

THE KENTUCKY KERNEL OFFICIAL NEWSPAPER OF THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

the Spice Of Life

By Amy Price and Helen Dorr
While discussing the Sigma Nus last week, "Wright or Wrong" stated: "And just think, back in '29, they didn't have Red Wilson." The Sigma Nus are protesting. They claim that Red Wilson was here in 1929.

In Defense Of The Kernel

With the decision of the Student Government Association to conduct an inquiry into the Kernel's system of campus news coverage, this writer, a guest editor, believes that perhaps some light can be shed upon a subject which transcends mere criticism of this paper.

Wright Or Wrong

By Orin Wright
Being candid with a woman, even if you are trying to be humorous, is a dangerous thing. Thinking it over more carefully, the only reason I can find for writing this thing is that I promised to do so last week. I hate to be called a liar or a hypocrite.

FROM THE GREEKS

The main Greek social event of this afternoon is the annual Tri-Delt tea dance, to be held at the Lexington Country club from 2 to 6 p.m., with Bobby Elliott furnishing the music. Branch invitations have been issued to each fraternity, Mary Julia Semmel, social chairman, is in charge of arrangements.

Three open houses are scheduled for this afternoon: KDX for the Sigma Nu's, AD Pits for the Kappa Sigs, and Chi O's for the Deltas. After the Chi O open house, the Deltas will entertain the group with a buffet supper at the Delt house.

The Sigma Chi and the KA's are planning river parties tomorrow and Saturday night's chief event will be the Triangle initiation banquet at 7:30 in the Thoroughbred room at the Phoenix hotel. John Cochman, social chairman, made the plans.

Other initiation banquets will be the Zeta's Sunday night in the Phoenix Thoroughbred room, and the KDX on Monday.

The Thetas initiated last Sunday and followed it with an initiation luncheon. Jerry Hinson received the Colonel Eabin W. Wilson Scholarship badge and Ann Park was awarded the ring for being the best Theta pledge.

Delta Zeta's national field director, Miss Alice Dickey, was at the Alpha Theta house here from Tuesday until Friday. The Delta Zeta State Day banquet, held at the Kentucky Hotel in Louisville Saturday, was attended by the following members from UK: Roberta Anderson, Parks Shehan, Bettye Mosby, Patricia Hine, Martha Quillen, Mary Lee McRoberts and Aunette Faulkner.

Delta Zeta's entertainers had a party Tuesday night and a Sunday morning breakfast. Delta Chi fraternity entertained with a river party at Boonesboro Saturday night, April 12. Jack Crawford, Bruce Syre and Rex Beatty were in charge of arrangements.

Last Tuesday night the ADP's had a buffet supper, and Wednesday night ZTA little sisters took their big sisters to dinner.

The Sigma Nu's had a beach party on Herrington lake last Saturday afternoon and night at Dorn's hotel. Festivities began at 2 p.m. and a buffet supper was served the active, pledges, alumni and dates at 7. Boating, dancing, and other games were enjoyed, with the arrangements being made by social chairman Bill Totty and Louise Trigg.

The ATO officer we listed as "keeper of annals" somehow turned out in print as "keeper of annals." Here's hoping there's no mention of a "horse dinner" this time.

Kentucky Educators Begin Taylor For President Drive

NEA Convention To Be In July

Kentucky educators have begun a nation-wide campaign for the election of Dr. William S. Taylor, dean of the College of Education, as president of the National Education Association.

The election will be held at the national convention of the NEA at Cincinnati in July, and W. P. King, executive secretary of the Kentucky Education Association, is chairman of a committee of state educators which is sponsoring the candidacy of the University educator.

Mr. King is setting up a national committee and state committees throughout the nation. It is expected that the campaign will be launched formally after the state convention of the KEA in Louisville this week.

Dean Taylor's candidacy already has been endorsed by boards of directors of the 11 district associations of the KEA, the state board of directors of the department of classroom teachers of the KEA and numerous other educational groups.

No Statement This Week

The Kernel was unable to reach Dean Taylor this week for comment on his rapidly-developing candidacy for the national office of a state representative was promised by next week.

Now a member of the executive committee of the KEA, Dr. Taylor has been an active member of the association for more than 30 years. He has served as a member of the NEA board of directors, resolutions committee and as chairman of the committee on reorganization and of the committee on academic freedom. At present, he is secretary-treasurer of the National Association of Departments of Education and chairman of the commission on curriculum problems and research of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Came Here In 1923

He came to the University as dean of education in 1923. He was transferred from Western State Teachers college in 1930, received his baccalaureate degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1932, and his doctorate from Columbia in 1935.

Many Refuse Positions

Many of the deans of the colleges questioned this week about negotiations of other schools with members of their faculty, said that they have no idea until the teacher appears with his decision or mentions the offer in regard to bargaining purposes, that he had received an offer.

However, the president said that more faculty members turn down offers than accept them. Some of the most outstanding men on the campus have refused positions paying up to $3,000 more than their present salaries.

Dean W. S. Taylor of the College of Education said that university, and colleges in the North, East and West have been approaching members of his faculty. He asserted that every man on his staff under 60 years of age has been approached with offers. Three men added to his faculty last year have recently been offered jobs paying up to $2,700 more than they receive now, as has one other man in the college.

Commerce Loses Four

He said that the elementary and secondary schools in the state are working with a staff of 5,500 emergency teachers, indicating a shortage of that many accomplished and qualified instructors.

The College of Commerce has lost four major men—to midwestern schools and the state department—and stated that they had no idea how many men in the college had been offered positions which they had refused.

In the Department of Journalism

For example, men have been approached by five universities in the last three weeks. Dr. Niel Plummer, head of the department, revealed.

President Donovan stated that the students in the state, by realizing the facts, can build public sentiment as a safeguard to their own and their children's futures. Meanwhile, he said, "The University will carry on building with the youth which, though unexperienced, is the key to the future."

Physics Department Receives Equipment

The physics department has just received a Gieger-Muller counter, the same type of instrument used by the Army and Navy at Bikini to measure radio-activity of such elements as radium, uranium and thorium.

In addition to the counter, the department has received two standards of uranium, the total count of which is 261 milligrams, and a type 100 Hi-vac mercury pump. The pump has been on order for a year and cost $1,300.

Rail Program To Open Here

School Facilities Will Be Used

The officers of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company voted to have their employee training conducted through the facilities of the University. They reached this decision after an extensive survey of the methods in similar programs by other railroad companies throughout the United States.

This week faculty members are meeting with Mr. G. C. Howard, director of personnel for the lines, and 15 of his consultants to formulate a program. The main emphasis will be placed on modern supervisory practices and employee-public relations.

According to Prof. Thomas L. Hankins, head of the department of Industrial Education, the railroad plans to send twenty of its high ranking officers from every section of the system to the University for a comprehensive one week course. After these executives have completed the course, they will train additional men who, in turn, will continue the teaching program until each of the 33,000 men employed by the railroad have received this instruction.

Members of the faculty who have participated in the formulation of the program besides Professor Hankins are: Dr. James Calvin, Department of Psychology; Prof. Charles R. Crumpton, Department of Industrial Education; Dr. Ellis Ford Harford, professor of education; Dr. Leonard S. Meace, associate professor of educational administration; Dr. William S. Taylor, dean of the College of Education; Prof. Walter M. Baker, assistant professor of education; and Dr. Charles R. Spaul, associate professor of education.

K-Club Meeting Held

The K-Club held its first meeting of the year Monday night in the Union building.

Members advocated stopping men on the campus from wearing letter sweaters other than UK sweaters.

Terrell Will Attend Meeting In Arizona

Dr. Philip Levine, noted bacteriologist and serologist and co-discoverer of the Rh blood factor, was guest of honor and principal speaker at a banquet meeting sponsored by the Bacteriology society Tuesday night at 7 o'clock in the Student Union building.

Speaking on "The Clinical Aspects of the Rh Factor," Dr. Levine used picture slides to indicate the results of his experiments with Dr. Karl Landsteiner and Dr. Alexander S. Wiener on the importance of the Rh factor and its significance.

Together with Dr. Weiner, he received an award last year from the American Society of Clinical Pathologists for work on the factors, and later he and his colleagues were recipients of a Lasker award by the American Public Health Association for their research in the Rh factor.

Hines Leaves For Alaska

Freshman Writer Plans Homestead

Jimmy Hines, freshman in the department of journalism, left Monday for his home at Horse Branch on the first leg of a trip to Juneau, Alaska, where he will become a homesteader on 160 acres of government land.

The 20-year-old author of Western fact, fiction and poetry articles explained, "I've always wanted to go to Alaska, because it's a land of opportunity for those who can rough it. I wanted to go when I was 16 years old, but since I didn't have a family I wasn't eligible until now."

Hines enrolled in the University last September after having served in the infantry during the war, and upon being discharged December 22, 1944 on 90 per cent disabled, having taught a rural school near Hartford for seven months.

Although Hines has never been farther west than Arkansas and has never ridden a bronco or owned a six-shooter, he has earned about $3,000 writing for Western publications, and has sold approximately 150 of his poems, articles and stories.

Art Club To Exhibit Pictures In Union

Works of art by the University's art students will vie for attention with works of established artists according to a plan inaugurated by the student art club at the Monday night meeting. Beginning this week two "pictures-of-the-week" will be hung in the hall of the Student Union building.

An oil-painting, "Landscape" the work of student-veteran Harold Pace, Lexington, will be displayed opposite this week's choice from the art department's color-prints, George Gross's watercolor, "Central Park." The Gross painting is one of the pictures available for loan to UK students under an art club plan.

Charles Boggs, acting chairman of the club, stated that the purpose of the plan is to stimulate student interest in the work of UK art students as well as the painting of well-known artists. New pictures will be hung

Animal Kingdom In Danger; Women's Pride Loose Again

By John D. Engle, Jr.
It is no wonder that the catfish like a mile in self-defense. And it is very easy to understand why the peacock hides from the eyes of his fellow fowls.
Jumping from feathers to furs it becomes evident that the fox has a very good reason for being shy and elusive. And the mink has no need to explain why he practices his habits of seclusion. The strange actions of these animals are defensive measures which express themselves to any humane and sympathetic observer.

Pride An Enemy
These innocent, furred and feathered creatures have obviously been brought to a state of shame and fear, and the cause of that shame and fear is also obvious. These animals have a more dangerous weapon than the stomic bomb aimed at the pride of pale-faced, female big game who swagger down city streets with feathers that belong to the tails of birds and furs that would look much nicer on the animals for which they were intended.
It is strange and absurd that what is known as civilization should still cling to primitive tastes in style and dress. There certainly isn't much difference in the appearance of the cannibal queen who wears bones in her hair and the modern vampire who looks as though a pleasant has made a crash landing on her cranium.

Enemy Scalphs
The bearskin rug and the coonskin cap had a practical purpose in grandfather's day. But today it is nauseating to see two hundred pounds of feminine pride elevated on spike heels and draped with pelts which are worn merely as ornamental—pelts which are flaunted in the same staid manner as a savage might flaunt the scalps of an enemy.

There are certain periods, however, when the original owners of furs and feathers can rest at peace. The ostrich can remove his head from out of hiding, and the turkey can be free to roam the woods unobscured. This happens infrequently at times goes by and because female pride is lost, but because the intelligent masters of the world are so busy killing each other that they have no time to exercise death-dealing pride on their lowly country.

But men always get bored with the game of war, or else they become disgusted with the results and try to plan for a bigger, more exciting war. And while the big men who pull the strings are planning, what is left of the puppets remove their uniforms. There is more time for pride.

Math Society Plans Contest

Prizes Offered Will Total $40

Phi Mu Epsilon, mathematics recognition society, is offering prizes totaling $40 to the three top winners in a math examination to be held in the latter part of April or the first part of May.
The winners will be determined by a competition which will be conducted by Miss Virginia Rohde, assistant director of Phi Mu Epsilon.
Competitors for the prizes must have a junior standing in the University and must be taking or have taken differential equations. The examination will be written and will be about mathematics that the students have completed so far in college.

Dr. H. H. Downing, president of the society and head of the math department, said that the contest is the first to be held and that the society plans to make it an annual affair. He stated that the main interest in the society is to encourage interest in mathematics and to encourage study and good work in the subject.
Judges for the contest will be selected at a later date and the winners will be announced shortly after May 10.

The society will hold its annual picnic the last part of May. Annual officers will be held at that time.

Education College Faculty Members Attend Conference

Dr. Charles R. Spain, associate professor of education and chairman of the committee to study elementary education in Kentucky, and Mrs. May K. Duncan of the education college, attended a committee meeting at Mammoth Cave last week-end.
The committee is working under the auspices of the Southern States Work Conference and will report its findings at a general meeting of the conference to be held at Daytona Beach, Fla., in June.

The Southern States Work Conference, under the general chairmanship of Dr. Edgar L. Mowbray of Tallahassee, Fla., is composed of members in twelve southern states. At the general meeting the committees will submit reports, which will then be combined into one general report on the findings of the committees for the southern states.

Faculty, Students Display Paintings In Annual Exhibit

Several University faculty members, one staff member, and one student have paintings in the fifteenth annual exhibition of central Kentucky artists in the Art gallery of the Biological Sciences building.
Professor Edward W. Bannell, head of the art department, has on exhibition one painting, "Girl"; Assistant Professor Raymond Barr, two paintings, "Asterism" and "Rehearsal"; Assistant Professor Clifford Amey, two paintings, "Hunter" and "Gandy Dancers"; Dorothy K. Ullall, staff, two paintings, "Rapids" and "Spring Thaw"; Miss Kathleen Student, five paintings, "The Crucifixion," "Young Modern '46," "Helen Vance, 1946," "The Little Tin Soldier," and "The Fortunate"; and two former students, Katherine McGinnis and Theres Newhoff, two paintings each.

Auto Horn Blowers In Hospital Vicinity Subject To Arrest

"University students are subject to laws and arrest in Lexington the same as private citizens," said Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, vice president of the University.
Commenting on the statement by Lexington Police Chief Austin B. Price that students who persist in blowing automobile horns in the vicinity of the Good Samaritan hospital at the institution's crippled children's branch on Harrison street are in danger of arrest.
Police and attendants at the hospital, as well as residents of the area have complained that students honk on their automobile horns in that vicinity.
Dr. Chamberlain further stated that he hopes that the students will be thoughtful enough that the force of law will not have to be brought to bear.

Cat Clippings

By Tom Diskin
Beginning in 1948 the University of Florida will be added to the football schedule of Kentucky. The contract between the two schools is for four years with the first game to be played here in Lexington on November 13, 1948. The second game will be held in Gainesville on November 5, 1949; then Lexington, October 28, 1950; and finally Gainesville, October 27, 1951.

With the addition of Florida to the Wildcat grid schedule, the new SEC ruling will be met. Under a recent conference edict it is necessary that each SEC football team play six other teams in the conference each season, effective next year. Besides Florida UK will meet Mississippi, Georgia, Vanderbilt, Alabama and Tennessee. The Gators will probably replace Evansville on the 'Cats' grid card.

Senior's Balfour's Senior Invitations Are Now On Sale At The Campus Book Store

Several high school football stars of last season have joined the Wildcats in spring practice for try-outs under the watchful eye of "Bear" Bryant. Among them are Ray Ford, center from Anniston, Alabama, who made All-State here in 1945 and '46; "Shorty" Jamerson from Henderson, a Kentucky All-State high school star; Pope of Harlan, is a lineman who is showing up well; and Forrest, a 19 year-old grinder from Fulton, may develop into a real passer.
The always powerful Tennessee football team faces the following eleven this fall: At Knoxville—Duke, TPI, Chattanooga, Boston College, and Vanderbilt; Away—Georgia Tech, Alabama, North Carolina, Mississippi and Kentucky.

Float Application Blanks Available

Blue And White Grid Games Planned Soon

Two intersquad football games are in the making to give students and Lexingtonians an advanced preview of Coach Paul Bryant's second edition of the Kentucky Wildcats.
One game has been scheduled for Thursday May 1 and will be played under the lights on Stoll field. This game is being sponsored by the Lexington Salesmen's Club and will start at 7:30 p.m. Admission will be $1.00 to townspeople while student books will be good for admission of students.
The second battle between the Blue and White outfits will be handled by the "K" Club on the campus. As yet a definite date has not been set, but the game will probably be played the following week-end.

Paul Bryant, grid coach, said last month that he is worried over the tackle and backfield positions more than any others. The backfield positions are still wide open and it's anybody's guess just who will be the starting backs come September 20 and Mississippi.

Track Team To Meet TPI, Vanderbilt

By Windfield Leathers
Despite a high wind, wet track, and cold weather, oval candidates for Kentucky's track squad racked up surprising efforts in time trials Wednesday afternoon to qualify for traveling berths to Cookeville, Tenn., for today's meet with the T.P.I. and tomorrow's meet with Vanderbilt at Nashville. The team was scheduled to leave at 7 o'clock this morning in a chartered bus.

Big Jim Weber, the only letterman returning from last year's small squad, is scheduled to be the busiest man on the UK team as he is slated to throw the discus and the shot put besides running in still 200 low and the 110 high hurdles events.

Booked for triple duty by Coach Phil Hudson are Anthony Dallas in the broadjump, high and low hurdles, and Johnny Mohaus in the broadjump and the 100 and 200 yard dashes. Marvin Nicholson will also compete in the broadjump while Gibson will complete the low hurdles entries.

Forming against a stiff wind and tough competition, Kenneth Thomas, a St. Xavier product of Louisville, turned in the surprise of the evening in the 100 and 200 yard dashes with a very fast time, considering the wet condition of the track. Mohaus from Marshall of Louisville, and Don Sherlock, star centerman last season at Leavenworth placed second and third respectively, in both of the dashes.

In the longer runs are Kercher, 440; Taylor, 800; Grimes and Moody, mile and five miles, and the 10 mile and 20 mile. Others will make the trip to enter the relay, javelin throw, shot and discus events, and yesterday afternoon Coach Hudson was still undecided.

Next week, Kentucky's barriers will stay home on familiar grounds to meet the combined strength of Georgetown and Centre colleges. Also on May 3, UK entertains the Tennessee Volunteers in what should be Kentucky's toughest match on the five-meet schedule.

Rollins Chosen Most Valuable

Basketball is officially through. A banquet at the end of any sport's scheduled season is the finale and the Alumni association has feasted Coach Adolph Rupp and his boys. Captain Kenny Rollins was named by his mates as the "most valuable player" and received a trophy for the distinction. Letter awards totaled 15 and were given to Rollins, Tingle, Gross, Beard, Holland, Barstow, Jordan, Davis, Parker, Lane, Brannum, Jones, Barker, Cummins and student manager Vesdin. Numbers were received by freshmen managers Crafton and Siegel. No mention of his future plans was made by the Baron, who took all blame for the Utah upset in the New York Invitational. "I got all the credit last year when we won so I'll take the blame this time. A coach should be able to whip up a couple of baskets in a close game anyhow. By his continual references to 'our team next year,' many hope he plans to turn down lucrative pro offers to return to UK.

Miss Helen King, Alumni secretary, was in charge of arrangements for the banquet. A floor show and dance followed.

Many of the students who turned out for the opening baseball game with Xavier this week had to be denied admission because they failed to bring their student books, Coleman Smith, ticket manager, reported.

Ticket books were issued this quarter in order that students could get in to see the Cats' home games without paying admission. Admission to all others will be $5.00.

The next home game is with the Cincinnati Bearcats next Tuesday. All home games will be played at the Legion Park on South Broadway. Week-day games start at 3 p.m. and Saturday games begin at 2 o'clock.

All student books are good for admission to each home game. Any student who hasn't received his student book may do so by stopping by the ticket office in the Men's gym. However, they should do so by the first of the month.

Cat Nine Plays Cincinnati After Losing To Xavier 18-15

By Tom Diskin

The Kentucky Wildcats baseball nine lost to Xavier 18-15 Tuesday afternoon in a 30-run contest held at Legion Park. For almost three hours the two teams pounded out base hits and finally the game was called at the end of eight innings because of darkness.

Both teams, especially Kentucky, showed poor pitching. Only Xavier's Sapp lasted more than a few innings on the pitching mound. Chambers, Wild, Barker and Allen of UK were all hit consistently by the Muskies.

At the plate the Wildcats showed plenty of power. Ralph Beard, second baseman, hit a homer into deep center field. Rollins, first outfielder, connected for a triple, while Thomas got two doubles and John Steuch knocked out another two base ball, an automatic double, over the short right field fence.

In the hit department, Bill Thomas, UK catcher, led the parade with three successful clouts in four at-bats. Hammer, Slough, and Rollins were net with two hits each.

Tomorrow afternoon's game with Maroons has been postponed until April 28. Thus the men game for the Cats is Tuesday when they battle Cincinnati at Legion Park. Game time is 2 p.m. Two days later, on

Exhibition Match Planned Tomorrow By Fencing Club

Kentucky's fencing club is holding an exhibition intra-squad match tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 p. m. in Alumni gym, according to Karl Holland, fencing coach. Practice began this week for the first time since the winter quarter's end, and the boys seem to be shaping up nicely.

After this prep work session, several matches will be held before putting away the foils and sabers at the season's end. To date, the club has fought three meets, losing the first one 10-16 to the Charleston, W. Va., semi-pro outfit, ending in a 11-11 tie in its local debut with the Louisville YMCA fencers, and being closely slayed 9-8 by the same Falls City club in the last outing.

Intramural Softball Play Begins Monday With 22 Teams Listed

By O. C. Halvard

Registration for the spring season of intramural softball ended Tuesday with 22 teams signed up and ready to play ball Monday. The teams have been separated into three divisions and will play a round robin series first to determine which teams qualify for the elimination tournament.

The top four teams in each division according to their round robin results will advance to the elimination tourney. A majority of the games will be played on the intramural field beside Alumni gym with some scheduled on the U-High lot. Seventeen of the 22 teams entered representing fraternities, with the other five coming from independent organizations. A limit of 20 players has been placed on the independent teams with the fraternities naturally being limited to members of their organizations.

Division I will inaugurate play Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock on the intramural field when the Phi Sigas meet the ASPs, the Deltas play the Hornets, and the Phi Deltas tangle with the Sud Socks. The Sigma Chis, only other team in the division, drew their one bye for the round robin play in the opener.

In division II, the Sigma Nus, along with the Sig Eps and Dorm I

Racquetees Will Try Again This Saturday With Sewanee Here

Old man weather claimed another victory over the UK racquetees, when wet courts prevented the scheduled meet with Centre college last Saturday afternoon. This made the second on the Cats' schedule that has had to be postponed or cancelled. However, Coach Ray Durham has not given up hope, and has continued to put his men through the paces, taking advantage of the Wildcats' own clay courts this week for practice sessions. The team has been preparing for this Saturday's game with Sewanee which is listed for the Downing courts at 2 o'clock.

Students as well as townspeople are invited to come out for the match, which will feature the Cats in their first competition this season. Coach Durham is looking forward to seeing his squad in action to gain much needed experience before they tangle with Notre Dame and other big schools on the schedule.

John Meyerholz and Tommy Asbury are the only two members on the squad who saw action against the Irish and the Bearcats of Cincinnati with last year's team. However, Coach Durham believes he has a good bunch of candidates out who should develop into a well-rounded team, provided they ever get into some real action.

Boxing and wrestling ended successfully last Friday night with the trophy going to the Deltas who accumulated 28 points in the two sports. The ATO's were second with 20 points and will receive a runners-up trophy. The PDT's finished a close third with 17 points.

Complete schedules of play in all three divisions are posted in the intramural office and intramural managers are urged to check this schedule. Only one forfeit will be allowed a team with the second automatically cancelling the team's chances of entering the elimination tournament.

All games in the round robin play will be limited to five innings. Games which have to be cancelled because of rain or wet grounds will be rescheduled, and it will be the responsibility of the manager to check with the intramural office to determine when the game has been slated.

UK Linkmen In Southern Intercollegiate Tournament

Play began yesterday in the tenth renewal of the Southern Intercollegiate golf tournament being held at Athens, Ga. Kentucky's entry is bidding for its first Dixie championship in competition with representatives of 20 other schools and a field of 125 or more golfers.

Newly chosen UK captain, freshman Johnny Owens Jr., and his team of Bill Dudley Baker, Dick Hicks, Marvin Lear, and Bud Lewis left here Tuesday afternoon for the three day event.

Having conquered five foes and gained an 18-18 tie with the strong Notre Dame linkmen to remain undefeated, the Wildcats have a better than even chance to cop the Dixie championship and topple I. S. U., the defending champions, from the throne it has claimed for five of the nine tourneys.

The shot makers begin match play today, paired on basis of scores recorded yesterday, for the individual Southern intercollegiate title. Two rounds will be held today with semi-finals slated for tomorrow morning and the finals carded for the afternoon.

All of the Kentucky linkmen are former titlists of some sort with Hicks holding the most prized one at the present time. He is the defending state amateur champion, while Barker and Owens are former Central Kentucky title holders. Lear is a former city crown-wearer of Lexington, while Lewis is a former city titlist of Ashland.
