help, your clear understanding of the problems at hand, and the speed and efficiency which you exhibited in handling such a large and unfamiliar task, commanded the respect and admiration of all concerned."

Registration on the campus was second highest in the county. Although enrollment at the gym was heavy there was never a period of waiting for the applicants. Over 630 were enrolled between 7 a.m. and 12 noon by the 71 registrars on duty.

Didn't Take Long
Expecting a long wait in line and a long list of questions to be answered, all applicants were surprised and pleased to find it took less than the estimated 20 minutes and that the questions were few and simple.

There wasn't a single case of stammering or any kind of objection to the draft. Wilkie because he dislikes the policies of FDR; an engineer declared, "No third term for me; anyway, Roosevelt is a spendthrift, and a commerce junior upholds the GOP because he thinks "we need a good business man in office now."

The sole Communist comment came from a graduate student, who declared, "Communism has always been the perfect government in history. Perhaps it is the only one. An intelligent community it would prove most successful." A Socialist supporter will vote for Thomas because "he is the lesser of the evils."

Content of Best Books Dictates Form, Says Boynton

The best books are those whose content dictates their form. Prof. Percy Boynton, author and poet, told students in Wednesday's convocation in Memorial Hall.

The speaker, a member of the University of Chicago's faculty since 1902, was introduced by Prof. L. I. Dantzer of the English department. "To be a good book, the content must provoke thought, contain the 'mystic' element, and be given a form which fits the theme," Professor Boynton said.

It was his opinion the American public must "grow up" to authors, since writers themselves remain on the same level.

He explained the interests and objectives of such writers as Dorothy Canfield, who writes mostly on Vermont, John Steinbeck with his tribal instincts, and Sinclair Lewis and his condemnation of "Main Street."

Mr. Boynton is a graduate of Amherst college, receiving his M.A. from Harvard. In addition to his faculty position with the University of Chicago, he is a co-editor and first chairman of the University of Chicago Round Table.

COLONIALS

With the Colonial backfield intact, it should read something like this: Grady left half, Backs Booth at right half, Sunny Babich at the quarterback post and Wild Fedora at full back and Booth as strong wing blockers and runners with Grady and Fedora handling the punting and kicking. And if from hard needs an all-around man he calls on little Ken "Bul" Baisson, who runs, kicks and passes with equal ability. So far this season, he has sparked his team's offensive play.

Employing the single wingback, a balanced line, and a short punt formation, Brentall relies on power instead of trickery. Since taking over the reins at George Washington Brentall has compiled a record of 11 victories and seven defeats. A single touchdown separated his team's losses from victories last season.

Even Town Folk Try To Enter Dancing Class

By JEAN WILLIAMS

Interest shown in the semi-weekly ballroom dancing classes, being conducted by the physical education department, gives testimony to the fact that University students take their juggling, waltzing, and fox-trotting seriously.

Two hundred students have been accepted for the dance instruction, and many more have applied for enrollment. It was reported. Even townspeople have tried to obtain entrance into the class, but membership is limited to University students.

Maybe more women than men already have mastered the intricate dance steps and acquired ballroom grace and technique, for they are the minority at the class session.

Fundamental steps taught are the one-step two-step, box-step, and waltz. After only a few lessons members of the class have already learned the one-step and box-step. Miss Louise Lewis, who has charge of the class, reported. Mrs. W. L. Willard furnishes rhythm from the keyboard.

This is the third year that the class has been conducted. There has been an increase in enrollment each year. This semester's number being double that of the 1939-40.

Classes are held from 5 to 6 p. m. each Tuesday and Thursday, in the Women's gymnasium.

The schmaltz bands lack the musician's jump and the attitude to play good modern music. They play for purely commercial reasons, and not because they like to express themselves through their music. Of course the commercial end of the business is necessary, but we believe that they carry it to an unwarranted extreme.

Woody Herman, one of the better jump bands, really kicks on his recording of "BESSIE'S BLUES AND RHUMBOOGIE, his two latest Decca labels. Herman's art is best on the Decca number, with Woody clarinet being featured. Also on the Decca label is Jim Dorsey's fine arrangement of the "ON THE TRAIL" Movement of Ferde Groff's GRAND CANYON SUITE. This is one of the older Dorsey's hits.

Our first shipment from Columbia this semester brought us another fine Boogie tune by Will Bradley, "ROCK-A-BYE THE BOOGIE" backed by SCRAMBLE TWO sung by Ray McKinley. This Bradley bunch has plenty of guts in its RIFF BOOGIE. Is slow potent jazz, while SCRAMBLE is a fast "killer" number.

Toddy Wilson, noted hot pianist, continues his fine work with "COCAINAT GROOVE" and "I Ben Webster's sax pyrotechnics stand out. Incidentally, Swing Lane rumors report that Wilson may be with Benny Goodman when he starts out again this month after a two month's rest period. John Kirby's small crew offers very distinctive jazz on "BLUES PETITE" and "ANDI-OLOGY." Billy Kyle has seldom played better piano than on "ANDI-OLOGY."

Tommy Dorsey's latest "SHADOWS ON THE BAND" and "YOU'RE BREAKING MY HEART ALL OVER AGAIN," again proves the trombone maestro to be king of sweet music, aided by Frank Sinatra's smooth vocals. Note particularly the bruce of SHADOWS and Charlie Barnet, leading his band with a powerful sax, gives us the successor to POMPTON TURNPIKE with "WILD MAB OF THE FISH POND." Reverse is a solid arrangement of "NIGHT AND DAY." MAB is one of the best Charlie's waxed.

Red-Heads, Green Bathtubs Trouble Back-Stage Staff

By JIM WOOLDRIDGE

"I simply refuse to act in that horrid pink bathtub," shouted a red-headed actress rehearsing for "The Women." Guignol theater's play which opens in ten days.

So the technical staff had to paint the bath tub a light shade of green. You can see why the Guignol's back stage boys are getting gray-hair so prematurely. They're facing one of the biggest set and property tasks in the little theater's history.

To produce "The Women," 12 different scenes are required and for these 12 scenes a minimum of nine backdrops are needed. A backdrop, or set, resembles a large signboard in size, is painted to represent the background of the particular scene.

But the Guignol stage is shall—only 30 feet from back to front, so how could they get nine sets in this little theater's history.

W'LL BE DAMNED

I have never weered for the Book store, but I have had some dealings with the management, and I want to be one who, after thinking this thing out as clearly as I can, looking through the books of the store, and listening to all and sundry arguments pro and con, is in a position to present the present set-up against anything yet devised. I have found out that you pay for service as well as the product in this age, and service we get in abundance. It's not just that you don't have to wait a week for your books, or go somewhere else for law manuals, or walk across the street for cigarettes, it is the mere fact that nicotine is 16 cents per instead of 17, quiz pads three for a nickel instead of ten cents, twenty cent notebooks fifteen.

It's not just that you can always get your checks cashed at the Book Store, or that they start their employees at forty cents an hour (a campus-high average), it is not that they hold fire sales and practically give away books. You get service at the Book Store and plenty of it, and what is more, you benefit from its profit, for the 7-1/2 per cent gross that goes to the University, and averages plenty, knocks about two dollars off your tuition and mine, and it is not like that idea. In fact, I'm not sure that even a well-run Co-op would save me much more.

It has been tried before and the students didn't save anything. So I would suggest to the students that they take a good look at the facts before they flock to the Co-op or become too bitter in their condemnation of the bookstore. Kendall may whip up something good if given a little time, but at present he is too busy fighting with Pete Grady to be very reliable. In last week's paper the Kendall Book Co. chief said that Pete "oves a public sympathy to me and to every member of the cooperative," and that "he has been a traitor to the welfare of the student body and the cooperative idea."

To this I would reply "Look who's talking."

No Complaints About Heating In This Room

By BOB CONWAY

Called one of the finest in the United States by Dr. R. S. Allen, head of the anatomy and physiology department, the constant temperature and humidity room in the biological sciences building will be completed this week.

Dr. Allen declared that the room is superior to others because both humidity and temperature can be accurately controlled. He further stated that the room will enable University students to conduct experiments possible in no other institution in the country. Room cost $2,950.

The room, which cost $3,000, is designed so that temperature can be controlled from ten to 100 degrees Fahrenheit, and humidity can be varied from 20 to 100 per cent (the saturation point).

M. A. Cabot, mechanical engineer, solved the engineering problem in designing, temperature, and humidity control by using cork insulation and the fan and strip heater system.

The temperature, which is usually kept at 98.6 degrees Fahrenheit, is maintained by three strip heaters, each separately controlled.

Dr. Allen explains the mechanism thus: "When the temperature drops below the required 98.6 degree, a thermostat, which controls a mercury switch, trips the switch and one strip heater starts emitting heat of about 99.1 degrees, or 3 degree greater than is required. When the temperature comes back up to 98.6 degree, the thermostat then breaks the circuit to the heater."

Tests, under normal conditions, demonstrate that the temperature varies less than 3 degree.

Refrigeration is accomplished by a Carrier conditioning unit and fan. Temperatures are made possible by Dole cooling plants. Spray nozzles and fans in open process are used in humidity control.

The room, located on the third floor, will be used for instruction, the water balance and water metabolism work of the anatomy and physiology department. The neighboring college also will use the room for experiments.

The engineering college designed the room, and the Carrier Engineering company, Syracuse, N. Y., constructed. Construction was begun in mid-August.

Guotschall Speaks To Y Group

The only way to eliminate religious and racial ill feeling in the nation is to investigate the real beliefs of each group and try to understand their opinions, the Rev. W. H. Guotschall said at a group of some 200 YMCA-YWCA members at their joint meeting in the Thum building Tuesday night.

All Y organizations were represented at the meeting which Bart Peak, YMCA secretary, opened with a short introduction of the speaker. YMCA President Bill Karstner led the group in a prayer before the address.

The speaker, a member of the conference on Jewish-Christian relations, said that his organization was at present conducting a program in the country to teach groups the actual beliefs of religious organizations and to promote better racial and religious understanding.

Running Wild

By ROY STEINFORT

Who's going to win Saturday's game? Why Kentucky, of course. By how many points? Well, about 14. Anything else you want to know? Eh? Oh, a wise guy huh. Wants to know who's Yehoodi. Think you've got me stumped, ha! Well just let me look into my crystal ball and I'll tell you.

Got it! Why it was a cinch. Yehoodi is the guy that has been putting the evil eye on Ab Kirwan's Wildcats all season long! Sure, he haunts Stoll field, and if you don't believe it I'll prove it to you.

Who do you think it was slipped up behind Junpin' Joe Bailey and sprained his ankle? Yehoodi!

And who was it then put "Dynamo" Dehan's shoulder on the blink? Yehoodi of course. Why it's as plain as the proboscis on your yan.

Combs, Ismael Next Unnoticed, he marched back into the Kentucky camp several days later--this time felling "Hoot" Combs, then Dutch Ismael--banged--ruptured vessel in the right ankle.

Then, Kentucky's board of strategy, Ab Kirwan, Bernie Shively, Frank Mosely, Joe Ruppert, and Joe Huddleston, became aware that something was wrong somewhere. They attempted to circumvent Yehoodi by calling off all scrimmages, but that had little effect. That Yehoodi's pretty tricky.

In rapid succession, he claimed Claude Hammonds with a dislocated shoulder, and quarterback Jessie Jones with a badly bruised shoulder, which caused him to miss three quarters of the Vanderbilt game. His latest victim, "Sully" Jacobs, the 230-pound tackle, received a knee injury Tuesday. He'll be out of Saturday's game and probably the Georgia fair.

If this mysterious character continues to haunt the Kentucky football camp Trainer "Skipper" Mann will have to hire a half dozen assistants. Last season he visited here only once--Noah Mullins of the Tennessee battle. So, take a hint, Yehoodi, you're not wanted. Scram, and make a quick job of it.

Meet Clyde, The Kid! With "Sully" Jacobs on the hospital list, Coach Kirwan late this week called up from the Z Club Clyde Johnson, 230-pound tackle, who stands six foot six inches tall in his stocking feet. The big fellow has caused much comment among Kentucky followers. He has the physical build to be a great player--long hard driving legs, arms that hang almost to his knees, and a pair of hands that resemble two Kentucky hams.

He will relieve Captain John Eilber, with "Steamboat" Reid, Eilber's regular understudy moving over to right tackle to aid Clark Wood.

He hails from Ashland, Kentucky, home of the immortal Bert, Man O' War, Johnson, one of Kentucky's great backs. His actions will be closely watched Saturday, for Kentucky coaches, whether they admit or not, expect something out of the big fellow.

Poole Swimmers Practice In Gym

Kentucky's "poolies" swimming team began practice Wednesday for the 1941 season in its gym annex with a stiff dose of callisthenics. Coach Jimmy Shropshire announced yesterday.

The teams will continue the work-out during the following weeks until a schedule has been arranged. Beginning November 1, the squad will take to the water in the Lexington YWCA pool and practice twice weekly.

Women's Sports

An engraved arrow will be awarded to the winner of the archery tournament to be held from 3 p. m. to 4 p. m. next Thursday and Friday in the field behind Patterson hall. Thirty-five women archers will shoot in the contest, which will conclude the fall archery meetings.

Hockey Played Hockey, WAA's major sport, is being played from 4 p. m. to 5 p. m. every afternoon. More than 50 sportswomen participate in this sport with an approximate number of 20 reporting daily.

Hockey Managers Doris Reichenbach and Doris Settle, are planning to select a first and second team from this group during the next week. Plans will be considered to have this team compete with WAA teams from other universities. Captains for each team will be elected, and the first and second teams will compete during the daily practice periods.

Continuing next week for a second three weeks period, hockey will be played from 4 p. m. to 5 p. m. daily, and all WAA members are invited to play. Points will be given toward WAA awards.

Nine Men Chosen For Pitkin Club

Nine members of the YMCA were inducted into the Pitkin club, a joint YM-YW luncheon group limited to 80 students, at the first meeting of the organization held at noon Tuesday in the Maxwell Street Presbyterian church.

The speaker at the meeting was Dr. Horace Sprague, pastor of the First Methodist church, who discussed methods of facing present world conditions. The permanent speaker for the group has not been selected.

Eleven new YWCA members joined the organization last week.

KENTUCKY'S TIE WITH VANDY RAISES RATING

Cats Classed Ninth In Nation By Litkenhous

Despite the fact that Kentucky emerged with a 7-7 tie in last week's encounter with an amazing and inspired Vanderbilt eleven, Dr. E. E. Litkenhous, nationally known grid prognosticator, elevated the Cats from tenth in the nation to ninth, with 91.7 points, a raise of 11 counts over last week's rating.

This week, George Washington, tomorrow's opponent is given the Cats a rating of 74.8, which gives the Cats a rating of approximately seventeen points.

Another prominent predictor, Paul B. Williamson, rates the Cats forty-fourth in the country with 88.6 points. Last week Williamson placed the Cats twenty-fourth.

It seems there is something radical wrong with one of these rating systems against the Vanderbilt Bill. Williamson should get together, there's no telling what would become of the merger.

KITTENS TO PLAY VANDY FROSH

Myers Despondent Over Team's Chance

Freshman Coach Gene Myers is very despondent over his team's chances against the Vanderbilt Frosh, who will meet in Nashville tomorrow at 2 p. m. in the season's first game.

When asked how he would compare this year's Kitten team with that of last year's Coach Myers replied, "That I can't tell you at present, but I will say that this year's team is not the best freshman team I've coached but it will undoubtedly be the scrappiest.

Of these injuries and lack of reserves, two men will have to play the full 60 minutes. Leonard Preston, and Austin Roberts will play the "iron mile."

Although the Kittens eked out a six point victory last year at Lexington over Vandy they will be underdogs tomorrow for the potent Vandy yearlings.

The remainder of the Kitten schedule includes Cincinnati, to be played in the Queen City November 8, and the Tennessee Baby Vols, their only home game, November 15. The Kittens opened over Cincinnati 27 to 10 last year, while the Tennessee game was canceled because of flooded grounds.

From 'Ike' To 'Preacher,' Wildcats Hoot At Nicknames

By JOHN CARRICO

"Sticks and stones may break my bones, but names will never hurt me." Thus quoth little children in answer to verbal brickbats hurled by mischievous playmates. But to Kentucky's playmates, ranging from Baldwin-Wallace to Tennessee, the Wildcats say, "sticks and stones may break our bones, but names will never hurt us."

To substantiate this gridiron proverb, you have only to look at the imposing array of nicknames which adorn the boys who wear the Blue and White.

Among the freshmen are "Jumping Joe" Bailey and "Ike" Willoughby. How these names were fastened on these boys, even "Old Man Moses" don't know.

"Preacher" Hockett is so-called because he expects to graduate from the University of Kentucky in the summer of 1941.

Henry Denham answers, quite a few names, including "One-Play" (from his exploit against W. & L.), "Copperhead" (of Ky. Albion's fame), "Dead-pan" (origin unknown) and "Dynamo" (origin suspected but not revealed).

Even Injuns In the backfield, Herbert has been called "Rough Robert" in the sports pages and "Geronimo" by his teammates. The latter was laced on because of his resemblance to the famous Indian chief--or maybe because he is just bad medicine to any palface who gets in his way.

Noah Mullins doesn't sport any nicknames. "Big John" won't stick because Noah put his foot down on that one. So it remains Noah with no reference to the Ark included. "Hoot" Combs has always been "Hoot" and no one has ever attempted to change it.

Junior Jones, over an amplifier, might make a few suckers and remain like "Oh, my, my, my" and "What a lovely name!" until the scolding ones saw him in action, when, where the they'd see that Charles Robert just doesn't apply to "Junie." "Dutch" Ismael is "Dutch" because of his Dutch ancestry.

Panama hats are so-called because they cross Panama on their way north from Ecuador where they are made.

Can't Name Allen Ernie Allen is the toughest one to keep a nickname fastened on. He was labeled the "Mighty Mite from Morrison," but that proved too low. It was shortened to "Erynie," with "nute" receiving the accent. Still it was too low. Then came Ernie "General" Allen, "General" signifying that he was a one-man platoon.

Next followed "Ernie Squirm" referring to his elusive running. After that one wore off, "Flip" was attempted. This too followed the way of its predecessors.

So Allen remains unchristened, nicknames clinging to him about as effectively as tacks.
