

The World Whirls On

Belgium Mobilizes
In Europe last week the situation remained practically unchanged except for the remobilization of the Belgium army.

GUIGNOL OFFERS THREE-ACT PLAY BY UK GRADUATE

First Student-Written Full Length Drama Opens Monday

First full length drama written by a University student ever to be produced by Guignol is "Lonesome Tune" a three act play of the Kentucky Frontier Nurses Association.

Barbara McVey, senior in the arts and science college, has the role of Judith Cavendish (Mrs. May Breckinridge) in the play.

Beers Addresses Alpha Zeta Diners

Need For Scientific Thinking Stressed By Rural Sociologist

"There is a need for scientific thinking and cause and effect observations," Dr. Beers told the faculty, members, and initiates at a banquet honoring new members.

Dr. Beers, professor of rural sociology and director of the Experiment Station, spoke on his subject, "The New Agriculture."

Two New Courses Put On Curriculum

What They Think

Should students making an A standing be exempt from final examinations? This was the question.

CHEATING DISCUSSION

"Cheating" or "Your Money's Worth" will be the general discussion topic for the Freshman Y Club meeting at 7 p. m. tonight.

'Golden Boy,' Broadway's Pugilistic Virtuoso

Wednesday night in the Henry Clay high school auditorium, the Lexington Junior League will present the third in its series of legions of theater productions.

LINDEN TO PLAY IN 'GOLDEN BOY'

Odets' Drama Billed For Wednesday

"Golden Boy," story of a prize-fighting violinist, will be played in the Red room of the Lafayette Hotel.

PHI ALPHA THETA HOLDS INITIATION

Historians Pick Six For Honor

Six students were initiated into Phi Alpha Theta, honorary history fraternity, at 5:30 p. m. yesterday.

GUIDANCE MEET PLANS REVISED

Judge Kenyon Billed To Be Keynoter

Tentative plans for a women's vocational guidance conference to be held in February underwent revision and approval at a meeting of the general assembly.

Conference Planned By Music Teachers

Central Kentucky music teachers will attend the Kentucky Music Educators' conference at 2 p. m. Sunday in the Art center.

Political Scientists Will Hold Forums

Dr. Amy Vandenberg, working with members of the political science department, is acting as sponsor for a series of luncheon forums.

JOHN BULLETIN STAFF

Four additions to the staff of the University Bulletin, weekly calendar of events on the campus, were announced yesterday by the editors.

Organist Alliton, Baritone Ogle Applauded On Joint Program

The beautiful song "Concert" by Hageman, Mrs. Robert Ogle was the accompanist.

Glenn Miller Music

The weekly program of recorded dance music will be presented at 3:30 p. m. today in the music room.

Semester's Last Union Hop Billed For Saturday

Last of the semester's Union hops will be held from 8 p. m. to midnight Saturday in the Bluegrass room of the Union.

Student Standards Election

I am appealing to you through The Kernel to make an effort to be present at the meetings this afternoon when representatives to the Student Standards committee will be elected.

COMMEMORATION PLANS INCLUDE TASK BY UOB GRADUATE

Dr. Alfred Horatio Upham, president of Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, will deliver a mid-year commencement address to approximately 125 graduates at 3 p. m. February 9, in Memorial Hall.

Wildcat Boxers Open Sng Season

Flooring Maskies In 5-2

Knockouts were scored by the Cats in two divisions, 125 and 135 pound classes, while two decisions and one forfeit extended the margin.

Knockouts Are Made By Posey, Smith In Two Classes

Making off in slugging power what it lacked in ring technique, a potentially powerful Kentucky boxing team opened its season with an easy 5-2 win over Xavier.

Partial List of Speakers For Assemblies Released

STRING QUARTET TO PLAY TONIGHT

Gordon's Group Billed In Concert Series

The four men who make up the Gordon string quartet, the organization which began on Monday and Tuesday at Henry Clay high school.

Mason Of Wisconsin Joins College Staff

Arnold Mason, formerly graduate instructor at the University of Wisconsin, has recently come to the University to serve as assistant professor of Geology.

Recent Graduates To Meet Thursday

Members of the recent graduate group of the American Association of University Women will meet at 7:45 p. m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Frank A. Hughes.

Tax, Labor, Embargo Laws Discussed In Current Issue

The January issue of the Kentucky Law Journal, quarterly publication of the law school, which was released last week contains articles on the interpretation of the tax law in Kentucky, development of the labor law, legality of the arms embargo, and several other subjects on various phases of law.

UNION NOTES

Today YW Senior cabinet will meet at 7 p. m. YW Senior council, 7 p. m. YW Social Service group, 5 p. m. YW Student Standards, 4 p. m. room 304, 206.

Wednesday

Music committee, 5 p. m. Room 127. Sukey, 4 p. m. Room 204. Music committee, 5 p. m. Room 204.

Thursday

YM Advisory board meeting, 9:45 p. m. YW Sophomore commission, 7 p. m. Student government legislature, 9 p. m. Room 204.

OTHER NOTES

There will be a compulsory meeting of Delta Sigma Chi at 7:15 p. m. in the Kernel newsroom for initiation and business reports.

WILDCAT BOXERS OPEN SNG SEASON

FLOORING MASKIES IN 5-2

Knockouts were scored by the Cats in two divisions, 125 and 135 pound classes, while two decisions and one forfeit extended the margin.

Knockouts Are Made By Posey, Smith In Two Classes

Making off in slugging power what it lacked in ring technique, a potentially powerful Kentucky boxing team opened its season with an easy 5-2 win over Xavier.

Partial List of Speakers For Assemblies Released

STRING QUARTET TO PLAY TONIGHT

Gordon's Group Billed In Concert Series

The four men who make up the Gordon string quartet, the organization which began on Monday and Tuesday at Henry Clay high school.

Mason Of Wisconsin Joins College Staff

Arnold Mason, formerly graduate instructor at the University of Wisconsin, has recently come to the University to serve as assistant professor of Geology.

Recent Graduates To Meet Thursday

Members of the recent graduate group of the American Association of University Women will meet at 7:45 p. m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Frank A. Hughes.

Tax, Labor, Embargo Laws Discussed In Current Issue

The January issue of the Kentucky Law Journal, quarterly publication of the law school, which was released last week contains articles on the interpretation of the tax law in Kentucky, development of the labor law, legality of the arms embargo, and several other subjects on various phases of law.

UNION NOTES

Today YW Senior cabinet will meet at 7 p. m. YW Senior council, 7 p. m. YW Social Service group, 5 p. m. YW Student Standards, 4 p. m. room 304, 206.

Wednesday

Music committee, 5 p. m. Room 127. Sukey, 4 p. m. Room 204. Music committee, 5 p. m. Room 204.

Thursday

YM Advisory board meeting, 9:45 p. m. YW Sophomore commission, 7 p. m. Student government legislature, 9 p. m. Room 204.

OTHER NOTES

There will be a compulsory meeting of Delta Sigma Chi at 7:15 p. m. in the Kernel newsroom for initiation and business reports.

Alpha Chi Omega, 7:30 p. m. Ag. building. Scabbard and Blade, 7:15 p. m. Armory.

Alpha Chi Omega, 7:30 p. m. Armory. Future Teachers of America, 9 p. m. Education building, Room 111.

THE KENTUCKY KERNEL

OFFICIAL NEWSPAPER OF THE STUDENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY
PUBLISHED SEMI-WEEKLY DURING THE SCHOOL YEAR
EXCEPT HOLIDAYS OR EXAMINATION PERIODS

Entered as the Post Office at Lexington, Kentucky, as second class matter under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Kentucky Intercollegiate Press Association
Lexington Board of Commerce

REPRESENTED BY NATIONAL ADVERTISING SERVICE, INC.
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE., NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO: 100 N. LA SALLE ST. ST. LOUIS: 100 N. 11TH ST.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
$1.00 One Semester - $2.00 One Year

LOUIS T. IGHART Editor-in-Chief
PATRICIA HAMILTON Managing Editor
GEORGE LAMASON News Editor
JOHN H. MORGAN Business Manager

Good Facts But A Bilious Presentation

Those one-page "We're Not So Dumb!" leaflets distributed on the campus recently may be "just propaganda" as we have heard it sneered, but students would do well to realize that it is "propaganda" of their own making—at least indirectly.

A careful reading of the printed matter will reveal one of the joint sponsors of the circulars as the National Student Federation of America, an organization which numbers among its members the University of Kentucky student body.

Too bad that really really good facts should be couched in phrases so belligerent, so pugna-cious, so militant. When will the framers of these "New Year's Resolutions" understand that an approach such as this only gives Kentucky students nervous indigestion?

Continuing The ASU Controversy

Last Friday there appeared in THE KERNEL an editorial stating facts which led to the conclusion that the American Student Union had taken the extreme Left turn at its December fork in the roads.

Since that time we have been taken to task by several local affiliates of that organization for saying "The ASU (at the convention) admitted it had become amicable to the Communist movement." We wish to say now that the above conclusion was derived from those reached by the daily press. The facts we gave were taken directly from the newspapers and Time magazine, which we admit are for the most part conservative in policy.

When we were accused of omitting facts which would have changed our conclusions, we determined to investigate the matter more thoroughly. We did this not in defense of the Union per se, but in order that the organization might be given a fair trial. Our research included the columns of the Daily Worker, the New Republic, the Nation and the dispatches of the Associated Press of December 30. We felt that this was a fair cross section of opinion, since it ran the gamut from the Conservative Middle to the extreme Left, with the emphasis on the Liberal Middle. Our findings follow:

On December 29, the ASU adopted a resolution on the European wars and America's relation to them—a paper generally recognized as representing the keynote of the convention. The kernel of the resolution was:

"We declare that the war between England and France on the one hand and Germany on the other is an imperialist war, is not a fight in the interests of democracy or the smaller nations, but for markets and colonies. We find the causes of the war in German aggression and the long-standing British policy of appeasement in the hope of launching a war against the Soviet Union."

Another important paragraph said: "In contrast to the war on the Western Front, we recognize the war in the Far East as a struggle of the Chinese people against Japanese aggression and for national independence."

An amendment to the entire resolution, proposed by Executive Secretary Joe Lash and National Chairman Molly Yard, and designating Russia as the aggressor in the Russo-Finnish conflict, was defeated by a vote of 322 to 119.

The Daily Worker, the Associated Press, the Nation, and the New Republic all four carried the resolution the convention's keynote. The Daily Worker printed the entire resolution; the remaining three journals limited the safe-fact portions, including the two quoted above. All four agencies mentioned the Lash-Yard amendment and listed the vote statistics; the Associated Press and the New Republic pointed out the fact that Lash insisted the ASU "be consistent" and brand Russia an aggressor as it had branded Italy, Germany, and Japan in the past. The Nation hinted at this point. The Daily Worker said nothing about it.

These facts, we must say, point rather strongly toward a sympathy for Soviet Russia on the part of the convention delegates themselves. However, we will admit that this does not necessarily mean that the ASU as a whole harbors this favoritism, since each individual chapter is autonomous (the group's constitution grants them this right), and is entitled as such to disagree with the policy of the national office or the annual convention. The charter also gives each chapter the privilege of adopting its own individual policies, even though these beliefs are the very antithesis of those of the New York office.

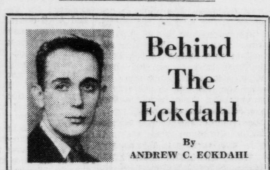

Another reason we believe the convention may not have reflected the opinion of the entire order is that the Communist element within the Union (though decidedly in the minority) is better organized and more thoroughly disciplined than the rest, and it went to the Madison convention determined to dominate it. Since any member could attend, and since the Communists made it a point to attend, whereas the non-Communists did not, the convention naturally took on a deep pink shade. This system of "representation," which appears to be rather dangerous to the ASU's well-being, is noted by the Nation and the New Republic.

But how members can have the gall to insist that the convention did not show up Red we fail to understand. THE KERNEL desires to give every organization a square deal, but it also desires to present the truth, not propaganda. —J. C.

Jay Jay Suggests Basketball Song

"A new basketball version of the song ought to be as much like the old stanza as possible. I think, with just enough changes to make it applicable to basketball. No doubt someone can think up a better one, but this gives you a rough idea:

On, On, U. of Ky.
We are right for the fight—Let's play!
Pass that ball and dribble in,
And the Wildcat stars will win.
Fight, fight for the Blue and White,
Add some more to the score, Varsity,
Keep the foe on the run
Till the battle is won.
And we'll all cheer the victory."
—Joe Jordan, Lexington Leader.

Behind The Eckdahl
By ANDREW C. ECKDAHL

Joe (Never Say Die) Friedman says: "The Cincinnati Reds may have lost to the Yanks, but I bet they could do better against the Fins than the Russian Reds are."

Every so often there pops up in the news some phenomena that makes one doubt the sanity of the American people. The first we can remember was technocracy. Then, to name but a few, there appeared yo-yos, End Poverty In California, Huey Long, Zioncheck, "Knock, Knock, Who's There?" and Thirty Dollars Every Thursday.

And now, as if to start 1940 and the new decade with a climax, comes forward a group of Western Teachers College students who want the Wildcats to play their team in basketball. This is silly.

In the vernacular of baseball, Western, you're bush league; if we were inclined to be critical, we might go so far as to say you're sandlot. You go on back to playing your marbles, and tops, and Transyanias. But you don't want to play with the big boys; you might get hurt.

THOUGHTS WHILE LISTENING TO A WILDCAT REVEAL BROADCAST FROM THE UK STUDIOS: If some bum hadn't chased us out of the control room we would have seen and heard the program, instead of just hearing it. . . . But, of course, it did say "No Admittance" on the control room door. . . . Everything about the studio was attractively decorated in a blue and white motif except steps leading into the studios. They were un-painted. Wonder why? . . . It says "No Smoking" on the doors of the studios, but each one contains at least one ashtray. . . . J. B. Faulconer sound like he is understanding. Ted Grizzard. . . . And as an announcer, Dickie Snow is corny. . . . The beat of the music of the orchestra was in time on a couple of numbers with the clicking of the studio's clock's second hand. . . . So why not do away with the leader and let the boys watch a clock. . . . Why couldn't our editor use the word "syphilis" (he had been interviewed on the air? (He had to say "venereal disease.") . . . Can it be that our radio czars are prudeish?

DESCRIPTION DELUXE: "Everytime I see her it reminds me of the movies—double features.

Bark Worse Than Bite?

There are seven things that mark the uncultured, and seven that mark the wise. The wise man does not speak before who is greater in wisdom than he, he does not interrupt another in his speech; he is not hasty to answer; he asks pertinent questions and answers to the point; he speaks first upon the matter first in order, and last upon the last when he does not understand the matter under discussion, he confesses: "I do not understand it," and when the truth is made readily acknowledges it. The reverse of these things marks the uncultured man.—Orange & White.

Campuscene

By JIM CALDWELL

A dissertation on the collegiate institution of "pinning."

On the campus of every college employing the combined Greek-coeducational system of dealing with its students, one inevitably finds the rather whimsical pseudo-institution of "pinning." Being a sort of state of suspended animation between simple dating and nuptial engagement, the practice goes on from semester to semester, maintaining its own peculiar code of ethics and helping the cigar trade no end.

Pinning might be defined as an act in which the collegian hooks his be-jeweled tooth of brotherhood on a coed's carigan, in a customary spot under which there is sometimes found a heart. The involved female is then expected to wear the thing until some future time when she either 1) becomes engaged to the boy, 2) gives it back after a mutual agreement, or 3) sees a more desirable specimen of masculinity and gives it back of her own accord. Occasionally, a boy will ask for his pin back, but the story usually gets around and everyone considers him a heel.

The general rule of pinship is that each party shall date no other person at any time whatsoever and must be required to remember all such occasions as their pinners' birthdays, the anniversary of the badging, the anniversary of the badging, the anniversary of the badging.

Special feature of planned bliss is the treatment accorded the involved individuals by the other party's friends. Boys simply "accept" the girl whom their planet-eyed "brother" took away, and her apparently has what is known as a "lock" upon her and there is little use in trying to break through the cutting man. However, the ultra-friendliness and special attention given the boy by the girl's close friends and "the sisters," tend to assume proportions of the Arabian Nights.

Pinning themselves are usually divided into three classifications: 1) The instantaneos or "blitzkrieg" affair, in which the individual, usually concerned, meet, take one look in each other's eye, and announce the merger the next day or week. Sometimes these last more often they don't.

2) The time-tried or "real thing" variety. Here the couple, after "going together" with a perseverance "but horses everyone, finally make up their minds to take the fatal plunge. Odds are about two-to-one that this one will last to the altar.

3) The "spitting straw" or last chance blending, in which the girl, rapidly approaching graduation without having snared a single male of her choice, rather desperately grasps the least repulsive man available. This type usually lasts the year out.

Falling into no distinct class, but nevertheless existent, is the inexplicable or "just-for-the-hell-of-it" variety, in which a couple get pinned for no apparent reason. Neither member can explain the event and when queried on the subject usually reply, "Oh, just for the, etc."

There is nothing actually malicious about the practice of pinning, in fact it possesses several qualities which tend to stamp it as almost a "good thing." For instance, it tends to get quite a thrill out of the badging orgy itself and apparently put something that is approaching pride in stalling self-consciously about the campus, showing off their newly-acquired Sword and Shield, Crimson Cross, Block and Bridge, Journalism key, or what-have-you.

Unpasteurized Milk Spotted As Menace To Public Health

Most people today don't realize the real menace of unpasteurized milk to the public, according to health officials. It, like the proverbial wolf in sheep's clothing, is often overlooked and hidden by things which are more impressive and prominent as menaces to the public. Many people hesitate when asked to drink from a glass used in a restaurant or from a public drinking fountain, yet these same people drink unpasteurized milk daily without thinking. Drinking this milk can be equally if not more dangerous than drinking from the glass or public fountain.

Doctor W. B. Hamilton, bacteriologist and assistant professor of hygiene at the University, stated that typhoid fever, diphtheria, scarlet fever, small pox, septic sore throat, and many other diseases may be contracted from this milk. Many farmers and their families say, "We've always used unpasteurized milk, as did our parents, and we've never been affected by it."

Named by authorities as one of the finest college radio units in the country, University programs are broadcast regularly over the Mutual Broadcasting System, the Southern Network, WHAS and WLAP.

Program Issued For Six Months

The program for January follows:
JANUARY
Mondays
1:15 to 1:30 p. m. "Engineering on the Farm," by Earl G. Welch, field agent in Agricultural Engineering, WHAS.

Tuesdays
1:15 to 1:30 p. m. "Farm Management Forum" conducted by L. A. Bradford, assistant professor of Farm Management, WHAS.

Wednesdays
1:15 to 1:30 p. m. "Doings of Kentucky Farm Folk" by C. A. Lewis, assistant editor, Agricultural Extension Division, WHAS.

Thursdays
1:15 to 1:30 p. m. Agricultural Program, WHAS.
1:30 to 1:45 p. m. "Moments with Famous Composers," WHAS.
1:45 to 2:00 p. m. "Old World Holiday Traditions" by Blaise W. Schick, assistant professor of Romance Languages, MBS.

Fridays
1:15 to 1:30 p. m. "What Farm Folk Are Asking" by L. C. Brewer, College Agriculture, WHAS.
1:30 to 1:45 p. m. "Music Moderne," WHAS.

Saturdays
12:00 to 12:30 p. m. Wildcat Review, WHAS.
Sundays
12:30 to 1:00 p. m. "Behind the Headlines," WHAS.

Professors to Speak
Dr. Alf VanDenbosch and Dr. J. Huntley Dupre will speak before the Federated Women's clubs of Mt. Sterling this afternoon on "A Discussion of World Politics."

Three Are Elected To Credit Board
Three new members, Miss Jane Earle Middleton, commerce college secretary, C. A. Mahan, state agricultural agent, and Thomas Boyd, assistant superintendent of buildings and grounds, were elected to the board of directors of the University Credit Union at a meeting held yesterday in McVey hall.

SEVEN OTHERS TO SPEAK
The secretary-elect, Miss Mary Y. M. Secretary, sole holder of membership, has two more years to serve. The board will elect, in turn, the association's remaining officers and committees. Deane P. P. Boyd, chairman, said yesterday.

Bull Session

By ISABELLE PEACHER and JEROME KLEIN

Orchids or a whole heap of any kind of flowers that she may prefer to the little resented charms of the Calabazas. During Saturday evening, Wouldn't it be something if this little number "caugh" and after bugs all over the country by can chanting our favorite slang expression? In case you'd like to start the ball rolling we'll try to print the words in this column Friday.

Wanted—A fortune! Sonny "Nickel-Nose" Boland says that if he had $50,000 he would go straight to the Tri Delta (a "local sorority") house, get married and "party" the rest of his life.

Love Sick! One evening last week Alvin XI pledge Mary Clark Carman decided that the wise thing to do was to take her four tenths degree level of insanity and put it to bed. The nurse didn't report how high her fever went after Paris Campbell brought her her dinner tray.

He Confesses
Franklin of the Columbia university is saying that "The first sign of insanity is N.Y.U." So this year's "insane" holiday when 19-year-old Rhoda Shaffer came out of class wearing a bathing suit and bathing Rhoda but from upon tall, bald Professor Albert Sheppard, who in his class in "Nucleonics" Boland says that if he had $50,000 he would go straight to the Tri Delta (a "local sorority") house, get married and "party" the rest of his life.

Franklin of the Columbia university is saying that "The first sign of insanity is N.Y.U." So this year's "insane" holiday when 19-year-old Rhoda Shaffer came out of class wearing a bathing suit and bathing Rhoda but from upon tall, bald Professor Albert Sheppard, who in his class in "Nucleonics" Boland says that if he had $50,000 he would go straight to the Tri Delta (a "local sorority") house, get married and "party" the rest of his life.

Can this system of grading be considered reliable by the instructors themselves? Do they feel that they can judge in a single reading of a paper whether a student deserves a 40 failure or a 50 pass? Then again, do we as students tend to work for high marks, rather than for the sake of the knowledge which we can obtain? All these factors should be considered.

Very few instructors have the time or the inclination to grade each student in that particular class. This we find that the temperamental and environment of a professor can play an important part in the results which a student obtains, particularly insofar as his relation to his fellow students is concerned.

Recently the system of two marks only has been introduced into several classes, "Pass" and "Fail." The plan has been found extremely successful at the University of Chicago where President Ralph Hutchins expressed the two-fold purpose of such a scheme to be: (1) to adapt the educational process to the student; (2) an attempt to alter student psychology. Thus at Chicago the responsibility for an education rests with the students.

Questions arise among the students on other campuses in Canada and the United States revealed a preponderance of opinion in favor of the two-mark system or its equivalent. Suffice it to say that while any instructor can decide whether or not a paper deserves a pass, few if any can place a finger on the line which divides a passing 50 from a failing 40.

The institution of this grading plan has proved favorable at other universities; should it not at least be considered by the authorities at the same top rank, regardless of general or specific abilities and interests?

College and Culture
Accorded to Dr. James L. Meader, president of Russell Sage College, Troy, N. Y., all you college

Good Food Means Good Health

• STEAKS
• CHOPS
• SEAFOOD

WING'S
American Luncheon 35c

SEVEN OTHERS TO SPEAK
The secretary-elect, Miss Mary Y. M. Secretary, sole holder of membership, has two more years to serve. The board will elect, in turn, the association's remaining officers and committees. Deane P. P. Boyd, chairman, said yesterday.

Three Are Elected To Credit Board
Three new members, Miss Jane Earle Middleton, commerce college secretary, C. A. Mahan, state agricultural agent, and Thomas Boyd, assistant superintendent of buildings and grounds, were elected to the board of directors of the University Credit Union at a meeting held yesterday in McVey hall.

SEVEN OTHERS TO SPEAK
The secretary-elect, Miss Mary Y. M. Secretary, sole holder of membership, has two more years to serve. The board will elect, in turn, the association's remaining officers and committees. Deane P. P. Boyd, chairman, said yesterday.

Three Are Elected To Credit Board
Three new members, Miss Jane Earle Middleton, commerce college secretary, C. A. Mahan, state agricultural agent, and Thomas Boyd, assistant superintendent of buildings and grounds, were elected to the board of directors of the University Credit Union at a meeting held yesterday in McVey hall.

SEVEN OTHERS TO SPEAK
The secretary-elect, Miss Mary Y. M. Secretary, sole holder of membership, has two more years to serve. The board will elect, in turn, the association's remaining officers and committees. Deane P. P. Boyd, chairman, said yesterday.

Three Are Elected To Credit Board
Three new members, Miss Jane Earle Middleton, commerce college secretary, C. A. Mahan, state agricultural agent, and Thomas Boyd, assistant superintendent of buildings and grounds, were elected to the board of directors of the University Credit Union at a meeting held yesterday in McVey hall.

SEVEN OTHERS TO SPEAK
The secretary-elect, Miss Mary Y. M. Secretary, sole holder of membership, has two more years to serve. The board will elect, in turn, the association's remaining officers and committees. Deane P. P. Boyd, chairman, said yesterday.

Three Are Elected To Credit Board
Three new members, Miss Jane Earle Middleton, commerce college secretary, C. A. Mahan, state agricultural agent, and Thomas Boyd, assistant superintendent of buildings and grounds, were elected to the board of directors of the University Credit Union at a meeting held yesterday in McVey hall.

SEVEN OTHERS TO SPEAK
The secretary-elect, Miss Mary Y. M. Secretary, sole holder of membership, has two more years to serve. The board will elect, in turn, the association's remaining officers and committees. Deane P. P. Boyd, chairman, said yesterday.

Three Are Elected To Credit Board
Three new members, Miss Jane Earle Middleton, commerce college secretary, C. A. Mahan, state agricultural agent, and Thomas Boyd, assistant superintendent of buildings and grounds, were elected to the board of directors of the University Credit Union at a meeting held yesterday in McVey hall.

CASH for Used Books - CASH for Old - CASH for Bk Store

Alumni News - -

George M. Calvert, 35, lino-type compositor, Morichall company, lives at 8044 Marinelande avenue, North, Detroit, Mich. A. F. Crider, '02, is an independent geologist, 1212 City Bank building, Shreveport, La. His home address is 821 Ontario street, Edward Carick, '37, is an attorney for the Unemployment Compensation Commission, Frankfort. He lives at 321 Shelby street, Dr. Cliff D. Carpenter, '35, is a pathologist for the Allied Mills, Chicago. His home address is 209 West Sherwood Terrace, Port Wayne, Ind.

Henry C. Campbell, '24, is assistant traffic manager, Ballard and Ballard company, Flour and Feed Mills, Catherine Golden, Louisville, He is married to Miriam Seeger Campbell, '25, and they live at 1731 Deerwood street, Louisville.

Lorna Weber, '27, (Mrs. Robert E. Campbell) lives at 2345 Saratoga, Louisville. Lewis F. Collier, '12, is president of Brodie and Collier, Inc., Realtors, 1707 E. 1st street, N.W., Washington, D. C. He lives at 1447 Floral street, N. W., L. E. Cox, '31, is assistant county superintendent at Campbellsville. Henry C. Cox, '28, is an attorney at Lancaster.

Robert Oliver Cropper, '29, is an engineer with the United States Government War Department, Fort Knox. In 1934 he married Martha Catherine Golden, Harry C. Cla, '34, is a sales engineer for the Air Filter and Equipment corporation, 228 North LaSalle street, Chicago. He lives at 620 Library Place, Evanston, Ill. Ballou Council, '38, is a chemist for the E. F. Goodrich Rubber company. He is married to Sarah M. Benschler, '39, and they live at 177 Boston avenue, Akron, Ohio.

New Comb, Jr., '35, is a salesman for the Comb Lumber company, 430 E. Main street, Lexington. He lives at 620 Sayre avenue. Edith Mae Cassidy, '38, is librarian at the Betty high school, Betty, Mo.

James Thomas Coats, '38, is a junior soil conservationist, United States Department of Agriculture, 433 West Main street, Forest City, N. C. Carl Cammelsch, '38, is director of information, Kentucky Farm Bureau federation, 205 Bourbon Stockade building, Louisville. His home address is 355 South Oak street, Clifton Wade Cropper, '38, is an accountant for the Savage Lumber company, West Main street, Lexington. He lives at 716 West Maxwell street, Eugene E. Cavill, '38, is a statistician for the state highway department. His home address is 412 Alabama avenue, Montgomery, Ala.

J. R. Cummings, M. D., '33, is a physician in the Fischer building, Flemingsburg. He is married to Mary Frances Porter, '33, Paul E. Carnice, '37, is farm manager of R. M. Baskin's Richlawn farm at Lexington. Joseph F. Conley, '31, is an attorney and auditor with the United States Government, Moss building, 11th and "F" streets, N. W., Washington, D. C. He lives 2426 2d road north, Arlington, Va.

Pearl Louise Zink, '34, is a nurse doctor, specializing in internal medicine and allergy. She is practicing medicine at 909 Nix Professional building, San Antonio, Texas. David R. Berry, '38, has recently resigned his position as engineer with Calvert Distilleries, Baltimore, Md., to accept an appointment in the United States Naval Air Corps as aviation cadet. His present address is Wing No. 1, Cadet Barracks, Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla. Col. E. Brewer was promoted to the rank of colonel with the United States Army in August 1933 and transferred to Fort Hayes as chief of staff of the Ohio military area. F. Davis, '38, is principal of the Huttonville high school, Huttonville. He was married in August 1933 to Ethel Mae Keeton of West Liberty. Col. William T. Carpenter, '38, is a colonel with the coast artillery corps at the University of Alabama. He lives at 1013 Myrtlewood drive, Tuscaloosa, Ala. George E. Cherry, '18, is an engineer, die casting, Western Electric company, Hawthorne station, Chicago, Ill. His home address is 4026 Ellington avenue, Westera Springs, Ill.

David F. Campbell, '15, is manager of the Northwestern Seed Co., Keokuk, Iowa. He lives at 630 Grand avenue, John J. Christie, '35, is the editor of the Needham Times, Needham, Mass. He lives at 1418 Quincy Square drive, Quincy, Mass. Betty Knecht, '38, is following his graduation from the University College of special work at Temple University, Philadelphia, and will receive the following year in the Temple School of Medicine. In 1933 he received his M. D. degree and is now completing a two year internship at the Temple university hospital.

Dr. and Mrs. Irving E. Kanmer, (Kether Levy, '34), have chosen the name, Linda Jean, for their daughter born Tuesday, January 2, 1934, at the Good Samaritan hospital, Lexington.

The marriage of Miss Lola Mae Coffee of South Portsmouth, to Mr. James Clinton Hardyman, 30, Grand avenue, John J. Christie, 35, 1933, at Russell, Mr. Hardyman is associated in business with his father, who has extensive tobacco warehouse and farming interests in addition to his construction and lumber companies. Mr. Hardyman is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity.

It has been demonstrated historically that war with arms is the normal state of peoples.—Benito Mussolini.

Chamber Music By Four Virtuoso

The Gordon string quartet will be heard tonight at Henry Clay high school auditorium as the featured feature of the Community Concert series. The program is scheduled to begin at 8:15 p. m.

The Social Whirl

Chapter Chooses . . .
Kentucky of Sigma Alpha Epsilon announces the election of the following officers: president, Carl Lowry; vice-president, George Lamson; treasurer, Harris Walker; secretary, Bob Nash; herald, Jack Herndon; warden, George Schlegel.

Pi Kappa Alpha Elects Officers
Omega of Pi Kappa Alpha announces the election of the following officers: president, Robert Paul Brown; vice-president, Homer Lee Knight; secretary, William Downing; treasurer, William Neiser; sergeant-at-arms, William Robinson; scribe, Bert Fraser; historian, Harry Zimmerman.

Engagement Announced
Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Stille announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Ann, to Roy Wesley Bachmeyer, son of Mrs. Harry Kloman, of Fort Thomas and the late Mr. W. C. Bachmeyer.

Miss Stille is a member of Delta Alpha chapter of the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority. Mr. Bachmeyer is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity.

Crittenden Lowry for President of Sigma Alpha Epsilon

Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Stille announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Ann, to Roy Wesley Bachmeyer, son of Mrs. Harry Kloman, of Fort Thomas and the late Mr. W. C. Bachmeyer.

Social Briefs
Phi Kappa Tau
Mary Jane Jean, Peggy Denny, Gal Tuttle, Dorothy Hillemeier, Margaret Trent, and Natalie Patton were luncheon guests over the week-end. . . Harold Theobald and Richard Koch spent the week-end in Louisville. . . Stewart Costello spent the week-end in Covington. . . Danny Terrell went to the house last week to see "Gone With The Wind."

Alpha Gamma Rho
Luncheon guests Sunday at the house were Lulu Hibbard, Effie Kimball, Virginia Pettus, Mamie Hart, and Burton Hawkins. Tracy Trigg spent the week-end at his home in Flemingsburg. . . W. C. Blackman, Charles Barry, and Johnny Bell were week-end guests at the house.

Zeta Tau Alpha
Mrs. C. L. Burnard was a guest for her daughter, Alma Barrard, at the house Friday. . . Laverne Warner, Ann Parks, and Iva Barbee, are able to be out after being at the house last week. . . Emily and Johnson was an overnight guest at the house last week.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon
Dinner guests at the house last week were Elizabeth Hendrix, Kirk, Peggy Shumate, Dorothy Beech, Josephine Balfour, and Mary Louise Henderson. . . Ann Johnson, Floyd Guthrie, and Phil Cutchin. . . Walter Butt, Louisville, was a guest at the house over the week-end. . . Austin Triplett, John Snyder, Doc Jones, and Leo Spence went to Cincinnati over the week-end and saw "Gone With The Wind."

Alpha Tau Omega
Margaret Trent, Mary Leta Robinson, Frances Renfro, Bernice Daugherty, Frances Beard, Orel Ruth, Marjorie Moran, and Pat Weiherer were dinner guests at the house last week. . . George Boer, Phil Phillips, Bill Bell, Merle Fowler, Joe Johnson, Elmer Mullins, and Jim Johnson attended the stage performance of "Tobacco Road" Saturday night in Cincinnati. . . Joe Creason attended the Kentucky - Notre Dame basketball game in South Bend, Ind., Saturday night.

Kappa Kappa Gamma
Mary Louise Miller, Veronique, and Sally Gattskill, Paris, were week-end guests at the house. . . Josephine Thompson spent the week-end at her home in Frankfort.

Kappa Sigma
Evert Metcalfe, Louisville, was a house guest over the week-end. . . Joe Winkler was a supper guest Friday night. . . Doc Hayes, Percy Adair, Paris, spent the week-end at their respective homes. . . Mr. Trappan Jones was a Sunday dinner guest. . . Dates for Sunday night supper at the house included Betty Botford, Elva Winkler, Betty Aris, and Lida Bell Howe.

Pledged . . .
To Kappa of Phi Kappa Tau Sam Houle, Ashland, and John Spicer, Brooklyn, New York.

200 High Schools Get KHSPA News
Initial issue of the KHSPA News, a monthly bulletin printed by the department of journalism for the Kentucky High School press association, is being distributed to 200 high schools both members and non-members of the association.

Selection of an advisory committee for the journalism department in planning programs and in editing the bulletin was announced in the News. This committee will consist of Miss Mildred Boutin, High School, Paducah; Miss Christine Hopkins, Girls high school, Louisville; Miss Irma Shuffharger, Jenkins high school; Mrs. Gladys Greenhouse, Nicholasville high school; Miss Leta Ponder, Dayton high school; Nicholas Williams, Henry Clay high school, Lexington; and O. L. McElroy, Eminence high school.

Men who have nice notions of religion have no business to be soldiers.—Napoleon.

Radio Programs For February Will Be Varied

Twenty-four radiocasts will be heard each week in February from radio university radio studios over stations of the Mutual Broadcasting System, the Southern Network, and various independent stations, and WLAP, Lexington.

"School of the Air" is presented five days a week Mondays to Fridays inclusive from 1:15 to 1:30 p. m. and carried over WHAS. These are designed for farmers, their wives, farm children, and those interested in farm problems.

Five 15 minute broadcast weekly, Mondays to Fridays inclusive, are presented from 1:15 to 1:30 p. m. and carried over WHAS. These are designed for farmers, their wives, farm children, and those interested in farm problems.

Two variety programs may be heard weekly over WHAS, Louisville. "Capulets of Knowledge," heard 9 to 9:30 p. m. Thursdays, is of mixed interest. "The Wildcat Review," from noon to 12:30 p. m. Saturdays, presents a panorama of student life. On Sundays, from 12:30 to 1 p. m. The University round table, "Behind the Headlines," presenting discussions of important news items of the day, may also be heard over WHAS.

An invitation for the public to visit the studios of the third floor of McVey hall and see how programs are rehearsed and broadcast has been issued by studio officials.

Pi Kaps' Choice . . .

Leopoldo Studios for president of their chapter is Robert Brown.

Publicity director E. G. Sulzer, head of the radio studios, will discuss opportunities for women in radio at a meeting of Theta Sigma Phi at 4:30 p. m. today in the radio studios, McVey hall.

The discussion open to all women interested in journalism or radio work, is a feature of the third professional meeting of the year.

Sulzer To Talk

Viewing the hubbub that is the Student Union with its multiplicity of meetings, its several dances each week, and its clusters of co-educators, one wonders how the campus managed to struggle along without it until spring, 1933, when it was created.

An organization of the students, for the students and by the students, it affords housing facilities for their extra-curricular social activities and offers a grand place for entertainment, recreation and assembly.

Government by a board of directors, consisting of eight students and three faculty members, available to the students, is a feature of the building affords a varied program, ranging from art exhibits to dances; from games and sports to coffee hours, and from student-faculty parties to the annual "Hanging of the Greens" and Christmas carols.

While the actual financing and managing of the building is handled by James S. Strohreper, director, the entire social program and other enterprises are governed by the student board with the approval of the faculty members on the board.

A large part of the income of the building comes from student memberships, which are paid with the student registration fees. Other sources of income are the grill, cafeteria and beauty parlor, which are leased to the Union. . . The building is ready to accommodate a large part of the income of the building comes from student memberships, which are paid with the student registration fees.

Sherwood To Speak At Dinner Meeting

Dr. Henry Noble Sherwood, president of Georgetown College, will be the principal speaker at the dinner meeting of Alpha Phi Omega chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, graduate education honorary, at 6:30 p. m., January 22, at the University school cafeteria.

Wilkinson Reported In Serious Condition

Good Samaritan hospital attendants laid yesterday that the condition of John William Wilkinson, Jr., 21, senior journalism major who was injured in an automobile accident by a truck, "is still regarded as serious."

Law Journal

(Continued from Page One) national law forums, and performing the duties required of neutrals by international law. It is neutral, regardless of the reasons motivating its neutrality.

Alan R. Vogeler, editor-in-chief of the Kentucky Law Journal, outlines the principles governing the granting of a judgment for one person notwithstanding a jury verdict for another person. This article discusses the rules of such cases in Kentucky.

"Negligence as Conduct" by Marvin M. Tischer, associate editor of the Law Journal, discusses negligence as to whether it should be judged by objectives or subjective methods. A contrasting note is offered by the editor, "Objective Negligence" by Preston Young.

Other student notes include those of Ernest Rosenbaum, Nathan Elliott, R. A. Woodall, Palmer Hall, Clark Clark, and J. Wirt Turner.

Case comments on recent decisions of the Kentucky court of appeals, including the Great Nix, Tischer, and Branch Henck along with book reviews of the latest legal literature are featured.

The January issue contains 160 pages and is one of the best in recent years, according to Dr. Roy Moreland, faculty editor.

The editorial staff includes Alan R. Vogeler, editor-in-chief; Branch Tischer, associate editor; Branch Henck, business manager; and J. Wirt Turner, managing editor.

Co-Ea Corner

By MARY JAMES
Not even two full weeks are left before we'll be plunged into those dreaded exams, and while the general feeling among many people is to remark, "Don't mention them," more serious minds face them weeks ahead.

Let's take our typical coed, Jane, the one who was so conscious of etiquette last week, and see what she does about exams. Jane is one of those persons who absolutely has to make a standing, not only for her own peace of mind, but for that of the family and for the organization with which she is affiliated. So Jane has determined to look in her eye these days.

She's making it a special point to finish up all her work in the library this week in order to leave next week free to review and review and review.

Jane went home the other night with her purpose riding high. She would get words done that night, she said to herself. From past experience Jane has learned that if she intends to concentrate at all she must study in the morning. She returned to her room after dinner making a few telephone calls, and then retired to her own room. She was making some headway in reading Homer when her mother came in to find out about her daughter's plans for the following day. That matter, finally, returned to Homer, but not for long. The jingle of a telephone bell called her to the first floor. Finally the ladies of mollen metal are picked up by the crane and carried to one side of the shop and poured into molds.

With the installation of the new crane, metallurgical engineering professors hope to put the electro-metallurgical furnace on a working schedule since previously it has not been possible to move the large amounts of scrap and metal used. Up till now, the furnace has been used only for trials and experiments.

The crane will also make it possible to change the refractory fire bricks, so that different types of metal can be used. When the furnace is put on a working basis, it is expected that regular pigs of metal will be used to replace the scrap.

The two tons of woman makes her fond fovers are only fit to be written of the air, or on the swifly passing steam.—Catalina.

With the thought that she simply must get something accomplished before the evening was over, Jane snatched the radio off and returned to work. The clock pointed to 9:30. She was still late. She read Homer and finished the graphs. A few clippings were to be picked for a Journalism course. This done, Jane made a good beginning in a book on which she had a quiz in five days. No more interruptions occurred except the telephone. At 11 p. m. one of Jane's fellow classmates wanted and assignment. At last Jane cleared her desk. She had had a hard beginning, but she felt that there was a collection of knowledge to show for her evening.

Jane certainly does not have an ideal method of study, although she finally "gets down" to her work. Let's look Jane over, as far as her studying is concerned. We know where she's failed and where she has the right ideas. Can we do any better?

With the thought that she simply must get something accomplished before the evening was over, Jane snatched the radio off and returned to work. The clock pointed to 9:30. She was still late. She read Homer and finished the graphs. A few clippings were to be picked for a Journalism course. This done, Jane made a good beginning in a book on which she had a quiz in five days. No more interruptions occurred except the telephone. At 11 p. m. one of Jane's fellow classmates wanted and assignment. At last Jane cleared her desk. She had had a hard beginning, but she felt that there was a collection of knowledge to show for her evening.

Jane certainly does not have an ideal method of study, although she finally "gets down" to her work. Let's look Jane over, as far as her studying is concerned. We know where she's failed and where she has the right ideas. Can we do any better?

WHITE TAVERNS
5c HAMBURGERS 5c
Buy 'Em by the Bag
263 E. MAIN
518 W. MAIN 113 N. LIME

318 E. Short Street
Lexington, Kentucky
Phone 648

Ford Drive-It

ALL NEW CARS
FORDS AND DODGES
For Rent

138 E. Short Street
Lexington, Kentucky
Phone 648

Stu Dents FR EE

Come One — Come All
GEORGE II
—The Dancing Waiter—
will entertain you
8:30 to 12:00
WEDNESDAY (Jan. 17) NIGHT
WHERE

Jones Box Ball Alleys

407 S. Lime — Across From SUB
Sandwiches — FREE PHONE — Cold Drinks

LEXINGTON YELLOW CAB CO. Inc.
Phone 8200 TAXI Phone 8200
Lexington Yellow Cab Co. Inc., (Busses)
ANYTHING IN TRANSPORTATION

STUDENTS
You can't go wrong with our prices
Becker's Savings
Plain SKIRTS 25c
TROUSERS
2 Plain Garments $1
CLEANED PRESSED
3 Neckties 19c
CLEANED PRESSED

BECKER
LAUNDRY & DRY CLEANING CO.
Phone 621-212 S. Lime
Phone 1125-4th and Broadway
291 Woodland Main Street, Nicholasville
Rose and Line

Caring 'Em Wild

By JOE CREASON

The sun isn't bright today. There is a moan in the breeze and the local birds sound despondent. Even the tempo of my typewriter is dirge-time.

Sikes are tinged with gray, trees droop sadly, for life is hardly worth the living any more.

Know why? I'll tell you. According to propaganda from Western Kentucky State Teachers college M. Bowling Green, Aldolph Rupp and his Kentucky basketball Wildcats are scared to play Western. It's all due to a petition signed by 134 Western students asking that this system was correct in 75% of its 25,000 predictions. The release for last week did not include Western among the top 750 teams, but Kentucky was ranked 618 in the nation while Southern California, Indiana, Purdue, Stanford and Illinois. The Southern and Southwestern list found Kentucky at the top and in order Rice, Oklahoma Aggies, ADA TEACHERS of Oklahoma, CANTON TEACHERS of Texas, Texas, Texas Tech, AUSTIN TEACHERS, Baylor and Tennessee.

If such a game as proposed Western clash was held it would necessarily be a post-season affair and there is an unwritten Kentucky rule against such a practice. For instance, last year the Cats outdid one of eight invited clubs that was invited to play the National Intercollegiate tournament for the University Championship of America.

It isn't necessary for the Wildcats to fling out challenges for post-season championship games, they record always speaks for itself. Kentucky's record was not made by competing against normal schools, neither can that non-established reputation be furthered by starting such a practice. Such games are all-to-lose, nothing-to-gain affairs.

Certainly there are sides to more things than photograph records. If Kentucky plays Western, what right would it have in refusing to book Murray, Eastern, Morehead, Louisville, etc. all of which are in the Topper's conference? Since a schedule calls for a limited number of games in Kentucky's calendar, would mean excluding Notre Dame, Maryland, Tennessee, Clemson, Ohio State, Alabama, even over whom a win means everything in the state.

Change The Subject Regularly as the spring rises this challenge comes from Western, but it begins and ends as such. Some time, before I am introduced into that hospital hair-tuning, stalling realm where mortal mysteries are answered, I hope to see Western play a schedule that proves they are ready to move into Kentucky's company. So do Western customers.

Instead of this argument that readily see that our is the largest state. Now that runty state of Indiana annually has three great teams, Purdue, Indiana and Notre Dame. Yet the trio has never defeated the state title, nor does Purdue or Indiana even play Kentucky. If Western has the power team to which its followers point with such abandonable and bushy-headed pride, surely Kentucky is large enough to house two good teams.

As their proof that Western is in Kentucky's class, if not above, Topper fans refer to statements by various and sundry referees. Who could those good people be so naive as to think any official, in Bowling Green, to work a game against Western, possibly to return again for such duties, would admit to them, sentimentally lip-sided as they are, that Kentucky has the better team ever though he was firmly convinced of the fact? There is such a trait as diplomacy.

According To The Experts So let's take the opinion of an unbiased, non-combatant, the Dunkel Sports Research Service, which issues a weekly rating of every major team in the country. Last year

this system was correct in 75% of its 25,000 predictions. The release for last week did not include Western among the top 750 teams, but Kentucky was ranked 618 in the nation while Southern California, Indiana, Purdue, Stanford and Illinois. The Southern and Southwestern list found Kentucky at the top and in order Rice, Oklahoma Aggies, ADA TEACHERS of Oklahoma, CANTON TEACHERS of Texas, Texas, Texas Tech, AUSTIN TEACHERS, Baylor and Tennessee.

It isn't necessary for the Wildcats to fling out challenges for post-season championship games, they record always speaks for itself. Kentucky's record was not made by competing against normal schools, neither can that non-established reputation be furthered by starting such a practice. Such games are all-to-lose, nothing-to-gain affairs.

Certainly there are sides to more things than photograph records. If Kentucky plays Western, what right would it have in refusing to book Murray, Eastern, Morehead, Louisville, etc. all of which are in the Topper's conference? Since a schedule calls for a limited number of games in Kentucky's calendar, would mean excluding Notre Dame, Maryland, Tennessee, Clemson, Ohio State, Alabama, even over whom a win means everything in the state.

Change The Subject Regularly as the spring rises this challenge comes from Western, but it begins and ends as such. Some time, before I am introduced into that hospital hair-tuning, stalling realm where mortal mysteries are answered, I hope to see Western play a schedule that proves they are ready to move into Kentucky's company. So do Western customers.

Instead of this argument that readily see that our is the largest state. Now that runty state of Indiana annually has three great teams, Purdue, Indiana and Notre Dame. Yet the trio has never defeated the state title, nor does Purdue or Indiana even play Kentucky. If Western has the power team to which its followers point with such abandonable and bushy-headed pride, surely Kentucky is large enough to house two good teams.

As their proof that Western is in Kentucky's class, if not above, Topper fans refer to statements by various and sundry referees. Who could those good people be so naive as to think any official, in Bowling Green, to work a game against Western, possibly to return again for such duties, would admit to them, sentimentally lip-sided as they are, that Kentucky has the better team ever though he was firmly convinced of the fact? There is such a trait as diplomacy.

According To The Experts So let's take the opinion of an unbiased, non-combatant, the Dunkel Sports Research Service, which issues a weekly rating of every major team in the country. Last year

this system was correct in 75% of its 25,000 predictions. The release for last week did not include Western among the top 750 teams, but Kentucky was ranked 618 in the nation while Southern California, Indiana, Purdue, Stanford and Illinois. The Southern and Southwestern list found Kentucky at the top and in order Rice, Oklahoma Aggies, ADA TEACHERS of Oklahoma, CANTON TEACHERS of Texas, Texas, Texas Tech, AUSTIN TEACHERS, Baylor and Tennessee.

It isn't necessary for the Wildcats to fling out challenges for post-season championship games, they record always speaks for itself. Kentucky's record was not made by competing against normal schools, neither can that non-established reputation be furthered by starting such a practice. Such games are all-to-lose, nothing-to-gain affairs.

Certainly there are sides to more things than photograph records. If Kentucky plays Western, what right would it have in refusing to book Murray, Eastern, Morehead, Louisville, etc. all of which are in the Topper's conference? Since a schedule calls for a limited number of games in Kentucky's calendar, would mean excluding Notre Dame, Maryland, Tennessee, Clemson, Ohio State, Alabama, even over whom a win means everything in the state.

Change The Subject Regularly as the spring rises this challenge comes from Western, but it begins and ends as such. Some time, before I am introduced into that hospital hair-tuning, stalling realm where mortal mysteries are answered, I hope to see Western play a schedule that proves they are ready to move into Kentucky's company. So do Western customers.

Volunteer-Kidcat Clash Will Be Last Home Bout

With eight games down and 11 to go, Kentucky's basketball Wildcats will make their final home start of this semester against the Tennessee Volunteers, finalists in last year's Southeastern conference tournament Saturday night in Alumni gym.

To date the Cats have dropped decisions to the University of Cincinnati and Notre Dame, while rolling over Berea, Clemson, Ohio State, Xavier, West Virginia, and Kansas State. The feature win of the season to date was the 20-20 verdict over Ohio State in the Sugar Bowl net classic.

In the Tennessee game the Cats will be facing the team that an early season pool of experts named for last season against Eastern Kentucky out of its conference championship. The Cats broke even with the Volunteers in their early season games last year but in the tourney finals recorded a 46-38 victory.

The remaining games: Jan. 21—Alabama, Birmingham. Jan. 22—Alabama, Birmingham. Jan. 23—Marquette, Milwaukee. Feb. 1—Xavier, here. Feb. 12—Xavier, here. Feb. 13—Tennessee, Knoxville. Feb. 14—Vanderbilt, here.

PLANS RELEASED FOR FARM MEET

Nationally known authorities will discuss problems of agriculture and homesteading at the 28th annual Farm and Home convention scheduled to be held on the campus January 30-February 2, according to a complete program released by the College of Agriculture last week.

Figures of national importance in agriculture and allied fields to take part in the four-day program include W. C. Lassetter, editor of Progressive Farmer magazine; Dr. W. E. Petersen, University of Minnesota; Dr. S. D. Hartman, University of Illinois; Dr. J. G. Hardenbergh, Walker-Gordon laboratories, Plainboro, New Jersey; Dr. W. S. Dunham, Ohio State University; Dr. Merle Jenkins, head of corn investigations, U. S. Department of Agriculture; Dr. A. S. Colby, University of Illinois; and E. T. Benson, secretary National Cooperative Council, Washington, D. C.

STATE MAY GET '41 CONFERENCE

The 1941 Southeastern Conference basketball tournament will be held in Louisville's Jefferson County Armory, according to Bernice Shively, Cat athletic director.

As yet the matter of inviting the tourney to Louisville is in the speculative stage. The proposal would be given official consideration and approval by the Kentucky Athletic Committee before Dr. W. W. Funkhouser, secretary of the conference, could present the invitation at the league meeting next September.

The proposal would be given official consideration by the conference since the tourney has for the past few years been a money loser. Despite the fact that Kentucky draws larger basketball audiences than any other team in the loop, the tourney has never been held in the state. The Armory has a seating capacity of approximately 7,000.

Since the conference was formed in 1922 the case tourney has been held in Atlanta in 1933, 1934 and 1935, in Knoxville in 1937 and 1939, in Baton Rouge in 1938. The 1940 meet will be held in Knoxville.

French Club Plans All-State Festival

A "MI-Careme" Festival for all the French clubs in Kentucky to be held Saturday, March 2, at the University, is being planned and arranged by members of Le Cercle Francais.

The festival will include a theatrical comedy, "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife" by Anatole France, a tea, and a luncheon. Committees and the cast for the play will be announced later.

MUSICIANS TO HEAR ENGINEER

Prof. Elton Paris, professor of engineering, will speak to the music majors at 4 p. m. today in the Art center on "Physics of Sound."

ATTENDED LOUISVILLE MEET Mr. Louis Clifton, director of the University extension department, attended a meeting of the extension directors of Kentucky colleges and universities last Saturday at Louisville.

He who will not apply himself to business, evidently discovers that he means to get his bread by cheating, leaving the result or else is wholly devoid of reason.—Thomas Chubb.

What I admire in Columbus is not having discovered a new world, but his having one to search for in the faith of an opinion.—Turgot.

His Eyes Happy As Cats Down Fighting At 52-47

ROUSE, HUBER SET PACE FOR SCORERS

Despite a courageous scoring push that netted twelve points in the final three minutes of play, a battered Kentucky basketball team, sadly off form in its defensive work, dropped a wild-scoring 52-47 decision to the Notre Dame Ramblers Saturday night in South Bend.

Never ahead during the game, Kentucky nevertheless tied the score five times in the first half which ended with the Irish on top by 22-21. Early in the first half Eddie Riska, a chunky forward with an Amie Oakley shooting eye, ignited a Notre Dame scoring flame that rolled up a wide margin which was not threatened until the Cats' final desperate rally.

Unable to work the ball through the shifting man-to-man defense thrown up by the Irish, Kentucky was forced to rely mainly on deadly long range firing by Layton Rouse and Lee Huber for its offensive punch. The failure of the Cats to recover shots from their own basket netted many budding rallies. Meaningless ball-handling Irish covered both goals like a tent.

So closely did Notre Dame guard the Cats for most of the game that pulling away from the basket. Most of the tries were made from out on the floor or by pulling away from the basket. Rouse and Huber, with 13 and 11 points, led the Kentucky attack, while Riska, who scorched the cord with 17 points, and George Sobok, brilliant sophomore forward, paced the Notre Dame scorers who had an amazing average of 39% for field goal efforts. The Kentucky average was 27%.

With three squadmen, Huber, Walter White and Jim King, suffering from injuries, the Irish were unable to open their bag of tricks. The usual fast breaking offense, the ball-handling Irish were unable to open their bag of tricks. The usual fast breaking offense, the ball-handling Irish were unable to open their bag of tricks.

For Kentucky the loss was its second in 8 starts this season, while the Irish, admittedly showing their best form of the year, chalked up their sixth win in 10 times out.

A solo dribble the length of the floor by Dan Smith for an easy crisp shot shoved the Irish into an early lead that was extended when Sobok dropped in a foul goal. Ern Allen cashed in with a foul and the score was tied seconds later when Rouse basketed to tie the game. Ellis and Huber traded foul shots, but Ellis rebounded to score on a pivot shot. Again Rouse dealocked the game with a long shot.

After Dan Smith had again slipped away to score, Rouse, for the third time, tied the bout with a basket from the middle of the floor. Hitting a scoring streak, Sobok, in a pivot shot, tied the game. Dan Smith then slipped into a 18-13 lead before Allen flipped in a foul and Huber found the range with a three pointer.

The early stages of the second half were a nightmare with Riska finding the basket in a game deallocked game with a long shot. With just three minutes to play Kentucky trailed by 50-36. Rouse countered for Notre Dame, but King, in the game place of Clugish, slipped in four foul tries, and still followed-up shots in quick succession. As the game ended Farnley found the net with a shot from the side.

Kentucky (47) (32) Notre Dame Farnley (7) P (17) Riska Allen (6) P (18) Sobok M. Clugish (3) G (4) D. Smith Huber (3) G (4) D. Smith Substitutes: Kentucky—White, Baker, and King; Notre Dame—Farnley (2), Bagarus (2), Ryan (2), Klier (2), and O'Halloran; Frank Lane and Dan Tolan.

Baseball Returns To University On 100th Birthday

The year 1939, centennial anniversary of the great national game saw baseball revived as an intercollegiate sport at the University.

After the game had been abandoned from the U. K. campus for a number of years, Coach Frank Moseley, the varsity line coach and boxing tutor who as an undergraduate starred in a number of sports at Alabama, laid the foundation for its revival the preceding season by assembling a squad to play several practice games.

The sport was officially returned to the University program last spring, a schedule of 11 games being arranged for the Wildcat team. Kentucky's diamond crew lost its first three games then had one of a rash of slugging to lambast Tennessee by 18-5 to break into the victory column.

Advertising Contest Winners Announced

Betty Fletcher, education senior, won the first prize of three dollars in a contest sponsored annually by Graves-Cox and Company for the best advertisement from Dr. J. B. Miner's advertising class.

Russell Wright, and Charles K. Steele, A & S seniors, won the second and third prizes of two dollars and one dollar. The winning advertisements will appear in subsequent issues of The Kernel.

DOCTOR ADAMS IMPROVING Dr. Jesse Adams, head of the department of philosophy of education and dean of the summer session, who has been ill at his home is reported as "improving."

AUTHOR TO BE PRESENT Miss Ruth Jean Lewis, author of "Lonesome Tune," will be present at Guignol's presentation of her play at 8:30 tonight.

Official AAA Service TAYLOR TIRE COMPANY (Incorporated) Complete One-Stop Service 24 HOUR SERVICE PHONE 2630 Nine at Southeastern Ave.

Per more pleasure at the movies see Paramount's Feature Attractions THE GREAT VICTORY HERBERT starring ALLAN JONES and MARY MARTIN For more smoking pleasure enjoy CHESTERFIELD'S Feature Attractions REAL MILDNESS and BETTER TASTE.

Real Mildness and Better Taste

are Chesterfield's Feature Attractions

The Right Combination of the world's best cigarette tobaccos in Chesterfield gives you two features you can get in no other cigarette... Real Mildness and Better Taste.

On top of that, Chesterfield gives you a far cooler smoke. You can't buy a better cigarette.

The Cooler, Better-Tasting, Definitely Milder Cigarette

MARY MARTIN

Copyright 1940, LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

MICHLER Florist CUT FLOWERS

and CORSAGES 417 E. Maxwell PHONE 1419

Radios—Pianos—Musical Instruments New Records Daily 10% discount to all students CANDIOTO PIANO CO. 233 West Main Street

BASKETBALL TRUNKS ON SALE

Basketball Trunks and Shoes that are ideal for intra-mural use are now being sold at wholesale prices. Fine stock on hand.

Smith-Watkins Co.

236 E. MAIN