

Mr L J Cox
Houston

New Washington April 14th 1851

Dear Len,

Mr Morgan is going to Houston this evening, and I will write you a few lines, not that I have any news to tell you, but merely to show you, that you are still remembered, by your friends on the Bay, I should so much like to accompany Mr Morgan, as far as Houston, I never was so completely sick, and tired of the country as I am now, you may look out for me soon, I am engaged making the negroes clothes, and until I get through with some of my work, I shall be obliged to remain, at this dear delightful place a while longer.

What does Sister, employ herself at, and why dont she come down do insist upon her coming, she can ride down on horse back, and you can accompany her, ask her, what are the summer fashions for dresses, she has fixed herself off to fine I expect, that I am afraid she wont know, her poor country kin any
