GAME WILL BE OF NATIONAL AND LOCAL INTEREST

Favorite Knits Favored Over the "Wonder Team"

PLAY AT 8 TONIGHT

Seat Sale Reported as Largest of the Season

A basketball game of national interest is scheduled for tonight when the Georgetown high school "wonder team" meets the famous Favorite Knit players of Cleveland, Ohio, in a contest which promises to draw one of the largest crowds that ever saw a basketball game in Kentucky.

Last week the Georgetown girls defeated the Memorial girls 40 to 0 in the finals of the seventh annual tournament. The Scott county team is known in many states outside of Kentucky as the aggregation which averaged scoring a point a minute during the last season and for having gone through the season undefeated. Entering the tournament, they were installed the overwhelming favorites and they did not deviate from the standard set by the public.

In meeting the Cleveland team they are playing the national independent champions in basketball, and the local girls are being given an even chance with the champions in the bout tonight. The Favorite Knits have established a record during their play together that stamps them as real title holders. For the past six years they have played together and during this time have perfected team work that has been death to scores of opponents.

Elizabeth Sharpe, all-Kentucky center, and Beulah Wallace, all-Kentucky forward, members of the Georgetown team, will both be in the lineup tonight, with the Biddle sisters, Lillie and Nettie, two famous guards who held their opponents to one and two baskets in each game this season. Miss Sabel will also be in the lineup.

The Famous Knits are great scorers and each player on the team is tall in stature.

Tonight's game will start at 8:00 o'clock. Should there be any seats left late this afternoon, they will go on sale at the gymnasium an hour before the game starts. It is reported that "all of Georgetown" is coming over and if this is true, Lexington fans will find standing space at a premium.

Attends Meeting of Research Council Held in Iowa

Dean P. P. Boyd of the college of Arts and Sciences, was present at an honors course conference which was held at the University of Iowa on March 17 and 18. Among the visitors were three college presidents, four deans, and other nationally known educators.

According to Prof. Carl E. Seashore, dean of the graduate college of the University of Iowa, the object of the conference was to discuss conditions which should be taken into account in establishing honor courses in middle western colleges and universities.

Speakers on the program included President Frank Aydelotte of Swarthmore College; President E. H. Lindley of the University of Kansas; Vernon Kellogg, permanent secretary and chairman of the division of educational relations of the National Research Council; Dean J. B. Johnston of the University of Michigan.

C. M. C. PORTER
C. M. C. Porter, member of the Senior class and a student in the college of Law, has formally announced himself as a candidate for senator from the 12th Senatorial District for the next Legislature.

Mr. Porter is the son of Otis Porter, a farmer at Bardotown Junction, Bullitt county. He came to the university from Berea College, where he was graduated from the Academy department in 1920.

He is a member of Phi Alpha Delta, honorary professional law fraternity, Tau Kappa Alpha, oratorical fraternity, and has been a member of the debating team for the last four years.

STATE ORATORS CLASH TONIGHT

W. B. Jones, Ky. Representative, Goes to Georgetown

The oratorical contests of the University of Kentucky begin tonight when W. B. Jones goes to Georgetown to meet representatives of Centre, Berea, Georgetown, Transylvania and Wesleyan, at the Georgetown College chapel at 8:00 o'clock. Kentucky's representative will have for his subject, "Woodrow Wilson."

Following the Georgetown meet, the schedule has been arranged by Professor Sutherland as follows: On March 25 the university will be represented by J. Y. Brown and W. O. Keller at Chapel Hill, N. C., in two debates against North Carolina, Kentucky to take the negative in the first and the affirmative in the second, on the question, "Resolved: That Congress should be empowered to override by two-thirds majority the decisions of the Supreme Court declaring congressional action unconstitutional." On March 26, preliminary tryouts for the National Oratoricals will be held. Rhodes Meyers and William Simpson represent Kentucky. The winner will go to Nashville to debate against Tennessee and the winner of the Kentucky-Tennessee match will go to Los Angeles, Cal., for the finals of the national meet.

On March 30 and 31, Michigan Agricultural College will come here for two debates, the first to be on Congressional Action and the second to be: "Resolved that the Japanese Exclusion Act of 1924 be repealed." Kentucky has the affirmative in the first debate and the negative in the second.

NOTICE
The Y. W. C. A. cabinet will hold its meeting Tuesday night at 7 o'clock in the Y. W. rooms.

A CORRECTION
Sergeant Kennedy wishes to announce that there was a mistake in the writup of the election of band sponsor in last week's Kernel. The band sponsor, unlike the company and battalion sponsors, is elected to serve one year from the date of election. The other sponsors are elected to serve the remainder of this semester only. There is also a rule among the members of the band that any girl who has served as a sponsor for one year is not eligible for reelection to the honor.

TROPHY ROOM TO BE INSTALLED IN MEN'S GYMNASIUM BY SU-KY CIRCLE

Funds Secured During High School Week Will Equip Lair for Former Athletes; To be a Place of Beauty

Elsewhere in this issue of the Kernel is an itemized statement of the financial status of the Su-Ky Circle. According to the statement, the Circle cleared more than $500.00 during the high school tournament. Announcement is made that the Circle will use this money to renovate and equip the trophy room in the men's gymnasium.

Daddy Boles, director of athletics at the university, announced to the Circle that there were insufficient funds in the treasury of the Athletic Association to equip the room and asked the Circle to do the work. The Circle has undertaken to do the work and sold ice cream and candy at the tournament in order to obtain sufficient funds.

The large iron posts in the room will be plastered and the floor will be painted. Hooks and nails will be placed in the walls to hold the pictures of former teams. The girls of the Circle are to have charge of the hanging of curtains and shades. The work is to be under the personal supervision of Daddy Boles, assisted by a committee from the Su-Ky Circle. No definite limit is placed on the expenditure for the work but $200 is considered the maximum.

The Circle announces that the money in the treasury after the trophy room is renovated will go toward sending the band with the teams next fall.

Mr. Wilson, alumni secretary, appealed to the Circle last Tuesday to aid him in collecting the past due pledges on the stadium. The Circle has taken charge of the work and each member is making a personal canvass of those men whose pledges are past due.

DIPHTHERIA FILM SHOWN BY RUSH

Health Dept. Presents "Kitty" Conroy is Promoted by School Board

The Hygiene department, under the auspices of Doctor Rush, showed the last of a series of health films in the Civil and Physics building on the campus, Monday night.

Three films were presented, the first one being entitled "Unhooking the Hookworm." This picture vividly brought out the great extent of the disease and dwelt on the terrific economic loss caused by this infection, showing how the disease can be prevented and if contracted, how it can be cured. The second film, termed "The Jinks," gave, by means of animated diagrams and cartoons, the story of tuberculosis. The last picture showed how diphtheria has joined the ranks of preventable diseases and was made appealing by a human interest story which involved one of the many tragedies wrought by this disorder.

The films were loaned by the United States Bureau of Mines, Pittsburgh, and by the Indiana Tuberculosis Society.

FORMER STUDENT MADE PRINCIPAL

"Kitty" Conroy is Promoted by School Board

Miss Katherine Conroy, graduate of the university in the class of 1923, has been appointed principal of the Jefferson county Children's Home. Miss Conroy taught English in the LaGrange High School during the past year and was greatly admired by both faculty and students.

"Kitty," as she was known on the university campus, was one of the most outstanding girls that ever attended the University of Kentucky. She was a member of the Stroller organization and took leading parts in two of their productions. Besides being one of the best students, making an average standing of two, Miss Conroy was for four years chosen as one of the most popular girls in the annual popularity contests.

She was a member of the Kernel staff and in her senior year was editor-in-chief of the Kentuckian; she was a member of Theta Sigma Phi, the women's honorary journalistic fraternity.

EXTRA! EXTRA!

Men's Student Council Adjourns Indefinitely

At the regular meeting of the Men's Student Council, held in Dean Boyd's office at the fifth hour Thursday, it was decided by the members that the Council be adjourned indefinitely. This action, according to its members was taken only after the powers and duties were investigated in detail.

"It was found that the Council, as the matter now stands, has no power by which it can enforce the regulations deemed necessary for the fulfillment of its trust as representatives of the desires of the student body—

"THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED—

"That, inasmuch as we, of the Men's Student Council, are powerless to enforce the regulations prescribed by the students of the university, or to uphold those traditions which have become a part of the university, we adjourn the present Student Council indefinitely, indefinitely.

"Be it further resolved:

"That the Student Council by this action in no manner or effect, sanctions or promotes the action of any other organization unless said organization has the approval and support of the university authorities.

BERNICE BONAR
Miss Bernice Bonar received the highest number of any girl in the "outstanding senior" contest of several weeks ago, which was sponsored by the Kentucky Kernel.

Miss Bonar lives at Carlisle and is a graduate of the Bourbon county high school, of which school she is alumni president. She has lived at Patterson Hall during her four years at the university and is a member of the Y. W. C. A., Mortar Board, and the Philosophian Literary Society.

A full sketch of Miss Bonar's activities appeared in last week's issue of the Kernel, but through an oversight of the printer her picture failed to appear. We wish to apologize to Miss Bonar for this oversight and assure her that it was unintentional.

KNIGHT'S ESSAYS ARE CRITICISED

Receive Much Attention From Best Book Reviewers

Professor Knight's "Superlatives" is receiving some attention from book reviewers. Miss Elizabeth Dangerfield has criticized it carefully for the Lexington Herald; before that it was spoken of in the "American Mercury" for March as "a unique experiment in modern essay writing" and as "an extremely amusing and original mook which will appeal to all." It received a brief notice in Stuart P. Sherman's "Books." Herbert S. Gorman in last Sunday's New York Times Book Review, wrote in part: "It would be futile to enter into any controversy regarding these 'mooks' for the subject is endless and one might ransack the almost endless reaches of modern literature since DePoe's day and discover a hundred or more creatures of fancy who might well fit into Mr. Knight's absolute categories. The author is always intelligent, however, and he offers a deal of entertaining comment on the various characters he has picked."

"It is one of those books which should wheedle readers back into perusal of some very great achievements in letters, and if it does that it has more than fulfilled its function."

The Chicago Tribune of last Saturday ended its review by saying: "These 'Superlatives' are sure to cause comment, for no two critics in the world would or could agree on 'the most' anything."

TWO TERMS TO BE INCLUDED IN '25 SUMMER SESSION

First Term to Last Six Weeks; Second to Go Five

EXCELLENT STAFF

Long Session is Planned to Benefit Students, Teachers

The University of Kentucky is planning the most comprehensive program for the summer session of 1925 that has ever before been offered. The session, instead of being six weeks in length, as previous to 1923, or nine weeks, as was the summer session of 1924, will consist of 2 terms, the first six weeks in length, and the second five weeks in length.

The long summer session has been planned largely to meet the need of the large number of teachers in Kentucky who desire to complete the work for their bachelor's degree, and the consequently increasing number of teachers who desire work of graduate grade. The summer session, at the same time, serves the needs of large groups of students who are at the University of Kentucky during the regular school year. There are many students at the university who desire to shorten their four years for a bachelor's degree. This may be done materially by attendance at the summer sessions.

The normal load for the summer session is six semester hours for each student. A student presenting a standing of "B" or better, however, will be allowed to take eight semester hours a term, the total of the summer session not to exceed fourteen credits. It is easily possible for students who are in attendance during the regular session to shorten their residence requirements and to get into their life's work earlier by attending summer sessions. Students are rapidly coming to realize that it is not profitable to waste the summer months. The university is trying to provide a profitable program for each student who desires to avail himself of an opportunity for continued study during these months.

Among the outstanding men in the educational field in America who will assist in the instruction during the summer are: Dr. Groge Howard, of North Carolina; Dr. R. S. Cotterill, of the University of Louisville; Prof. Fred Nichols, of Harvard University; Doctor John J. Tigert, Commissioner of Education of the United States, and other men noted in their particular fields.

The summer session catalog will be available by April 4. Any student who desires to examine the program for the summer session may call at the office of the director for a bulletin and program.

Supt. Rhoads Calls Meeting for April 23

McHenry Rhoads, superintendent of Public Instruction, formerly of the university faculty, has called a conference of county school superintendents to be held in Louisville April 23, at the same time the K. E. A. is in session.

As an added interest, he has urged all superintendents to see that all teachers under their supervision become members of the K. E. A. Kentucky statutes permit the county boards to pay actual expenses connected with conferences called by the State Superintendent.

Editor—Alumni Secretary

OUR TOURNAMENT

Last week was a great one in the lives of Kentucky's young athletes who participate in the sport of basketball. Eighteen boys' and seventeen girls' teams were shown feel that they won. The alumni are especially interested during the annual tournament.

The usual sportsmanship as is always shown by real Kentuckians was displayed by every team taking part in this contest. Of course, all could not be winners from the standpoint of scores but from the moral side all teams taking part should feel that they won. The alumni are especially interested in the development of athletics of very kind in our high schools in the state and want to lend their support toward fostering the best feeling and greatest interest possible among the young boys and girls participating in all high school sports.

Too much praise cannot be given Prof. S. A. "Daddy" Boles, athletic director of the university for the wonderful work he has done since his connection with us in building up the fine athletic spirit and interest among our high schools. He began to build up an interest in basketball in the high schools about six years ago at which time only a few teams took part and this season there were about 150 teams representing almost every hamlet of the state that they did best to come to the tournament here and win the state championship.

OUR BOOSTER

There is one organization on the campus that deserves not only the most hearty commendation from every alumnus of the university, but the financial support when the same may be requested. This organization is the SuKy Circle, which is composed of twenty-eight young men and women who have dedicated their spare moments while in college to advance all varsity athletic interests. These young people have already done a great work and have won the admiration of all who really know of their deeds. They have made it possible for the "Best College Band in the South" to accompany the varsity football team on several of its trips; they have added to the comforts of the team in every way that their finances and work combined could accomplish; they have met visiting teams and have done all within their power to administered to their wishes and pleasures while in Lexington. They worked untiringly last week to make the high school boys and girls feel at home on the campus while the annual basketball tournament was in progress and in order to gather a few dollars have had to resort to selling ice cream and cracker-jacks at athletic contests.

The latest and not the least commendable of the acts of this group is taking over the collection of moneys past due on pledges to the Greater Kentucky Fund both on the campus and in Lexington. SuKy, the wishes of the alumni are that you may grow stronger; carry out in detail the fine things that you have planned, and win from the faculty and student body of the university the support and recognition which you so richly deserve.

ANNUAL DINNER IS GREAT SUCCESS

Alpha Delta Sig Gives Its Best Gridiron Dinner

The Gridiron Dinner, which was given by the Henry Watterson and George D. Prentice chapters of Alpha Delta Sigma, professional journalistic fraternities of the University of Kentucky and Georgetown College, at the Phoenix hotel last Monday evening was a jolly occasion for all interested in the affairs of the day. The program was very cleverly rendered and offered suggestions that might well be copied by the great Gridiron Dinner in Washington, D. C., next year. These young journalists are to be congratulated for their originality and ability to put into execution their ideas. The largest crowd that has ever attended one of these dinners was present to witness the program.

ALUMNI CLUB OF LEXINGTON MEETS

Holds Election; Miss McLaughlin is New President

One of the most interesting and enthusiastic meetings of the Lexington club of the Alumni Association of the University of Kentucky was held last Saturday at the Lafayette hotel. No program had been planned other than the election of officers and the discussion of the work of the club for the past year and what it hopes to accomplish during the next year.

Officers elected are Miss Marguerite McLaughlin, president; Viley McCarrin, vice-president; W. C. Brown, secretary; Miss Nancy Innis, treasurer. The out-going officers were Dr. J. S. (Brick) Chambers, president; Miss Marguerite McLaughlin, vice-president; Miss Nancy Innis, secretary; Mrs. Lucile G. Wilson, treasurer.

The retiring officers reported that the most outstanding social and financial function of the past year was the Home-Coming Dance which was held November 1, 1924, the evening of the Kentucky-Centre game. It was held in the new basketball building and was attended by more than 1,000 couples, all of whom seemed to enjoy themselves very much. A small admission was charged and a part of the proceeds have been used to secure special aid for the football team where other funds could not be secured, to assist the general Alumni Association in the furtherance of its work and to purchase sweaters for the SuKy Circle, which is composed of about thirty members and is the campus organization that meets all visiting teams and looks after their wishes and pleasures while in Lexington. Several other activities were mentioned, most of which were merely routine work like arrangement for the annual alumni banquet which was held at the Phoenix hotel last year.

The newly elected officers invited the others present to enter into a discussion of plans for the year and it was finally decided to have

ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY PROFESSORS MEET TONIGHT

The Kentucky chapter of the Association of University Professors has arranged for a meeting to which all members of the faculty are invited at the University Cafeteria at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon. Supper will be served and a program will follow at 6:30 o'clock.

The program will consist of a talk by Professor Ezra Gillis, registrar, on, "How the Students in the University Distribute their Electives." Miss Elma Poole, graduate fellow in training course for registrars, will speak on "The Teaching Load at the University of Kentucky."

Y. W. C. A. NOTES
The Y. W. will hold its regular meeting Sunday night at 6:30 o'clock at Patterson Hall. Only the seniors on the cabinet will meet Tuesday night. They will act as the nomination committee for officers for the coming year. Elections will be held at a meeting of all women students Thursday afternoon, March 26.

A meeting of the advisory board will be held at 4 o'clock at the home of Mrs. L. L. Dantzer, Nicholasville Pike, Wednesday afternoon. This will be the last meeting of the old advisory board.

At the meeting of the Y. W. last Sunday night a very interesting program was given. Talks were made by representatives who have attended conventions at Blue Ridge in the last two years. Some of the things discussed were Recreation, Inspiration and description of Blue Ridge. Plans which were made by the program committee which met in February at Brenau College, Gainesville, Ga., for the next Blue Ridge convention to be held June 5-15, were discussed.

RAVINGS OF A PESSIMIST

Any half-witted person—even a Ph.D.—can readily understand that all human action is, beyond a doubt, caused by pure selfishness. The motive behind all so-called charitable deeds is a desire for self-satisfaction.

The Americans have discovered that Nurni—the Flying Finn—has broken five of the most fundamental, orthodox, and time-honored training rules. Therefore all his records are to be annulled in this country.

Descartes said—"Je pense, donc je suis." A woman would have said—"Je parle, donc je suis." (Note—For Latin equivalent see Weber's History of Philosophy. Page reference? We don't remember. Look that up yourself.) What do you expect for a nickel?

Don't distrust your judgment or literary taste if you find that your favorite author, writer or poet seems slow in making any headway. Just remember that Europe had to discover our greatest trio for us—Poe, Whitman, and Twain.

Don't be fooled by these people who run around seven days in every week with their faces covered in smiles. They labor under the delusion that they are optimists; while, as a matter of fact, they are merely the outstanding group of that great category—the cheerful idiots, harmless but useless.

Our country is a land of liberty—liberty to cast a vote which has no value, since one illiterate yokel can kill your ballot with an equal "right of suffrage." And just think, that's what we fought to make the world safe for. (We'll even be criticized for taking the liberty of ending that sentence with a preposition. For one must remember that a preposition is a bad word to end a sentence with.)

When we want some legal advice we go to a lawyer; some medical advice to a physician, etc. But when we want some political advice, for instance, some advice regarding the qualifications and ability of an office-seeker we go to everybody, from the most illiterate yokel (see note above) to the most learned Ph.D. Then we wonder why in the devil it is that most of our officials turn out to be lying scoundrels and reprobates.

Idiotic Conversations
Where you goin'?
Down to the river to go to sleep.
Sounds fishy—where yuh goin' to sleep down dere?
In de river bed.
What yuh goin' to use for covers?
Sheets of water.
Are they any springs in the bed of the river?
No, but there's plenty of current in it to make it light—the river's a dam good place to sleep in.
Can bank on that?
Yes, you can't get around it.
Well, I's got to run on—gooby, Wavy, wavy!

MISS WAMBAUGH TO MAKE TALKS

Authority on League of Nations to Address Students

Miss Sarah Wambaugh, a well known speaker on current international questions, was in Lexington March 18, 19, 20, on which dates she delivered three interesting addresses, "Making a New World," "Six Years After," and "International Cooperation." These lectures will be given under the auspices of the University of Kentucky in the university auditorium.

Miss Wambaugh is one of the outstanding authorities in America on the work of the League of Nations, in this country—who can speak of its work from the inside. Miss Wambaugh tells her scholarly story with humor and philosophy, as an observer, and not as a propagandist.

Lexington is very fortunate in having the privilege of hearing Miss Wambaugh, and it is hoped that the university students will take advantage of the opportunity of hearing one so prominent and well informed.

JIMMIE DARNELL IS OUTSTANDING AMONG SENIORS

Frankfort Youth Noted For His Oratorical Proclivities

MAJORING IN LAW

Holds Membership in Several Honorary Fraternities

Here's Jimmy Darnell. He may look a bit unnatural because he isn't smoking his pipe, but of course he couldn't have his picture taken with his pipe. Jimmy has had a brilliant and colorful career here.

WHY A GRIDIRON DINNER? The fourth annual Gridiron dinner, given by the Alpha Delta Sigma journalistic fraternity at the Phoenix hotel Monday night, was literally a howling success.

The program itself, a travesty on the mooted questions of the day, was an inspiring challenge. The very absurdity of the presentation was impressive and will keep the subject in mind much longer than a casual mention could.

The value of such meetings as this is inestimable to our university. A score of years ago the University of Kentucky was a house on a hill, with every blind drawn—a model for the nation in isolation.

People began to remember where U. of K. was located. More money and students came into the school; more efficiency went out. Education ceased to be considered a luxury and became an essential.

But that is not enough. We must eliminate all signs of demarcation between. "Oh, that's university theories—this is real life!" We must make a man, every man in the state, know we are not getting hypothetical training, but a foresight of "real life" to an expert degree.

THAT HIGH SCHOOL PEP

Old U. of K. had an exciting experience last week that will keep her from settling back into the old rut for many a day. The high school tournament, with its scores of boys and girls bubbling over with enthusiasm, became an actual contagion on the campus.

Everyone was casually interested in the prospect of the tournament week before last; a more enthusiastic smile greeted the little groups of visitors that swarmed over our lawn and bobbed up in the halls and fraternity houses; a more persistent desire to go to see what it was all about surged up at the sight of those blue and yellow uniforms moving about promiscuously; one longing, lingering backward look was taken and—the crowd deserted the winding path that leads to the C. and P. building and darted into the new gym. The tournament was on!

Wild yells and ceaseless cheering broke the dignified decorum of the second hour, or they would have done so if there had been enough loyalists present to form a decorum to break. Professors raged and coaxed and threatened. They philosophically put on their hats and went down to encourage the young basketers.

Did the university lose the precious moments that were snatched from French verbs and bones and law courts? It would be hard to measure the gain the university received from her direct contact with the fresh, enthusiastic spirits of our visitors. Even freshmen grow stale in the long semester devoid of Thanksgiving or Christmas. The chance to step out of the traces and follow the untroubled high school students was a mental and moral tonic. Not to be repeated? Indeed not, Honorable Professors—not this year!

While we are counting our blessings, we must not forget the example of the gameness, the good sportsmanship and the loyalty of the boys and girls that was displayed at every game. They did not need a cheer leader to encourage the yelling. The spontaneous cheer that marked every play, the enthusiastic recognition that greeted the sight of the coach showed the vivacity and pep that flourishes only in an alive high school. The friendly interest of the teams in each other was also creditable.

The greatest satisfaction we got out of the whole tournament perhaps was the "close-up" of the prospective students for another year. Bright-eyed, mentally alert, physically fit, they surely are a flattering promise for the greatness of old U. of K. "when you and I behind the veil have passed." The university always extends a cordial welcome to the new students, but she will throw her doors wide to these new friends that have so charmed her with their personality and sportsmanship.

freshman year. This league is composed of the University of Virginia, Vanderbilt, John Hopkins, the University of North Carolina, Sewanee, and the Universities of Alabama, Georgia and Kentucky.

Jimmy's sophomore year was even more illustrious than the preceding year. Early in the semester he and five other university men organized the Speakers' Bureau. The purpose of this organization is to put the university before the people of the state at all times. Its members represent the university and are ever ready to speak before the different clubs and organizations of Kentucky.

In his second year he again represented his university in the Southern Oratorical League which met at John Hopkins. He was awarded $50 and was distinguished by being chosen president of the League for 1924. He was elected to the Y. M. C. A. cabinet and was pledged to Mystic Thirteen, honorary fraternity of junior men of the university. He established himself as an actor with his part in "Lady Windemere's Fan," the annual Stroller offering for 1923.

Jimmy was Junior Class orator and at the "tree-planting" he acquitted himself nobly. He was elected one of the four student members of the advisory board of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet and took part in "Seventeen" the annual Stroller play. A writeup of Darnell's part in this capacity described him as "Mr. Baxter with a slight bit of rotundity." He was one of the ten men chosen by Lamp and Cross, senior men's honorary, on last Arbor Day. Jimmy has now come to his last year in college. He is president of most everything to which he belongs. Perhaps people who have never been president of things can hardly realize Jimmy's heavy burden of responsibility. You know, the president gets blamed for everything. Look at poor Cal Coolidge.

Looking back over Darnell's long list of honors and achievements, we wonder how he ever did it all. "Some, thing attempted, something done, has certainly characterized his college career and we think he has indeed "earned a night's repose."

THE FLAME THAT FIRES

COLLEGE athletic teams illustrate forcibly one truth—men achieve by inspiration. The bleachers' cry of "Hold 'em! Hold 'em!" has kept many a goal line uncrossed. "Touch-down! Touchdown!" has scored countless victories.

In an engineering organization like Westinghouse, this inspiration comes from engineering executives—men who correlate, organize, administer, and inspire. They are engineers first, but engineers with the power to enlist the best of other men.

Many derived their own first inspiration from the Founder, George Westinghouse himself. He took a contract for electrifying the New Haven Railroad, for example, before the apparatus had even been designed.

"Now I've dropped you into the middle of the pond," he told his engineers. "It's up to you to swim out."

There was plenty of swimming—but Westinghouse knew his swimmers.

As has been true since organization began, the demand for men who can develop into leaders is far, far short of the supply. Westinghouse welcomes them. All industry welcomes them. Organizations lead because men, in turn, lead them.

This advertisement is seventh in a vocational series, outlining the fields for engineering achievement in the Westinghouse organization. A copy of the entire series will be sent to anyone requesting it.

Sportsmanship Cup to the Monticello Team

The Manual boys and the Georgetown girls were winners of the 7th annual inter-scholastic basketball tournament held at the university last week.

The boys' side of the affair was much harder fought than the girls'. The Manual team from Louisville was the favorite to win the title and after many close shaves they finally puffed through to the finals where they met the Winchester five and disposed of them by the score of 44 to 10, taking home the beautiful silver basketball.

Manual took a great step toward the final goal when they drew the Lexington Senior High school Blue Devils for the first game on Thursday morning and easily disposed of the former champions by the score of 25 to 13. Thursday night the DuPont Manual boys eliminated the London quintet, which had previously defeated the Hazard five by a large score in the morning game. The first round found the Ashland five eliminated by the Pikeville quintet. The Bowling Green aggregation was forced to withdraw after receiving a drubbing by the Owensboro five. Newport easily disposed of Henderson, Horse Cave eliminated the Campsville five and the Winchester boys won a hot contest from Brownsville to advance to the second round. In the other two games of the first round, Frankfort eliminated Almo and Monticello took the long end of the count from Carrollton.

Pikeville and Manual met early in the morning to start the second round of the tournament.

The "wonder team," the Georgetown girls, took things as they came in the tournament and fought their way to the state title Saturday afternoon. The Memorial girls opposed the Buffalettes.

No team sent here by the seventeen districts could stop the charges of the five from the eighth district. The final game with the Memorial quintet was won by the Scott county lassies by the score of 40 to 0.

The Reidland, Flemingsburg, LaGrange, Owensboro, Scottsville, Taylor county High, Paintsville, Hazard and Winchester girls went out of the play in the first round. Withstanding the first round and then only to be eliminated in the second round of going, were the Henderson, Ashland, Williamsburg, and Science Hill girls. The Georgetown girls played Owensboro Springs and eliminated them in the semi-finals. Battling to attain the honor of meeting the Scott county five and to receive the handsome loving cup for the runners up, the Memorial girls from Hazardville eliminated Lawrenceburg hardy feminine team and advanced to

CHANGE KICKOFF TO 40-YARD LINE

Make Decision on Rules Involving Blocked Kicks

Return of the kickoff to the kicker's 40-yard line; a change in the rules involving blocked kicks behind the line of scrimmage; a new interpretation of the scrimmage line and the refusal of the rules committee to consider the return of the kicking tee were the major decisions reached by the intercollegiate football rules committee in New York last Saturday.

In tribute to Walter Camp, noted Yale football expert and critic, who died Saturday, the rule makers adjourned their meeting. They will reconvene later to resume consideration of the numerous rule changes which have been suggested.

The rule putting the kickoff back to the 40-yard line was expected, due to the unanimous endorsement by the Football Coaches Association. It was thought that the kicking tee would be restored, but the committee ruled differently.

The change involving blocked kicks provides that if the ball does not cross the line of scrimmage, it shall belong to the side recovering the ball. If, however, the kicking side recovers, it shall count as another down. Last year, if a blocked kick was recovered by the kicker's side it went as a first down. All partly blocked kicks which cross the line of scrimmage will rank just as if the ball had not been touched.

The final round where they were easily beaten. The Winchester boys took a thriller from Monticello in advancing to the finals with Manual.

The large silver basketballs were presented to Manual and Georgetown on behalf of the university by S. A. "Daddy" Boles, athletic director. To the Science Hill girls and the Monticello boys went the cups designating them as having shown the best sportsmanship during the tournament play. The Memorial girls' team and the Winchester high school five received silver loving cups for being the runners up in the tourney.

An individual trophy was given to J. Ramsey of Pikeville and a second trophy to McCord of Winchester, as having shown the best individual sportsmanship during the play. The State Y. M. C. A. presented the Pikeville boys with a handsome trophy for showing the best sportsmanship on and off the floor during the tourney. An individual "M" trophy was given to McLane of Newport.

50 MEN ANSWER SECOND CALL FOR SPRING FOOTBALL

Many Freshmen of Last Year's Eleven Turn Out

HUGHES IS IN FOLD

Snappy Signal Drill is Dished Out to the Wildcats

If one has happened to drop around Stoll Field any afternoon the past week—perhaps he has been reminded of the days of '65, for fifty of the huskiest, roughest and readiest warriors in blue have been charging up and down the field in their workouts in the afternoons in preparation for one of the hardest schedules ever to face a Wildcat team.

These fifty men, some fit, some unfit, some new, some old, responded to the call of Coach Fred J. Murphy for the first real spring football practice last Monday afternoon.

Nearly a month ago the coach issued a call for spring practice, but only a few answered it and after laboring patiently for two weeks, he gave it up in disgust and decided to put on a vigorous campaign for candidates, which resulted in Monday afternoon's turnout.

On the field of battle were Coaches Murphy and Applegran, of the varsity, Coaches Ecklund and Marsh of the freshman squad, and trainer Frank Mann. In fact the whole of the coaching staff is on the job to see just what the boys who tie up with Chicago on October 3 look like nearly eight months before the game. To make an assertion of "eight months" seems like a pretty long time going to be pulled off or something similar, because of the difference between the starting date of practice and the date of the game, but Murphy reasons that it is going to take a long, long while to make the Wildcats think they are going to beat Stag's Maroons all over the Municipal stadium, and to get them in condition to administer the drubbing.

The daily program for the past week has been a snappy drill lasting about two hours in the afternoon and some of it has already shown the effects of the drills.

Numbered among those who showed their faces were varsity men and freshmen of last season and some entirely new men. Murphy divided his squad into three teams Monday and sent each to work. Mooney, freshman letter man last year, headed one bunch in calling signals; Jenkins, another freshman, barked the numbers for another; and Kirkendall, a third frosh, sang out the signals for the third team.

Among the most prominent of last year's players on the field were "Cannon" Rice, "Turkey" Hughes, whose return to a Wildcat football uniform delighted those who understood the significance of the act. Al Kirwan, Curtis Sawyer, Leonard Tracy, Mayo Anderson, Frank Smith, Johnny Evans, fleet broken field runner, also made his debut.

The aggregation that turned out was pleasing to the mentor, who is strong for intensive spring practice as the fundamental for an eleven which faces as hard a schedule as the Wildcats face in the fall.

MISS WAMBAUGH TO BE INITIATED

Theta Sigma Phi is Authorized to Initiate Journalist

The local chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, by special dispensation of the National Governing Council, has the privilege of initiating Miss Sarah Wambaugh, well known journalist and lecturer, yesterday at the home of Miss Marjorie McLaughlin on East Maxwell street.

Miss Wambaugh, in recognition of her service as a member of the Secretariat of the League of Nations, was pledged to become a member of the order at Alpha Delta Chapter at Grinnell College, Grinnell, Iowa. Unfortunately other demands took her away before her initiation and upon learning that she would be in Lexington at this time, the national president of the organization wired the local chapter permission to receive her into membership. Rumors Say Tournament Games Were Not Properly Refereed, Umpired; All-Tournament Team Is Selected

MANUAL -- DEVILS HAVE MONOPOLY

Two Boys' Tourneys For Future Years Are Advocated

That certain games in the seventh annual basketball tournament were not properly refereed and umpired has been frequently commented upon since the tournament of last week.

Some insist that Manual received the best end of the refereeing in nearly every game. Pikeville was considered by many to have the better team when they played Manual on Friday morning and they insist that if the game should be played over today Pikeville would win.

Just at the close of the game, when the score was tied, Jeffries, star Manual forward, was awarded two free shots at the basket. The rule states that before a player may attempt to shoot two fouls, time out must be called by the referee. Sideline observers say they did not hear him blow his whistle and therefore Jeffries did not hesitate in looping the two free shots, the last just a second before the final gun was sounded, to win the game for the Crimsons.

There has also been objection to the supposed monopoly on the championship title of the state by the Louisville Manual and the Lexington Blue Devil teams. The latter team has won the championship four times out of seven and Manual has won it the remaining three times. It will not be long until the small teams, in the smaller districts, will be afraid to come to Lexington to compete, for it is a known fact that it is an exception for a small school which has possibly forty to a hundred boys to draw from, to compete successfully with an institution which has three or four hundred or even a thousand male students from which to pick athletes.

Basketball enthusiasts of this department of the Kernel advocate two tournaments for future years—one to be played by the winners of towns up to, say, 10,000 people, and one for teams which come from cities having a population of more than 10,000.

Some may say that a small school has as good a chance to win as does a large school, and they may cite Centre College as an example. But they contend that Centre did defeat Harvard, and Georgia, and all the leading colleges of the south during the four years of her meteoric rise to football fame, but she was one in a thousand—an exception which spotted her stars two and three years before they even went to Centre College.

Of course, the two tournament idea is only a suggestion, but it seems that this form of play would cost the universities little more than a regular tournament and it would give smaller schools more incentive for coming to Lexington to demonstrate how they won their district championships.

The tournament, in general, was a success this year. The attendance was far better than that of previous years, in contrast with the popular thought that the meet was "killed" when the Blue Devils were eliminated from the competition by the Manual five in the first game. On the last night the attendance was more than saw a Kentucky Wildcat contest in the gymnasium during the past basketball season, which speaks well for the growing net game in Kentucky.

The Su-Ky Circle, promoters of the athletic spirit in the university, conducted a confectionery in the east end of the basketball building during the tourney and reports say that they did a better deal of good toward making the three days what they should have been. All in all it was a successful tournament, but it is hoped that some other team than Manual or the Blue Devils may win the cup next year.

ALPHA SIGS AND TRIANGLES WIN

Pan-Hellenic and Non Pan-Hellenic Races Finished

The Alpha Sigma Phi and the Tri-angel fraternities were awarded the victors' trophies by the Athletic Council for winning first places in their respective basketball leagues, which were disbanded at the end of last week. The Alpha Sigs won in the Pan-Hellenic League and the Tri-angles won in the Non Pan-Hellenic league. The former team won every game it played, while the latter team dropped only one contest.

The S. A. E. quintet was runner-up in the Pan league, a margin of only one game separating the two teams. The winner in the Class League is undecided thus far, as the sophomores and seniors are tied for first place. This tie will be broken some time next week in a game which will be scheduled by Daddy Boles in the near future.

CLASS RUNNERS MEET IN APRIL

Track Tournament Will Give Line on Varsity Material

An inter-fraternity and inter-class track meet will be held at the university April 2 and 3. The points a man makes in any event at this meet will count for his class and also for his fraternity, if he is a member of a fraternity. This will give all the men in school an opportunity to participate and it will be a novel affair by reason of the dual rivalry created by the plan.

Practically every fraternity will organize and send teams to the tournament, and as many lodges have strong men on the cinder paths, a lively meet should result.

Create an Estate Today If you were offered a credit of a few thousand dollars, to be paid to your family at your death, or to yourself 20 years hence, should you be alive, and in consideration of that credit you pay a minimum annual interest, on that sum for 20 years, you would consider it an easy way of securing an estate—an opportunity of providing yourself and dear ones against possible want. You would not hesitate a moment to grasp it. That's Just What Insurance Amounts To! Why not insurance now, when you're in health. It will sometimes be too late. CAST IS EXCELLENT

Is Fifth and Final Production of Subscription Season

The cast for the Romany production "The Enchanted Cottage," by Arthur Wing Pinero, has been completed and the first performance will begin the week of March 30. This will be the fifth production this year and will terminate the plays of the subscription season.

Oskar Hambleton, well known to Romany enthusiasts, will play the part of Oliver Bashforth. Miss Margaret Semmes, of Old Kentucky, who has had experience with the Sargent School of New York, will play the part of Bashforth's mother, Mrs. Smallwood. Churchill Newcomb, managing editor of "The Chase," will take the part of Major Murray Hillgrove. Miss Violet Young, who is well known by her frequent appearance in local dramatic productions, will play the part of Laura Pennington. Miss Anne Callihan will take the part of Mrs. Minett and Freddy Jackson, dramatic critic of the Lexington Leader, will take the part of the Reverend Charles Corcellis. Two minor parts have not yet been assigned.

In "The Enchanted Cottage" we see Pinero in a new light. Here we lose the author of the problem play and in his stead we have the writer of a charming romantic comedy which, in its quaintness and whimsicality presents a likeness to Barry.

A further review of the play will be made in next week's issue of the Kernel.

MILITARY STAFF TO BE ENLARGED

Large Number Enrolled Necessitates Expansion

Colonel H. P. Hobbs, head of the department of Military Science, made the announcement last Saturday that efforts are being made to enlarge the staff of the department at the university. Application is being made for another commissioned officer and one non-commissioned officer, due to the large number of cadets enrolled and the rapid increase in enrollment each year.

There are now nearly 800 cadets in the Military department, while next year's enrollment is expected to be 1,000, if the increase is in proportion to that of the last two years.

Captain John J. Bethurum will complete his service on the campus of the university at the end of this semester. Captain Bethurum is now due for foreign service, after four years with the Kentucky R. O. T. C. First Lieutenant Marvin W. Marsh has been ordered to report to the infantry school at Fort Benning, Ga., at the close of this semester.

Master Sergeant Guy McGehan will be retired May 15, after 30 years service in the Army. Sergeant McGehan served as captain in the 151st Infantry for two years during the World War, as second lieutenant in the First Indiana Infantry for one year, and because of this service will be retired with pay and allowances of a warrant officer. Sergeant McGehan is now employed by the university as a store keeper for the department of Military Science and Tactics, and will continue in that position in addition to his duties on the staff.

LEXINGTON PLANS A BANNER YEAR

McLaughlin, McFerrin,
Brown, Innis, New Officers

The wisdom and foresight of the members of the Lexington Alumni club in the election of their officers last Saturday, has made it possible for that club to look forward to a year of growth and increased influence.

Miss Marguerite McLaughlin '03, ever active alumna and booster of the university, was elected president. Much of the success of the Homecoming dance was due to her usual untiring efforts, as has been the case in many other undertakings of the club, the Association and the university. As instructor in journalism, she has presented the university to her students in a way that has had an indelible influence on the attitude of the state toward this institution.

W. Viley McFerran '20, the new vice-president, has been a regular attendant at the monthly luncheons and the athletic contests and has always shown a keen interest in matters affecting the welfare of "Old U. of K." Mr. McFerran is a prominent insurance man with offices in the Fayette Bank building. He received notice yesterday of his appointment as commander of the Kentucky division of the Sons of Confederate Veterans, to succeed the late Malcolm H. Crump, of Bowling Green.

W. C. Brown '20, who was elected secretary, has been an ever-loyal member of the Association and is an enthusiastic supporter of all phases of the program of this school. He is owner of the E. B. Allender Transfer Company, engaged in local and long distance hauling.

Miss Nancy Innis, life member of the Association, has been a leader in the Lexington club and the Association since she became an alumna of the university. She is a planner and an executor and the club should certainly move forward in a financial way with her as treasurer. Her success as a team leader in the membership contest of 1920 would alone qualify her for this position. Miss Innis is a teacher in the Lincoln School of Lexington; she has inspired and given a vision of higher education to many of the young lives in this school.

Other officers elected by the Lexington Club were Viley McFerran, vice-president; W. C. Brown, secretary; Miss Nancy Innis, treasurer.

INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE TO MEET APRIL 29-MAY 2

H. S. Literary and Track Tournaments Will be Held

FIRST MEET IN 1915

Preparations are Begun for Best Meet Ever Held

If present indications are to be used as a guide, the coming Kentucky Interscholastic League tournament will eclipse all tournaments of previous years. The tournament, under the direction of the University of Kentucky, will be held in Lexington April 29, 30 and May 1 and 2. The meet consists of track, declamation, oratory, debate, music, journalistic and essay contests.

All contests, except the track meet, will be in charge of Professor L. L. Dantzer, head of the department of English, assisted by Miss Cella Taylor, secretary of the University Extension.

The Interscholastic League was formed in 1915 under the direction of Dr. N. L. Anderson, who was in charge of physical education at the university at that time. He conceived the idea of a state high school track meet. The attendance was encouraging and many high schools sent their best athletes.

The university will act as host and will furnish meals in the University Cafeteria for members of the teams and the coaches. Each contestant is given a meal ticket for the time he are planned by the department of Home Economics.

The preliminaries in debate, oratory, etc., have been going on this month throughout the state with approximately 200 contestants entered. According to Miss Taylor, all district finals will close before April 22, in accordance with the published rules of the League.

According to "Daddy" Boles and Coach Applegan, there is no advanced information available for the track division of the tournament. Applegan stated that due to the fact that no indoor track meets are held by the high schools, there is no way of obtaining information concerning the contestants.

Wednesday and Thursday, April 29 and 30, preliminaries for debate, oratory, etc., will be held on the campus at places to be announced later, and the finals will be held on May 1.

Friday and Saturday, May 1 and 2, the preliminaries and finals in track will be held.

A new department has been added this year, the music contest, and it should assume a prominent place in the tournament. Orchestra, band, individual playing and singing will be part of the contest.

A Journalism contest occupies a very conspicuous place in the tournament and will call forth many contestants. This department consists of exhibitions of high school papers, weekly or monthly publications.

MOTHER'S DAY WILL BE OBSERVED MAY 2

Women Students Plan Novel Celebration

Tentative arrangements have been made for a novel celebration of Mother's Day on the University of Kentucky campus. The plan is to invite the mothers of the women students to visit the university on Friday, May 2.

Many entertainments are being planned in their honor. At 2:30 Saturday afternoon, the mothers will be taken for a drive over the campus, and will be shown the principal points of interest; later tea will be served at the President's home, and Doctor McVey will address the visitors. They will then be entertained in the different sorority houses and residence halls. Sunday afternoon, vesper services, under the direction of Professor Carl Lampert, will be held in the Maxwell street Presbyterian Church. These plans are under consideration and definite arrangements will be announced later.

Speaks of "Three Generations in Education"

Dr. A. E. Winship, dean of Educational Editors in America, and one of the oldest men in education in this country, spoke to the students of the university in the Education Building on Wednesday evening of last week at 8 o'clock.

The subject of the address was "Three Generations in Education." Dr. Winship traced many interesting changes in education and outlined the lives of the foremost contributors. Among these were Horace Mann, the creator of administrative supervision and agitator of the training of teachers at the expense of the public; Henry Barnard, first commissioner of Education; Frances W. Parker, who deserves the credit of the advancement of professional education; and many others.

Dr. Winship stressed the importance of realizing that we are on the eve of a universe of education and the duty lying in this realization.

LAW JOURNAL OFFICERS ELECTED FOR 1925-26

H. H. Grooms has been chosen editor-in-chief of the Kentucky Law Journal for the term of 1925-26. Eugene B. Cochran will occupy the position of business manager and associate editor. Both men are juniors in the college of Law.

The Kentucky Law Journal is the official publication of the Kentucky Bar Association. Members of the Bar and the faculty of the college of Law and students of the Journal staff are the principal contributors. This publication contains many valuable articles on various legal subjects.

The May issue will contain one of particular interest: "Unwarranted Searches and Seizures," by Chief Justice Flen D. Sampson.
