

May Day Queen Finalist

One of these beauties will be crowned May Day Queen Saturday night at the annual May Day dance. The dance will be in the SUB from 8 p.m. to 12 midnight. First row (l. to r.): Lucile Clay, Norma Jean Brandenburg, and Vivian Long. Second row: Mary Ann Ogden, Marcy Burman and Wanda Cummins. (Pat Grant was absent when picture was taken.)

May Day Parade Tomorrow

Suky's annual May Day will get under way at 1 p.m. tomorrow with the parade of sorority, fraternity, and independent floats. The theme of this year's parade is perfumes.

Floats will be lined up on S. Limestone in front of the Administration Building Circle at 12 noon. Judging of the floats will take place during the parade.

Float decorations will be judged on neatness, originality, beauty, appropriateness to the title and to May Day, and durability.

Professional help will disqualify the display. A meeting was held Tuesday to clarify all rules and answer any questions concerning May Day. Suky will not be responsible for dissatisfaction on the part of any organization which did not send a representative to this meeting.

The queen and her court will be selected from the seven candidates who were chosen in the election Monday and Tuesday. The finalists are Marcy Burman, Vivian Long, Norma Jean Brandenburg, Lucille Clay, Wanda Cummins, Mary Ann Ogden and Pat Grant.

Instead of riding on a Suky sponsored float in the parade, these seven girls will ride in convertibles.

An informal tea is to be held tonight from 7-9 p.m. for the top seven candidates.

Three judges, who have no connection with the University, will judge the girls on appearance, poise, conversational ability, and the suitability of the girl's dress to the occasion and to the girl.

Dr. Rhea Taylor of the History Department, who has been Suky advisor for 18 years, will crown the queen at the May Day Dance tomorrow night.

Charlie Blair will play for the dance which will be from 8-12 p.m. tomorrow night in the Blue Grass Room of the SUB. Tickets are $1.50 per couple and will be sold at the door. The theme of the dance is "Springtime in Paris."

Five trophies will be presented at the dance, to the queen and the two winners and runners-up in the float contest.

Music Festival Scheduled For Today And Tomorrow

For its 32nd year, the University of Kentucky will be host to the instrumental section of the High School Music Festival today and tomorrow. The largest program in its history will be scheduled on Friday, with solos and small ensembles performing throughout the day. Six hundred and sixty entries will be heard, given constructive criticism, and rated by well known persons in the field of music.

String and creative events will be held in Memorial Hall, percussion in the University School Auditorium, brass, woodwind, and student conducting in the Student Union and Fine Arts Buildings, and baton twirling in Memorial Coliseum. Friday events are scheduled from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

On Saturday, 50 bands and orchestras will perform throughout the day. The following Class B bands perform in Alumni Gymnasium, beginning at 8:30 a.m. Clark County, Danville, Harrison County, Campbell County, Somerset, Harrodsburg, Simeon, Kenton, Olive Hill, Breathitt, Elkhorn, Frankfort, and Versailles.

The following Class CC bands will perform in Memorial Hall, beginning at 9:20 a.m. Paris, Winchester, Anderson, Garth, Bloomfield, Shelby County, Bellevue, Maysville, Dayton, Prichard, Faintsville, Hazard, and Martin.

Class BB, C, E, and A bands will perform in Memorial Coliseum, beginning at 8:30 a.m. as follows: Henry Clay, Dixie Heights, McKell, Carlisle, Stanford, University School, Wurtland, Bourbon County, Beechwood, Nicholas County, Scott County, M. C. Napier, Ashland, Lafayette, and duPont Manual.

All orchestras are scheduled to perform in the Bluegrass Room of the Student Union Building, beginning at 8:40 a.m. as follows: Lafayette Junior, Lexington Junior, Morton Junior, Henry Clay, duPont Manual, and Shelbyville.

Complete programs of activity for Friday and Saturday are available at the Student Union Information Desk and the College of Adult and Extension Education.

ID Cards Notice

All students planning to return for the fall semester, 1956-57, must have their pictures taken this semester. The pictures will be taken in Room 127 of the SUB, Monday through Friday, May 14-18, from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. and 12 noon to 5 p.m. There will be no pictures taken for the fall semester after May 18.

New Students Party Takes 11 Of 22 Seats

By ELIZABETH BELL

Dick Lehman, Constitutional Party, and David Ravencraft, Students Party, were elected president and vice president of the Student Government Association Wednesday. In a record breaking turnout, 2,246 students voted. This is 577 more than voted last year.

The newly formed Students Party dominated the election taking 11 out of the 22 vacant seats in the Assembly. The Constitutional Party took six seats, United Students Party took four, and Barristers Party took one.

Dick Lehman had a total of 908 votes, Charles McCullough, SP, had 771, and Chip Rice, USP, 567. David Ravencraft took 999 votes, Roy Gibson, Const., 688, and Al Brooks, USP, 546.

In Arts and Sciences Daniel Yates, SP, and Pete Periman, SP and USP, were elected to lower-class men positions. Harry Connolly, SP, was elected as upper-class man, and Ed Beck, USP, man-at-large. Jane Brock, Const., and Barbaranelle Paxton, Const., were chosen to lowerclass and upperclass positions respectively.

The Students Party swept the College of Commerce. Geren Bybee, man-at-large, Terry Kuester, lowerclass man, and Nancy Boggs, woman-at-large, were elected.

In the College of Engineering Tom Martin, Const., and Dick Hunsinger, Const., were chosen for lowerclass men positions. Upperclass man is Ronnie Bonnell and Leonard Bennett is man-at-large.

Ray Trout and Patsy Beard, SP, were elected in the College of Education to fill the man-at-large and upperclass woman vacancies.

Freda Short, woman-at-large, and Terry Woolum, upperclass man, were elected in the College of Agriculture and Home Economics. Both were running on the Constitutional and Student Party tickets.

In the Law College Buzzy Nave, Barristers and Students Party, was elected as man-at-large. United Students Party filled two posts in Graduate School. Elsie Kennedy was chosen woman-at-large and Bill Dawson, man-at-large.

Students Aid For Exams To Be Given

A student aid class on how to study for and how to take exams will be held in Room 111, McVey Hall at 4 p.m., Wednesday, May 16.

William M. Bass, acting director of the University Counseling Service, who will be in charge of the class said it would consist of a talk and demonstration of the rules of most efficient study techniques.

"The majority of students who fail, do so, not because they haven't studied, but because they can't put their thoughts down", Bass added. "People taking exams often give up and don't try. An attempt should be made to answer every question, because the majority of the time what the student may think are stupid answers will be worth a few points."

"I can practically guarantee every student who attends this class at least one or two extra points on his exams", Bass said. He contended that at best exams are "Anxiety-rising affairs", and that his plan would, by instilling confidence in the student, hold this anxiety down to a minimum.

If student response to this first class is sufficient, Bass said he would conduct further classes of the same nature before final examination week.

Dr. Donovan Speaks At Commencement

President Herman L. Donovan will be the featured speaker at this year's Commencement exercises. Dr. Donovan's address will be delivered at 10 a.m. Monday, May 28, at Memorial Coliseum.

This represents a change from the regular University policy. Customarily a guest speaker from out of town delivers the Commencement address. However, since Donovan has requested a change-of-work status effective Sept. 1, he was asked to be the speaker, in recognition of his more than 15 years service as UK president.

Since Donovan became president on July 1, 1944, he has signed 15,181 diplomas, which is more than the total number signed by all his predecessors. The University has awarded 28,629 diplomas since the first graduating class in 1867.

To this number will be added approximately 900 seniors scheduled to graduate this year. The official total will not be known until after a special faculty meeting on Thursday, May 24. After this meeting, there will be no additions to or deletions from the graduating list.

Unofficial figures as released by UK Recorder Mary Page Milton list 909 degrees tentatively scheduled to be awarded. Of the 909 candidates, 776 are for the Bachelors Degree, 133 for the Masters, and there are 17 Doctorate applicants.

The complete Commencement calendar is as follows: Saturday, May 26, 10 a.m.—Alumni Registration, Music Room, Student Union; 12:30 p.m.—Alumni Brunch, Donovan Hall; 1:30 p.m.—Business meeting of Alumni Association, Donovan Hall; 3:30-5:30 p.m.—President and Mrs. Donovan will be at home to members of the graduating class, their families and friends, alumni, faculty and staff, at Maxwell Place; 6 p.m.—Alumni Banquet, Student Union. Speaker will be Penrose T. Ecton, 29.

Sunday, May 27, 3:45 p.m.—Baccalaureate procession forms on circle between Stoll Field and Student Union; 4 p.m.—Baccalaureate exercises, Memorial Coliseum. Speaker will be Dr. James W. Angell, minister, Second Presbyterian Church, Lexington; 5:13 p.m.—Baccalaureate reception for

Student Awarded $650 Scholarship

Carl Johnson, electrical engineering junior, has been awarded a $650 scholarship by General Electric.

The University will also receive $350 in conjunction with the scholarship. Johnson will receive $350 of the award at the start of the fall semester. The remainder will be given to him next spring.

The scholarship is one of 10 General Electric has given to students in southern universities this spring. High scholastic ability was a factor in the selection of the students receiving the awards.

Awards Announced At Annual Law Day

The highlights of Law Day at the College of Law May 4, was the presentation of awards and prizes at the Convocation, Dean Elvis J. Stahr Jr. said.

Eugene C. Romele III, Frankfort, was the winner of the $100 will-drafting contest sponsored by the Security Trust Company of Lexington. The second place award of $50 went to Charles Stinnette, Ashland, and the third place award of $25 was won by Ted Igleheart, Shelbyville.

J. Leland Brewster, Frankfort, was the recipient of the $100 prize offered by the Lawyers Title Insurance Corp. of Richmond, Va., for outstanding work in property law.

Two $50 awards for excellence in the title examination, sponsored by the Louisville Title Insurance Co., were won by James F. Miller of Pikeville and Melbourne Mills Jr. of Lexington.

Correction

In last week's Kernel Joe Ireland was incorrectly listed as the president of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

Law books were presented to outstanding students by the Lawyers Co-Operative Publishing Co., West Publishing Co., W. H. Anderson Co., Foundation Press, and Bobbs-Merrill Co.

The book awards went to Beauchamp Brogan, Middlesboro.; J. Thomas Soyars, Hopkinsville; Glenn L. Greene Jr., Harlan; Eugene C. Romele III, Frankfort; Robert E. Harding, Frankfort; J. Leland Brewster, Frankfort; Charles G. Wylie, Nicholasville; Julian M. Carroll, West Paducah; Robert C. McCronkin, Akron, Ohio; Carl W. Turner, Cincinnati, and C. Gibson Downing Jr., James M. Todd, Charles C. Calk, James Park Jr., Arthur E. Ashbire, Leslie W. Morris II, and Don B. Smith, all of Lexington.

The authors of the three best student contributions to the Kentucky Law Journal also received law volumes. The first prize was won by J. Montjoy Trimble, Lexington. Robert R. Palmer was second, Jessie Hogg, Cookeville, Tenn., and William Bivin were tied for third place.

Students recognized for outstanding scholastic achievements were Lester Burns Jr., Oneida; Reginald Ruff, Central City; David B. Sebree, Frankfort; Dale C. Nathan, Louisville and Mrs. Louise P. Sprague, Lexington.

Also at the Convocation, new members of the Order of the Coif, national legal honor society, were introduced. They are C. Gibson Downing Jr., Lexington; Carl W. Turner, Cincinnati; J. Thomas Soyars, Hopkinsville.

B. L. Kessinger Jr., president of the Fayette County Bar Association, made the principal address. Presiding at the Convocation was Denver Gay, president of the Student Bar Association.

Special guests at the Law Day luncheon were:

Judge Porter Sims, and Judge Brady Stewart, Kentucky Court of Appeals; Pat Rankin, Stanford; Henry Harned, secretary of the Kentucky State Bar Association; Attorney Gen. Jo M. Ferguson; Fred Francis, Prestonsburg; Judge Chester D. Adams, Lexington; Amos Elben, secretary of the Judicial Council of Kentucky; Van Meter Alford, Gladney Harville, and Rufus Lisle, all Kentucky attorneys.

The first two journalists in Kentucky were William Colk and Richard Henderson.

The Bluegrass Area covers approximately eight miles.

Journalism School Remains Approved

The University of Kentucky's School of Journalism, one of the nation's ranking schools of journalism since 1931, remains on the list of the nationally approved schools, according to the report of the American Council for Education for Journalism whose inspection team was on the campus two days last December.

Sequences winning the approval of the ACEJ are the News Editorial, Community Publishing and Radio Journalism. In accrediting the instruction in radio, the council brought the work of the University's Department of Radio-Arts into the area of ACEJ-approved instruction for the first time.

Along with Kentucky, 11 other universities won reaccreditation and one new school was added to the list of the 1956-approved schools. The other universities listed are Boston University, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Northwestern, Ohio State, Pennsylvania State, Rutgers, South Dakota State and Texas A&M.

Junior ROTC Class In Ft. Knox Today For 'Orientation'

The junior ROTC class will make an "orientation" visit to Ft. Knox today and tomorrow, Maj. Olaf W. Christopherson, associate professor of Military Science, said.

The cadets will observe military training, and they will spend one-half day firing the M-1 rifle, Maj. Christopherson said there will be a special demonstration of various Army weapons.

This is the first time such a visit has been made by a UK unit, Maj.

Christopherson said. He said nine senior students who will be commissioned in the Armored service will also visit the Armored Center at Ft. Knox with the other cadets.

The nine senior cadets are James D. Baxter Jr., Thomas C. Brabant, Charles B. Clay, Richard L. Hutson, Tommy L. Preston, Forest L. Reeves, Ronald W. Roe, Ronald J. Ryan, and Wilmer A. Steinhauer.

Maj. Gen. John Ryan, commanding general of the Armored Center, invited the cadets to Ft. Knox.

The cadets will be billeted and fed on the post while they are there.

The elevation is 950 feet in front of the Administration Building at UK.

THE TRUE AND TYPICAL CASE OF CHATSWORTH OSCEOLA

The school year draws to an end, and everybody is wondering about the future — everybody, that is, except the engineers. Today there is not a single engineer on a single campus who has not received a dozen fabulous offers from a dozen corporations.

All this, of course, you know. But do you know just how fabulous these offers are? Do you have any idea how wildly the corporations are competing? Let me cite for you the true and typical case of Chatsworth Osceola, a true and typical senior.

Chatsworth, walking across the M.I.T. campus one day last week, was hailed by a man parked at the curb in a yellow convertible studded with precious gemstones. "Hello," said the man. "I am Darien T. Sigafoos of the Sigafoos Bearing and Bushing Company. Do you like this car?"

"Yeah, hey," said Chatsworth.
"It's yours," said Sigafoos.
"Thanks, hey," said Chatsworth.
"Do you like Philip Morris?" said Sigafoos.
"Of corris!" said Chatsworth.
"Here is a pack," said Sigafoos. "And a new pack will be delivered to you at six-hour intervals every day as long as you shall live."
"Thanks, hey," said Chatsworth.
"Does your wife like Philip Morris?" said Sigafoos.
"I'm not married," said Chatsworth.
"Do you want to be?" said Sigafoos.
"What American boy doesn't?" said Chatsworth.

Sigafoos pressed a button on the dashboard of the convertible, and the trunk opened up, and out came a nubile maiden with golden hair, flawless features, a perfect disposition, and the appendix already removed. "This is Laurel Geduldig," said Sigafoos. "Would you like to marry her?"

"Is her appendix out?" said Chatsworth.
"Yes," said Sigafoos.
"Okay," said Chatsworth.
"Congratulations," said Sigafoos. "And for the happy bride, a pack of Philip Morris every six hours for the rest of her life."
"Thanks, hey," said Laurel.

"Now then," said Sigafoos to Chatsworth, "let's get down to business. My company will start you at $45,000 a year. You will retire at full salary upon reaching the age of 28. When you start work, we will give you a three-story house made of bullion, complete with a French Provincial swimming pool. We will provide sitter service for all your children until they are safely through puberty. We will guarantee to keep your teeth in good repair; also the teeth of your wife and children unto the third generation. We will send your dentist a pack of Philip Morris every six hours as long as he shall live. . . . Now, son, think carefully about this offer. Meanwhile, here is one thousand dollars in small, unmarked bills, which places you under no obligation whatsoever."
"It certainly seems like a fair offer," said Chatsworth. "But there is something you should know. I am not an engineer. In fact, I don't go to M.I.T. I am a poetry major at Harvard. I just came over here on a bird walk."
"Oh," said Sigafoos.
"I guess I don't get to keep this money and the convertible and Laurel now, do I?" said Chatsworth.
"Of course you do," said Sigafoos. "And if you'd like the job, my offer still stands."

Last fall the Kernel outlined its editorial policies in some detail. At that time we, the editors, said the Kernel would analyze, criticize, and interpret campus issues to the best of our abilities.

We decided the Kernel is first and foremost the students' paper. As such its editorial columns should be devoted to that which directly concerns the students themselves. Therefore we did not take up state or national questions. Our editorials stemmed directly from campus problems.

We further agreed that the editorials should not be solely the thinking of one man but rather representative of the whole staff. Many editorial ideas were debated, rewritten, or even discarded.

The final rule we set up for ourselves to follow was never to criticize without offering a solution. Many of this year's editorials neither criticized nor praised but explained the facts behind a situation. In such cases we believed, that given the facts, the students could and would form their own conclusions.

But the Kernel did not shy away from

Cheering Section

Kentucky's first home football game next fall will be the occasion of the first nationwide telecast of a UK regular season game.

If the University is ever to make a favorable impression on people in all parts of the country, there would seem to be no better starting point than this. Too often today when people outside the state think of UK or Kentucky as a whole, it is either as an area teeming with slightly shady athletic policies or else as a region inhabited by mountaineers noticeable for their lack of shoes.

This nationwide telecast will give some of these critics an opportunity to not only observe our brand of football, but will also give them a composite, though brief, glance at some of our citizens and particularly of the University students.

SGA Election

The SGA election just concluded proves the value of the time-honored principle that you have to campaign and meet the people to be elected.

The newly organized Students Party, by dint of some fresh ideas about how to win votes and by having the majority of its supporters working rather than acting as sideline generals, succeeded in winning 11 of the 22 vacant seats in the Assembly.

Other than resulting in a turnover of seats in the Assembly, it remains to be seen, however, if the election caused any significant change in campus voting habits. While the total vote cast was the highest in history, still less than 40 per cent of the students took time to mark their ballots.

It has long been a criticism of American politics in general that only a comparative few take advantage of their voting privilege. This criticism seems to apply to an even greater degree on the University campus.

As long as students remain apathetic toward campus elections as they have in the past, SGA cannot hope to be as strong a group as it should, or was originally intended to be.

Thus, the logical first step of the new party would seem to be that they retain the energy they displayed in pre-election campaigning, and devote some of it to formulating some workable plan that will succeed in interesting more students in campus elections, thus making SGA a truly representataking a positive stand whenever it seemed necessary. At times we disagreed with both the Administration and large segments of the student body. However, no editorial was directed at a personality nor written with malice.

Besides criticizing and interpreting we attempted to advance new ideas, either our own or those from outside sources. Among these were: free campus social events (which ended in the SGA sponsored jam sessions); revision of May Day and Honors Day; a new method of selecting the Kentuckian Queen and the Mountain Laurel representative; re-vamping of the ODK tag sales; changing the restrictive rules on serenades; and even bringing back the once famous Sadie Hawkins' Day.

We received outstanding cooperation from our staff and individuals and organizations all over campus. And we are sincerely grateful. But our deepest thanks go to the readers themselves who, after all, ultimately shape the policies of any newspaper.

Back Talk

High Rents?

As a former student and graduate of the University of Kentucky I feel I must speak my piece concerning the gripes and complaints that have come from a small minority of the married students at the University about the rates to be charged in the new Cooperstown Apartments.

First, I must say that I have been shocked at the attitude of those people who have taken issue with the University about the so-called "excessive" rental charges on the apartments. Anyone who has lived in and around Lexington knows that decent furnished apartments are as hard to find as hens' teeth and that the rental rates are usually as high as a cat's back. I can speak from experience because I have lived and am presently living in a furnished apartment in Lexington.

Secondly, it would seem to me that anyone who was satisfied in the old Cooperstown and Shawneetown units merely because the rent was "dirt" cheap has already classified himself according to his tastes and would be further ashamed to speak up and complain about the higher rental rates in a brand, spanking new housing project which is conveniently located for his classes, will have wonderful facilities for his children and, if nothing more, give him a place to live of which he can be justly proud.

I think it is generally agreed that the old Cooperstown and Shawneetown units have been terrible and make-shift and almost unacceptable as a place to live except for the fact that they afforded a place for married students to live cheaply at a time when housing was desperately needed. Judging from the complaints about these units that have come to the fore over the years they have been used for housing, it is hard to believe that anyone could conceive of complaining about the increased rates to be charged for anything as nice as the new Cooperstown Apartments.

Third, the University of Kentucky is not responsible for the financial status of any of its students. True, it exists entirely for the people of the State of Kentucky and those elsewhere who see fit to come here. It is dedicated to giving the best educational facilities and opportunities it can to those attending and for the most reasonable charges that it can operate under efficiently and well. It has not pledged itself to "see students through"—those married or otherwise.

Fourth, the University of Kentucky is at last in a position to build modern, up-to-date dormitory facilities for married students and rent them for a price which certainly is reasonable when compared with similar facilities locally—if such facilities existed locally. It seems to me that it behooves those married students who are being given the chance to live in the new Cooperstown Apartments to be grateful and appreciative of their opportunity. Not grateful in the sense that the University is doing them a favor, but grateful for the fact that their interest has been considered and that they will be the original tenants in this new housing project which is a credit to their University.

(Name withheld by request)

If the authorities cannot see fit to keep the Margaret I. King library open on Sunday night, as has been requested, the possibility of leaving it open until the scheduled closing time on week nights should be investigated. Lights out at 9:40 seems to be the prevailing rule now.

An organization is never hurt by criticism if the organization did not deserve the censure originally.

years to promote the card section has disbanded the idea, not through choice, but because of pressure brought to bear by the administration. However, Suky, in cooperation with the newly formed Student-Alumni Association is working on plans, as yet uncompleted, to revive Kentucky's cheering section, which has been woefully inept through the years. One of the tentative suggestions by these groups was to have a special section for freshmen, all of whom would be dressed in blue.

Regardless of the final display agreed on by Suky and the Student-Alumni Association, no favorable impression can be created without the wholehearted cooperation of the students themselves.

Admittedly September 22 is a long way off, but judging from past performances of UK's cheering section, 10 years planning would not be enough.

tive body rather than one selected by only a minority of the eligible voters.

Only a bubble-head would have dared stated that he did not know the candidates or parties in the past election. All three parties worked to promote student interest, and certainly non-interest in SGA this past semester must be attributed to lack of consideration rather than ignorance.

A wise man once said, "it is better to keep your mouth shut and be thought a fool than to open it and remove all doubt."

Pat Scott, a three season veteran of the only girls professional league in the country, has a pitching record of 48 wins and 24 losses to her credit.

Freshman Coed Has .298 Batting Average

By GEORGE ELLEN ASHER

Every now and then a fiction writer comes up with the bright little story about a saucy little dame stepping into the manly game of baseball and whopping a few balls over the centerfield fence, pitching a no-hitter, or otherwise upsetting tradition.

So now maybe somebody had better tell Kentucky's cellar dwelling baseballers about Miss Patricia Ann (Pat) Scott, a freshman in zoology, who now lives peacefully in Keeneeland Hall.

She pitched for the Ft. Wayne Daisies and wound up with a record of 48 wins and 24 losses for the entire three years and her best batting average was .298.

She tried out for the team while she was playing for a company team in Cincinnati and for one year played under the management of Jimmie Foxx, who is one of the few baseball greats who were elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame while still living.

That's not all of her accomplishments. Pat also was chosen as one of the representatives of the United States in the International Farm Youth Exchange in 1954.

She spent five months in Austria learning about their farming methods and their culture as a project of the State Department in order to promote understanding between the United States and other countries. Members of the 4-H Club were chosen because of their farm background.

Reporter Tells Of Grad's Feelings

Graduation is almost here. All over this free nation men and women in caps and gowns will receive their diplomas. For some of them it will be a "hard-ly" earned diploma, but that is no matter. They still become legal prey for alumni associations.

Colleges and universities are truly the strength of American freedom. And, we might add, there aren't many places in the world today where one can get so cheap an education. (Pardon . . . an education so cheaply.)

However, there is one yearly uncton here at UK that makes many of us feel we are in a regimented institution instead of a free university.

If you aren't getting your "walking papers" this year and happen to be in the ROTC, you probably understand.

On that glorious day, you, in your faded, hot, uncomfortable uniform, will march proudly to the Coliseum. Your eyes will become moist and your heart will beat tenderly when you think of those graduating souls who will no longer be lolling around our campus.

When you reach the Coliseum, you will cheer excessively and stomp your feet to show that you are proud to be a member of such a dignified assembly.

Yes, you are fortunate to be free. After all, you are free to choose demerits instead. And no one made you come to college.

Pat has given about 75 lectures in various parts of Kentucky and Ohio on her experiences during the trip. She joined right in with the farm work which included everything from raking hay by hand, picking fruit, hoeing corn, and cabbage, cutting and tining barley and wheat, taking cows to mountain pastures, harvesting poppy seeds, to helping with the housework.

She says she'd like to go back sometime, but just for a visit. The four families she lived with still write her from time to time and the five-year-old son of the last family she lived with wanted to come to the United States with her.

In her spare time, just as a hobby, Pat breaks and trains horses on the farm that her father manages near Burlington, Kentucky. As a sideline, they raise mice, rats, and rabbits for a research laboratory in Cincinnati.

In addition to her many other activities, Pat also won the Women's Athletic Association award for the best non-council member woman athlete of the year at "Stars in the Night."

The Workshop

Old Proprietor Reaches End Of Campus Life

By RAY HORNBACK

The Workshop is closing its doors.

An old and beat-up Workshop proprietor has reached the end of the college segment of his education. He's not particularly jubilant . . . in fact he views the upcoming graduation date with the thought that never again will he experience the same care-free, easy-going years which have been his for the past four years.

The Proprietor had planned to prepare a lengthy eulogy on the wonderful people he's worked with on the Kernel, the outstanding professors he has been exposed to only too shortly, the fraternity fellowship he will always hold dear and the many fine friends who will always be welcome no matter where his humble residence may be.

After several attempts, the Proprietor discovered that he was not cut out to be a eulogist.

But he does know, in simple terms, that as he looks back over the past four years, he wouldn't take all the gaming tables in Prince Rainer's Monaco for his experiences and associations.

He views his sleepless Wednesday nights putting out the Kernel as the most rewarding experiences he'll ever run across. He'll miss Crawford, Billiter, Easterly and Preston.

He views his four-year fraternity stay as one of the best means of learning to give a little, take a little that is offered to the incoming UK student. He strongly advises fraternity membership. He'll miss it.

He views his associations with professors as immeasurable in terms of what he has garnered from them. He only wishes he had been less a roisterer, more a student. He'll miss his professors, term papers and all.

He views the many fine friends he has made as his greatest achievement. He'll miss them.

He views the campus activities in which he has participated as being truly worthwhile. He believes that nothing breeds fatigue like inactivity, and thus he stresses the importance of participating in the intramural program and other campus-wide events.

He views his disputes with Stylus, the English department, sororities and various campus political groups as being good experience and a heluwa lot of fun. He'll miss these people — people he admires for standing up and defending what they believed.

And finally, he views the University of Kentucky as a great institution. His most cherished memories will always be those of the university he has grown to love during his four-year stay.

Time has run out on the proprietor.

The Workshop is closing its doors.

Dr. Thomas Walker stood at Cumberland Gap in 1750.

Cumberland Gap was named after the Duke of Cumberland, who was a bloody thirsty, no good politician.

Society Editor Bids Farewell; Also Tells Of Her Predicament

This week I can't think of any new queen to congratulate, of course, it has been a busy week with SGA elections and all the scramble to get floats and decorations ready for May Day tomorrow, but as a whole I believe I've just about tired of all of it.

Actually that isn't the greatest attitude in the world to take, but with one more week of classes left and final exams beginning for seniors, it couldn't matter less to me this week what is going on. All I know is that I'd sure like to be down at the lake getting a little tan, and taking a few rides in a nice sleek boat. But I digress!

How, people have asked me all year long, did I manage to write absolutely nothing of interest or else dab a little here and there with a few of the year's major highlights in social functions? Actually, for those of you who are still wondering, all I can say is that I just sat down and managed to fill two or three columns with whatever news appeared on my desk. No, I realize that this isn't much of an explanation, but right now I'm still attempting to fill space, and if I can keep this going on, I might eventually accomplish my purpose.

While glancing through Max Shulman's "Guided Tour of Campus Humor" I came across an interesting article which I feel fits my predicament to a tee. So goes the following:

So the editor glares at me and says, "Don't just sit there, write! Be funny!" So, I tell him I can barely scrawl and what's funny anyway? So he says if I can't be funny in a story to get him some jokes with plenty of kick in them. So I get him some jokes. So he says let's pretend you're writing a Master's thesis on humor and you have these jokes for data: sit down and write me all about why they're funny or not and what makes them jokes.

Your guess is as good as mine, but here's what I got.

A psychology student was visiting the state hospital and asked an inmate his name. The answer was, "George Washington."

"But the last time I was here you said that your name was Abraham Lincoln."

"That," came the sad reply, "was my first wife."

This joke is funny, but it's kind of hard to analyze. If you think about it for a while, you'll find that the real punch is obvious: inmates of the state hospital aren't allowed to marry!

Some jokes get their kick out of a play on words, or pun. One of the best available we will borrow from your friend and mine, Wm. Shakespeare. He sets the scene in ancient Greece and proceeds to establish a situation in which two sounds emerge from off stage at the same time: a military battle cry on a trumpet, and the raucous laughter of some unidentified females. The next line must have stopped the show, even in Elizabethan times, when the actor placed his hand to his ear and said, "Hark! The Trojans' trumpets!" The punch is quite apparent: even in Elizabethan England everyone knew that the Trojans didn't have trumpets!

Now try this one yourselves: A beautiful blonde is standing on a street corner in Tampa, Florida, waiting for a bus. A wolf pulls up in a Buick and says, "Hi, gorgeous! I'm going west!"

To which the sweet young thing replies, "How wonderful!" Bring me back an orange!

Give up? Well, it's not too easy, but if you remember the friendly rivalry between Florida and an extreme western state, you might realize that nobody in Florida would ever want an orange from any other place. Ripping good, what?

Of course, you shouldn't get the idea that jokes are stereotyped according to topic. Check this one, also on hitchhiking:

A hitchhiker was standing by the road waiting for a lift, and finally a flashy convertible stopped for him. Conversation with the driver was practically at a standstill until the chap behind the wheel produced a fifth of gin and offered it to his passenger, "no, thanks," he replied, "I don't think I'd better."

The driver suddenly became enraged, and, pulling a revolver from his pocket, leveled it at the rider and said, "Drink up and drink up fast, or I'll shoot!" The passenger quickly downed a few gulps and handed the bottle back with shaking fingers.

"That's better," said the driver with a satisfied sigh. "Now you hold the gun on me."

We're all familiar enough with the warning, "If you drive don't drink, and if you drink don't drive," to get that one, but it's still pretty subtle, huh?

So the editor takes one look at the story thus far, and says why don't I include some new jokes. Okay, I say, but first, what's a new joke? He looks at me with pity in his bloodshot orbs and says a new joke's a new joke and what's the matter with me, anyway. So I says what's the matter didn't you ever hear that there's nothing new under the sun? So he looks at me real hard and menacing and says get the hell in the shade then, but write some new jokes.

But it's not that easy. Stop and think a minute—what's a new joke? A new joke, in case you don't have the answer yourself, is one which you've never heard before. Hence, the cards who always start out: "Stop me if you've heard this one . . ." or: "Have you heard the one about . . .?"

So about this time I remember one that's a panic. Stop the presses if you've heard this one, but how about . . .

The group of buddies hanging onto the bar having just one more for the fifth time, when an old friend walked into the room, stepped across the room, up the wall, across the ceiling, down the other wall, and out the door. There was a moment of stunned silence, and then: "What do you suppose is wrong with him?"

"Yeah, how about that? He didn't even speak to us!"

So I read this little gem over and

I roared with laughter. The more I read it the funnier it gets. Suddenly I look up and there stand the editor, with about ten other people. They're practically drooling vinegar, they look so sour. Okay, I tell the editor. You aren't amused. So what's to laugh?

COLONEL of the WEEK

The Stirrup Cup proudly presents as its Colonel of the Week, Marvin Beard. Marv, affectionately known as Marney, Stella and Curley Locks, is a journalism major with a 3.4 standing.

He is one of the few journalism majors who really deserves this outstanding award. Marney is a member of ODK, Lamp and Cross, Sigma Delta Chi and Phi Kappa Tau.

Marney also is married and has a cute little daughter. (Thank goodness she looks like Marney's wife.)

The Kernel staff is quite proud of Marney. We feel that finally we have run across some one who is a deserving recipient of the Colonel of the Week award. We sincerely hope that Marney and his wife enjoy the two delicious meals which are awaiting them at the Stirrup Cup.

Panel To Discuss Summer Jobs

"Summer Jobs—How To Get Them" will be the topic of a panel discussion held at 6:15 p.m. Monday, May 14, in the large cubicle of Donovan Hall Cafeteria.
This program is the last of a series on "Choosing Your Vocation" and is sponsored by the YMCA Intra-Dormitory Cabinet. It is primarily for dormitory residents but other students may attend.
Members of the panel will include Everett E. Eisey, professor of Engineering research, and director of Engineering Placement; Dr. Lucian H. Carter, professor of economics and director of the Commerce Employment Association, and Bart N. Peak, executive secretary of the University YMCA.
Cards will be distributed upon which students may state their training and job preference. These cards will be given to the panel members who will try to find suitable jobs throughout the state for each student.
YMCA Cabinet members are Pete Perlman, Brad Clark, Fred Strache, John Bridwell, Neal Clay, and K. B. Worster.

Short Stuff

Don Batter, senior in mining engineering, has been awarded an engraved gold watch by the Old Timers Club.
The watch is given to mining engineering seniors possessing high scholarship and an interest in mining.
The Old Timers Club is a group of 30 people who have taken an interest in coal industry and in students who will become leaders in the industry.
The May meeting of the Kentucky Association of Physics Teachers will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow in room 201 Pence Hall.
Several papers on research and teaching matters will be presented by representatives of Kentucky high schools and colleges.
The Physics Association will elect and install new officers during this meeting. Dr. L. W. Cochran, associate professor of physics here at UK, has been nominated for president of this association in which he is now the vice-president.

Worst of all, the joke was on me. There I was, trying my best to be suave and sophisticated . . . in an old-fashioned tux that seemed to have a built-in heater.

Ah, but I had the last laugh! The next day I bought a new After Six Dinner Jacket. At last—formal wear that made me look great, yet weighed half as much as my old tux! Why not retire that funny-lookin' relic and get yourself a cool, comfortable, modern After Six?

Summer Program Offered For Freshman Engineers

A special academic program for engineering freshmen will be offered this summer by the College of Engineering.

The purpose of the program is to orientate the freshman engineer into the College of Engineering and the University.

The estimated cost for state students is $170 to $200, for non-residents the cost will range from $200 to $230.

The program is designed for two groups of students. First, it is designed for students not fully prepared to enter the regular engineering course because of deficiencies in certain courses, particularly mathematics.

Secondly, it is designed for those who are fully prepared but who wish to get ahead by taking one half of a semester's work during the summer.

For the latter group this will mean more time for extra-curricula activities, advanced military, or a planned outside work program.

First consideration will be given to students deficient in plane

Westminster Fellowship
The Westminster Fellowship will have a supper at 5:30 p.m., Sunday, May 13, at the student center, 178 E. Maxwell St. The Rev. James W. Angell, minister of the Second Presbyterian Church, will speak on "Campus Life and the Local Church."

Wesley Foundation
Wesley Foundation Choir will sing at Firth Methodist Church at 5:30 p.m. Sunday. Charlotte Lambert will direct the choir and Merie McIntosh will accompany at the organ.

Fellowship Snack and program will follow at the student center at 6:15 p.m. Sunday evening.

geometry, second in algebra, third in solid geometry, and fourth in English.

Each student will carry two subjects plus an engineering orientation course.

Except for a few special cases all students will be required to take the engineering orientation course. The purpose of the non-credit course is to prepare the student for college life, to adjust the student in thinking in terms of the engineering profession, to promote good study habits, and to help the student to select the branch of engineering for which he is best suited.

YMCA-YWCA Conference To Be Held In Virginia

The Southern Region Student YMCA and YWCA conference will be held at Emory and Henry College, Emory, Va., June 6-13.

The theme of the conference is "The Christian Student in His Contemporary Setting."

The conference leadership team will be composed of a theologian, a worship leader, and a social analyst.

Dr. Langdon Gilkey, the theologian, is a professor of theology at Vanderbilt School of Religion. The worship leader is Dr. Howard C. Kee, a professor at the Theological School, Drew University.

Dr. Hyman Lewis, head of the Department of Sociology at Atlanta University is the social analyst.

A leader of another country will join these three men to present the contemporary setting abroad.

One purpose of the conference is to understand the responsibilities of the Christian student in modern times.

Discussions will center around the true vocation of the Christian student, campus pressure affecting freedom to be a student, the real meaning of "the Church", and participation in Church work.

On the conference program are worship platforms, discussion groups, firesides, workshops, and technique sessions.

Workshops will center on Association leadership, worship, recreation, personal relationships, effective citizenship, and world understanding.

Special programs dealing with techniques in membership, financial support, World University Service, program planning, and World Student Christian Federation will be offered.

There will be time every afternoon during the conference for outdoor sports, hiking, swimming, and crafts.

The group will participate in corporate worship each morning and vesper in the evening.

Singing and folk dancing will be part of every program at night.

Registration fee is $10.50 and room and board is $25, making the total cost $35.50. Registration blanks, which must be mailed by May 21, can be obtained from both "Y" offices.

Group registration of five or more delegates from one Association will be $9.50 per delegate, for ten to fifteen delegates, $8.50.

A Campus-to-Career Case History

Cliff Downer (right), A.B. in Mathematics, '49, M.S. in Civil Engineering, '50, Harvard, on the site of a building construction project.

"Projects you can sink your teeth into"

Clifford J. Downer started his telephone career in the building engineering department of The Southern New England Telephone Company. At present he is working with the Bell System's manufacturing unit, Western Electric, helping to build facilities for housing a Continental Air Defense project. His assignment: a key liaison job in supervising a subcontractor's work on a several million dollar construction operation.

"One of the most interesting features of my present job," says Cliff, "is making decisions on the spot. For example, drawings showed where bedrock for footings would be reached. Excavations revealed a poor grade of rock. How much further down do we go? A hundred workers and tons of equipment are waiting for the decision.

"There's a lot of future for a civil engineer in the telephone business. New and smaller types of telephone equipment will probably change our ideas about how telephone buildings should be built. It's fascinating work, all right. And broadening, too, because it's leading me to other engineering fields.

"It looks to me as if there are real challenges ahead — projects you can sink your teeth into. Besides, I'm convinced the telephone business recognizes and regards personal industriousness and drive."

Interesting career opportunities of all kinds are also offered by other Bell Telephone Companies and Western Electric Company, Bell Telephone Laboratories and Sandia Corporation. Your placement officer has more information about these companies.

Agronomy Field Day Planned For May 25

The Agronomy Spring Field Day will be held Friday, May 25, Frank Borries, agriculture extension editor, has announced.

The Field Day will consist of seven guided tours of the Experiment Station beginning at 9 a.m.

The tours are designed for Kentucky farmers, but Borries said that the public is invited to attend.

Demonstrations and lectures on many phases of agriculture will be presented during the tours. Among these will be pasture mixtures, variety trials on forage crops, variety trials and breeding of small grains, and breeding and seed production of Bluegrass.

Pershing Rifles Win Regiment Drill Meet

The University of Kentucky has won again.

In a Pershing Rifles First Regiment Drill Meet held last Friday and Saturday on the campus, the UK marchers won over 14 other schools with a total of 70 points. Ohio University placed second and Ohio State University was third. This win marks the 15th for the UK chapter out of 21 competitions the unit has entered.

UK scored first place wins in the rifle match, the regimental inspection, and in the competitive drill. The exhibition drill, one of the more colorful events, was won by an all-Negro unit from West Virginia State College before a crowd of about 2,000 Friday night.

Wearing light blue helmets and white cross-belts, the West Virginia group executed its intricate maneuvers at a faster-than-normal cadence.

The individual drill was won by Ohio University and squad drill honors went to Kent State (Ohio) University.

Trophies were presented by Cadet Carl Nissen, commander of the First Regiment Pershing Rifles at 2:30 Saturday afternoon in Memorial Coliseum.

The officers in charge of the meet were Cadet 2nd Lt. Claude C. Sturgill, drill meet officer; Cadet 1st Lt. Richard Craft, public information officer; Cadet 2nd Lt. Charlie Harris, adjutant; and Cadet 1st Sgt. George Calvert, finance officer.

The meet ended with a regimental ball Saturday night in Donovan Hall.

Air ROTC Rated "Satisfactory"

The annual military inspection of the University's Air Force ROTC unit held April 26-28 was "satisfactory" said Col. Robert S. Larson, professor of air science.

Col. Larson pointed out that only two ratings—"satisfactory" and "unsatisfactory" were given at such inspections.

Just before the inspection April 28, Col. Larson said, key cadet officers were replaced by junior students in order to test the junior's ability at giving commands. He said the inspectors were "very pleased" with the results.

The inspectors were also "impressed" with the unit's plan of rotating the cadets in various positions throughout the school year in order to give them experience at various tasks.

Planning Retreat Held By YM-YWCA

The YWCA and YMCA spring planning and evaluation retreat was held last Saturday and Sunday at Gentry's Old Mill.

One of the two general sessions held Saturday night was on the role of the "Ys" on the college campus. Barbara Roberts and Don Clark, outgoing heads of the "Ys," led this discussion.

The other session was on church and state as it effects religious organizations on campus. Rev. Jack Early, who is working on his doctoral dissertation at UK, was the leader for this discussion. He spoke about the theme of his thesis, "Religion and Public Education."

Sunday morning the 38 people who attended the retreat broke up into four groups in order to make more specific suggestions.

The group discussing Christian faith was led by Betty Jo Fritz, the newly elected YW vice-president. Olson Huff led the group which discussed campus and personal affairs.

The new YW president, Betty Gabehart, was in charge of the group which talked about the freshmen program. The community, the nation, and the world were discussed by the group led by Keith Flowers, who also planned and led the Saturday evening vespers.

Evening prayers were led by Joan Stadelman.

Howard Stephenson, assistant to the YMCA executive secretary and director of the men's residence halls, spoke at the Sunday morning worship service.

Recreation during the retreat included badminton, basketball, swimming and group singing.

Sheep Day To Be June 7

The top sheep producers and livestock men in Kentucky are expected to attend the 19th annual Kentucky Sheep Day June 7.

The program will start at 9:30 a.m. in the Livestock Arena of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

There will be ten speakers during the day including Norman Winder, Denver, chairman of the American Sheep Producers Council; Claud Harper, Purdue University; Garland Russell, Swift and Co., Chicago; C. C. Terrill, U.S. Department of Agriculture Sheep and Wool Investigations and Ben Butler, Kentucky Agriculture Commissioner.

Borries said the men will "discuss all aspects of the sheep business" as it affects Kentucky.

The meeting will be open to the public.

Judy Ruffner Named Marching 100 Sponsor

Judy Ruffner, representing Chi Omega sorority, was chosen by the Marching 100 to be the 1956 band sponsor. Judy is a freshman in the College of Arts and Sciences. She is a former band sponsor of the Somerset High School band.

She won in competition over 14 other girls representing the various sorority houses and residence halls.

The sponsor is chosen by a vote of the Marching 100. Every sorority house and residence hall on campus is asked to put up a candidate. The girls are judged on appearance, posture, and marching ability. They are asked to walk across the room in front of the band and then to march to a drum cadence.

The candidates and their sponsoring organizations were, Bettysue Gibson, Kappa Alpha Theta; Mickell Gorman, Lydia Brown House; Vera Hamm, Zeta Tau Alpha; Nancy Combs, Alpha Gamma Delta; Inez Ringel, Phi Sigma Sigma; and Judy Ruffner, Chi Omega.

UK Cinema To Present Final Film

Campus Cinema will close its 1955-56 season Thursday with the showing of "Titfield Thunderbolt." The film will be shown at 3:30 and 7:30 p.m. in the Guignol Theatre.

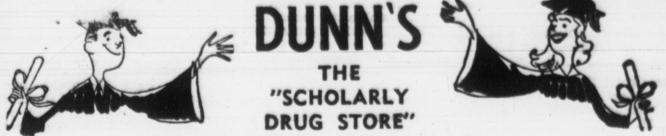

Mrs. Ruby Hart, chairman of the Campus Cinema Committee, estimates that 450 persons have seen each of the 11 films which have been shown this year. She said that many requests for films to be shown next year have been received and that they will be given serious consideration. "All suggestions are welcomed and appreciated," she said.

Much To Do About A Little

New officers were installed by the Alpha Gamma Chapter of Sigma Delta Pi at an informal tea Thursday, May 3 in the Student Union Building.

The newly elected officers are Nancy McClure, Lafayette, president; Thomas Dunn, Bryan Station, vice-president; Anna Belle Brewer, Cassidy, secretary, and Margaret Roser, University School, treasurer.

Dr. Morris Clerley was the speaker at the tea.

Eta Sigma Phi will hold its annual picnic at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Jonah Skiles at six p.m. May 11.

John L. Ragland, a graduate student, and Russell J. Lewis, College of Agriculture senior, have been awarded National Science Foundation Fellowships for special study on the agricultural soils of Kentucky.

Dr. William A. Seay, professor of soils at UK, will direct the graduate study of the students.

Dr. Seay said that the students "will examine the various kinds of minerals which predominate in important agricultural soils of Kentucky." They will also study the reactions of fertilizers with these soils and minerals.

David V. Calvert and Wilmer A. Steinhouser won honorable mention recognition in the applications for the fellowships.

All four are agronomy students.

Jean Morrison, senior dance major, will present her senior recital at 8 p.m. tonight in the Euclid Avenue Building.

Miss Morrison is past president of Tau Sigma, UK modern dance society, and is a member of Alpha Delta Pi social sorority.

She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Morrison, 357 Cochran Rd. Dr. Morrison is a professor of Dairying and a dairy technologist at the University. He is currently on leave in South America.

Men and women who want to be guides for Orientation Week should sign up in the Office of the Dean of Men.

J. Paul Warnecke has been elected president of the Eta chapter of Delta Sigma Pi, national commerce professional fraternity.

Bill Scott will be the senior vice president and Dean Short will be junior vice president.

Other officers elected were treasurer, Tom Jones; secretary Carlton Anderson; historian, Dan Jennings; senior guide, Lewis Davis; junior guide, Lucien Rouse; ritual chairman, Robert Smith; social chairman, Gerren Bybee; chapter efficiency chairman, William Rider; and correspondent, David Walker.

Dr. Adolph E. Bigge, head of the Department of Modern Foreign Languages, returned, April 27, from the annual meeting of the National Association of Foreign Student Advisers in Washington, D.C. The purpose of the meeting was to acquaint foreign student advisers with the problems of foreign students.

Representatives of the State Department, Department of Immigration, and foreign governments attended the meetings. Approximately 550 colleges and universities are members of the NAFSA.

Mr. Edward Crowe, laboratory director at the University Health Service, attended the annual meeting of the Kentucky State Society of Medical Technologists at Louisville on April 27-28. He is on the Board of Directors.

New officers were chosen at the meeting. Ruth Robinette, UK graduate, retired as president and Jack Phillips, president-elect, succeeded her. Wanda Cannon, UK graduate, became secretary, and Terry Roe was elected treasurer.

Two Air Science cadets have been chosen to serve the remainder of the semester as commander and deputy commander of the cadet wing, Maj. Robert T. Palmer, associate professor of Air Science, said.

The cadets are Cadet Col. Philip M. Lee, who will serve as Commander, and Cadet Lt. Col. James T. Myers, Deputy Commander.

Maj. Palmer also announced that all command positions except the two above will be filled by members of the junior class for the last part of the term.

Dr. Frank J. Welch, dean of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, attended a meeting of the Agricultural Research Policy Committee in Washington on May 3 and 4.

The purpose of the meeting was

"for new or expanded work dealing with broad economic problems involving the place of agriculture and rural people in our National economy."

William Hammons; Historian, Ronnie King; Sergeant-at-Arms, John Braun. Michael Dickerson was appointed Social Chairman.

David Walker and Leslie Brownell Combs II have been elected president and vice president, respectively, of Sigma Chi fraternity, Richard Lutz, Corresponding Secretary, said.

Other officers elected at a meeting at the Sigma Chi house May 2 are Recording Secretary, Jim Batchelar; Treasurer, William Jackson; Pledge Master, Daniel Kelly; Corresponding Secretary, Richard Lutz; Associate Editor,

Deadline for filing for the Engineer-in-Training Examination is Tuesday, May 15.

Applications may be obtained in Room 204, Anderson Hall.

Donald F. Clifton, assistant professor of Metallurgical Engineering, will speak on a topic in Solid State Physics at the physics weekly seminar which will be held at 4 p.m. Wednesday, May 16 in room 208 Pence Hall.

Who Let The Bulls Loose?

By BO GRIFFIN
If a person had stepped on the Stoll Field track between the hours of 7:30 and 9:30 last Tuesday night they might have been stamped by what appeared to be a group of hard-charging bulls.

However, they weren't bulls... only Wildcats.
The occasion was the second annual football track meet as 61 of Coach Blanton Collier's varsity candidates traded cleats for spikes and really made the cinders fly.

The gridders were divided into three groups consisting of three teams per group. They were divided according to their best previous times in football uniforms.
Two participants from each team were entered in all races except the 440 yard dash, in which the number was unlimited.
In the championship flight, Group I, the Scratch-Offs, captained by Delmar Hughes and featuring Cliff Tribble and Ivan Curnutte, barely defeated Captain Billy Mitchell's Rockets, 45½-44.
The Jets, led by Don Netoskie had 15½ points. The points were awarded on a 5-3-1 basis.
Captain Bob Dougherty's Beavers, led by Lou "Freight Train" Michaels, scored 47½ points in the Group II competition to beat Duke Curnutte's Opossums who had 35 points.
Dave Kuhn's Coons were treed all night and were able to get only 16½ points.
In Group III which consisted of the slower gridders, Captain Dale Waite and his Snails out-crawled the Night Crawlers of Lawson King by the score of 61-22.
Billy Mitchell and freshman full-back, Paul Sloan of Catlettsburg, were the individual performers of the evening.
Mitchell took first places in the 100 and 220 yard dashes and was the anchor man of the winning 440 and 880-yard relay teams.
Sloan won the 10 and 20-yard dashes, the 440-yard run, took a second-place in the 60 yard low hurdles, and a third-place in the 100-yard dash

Mitchell Paces Cats Over 2 State Rivals

Billy Mitchell proved to be the best in leading Kentucky to victory over Eastern and Western in a triangular track meet on Stoll Field, Saturday.
Kentucky scored 68½ to Eastern's 43½ to Western's 38.
Mitchell tallied 15 points with a trio of first places.
He smashed the UK varsity high jump record that has stood for 16 years with a 6'2½" leap, three quarters of an inch better than the mark set in 1940. With driving victories in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, Mitchell retained his unblemished record in the sprints.
Ray Blasingame netted his usual share of points with triumphs in the low and high hurdles, running the former in the very good time of 24.9.
Tom Jones won the only other individual event taken by the Cats with an 11' journey over the pole vault bars.
Eastern made a real battle of it in the mile relay, running practically head and head with UK runners, Hooker Phillips, Roger Herrington and Steve Shuck but then Ray Blasingame seized the baton from Shuck for the final quarter mile and really turned it on to bring home the victory for Kentucky.
Dayton Matilek finished second in the 880 behind Western. He was second also in the broad jump, the first time he has been beaten this year.
Eastern State pushed Western out of second slot with a last ditch victory in the discus throw, and added to their score with a win in the mile run. They secured five second place positions to top the Hilltoppers.
Western captured the two mile run, the 880, the broad jump, the 440 and the shot put.
Coach Seaton's thinclads face a busy schedule this weekend, entertaining the Bearcats from Cincinnati this afternoon and then traveling to Indiana tomorrow for a quadrangular meet against Hanover, Franklin and Berea.

Everything has an ending. Kickbacks is no different. It's time for that last sports column.

There isn't any use in lamenting the fact that associates will be missed. There is no reason to review the year as far as this space is concerned. And there is little sense in saying that I hate to leave or am sorry that four years of college is almost at an end. For the truth is that I'm darn glad this is the last Kernel sports column for Tom Preston. The next step is the big one. I've been looking forward to it for some time. Shouldn't all graduating seniors feel the same way?

So it's time to name a successor. It's proper to list a few things that the old Sports Editor hopes to see in the future. It's fitting to thank some people for their unflinching services. Then the only thing left to do will be to say so long.

Last year an SAE was Sports Editor of The Kernel. His name was George Koper and not a finer person have I ever met. He turned his desk over to a PKT. Now, the desk is going back to Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Bob White, better known as "Scoop" is the new Sports Editor. Scoop knows sports. He isn't afraid of work, one of the prime requisites of being a Sports Editor. He has proven that the desk is going to be in good hands for 1956-57. So after this week, it's all left to Scoop.

Scoop White Gazing into the future I would like to see strength added to minor sports. After talking to Bernie Shively, UK's athletic director, the situation looks 100 per cent brighter. Just wait and see.

A more effective intramural program is certainly a necessity. With the increase in student population, better facilities for mural play is an immediate need.

And a couple of final tips for tomorrow. When the property behind Memorial Coliseum is cleared, a battery of tennis courts will be constructed. They will be lighted for night play. Secondly, UK may, I say may, find an addition to the cinder coaching staff. He will specialize in certain phases of track.

There are certain persons that deserve more than thanks. Ken Kuhn tops the list. The UK Sports Publicity Director was a life-saver numerous times for us this year. Kentucky is lucky to have a man like Ken.

Bernie Shively also warrants special thanks. He's a man that does so much for others but receives little credit. Mr. Shively wouldn't want it any other way though. Coaches Adolph Rupp, Blanton Collier, Harry Lancaster and staff have sent their aid this way more than once this season. Believe you me it too has been appreciated.

Members of my sports staff, Bill Henry, Bo Griffin, Tom White, Bob Smith, and Mot Notserp were great fellows to work with. And they labored hard this past year.

It's now all over but the shouting . . . Whew!

The Tilt Hits Miami

By TOM WHITE As all Kentuckians should know, The news has hit Miami. Coach Milt (The Tilt) was nothing more than a fictitious character dreamed up by Lexington Herald assistant sports editor Billy Thompson for an April Fools Day joke. The University of Miami, a fast rising basketball power in the South, will meet the Dayton Flyers two days after their encounter with the Wildcats. Basketball Coach Bruce Hale of Miami will have his hands full in these two games without (The Tilt).

Wildcats End Season Against Eastern Nine

By SCOOP WHITE

The Wildcats end their season tomorrow afternoon doing battle with the Eastern Maroons in a revenge tilt at Richmond. Charley White will probably be Coach Harry Lancaster's choice to pitch the finale for the Cats.

After capturing their first victory in SEC competition in two years, the Wildcat baseballers dropped a 7-3 decision to Eastern on Stoll Field last Wednesday.

The Cats defeated Tennessee Saturday 12-11 to gain a split for the two game series with the Vols after losing the opener Friday 3-2. Eastern scored three runs in the first inning and one run in each of the next three frames plus one in the seventh to hand the Cats their defeat in their last home game of the season.

Two home runs and a triple proved too much for the UK line. Angus Begley and Dick Boyer hit the round-trippers for the Maroons while Ken Stevens drove in two runs in the first inning with his triple.

Phil Grawemeyer started for the Wildcats, but allowed five runs in the three innings he pitched and was relieved in the fourth by John Crigler. Crigler went the rest of the way.

Jim Kiser was the winning pitcher for Eastern as he gained his third victory without a defeat. He allowed but five hits while his teammates were supporting him with 10 hits. The Cats were led at the plate by Jack Rigelby with two infield singles.

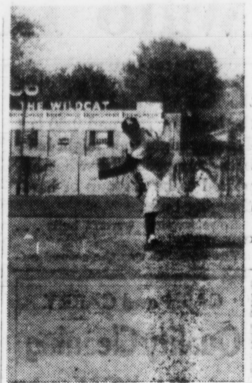

In last weekend's two game series with the Tennessee Volunteers, the Cats lost a heartbreaker in the opener when a Tennessee single drove in two runs in the eighth inning to give the Vols a 3-2 win.

A half inning earlier the Cats had erased an 1-0 Vol lead to go ahead 2-1 before the last winning rally by the Vols. Revenge was sweet for the Cats the next day as Jim Morris, with two out, singled John Crigler home from third base to give the hard-luck Wildcats a 12-11 victory.

The Cats almost let victory escape them as they once held a 10-4 margin after six innings of play. Then the Vol bats began to connect and they tallied six runs in the seventh.

Kentucky then regained the lead 11-10, but the Vols tied it up in the top of the ninth. This set the stage for Morris' game winning blow and gave the Cats a victory they had longed for all season.

Good Game, Cookie

Phil (Cookie) Grawemeyer is shown here in action against the Tennessee Vols last Friday. Cookie hurled a four hitter for the Cats, but lost the game 3-2.

Track Finals In I-M Meet, May 14-16

Qualifying heats in both the running and field events in the intramural track meet will be held at 4 p.m. Monday, May 14 on the Stoll Field track.

The finals of the field events will take place immediately after qualifying.

The finals of the running events will be held Wednesday, May 16 on the Stoll Field track.

The intramural department has urged all track managers to check their events and their entries in the intramural office before next Monday.

The 880 yard relay, held in conjunction with the Spiked Shoe Relays, was won by Triangle fraternity in the record time 1:42.8. SAE came in second as DTD finished third.

Twelve fraternities and one independent team have entered the track meet and will compete for places in the qualifying heats to be run Monday.

Mr. America Title Sought By Wildcat Barbell Clubman

Ronald "Speck" Lacy will represent the Wildcat Barbell Club in the 1956 Mr. America contest. The contest will be held June 1-2 in Philadelphia, Pa.

Speck, who is the 1955 Mr. Kentucky, placed eighth in last year's Mr. America contest. He won the "best legs and best back" awards and was third in the "best chest" event.

During a brief stay in California two years ago Speck placed high in many major physique contests all over the state.

Lacy lives in Lexington at present. He was originally from Winchester. Although not a student at UK, he works at the Rehabilitation Center in the Coliseum and is an honorary member of the Wildcat Barbell Club.

Speck attended UK in 1950-51 and played halfback on the freshman football team.

Wes Santee Fails To Set Half Mile Stoll Field Record

America's greatest miler, Wes Santee, ran only half the distance of his speciality and turned in a sparkling 1:52.4 performance over 880 yards of the Stoll Field cinders last Friday night at the ninth annual Spiked Shoe Relays.

Hampered by chilly weather and a drying out track the Kansas Marine Lieutenant fell short of the Stoll Field half mile mark set by Olympic champion Mal Whitfield in 1953 at the Relays.

He traversed the first 220' in 26 seconds and reached the quarter mile mark in 56.

TIPS ON TOGS

TENNIS ANYONE? — That question is heard quite a lot at this time of the season. If you are a Tennis Fan and like to take an active part in a fast set — then you will also like the comfort — and appearance — of McGregor's "Wimbeldon Shorts" made up of crisp, clear, white cotton twill — sporting a fine navy blue piping at the side seams. "Wimbeldon Shorts" are found on more courts and champions across the land, than any other shorts — That's why they are referred to as — preferred by "Champions" — You will find a picture of the "Wimbeldon Shorts" elsewhere on this page.

MARION CORN — A Physical Education student at Transylvania College, is always immaculate — whether he is wearing casual sport wear or "dressed for the occasion" (as it were) his secret of appearance is not only in the selection of his clothes, but in always being so cleanly well groomed. While bantering the breeze with him the other P.M. I noted he was wearing a Black and Bronze stripe blazer of Irish Linen — a pale tan button down shirt, his tie was of Black, Bronze and faint grey — the exact same color scheme was carried out by his socks — Tan "Chino" Ivy League Slax and Brown "Bass" moccasins — He topped this very natty outfit with a brown "Flat-Top" straw — Smooth!

LAST SATURDAY NIGHT—I attended the "Farm House Spring Formal" at the Lafayette Hotel Ball Room and an elegant affair it was. As you entered the ball room you passed through a latticed bower covered with spring flowers and greens and topped by the Farm House Shield. (I noticed many pictures were taken inside said bower).

So long for now.

SAE, ATO Undeclared In I-M Softball Tourney

SAE and ATO remain as the only undefeated teams in the intramural softball double elimination tourney.

SAE doubled the score on DTD defeating them 10-5 to gain the right to play ATO who remained unbeaten by slipping past SN 5-1. These two clubs meet in the finals of the winners bracket of the tourney.

SX and SN open the quarter finals of the losers bracket, and DTD meets PKA in the second game of this bracket. SX downed TRI 10-8 and won by forfeit over SPE in games last week.

SN lost their first game to ATO and dropped into the losers bracket. DTD dropped into the losers bracket when they lost to SAE. They will play PKA who defeated KS 9-2 after a barrage of homers by the PKA's.

In other action last week PKA won over PSK 4-3, TRI dumped PDT 10-9 and PSK defeated FH 6-5. KS won a rematch over PKT 20-12 in the biggest slugfest of the tourney.

Dr. Smythe To Speak At Philosophy Club

Dr. Lewis S. C. Smythe will be the featured speaker at the Philosophy Club meeting, to be held today at 4 p.m., room 204, SUB.

The topic for the meeting will be "Social Effects of Chinese Philosophy".

Dr. Smythe came to Lexington in 1952 to inaugurate the Department of Christian Community at The College of the Bible, a unique department in American seminaries. Prior to that time Dr. Smythe had spent 23 years in China.

He was professor of sociology at University of Nanking. In addition to his work as a teacher, Dr. Smythe had made extensive studies in Chinese family life. He had helped in the launching of industrial cooperatives, and had done marital counseling and, during the invasions of Nanking, had carried out gigantic relief projects among the refugees. He remained in China until he was forced out by the Communist government.

Dr. Smythe is a native of Washington, D.C., but he lived for a time in Montana. From the West he came back to Iowa to attend college at Drake University. His M.A. and Ph.D. degrees were earned at University of Chicago. He also has taken post-doctoral work at Chicago.

Since coming to Kentucky Dr. Smythe has been active in Kentucky Council of Churches, and currently he is serving as chairman of the Department of Community Service and World Order.

He has written for a number of scholarly journals in both this country and in China.

Officers of the Philosophy Club include: Bill Downey, president, Ronald Stewart, vice-president, Lois Allen, secretary-treasurer, Ralph Albers, program chairman, and Prof. John Kuiper, faculty advisor.
