1961 Coach—Blanton Collier

S. A. (DADDY) BOLES

This 1962 edition of U.K. Football Facts is respectfully dedicated to the late S. A. (Daddy) Boles, former University of Kentucky Athletic Director and football-basketball coach who passed away on December 4, 1961.

Without the diligent, labor of love record keeping of this distinguished man, this booklet of football facts would be sorely incomplete.

A native of Williamstown in Grant County, Stanley Boles graduated from Kentucky Wesleyan and received his M.A. degree from Vanderbilt. He came to University of Kentucky in 1916 as a physical education instructor and assistant football coach. A year later, he took over the post of Director of Athletics and Head Football Coach and also served for the 1917-18 season as Basketball Coach. After a 17-year tenure as Athletic Director, he acted two more years (1935-36) as Graduate Manager of Athletics and retained his keen interest in Wildcat sports throughout his lifetime.

ATHLETICS AT KENTUCKY

Kentucky's athletic program, a well-balanced and ambitious activity featuring inter-collegiate competition in nine different sports, is organized under the Department of Athletics and a corporation known as the University of Kentucky Athletics Association.

The program is conducted without overemphasis or sacrifice of educational objectives and in strict compliance with the rules of the University, the Southeastern Conference and the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

A Board of Directors, headed by UK President Frank Dickey, maintains overall policy supervision of the athletic program. Dr. Leo Chamberlain, vice-president of the University, has general supervision over the Department and serves as vice-chairman of the Board. Dr. A. D. Kirwan, one-time Wildcat coach and UK's faculty representative to the Southeastern Conference, serves the directors as secretary and Dr. Frank Peterson, UK vice-president for business administration, acts as treasurer in an ex-officio capacity.

Supervising the steady growth and balanced development of one of the nation's top athletic programs is Bernie A. Shively, a former Illinois grid All-American and a veteran of nearly 25 years in the post of Director of Athletics.

The Association's Board of Directors is composed of the following:

Dr. Frank G. Dickey, Chairman	Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, Vice Chairman
Dr. A. D. Kirwan, Secretary	Prof. John Kuiper
James B. Allen	Dr. W. L. Matthews, Jr.
Dr. Ralph Angelucci	Robert Stephens
Dr. Aubrey J. Brown	Dr. D. V. Terrell
Dr. Thomas Clark	Prof. William A. Tolman
Dr. Lyman Ginger	Floyd Wright
Prof. W. W. Haynes	Jim Daniel (Student)

BAIT FOR THE GRADS

Kentucky will be the homecoming opponent of only one team—Georgia—this season. Last year, two clubs—Georgia and Vanderbilt—picked the Wildcats to help entertain the old grads and in years gone by the Kentuckians appeared in as many as four such contests during the same season. UK saw its own string of 13 straight homecoming successes ended in 1961 by Tennessee.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

BERNIE A. SHIVELY

Supervising the steady growth and balanced development of one of the nation's top athletic programs is the Herculean task being carried out successfully by Bernie A. Shively.

Few who have observed the untiring efforts of the tall, silver-haired former All-America footballer in the service of the University of Kentucky since 1927 and as Director of Athletics since 1938 will argue his fitness as an athletic Hercules. Not only has Shively guided the development of Kentucky as a nationally-respected power in major sports, but he has also gained personal prestige through a fair-minded approach to many problems.

During his tenure as Athletic Director, Shively has directly supervised major expansions in Kentucky's athletic plant resulting from the progression of the school's football and basketball teams to greater national prominence and increased patronage by the sports-minded public.

The seating capacity of Kentucky's football stadium, McLean Stadium on Stoll Field, has been doubled to bring the current number of seats to approximately 37,500 and on par with most other schools located in heavier-populated areas. Powerful lighting equipment also was installed during the 1948-49 construction and a new-type "iodized" light put up in 1961 to bring night football into new popularity. Partly to satisfy the overwhelming number of basketball devotees, who could not squeeze into the 2,800-seat Alumni Gymnasium, a long-planned Memorial Coliseum was completed in 1950. Seating 11,500 persons for cage contests, the four-million dollar Coliseum also houses the Athletic Department. More recently, Shively directed the acquisition of a pair of modern, ranch-style living units which have served as the home of the football team since 1954. "Wildcat Manor" and "Kitten Lodge" replace three frame houses which the gridders had occupied since 1949.

A large dressing room building and football practice field, used since 1955, was abandoned in 1959 to make way for a huge new men's dorm. Under Shively's supervision, a spacious new Sports Center was prepared a short distance away on the University farm to take even better care of the footballers and spring sports teams. The Sports Center is generally regarded as one of the finest sports facilities in the nation. During the past few months, Stoll Field has undergone a major "face-lifting" to improve its playing surface and the view of the fans sitting in the lower rows of the stands.

All-America Guard At Illinois

A native of Paris, Ill., Shively attended the University of Illinois where he was an All-America guard in 1926 on the same grid team made famous by Red Grange. Demonstrating a claim to being one of the finest all-around athletes in Illinois' history, "Shive" also laid claim to the Big 10 heavyweight wrestling championship and annexed letters in track before graduating in 1927.

Shively came to Kentucky in 1927 as line coach of football under Harry Gammage and six years later was named head of the UK Physical Education Department. He succeeded Chet Wynne as Athletic Director in 1938. During this period and the years following, he also served as track and baseball coach for several seasons and continued to assist the football staff as line coach until 1944. The next year, 1945, he assumed full charge of the grid squad for one season before turning the job over to mentor Paul (Bear) Bryant in 1946.

The Kentucky Athletic Director is currently chairman of the NCAA Basketball Tournament Committee and for the past nine years has been president of the Southeastern Conference Coaches and Athletic Directors Association. He served as chairman of the SEC Basketball Committee for a number of years and is a past chairman of the NCAA summer baseball group.

Shively and his wife, Ruth, have two children. Doug was a star end on the UK grid team for three years ending in 1958 and is now coaching at VPI while daughter Suzanne was a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of UK in 1957.

HEAD COACH CHARLIE BRADSHAW

(Kentucky '49)

(First Year As A Head Coach)

The personification of qualities of inner toughness, outwardly serious demeanor, quiet determination, confidence and integrity . . . That's Kentucky's capable new head football coach in a nutshell.

Youthful Charlie Bradshaw, 37-year-old ex-Wildcat player and assistant coach, fulfills all these qualities that are the background for success and goes a step further. He's an inspirational leader who exudes the toughness that it takes for those around him—staff and players—to get the job at hand done in a way that will pay off with success. His influence already has made an indelible impression in relations with alumni, coaches of the state, followers of Kentucky football, prospects and players.

The football philosophy of Bradshaw, who assumed his first head coaching position last January 10 when he succeeded Blanton Collier as the institution's third alumnus coach, has been schooled into him by nine years' service in an assistant's capacity on the staffs of UK and Alabama. Yet, the approach to the game taken by the new Wildcat mentor is mainly and uniquely Bradshaw in nature.

A positive approach is foremost with Charlie Bradshaw. Illustrative of his thinking is his simple statement of determination made as a comment upon his being hired as Kentucky's coach: "If I didn't think I could get the job done, I wouldn't be here!"

Emphasizes Winning Ways

He believes in the direct way of doing things. The emphasis will be on how to win instead of what mistakes can be costly enough to cause a loss. He has declared that he will be fair, sincere and honest with his team but in turn will expect the same from his players. He stresses the pride to be gained from 100 percent effort and of doing things right—which he feels to be synonymous with winning football. The church and school also play prominent roles in the plan of devoutly Christian (Baptist) Bradshaw.

Directness and the positive approach sometimes get mixed up with toughness and extreme roughness. While every sign points to the new regime as more demanding to some degree in relations with the squad on the field, Coach Bradshaw sees his reputed "tough guy" approach a little differently than most people. "There's a lot of difference between toughness and unnecessary roughness," he explains. "We are going to be tough, I assure you. Football is a contact type of game in which you have to be tough to win and if it takes roughness to teach toughness that's what our young men will get. We believe young men will put out just about as much effort as is demanded of them. We intend to demand a great deal through strict discipline rather than brute force."

Charlie grew up in Montgomery, Ala., and started his football at the age of 15 in Sidney Lanier High. Upon graduation, he was attracted to the University of Kentucky and attended one semester in 1942 without seeing any grid action.

After that first semester, he withdrew to enter the Marine Corps. He served for three years and saw 19 months' action in the Pacific Theater. Following his discharge, Bradshaw returned to UK to play on Paul Bryant's first three Wildcat aggregations. He earned the first of four letters as a center in 1946 and picked up his three subsequent monograms as a 165-pound end. Attempting to get in an allowable fourth year of competition as a graduate student in 1949, he was ruled ineligible after three games by SEC Commissioner Bernie Moore.

Coached Under Collier, Bryant

Bradshaw remained on the coaching staff as a student assistant for the remainder of the season and then, in 1950, returned to his home town high school (Sidney Lanier in Montgomery, Ala.) as coach and co-ordinator of a junior high program—a position he retained until chosen an aide on the first UK staff of Blanton Collier in 1954. After five years as end coach and later offensive backfield coach, Charlie moved in 1959 to Alabama as a line tutor for Coach Bryant. In this position and then as offensive coach last year, he gained much recognition for contributing greatly to the Crimson Tide's success in progressing to the peak of undefeated National Champion in 1961.

Coach Bradshaw was graduated from the University of Kentucky in 1949 with an AB in Commerce and physical education and later was awarded a master's degree in school administration. He married his high school sweetheart, Martha Austin of Montgomery, in 1945 and they have a daughter, five-year-old Leigh.

The new Wildcat football chief will be operating under an initial four-year pact at undisclosed salary.

GALS' COACH FIRST UK MENTOR

Prof. A. M. Miller, who became Kentucky's first football coach in 1892, was chosen because he had learned about the game from sideline observations while a student at Princeton. His only previous coaching experience was at a girls' school in Pennsylvania.

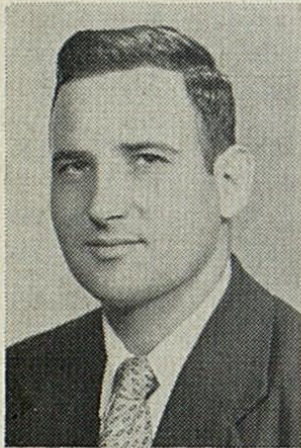

WILDCAT COACHING STAFF

MATT LAIR

Assistant Head Coach

Widely-experienced Matt Lair returns to his alma mater as the first Kentucky aide ever to hold the title of assistant head coach. The 38-year-old native of North Middletown, Ky., brings to the staff a background of 13 years' coaching experience in high school and collegiate ranks. Following play as a blocking back and guard at UK in 1941-42 and 1946-47 (after Air Force duty), Lair spent five years as line coach at Lanier High in Montgomery, Ala., moved to Louisville Manual for one season and then became head coach at Parrish High in Selma, Ala. He next worked five seasons on the UK staff before shifting to Texas A & M in 1959 for a two-year hitch. Last season, Lair was line coach at Texas Tech and his primary duties at Kentucky this year will be with the defensive line. Born 5/25/24 . . . Married to former Helen Davis of Lexington. No children.

HOMER RICE

Offensive Coach

Entering the collegiate field after a highly-successful career as a high school tutor, Homer Rice is assigned responsibility for making Kentucky's T offense operations go. His 11-year coaching record in school-boy ranks was an amazing 101-9-7. Rice-coached teams went undefeated in 50 straight games, posted seven perfect seasons and annexed nine championships. He was personally recognized with seven "Coach of the Year" awards. Rice started his coaching career in 1951 at Wartburg (Tenn.) High following graduation from Centre College where he was a Little All-America QB. He spent the next two seasons at Spring City, Tenn., and then took over at Ft. Thomas. In each assignment, he produced the best record in the school's history. He is a World War II veteran (Pacific Theater), holds a master's degree from Eastern Ky. State College, and is author of a book on "The Explosive Short-T." Born 2/20/27 . . . Home town: Ft. Thomas, Ky. . . . Married to former Phyllis Wardrup of Middlesboro, Ky., and they have three daughters—Nancy 11, Phyllis 9, and Angela 6.

Defensive Coach

A youthful veteran of coaching experience at three major southern schools, Bob Ford joins the Bradshaw staff with a reputation as one of the brightest young defensive minds in the game today. A native of Wynne, Ark., Bob was center and captain of his hometown grid outfit in 1950 when it captured the state schoolboy championship. Later, he compiled an outstanding record as a center and end at Memphis State, including selection as the Tigers' most valuable player in 1954. He started his coaching career by staying on at his alma mater for two years (1955-56) as freshman football coach and doubling as tutor of the track team. Ford then entered military service and spent the next two years with the U.S. Army in the Korean Theater. Upon his return to the states and discharge, Bob joined the Alabama staff as a line assistant working principally with the Tide frosh. After three seasons there, he moved last year to Georgia as defensive line coach. Born 11/18/33 . . . Graduate Memphis State 1955 . . . Married to former Sarah Hornsby of Memphis, Tenn., and father of two sons—Robert Jr. 2½ and Paul 6 months.

Backfield Coach

Tough and tested, this 36-year-old Pennsylvania native has deep roots in the Keystone state that make him an invaluable coach and recruiter. Dave will work with the varsity backfield and help out some with the freshmen whose numbers include numerous Pennsylvania products. For the 11 years prior to joining the Wildcats, Hart-coached teams compiled a record of 86-18-3. He began his coaching career in 1950 as backfield coach at St. Vincent College in Latrobe, Pa., following graduation from that institution, coached at Hurst High School of Mt. Pleasant, Pa., the next three seasons and then took over at Johnstown (Pa.) High. In eight years (1954-61), Hart's teams recorded 63 wins, 12 losses and three ties and copped the Western Pennsylvania championship in 1958 on a perfect, 11-0 mark that also earned him Class AA "Coach of the Year" honor. Hart is a veteran of 28 months in the Air Force with 30 combat missions over Europe and holder of the Air Medal with Oak Leaf Clusters. He picked up a master's degree in education from University of Pittsburg in 1959. Born 5/25/26 . . . Home town: Connellsville, Pa. . . . Married to former Patti Furtney of Connellsville and they have three sons and a daughter—David Jr. 13, Dickie 11, Danny 4, and Candy 1.

Offensive Line Coach

One of three UK assistants retained on the Bradshaw staff, Chuck Knox will continue duties in connection with offensive line play that he started last season. The 30-year-old native of Sewickley, Pa., who is regarded as one of the nation's outstanding young line coaches, lends a wealth of experience to the UK coaching staff. He began his football career at Sewickley High School near Pittsburgh and served as co-captain during four years of collegiate tackle play for Juniata in Huntingdon, Pa. Following graduation in 1954, Knox stayed on as a Juniata staffer for one year prior to moving into the Pennsylvania high school field. He spent one year at Tyrone High as a football assistant and head basketball-track mentor and was head coach at Elwood City High two seasons prior to becoming a Wake Forest aide in 1959. The youthful coach has proven himself outstanding as a tutor of offensive line play and an invaluable recruiter assigned to the talent-rich Pennsylvania area . . . Born 4/27/32 . . . Married to former Shirley Anne Rhine of Huntingdon, Pa., and father of three daughters—Chrisie 9, Kathy 6, and Collen 3.

GEORGE SENDEL

End Coach

Along with fellow coaches Chuck Knox and George Boone, George (Chink) Sengel is a holdover from one year on the UK staff who was retained by Charlie Bradshaw out of confidence in his coaching ability. Sengel's collegiate career at Kentucky spanned three of the same years (1942, 1946-47) as his new boss. A native of Louisville, "Chink" was an All-State end at Louisville Manual High in 1939 and started his collegiate career at Kentucky in 1940. After lettering as the team's regular end in 1942, he spent three years in the Army Air Corps. Returning to UK in 1946, he picked up two more letters prior to graduation in 1948 and then spent one year as a revenue agent. He began his coaching career as a freshman assistant at Kentucky in 1949. For the next five years (1950-54), Sengel served as head coach and athletic director at Clay County High in Green Cove Springs, Fla., and was head coach-AD at Apoptka (Fla.) High two seasons before returning to his home town as end coach for Male High. He joined the Collier staff in 1961 as coach of ends and will continue in the same capacity for Bradshaw. Born 9/14/21 . . . Married to former Mary Alice Duncan of Lawrenceburg, Ky., with two sons—George III 11 and David 4½.

GEORGE BOONE

Assistant Line Coach

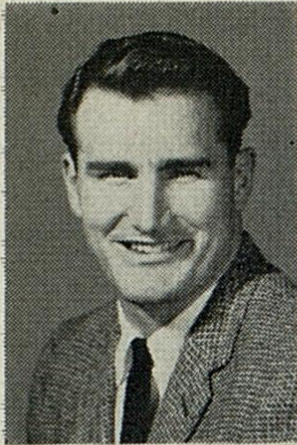

One of the most determined players ever to perform on the gridiron for University of Kentucky and a self-made man, George Boone retains his coaching position as an assistant working with the defensive line. He was held over by Coach Bradshaw after one year as a full-time aide on the Collier staff due to the personal knowledge and confidence of UK's new grid chief, who tutored Boone in three of his UK years. A native of Louisville, Boone attended St. Joe Prep school in Bardstown, Ky. Although he entered the state university in 1956 without a grant-in-aid, he soon convinced coaches of his ability and determination and was given a scholarship. Boone was an outstanding tackle for the Wildcats from 1956 through 1959 and was named by the Associated Press in 1957 on the All-Southeastern Conference Sophomore team. He was bothered as a junior by a shoulder injury, but came back to turn in consistently good defensive play that impressed both opponents and Kentucky coaches. George stayed on the Wildcat coaching staff in a part-time capacity for the 1960 season after completing his eligibility and was hired as a full-time coach last year. Born 5/25/38 . . . Graduate Kentucky '61 . . . Married to former Dorothy Leet of Lexington and they have a son, Dickie 1½, and a daughter, new-born Georgia.

RALPH HAWKINS

Assistant Backfield Coach

A veteran of rounded experience, Ralph Hawkins joins the Bradshaw staff with a background as a collegiate and professional player and coach in both high school and college ranks. The 27-year-old bachelor from Washington, D. C., graduated from the University of Maryland in 1957 with a major in physical education and a minor in sociology after playing both quarterback and halfback for the Terps under the tutelage of the late Jim Tatum. He served as a freshman backfield coach at Maryland on the staff of Tom Nugent for one season (1957) before entering the professional football ranks to play as a defensive safety for the New York Titans of the AFL. Later, Hawkins coached one year at Bishop Dennis J. O'Connell High School in Arlington, Va., and spent the 1961 season as an assistant backfield coach at Southern Methodist University on the staff of Bill Meek. During the school year he lives in the freshman football house, Kitten Lodge, as a supervisor of the student athletes. He will work some with frosh. Born 5/4/35 in Washington, D. C.

BUD MOORE
Assistant Line Coach

A 22-year-old native of Birmingham, Ala., who celebrates his birthday the week of the Louisiana State game, Bud Moore joins the Bradshaw staff with high recommendations as a rapidly developing young grid tutor. He picked up his playing and initial coaching experience under the tutelage of Paul (Bear) Bryant at Alabama. He was a star end and tackle for the Crimson Tide elevens in 1958-59-60—a period during which Alabama was building toward its national championship. During the final two years that Moore was on the squad, the Tide lost only three games and twice went to bowls. Bud picked up three letters and much acclaim prior to graduation in 1961 with a major in PE and minor in math. Alabama coaches considered him the team's outstanding lineman in the last three games of his senior campaign after he had been switched to tackle. His coaching experience started as a student assistant on the Bryant staff during spring training of 1961 while Bradshaw was offensive coach. He spent the '61 season as coach at Gadsden (Ala.) High school. In high school at West End in Birmingham, Bud was a four-sport standout. Will work some with frosh line. Born 10/16/39 . . . Married to former Beth Marion of Birmingham and they have no children.

LEEMAN BENNETT
Assistant Coach

Although he never rose to stardom during his playing days with the Wildcats, which ended in 1960, this former Paducah (Ky.) Tilghman High quarterback proved himself an efficient student of the game and will spend a second year on the UK coaching staff this season working primarily with freshman backs. He came to Kentucky in 1956 with honorable mention All-State honors and had an outstanding freshman season. During his varsity career, he played a leading reserve role as a quarterback. Born 6/20/38 . . . Home town: Paducah, Ky. . . . Graduate Kentucky '60 . . . Married to former Pat Parrott of Paducah and they have no children.

BILL JASPER

Graduate Assistant

A native Kentuckian who traversed a route through enemy territory en route to a position with his former rival, Bill Jasper joins the Kentucky staff this season with a background of 10 years as a successful high school mentor. He played his collegiate ball for arch-rival Tennessee as a linebacker and center, graduating after the '51 national championship season. After two seasons as head coach at Morristown (Tenn.) High, he spent four years each in the same capacity at Louisville (Ky.) Manual and Kingsport (Tenn.) Highs. His Kingsport teams won the state championship in 1959 and 1960. Born 1/9/29 . . . Home town: Somerset, Ky. . . . Graduate Tennessee 1952 . . . Married to former Jane Norwood of Somerset and they have two boys—Steve 9 and John 5.

DR. BILL McCUBBIN

Academic Supervisor

A former three-time Wildcat football letterman, all-around athlete and ex-grid assistant, Dr. Bill McCubbin continues in the highly-important position of Academic Supervisor—an assignment in which he is charged with assisting the UK gridders with academic problems. The 45-year-old native of Louisville, an associate professor in the university's physical education department, played end for the Wildcats from 1936 through 1939 and also lettered twice in baseball as a pitcher before picking up his first degree in 1940. McCubbin also received his master's degree from UK (1947) and was awarded a doctorate in education by Peabody College in 1956. His coaching experience came first in 1945 when he assisted Coach-Athletic Director Bernie Shively by tutoring the ends and later for one year (1953) when he was a part-time freshman assistant and scout for Paul Bryant. Born 11/6/16 . . . Home town: Louisville, Ky. . . . Graduate Kentucky 1940 . . . Married to former Joan Gruneison of Louisville and they have three daughters—Linda 15, Michele 13, and Patricia 5.

Staff Changes Since 1961

Departures: Ermal Allen to Dallas Cowboys, John North to LSU, Ed Rutledge to Paducah (Ky.) Tilghman High, Bill Arnsperger to Tulane, Norm Deeb to Eastern Kentucky State, and Abe Shannon to Fleming Co. High.

Arrivals: Matt Lair from Texas Tech, Homer Rice from Ft. Thomas (Ky.) Highlands High, Bob Ford from Georgia, Dave Hart from Johnstown (Pa.) High, Ralph Hawkins from SMU, Bud Moore from Gadsden (Ala.) High, and Bill Jasper from Kingsport (Tenn.) High.

Remaining: Chuck Knox, George Sengel, George Boone, and Leeman Bennett.

MARSHALL JOHNSON (Head Student Manager)—This 21-year-old senior from Lancaster, Ky., sidelined by an injury, starts his second season as the Wildcats' student manager. He came to UK in 1959 after playing four different positions in high school. Impressive as a Kitten guard starter and saw 91:32 action time in five contests as a key left side reserve in his sophomore campaign two years ago. Born 1/24/41 in Edmonton, Ky.

VICTORY KICKS

A game unique in University of Kentucky football history occurred in 1900. Kentucky beat the Louisville YMCA, 12-6, without running a single offensive play during the entire game. Kicking on first down every time they gained possession of the ball, Kentucky made its score through the recovery of opponent fumbles in the end zone.

THREE FOES WENT 'BOWLING'

Kentucky this season faces three of 1961's top teams who went "bowling" after successful campaigns last year. Louisiana State smashed Colorado in the Orange Bowl while Mississippi was upset by Texas in the Cotton Bowl and Miami of Florida lost a squeaker to Syracuse in the Liberty Bowl.

BROWN

BUSTER BROWN—Equipment Manager: Handling the duties of handing out approximately $10,000 worth of football gear to the team is a seasoned veteran, S. C. (Buster) Brown. The tough-but-popular Brown served the University athletic teams in the capacity of Equipment Manager for several years before World War II. After wartime work as a stevedore on the West Coast, Buster returned to Kentucky and his old job in 1952.

KEN KUHN—Publicity Director: A veteran of 15 years in the job of publicizing Wildcat football and other sports activities of UK, Kuhn came to Lexington via Michigan State from which he was graduated in 1942 and later served as an assistant in the Public Relations Department. Before moving over to the Athletic Department in 1948, he worked two years as News Editor in UK's Department of Public Relations. Kuhn is a past president of the Southeastern Conference Sports-Publicity Association.

JOHN (Rusty) PAYNE—Trainer: John first came in contact with Kentucky football when he helped out his predecessor, Smoky Harper, during the Wildcats' pre-Sugar Bowl practice on the Louisiana State campus in 1950. After graduating from LSU that year, the red-haired Arkansas native spent two years in the Marine Corps at Paris Island and Quantico, serving much of the time as athletic trainer. He joined the Kentucky staff in 1954, the same season that Coach Collier came. Payne is a past president of the SEC Trainers Association and on the executive-board of the national trainers' body.

KENTUCKY FOOTBALL OUTLOOK — 1962

In the lingo of the space age, everything is "GO" in the top-priority project to blast University of Kentucky football back into a high orbit of success in 1962.

A new band of technicians, headed up by immensely popular and capable former Wildcat star Charlie Bradshaw in his first assignment as a head collegiate mentor, took over the direction of activities last January 10 and while the problems are staggering there is tremendous confidence that the job can be done.

The 37-year-old ex-Marine, youthful veteran of nine years' coaching duty at both UK and on the staff of Paul (Bear) Bryant at Alabama, returned to his alma mater with his eyes wide open and determined in his belief that Kentucky can be shaken out of the doldrums reflected by the fact that no Wildcat eleven since 1956 has won more than half of its games in a single season.

Setting the overtone of confidence and optimism that has exuded to the team and fans, Bradshaw declares flatly: "If I didn't think I could get the job done, I wouldn't be here."

The determined new grid chief with the positive approach feels that "there is a nucleus for a good football team here at Kentucky this fall and we intend to develop it and build around it until we come up with a winning combination."

Squad Is SEC's Smallest In Number

Although the 40-odd-man squad will be the smallest in number of any Southeastern Conference grid outfit fielded in 1962, Kentucky is due to be a force to be reckoned with seriously despite pollsters' predictions of a finish in the second echelon (generally eighth). Several hands, none of them first stringers, departed during demanding spring drills and lack of depth will be a problem all season long. But Bradshaw promises to have his Wildcat band clawing at foes with a degree of ferociousness not seen at UK since Bear Bryant was putting out bowl elevens a dozen years ago.

"Numbers (or lack of them) don't worry me or the squad," Bradshaw declares. "We can win with no more than 25 boys—if they all have the right attitude. We have tremendous leadership among our older men and, if at least a dozen more on the squad develop the right mental attitude to the point where they give 100 percent effort, things could turn out all right. We feel that our remaining squad is a whole lot tougher, mentally and physically, and a great deal more eager for contact than it was at the beginning of spring practice."

If a dependable and competent running game can be organized to accompany what should be one of the nation's best passing attacks, the Kentucky offense in '62 should prove troublesome, Bradshaw believes. His philosophy favors a 70-30 percent balance in favor of the ground operations and Kentucky will attack from the T formation. "I would be most foolish not to take advantage of our extremely fine passing potential," he explains, "and we will use this weapon advantageously. However, I strongly believe that running has to carry the burden as excessive passing detracts from aggressiveness in the line."

Chief problems facing the new staff will be the development of over-all depth (only 17 lettermen are available), finding interior linemen to take over graduation-riddled positions (12 of 18 departing monogram winners were guards, tackles and centers), and organization of a devastating ground game to keep the defense "honest."

Strength should come from the passing attack in general, a seeming wealth of capable ends, an experienced hand at quarterback and a pair of standout tackles.

Passing Game To Be One of Nation's Strongest

The Kentucky passing game in '62 shapes up as one of the nation's most dangerous and strongest in Dixie. On the receiving end, the Wildcats will have the services of two-time All-Conference star Tom Hutchinson—pass-catching leader of the SEC and seventh nationally last fall—along with unsung "other end" Dave Gash, who caught 16 for 198 yards in '61. On the throwing end of this outstanding battery is senior quarterback Jerry Woolum, third ranking passer of the country at the time he broke a leg in Kentucky's seventh game a year ago. Now completely mended, Jerry is the heir apparent to the SEC passing crown and high national honors. Gash seems certain to be one of the league's best receivers while Hutchinson rates the nod as Dixie football's best candidate for All-America.

In the running department, the Wildcats will have the services of last year's leading ground gainer—right half Gary Steward (3.6 average)—and three others of the top five. However, much room for improvement in quality-speed exists and qualified back-up men at every position have to be found. A smashing fullback named Perky Bryant was the surprise find of spring practice and, on the left side, help should be forthcoming from a sterling young sophomore (Phil Pickett) who threatens to beat out returning speed merchant Darrell Cox. Offensively, this phase of operations stacks up as the biggest problem as the Wildcats ranked a disappointing ninth in league rushing statistics last season when the UK ratio was 51.3 to 48.7 percent in favor of runs.

While there's room for eager young hands to make their presence felt at every checkpoint in the '62 Wildcat line, the situation up front is somewhat encouraging at one position—tackle. Here there is a promising young behemoth named Herschel Turner, the Wildcats' chief hope for national honors (in the opinion of Coach Bradshaw) when he reaches his senior campaign in '63. Teaming with Turner (a 6-3, 220-pounder) is senior Junior Hawthorne, who stacks up at 6-1 and 222. The situation is not so good at guard where there is only one letterman returning with limited experience and center is not a whole lot better due to the absence of All-America Irv Goode.

The kicking game, which has been weak for several years, should be improved with added emphasis placed on it and the development of top punter Darrell Cox (34.9 average) after a year of experience at kicking under pressure. Back for better years in the place kicking department are Tommy Simpson, a strong kickoff man and long field goal hopeful, and Clarkie Mayfield, PAT and short field goal specialist.

New emphasis will be placed on defensive play, Bradshaw announced. "Defense has become paramount in the Southeastern Conference in the past few years, making it mandatory for teams to have better offenses and a stronger kicking game. We intend to work this to our advantage by improving our defense to the point where it compliments our offensive attack and helps us win ball games."

The Wildcats are looking for better days, but nobody is expecting overnight miracles. Neither are they selling determined Charlie Bradshaw and his hustling young squad short in their quest to find out how sweet victory can taste!

UK TOSSES FIRST PASS IN '06

The first forward pass ever attempted by a Kentucky football team was thrown in a game played at Lexington Oct. 13, 1906—the year that the forward pass was legalized by national rules—against Eminence Athletic Club. Accounts of this early contest do not mention whether the pass was completed or the name of the thrower. Earl Stone was listed as quarterback of Coach J. White Guyn's Kentuckians.

BRADSHAW OBSERVATIONS

RUNNING GAME—Offensively, this is our biggest problem. We have to develop a competent running game to compliment our passing and give us the desirable balanced attack. We will employ the T formation.

PASSING—This should be the highlight of our offensive attack. We are fortunate in having one of the nation's finest passing combinations in top-flight quarterback Jerry Woolum to exceptionally outstanding receivers Tom Hutchinson and Dave Gash. Also have other good receivers at end and halfback. Our basic pattern will be the sprint-out pass.

PASS-RUN RATIO—I believe the ideal balance is 70 percent runs and 30 percent passes in your offense. Excessive passing tends to detract from aggressiveness in the line. I don't know of a single successful team that utilizes passing more than it does running. Yet we will make the most advantageous use possible of our exceptionally strong passing.

DEFENSE—We will employ basically a wide tackle "6" with stunts and variations and generally a three-deep secondary. We are hopeful of better team pursuit and gang tackling. Great emphasis will be placed on this phase of our game.

KICKING—New emphasis will be placed on this vital phase of our game and we are expecting improvement. We have a strong kick-off man in Tommy Simpson and a good short field goal-PAT specialist in Clarkie Mayfield. Our leading punter appears to be junior Darrell Cox, who should improve on his 34.9 average of '61.

CONVERSIONS—We will go for the kick as long as it will keep us in the game and use the two-point conversion to catch up or put pressure on the opposition.

SUBSTITUTION—Kentucky will employ a two-unit system insofar as possible with one or two "wild cards."

SCHEDULE—We know it is going to be tough, but that's the way we like it. Remember, they have to play us, too. Ideally, I would like to have as many as seven Southeastern Conference teams on our schedule every year and fill in with top notch independents and members of the Southwest Conference and/or Atlantic Coast Conference. (NOTE: Kentucky's advance schedule making is completed through 1965 with six SEC teams dated each season.)

SPRING GAME—Called off due to lack of sufficient numbers and numerous minor injuries.

POSITION SUMMARY

ENDS—Strong . . . Kentucky is blessed with two of the best flankmen in the country in two-time All-Southeastern Tom Hutchinson and unsung “other end” Dave Gash . . . Best depth of any position found here with five lettermen available . . . most important help should come from returning starters Hutchinson and Gash plus top reserve Tommy Simpson and Danny Riveiro . . . Letterman Dennis Schrecker could lend important assistance if injury allows . . . Best of three sophs may be Giles Smith.

TACKLES—Average in over-all strength . . . Outstanding starters of '61, Herschel Turner and Junior Hawthorne, return along with letterman reserve Tommy Brush . . . Depth must be developed from ranks of four sophs and one junior . . . Turner shapes up as one of South's most promising young linemen after a terrific break-in year in which he won All-SEC Sophomore team honors . . . Best of the younger men appears to be 6-4, 200 pound Roy Evans.

GUARDS—Weak . . . Likely the worst hit position by departures as both starters and top three reserves are missing . . . Lone returning letterman is senior Jim Hill, a hardnose type but never spectacular . . . Help from seven sophomores, who make up the rest of the ranks at this position, has to come quickly to solve team's biggest personnel problem . . . Best bet for a starting job along with Hill appears to be 190-pound Terry Clark . . . Jim Foley and Joe Blankenship could help.

CENTERS—Weak . . . All-America Irv Goode and three other lettermen departed leaving only three sophomores—Dennis Bradford, relocated Clyde Richardson and Ray Heffington—plus a junior college transfer (Alton Standley) to hold the fort. Bradford is the likely top prospect at the start.

QUARTERBACK—Strong . . . Back fully mended from a broken leg that sidelined him for the final three games of '61 is sterling passer Jerry Woolum, third-leading hurler in the nation at the time of his injury . . . His keen football mind and experience will give UK a strong hand . . . Help behind Woolum is scant in both number and experience with soph Bill Jenkins most likely to come through after fine spring showing . . . Junior Elmer Jackson, a non-letterwinner, and second-year man Louis Owen round out the signal calling contingent.

HALFBACKS—Average front-line strength but experience in depth is problem . . . Last season's leading ground-gainer, right half Gary Steward, returns for a final campaign along with three other lettermen boasting only limited game-action time . . . The fight for starting duty at left half pairs a surprising soph, Phil Pickett, and diminutive junior speedster Darrell Cox . . . Only other experienced hands are Clarkie Mayfield, used mainly as place-kicking specialist, and Ken Bocard, full-back Dennis Cardwell. Bob Kosid, a junior non-letterman, also returns.

FULLBACKS—Average . . . A tentative tag has to be put on this position due to the limited spring spractice work of returning starter Howard Dunnebacke and promising soph Phil Branson, both sidelined with leg injuries but expected to be ready for the season . . . The "find" of spring practice proved to be junior Perky Bryant, a running "fool" who could be one of the SEC's best fullbacks after a so-so 1961 campaign.

PAGES OUT OF THE HISTORY BOOK

Kentucky's first inter-collegiate football game of record occurred Nov. 12, 1881, when Kentucky A & M College took the measure of Kentucky University (later Transylvania) by a score of 7¼ to 1 . . . One of the most illustrious pages in UK football history covers the perfect-season exploits of the 1898 team which became the first and only Kentucky grid outfit to go undefeated, untied and unscored on . . . Spring practice was held for the first time in UK grid history in 1926 by Coach Fred Murphy . . . Coach E. R. Sweetland experimented with a new formation at the start of the 1910 season that saw all four backfield men lined up side by side instead of in the conventional pattern with the quarterback directly behind center . . . One of the greatest individual performances ever seen on the nation's gridirons took place in Lexington in 1914 as Kentucky quarterback Jim Park, later active in politics, passed for five TD's and personally scored five more in an 81-3 rout of Earlham . . . Only All-America Babe Parilli has come close to surpassing the school record as he twice connected for five scoring aerials in the 1951 season.

KENTUCKY'S COLORS

The blue and white of the University of Kentucky are known to sports fans everywhere. Officially the colors are Yale blue and white, but in the beginning, when the Lexington institution was still known as the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Kentucky, the colors were "Stoll blue" and white. One day back in the 1890's a group of Kentucky football stalwarts met to choose their school colors. Someone suggested blue and white—"blue like Dick Stoll's necktie"—and those colors were immediately adopted. "Dick" Stoll was to become Judge Richard C. Stoll, distinguished public servant and, for more than fifty years before his death, a member of the U.K. board of trustees.

HUTCH AIMS AT AA AND RECORD

Proof positive that someone had foresight and faith in Kentucky end Tom Hutchinson's All-America possibilities at least two years ago is offered by the fact he wears the same No. 80 jersey number that former All-America E-QB-HB Steve Meilinger made famous in 1952-53. And this season, Hutch not only aims to become UK's tenth All-America but also is shooting at Meilinger's school pass catching record of 38 catches in a single season (11 games, 1951). Already owner of the receiving yardage record (543 last year), Hutchinson snared 32 aerials last year despite the fact that his No. 1 battery mate, Jerry Woolum, missed the last three and one-half games with an injury.

ORIGIN OF "WILDCATS" NICKNAME

Kentucky's athletic teams are known to sports fans as the Wildcats. This first and only nickname borne by University varsities had its origin in 1909 in a speech made by Commandant Corbusier, then head of the military department of old State College. Speaking to a chapel audience of students on the showing of the Kentucky football team in defeating Illinois six to two, the Commandant declared "they fought like Wildcats." The tag was popularized by word of mouth and by the press with the result that it has since become synonymous with all major Kentucky athletic teams.

While the name is old in origin, no claim is made regarding precedence over similar nicknames boasted by Northwestern, Villanova and about 10 other major athletic teams.

An alumnus in 1947 presented a live Kentucky Wildcat to SUKY, student pep organization. Named "The Colonel," the cat served as a live mascot for UK teams until his death in 1955. The current mascot is a stuffed wildcat obtained from a Brooklyn taxidermist just before the 1958 football season and named "Tucky."

UK, FOES HAVE THINGS IN COMMON

Besides the common goal of victory, Kentucky and four of its 1962 opponents share other things in common. Like UK, three foes—Detroit, LSU and Xavier—will be under the direction of new pilots this season. Joining the Wildcats' Charlie Bradshaw in the spotlight are Detroit's John Idzik, LSU's Charles McClendon (an ex-UK teammate of Bradshaw) and Xavier's Ed Biles. Three other coaches besides Bradshaw—Bowden Wyatt of Tennessee, Ralph Jordan of Auburn and Johnny Griffith of Georgia—are alumni of their schools. On the player side, UK's Jerry Woolum by coincidence can talk about a broken left leg in the seventh game of last season with Detroit quarterback Jerry Gross, who strangely picked up his fracture in the same leg only inches lower at the same stage of the season. And, Georgia's passer Larry Rakestraw could get into the conversation as he sustained an ankle joint separation in an off-season accident.

SERIES HISTORY: The Seminoles of Florida State, a fast-rising southern independent, became the newest Kentucky football rival when gridiron relations were inaugurated at Tallahassee in October, 1960. Although UK had met other Florida teams (University of Florida and Miami), the only previous athletic relationship with Florida State had been in a basketball meeting at Lexington opening the 1958-59 season. The Seminoles have been playing football only 16 years but are regarded as a coming power in the sport. They have yet to cross Kentucky's goal line in the young series, dropping a 23-0 decision to the Wildcats in 1960 and losing, 20 to 0, last year in the K-Day game at Lexington.

LAST MEETING: The Wildcats registered their first shutout victory of campaign in a late-season, 20-0 decision over Florida State at Lexington last year. But the win proved costly as UK's star quarterback, Jerry Woolum (third leading passer in the nation at the time), suffered a fractured leg in a second-quarter pileup and was lost for the rest of the season. FSU was never in the game as Kentucky scored in the first period and added two more TD's in the third stanza behind the clutch relief work of quarterback John Rampulla and sensational play of halfback Darrell Cox.

1962 OUTLOOK: The word direct from Tallahassee is that Florida State's 1962 football squad "should be the best in the school's brief gridiron history." Coach Bill Peterson boasts a veteran squad showing two or more lettermen available for every position. The Seminoles have twice as many lettermen returning (24) as they lost (12) from a squad that posted a 4-5-1 mark in 1961. Standout of the three-team, Split T operations is diminutive quarterback Eddie Feely, who last year connected on 48 of 83 tosses for 471 yards. He has a top battery mate in senior flankman John McConnaughay. Ends and guard spots appear strong in addition to quarterback. Senior guard Gene McDowell and tackle Mike Blazovich are touted as all-star candidates among line stalwarts taking up slack for graduated tackle Steve Klesius and end Fred Grimes. Three-team system operates with Chiefs (two-way unit), Renegades (defensive platoon) and Warriors (offensive specialists). Words to wise: Watch those speedy soph backs and end Fred Biletnikoff who will have game under belts (Citadel Sept. 15) when they face Wildcats.

Florida State will be the K-Day opponent for the second straight year. Occasion will honor UK's Charlie Bradshaw in his head coaching debut and all his former Wildcat teammates will be special guests.

SERIES HISTORY: A strange sequence of upsets and near-upsets flavors the comparatively young, but colorful and intense rivalry between the Wildcats and Ole Miss. Eighteen meetings have been held since the series got underway in 1944, but it was 1958 before the Rebels could claim a distinctive edge in the battling. The Wildcats got the series off to an auspicious start by winning the first game, but Mississippi took the decision in three out of the next four meetings. The fireworks really started in 1949 as Kentucky claimed a 47-0 upset in Oxford and started on the road to big-time prominence. Since then, the Kentucky game has been a "make or break" situation on the Rebels' schedule. The 1954 meeting in Memphis was a penalty-marred spectacle resulting in several conference records for violations that still stand. In 1955, UK added new fire to the "beat the favorite" series history by upending the defending SEC champs in Lexington for their only loss enroute to a second straight title and Cotton Bowl win. Ole Miss got its revenge by recording wins in the next six meetings, but the final result on the scoreboard failed generally to reflect the closeness of the battles. UK extended the SEC "Team of the Decade" three years back by forcing a long field goal and a freakish 51-yard quarterback sneak TD in final seconds for a 16-0 decision. The Rebs won again in both 1960 and '61 with nationally-ranked clubs but were in trouble throughout. In Memphis two years back, Kentucky staged a second half comeback that had its No. 1 hosts almost on the ropes before they padded a slim endangered margin with a closing seconds score to win, 21-6.

LAST MEETING: The Wildcats, unawed by Mississippi's No. 2 national ranking, threw a scare into the visiting Rebels with a pair of first half field goals that allowed the Vaughtment only a slim, 7-6 halftime lead. Coming to life in the second half, Mississippi got some insurance by returning an intercepted pass 69 yards and driving for another third period score through the air. Kentucky menaced several times, mainly on the sensational pass-catching efforts of Tom Hutchinson (5 for 91), but had to settle for only an edge in the statistics (305-271).

1962 OUTLOOK: Ole Miss may again (as last year) have to take a back seat to SEC powerhouses Alabama and LSU, but don't bet on it. The SEC's winningest grid chief, Johnny Vaught, generally keeps himself well supplied with talent and '62 should be no exception—four starters and 25 lettermen back, including numerous all-star candidates. Biggest news out of Oxford is the new offensive wrinkle Vaught has introduced, a basic wing-T supplemented with single wing features and identification of halfbacks as tailbacks and wingbacks. Ole Miss hardly needs anything new to improve on its nation-leading offense and third best defense. Biggest stars likely will be All-America candidate Jim Dunaway, a huge tackle, and quarterback Glynn Griffing—a probable All-Conference choice. Top soph may be halfback Dave Jennings. Chief loss among 13 lettermen on '61 team that finished with 9-1 regular season ledger was All-America fullback Billy Ray Adams. Guard Bookie Bolin ruled ineligible.

SERIES HISTORY: Former Southeastern Conference football “doormats,” Kentucky and Auburn, first got together on the gridiron at Lexington in 1934—the year after the league was organized—and played another game the following season at Montgomery before interrupting their series for nearly two decades. Each held a victory out of the early meetings and the 1954 scrap, which resumed the rivalry, resulted in a 21-14 decision in the Wildcats’ favor. Tilts between the new-found powers in the years since have been fraught with frustration. With but one exception (a 33-0 Auburn win in 1959), the annual clashes have seen neither influence a decisive change in the trend to close games. Two seasons back, the Tigers notched a slim, 10-7 win on a late fourth period field goal. Kentucky retaliated last year when it walked away with a 14-12 upset victory on the Tigers’ home ground where Auburn had not been beaten in 30 straight games. Prior to the win, UK had been able to score on the stingy Plainsmen only once in five years.

LAST MEETING: Capitalizing on breaks set up by great defensive play and some sensational work by Tom Hutchinson (who was to gain SEC Lineman of the Week honors for the second time), Kentucky tasted one of its sweetest victories of the season. The 14-12 routing of an Auburn team bidding for national recognition ended a 30-game win streak in Cliff Hare Stadium. Kentucky, which had found itself in defeat the week before by Ole Miss, overcame two leads by their hosts and went ahead for good as Hutchinson recovered an Auburn fumble at the A 21, then grabbed off a clutch, fourth-down pass from Jerry Woolum in the end zone. UK's forwards contributed mightily by completely manhandling the Tiger line to limit Auburn's running attack to a minus 11 yards. First of Auburn scores came on unusual, 82-yard return of blocked field goal attempt.

1962 OUTLOOK: To start with, the experts concede that Auburn Coach Shug Jordan is to be pitied for heavy losses sustained following a disappointing 1961 season. Nine regulars will be missing plus an equal number of other veterans, but the youth movement could signal the beginning of a new era on the plains. If the bevy of soph hot shots come through fast enough, Auburn could well improve on the sixth place finish predicted for it. The Tigers will not be without some strength in experienced hands as fullback Larry Rawson (third leading rusher in SEC last year as a soph) and injured halfback Jimmy Burson are still around. Best of the sophs is speedy, 212-pound halfback Tucker Frederickson. Biggest loss—quarterback Bobby Hunt. Look for increased emphasis on strong defense keyed up for revenge against Kentucky.

SERIES HISTORY: The Titans have to take a back seat to Florida State as the newest opponent on Kentucky's football schedule since the initial game came in 1959—a year before the 'Cats met FSU for the first time. However, that 1959 meeting at Detroit represents the extent of football history between the two schools. Kentucky and Detroit are dated for two more games in upcoming seasons, both at Lexington. Next season, the Titans occupy the same spot on the UK schedule and, in 1964, they are scheduled as the season opener.

LAST MEETING: Kentucky won handily, 32-7, in the inaugural game of the rivalry at Detroit on Oct. 2, 1959. The Wildcats of the powerful Southeastern Conference simply overpowered the Titans with a strong ground game, rolling up 344 yards. Ambitious Detroit could not cope with their visitors' depth and defense. UK scored in every quarter, using reserves extensively, and allowed only one long run—a 51-yard gallop by Bruce Maher after the game was wrapped up.

1962 OUTLOOK: Things aren't likely to be as easy this year as the last time the Wildcats visited Detroit. Quarterback Jerry Gross, two-time Catholic All-America and 1961 Catholic Player of the Year, is counted on to give the Titans their greatest offensive potential ever. Like UK's passing ace, Jerry Woolum, Gross is back fit as ever after missing the final three games of last season with a broken left ankle (Woolum's fracture was a matter of inches higher in the same leg). Even though missing most of four games last fall, Gross chalked up a total offense total of 1,250 yards and appeared headed for the national title. All but 124 of the total was compiled on 72 aerial connections. New Head Coach John Idzik, like the pilots of UK foes LSU, Georgia and Florida State, is planning to utilize a three-platoon system for most effective use of a nucleus of a school-record 19 lettermen. Helping along the attack will be returning ground-gaining leader, fullback Vic Battani (4.6).

SERIES HISTORY: Inaugurated with a game at Baton Rouge in 1949, the Kentucky-Louisiana State grid series is the youngest football rivalry within the Southeastern Conference. Twelve meetings make up the series which has seen annual encounters with the exception of the 1951 season and the count now stands tipped in the Bengals' favor, six wins to five plus a 6-6 tie in 1953. The Billy Cannon-led Tigers, enjoying their greatest seasons during the 1957-59 period, overcame the Wildcats' 4-2-1 edge in the series by taking three straight decisions in these years. UK tied it up two years ago with a 3-0 upset victory in Lexington and then LSU survived a determined bid for glory by the 'Cats last season in Baton Rouge to notch a success that again gave it the lead. A new era now dawns in the rivalry with a pair of youthful ex-Wildcats at the grid helms of the respective schools.

LAST MEETING: Opposing the second nationally-rated power to be faced in the early going, Kentucky carried the fight to LSU in amazing fashion before running out of emotional and physical gas and losing, 24-14. By coincidence, the margin was exactly what the experts figured but the final score will never reflect the closeness of the battle. Down 14-0 in the second period, UK got over its "stage fright" (65,000 audience) and roared back to knot the count. Kentucky's first TD came off in spectacular fashion as great Wildcat end Tom Hutchinson made an almost impossible catch of a long Jerry Woolum pass, nearly falling on his face amidst three LSU defenders, and raced to pay dirt in a 77-yard play most feel was the greatest of the season. LSU added a field goal before the half and managed an insurance marker with 2:27 left.

1962 OUTLOOK: No letup in the solidly-built tradition of powerful football teams appears in the offing at LSU under the new direction of ex-Kentucky Wildcat end Charley McClendon. An LSU aide for nine years, he knows how to put out winning elevens and has inherited plenty of talent to keep the Bengals' three-platoon football machine going. Twenty-six of last season's 35 lettermen come back along with some highly-touted graduates of the best Tiger freshman team ever. Heading the talent parade is versatile halfback Jerry Stovall and not far behind are tough end Gene Sykes and 235-pound tackle Don Estes. Jimmy Field will be directing T operations as LSU seeks to extend a nine-game win streak and justify predictions that it will be battling Alabama again for the loop title and national honors.

SERIES HISTORY: Georgia and Kentucky began their rivalry on the football field with a game at Louisville on Oct. 21, 1939. The two schools met almost annually from that time until the series was broken off after the 1949 game and not resumed until 1956 with a game at Athens. During the 22 years that Wally Butts tutored the Bulldogs (he switched to full-time Athletic Director duties after the '60 season), Georgia laid claim to nine victories in the 14-game series. Kentucky took the initial game and tied the following year, but it was 1947 before it picked up another win. All told, UK shows but four victories with the last in 1956. Despite Georgia's superiority, the series generally has been interesting as reflected by the fact that Butts' four SEC championship outfits managed an average win margin of only 11 points over Kentucky. Only 12 points separates the two clubs in their last three meetings.

LAST MEETING: True to the form that uncannily has dominated recent games of the series, Kentucky dropped a close decision (16-15) to a Bulldog team it should have whipped handily. Harassed by their own mistakes and a Georgia line fired up for homecoming fans, the Wildcats suffered one of their most frustrating afternoons of all time and literally fumbled the game away with six bobbles lost. Going into the game, the favored Kentuckians had a chance for their best season record in seven years and a possible "minor" bowl bid. Despite being way off the form they had displayed the week before in a near-upset of LSU, the Wildcats had a chance to salvage a close win over their SEC nemesis until quarterback Jerry Woolum fumbled in the end zone during the closing minutes and Georgia recovered for the points that insured the win.

1962 OUTLOOK: Coach Johnny Griffith, in his second season as successor to venerable Wally Butts, promises an improved and stronger outfit than the one that finished ninth in the SEC last year. Despite this confidence, the experts have tabbed the Bulldogs for a 10th place finish. Griffith gives his reasons for optimism as better manpower at virtually every spot except tackle (24 lettermen return) and a strong thrower in T-quarterback Larry Rakestraw. As a sophomore, Larry hit 68 strikes in 136 tries for 710 yards. He suffered an ankle joint separation in May, but reportedly will be ready. Backing up Rakestraw will be Jack Saye and line stars should be center Len Hauss (if he recovers from a summer knee injury) and end Mickey Babb. Georgia will try the three platoon system with Red (two-way), Silver (offense) and Black (defense) units.

SERIES HISTORY: Gridiron relations with Miami (Fla.) date back only to 1948 and involve only six games, making the Hurricanes one of the newer rivals on the Kentucky schedule. This season, they take a back seat in this respect only to once-faced Detroit and twice-met Florida State. In the five encounters played during the years prior to last season, Kentucky had things pretty much its own way—winning all games by generally decisive scores. The Wildcats used a 21-6 shellacking of a good Miami team in 1949 as the stepping stone to their first major bowl invitation—to the Orange Bowl where they lost a heartbreaker to Santa Clara. Miami, annually one of the top southern independents, had managed to score only 14 points up to last year. But all that went by the board last September with Miami not only matching their previous total output but also toppling the host Wildcats.

LAST MEETING: Underrated Miami unleashed its famed “M Squad” (quarterback George Mira to end Bill Miller) to chalk up a touchdown late in the third period of the season opener at Lexington last year. That marker proved historic to the interesting series as it gave the visiting Hurricanes the margin needed for an eventual 14-7 win, marking their first success in the 14-year-old rivalry. With all due respect to Miami, the outcome was influenced more by what the Wildcats didn't do than by Hurricane accomplishments. The UK line yielded 217 yards to Miami ground operations and gave only passive protection to its own backs.

1962 OUTLOOK: The Hurricanes' plans for improvement on their 7-4 record of last season seem keyed to the fast development of some receivers to handle the missiles dispatched by ace quarterback George Mira. His two leading battery mates, Bill Miller and Larry Wilson, were among 12 departing lettermen. Coach Andy Gustafson, who is blessed with added strength in the aerial arm with a tremendous soph named Fred Bertani, is counting on lettermen Ben Rizzo and James Simon to take over. Halfbacks are in good shape to van another strong running attack. Miami will employ the Multiple T in an effort to get by another really tough schedule.

SERIES HISTORY: Kentucky and the Vanderbilt Commodores first got together on the gridiron way back in 1896 at Nashville and the rivalry has been perpetuated intermittently ever since with the result that it is one of the oldest in the South from the standpoint of first meeting and number of games. History shows a record solidly in Vandy's favor—23 wins to Kentucky's eight and three ties. Vandy registered 12 shutouts in the first 26 years of the rivalry and UK did not get into the win column until 1939. However, the post-war record shows only four setbacks. Kentucky's 27-0 homecoming rout of the Commodores in 1960 ended a three-year trend to close games, but the rivalry got back in the groove last year as UK struggled strangely before taking a 16-3 decision.

LAST MEETING: Weak Vanderbilt, keyed up for homecoming at Nashville last season, forced the issue and the visiting Wildcats called the hand when the Commodores miscued to take a 16-3 pot. Kentucky capitalized on Vandy fumbles by turning them into touchdown drives in the second and fourth periods and then tacked on a safety in the closing seconds as tackle Herschel Turner covered another fumble in the end zone. The win was UK's first in Nashville since 1953 and only its eighth in the 65-year-old rivalry.

1962 OUTLOOK: The Commodores, who finished last in 1961, are pegged by the experts for another ignominious cellar close but Coach Art Guepe seemingly has better talent than that. With no place to go but up and triple threat quarterback Hank Lesesne back in the fold, Vandy could be rough and tough. The backfield is promising with 11 experienced hands, although no clutch runner is evident, and the interior line shows signs of life. Only 18 of 38 lettermen return, but the ranks are bolstered by service returnee Tommy Gaudet (a guard and probable top soph) and a pair of huge transfers from Southern California who are eligible after sitting out '61. They are 275-pound tackle Nick Spiak—biggest Commodore ever—and 220-pound end Tom Zimmerman.

SERIES HISTORY: Kentucky and its ambitious neighbor to the north of the Mason-Dixon line have met on the gridiron 19 times with the initial game taking place in 1903 at Lexington (a game just discovered in the records) and the last at Lexington a year ago. A meeting in 1956 resumed the rivalry which had been interrupted after the 1949 season and annual encounters have been played since at Lexington. This year's game, however, ends the current contract and Baylor takes over this spot on UK's card for the next two years. The Muskies' lone triumph in the series came in 1938, but they gave Kentucky the scare of its life before bowing, 9-0, a year ago. A 70-0 shellacking administered XU in '46 stands as one of the biggest point-production efforts ever seen on Stoll Field.

LAST MEETING: Coach Blanton Collier called it "a miserable exhibition" and that about sums up the lack of action that occurred on Stoll Field last November. Kentucky eked out a 9-0 verdict on the strength of Xavier mistakes, getting all of its points in the listless "battle" as the result of a Muskie fumble and a mental lapse during the second quarter. After moving in on passes to score following the fumble, Kentucky added a safety on the ensuing kickoff as an Xavier back detoured into the end zone in an attempt to elude UK tacklers.

1962 OUTLOOK: Xavier has an energetic, young coach to replace departed Ed Doherty and a young, equally-energetic squad—which adds up to potential trouble for any opponent taking them lightly. Kentucky isn't likely to fall into that trap after last year, but could experience difficulty in coping with the Muskies' depth. Twenty-three lettermen are back and an encouraged Coach Ed Biles plans to operate with a two-team system—a Thunder outfit relying on a powerful ground offense and a Lightning unit specializing in passing and a wide open attack. Top players are 234-pound senior tackle Jim Thrush and 226-pound junior guard Jim Higgins. Xavier will be weak in the backfield, missing little quarterback Irv Ettler and two other regulars, and strong in the line with lettermen two deep.

SERIES HISTORY: Among the six oldest football rivalries in the South, the Kentucky-Tennessee series dates from a memorable encounter in Knoxville 67 years ago. In that meeting, Oct. 21, 1893, the Wildcats annexed a 60-0 victory to get the warfare off to an auspicious start in a fashion that hasn't been equalled in the many and colorful renewals of the traditional rivalry. Except for three war years (1917-18 and 1943), the two schools have met annually on the gridiron with the result that the Vols hold a distinct-but-fading edge of 31 wins to Kentucky's 17 and nine ties. Tennessee's sparkling advantage has become tarnished in the past few seasons as Kentucky started reversing the victory trend with an upsetting tie in 1952 and ate into the Vols' polished record with successes in six of the last eight meetings. The seniors on the 1955 UK squad became the first class in 43 years to graduate with the accomplishment of never playing in a game in which the Vols emerged victorious and they bowed out in a blaze of glory, triumphing to the tune of 23-0 over the bowl-hungry Vols in the most one-sided Kentucky win since 1935. Tennessee turned the tide again last season with its first victory in five years. Since 1925, the two schools have stimulated their grid rivalry with a rotating trophy—a battered old beer barrel. Much shenanigans on the part of the rival student bodies have added to the color of the series. Following the 1953 UK win, disgruntled Tennessee students raided the Kentucky campus and “kegnapped” the barrel—holding it until persuaded to return it by threats of reprisal against their coon dog mascot, Smoky. In 1955, UK students visited the Tennessee campus hiding place of Smoky and “dognapped” him. UT students promptly retaliated by painting up the Kentucky campus in a surprise raid and carting away “Colonel,” UK’s stuffed wildcat mascot. A trade was engineered at the '55 game. For a couple of years, things were comparatively quiet. Then the stunts erupted again in 1958 as Vol students caught a guard “napping” and slipped away with UK’s stuffed Wildcat. Despite promises to return it at halftime of a nationally-televised basketball game, the mascot wasn’t given back until nearly four months later. A post-game sidelight to Kentucky’s victory in 1959 saw a strange calm shattered by rioting UK students protesting a faculty refusal to reward the win with a traditional pre-Thanksgiving holiday. Up to 5,000 demonstrators and onlookers carried on for about four and one-half hours, marching on the UK president’s home and setting a bonfire at a main intersection in downtown Lexington. In 1960, at Knoxville, it was a post game fracas on the field that added fuel to the rivalry’s torrid history. Vol players, protesting UK’s retention of the game ball it had possession of when the game ended in a 10-10 tie, precipitated a “free for all” involving both players and spectators. The famed beer barrel, which had remained in hiding during “Tennessee week,” came up missing almost four months later under unusual circumstances. Vanderbilt students “kegnapped” the trophy in a surprise attempt to gain support of Vol fans for the Commodors basketball team which was meeting the Wildcats in Knoxville in a playoff for an NCAA Tournament berth. The stunt backfired, however, as UK won. Embarrassed Vandy students did not return the trophy until several months later. Last year, another chapter was added to the keg’s history as two UK freshman players forgot to bring the barrel to the game and the Vols left town without claiming it. Kentucky sent the keg on to Knoxville later.

LAST MEETING: Tennessee came to town a little more determined than the Wildcats and left with its first win in the series since 1956 and first taste of success in Lexington since 1951. Sophomore tailback Mallon Faircloth ran and passed the Vols to a 26-16 victory over the Kentuckians who were unable to generate much of an offense without quarterback Jerry Woolum, sitting out with a broken leg from three weeks before. Tennessee completely overwhelmed their hosts during the first three periods—scoring once in the first and second quarters and twice in the third—before the 'Cats came to life to gain two quick markers through the air. All-America candidate Tom Hutchinson tallied UK's last TD on a play covering 73 yards. Faircloth had stamped himself as a man to be closely watched by passing for two scores and going 40 yards personally for another. Kentucky had another surge near game end stopped by an interception. The loss ended a string of 13 straight homecoming successes and turned out to be Coach Blanton Collier's "swan song."

1962 OUTLOOK: Experts close to the Vol camp say this year's edition of the Orange Ogres should be the best since 1951 when they went undefeated in regular season and lost a close battle to Maryland in the Sugar Bowl. Tennessee is picked to push the "biggies" of the SEC before finishing third or equaling its fourth place windup of last season. With the blessing of one of the South's best backs, 1961 Soph of the Year tailback Mallon Faircloth, the Knoxville crew has to be given the nod as one of the brightest darkhorses in Dixie. Also, there's a full cup of fine sophomores to blend in with 21 returning lettermen for good depth. Coach Bowden Wyatt, surprisingly confident, claims he has problems at center (where All-SEC Mike Lucci vacated) and wingback and pass defense needs bridging up.

WILDCAT MASCOTS HAD COLORFUL NAMES

Over the years, Kentucky athletic teams have been spurred on in efforts toward victory by numerous colorfully-named wildcat mascots. Records indicate the first animal was given to the University in 1921. Named "Tom," this live Kentucky wildcat died quickly in captivity and was replaced with "TNT." Other live mascots followed—including "Whiskers," "Hot Tamale," and "Colonel"—only to pass from the scene due to death or being turned loose in the mountains after they did not thrive out of their native habitat. The current mascot, displayed at football and basketball games by SUKY (student pep organization), is a stuffed Kentucky wildcat obtained in 1958 from a Brooklyn taxidermist.

THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

. . . The State Is Our Campus

Located in Lexington, an urban community of over 100,000 population in the heart of Kentucky's famed Blue Grass region, University of Kentucky is a state-supported, land-grant institution now in its 96th year.

The present school, which this fall expects 11,3000 students and now offers instruction in 10 academic colleges plus a Graduate School and a division of Extended Programs, had its beginnings in 1865 when it was established as a part of old Kentucky University. This action by the State Legislature united sectarian and public education under one organization for the first time. Federal funds authorized under the Morrill Act were used to develop agriculture and mechanical arts within KU and, in 1878, A&M College was separated from KU to become a separate state institution on the general site of what is now the 706-acre main campus. Name changes in 1908 and 1916 resulted in the title by which the school is now known.

Dr. Frank G. Dickey currently serves as president of the University. The youthful, athletic-minded former dean of the UK College of Education succeeded venerable Dr. Herman L. Donovan in 1956 as the eighth chief administrative officer in the school's history. Dr. Dickey also is a former president of the Southeastern Conference.

The University is on the approved list of the Association of American Universities and is a member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. It is fully accredited in its respective colleges and departments by all of the major professional societies and educational organizations.

WILDCATS OF '60 BEST PASSERS EVER

According to available statistical records, the 1960 Kentucky team was the "passingest" in school history as they amassed an average of 163.3 yards per game on the aerial arm. The mark surpassed the 156.0 average posted by the Babe Parilli-led Cotton Bowl champions of 1951 and a 155.8 average recorded by Parilli and mates in the Sugar Bowl year of 1950.

Background Briefs

LINDSEY ABLE Soph. Tackle 6-3 220 19 (6/24/43) Louisville, Ky.

One of three former Louisville Male High gridgers who learned their football under ex-Wildcat Charlie Kuhn, Able brings good size (6-3 and 220) to the tackle position. He was an All-State second team choice and All-City selection at Male. The Commerce major turned in a creditable spring practice and should see some action this season while gaining experience.

JOE BLANKENSHIP Soph. Guard 5-11 185 20 (12/27/41) Louisville, Ky.

Like teammates Lindsey Able and Dennis Schrecker, he is a product of Louisville Male and is considered a top-flight prospect. Moved over to guard after freshman service at end. He is considered to have all the qualifications for eventual stardom. His size (5-11) was something of a drawback at the flank spot, but fits him in well at guard. Probably will start out as number two man on right side. Played both guard and end at Male, winning All-State and honorable mention All-America honors and starring as a pitcher in baseball. Also won Yale scholastic award. The redhead is enrolled in the Education College, majoring in PE and planning a coaching career.

KEN BOCARD (Bo'-card) Jr. Halfback 5-10 190 20 (3/29/42) Ashland, Ky.

Listed as a reserve halfback on the pre-season depth chart, this young athlete can and probably will see some "swing man" duty at fullback as well. Ken (correctly it's Kendall) alternated between the two positions as a freshman in 1960 and played 85:23 in eight games last season at fullback—which was thought to be his best position. Picked up 62 yards on 14 trips and caught one pass, but has yet to register his first collegiate touchdown. He has good speed and showed up well in spring workouts. The son of a former All-State basketballer won honorable mention All-State honors as a quarterback during schoolboy play at Ashland High. His development was held back by slight injuries as a freshman. Majoring in economics and plans a business career.

PHIL BRANSON Soph. Fullback 6-2 200 19 (2/6/43) Church Hill, Tenn.

A prize recruit out of Volunteer land, Branson is capable of lending important help at the thin fullback spot in the lineup. The big question mark revolves around his leg. He nursed a badly pulled tendon during spring practice and saw no rough work after the sixth day. Up to that point, Phil had shown steady improvement over his freshman campaign. As a yearling, he was the team's No. 3 ground gainer with 64 yards on 26 carries from both halfback and fullback slots. Also caught one pass and returned a kickoff. Scored one of four frosh TD's. The all-around athlete was a second team All-Tennessee pick and honorable mention on the schoolboy All-America while playing at Church Hill High near Kingsport. Majoring in civil engineering.

DENNIS BRADFORD Soph. Center 5-11 190 20 (11/9/41) Bellevue, Ky.

This darkhorse choice for regular duty at the ball-snapping position showed steady and promising improvement during his break-in season last fall and in spring drills this year. He was coming fast at the close of the off-season workouts as both an offensive snapper and as a dependable linebacker. Spent the summer on a construction job to build himself up physically. Sizes up with 190 pounds distributed on a 5-11 frame. Brad likely will start out as the No. 2 center, but could move in to a starting job with the right break. At Bellevue High, he was team captain and a second All-State choice while winning six letters in football. Also picked up five letters as shot-put and pole vault man in track, captained the cage team and was a catcher in baseball. The rock-'n-roll fan, who was born in nearby Dayton, Ky., is a PE major in the College of Education.

BOB BROWN Soph. Guard 6-0 210 19 (5/5/43) Darlington, Pa.

Pennsylvania import Brown lends good size (6-0 and 210) and plenty of grid savvy to the weakest position in the lineup and should lend a great deal of help in his initial varsity season. He looked continually better as spring practice moved along. At the start, "Poncho" will be battling six other sophs for the right to start or see important early reserve duty. His qualifications stack up with the best . . . four-year letterman at Darlington's Northwestern High, All-Conference honors in a tough league and play in the "Big 33" Pennsylvania all-star classic. A student in the College of Arts and Sciences, he is pursuing a pre-med course.

TOMMY BRUSH Senior Tackle 6-4 220 21 (7/21/41) Jenkins, Ky.

One of only three lettermen at a depth-weak position in the lineup, Brush will be called upon for yoeman duty in a reserve role behind regulars Herschel Turner and Junior Hawthorne. He's likely to see most action on the left side. Tommy as a junior last season played as a reserve in all 10 games for an action time total of 194:36. He was a right side tackle reserve in 1960 with 46:28 action in seven games and did not letter. Brush won 13 letters as an all-sports standout at Jenkins High, captained the school football team and picked up All-State honors. One of the biggest men on the current Wildcat varsity, he is mean to handle most of the time and showed signs in spring practice of learning to be even tougher.

PERKY BRYANT Junior Fullback 5-9 190 20 (2/13/42) Evarts, Ky.

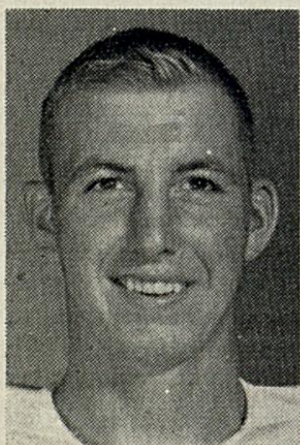

Hard-running Perky Bryant was the "surprise find" of spring practice as Coach Bradshaw concentrated on finding running backs capable of giving the Kentucky attack a slashing land assault to go with its tremendous aerial game. The fire-plug-type (5-9 and 190) Bryant proved to be not only the team's hardest running back but also demonstrated ability to come through in the clutch. Nothing seems to worry the plucky youngster. He puts all thoughts aside except concentration on gaining ground and literally throws himself into the opposing line with seemingly reckless abandon. Old timers class him as the hardest running back for his size since Bobby Walker (5-10, 192) was churning up ground in the mid-fifties. Bryant didn't exactly come out of nowhere this spring, but he had to be given a big nod as the most improved man on the squad. As a soph last year, he earned a varsity letter with 152:28 action time in 10 games and fifth place ranking in rushing on 165 yards picked up in 42 carries (a 27-yard TD jaunt against Vanderbilt his longest run). But he played second fiddle to Howard Dunnebacke. Bryant got his big break this spring when Dunnebacke "pulled up lame." The likeable Perky (whose real name is Charles Verlin Bryant) also was cited for his blocking ability this spring and will fool most people on his speed. In his freshman season, he was second in Kitten rushing with a 4.6 average as a halfback and had the longest run (34 yards) from scrimmage. He won 13 letters in four sports at Evarts High near Harlan, captained the footballers and was All-State honorable mention. Enrolled in College of Education and majoring in PE with plans to coach.

DENNY CARDWELL Soph. Halfback 6-2 175 20 (4/21/42) Louisville, Ky.

A former Louisville Trinity High School standout, Cardwell gives every indication of being ready to make his collegiate debut this season in rousing fashion. He turned in a good report card on spring examinations under the tough tutelage of Coach Bradshaw and is slated to start fall drills as the back-up man for 1961 rushing champ Gary Steward at right half. Cardwell is considered one of the team's most promising young backs. Equally capable as a runner and defensive man. He had no offensive record as a sub quarterback for the UK freshmen in 1960 and did not see varsity action last year. He earned honorable mention All-State grid honors at Trinity and starred also in track and basketball. Studying in the College of Commerce toward a business career.

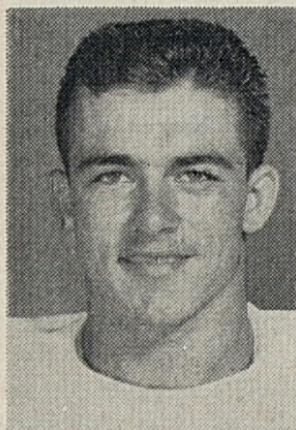

TERRY CLARK Soph. Guard 6-0 190 19 (9/20/43) Canton, Ohio

Experienced only to the extent of two years of prep play and one season's duty with the Kentucky freshmen, Clark shows tremendous potential and is counted as one of the top sophomores on the team. After a very creditable performance in spring practice, he is being ticketed for a trial at starting duty at the linebacking left guard spot. This will be the fourth position Clark has played in his brief football career. The six-foot, 190-pound youth was an end and tackle in only two years of football play at Central Catholic High in Canton, Ohio, and tried his hand at center as a Kentucky yearling last season. His toughness and defensive ability prompted the try at left guard and UK coaches are predicting he will be an exceptional interior lineman and linebacker if he can avoid injury. He has good speed and quickness. Clark, who is a native of Owensboro, Ky., picked up All-City and All-County laurels in high school football and played baseball. He got his chance this spring when the squad's only experienced guard, Jim Hill, was injured early and made the most of it even though he himself was injured later.

The "Little Man" is a very vital cog in the machinery being counted on to make the Wildcats go this fall. A highly-touted All-America prep star while performing at Miami Edison High, Cox lived up to his press clippings completely as a sensational Kentucky yearling in 1960 and during a terrific break-in year last season. The diminutive (5-8 and 172) speedster, fastest man on the team, led UK's freshmen in four departments of play—rushing, punting, punt and kickoff returns. As a second-year man last season, Cox led the tough Southeastern Conference and ranked fourth nationally in punt returning with 21 runbacks netting 281 yards for a 13.4 average. The small but solid gridder, who broke his hand in the Auburn game, racked up 331:38 action time in nine encounters—including three starts at left half—and posted UK's longest scoring play of the season as he scampered 86 yards on a punt return vs. Florida State. This also ranked as the best punt return in the SEC during '61. His long run from scrimmage was for 41 yards in the Xavier game and he compiled the fourth highest yardage total with 183 on 52 trips. Probably his best suit is punting. A natural port sider, he kicks right footed and had a 34.9 average last season. Also caught 10 passes, returned one kickoff and intercepted four aerials in a demonstration of outstanding safety play despite lack of size. He won an award as the team's best defensive back and was named to the All-SEC Sophomore team. Cox became discouraged at one point this spring and quit the squad, but was reinstated at his request later on vote of the team. He will have to beat out a talented sophomore, Phil Pickett, for starting duty at left half this season. At Miami Edison, he was Florida's top prep scorer with a record 167 points and gained 1,482 yards during an undefeated season. He was named outstanding player of the North-South All-America Classic in 1960. Studying in College of Education.

JIM CHEATHAM (Cheat'-am) Soph. Tackle 6-2 215 19 (3/28/43) Fulton, Ky.

One of five soph tackles who will be vying for assignments as relief men to regulars Herschel Turner and Junior Hawthorne, this sizeable youngster seems to have the equipment to get the job done and looked promising in spring practice. He will probably start out as a reserve on the left side behind senior lettermen Hawthorne and Tommy Brush. Cheatham, who sizes up at 6-2 and 215, is a former All-Stater at Fulton High. Also added All-America honorable mention and All-Conference to his honor list and played center in basketball. Showed up well as a freshman at UK last season. Enrolled in College of Education.

HOWARD DUNNEBACKE (Dunn'-e-back) Jr. FB- 5-8 181 21 (7/16/41)
Oak Ridge, Tenn.

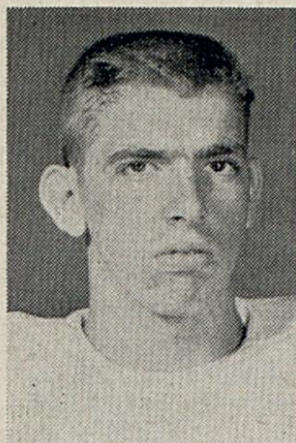

This pint-sized (5-8 and 181) bundle of grid dynamite proved himself a real hard-nose type last season as Kentucky's regular fullback—one of the smallest men at the position in any major school. Howard, who was considered primarily a defensive specialist at the start of last season, got his chance when regular fullback Gary Cochran was injured in the opening game and started the last nine. He turned in the fourth highest total of action time of anyone on the team with 343:17 in 10 games. Dunnebacke, who doesn't shy away from contact in the least, was third in Kentucky rushing with 276 yards gained in 67 carries for a 4.1 average and three touchdowns. His long run came on a 21-yard jaunt against Kansas State. Also caught two passes, including a 40-yard play against Georgia which did not score, and returned three kickoffs. Howard may have to take a back seat to his understudy of last season, Perky Bryant, at the start this year. His development was hampered by a thigh muscle injury this spring and he was held out of contact work. Spent the summer on a construction job in an effort to build himself up. Born in Nashville, Tenn., but attended high school in Oak Ridge where his father is an IBM operator. His high school team used the single wing. As a UK freshman halfback-fullback in '59, Howard was second leading ground gainer with 3.6 average. Did not see action in 1960. Married and studying to be an electrical engineer.

ROY EVANS Soph. Tackle 6-4 200 18 (11/2/43) Evarts, Ky.

Considered by Kentucky coaches to be one of the team's top sophomore linemen and a good bet to see extensive relief service at tackle in his break-in year, Evans hails from the same high school that produced teammate Perky Bryant. Roy, also known as "Buddy," played three years of high school football under the coaching direction of Charles Hunter. Gained All-Conference honor in the grid sport and also participated in basketball and baseball. One of the team's biggest men at 6-4 and 200 pounds, Roy tried his hand at end during freshman play last season and then was moved over to tackle for spring practice this year. Showed great promise during the off-season drills and should be a good player with experience he is bound to get this season. Listed as the No. 2 man on the right side. Enrolled in the College of Agriculture.

JIM FOLEY Soph. Guard 6-0 205 19 (2/14/43) Lexington, Ky.

Hometown product Jim Foley, an All-State first team choice and prep All-America mention while playing as a schoolboy at Lexington Lafayette, stacks up as one of the team's most promising linebackers after a great freshman year at UK. Sporting good size at six-foot and 250 pounds, Foley is high in the picture at the team's weakest position—guard. Although he sustained a broken arm during a spring scrimmage, Jim is fully mended and due to put in a strong bid to beat out Terry Clark at the left guard post. Coaches consider him a real hard-nose type and one of the top sophomores in camp. He turned in a very creditable freshman season and looked good this spring prior to his injury. Born in St. Augustine, Fla., but now calls Lexington home. He is the son of a local contractor and plans to join his father in business after graduation from the College of Commerce.

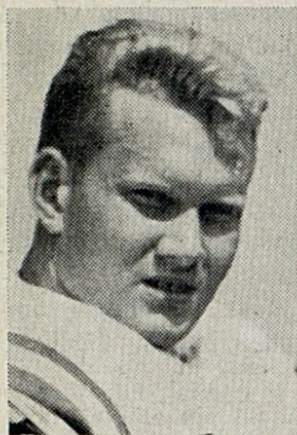

JESSE GRANT Soph. Guard 5-10 220 20 (11/13/41) Corbin, Ky.

There's plenty of room for good men at guard—the team's weakest position due to heavy graduation losses—and sizeable, determined Jesse Grant could fill some of the void. He follows in the footsteps of a fellow hometown, graduated right guard regular Mel Chandler, and needs only seasoning and a little more determination to succeed. Jesse is likely to start out the season as a right side reserve, but has the potential to move up. Along with teammate Jim Foley (ex-Lexington Lafayette) star, he gives UK both All-State guards of 1960. The 5-10, 220 pound Grant also made All-State in '57. Studying in College of Education.

DAVE GASH Senior End 6-2 190 23 (11/11/38) Louisville, Ky.

—ALL-CONFERENCE CANDIDATE—

A converted high school fullback, Dave Gash is the "other end" in the Kentucky football picture and, while generally unsung, rates as one of the top flankmen in the South. The self-made man, who showed continual progress in '61 despite a pre-season back injury, is compared to Paul (Bear) Bryant—the "other end" at Alabama in the heyday of the great Don Hutson. Playing on the opposite side from the celebrated Tom Hutchinson (two-time All-SEC and All-America candidate), the former Louisville Shawnee ace gives the Wildcats one of the most feared pass catching combos in the nation. His 16 catches last season netted 198 yards and ranked eighth among league pass receivers. For two straight years, he has made Hutchinson a better end by providing stiff competition and proving himself an extremely capable performer in his own right in all phases of play. The blond-thatched, 6-2 and 190-pounder was a third team All-Southeastern selection last season after being named to numerous All-Conference Sophomore teams following his break-in year. He has all the credentials to rate serious consideration for All-SEC first team laurels this year. Gash was second only to Hutchinson in UK receiving during the '61 campaign with 16 catches netting 198 yards. He had eight starts at left end and a total action time at the flank spots of 337:56, seeing action in all games. Gash likely will operate mostly on the right side this season. He was the leading round gainer as a freshman fullback in '58 and started leading Hutchinson a merry chase for pass catching honors as a soph in 1960 (no action '59) when he switched to end and saw 366:45 action in 10 games, finished sixth in SEC receiving with 19 catches for 293 yards—including 65-yard scoring play vs. Georgia. Born in Mercer County, Ky., but went to high school in Louisville and picked up second team All-State honors while leading his Shawnee team in scoring. Plans a career in pro ball or coaching after graduation from College of Education.

RAY HEFFINGTON Soph. Center 6-0 198 19 (12/22/42) Cadiz, Ky.

Converted from his high school fullback role to center as a Kentucky freshman in 1960, Heffington showed up well defensively in his initial collegiate game against the Vanderbilt Baby Commodores. Then he had the misfortune to suffer a broken leg on the opening kickoff of the Kittens' next game against Tennessee's freshmen. Recovery was a slow process and he layed out of competition last season on the advice of the team physician after being tried first at guard and then back at center. This spring, he was given a shot at end but soon shifted again to center and should play some this year. Coached by his father, an ex-UK gridder, at Trigg County High. Studying in Ag College.

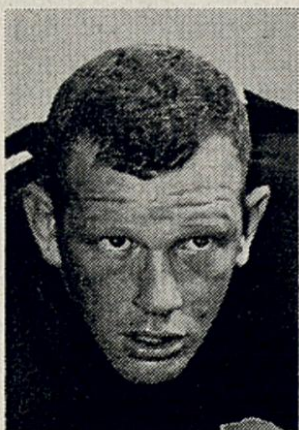

JUNIOR HAWTHORNE Sr. Tackle 6-1 222 23 (11/12/38) Pomeroy, Ohio

One of the best defensive hands in the tough Southeastern Conference, Junior (whose Christian name is Pearl) should shape up this season into a prize all-around football player. He is being counted on to help out in bulwarking the graduation-riddled interior line and his spring report card indicated to the coaches that he will carry his share of the load in good fashion. Along with Herschel Turner on the right side, he will team to give Kentucky good front-line dependability at tackle. Hawthorne, who had a hard early life in which he was raised by foster parents and credits football with making a man of him, already has been drafted by the New York Giants. As UK's regular left tackle in '61, he had nine starts and action time of 334:16 in 10 games. He almost never got a chance to show his true potential, however. After failing to see action in '59, he was put at guard to start the 1960 campaign and was slotted for reserve action. Fate came to his rescue as regular tackle Bob Hunt was injured in the season opener and Hawthorne moved over to begin his climb to stardom. Piled up 257:28 action time to letter and gain a spot on the All-SEC Sophomore team. He was a tackle and fullback in high school and received prep All-America mention. Enrolled in College of Education, majoring in physical education.

JIM HILL Senior Guard 6-1 195 23 (5/13/39) Neon, Ky.

Redheaded and aggressive, Jim (Red) Hill has the know-how that it takes to get a creditable job done at the team's weakest position. In his final collegiate campaign, the long apprenticeship put in by this sturdy young man should pay off with regular duty. He is lone returning guard letterman and No. 1 candidate on right side, where he ended up this spring following a temporary, injury-enforced absence. Hill had been expected to continue at the linebacking left side post, but a couple of sophs—Terry Clark and Jim Foley—moved in while he was having knee trouble. He saw 118:04 reserve action in six games last season (mostly at LG) to annex a second varsity letter. His first monogram came following 132:36 duty in seven contests two years back, when he started twice on the left side. Mentioned on the All-America and All-South prep units and an All-State choice at fullback while at Fleming High in Neon, Hill entered UK in 1958 to play right half and lead the Kittens in receiving and punt returns besides shining on defense. He did not see action in '59 when he had a fractured thumb. Enrolled in College of Education.

CLAUDE HOFFMEYER Soph. End 6-2 192 20 (8/19/42) Danville, Ky.

Engineering student Hoffmeyer played a big role in constructing a sound aerial attack for the UK Kittens last year and should be able to figure his way into a leading reserve role during his first varsity campaign. End is Kentucky's strongest position, however, and Claude will have to serve an apprenticeship despite his credentials as leading frosh receiver. He paced the yearlings with four catches for 76 yards and a TD against the Cincy frosh. This spring, Hoffmeyer showed steady improvement as an offensive flankman. A third team All-State pick in football at nearby Danville and star in basketball, he now is a B plus student in mechanical engineering.

TOM HUTCHINSON Senior End 6-1 189 21 (6/15/41) New Albany, Ind.

—ALL-AMERICA CANDIDATE—

Branded by sportswriters, coaches and pro scouts as the South's greatest pass-catching end since Don Hutson of Alabama and Green Bay fame, Hutchinson enters his final collegiate campaign with credentials that qualify him as Dixie's top candidate for All-America fame—about the only honor that has so far escaped him. The stellar Kentucky end has gained momentum toward such selection by being named almost unanimously on pre-season AA elevens. Although a marked man all season long, Hutch's play in 1961 earned him a top spot on the All-Southeastern team for a second straight year as he grabbed passes at a clip that led the league and ranked him seventh nationally. The statistics were 32 catches for a school record 543 yards, four TD's and three conversions. He might have done even better save for the fact that his battery mate, passer Jerry Woolum (returning), was sidelined with a broken leg during the final three games. At the time, the talented former New Albany, Ind., standout stood third in the nation in receiving, had been named to the All-America checklist six straight weeks and selected SEC "Lineman of the Week" three times. The native Kentuckian (born a few miles from the campus in Stanford), whose unusual hobby is bee keeping, did not fatten his record last season at the expense of the weaker teams. By far his best games were turned in against SEC foes. Probably his top efforts came in the Mississippi and LSU contests. Against Ole Miss, Hutch hauled in five aerials in spectacular fashion for 91 yards despite being covered by up to four men at times. Rebel mentor Johnny Vaught remarked after the game: "I never saw a player catch the ball like he does. We had good men on him and couldn't stop him." One of the greatest catches ever seen by veteran southern sportswriters came in the LSU game at Baton Rouge. Hutchinson made a really sensational grab on the dead run of an overthrown Woolum pass, almost falling on his face and outracing three Bengel defenders surrounding him to score on a play covering 77 yards. Coach Paul Dietzel complimented the UK end as "a wild thing who makes some of the most ungodly catches you ever saw . . . He's an unusually fine receiver." Sportswriters agreed by voting him the SEC's "best receiver" and "offensive end" of 1961. Polls this year peg him to repeat these honors and be in the thick of a fight for "Most Valuable" nomination. Hutch will open at left end, his sophomore position, this year after seeing most of '61 action on the right side and may also see spot action at defensive sideback. When he made the All-SEC team as a sophomore two years back and finished second by one catch in the league pass-snaring race, he never started a game as he played behind teammate Dave Gash. A complete football player, he's also a viscous blocker and tackler as well as a wizard at running pass routes. The best description of his maneuvers is that he runs a deceptively lazy route that lulls defenders into complacency and then turns on a blazing burst of speed to get open in the split second necessary to get to a pass headed in his direction. He'll either outrun, out-fake or out-jump his opponents and is almost impossible to cover. Hutch is a dash man, hurdler, shot put and javelin man and star high jumper (6-4½) during the off season. As a UK freshman in 1959, he gave indications of his greatness by leading the Kittens in pass receiving and scoring. During prep days at New Albany High, Hutchinson was recognized as one of the finest all-around athletes in the state—starring in football, basketball and track. He was an All-State gridder and state champion high jumper. At UK, he is a biological science and PE major.

The Hutchinson Record

Year	Games	Starts	Time Play	No. Catches	Yards	TD's	Conv.	Standing

1960 So.	10	0	207:30	30	455	4	0	2nd SEC, 8th Nat.

BILL JENKINS Soph. Quarterback 6-2 190 19 (1/9/43) Elizabethtown, Ky.

A prize grab in 1960 when he graduated with first string All-State honors and a flock of college scouts on his doorstep, Jenkins showed signs this spring of living up to his reputation. He won his way up through the ranks to the No. 2 signal-caller's post and definitely will help the coming season as a capable reliefer for Jerry Woolum. The promising rookie doesn't make many mistakes and displays fine poise and field leadership. He also looked good defensively and has good speed. As a Kentucky freshman last year, he alternated in the starting quarterback job and completed four of 13 tosses for 59 yards. He was credited with another 31 yards in 15 official trips on the ground to stand second in freshman total offense. At Elizabethtown, Bill earned 13 letters as an all-around sports star. Studying in the College of Commerce and spent the summer on a construction job.

ELMER JACKSON Junior Quarterback 6-0 180 20 (1/13/42) Danville, Ky.

Tough and durable, Jackson also has fine powers of concentration on the fundamentals of his job and should see more action this season than last. Last year, he chalked up only 12 minutes and 17 seconds of playing time in three of the team's 10 games. He was the No. 3 quarterback behind Jerry Woolum and John Rampulla. As things stand now, he will find it difficult to improve on that ranking although Rampulla has departed. Jackson is a good running quarterback, excels as a punter and shines on defense. Tried only one pass (incomplete) last year after leading the UK freshmen in passing in 1960. Born in Hazard, Ky., and won honorable mention All-State two years as a quarterback at Danville High. He is a pre-med student.

JIM KOMARA (Ko'-mar-ah) Soph. HB 6-1 180 20 (8/26/42) Conneautville, Pa.

This promising youngster has found the road to consistent collegiate play difficult to traverse with first illness and then injury blocking his way. Last season as a Kentucky freshman, he made a good showing in his debut against the Vanderbilt freshmen and then was sidelined by illness. This spring, as he appeared ready to make a serious bid, he was badly shaken up in the first game scrimmage and laid out of the rough work for the rest of the session. Komara is speedy and seemingly has the potential to play well, but will have to work his way up due to slow development in new position. Slotted as a right half reserve. The former Conneaut Valley High All-America and All-State fullback-end turned halfback gained 25 yards in three carries and caught one pass as a yearling—all the action coming in the season opener. He was an end and fullback in high school. Enrolled in Education College.

BOB KOSID (Kah'-sid) Junior HB 5-10 183 20 (2/27/42) Glenview, Ill.

One of two foreign-born players on the Wildcat varsity (end Danny Riveiro is the other), Kosid lists Brandon, Manitoba, Canada, as his birthplace. The native Canadian showed up well this spring and could see considerably more action time than the 29:31 he logged as a sophomore in two games. He will likely operate as a left side reserve behind Darrell Cox and Phil Pickett. Blessed with good speed, Kosid carried the ball only six times in '61 for 17 yards and failed to score. Now calls Glenview, Ill., home and played his high school ball there at Glenbrook. He was leading scorer (72 points) for his team, most valuable player and special mention All-State. Also high point man in track. Studying for business career in College of Commerce.

CLARK MAPLES Soph. End 6-1 200 19 (4/11/43) Murfreesboro, Tenn.

One of five Tennesseans who migrated out of Volunteer Land to the Blue Grass, Roger Clark Maples hails from Murfreesboro where he operated as an end and tackle on a single-wing team. Besides serving as captain of his prep grid team and notching All-Conference honors, he was an outstanding cage player, a 10-4 baseball pitcher and a good student. Switched to guard as a Kentucky freshman two years ago and was on the roster as an end last season without seeing action. He suffered a broken bone in his hand during spring practice this year, but should see some action at end. Maples is studying agriculture at UK and spent the summer on his father's farm.

CLARKIE MAYFIELD Senior Halfback 6-1 184 20 (10/11/41) Alva, Ky.

The educated toe of this young man from Black Star High school has accounted for 56 points for the Wildcat cause since he came on the scene in 1959. Kentucky followers are more than satisfied, but not Mayfield. He aspires to be recognized for more than just his kicking specialist contributions and would relish bowing out with a final collegiate season in which he became renowned for his running as well. His determination could pay off with more action than the meager 12:02 time he logged in eight brief game appearances last season. The two-time letter winner connected on only two field goals in seven tries last year—both against Mississippi (29 and 25 yarders) and accounting for the Wildcats' only points in a 20-6 loss. But he booted through 14 out of 15 tries from the PAT line to up his career total to 35 out of 40. Mayfield's field goal record is seven out of 12. Two years ago, when he totaled 13:38 playing time, his 28-yard boot upset powerful LSU and a 26-yarder tied Tennessee. Mainly utilized as a medium distance kicker, his longest field goal went through from 32 yards out against Florida State in 1960. He captained his school's football and basketball teams and played baseball. Majoring in PE in College of Education.

LOUIS OWEN Soph. Quarterback 5-11 168 19 (12/5/42) Nashville, Tenn.

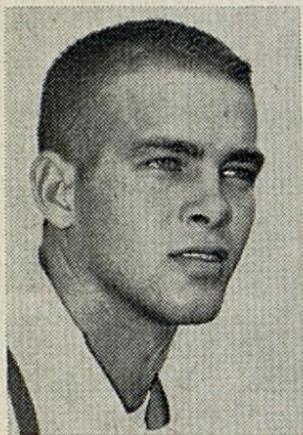

A native of Chattanooga, Tenn., who did his prep footballing at Isaac Litton High in Nashville, Owen starts his third year as a Wildcat with prospects for game action built solidly on mental attitude. Louis has the excellent spirit, willingness to give 100 percent of himself and know-how of operations that Coach Bradshaw places high value on. He gives all he's got all the time and is much more poised in handling the team than last year when he failed to see game action. As a reserve quarterback with the UK frosh two years back, he completed one of two passes for 19 yards against the Tennessee freshmen and also had 19 yards rushing. He was used at virtually every backfield position this spring. Owen was a second-team All-State choice at quarterback and starred in three other sports. Plans to become an architect when graduated from the College of Engineering.

JOE PARROTT Soph. Halfback 5-8 160 19 (7/19/43) Chattanooga, Tenn.

Another Kentucky import from the State of Tennessee, Parrott is one of the smallest men on the team at 5-8 and 160 pounds soaking wet. But he's got more inside than most bigger men. Blessed with good speed, he is very maneuverable and hard to bring down. He may be a "swing-man" at FB-HB. Parrott established a fine schoolboy reputation at Chattanooga Red Bank High, being named twice to the All-City team, earning an All-Conference berth and gaining mention on the All-State second team. Did not carry the ball as a freshman at UK last year.

PHIL PICKETT Soph. Halfback 5-11 165 19 (1/30/43) Huntsville, Ala.

This zooming flyer from the Missile City of Huntsville, Ala., wasn't exactly an unknown after starting duty as a Kentucky freshman last year, but his performance in spring practice this season caused some eye popping. He looked so good that he is considered as probably the top sophomore in camp and is ticketed for a test as the starting left half, where he'll experience strong competition from veteran Darrell Cox. Coach Bradshaw is high on Pickett, declaring the youngster has a lot of heart and a wonderful attitude besides much natural ability. The shifty speedster (4.9/40), who operated as the No. 1 left half after passing his test in the first scrimmage of the spring, also caught the eye of pro scouts. Pickett carried the ball only nine times as a freshman and gained just 15 yards, but he was the leader in returning four punts 64 yards, one kickoff 19 yards, catching two passes and scoring once. His longest scrimmage run was four yards. The native of Lincoln County, Tenn., also showed up well as a defensive safety and is a good blocker. Not blessed with really great natural ability, Pickett is one of those rare types who grow up exceedingly fast under pressure of competition. He is being counted on to help solve Kentucky's need for a strong running attack. Phil was a second team All-State pick at Huntsville and now is enrolled in College of Education at UK.

PAUL PISANI (Pie-zah'-knee) Soph. Tackle 6-3 230 19 (8/20/43) Decatur, Ala.

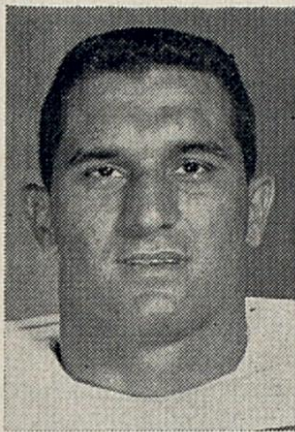

Powerful Paul was one of the mainstays of the 1961 Kentucky freshman line and is being counted on heavily to come through in his initial varsity campaign. The 6-3 and 230-pound youngster has the physical equipment and talent potential. He was bothered to some extent by inconsistency in spring practice, ranking as high as No. 2 in the tackle picture and as low as No. 4. A two-year All-Stater at Decatur (Ala.) High, "Doc" alternated as a starting tackle for the UK frosh last year. He is a "B" student in a pre-medicine course in the College of Arts and Sciences. Also a classical music devotee.

CLYDE RICHARDSON Soph. Center 6-0 212 19 (2/14/43) Frankfort, Ky.

This fast-improving youngster could be the darkhorse of the center corps. He turned in a good report card this spring after trying his hand at center for the first time. Richardson, son of an agricultural advisor to the Jordanian government, made the Kentucky All-State honorable list as a fullback while prepping at Millersburg (Ky.) Military Institute and moved during his first collegiate season to brief duty at end. Shifted over to center this spring and displayed improvement offensively. During the summer, he followed religiously the team training program in isometrics and worked at a construction job to build himself up physically. Travel with his father saw him live as a youngster in Misuratta, Libya, and Valetta, Malta. He is studying agriculture.

DANNY RIVEIRO (Re-ver'-o) Jr. End 6-2 197 21 (12/1/40) Miami Fla.

A top reserve for All-SEC flankman Tom Hutchinson on the right side last year, Danny saw important action in all 10 Wildcat games to pile up action time of 157:03 and earn his first collegiate letter. The outlook for the ex-Miami (Fla.) Jackson star, who was born in Havana, Cuba, of American parents, is for even greater contributions this season. Not only has Riveiro continued to improve in both finesse and physical strength, he presents a 100 percent mental attitude toward winning and doing his job right. He will likely stay on the right side backing up Dave Gash while Hutchinson shifts to left end. Last year, Danny caught three passes for 34 yards despite few opportunities, improved defensively and in his blocking. As a freshman in 1960, he teamed with fellow Miamian Darrell Cox to dominate Kitten statistics. Included four catches for 75 yards and 75-yard interception return against Cincy frosh. He earned four football letters at Jackson High, being the first boy in school history to gain a grid letter as a ninth grader, and was honorable mention on the All-State list. Also All-City in basketball and an outstanding baseball player (.402 hitter who turned down a pro contract to come to college). Enrolled in College of Education, majoring in PE.

DENNIS SCHRECKER Jr. End 6-3 196 21 (8/15/41) Louisville, Ky.

Fastest lineman on the team and experienced with two seasons' work under his belt prior to lettering last season, Schrecker is a dependable hand of known quality who fits importantly into the end picture. However, the amount of (if any) action he sees this season is a big question mark. Dennis suffered an eye injury a few weeks before spring practice opened when he was accidentally shot with a BB gun. He skipped all rough work this spring and the team physician will decide when and if he plays this year. Dennis did not lose sight in the eye, but a muscle holding the lens was damaged and is the focal point that a decision will be made on. He saw 73:55 action time in '61, including a starting assignment against Kansas State, after failing to play in 1960. He runs the 40-yard dash in uniform in around five seconds. A brother, Ray, played tackle at UK (last season '59) and Dennis was coached by ex-Wildcat Charlie Kuhn at Louisville Male where he won All-City and honorable mention All-State honors. Majoring in PE in College of Education.

FRANK SAKAL (Sake'-all) Jr. Tackle 6-1 210 21 (8/14/41) Aliquippa, Pa.

The road to consistent grid duty as a collegiate performer has been a rocky one for this former Pennsylvania standout, but his chances of seeing important action this season are good. Frank turned in a creditable spring practice and had a fine mental attitude—never complaining when spotted on the green shirts' team. Sakal saw only 5:57 action (all against Kansas State) last season after missing game duty in 1960 due to a slow-mending broken ankle. All-Conference as a quarterback at Aliquippa High, the determined youngster of Hungarian descent was thought to lack sufficient speed to play the position as a collegian and moved to guard. The switch to tackle came in off-season. He is majoring in physical education.

TOMMY SIMPSON. Senior End 6-0 194 23 (12/10/38) Lebanon, Ky.

The highest tribute paid to this hustling, talented and personable young man is a coincidental comment made by several persons: "If I had a son, I'd want him to grow up into a man like Tommy Simpson." Easy going and popular off the football field, the hard-nosed gentleman is known to teammates and opponents alike on the gridiron as "Terrible Tommy"—and rightly so. He's tough as rocks and a guy who would seemingly rather engage in football contact than in eating. Simpson is a willing worker with talent to boot. He is particularly adept as a defensive operative and as a powerful kickoff and long field goal man, but no slouch as a pass receiver—ranking 15th in the SEC in 1961 with 11 catches for 192 yards and one TD. His long play covered 50 yards for a TD against Kansas State. Place-kicking talent did not come naturally. He developed it while he had a walking cast on his broken left leg in 1959 and now kicks off regularly into the end zone to rank as one of the SEC's best. Tommy has yet to scratch with a field goal, but he is a distinct threat and narrowly missed on two in '60 (46-yard try vs. Vanderbilt and 38 vs. Xavier) and another last season (47 vs. Ole Miss). In two varsity seasons of action, his receiving record shows 15 catches for 287 yards and he has logged 473:38 in playing time without missing a game. He likely will be the chief backup man for Hutchinson at left end and may also see action in a linebacker role. Simpson came to UK from Lebanon High in '58 as an all-sports star and All-State credentials as a halfback. Picked up letters last two seasons. Majoring in PE in Education College.

VINCE SEMARY (See-mary') Jr. FB 5-10 182 22 (2/21/40) Cleveland, Ohio

Switched over to fullback a year ago after previous experience as both a schoolboy and Kentucky freshman-varsityman in a halfback role. The transition was made effectively and Semary saw brief action—a total of 14:49—in eight games as a reserve. He's a tough "little" customer and could be in for much more game duty this fall with a continuation of the hustle he showed this spring. At West Technical High in Cleveland, Vince was leading scorer in the city with 92 points and racked up 1,400 yards. In freshman play at UK in '59, he gained 16 yards on five trips. Two years back, in his first varsity season, Semary suffered a broken wrist in the second week and missed the rest of the campaign. He's Italian in descent and majoring in art.

GILES SMITH Soph. End 6-1 185 19 (4/25/43) Lexington, Ky.

One of two Lexington schoolboy standouts on this year's varsity, Giles is a product of the same school (Lafayette) that produced guard Jim Foley—in fact they were teammates. And, like Foley, he is expected to give an excellent account of himself this season in a key reserve role. Smith is scheduled to understudy All-America candidate Tom Hutchinson at left end, but is capable of playing both sides. He looked good this spring and much improved over his role as a reserve end on last season's yearling team. "Red," so named for his crop of bright hair, captained his high school team, was voted "Most Valuable Player" of the traditional Lafayette-Henry Clay cross-town scrap and named on the All-State No. 2 eleven at guard. Also a schoolboy track star. Studying in College of Commerce.

GARY STEWARD Sr. Halfback 6-1 195 20 (11/7/41) Henshaw, Ky.

Returning for a final year of collegiate competition with credentials as 1961's leading ground gainer, Steward showed up exceptionally well in spring practice and is counted on to lend a steadying hand among otherwise generally inexperienced runners. He is one of the key hopes of Coach Bradshaw for development of a strong running game. Gary is not the spectacular, breakaway type, but is a consistently hard runner who has better than average speed. The statistics on last season saw him rank 20th in the SEC on 285 yards picked up in 79 carries for a 3.6 average and the first three TD's of his career. His long run was for 26 yards against Ole Miss. He also caught six passes for 77 additional yards, the long one covering 31 yards against Florida State, returned six kickoffs 120 yards and had an interception return against Xavier good for 21 yards.

One of only two '61 Wildcats (graduated guard Jerry Dickerson was the other) to start all 10 games, Steward operated at right half for 343:04 action time to up his varsity play total to 531:52 without missing a game. He started only three times as a soph understudy to Charlie Sturgeon, but performed creditably in the reserve role to pick up 110 yards on 29 trips—longest being a 30-yard sprint against Vanderbilt. Also caught five passes amounting to 59 yards in '60. Generally overlooked is his superior blocking and defensive corner back play. Steward is tough and capable at every thing he tries and has impressed pro scouts with his drive. Most spectacular play of his career came against LSU in Lexington two years back when he alertly grabbed an impromptu lateral from quarterback Jerry Woolum (who had been stopped at the line of scrimmage on a fourth down sneak). Surprising even himself, Steward held on to the ball and lugged it for a clutch first down that set up Kentucky's winning field goal in a 3-0 upset of the Tigers. Overlooked in early recruiting in 1959, the Morganfield High quarterback caught the eye of UK coaches in the East-West All-Star Game that summer and lured him to Kentucky. "Jock," as he is known to teammates, won All-Conference grid honors at Morganfield (near his home town of Henshaw) under the coaching of ex-Wildcat Bill Dawson, captained both grid and cage teams and ran 100 yard dash in trunk. He's a physical education major in College of Education.

ALTON STANDLEY Junior Center 6-2 210 20 (.....) Lufkin, Texas

Newest of the Wildcats, Standley (cq) was scheduled to join the team at the start of pre-season practice after transferring from Tyler Junior College where he played his first two collegiate seasons. He will be eligible immediately as a JC grad and will fit importantly—quite possibly as a starter—into the ranks at center where a big void was left by the graduation of All-America Irv Goode (now with St. Louis Cardinals). Alton attended high school in his home town of Lufkin, Texas, and started his gridiron career as a fullback. He becomes the first junior college transfer to play with the Wildcats in 10 years, although he was beaten into camp by another Texas import—Art LeFleur. The latter went through spring practice at UK but will not be eligible this season as he completed only one year at Paris JC. Will major in Commerce.

HERSCHEL TURNER Jr. Tackle 6-3 220 20 (6/17/42) Alexandria, Ky.

This sizeable youngster, an eager competitor and never quite satisfied with his creditable performances, is touted by many pro scouts and coaches—including Charlie Bradshaw—as a sure-fire All-America by 1963. The experts are just as sure, too, that he will merit All-SEC honors this season if his play lives up to the high expectations indicated by his break-in year and spring practice. For a young man who almost never got the chance to play collegiate football, Turner has come along amazingly fast to rate as the team's best interior lineman. His progress was constantly evident last season when he made important contributions to the team cause in extensive relief stints and pushed his way into a starting job at right tackle for two games in late season. He piled up a total of 320:49 playing time and was considered one of the top young defensive tackles of the league. Showings like his 13 tackles against Georgia, in his first varsity starting assignment, earned him a spot on the All-Southeastern Sophomore Team. The sizeable Campbell County High (northern Kentucky) product, one of the team's biggest men at 6-3 and 220, was almost overlooked by college scouts in his final schoolboy year of 1959 and not signed until mid-August following a great showing in an all-star game. Coaches also are very pleased with Turner as a crisp blocker. He was captain of his high school team, but not mentioned on the top selections of honor teams. Born in Houston, Ky., but now calls Alexandria home. Majoring in physical education in College of Education, he has not decided on future plans for coaching or pro ball.

KENNY WILLITS Soph. Guard 5-7 180 19 (10/13/42) Miami, Fla.

Small but rugged, this ex-Miami Edison High product more than holds his own in collegiate company that generally outranks him in the size department. He's just 5-7 and 180 (with a sweaty uniform on) and smallest of the Wildcat linemen. Proving his reputation as a tough customer despite a lack of size, Willits ran No. 1 at right guard on occasion this spring. His good speed and quickness, however, may make him more valuable at the linebacking left guard post and he should see reserve duty. He failed to pick up any game action as a right guard last season after being moved back to the position. Freshman coaches had experimented with Willits at right halfback. Served as captain on the same team at Miami Edison as current UK teammate Darrell Cox and gained All-City and third unit All-State selection. Born Aledo, Ill., and currently enrolled in College of Commerce.

JERRY WOOLUM Senior Quarterback 6-2 186 21 (5/6/41) Richmond, Ky.

Forming the pitching half of the South's leading grid "battery," Woolum is back to take up a sensational career where he left off in the seventh week last year following an injury. The injury—a cracked bone in the lower leg—sidelined Jerry in the Wildcats' last three games of '61 and cost him almost sure leadership in Southeastern Conference passing. At the time he was hurt in the Florida State game, Woolum had tossed 70 completions in 125 tries for a 56 percent accuracy mark, 892 yards and four TD's to pace the SEC and rank third nationally. When seasonal results were in, the inactive UK star still hung onto the No. 2 spot in conference passing and had slipped only to 18th among the country's leaders. Dixie sportswriters paid him a unique honor by voting him the accolade of "best passer" in the league despite his lack of action in the final stages of the season. This season, a completely-mended (as evidenced by spring practice scrimmage showings) Woolum will be out to prove his right to the '61 honor which is being predicted for him again by pre-season polls. With a bevy of capable receivers—headed by All-America prospect Tom Hutchinson (SEC pass catching champ) and equally great Dave Gash—to throw to, he should experience little trouble in taking complete charge. The Kentucky ace is classed as a strong, but not overly powerful, thrower who shows courage and great concentration in picking out his targets. This season, he likely will run with the ball much more than ever before as new Head Coach Charlie Bradshaw plans an attack based on the sprint-out pass in contrast to the back-up style. Before his injury, Woolum had logged 215:08 in action time as a starter in seven contests and was connecting on the average of 10 a game with his passes. That pace would have put him over the top easily in the SEC and notched him among the national leaders. His long play of last year came on a sensational 77-yarder to Hutchinson for a TD in the LSU game. One of his best remembered performances also came against the Bengals. In Lexington two years ago, Woolum improvised a last-second pitchout after he was stopped cold on a fourth-down sneak. The pitchout, grabbed by Gary Steward and carried for a first down, set up UK's winning field goal four plays later for a 3-0 upset. Also in 1960 he threw a scare into Georgia Tech by connecting for 14 strikes in 24 tries, 190 yards and a TD. Jerry's father is a professor at Eastern Kentucky State College in nearby Richmond, where the son won honors ranging from All-State to honorable mention All-America at Madison Model High. Born in Pineville, Jerry and his wife, Kaye, have a son, Gary, 17 months old. Enrolled in College of Education, majoring in PE.

JC TRANSFERS ARE RARE 'BREED'

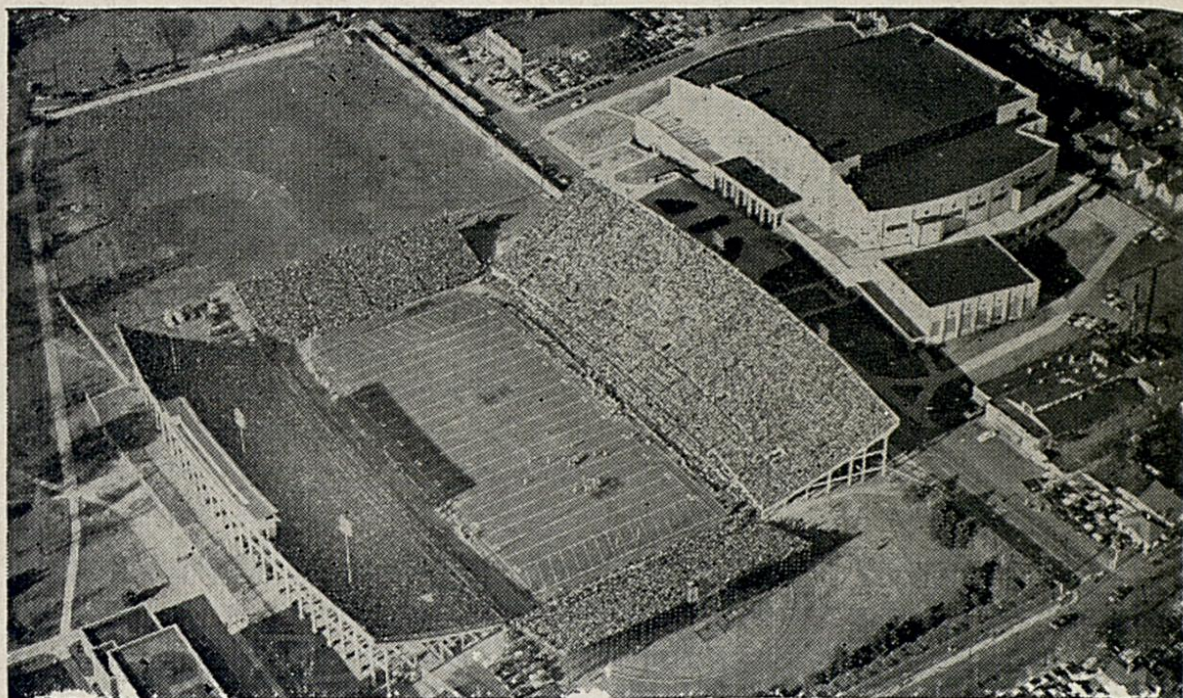

Kentucky is scheduled to have at least one junior college transfer playing on this season's varsity and the "breed" has been rare in Wildcat football. When Tyler (Texas) JC graduate Alton Standley (and any other such candidate) sees his first minute of action, it will mark the first time in 10 years that a junior college transfer has played for UK. The last was Locky Brown, halfback son of Alabama All-America (later movie western favorite) Johnny Mack Brown. He transferred to Kentucky in 1952 after one year at Menlo (Calif.) JC and played sparingly in 1953-55. Brown was one of the first out-of-state scholarship recipients under former Coach Paul Bryant's unique, Kentucky-first recruiting policy. Actually beating Standley into camp as a JC transfer was guard Art LeFleur of Gary, Ind. He entered in the second semester as a transfer from one year at Paris (Texas) JC and went through spring practice here but will be ineligible to play until 1963 season due to transfer rule.

STOLL FIELD — McLEAN STADIUM

Much confusion among the general public and the sports-writing fraternity apparently exists over a seeming duplication of titles in referring to the University of Kentucky's football setup along "Avenue of Champions."

Officially, by action of the University Board of Trustees, the general area encompassing the playing field is known as "Stoll Field." Likewise, by authority of the same body, the stadium proper is known as "McLean Stadium."

Kentucky's first football field, occupying the general site of what is now an intra-mural field west of the stadium, was first given a name when it was dedicated on October 14, 1916, as Stoll Field in honor of the late Judge Richard C. Stoll, prominent alumnus, trustee and benefactor of the University of Kentucky. Soon after the first sections of the present concrete stadium were completed on September 4, 1924, the new field site and stadium were likewise officially known as Stoll Field.

The first attraction to be held on the new Stoll Field was a football game with the University of Louisville on October 4, 1924. A gridiron clash between Kentucky and the then-powerful Centre College team was the first game played in the fully-completed stadium on November 1, 1924.

The later reference to the concrete stands as "McLean Stadium" has existed since November 1, 1924, when the stadium was officially dedicated in memory of Price Innes McLean and a bronze plaque placed in the south stands by the Class of 1925. McLean, regular center on the 1923 Kentucky football squad, died November 7, 1923, as the result of injuries sustained in the U.K.-Cincinnati game played in the Queen City the afternoon before.

Major expansions of McLean Stadium in 1948, 1949 and 1959 have resulted in a current over-all seating capacity of approximately 37,500. The latest construction installed 3,655 new permanent box seats at a cost of $115,000 and increased capacity by 1,629. New-type, "iodized" lights were installed in 1961.

A complete "face lifthing" was accomplished on Stoll Feld during the past spring at a cost of several thousand dollars. In the interest of preparing a durable turf that will eliminate the almost annual re-sodding process, a complete new drainage system was installed and tons of specially mixed topsoil hauled in to replace the existing hardpan. The project also raised the crown of the playing surface for better visibility by spectators. With the special strain of grass thriving to an extent never before seen at Kentucky, the Wildcats will entertain foes on one of the best football fields in the nation.

New practice facilities were prepared in 1960 for the football Wildcats on the University farm. As part of a $320,000 Sports Center, the varsity and freshman gridgers now practice on an area equivalent to five football fields in size. Along with the new field, they have space in a large new dressing room building—making a facility recognized as one of the best in the nation.

The former practice lot and dressing room building, off Rose Street, were abandoned to make way for a new men's dormitory.

"Avenue of Champions" came into being in the spring of 1950 as an honorary title for that stretch of Euclid Avenue running between the University's $4,000,000 Memorial Coliseum and McLean Stadium. The street was officially re-named by the City of Lexington in recognition of the UK athletic teams' unprecedented success of 1950 in annexing the Southeastern Conference titles in both football and basketball and their national championships in the Sugar Bowl grid game and the NCAA cage tournament.

FOOTBALL WRITERS SALUTE KENTUCKY PRESS BOX

University of Kentucky's football press box on Stoll Field rates as one of the best in the country from the standpoint of both working facilities and service to writers—so says the Football Writers Association of America. The national organization in 1958 added Kentucky to an exclusive list of schools that had been cited in both categories. Up to that time, only 67 institutions had won the award for press box services and 45 for facilities since the FWA started officially honoring the nation's best press boxes and sports publicity departments (who are responsible for service) several years ago.

BRADSHAW THIRD ALUMNUS COACH

Charlie Bradshaw, an alumnus of the University of Kentucky class of 1949, became the third graduate of the school to take over the head football coaching reins when he was hired last January 10. The first coach with that distinction was J. White Guyn, tutor of the Wildcats in 1906-08, and the only other grad to take up duties at his alma mater was A. D. (Ab) Kirwan, coach for the seasons 1938-44.

Like their new boss, three members of the coaching staff did their collegiate footballing at Kentucky. The careers of assistants Matt Lair and George Sengel overlapped that of Bradshaw (player 1942, 46-49; staff '54-58) while aide George Boone played his first three years as a Wildcat when Bradshaw was on the staff. In addition, Lair served as a Blanton Collier assistant the same years as his current chief.

STOLL FIELD 'COW PASTURE' BIRTHPLACE OF DIXIE GRID SPORT

University of Kentucky's campus boasts the distinction of serving as the birth-place of Dixie football. Ironically, however, the forerunners of the present day Wildcats were not involved in the early grid contest.

The first inter-collegiate football game ever played in the South, and probably the first to take place west of the Alleghanies, came about April 9, 1880. on old Stoll Field. This gridiron, located adjacent to the present U.K. stadium and now used as a baseball field, was the site of the early tilt that saw Kentucky University (now known as Transylvania College) take the measure of Centre College, 13¾ to 0. The match, which was said to resemble a combination of soccer and rugby, followed by only six years the introduction of the game of football to the United States.

University of Kentucky (then called A & M College of Kentucky) did not play its first game until a year later on the same field, which once served as the private pasture for University President James Patterson's bovine herd.

HONORS COME LATELY

From its football beginnings in 1881 through 1942, Kentucky had only one player named to a recognized All-America team. In the short span of years since, no less than seven have earned first team mention on the national honor rolls and four of the stars were repeaters. Seventeen Wildcats have received All-Conference recognition since the loop was organized in 1933.

RENEGADES AND RED LIGHTNING

Four of Kentucky's 1962 opponents will imitate LSU's highly-successful platoon substitution system. Detroit calls its plan simply "Operation 33" while Xavier's two teams will be tagged "Thunder" (running team) and "Lightning" (passers); Georgia will have "Red" (two-way), "Silver" (offense) and "Black" (defense); and Florida State goes with two-way "Chiefs," offensive "Warriors" and defensive "Renegades." LSU sticks to its famed "White" (combination), "Go" (offensive) and "Chinese Bandits" (defensive) units.

TOUGHNESS IS INSIDE

Much has been written about the tough approach of ex-Marine Charlie Bradshaw, UK's new head football coach. He is a demanding tutor on the field, but makes no greater demands than he asks of himself. Back in 1946, freshly returned from South Pacific battles, he underwent an emergency appendectomy on the second day of practice and came back to scrimmage 10 days later as well as to play two quarters of a game 19 days hence.
