FROM THE EDITOR'S Desk

Rob Aken, after two years of peerless editing, has passed the Green Bean on to me. I would like to thank Rob for the excellent job he's done.

The Green Bean is your publication, so your ideas & contributions are always welcome. I have in mind a few features, new columns & surprises in store, so watch for them. I welcome your comments.

-Kerry Kresse

Continuing Education

To help meet the continuing education of library professionals in Kentucky, the UK College of Library & Information Science, the UK Library System and the University Extension Community Education Division have banded together. The Advisory Council on Continuing Education in Library & Information Science consists of six members committed to:

1. develop ideas for continuing education programs
2. to react to program ideas
3. rank the broad program ideas
4. advise on specific program agendas.

This Year's committee includes:

Larry Allen, College of Library & Information Science.
Trudy Bellardo, College of Library & Information Science.
John Bryant, M.I. King Libraries
Suzanne La Barron, Practitioner
Don Schnakel, Practitioner
Joy Terhune, College of Library & Information Science.

For more information, contact Timothy Sineath, Dean, College of Library & Information Science.

Chemistry/Physics Library

On Monday, Sept. 23, Dr. Reiner Luckenbach, Director of the Beilstein Institute (West Germany) will present a 2-hour lecture on using Bulstein's Handbook of Organic Chemistry. Refreshments are provided courtesy of Springer-Verlag New York. For more information call 257-5954.

ON A FURTHER NOTE OF INTEREST

Seminars

What do Norman, Oklahoma (that's right - Norman, OK) & Oxford, England have in common? Give up? They are jointly sponsoring a seminar on "English Libraries & Librarianship." It will be held in Oxford May 18 June 6, 1986. For complete information contact.

Database Management Tutorials

Joe Phillips, Assistant Librarian at Lexington Community College, will offer individual tutorials in the use of PFS File/Report and DB Master software beginning September 16. Both of these programs are widely used in libraries and are available for both IBM and Apple microcomputers.

The cost of each of the tutorials is $10.00.

Library uses for database management software include booklists & bibliographies, acquisitions, equipment inventory & maintenance schedules, employee work scheduling, serials control, circulation of small collections, and a host of others.

Participants will work at their own pace. Software and all materials are provided; the $10.00 fee includes everything.

To register phone Joe Phillips, 247-6095.

A Paul Nestor Creativity Award

The A. Paul Nestor Quasi-Endowment for Employee Creativity has been established in order to award regular full-time Lexington Campus staff members who best exemplify the excellence expected of all UK employees. A $200 cash award will be presented in a special ceremony to the winner. Nominations are due October 1, 1985. For more information contact Kerry Kresse at 257-5954.

LIBRARY JOURNALS ROUTING SERVICE

The journals routing service is available to all staff members in King, branch, and associate libraries and the Medical Center Library. The only requirement for receiving the service is that you agree to hold issues no longer than 3 days before routing them to the next person on the list.

Please make your selections from the list below. A title chosen by less than six people will not be routed. In anticipation of a heavy response, we ask you to select only those titles that are of primary interest to you. If you select more than five (5) titles, please indicate which five are your top choices---just in case we have to establish a limit. Please remember that library faculty and staff are also eligible for the Table of Contents Service, which might suffice for titles of secondary interest.

Return the list below marked with your selections by October 11, 1985 to Sara Farley, Central Serials Record. If you have any questions, please call me at 7-8388 or Michelle Gardner at 7-1101. Thank you.
