NATIONAL PAN-HELLENIC ADMITS KY. SORORITY

Alpha Delta Theta Becomes Member of National Council

At a meeting of the National Pan-Hellenic Council of fraternity women, held in Boston, October 22, Alpha Delta Theta was admitted as a national fraternity. Before a fraternity is admitted into the council, five chapters must exist which are voted on when the convention is held.

Alpha Delta Theta was founded in 1919 at Transylvania College and now the chapters number five, which are located in the following Universities: Alpha, Transylvania; Beta, University of Kentucky; Gamma, University of Cincinnati; Delta, University of Illinois, and Epsilon, at Butler College, Indianapolis.

National Pan-Hellenic is always desirous of admitting new fraternities into the council and best wishes have been extended the local chapter for its growth and development.

Beta chapter was organized in 1922, with the following girls as charter members: Lucy Wilson, Opal Cox, Margaret Cole, Esther Higgins, Alma Professor Wm. S. Webb, University of Kentucky, Lexington, Kentucky.

Dear Professor Webb:

Will you please say to the freshman class for me, as chairman of the general committee, that their action and interest in this matter has given me keener pleasure than any one of the fine things which have happened in connection with the entire campaign. I regard it as meaning more for our dear University and old Kentucky than anything that has happened at the University during my recollection.

If they put this thing through as outlined in your letter, it means the beginning of that finer and greater day for the University and old Kentucky, for which many of us absent ones have been hoping for years. If this thing is done, this freshman class will go down in history as one of the greatest benefactors of the University, and the most potent power for good in the state in recent years.

Cordially and faithfully yours,
C. C. CALHOUN.

$40,000 IN FOUR YEARS IS QUOTA OF FRESHMEN IN STADIUM CAMPAIGN

Basketball Building To Be Dedicated to The Class of '27

DRIVE TO START OCT. 30

Freshmen and All New Students Are Eligible For Subscription

A fund—$40,000—the name of the basketball stadium to stand as a memorial to them for all times and the satisfaction of having done a great thing for the University of Kentucky, which after 1927 will be their Alma Mater, is the aim of the freshman class of this institution.

The campaign to raise the fund will start Tuesday, October 30, and will have its termination on Friday, just before the "tug of war" between the sophomore and freshman classes. Forty teams of two persons each will comprise the working force to put the drive over and with every freshman interested in the big movement, there is little doubt that on the eve of the great Centre-Kentucky game the word will be spread that the freshmen have gone over the top.

The need of the additional amount is known by everyone who has taken any interest in the building program and to the class of '27 goes the honor of giving the last bit necessary before actual construction on the stadium will start. Already a good showing has been made on the basketball building and at the end of the present football season, work will begin on the large stadium.

The button illustrated in the cut on this page is the badge of honor to be worn by the subscribers to the fund during the campaign. Among the ones who are eligible to subscribe are the freshmen and about two hundred new students enrolled in this institution for the first time in their school career.

The quota of every new student is set at forty dollars, this to be paid in four years and the person pledging the amount may get anyone to subscribe all, or any part of the pledge, thus eliminating the necessity of paying it personally.

Any information in regard to the drive may be obtained at the "Y"

NOTICE!

Proofs for pictures in "The Kentuckian" will be shown in the office from 3:30 to 5:30 daily. Numbers 450 to 1175 will be ready Friday.

The Class of Nineteen Twenty-seven, Greetings:

Six months ago the undergraduates of the University blazed a trail unknown in collegiate circles of Kentucky. They showed a spirit many times bigger than was rightfully expected of them.

Now you are surrounded by conditions that might reasonably be expected to beget considerable loyalty and enthusiasm. Just how far above the Kentucky average you are we of the alumni have yet to learn.

I would like to see you just sweep us off our feet—like the Wildcats handled Washington and Lee in the last half. Why not make us back numbers when it comes to doing something big and fine for old Kentucky? Make the state gasp with your determination to do things. Where is the man who is afraid to try?

Yours to win,
HERBERT GRAHAM,
Secretary.

SEVENTEEN CHOSEN FOR YEAR'S STROLLER PLAY

120 Students Try Out For Eligibility to Try Cast

Booth Tarkington's "Seventeen" has been selected as this year's Stroller play. It is a cleverly written comedy—charming and amusing from start to finish. It was played in New York several seasons and has met with great applause all over the country, being the prize play of 1918. For the past few years the Stroller productions have been of a deeper type but now the organization has become so efficient that it feels competent to put on a play of lighter vein—a much more difficult undertaking. The new Stroller material combined with that already tested in the past three years will furnish ample dramatic talent for a superior and select cast for "Seventeen" which bids fair to excel all previous Stroller productions.

Stroller tryouts were held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and a large number of aspirants gathered at the Little Theatre to have their dramatic ability passed upon. The tryouts were in the form of one-act skits, no skit having more than five characters. About 120 students tried out during the three days and among this number several actors of real ability were discovered.

The three best plays will be reproduced on amateur night, October 31, and the best of the three awarded a prize. At this time the names of those making Stroller eligibility will be read.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Beginning Friday, November 2, the Su-Ky Circle will sell blue and white streamers for people to wear to the State-Centre game and also for decorative purposes for automobiles. The proceeds will be used to buy a satin K banner. Show your loyalty by buying your streamers from the Su-Ky Circle.

WELFARE COMMITTEE MEETS ADMINISTRATIVE COUNCIL IN DISCUSSION

Student Problems Brought Before Body For Consideration

MARY PETERSON PRESIDES

Faculty Pledges Co-operation; Committees Are Appointed

The student welfare committee of the University Women's Club met jointly with the members of the Men's and Women's Administrative Councils in the Little Theatre Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 for the purpose of finding in what ways that organization may be of most help to the student body.

Mary Peterson, president of the Women's Council, presided over the discussion. Dean Melcher and Dean Jewell made short talks. Mrs. Farquhar, Mrs. Boles and Mrs. Maxon expressed the club's desire of being of some practical help to the students, as well as bringing them into closer personal and social contact with their professors. Plans of helping with fraternity house management problems and of appointing an "official mother" for each home were talked over.

The members of the council spoke for the entire student body in their expressions of gratitude for the interest of the Woman's Club, and promised to take their plans back to their various organizations for further consideration.

After the business of the meeting was finished, tea and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed.

The members of the Student Welfare Committee, to which all students are urged to go with their problems, are:

General chairman, Mrs. Ralph Maxon, 366 Transylvania Park, phone 1813-y.

Dividends in happiness preferred have been paid regularly by each of the alumni clubs in the last year. The members, especially those outside Kentucky, having counted the organization one of their finest investments. Those living within the state fully appreciate the dividends paid after they have gone a little farther from home.

In this alumni body as well as in all others is the individualist who is like the "independent" in politics, never recognizing an organization. If all men were like him the world would regress faster than electricity goes down a copper wire.

Some of the alumni now are talking about an additional organization named the "Help Al Club." To be eligible a man must have done a favor for a fellow alumnus that will pay the latter a financial dividend. This would mean turning over a contract or a new account of business, a recommendation to a position with a better outlook or any one of a score other ways in which cooperation can be made to count in dollars and cents. This kind of fellowship is not unknown in several of the stronger clubs. Notable among the pioneers is Philadelphia. New York has a large field which is being developed quietly. In Lexington much progress has been made in the last few months by a group who one day may, in all likelihood, dominate the affairs of state more than any crowd at Frankfort.

So long as the ideals of Kentucky men and women are unchanged such a "combine" is acceptable everywhere. Once it has functioned for a while in this manner its sphere can be widened to include the whole state.

Applications for membership in the club are not being received at this time.

Alma Mater Loves Them All

Somewhere in the U. S. A. is Al, a son of the University of Kentucky, who sent his contribution to the Greater Kentucky Fund, five dollars, which left his bank balance at $12.15. Few alumni of the institution are held in as high esteem by all acquaintances as this man. Few have earned such recognition. All those who really know him love him.

Across the continent is another alumnus whose response was negative. Rather than be a "piker" as he phrased it, he would make no gift to Old Kentucky in this campaign. He would feel like a "hypocrite" for giving a small amount, he said.

Fortunately in the mind of the average former student there is no such doubt as the latter man has. In comparing the size of gifts, how apropos is the verse, "The rank is but the guinea's stamp, the man's the gowd for a' that." No man's mite is too small to bring happiness to those who love Kentucky and are directing this campaign.

BACK CAMPAIGN

Former Students Swell Total of Contributions to Fund

Responses to appeals of the cleanup squad working in the Greater Kentucky campaign indicate that every former student wants to be counted among the supporters of the movement. In the next three weeks every active alumnus should be talking about the drive and its imports with every other former student. Unanimity is a great asset.

The Student Loan Fund, Basketball Auditorium, Football Stadium and Memorial Statue for President Patterson constitute a broad appeal. One of these objects and the underlying thought, a bigger and finer University, are sure to appeal to every individual. With the University at its best the state is sure to prosper.

The chart above shows that of the 2,586 living alumni 594 have paid their dues for the year 1923-24. The dues this year include the Kentucky Kernel and the Alumni Directory, soon to be published. Only two classes have paid up 100 per cent. The two are '75 and '77, which have one member each still living. The class of '88 with four members has paid up 50 per cent and those who passed out with diplomas in '90 have contributed dues to the extent of 25. Of the later classes with more members the percentage is smaller while the memories of 'Old State' must be stronger. We should like to see the classes since 1900 show their feathery and friends of the 19th century that they are in a class 50 per cent, too.

So far as we have been notified only four clubs have started drives for this year's alumni dues. The four have reported the following results:

Birmingham, 12 members, 75 per cent paid.

Buffalo, 31 members, 68 percent paid.

Schenectady 17 members, 41.2 percent.

Philadelphia, 38 members, 44.8 percent paid.

"I shall be happy to receive the Kernel. It furnishes a splendid means of finding out 'who is where.' The prediction of the 'The Kentuckian' that I would wield a rolling pin and manage the finances of an absent-minded professor, is true in part. I wield the rolling pin and help manage the finances but my husband is not absent-minded. I married Winfred Payne, June 20, 1923, former instructor in mathematics at U. K., and now at the University of Cincinnati. I naturally insisted that we both sit on the bleachers at the Wildcat-Bearcat game, although we were a bit afraid some of the U. C. students would mob their economics instructor when they saw him among the 'Kentucky rooters.' We were very proud of the Wildcats. Best wishes for the 'Greater Kentucky'."—Luanna Duckwall Payne, 1832 Josephine St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Real Service Must Be Engineered

Many of the men whose names are writ large in engineering history are design engineers; men like Westinghouse, Lamme, Stanley, Hodgkinson, Teala, Shallenberger. Their inventions have the quality of usefulness, of reliability, of productability; which is an involved way, perhaps, of saying that they have the primary requisite of all really great inventions: Serviceability.

Engineering history abounds in instances of near-genius that produced no product, and of great developments that never reached completion; and most of these instances are explained by the lack, somewhere in the system, of that ability to give real Service.

Service, in a machine or a system, or wherever you find it, is not there by accident but because it was incorporated by men who understood what was required and knew how to provide it.

Much more is required of the designer than facility in calculation and mastery of theory. He must have first hand and thorough familiarity with manufacturing operations and with commercial and operating conditions. It takes more than mere ingenuity and inventiveness to design apparatus that will be really serviceable and will "stay put."

The design engineer, in the Westinghouse plan, is responsible for the performance of the finished product. He cannot possibly have the proper understanding of operation unless he operates and tests, unless he spends time and thought in investigation and study, not in the laboratory or drawing room, but right on the operating job. Here, most of his ideas will develop; and here he will see and prepare for all the different things which the product will later have to encounter. Then when he comes to put his creations on paper, his calculations will be necessary and helpful to check the conclusions which he has reached, and this right use of them requires training and a high degree of understanding. This proper balance of the physical and mathematical conception of things is what constitutes engineering judgement.

It should be thoroughly understood that the primary function of the design engineer is the conception and the production of new or improved apparatus, and familiarity with the practical is essential to the proper discharge of this duty.

It is this view of designing that makes this branch of Westinghouse engineering so important, so effective, and so productive of real developments.

A CORRECTION

On account of one of those irritating and almost unavoidable errors which always mislead, the Kernel was made to say in last week's edition that the freshman class had started a movement to subscribe $4,000 toward the fund for the basketball building, when as a matter of fact the amount determined upon was $40,000.

It was so written in the copy and set as it appeared in the last issue. We make this explanation chiefly for the benefit of the alumni of the country who may have marveled at the smallness of the subscription from so large a class. The fact that the Kernel is frequently subjected to criticism growing out of the fact that the paper has to be published two miles at least from the campus and it isn't always possible for the editors to leave the class and go to the office for this purpose at the time when the proofs are ready to be read. Hence much has to be left to the judgment of the publisher's proofreader, who are not always acquainted with details affecting the University. The Kernel is striving and hopes to be able to purchase its own plant in the very near future and do the work here on the grounds where it can exercise a closer supervision over its own publication.

A PROTEST

The University of Kentucky professes to stand for high ideals and gentlemanly conduct. And generally it does. But there is one outrage on the campus that surpasses all acts of cruelty and thoughtlessness found in a gang of outright street gamins. I am referring to the treatment of the mascot wildcat received at the hands of its inhuman captors. Keeping a wild animal in captivity is bad enough without teasing and torturing it. That is what is done and done boldly to the sound of cheers from the spectators. When the noise of a big game is at its height the wildcat is brought onto the field. Its cage is opened, and one of our most gentlemanly students pries it out by means of a heavy stick. It is then held aloft by the same means and the crowd roars as the poor thing squirms and claws the air in a vain attempt to escape and seek solitude. The next step in the torture is pulling it along the ground while it hangs back, and tries to get a hold on the grass. This never fails to bring a cheer of merriment. Where is the fine gentle side of the student body to enjoy such an outrage.

What is funny about that wriggling bunch of fur, frightened almost to death by ill treatment, cheers and band music? I heard some one say, "Aw, he doesn't mind."

Well, perhaps he is insane by this time, and a few more days of discomfort wont matter. But that doesn't excuse this savage and inhuman treatment. It would not be so unforgivable from untaught boys and girls but it is unforgivable in boys and girls who have the high standard of a southern university before and behind them. Seeing a fifteen minute exhibition of this kind undoes the work of years. It is a reversion to the primitive, barbaric instincts of cruelty. But what university student would not be insulted if told he was primitively barbaric? I can not understand how a fair minded, sportsman-like person could enjoy such a sight. It ruins a whole afternoon's fine playing for me—and I am not overly tender-hearted, and sentimental.

What must visitors think of us, visitors who have not had their finer sensibilities dulled and hardened by several years of seeing the defenseless wildcat dragged over the field?

The outrageous spectacle is permitted by the authorities and students because they have grown used to it, and haven't given it any thought. But it has gone on long enough. Won't some thoughtful person in authority take the matter up, and give it the serious attention it merits?

(Signed): HUMANITARIAN.

T. N. T. FINDS A DEFENDER

Last week our attention was called to criticism that the wildcat, mascot of the University athletic teams was receiving cruel, barbaric and inhuman treatment. This accusation came, if our information is correct, from one of the gentler sex. The paper, for in fact it was a paper handed to us for publication, took the student body severely to task, not only for being cruel to the wildcat, but for reverting to the primitive and barbaric lust for inflicting pain upon a helpless creature. Perhaps we are hard hearted and as the paper says hardened to the sight of the "ungentlemanly and savage custom" of bringing the wildcat to the contests, but we rise to defend ourself as well as the good name of the student body and authorities.

T. N. T., our mascot, was captured when a small kitten and brought to the University where he has received the best of care possible. A good look at him would convince anyone that the sleekness and fatness could not be attained if her were in his natural surroundings. He is provided with a comfortable harness to which a chain is made fast, this chain is run through a loop fixed to the end of a pole to protect the one leading him from some of the fierce attacks for which all wildcats are famous. He suffers no discomforture from being led to the field or even from being held up on the end of the pole.

The accusation goes on to say that they howling of the angry mob and the playing of the band is slowly killing the cat and that even now he must be crazed from the effects of it all. Fine! We will stop the yelling and the playing of the band so as not to disturb the peace loving and gentle wildcat. For after all yelling and playing of noise making instruments only goes to show how far back into the primitive and barbaric age the University has slipped.

We do not aim to be the least bit sarcastic or wish to appear to doubt the sincerity and honesty of our fair accused, but we do think that such tender-heartedness is misdirected. Many is the poor cat, wild of otherwise, that fares far worse than T. N. T. He is in our estimation indeed a lucky cat.

EMORY FRAZIER ATTENDS GOOD ROAD MEETING

Emory Frazier, better known as "Frizzie," formerly of Lawrenceburg, now a practicing lawyer in Whitesburg, Letcher county, is in Lexington attending a Good Roads Convention. Mr. Frazier made one of the addresses at the banquet at the Phoenix Hotel Wednesday night. His subject was "The Need of Good Roads in the Hills." Needless to say his address was "piece de resistance."

In talking to a Kernel reporter Mr. Frazier said that Letcher county shows this remarkable record in its attitude towards good roads, that two years ago the county had one mile of good road and 21 automobiles, while today it has 25 miles of good roads and 1,700 automobiles.

John Fox, Jr.'s noteworthy story, "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" has its setting just a mile from Whitesburg, while his "Heart of the Hills" has its scenic environment in Knott county, not far from there.

"Frizzie" made a visit to the campus and received the usual hearty greetings from his faculty and student friends.

STUDENT COUNCIL NOTICE

Reports are coming to the Men's Student Council to the effect that some of the men students attending the Saturday night dances at Patterson Hall are guilty of misconduct at such dances in divers ways. These dances are afforded for the exclusive privilege of the students in the University and all students are expected to govern themselves at dances as students and gentlemen. Any misconduct on the part of any student will be reported to the Men's Student Council and if necessary drastic action will be taken by such council.

CROSS COUNTRY MEET

Hall Breaks State Record by Twelve Seconds in Class Event

Just after the Kittens had succumbed to the onrushes of the Centre Lieutenants, the pistol was fired for the start of the annual class cross country run. Hall took the lead and held it throughout the course, finishing 12 seconds ahead of the state record.

The race was one of the most interesting of its kind that has been held on Stoll Field. Hall was followed all the way by Brame, a freshman, who lacked only six seconds of equaling the state record. Gorman and Hendricks finished third and fourth respectively. Hendricks, a junior, ran a fine race and will be a credit to Kentucky in some of the bigger meets. He was ineligible last year, due to being a transfer from Kentucky Wesleyan. Butler, Creech, Davidson and Orman followed Hendricks in the order named.

The first seven men that finished, with the exception of Brame who is ineligible because of the one year ruling, will represent Kentucky in the meet with Cincinnati.

The course started at the entrance to the football field and continued up Rose street to Limestone and then down Limestone to the rear gate of the athletic field. Twice around the course made up the four miles.

Although Hall does not get credit for his breaking the state record, as a record cannot be broken unless it is in a dual meet, he is expected to dethrone Porter as the record holder after the Cincinnati meet. Much will be expected of Brame next year and Hall will have to keep up his good work, else he is likely to be defeated.

TO BEGIN PRACTICE SOON

Outlook Brighter Than That of Last Year

The rifle teams of the R. O. T. C. regiment of the University of Kentucky will begin practice within a few weeks it was announced by Captain J. E. Torrent, of the staff of the department of Military Science and Tactics. With seven members of the team of last year and a wealth of new material in the gallery, prospects for even a better team than last year look bright.

The teams will be able to make an even better showing than last year, in matches with other schools, as a new range has been made in Buell Armory and the old wooden floor that was unsteady has been replaced by a concrete one. Because of the lack of funds the team is still at a disadvantage when firing with other schools because no modern rifles can be purchased.

Members of last year's team that are in school are: V. D. Johnson, J. W. Phillips, M. A. Trusty, G. D. Rodgers, H. R. Brown, T. R. Million and J. A. Weingarfer. F. M. Heath, F. A. C. Thompson and J. E. Wilkins who are on the 1922-23 team were graduated last June.

MARYVILLE HIGHLANDER FALLS BEFORE ATTACK OF JACK WINN'S ELEVEN

Blue and White Score Initial Marker Early in First Period

CATS STRIKE REAL GAIT

Al Kirwan, "Turkey" Hughes and Dell Ramsey Star For Kentucky

The Wildcat "blue streak" proven entirely too strong for Maryville, and the Wildcats defeated the Tennesseans 28 to 0 last Saturday afternoon in th e main event of a double bill. Unable to stop the powerful drive of the Blue and White machine in the last quarter of a courageous fight in the first three periods, the Hillsmen weakened in the last fifteen minutes and Kentucky ran its total up to 28.

Al Kirwan, former star of Louisville Male High School, and "Turkey" Hughes, former Morton-Elliott player, led the Cats in their attack, while Curtis Sanders and Dell Ramsey played best for Kentucky on the defense. Piloting the team with the air and grace of a veteran Kirwan tore off gain after gain, both around the end and through the line. The Wildcat passing attack found Kirwan at the hurling end and his accuracy in passing accounted for one of the four scores. Hughes turned in several scintillating runs around both flanks and Sanders tore off huge gains through the line. Captain Ramsey and Kenneth King contributed work in the line that was above par, while Ramsey and "Caveman" Rice worked into the backfield interference to a perfection.

Sneed, McMurry and Williams played best for the visitors. The line plunging of Sneed accounted for a large part of the Maryville yardage and McMurry's flank runnings gave the Tennessee team most of the remainder. Williams played the best defensive game for the Red and Black.

Kentucky's first score came early in the first quarter when after two Maryville backs had failed to gain through the Cat line, Hamilton punted 28-yards to Hughes. A combination of off-tackle smashes by Tracy, end runs by Hughes and line plunges by Sanders carried the oval from Kentucky's 45-yard line to the other three-yard mark. Kirwan then flanked left end for the initial touchdown. Sanders place kicked for the additional point.

The second Kentucky score came late in the second period when Kirwan intercepted a Maryville pass on the Tennesseans' 35-yard line and dashed over the intervening markers for a touchdown. Sanders again added the additional point by a place kick.

The third quarter was Maryville's best, although the Hillsmen never threatened to score. Opening up a spread formation the Tennessee backs tore off yard after yard around the Cat flanks but always lost the oval before getting within striking distance of the Blue and White uprights.

In the final period the Cats struck their gait and wore down all opposition. Taking the oval on their own 20-yard line the Cat backfield worked the field to Maryville's one-yard mark, and Sanders went over for the score. A pass, Kirwan to A. T. Rice, accounted for an extra point. A few minutes later the Cats again gained possession of the sphere and started a march toward the goal line that ended with Kirwan passing to Tracy for the last

CENTRE FRESHMEN BEAT KENTUCKY YEARLINGS AT FORWARD PASSING GAME

Breaks Are Against Kittens—Lieutenants Win in Last Minutes

GAME HOTLY CONTESTED

Hobson, Centre Fullback, The Outstanding Player of Both Teams

The saying "mavy a good football game has been ruined by a forward pass," again came to life last Saturday when Savage threw a short pass to Hobson who dodged the Kittens' safety man and ran 35 yards for a touchdown that gave the Centre Lieutenants a 12-7 victory over the Kentucky freshmen.

The game was a toss-up from start to finish with the Lieutenants having a little advantage the first half. They made their first touchdown in the initial quarter by a series of forward kick goal. The Kittens came back in passes and line bucks, but failed to the second half with that old never die spirit and made their lone touchdown of the game by a pass from W. S. Smith to Vossmeier; Vossmeier kicked goal. This gave the Kittens a 7 to 6 advantage.

The game continued at this score through the third quarter and for the first half of the fourth. Everyone thought that the Kittens would win by one point as the line was holding and the Lieutenants seemed to be weakening. With the ball about in the centre of the field and only six minutes of play, the Centre yearlings uncorked the play that defeated the Kittens.

W. Smith and Arnold, who substituted for Mandt, played best in the backfield for the yearlings. Arnold made some fine end runs and gained nearly every time he carried the ball. F. Smith and Fuller both played true to form and aided the Kittens greatly. Mandt was hurt early in the game and had to be taken out.

Vossmeier was a tower of strength in the line and aided greatly in breaking up Centre's passes. The two lines were about equal with the Lieutenants having a little advantage during the first half.

Morrow and Hobson played best for the winners. Morrow's generalship was excellent and his running of the ball was good. Hobson looks to be a second Bo McMillan. He was in nearly every play and did most of Centre's defensive work. He made both touchdowns.

GEORGETOWN TIGERS TO INVADE WILDCAT LAIR FOR CONTEST SATURDAY

Scott County Eleven Beat That Has Faced Cats in Years

McFARLAND OUT

Russell to Replace Owensboro Youth in Kentucky Line

Saturday's contest with the Georgetown Tigers will mark the last preparatory contest before the annual Centre-Kentucky classic takes place at Danville Saturday week, and will mark the end of a comparatively easy contest on the Cat schedule this fall. By easy contest it is not meant that the Tigers have an eleven that can be run over at will, for the Scott county eleven can always be counted upon to put up a great fight against the Cats.

From all indications pouring out from the Tiger lair the Baptists have one of the strongest teams that has ever represented Georgetown on the gridiron and it looks like the Cats will have their hands full turning them back without a score. The main ambition of Coach Coleman's lads seems to be to score on Kentucky, a feat that has been accomplished but once in the last ten years, when a Tiger lineman scooped up a Cat fumble last fall and ran 90 yards for a touchdown.

Jack Winn has just about decided to use the same combination against the Tigers Saturday as the one which faced Maryville last week, with the exception of "Big Bill" McFarland, who wrenched his shoulder in a scrimmage against the freshmen Wednesday. "Reb" Russell is slated to take his tackle position. "Turkey" Hughes also suffered a slight injury in the Wednesday scrimmage and may not get into the game.

The probable lineup for the Cats: A. "Reb" Russell and "Tiny" Stephen-T. Rice and Kenneth King, ends; son, tackles; "Caveman" Rice and Captain Dell Ramsey, guards; and "Tubby" Sauer, center. Al Kirwan or "Turkey" Hughes will pilot the team from one of the halfback positions with Sanders and Tracy rounding out the quartet

The Y. W. C. A. finance drive will start Monday and continue through the entire week. The Y. W. needs money for the various phases of its work; and it is up to us to help it out. So let's give as freely as we can during next week's drive.

Y.M. & Y.W.C.A. NOTES

The weekly Y. M. C. A. meetings at the men's dormitory are now in full sway and the interest growing. The principal speaker of the evening of October 18 was Mr. C. W. Buckler, who made an interesting talk on "The Elements of Success." In his talk he stated that there were four types of men with whom we are sure to come in contact. They are the fellow who looks to the past and feels that we should return to the "good old days of yore," the conservatist who cannot see farther ahead that he himself is able to progress, the progressive who looks to the future, and the radical who is way beyond everyone else in his views and wishes. In Mr. Buckler's words "to meet all classes a man must have a vision, purpose, ideal and courage."

Quite a number of men students have already become members of the Y. M. C. A. by signing the cards pledging themselves to uphold the constitution of the association. Others ponder the question and ask what are the benefits aside from the objectives set forth on the back side of the membership card. In reply to this question when one joins the University Y. M. C. A. he automatically becomes an honorary member of any Y. M. C. A. in the country except the City Y. M. C. A. of Lexington.

PARKER ANNOUNCES A New One for Students

Parker D-Q—the Note-taker Pen, $3

Strong metal girdle reinforces cap
 Large ring-end links to note-book
 —A pocket-clip if you prefer—
 No extra charge for either

WE asked about 1000 students at seventeen universities and colleges the kind of pen they wanted.

The majority preferred the Parker, but not all could afford to pay the Parker Duofold price.

So we set to work and produced this black beauty—the Parker D. Q.—formed on Duofold's classic lines and made by the same crafts-guild.

We gave it a 14k gold point tipped with polished Iridium, and a good healthy ink capacity; then we added two things we could find on no other pen of this size below five dollars—a metal girdle to reinforce the cap; and an extra large ring link to fasten to the student's note-book. These features are included free, or a pocket-clip instead of ring-end.

The Parker D. Q. is an ink-tight pen. Ask to see it—note its shapeliness and balance. Try other pens too, and see how super-smooth the Parker is in comparison.

"MARTHA" TO BE PRESENTED LATTER PART OF NOVEMBER

Production May Be Night Before
Home-Coming Day

The approaching event of uppermost interest to the students and faculty of the university and to the public in general is the production of the opera "Martha," which will take place the latter part of November. The date has not been definitely decided upon, but the Music department is planning to have the initial performance November 28, which will be the evening before Thanksgiving. Friends and alumni will be in Lexington for the home-coming celebration and Kentucky-Tennessee game which will take place the next day. The department plans to have both the visiting and home teams present as guests.

"Martha" is the first grand opera the Music Department has attempted. It supports six leads and a chorus of about forty-five voices. Professor Carl Lampert, who is directing the production, has not commenced the definite cast. The rehearsals, which were slowed up last week on account of the illness of Professor Lampert, are now being held regularly.

rooms, where a temporary office has been opened by the committee in charge.

The freshman class unanimously voted to raise $40,000 for the purpose of erecting the basketball building, which will be dedicated in their honor, at a meeting held in the chapel Tuesday at the fifth hour for the purpose of presenting the plan to the class as a whole.

Professor W. S. Webb, chairman of the campaign, was in charge of the meeting and explained the plan used last year for subscriptions by the alumni and other classes of the University. The total subscriptions for the stadium are $190,000 so far.

Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, representing the athletic council, and "Daddy" Boles both made short talks.

"Daddy" Boles spoke of the success of athletics during the past three years and reminded the class of the use and enjoyment they will derive from the building for the coming four years, a thing that others who have subscribed will be deprived of. Ryan Ringo, representing the Su-Ky Circle, submitted plans of getting subscriptions.
