They Have Earned Their "L" For Loyalty

Published below is the final list of contributors to the 1954-'55 Loyalty Fund drive. We are deeply grateful to these participants, and hope that next year we may add YOUR name—AND YOURS—AND YOURS!

At the annual alumni meeting on May 28th we will bring before the membership a new plan of action. Whether it will be enthusiastically received, and whether it will work, will depend on YOU.

Come to that meeting, give us the green light on a fund-raising program which will enable YOUR association to come out of the doldrums and to take its place among the really powerful alumni groups at other Universities—associations which are making their influence felt in the furtherance of the best interests of the institutions which they represent.

Shall The Alumni Association Go Forward?

YOU WILL DECIDE ON MAY 28TH

The February issue of the Kentucky ALUMNUS carried a detailed account of a plan which will be presented to the voting membership of the Alumni Association on May 28th (Alumni Day), comprising a more comprehensive fund-raising program for the future—a program which will provide for expansion of your Association and the opportunity to make larger and more concrete contributions to Alma Mater.

It is the sincere hope of your Alumni executive board that you read the initial story carefully, and that you will familiarize yourself with the plan and come to the meeting on May 28th fully prepared to vote.

Your editor promised you in the original announcement in February that the May ALUMNUS would carry a story in which we would attempt to outline for you the methods for conducting an annual fund-raising campaign, the uses to which your contributions would be put and some of the projects which we hope to sponsor in the future.

Campaign Plans

First, we will brief you on the plan for such a campaign, and our reasons for believing that we have not begun to tap our alumni resources.

If you, the voting alumni, place your stamp of approval on the project, the new program will be initiated in the spring of 1956.

The initial kick-off will be a mail announcement, sent out to all graduates and former students of UK for whom we have good addresses, and possibly will contain a card specifying to what uses the money will be put, such as: general operational expenses, the Loyalty Fund (scholarships), and specific projects undertaken each year or over a period of years, as recommended by the Alumni executive board under advisement with the Kentucky Research Foundation.

We are including general operational expenses in our future financial drives with the ultimate purpose of relieving the University of the burden of subsidizing, even partially, the Alumni Association, and in the belief that we will never realize our potential value to the University until we can become financially independent.

We will always include the Loyalty Fund, which supports the alumni scholarships, in every financial drive which we conduct, and, in addition, we will add specific projects to our fund-raising campaign which will further the best interests of the University. It may be a professorship, an alumni building, laboratory equipment, research, or a dozen other projects which need help.

What Others Are Doing

Let's make a few comparisons. In 1953 the UK Alumni Loyalty Fund totaled $4,327.50. Centre College at the same time was collecting a total of $25,300; Georgia Tech, $57,790; the University of Louisville, $42,414.76; the University of North Carolina, $302,711.22; Vanderbilt, $239,085.44; Tulane, $103,868.86, and V. P. I., $70,132.21, to name a few.

There has been nothing to indicate that Kentucky alumni are less well able to support their institution than alumni of schools of comparable size or smaller.

We've Come Of Age

We who administer the affairs of your Alumni Association believe that UK alumni have come of age, and that they are ready to support their alma mater in more substantial terms than ever before.

Among the outstanding national and state leaders in this country today are the men and women who hold degrees from the University of Kentucky. Many of them in the past have had the foresight, the vision and the appreciation to manifest through financial contributions their belief in and loyalty to the University. But not enough of us have participated to make an appreciable sum.

Each of us is obligated to a lifetime of loyalty and gratitude for the opportunities the commonwealth, through the University, afforded us as undergraduates, and only through each of us giving annually, according to our means, will the Alumni Association become a factor in strengthening the program of the University of Kentucky.

THE KENTUCKY ALUMNUS

V. L. Couch To Speak At Alumni Banquet

'30 Graduate Will Make May Address

Virgil L. Couch, '30, director of the Industry Office of the Federal Civil Defense Administration, at Battle Creek, Mich., will be the speaker at the Alumni Association's reunion banquet to be held Saturday night, May 28th, during Commencement week-end.

A member of the class which will celebrate its Silver Anniversary this May, Mr. Couch is a native of Princeton, Ky., and was graduated from UK's College of Commerce. He also did graduate work at his Alma Mater in the field of psychology, training and personnel management.

He began his career in government in 1935 after five years experience as an executive in private industry. He is an expert in Public Administration and is a nationally recognized leader in the fields of training, personnel administration and management.

Mr. Couch has had extensive experience in Civil Defense, having served as director of the National Civil Defense College, director of the Warden Service, director of Field Exercises for Atomic Test Operations, executive officer of the Training and Education Office, director of Personnel and deputy assistant administrator of Management. Before his Civil Defense career he was director of personnel for the Economic Cooperation Administration (Marshall Plan), and director of personnel and labor relations for the Farmers Home Administration and the Farm Security Administration. In March and April of 1953 he was given a leave of absence to serve as an expert and consultant to the Venezuelan government on problems of public administration.

His many assignments in civil defense have given him the name of "Mr. Civil Defense."

Mr. Couch has not only been a leader in his professional fields, he has been active in civic affairs in his home community of Arlington county, Virginia, and has been active in bringing about many improvements in management in the local government there.

His wife is the former Miss Violet Mae Showers of Tower City, Pa., and he has one son, John Lee, 15 years old.

As an undergraduate at UK he was president of the YMCA, president of Alpha Tau Omega, president of Alpha Delta Sigma and recipient of its national honor award for outstanding work in advertising, and vice president of Delta Sigma Pi. He was editor-in-chief of the Kentuckian, and first chief announcer for the UK radio studios. He also served as student pastor of the First Methodist Church in Lexington, was president of the Pitkin Club and advertising manager of the Kernel, among many other activities.

V. L. Couch '30

DORMITORY DEDICATION

Immediately following the alumni brunch on May 28th, which will be held in the new men's residence hall on Rose St., there will be held the annual meeting of the Alumni Association and a brief program dedicating the new residence hall.

President H. L. Donovan, '14, will give a short resume of the need for and purpose of the building, which will be followed by the dedication.

ALL ALUMNI ARE INVITED TO BE PRESENT

Reunion Week-End Plans Progress

Many Classes Are Planning Parties

When alumni return to the campus May 28th for the first UK week-end reunion in the history of the institution, several classes will hold private parties.

As announced in the February ALUMNUS, a change in reunion dates will bring alumni back on Saturday, May 28th for the first of a three-day reunion week-end, culminating at 10 a.m. Monday morning with the annual commencement exercises.

The program will open with registration of all returning alumni Saturday morning from 10 a.m. to 12 noon in the Alumni Office, Room 124, Student Union, during which time coffee will be served in the Music Room of the same building. At 12:30 that afternoon the reunion brunch will be served in the new men's residence hall, following which the annual meeting of the Alumni Association will be held. Several important items of business are on the agenda for the annual meeting, and you are urged to be present for this important meeting.

The class of 1907 is planning a dinner meeting on Sunday night, May 29th at seven p.m. at the Lafayette Hotel. The class of 1930 is planning a get-together at the Campbell House following the banquet Saturday night. John Benson, 1930 class president, has appointed Kathleen and Larry Shropshire as local chairmen of arrangements.

The classes of '41, '42, '43 and '44 hope to have a joint function sometime during the week-end, details for which were not completed when the ALUMNUS went to press.

Published here is the schedule of general reunion events for the week-end, and all returnees are urged to fill (Continued on Page 8)

What Do You Know About Your University?

Every student who graduates from the University should be thoroughly familiar with the origin, development and objectives of his Alma Mater. During the time he is on the campus as a student the faculty should acquaint him with the traditions of his college, its achievements and the work that has been accomplished by the distinguished men and women who have taught at the institution, and those alumni who have accomplished great things. We cannot be loyal to anything unless we are well acquainted with it. A student who knows nothing of the history and great work of his Alma Mater is not likely to have much affection for it. Therefore, it is highly desirable that we know a great deal about the record of our University, the people who have made it great and the alumni who have earned our respect and admiration.

In the future I hope that the faculty and staff, our alumni association and our local alumni groups will make it a point to become more familiar with the glorious history we have had during the ninety years of the existence of the University.

Rupp's 25th Anniversary Is Recognized By Fans

Special Program Is Held At Tenn. Game

Kentucky Basketball Coach Adolph F. Rupp was the guest of honor March 5 at the cage clash between his Wildcats and the University of Tennessee, but he never knew it until an hour and a half after the show started.

A standing-room-only crowd of approximately 12,000 fans kept the secret well during the game in order to surprise the famed "Man in the Brown Suit" after the tilt with a stupendous Rupp Silver Anniversary Celebration, marking the climax of his 25th year of coaching at the Bluegrass school.

Highlighting the short but well-organized display of appreciation to Coach Rupp, admiring alumni and friends of the University presented the coach with a shiny new Cadillac automobile and approximately 60 players who lettered under Rupp were introduced, much to his surprise, and seven ex-Wildcats paid tribute to his coaching and moral inspiration as representatives of significant championship teams of the Rupp Era.

The coach also was presented with an attractive, leather-bound book of personal letters from virtually every basketball "K" man whom he had coached during 25 amazingly-successful seasons at Kentucky. Making the presentation was the former student manager Humzy Yessin, who served the Wildcats from 1946 through the 1949 seasons and now is stationed at an Army post in Georgia.

Among the special guests honoring their former coach were three members of his first Wildcat squad of 1931. They were Jake Bronston, now associated with the Atlantic Greyhound Corp. in Charleston, W. Va.; W. Louis McGinnis, a '31 All-Southern Conference selection; and Carey Spicer, captain of the first team and the first All-American under Rupp. All told, the all-star guest roll showed five Rupp All-Americans and 16 All-Conference men as well as six former team captains.

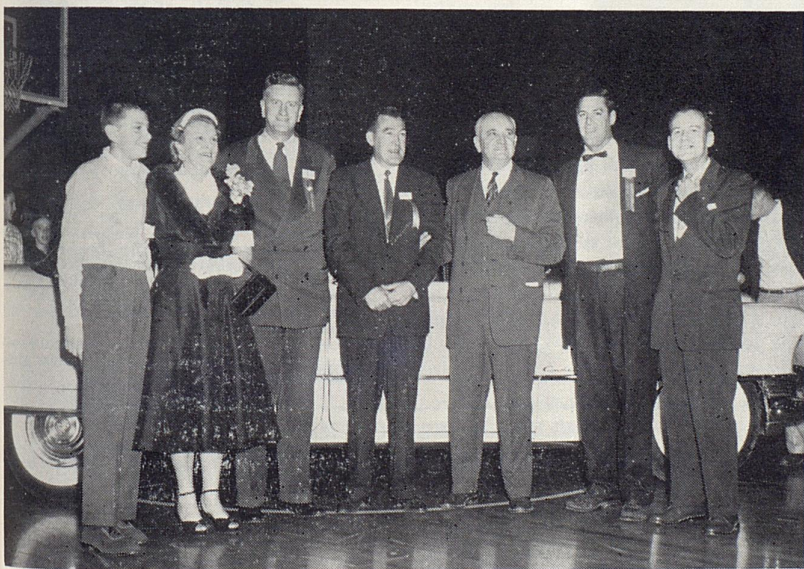

The huge surprise party for the man who has raised Kentucky basketball to the level of world renown in the past quarter-century started several weeks ago when U.K. Athletic Director Bernie A. Shively, who acted as master of ceremonies, wrote to approximately 125 former players who had won letters under Rupp inviting them to return for the secret celebration. Some could not be reached through available addresses and others had to decline due to the great distances they would have to travel or because of conflicting commitments.

The approximately 60 who managed to come assembled secretly in downtown Lexington hotels Friday night and Saturday, gathered Saturday night at the back entrance to the Coliseum and were escorted to seats in a special section at the game as soon as Coach Rupp went to the dressing room after the team's pre-game warmup. Although they were among the most enthusiastic rooters during the contest, the special guests were unnoticed by the Coach until the post-game celebration got underway with their introduction to the crowd.

Following the introductions, brief talks by representative former players stressed not only appreciation for Rupp's coaching ability but also his influence upon his men in guiding their character and morals. The seven speech-making ex-Wildcats included Carey Spicer, captain of Rupp's first team and his first All-American; Dave Lawrence, dean of men at University of Louisville and former All-Conference player, who represented the 1933 squad which captured the first Southeastern Conference title; Layton Rouse, All-Conference man who spoke for the 1938 team which won the Sugar Bowl Tournament for the first time; William Sturgill, who recounted memories connected with the winning of Kentucky's only National Invitation Tournament title in 1945; Wallace (Wah Wah) Jones, former All-America and now Sheriff of University-area Fayette County, who talked for the 1948 club that annexed UK's first NCAA championship and went on to become co-champions of the Olympic Games; and Bill Evans, All-Conference captain of this year's team who concluded his

UK Honors Two Alumni At 90th Birthday Celebration

Jean Ritchie, Tom Scott Recognized

The University of Kentucky celebrated its 90th birthday on February 24th at a "party" in Memorial Coliseum which featured folk music composed by Kentuckians and performed by natives of the state.

Several thousand Kentuckians joined with students, alumni and faculty of the University to take part in the annual Founders Day observance and to honor two alumni of UK, Jean Ritchie and Tom Scott, who have become famous in the respective fields of folk music and composition.

Miss Ritchie, now Mrs. George Pickow, of New York City, is a native of Viper, Ky. Mr. Scott, also of New York is a native of La Grange whose family now lives in Lexington. At the conclusion of the program President H. L. Donovan presented a bronze plaque to Miss Ritchie for her achievements in folk music, and a similar plaque to Mr. Scott's mother, Mrs. C. J. Scott, in the absence of the artist, who, because of the press of business and illness, was unable to attend the program.

Shortly before the presentation of her citation Miss Ritchie sang several folk songs, accompanying herself on the dulcimer. Two major compositions by Scott were performed by UK musical groups.

Dr. William H. Jansen, member of the UK English department faculty and specialist in folklore, narrated the entire program. His narrative emphasized Kentucky's important folk heritage.

The University symphony orchestra, male quartette, University choristers and Tau Sigma dancers were groups participating, and several solos were presented by faculty and students in the department of music.

Dr. A. D. Kirwan was chairman of the Founders Day program, and C. D. Kennard, UK pattern maker designed and made the two plaques.

President Honored

Dr. H. L. Donovan. The University of Kentucky and its president, Dr. H. L. Donovan, were honored by the Newcomen Society in North America at the society's 1955 Kentucky Dinner on April 14. The purposes of the society are to increase an appreciation of American-British traditions and ideals in the arts and sciences and to serve as a link in the friendly relations between the two countries. Dr. Donovan spoke on "The University of Kentucky at the Threshold of Greatness"

DR. T. D. CLARK, '29, TO WRITE NEW BOOK

A New York publisher has contracted with Dr. Clark to produce the book. The project will take him through all the southern states.

Author of "Pills, Petticoats and Plows," "The Rampaging Frontier," and "The Kentucky," Dr. Clark says he will have completed final details on his latest history, "Frontier America," by March 1. Scribner and Sons were scheduled to be in publication at that time.

Dr. Frank Peterson Promoted To Vice Presidential Post

G. K. Kavanaugh, '25, Named Comptroller

Dr. Frank D. Peterson, University of Kentucky comptroller since 1941, has been named vice president for business administration by the Board of Trustees.

The promotion was announced at the April quarterly meeting of the Board, and at the same time George K. Kavanaugh, a UK graduate in the class of 1925, was named comptroller.

Mr. Kavanaugh has served as business manager of Berea College for the past 20 years.

In announcing Dr. Peterson's promotion, President Donovan said that, "The time has come, we believe, when the University should recognize Mr.

Peterson's work and confer upon him the title of vice president (business administration), which is the title commonly used in many of the larger universities of this country."

Dr. Peterson will continue to head the Department of Business Management and Control.

Mr. Kavanaugh had a year of graduate work in economics following his graduation from UK. He has served for a number of years on the board of directors of the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children, and has been active in the state YMCA, the Boy Scouts of America and the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce. He is past president of the Southern Association of College and University Business Officers and the National Buyers Association. He is married and has two daughters.

UK Sets Budget Of $5.4 Million

President H. L. Donovan received the approval of the Board of Trustees at its April quarterly meeting for a budget of $5,429,941 for the 1955-'56 fiscal year, and announced plans for the construction of 178 apartments at Shawneetown for graduate students, faculty and staff members and the razing of the Scott Street barracks.

The budget figure does not include budgets for the Agricultural Experiment Station and Agricultural Extension service, which will be acted upon after Congress approves funds for the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The new budget represents an increase of $358,360 over the current fiscal year. The difference is made up from an accumulated surplus in GI tuitions paid by the Federal government and income from the operation of new residence halls.

The budget includes $4,902,349 for the Division of Colleges, $364,268 for operation of residence halls and $163,324 for debt service costs.

The plans for the Shawneetown construction call for razing of temporary type barracks buildings set up in the area immediately after World War II, and replacing them with 13 modern apartment buildings.

The Scott Street barracks will not be needed when the new men's residence hall is opened as all first-year students presently living there will be required to move into the new dormitory and all other occupants will be encouraged to do so.

When the Scott Street barracks are dismantled the site will be made into a parking lot, according to the University president.

COMMERCE GRADUATE RECEIVES PROMOTION

William P. Murray, '42, graduate from the College of Commerce in the field of business administration, has been promoted to the position of unit manager in the Cleveland district of the Proctor and Gamble's sales department.

Mr. Murray was an administrative officer in the Air Force from 1942 to 1946, where he attained the rank of major and became a squadron commander. He joined the Proctor and Gamble Co. as a salesman in Omaha in 1948.

Rupp Is Honored

collegiate career in that night's game. He was ineligible for the NCAA Tournament because he was playing his fourth year of competition as a graduate student.

Adding a unique twist, the rival coach of the night, Tennessee's Emmett Lowery, was presented with a silver pitcher on behalf of alumni and friends of U.K. Engraved on the pitcher was the inscription: "To the University of Tennessee, A Friendly and Time Honored Athletic Rival. Presented by Friends of the University of Kentucky on the Occasion of the Kentucky-Tennessee Basketball Game and the Silver Anniversary of Coach Adolph F. Rupp as University of Kentucky Basketball Coach. Memorial Coliseum, March 5, 1955, Lexington, Kentucky."

Coach Lowery's acceptance remarks paid tribute to the high plane on which athletic relations between Kentucky and Tennessee are carried and praised the coaching mastery of Coach Rupp, congratulating him on the completion of 25 successful years.

Probably the biggest surprise of the night to the already-flabbergasted Rupp came when the big Cadillac suddenly was rolled out from under the stands and right up to courtside. A gift from an anonymous group of contributors, the car was officially turned over to Coach Rupp when J. B. Faulconer, Lexington sports announcer and student manager of Rupp's 1939 team, presented the keys.

Immediately following the Coliseum ceremonies, Coach Rupp and his family were honored at a reception at the Phoenix Hotel attended by the former lettermen, their wives, U.K. athletic officials and other friends. As mementos of the celebration Coach Rupp and his former players received specially-designed dinner plates bearing a picture of the Coach and the inscription, "Silver Anniversary."

Coach Rupp, who in the past 25 seasons has become the most winning coach in American sports with 517 wins against only 84 defeats for a victory percentage of better than 86 percent, came to the University of Kentucky, May 22, 1930.

A native of Halstead, Kansas (Sept.

Coach A. F. Rupp of Kentucky and Coach Emmett Lowery of Tennessee exchange good wishes following the Kentucky-Tennessee basketball game on March 5th, at the 25th birthday party for Coach Rupp. The anniversary celebration was highlighted by the presentation of a sterling pitcher to the University of Tennessee from friends of the University of Kentucky, in recognition of a "Friendly and Time-Honored Athletic Rivalry."

2, 1901), and graduate of the University of Kansas (1923), he coached high school ball one year at Marshalltown, Iowa, and then at Freeport, Ill., for four seasons before accepting the call to Kentucky.

Rupp's very first team in 1931 gave indications of things to come as it compiled a 15-3 record and went to the finals of the Southern Conference Tournament. Using that season and the Rupp touch as a stepping stone, Kentucky's cage teams have recorded an amazing and virtually unparalleled mark highlighted by the winning of 16 Southeastern Conference Tournament championships, three Sugar Bowl Tournament titles, a National Invitation Tourney first, three NCAA Tournament championships, Olympic Trials Collegiate title, a co-championship of the 1948 Olympic Games and five National Championships as determined by national polls.

The most games lost in a single season after Rupp came on the scene were eight in 1940-41, but even that year was a winning season (17-8) and his teams have never had a season that even came close to ranking as a "losing" one. The average number of losses during the Rupp Era is three and the 1954 Wildcats swept undefeated through a 25-game schedule to become the nation's biggest winning, perfect record team of all time. Tournament invitations in the pre-Rupp years were almost unheard of. Kentucky played in only three post-season tourneys and lost each time. Since 1930, however, Rupp-coached quintets have played in more tournaments and been more successful than any cage team in the history of the game. The national tournament record: 33 wins, 13 defeats in 22 classics. In addition, the Wildcats have participated in 21 conference tournaments and the 1948 Olympic Games to post a record of 61 victories and only eight losses.

W. Hugh Peal, '22, of New York City, became head of the New York law firm of Hardy, Peal and Farrell, last March 1.

Kentucky Leader, UK Benefactor Named 'Kentuckian Of Year'

Paul Garrett Blazer, honorary LL.D., '52, Ashland, Ky., industrialist and civic leader and friend of the University of Kentucky, was named "Kentuckian of the Year" last January by the Kentucky Press Association.

Mr. Blazer was presented the award by KPA Vice President William C. Caywood at a luncheon session of the press association at the Brown Hotel, following his introduction by James T. Norris, editor of the Ashland, Ky., Daily Independent.

Mr. Blazer is chairman of the board of Ashland Oil and Refining Co., which employs more than 4,000 persons and is one of Kentucky's leading industries.

A native of New Boston, Ill., and the son of a weekly newspaper editor, Mr. Blazer came to Kentucky in 1919.

He and his wife, the former Georgia

Stuart Monroe, a member of UK's Board of Trustees, several years ago established the Blazer Lecture Series at the University of Kentucky, which brings to the campus each year outstanding lecturers on history and current events. Mr. and Mrs. Blazer have also been generous contributors to the University's scholarship program and in many other ways have strengthened the University through active support and interest.

Their son, Paul Blazer, Jr., is a graduate of UK and currently a member of the executive committee of the UK Alumni Association. Another son, Stuart, was killed in the Korean War. They have one daughter, Mrs. Doris Blazer Adair.

In 1948 Mr. Blazer was awarded the Sullivan Medallion by the University of Kentucky and in 1952 was given the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

Guy A. Huguelet, '14, of Lexington, chairman of the board of Southeastern Grayhound Lines and chairman of the executive committee of the University of Kentucky Board of Trustees has been reappointed to the post for a four-year term by Gov. Lawrence W. Wetterby. Mr. Huguelet is one of the three alumnus representatives nominated by graduates of the University for membership on the board.

Dr. Ernest J. Nesius, '37, assistant director of Agricultural Extension in charge of Farm and Home Development Program since 1954, has been named associate director of the Agricultural Extension Service of UK, effective last February 1, replacing Dr. Thomson R. Bryant, '08, who will go on a change-of-work basis July 1. In the interim, Mr. Bryant is remaining as professor of agricultural extension.

Dr. Nesius joined the UK agricultural-economics staff upon his graduation, later becoming professor of agricultural economics. From 1951 until late last year he served as economist and food and agricultural administrative officer for the Foreign Operations Administration in Austria and Yugoslavia.

Mr. Bryant became assistant in animal husbandry with the College of Agriculture in 1908. In 1910 he was appointed superintendent of boys' and girls' club work and in 1914 became assistant director of agricultural extension. He held that post until 1951 when he was appointed to the newly-created post of associate director.

Dr. Reitman earned the degree by attending night classes at George Washington during the past several years. Originally of Atlantic City, N. J., Dr. Reitman earned a bachelor of arts degree in biology and chemistry at Transylvania College, Lexington, Ky., in 1941 and a master of science degree in bacteriology at the University of Kentucky in 1948.

Dr. Reitman devotes a large part of his spare time to playing the clarinet and the saxophone with Briggs Phillips' band. He has been a member of the orchestras which played for the Ice Capades and such Broadway musicals as "Hold on to Your Hats" and "On the Town".

Dr. Reitman, his English-born wife, Terry, and their two daughters, Lynn Cheryl, 4, and Marcia Ann, 13 months, reside at Detrick.

Dr. Frank G. Dickey, '42, dean of UK's College of Education, headed the Fayette County Easter Seal campaign this spring.

Corporate Alumnus Program Set Up By General Electric

Employee Gifts Will Be Matched

Trustees of General Electric's Educational and Charitable Fund have announced the establishment of a "Corporate Alumnus Program" within their own organization, the purpose of which is to aid American Colleges and Universities by lifting the institutions' dollar burden, at the same time stimulating increased financial support from alumni and industry.

Effective as of last January 1, 1955, the plan set up by G-E works as follows: for every gift made by a G-E employee to an accredited four-year U.S. college or university at which he has earned a degree, the fund will make a gift to the same school. Within the limits of the plan, it is the intent to match each employee's contributions, up to $1,000 in one year, on a dollar-for-dollar basis. This is in addition to the scholarships, fellowships and grants-in-aid provided by the fund.

108 UK Grads With G-E

A check of engineering and commerce school graduates of UK discloses that 108 alumni of the University are now in General Electric's employ—an impressive list. Of this list 89 are engineering graduates and 23 are commerce graduates. If each of these 108 men would make an annual contribution within his means, the University would profit greatly, and the individual would gain the satisfaction of knowing that his contribution has been doubled by his employer and thus he has made it possible for his Alma Mater to receive a substantial gift.

The employee's contribution, in order to qualify under this program, must be the personal gift of the employee actually paid to the college or university during the calendar year 1955 and prior to Dec. 15 of the current year in cash or securities having a quoted market value and not merely a pledge.

The college or university to qualify must be a four-year course, degree-granting institution, accredited by the appropriate regional or professional accrediting association and located within the United States or its possessions. The University of Kentucky meets all of these qualifications.

Contributions under the program shall be employed by the University to realize or foster the primary needs and objectives of an institution of higher education, namely, of augmenting the required capital and general operating funds, of providing for an expanded student enrollment, of strengthening educational facilities and curricula, and of improving incentives for the highest quality of teaching.

The employee at the time of his contribution shall be in the active, regular employment of the General Electric Company or one of its wholly-owned subsidiaries and shall have at least one year of continuous service in such employment.

Contributions Will Help UK

President H. L. Donovan had high praise for the General Electric Corporate Alumnus Program, and said that such a plan, if entered into by University of Kentucky alumni, would make money available to UK which would be of great assistance in several fields.

It would make it possible for the University to establish more and bigger scholarships, build up library facilities, supplement various research projects, and generally implement the University's development program.

Checks Payable To UK

G-E specifies that all checks to the University be made payable to the institution from which the alumnus was graduated—in this instance—the University of Kentucky. The sum donated by each individual alumnus will be reported to the Corporate Alumnus Program by a duly designated officer of the University, and that sum will be matched, up to $1,000 by G-E.

The Rev. Walter K. Price, '50, of Lexington, for two years pastor of David's Fork Baptist church in Fayette county, has resigned to become minister of the First Baptist church in Danville.

Dean D. V. Terrell, Miss Turner, Marry

Miss Idie Lee Turner and Daniel V. Terrell, dean of the College of Engineering at the University of Kentucky, were united in marriage at a ceremony performed last February at the bride's home, 124 Waller Avenue. The Rev. Donald C. Rose performed the ceremony before members of the two families.

Miss Nelson Turner, the bride's sister, and Claude Terrell, son of the groom were the witnesses.

Mrs. Terrell is a graduate of the University and has been secretary to the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences for many years. The groom is a University graduate also, and served as head of UK's department of Civil Engineering before being named dean of the college in 1946.

Last year Dean Terrell served as president of the American Society of Civil Engineers, the first Kentuckian to be so honored, and presently is serving as consultant to the Governor of California on the construction of a new bridge over San Francisco Bay.

The couple left immediately for California following the ceremony, and after a brief stay there flew to Honolulu, T.H., for a honeymoon in the islands.

They returned to the states early in March and will make their home in Lexington.

"UNCLE BILLY" CRAIG HONORED BY K CLUB

Miss Maguire Paid Tribute By Board

Tribute to Mary J. Maguire, '04, of Lexington, for her long years of service on the Board of Trustees of the State Teachers Retirement System was paid last January when her portrait was unveiled at a board meeting in Frankfort.

N. O. Kimbler, executive secretary of the system said that Miss Maguire's interest "at a time when it was weak and needed friends, and when most of our teachers were indifferent, was a necessary sustaining force in the system."

Dr. Paul Garrett, President Of Western Ky. State, Dies

Was Friend And Former UK Student

Dr. Paul L. Garrett, second president of Western Kentucky State College since it was founded in 1906, died last February 28 at his home on the college campus.

In 1950 Dr. Garrett had suffered a paralytic stroke, and was making rapid strides toward recovery when in May 1954 he fell while walking near his home on the campus and suffered a broken hip. He has been confined to his bed from that time.

Dr. Garrett, 61, succeeded Dr. H. H. Cherry as president of Western in 1937. Under his leadership Western has grown and flourished.

Dr. Garrett was a native of Waddy in Shelby county and after finishing high school there he received three degrees from Georgetown College and did graduate work at the University of Kentucky and the University of Chicago.

His first school work was as principal of Crittenden High School. He later served as principal of Campbellsburg High and during World War I served overseas with the 325th Field Artillery Battalion.

He became principal of New Castle High after his military service and stayed there until 1924 when he was named superintendent of Versailles City Schools, which position he held at the time of his appointment to Western.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Virginia Ryland Ellis Garrett; and two sons, Capt. Paul E. Garrett, with the US Air Force in Westover, Mass., and Ryland Gray Garrett, of Winchester; a sister and three grandchildren.

Funeral services and burial were held in Bowling Green.

$10,000 Grant Goes To UK Entomologist

A member of the University of Kentucky's department of entomology and botany has been awarded a $10,000 grant by the Rockefeller Foundation for a special study on the effects of insecticides and fertilizers upon certain plant-feeding mites, often called "red spiders."

Recipient of the grant and director of the project—covering a two-year period—is Dr. J. G. Dodriguez, assistant entomologist at the UK Agricultural Experiment Station. The department is headed by Prof. Walter A. Price.

Announcement of the new project was made jointly by Dean Elvis J. Stahr, Jr., UK provost, and Dr. Merl Baker, director of the Ky. Research Foundation. The foundation will administer the contract.

Dr. Rodriguez holds both Ph.D. and M.S. degrees from Ohio State University, and the B.S. degree from New Mexico A&M. In addition to publications on nutrition of plant-feeding mites, he has written papers on economic entomology.

Mrs. Paul P. Boyd Is Taken By Death

Mrs. Cleona Belle Matthews Boyd, wife of Dean Emeritus Paul Prentice Boyd of UK's College of Arts and Sciences, died last February at Central Baptist Hospital after a long illness. She was 80 years old.

Beloved by hundreds of former UK students, Mrs. Boyd will be remembered by many undergraduates of the mid-twenties as the indefatigable and charming chaperone for many student social functions.

Boyd Hall, University women's residence hall was named for Mrs. Boyd.

For a number of years she served as a member of the Board of Control of the women's dormitories.

She was a graduate of Park College, Parkville, Mo., and was a native of Ashley, Mo. She had lived in Lexington since 1912 and was a member of the First Presbyterian church.

UK Grad Studies Cosmic Problems

A 1952 graduate of the University of Kentucky, Robert E. McDaniel, of Johnston Station, Miss., who did his undergraduate work at Mississippi State College and came to UK for his M.S. degree in physics, is making a study of the mystery of cosmic rays, the baffling radioactive particles which bombard the earth by millions from an unknown source.

Young McDaniel, now only 27, first conceived the idea of finding the answer to the question whether man can live without harm in space, while he was a patient a few years ago in a college infirmary with rheumatoid fever. Since then, McDaniel has been asking questions.

Now in charge of a cosmic ray research project at White Sands Proving Ground, N. M., young McDaniel is

Alumni Fete Net Squad And Coaches; Grawemeyer Named Captain For '55-56

"Monk" Simons Is Banquet Speaker

Retiring Captain of Kentucky's SEC champion basketball Wildcats, Bill Evans, was doubly honored at the annual alumni banquet last April 4, when he was awarded both the Lederer trophy as the most valuable player chosen by his teammates, and the Albert Benjamin Chandler-WVLK trophy for scholarship, leadership and athletic ability.

The squad, in a pre-banquet balloting, also chose Phil "Cookie" Grawemeyer, of Louisville, for next year's Wildcat basketball captain.

Approximately 350 players and fans attended the banquet, in the ballroom of the Student Union, at which Homer L. Baker, Louisville, vice president of the Alumni Association presided.

Evans became only the second player to win the Chandler award, Frank Ramsey, of Madisonville, last year's co-captain with Cliff Hagan, having earned it for three years prior to this. Hagan received the most valuable player trophy last year.

Principal speaker at the banquet was Claude "Monk" Simons, of New Orleans, La., basketball chairman of the Sugar Bowl, former athletic great at Tulane University, former Transylvania College football and basketball coach and also an alumnus of UK with a master's degree.

Dr. Herman Lee Donovan, UK president, extended greetings and congratulations to the coaches and team from the administration, and presented the Lederer trophy to Evans. Coach Rupp reviewed the season and praised the two graduating seniors, Bill Evans and Gayle Rose.

B. A. Shively, athletic director and treasurer of the UK Alumni Association, presented watches to the graduating seniors from alumni and friends, and announced letters, numerals and the new captain. He also presented the Chandler award.

The UK Troupers, under the direction of Bernard Johnson, gave a floor show, and Gayle Rose offered the invocation.

At the close of the banquet Mr. Baker presented to Coach Rupp 18 silver cups, inscribed with outstanding dates in his 25-year career as UK basketball coach, also from alumni and friends, and read a telegram of congratulations from N. W. Neel, Henderson, president of the Association who was absent because of illness in his family.

The program closed with group singing of "On, On, U. of K."

Collier Under New Six-Year Contract

Blanton L. Collier, successful UK football coach in his first season as head mentor at the University, has been placed under contract through the 1961 season by the board of directors of the UK Athletics Association, an arrangement provided through a five-year extension of the original pact he signed in February 1954.

The coach did not request any change in contract or increased salary, Dr. H. L. Donovan said in announcing the new contractual agreement. The extension, however, was accompanied by an adjustment in salary.

"The new contract represents our gratitude and appreciation for the fine work that Coach Collier has done at the University. He has constantly displayed a splendid attitude and we are happy to regard him in this way," said the University president.

Coach Collier expressed himself as being "extremely grateful for the new contract as it represents to me a vote of confidence by school authorities in what we are trying to do." He added: "My family and I are very happy here and will be pleased to continue our association with the University and the community."

Four graduate fellowships for $1,800 each have been established at UK by the Kentucky Research Foundation. These fellowships will be awarded to UK candidates for the doctorate degree with the selections to be made on the basis of outstanding personal qualities and professional qualities.

The 'Winning Wildcats' Take Sixteenth Southeastern Conference Championship

This was the year that the incomparable cage dynasty built by one Adolph Rupp at the University of Kentucky was supposed to come tumbling down around the ears of the fabulous "Man In The Brown Suit."

Gone from the sensational, perfect-record machine of 1954 were its top stars—All Americans Cliff Hagan and Frank Ramsey plus another great, Lou Tsioropoulos. The shattered remains added up to only one man, Bill Evans, who had been a consistent starter and, before the season opened, he was shifted from his regular forward post to a guard position.

The time appeared ripe for picking on the inimitable Mr. Rupp and his all-conquering Wildcats, who through the 25 years of the Rupp Era had developed into the most consistent winner in the history of the game and could boast of being the only cage outfit ever to win three NCAA titles.

However, the script that Kentucky was supposed to follow in 1954-55 got lost somewhere along the way. The "Desire Kids" from the Bluegrass, despite having to contend with adversity that cost the services of two starters, forged through a danger-laden schedule of consistently high-ranked opposition with only two setbacks (both to unranked Georgia Tech) to mar a repeat performance of their perfect record of a year ago. The final mark of 22 victories and two defeats gave Kentucky its 16th Southeastern Conference title in 22 years and seventh bid to the National Collegiate Championships in which they have fared better than any other team in both number of victories and championships.

The road to success this season was not easy—in fact most observers opined that it was the most difficult ever encountered by a Wildcat squad and classed the results as the best coaching job ever accomplished by the "Maker of Champions," Coach Rupp, in the quarter century he has been at the Kentucky helm.

The re-building Wildcats were figured so lightly by the experts that it shocked the cage world when they rolled to three straight wins against good opposition opening the season and then flexed startling strong muscles in pushing impressively past Utah, the nation's number two team at the time, and defending NCAA champion La Salle on successive nights in the U.K. Invitational Tournament. Closing out the year-end portion of their strong December card, they polished off strong St. Louis to prove their success no fluke.

Just when the top-ranked Wildcats seemed set to roll unchecked to another perfect season despite glaring shortcomings in comparison to other great Kentucky teams of the past, adversity reared its ugly head for the first time. Lowly Georgia Tech, a Southeastern Conference rival who hadn't won a single league tilt the year before and weren't considered much more potent this season, up and surprised the cage world by upsetting the 'Cats, 59-58—and had the audacity to accomplish the minor miracle on the Lexington hardwood where no Kentucky team had tasted defeat in 12 long years and 129 consecutive games.

Winning Wildcats

That shock soon wore off and the Wildcats seemed to have found new life, posting victory after victory despite being in an obvious slump. Their mid-season record was a respectable 12-1 when they moved into Atlanta, Ga., for a return match with Ga. Tech. Everyone expected it would be the Yellow Jackets who would get stung this time, but they engineered another rude shock to topple the cold 'Cats, 65-59. Adversity had struck a second time and those who wondered, "what next?" did not have long to wait.

A couple of days later, starting guard Linville Puckett quit the squad in a dispute over training rules. Senior reserve Gayle Rose moved into the lineup and took up the slack with surprising effectiveness. Without missing a stride, Kentucky notched five more important wins. Then more trouble. In a tight tussel with DePaul at Chicago, six-eight forward Phil Grawemeyer broke his leg and this fourth stroke of misfortune cost the services of a second starter off a club that was not considered strong to start with and definitely lacking in experienced depth. Stepping in to close the breach was sophomore John Brewer, long on desire but short (by five inches at 6-3) on height.

Seemingly weakened beyond survival at a crucial stage of the campaign when they were fighting to edge out three contenders for the Southeastern title they were defending, the "Desire Kids" took up another notch in their belts and seemed to thrive on adversity as they turned back 20th-ranked Vanderbilt, dangerous Auburn, 12-ranked Alabama, and finally arch-rival Tennessee.

Even though the regular season closed in a blaze of glory, the Wildcats could look forward to additional misfortune. In the forthcoming National Collegiate Championships play, they would be forced to operate without the services of a third starter—Capt. Bill Evans. The six-one guard, a straight "A" student, graduated last spring and, although he was eligible to play his third varsity season as a graduate student during the regular schedule, NCAA rules bar post graduates from tournament participation.

Things were so rough that Coach Rupp has had to call for help from the football squad to bolster his depleted, 10-man squad. A pair of griders with outstanding schoolboy cage records, halfback Billy Mitchell and tackle Bill Wheeler, were added to bring team strength up to 12 players for the National Tournament.

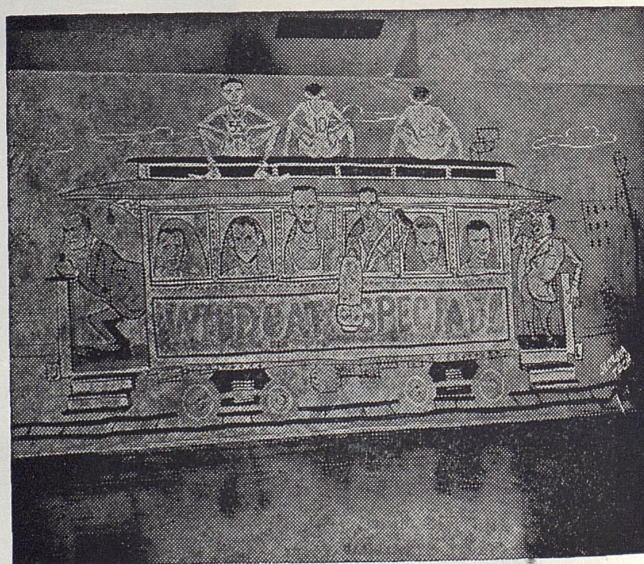

Big Bob Burrow, six-seven junior college transfer imported to fill the pressure-laden shoes of graduated All-America Cliff Hagan, blossomed almost overnight in the midst of Kentucky's late-season troubles from the category of "good" to "sensational" and virtually carried the Wildcats to victory on the broad shoulders of his rugged, 220-pound frame. But even Burrow's tremendous rebounding and clutch scoring was not enough to save the team minus playmaker Evans, two other starters and down to just seven bodies who hadn't seen any appreciable amount of action during the season.

Catfish Display Five SEC Titles

Two victories each by Paul Bollinger and Roger Messick, and their collaboration with Ken Glass to capture the 330-yard medley relay enabled University of Kentucky swimmers to display five titles as a result of their participation in the annual Southeastern Conference championship swim meet last March in the Vanderbilt pool.

Bollinger, a Louisville product, was a double winner for the second year in a row. He repeated in the 220-yard race, in which he hung up a new SEC record last year in Florida, then shifted from the 440 to annex the individual medley, missing the 6-year-old mark in that event by only one second.

Kentucky won more events than any of the four other entrants, but the team title went to Georgia with 100 points. Florida, defending champion, was second with 97. Georgia Tech was third with 71, Kentucky next with 58 and Vanderbilt last with 16.

Bob Hardy And Howie Schnellenberger Named '55 Grid Co-Captains By Cats

Quarterback Bob Hardy and end Howie Schnellenberger, who teamed for the touchdown pass that gave Kentucky its 14-13 victory over Tennessee last November, were elected co-captains of the Wildcat football team for 1955.

Head Coach Blanton Collier announced the selection of Hardy and Schnellenberger following a meeting of squad members. Both will be seniors next fall.

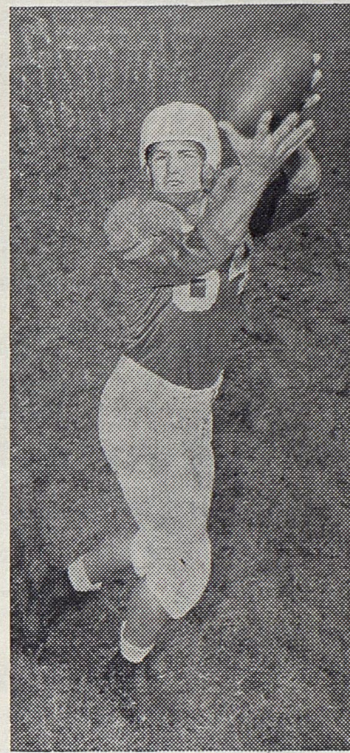

Hardy, a graduate of Paducah Tilghman High, was the Southeastern Conference's leading passer last year, completing 57 of 108 attempts for 87 yards and five touchdowns. Until the final week of the campaign he was the No. 1 total offense performer in the conference but was overtaken by Mississippi's Eagle Day and Auburn's Bobby Freeman, each of whom saw action a week after the Wildcats had ended their season. Hardy was the first SEC player to reach the 1,000-yard mark in rushing and passing last year, winding up with 1,009 yards, 122 coming on the ground.

Schnellenberger, who played his high school football at Louisville Flaget, is considered one of the best pass catchers in the SEC and ranked high in the league statistics all year. He finished third with 19 catches for 254 yards and three touchdowns. Howie stands an even six feet and weighs 195 pounds. He also is rated a good defensive player.

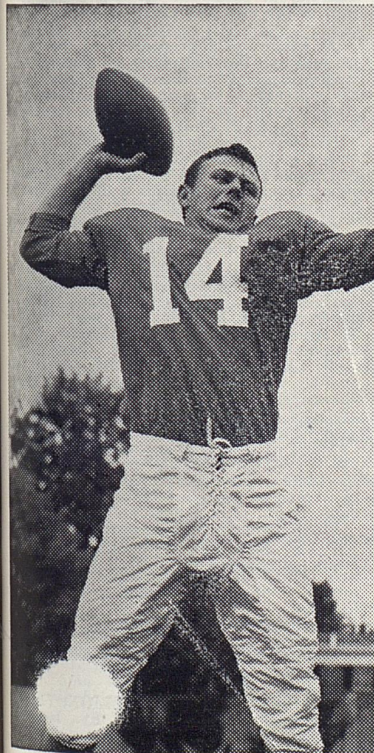

Hardy made the first All-SEC team at quarterback last year while Schnellenberger made the third team. Both received honorable mention for All-America.

Last season, when Co-captains Joe Koch and Pete Kirk both were out with injuries, Hardy acted as co-captain, along with Neil Lowry. Hardy has been drafted by the Philadelphia Eagles.—Lexington Herald, 2-24-55.

Howard Schnellenberger

Julia Montgomery, UK alumna, of Science Hill, Ky., has been appointed head of the Cumberland College business department, at Williamsburg, Ky.
