The only college plan that's rated 'm'.

"M" for mature

Many good life insurance and savings plans are being offered today to college seniors and graduate students, but one stands head and shoulders above the others. It's Kentucky Central Life Insurance Company's University Key Plan.

Here is the best-conceived, most mature solution to the unique life insurance needs of college people. Here is the plan with broader protection that looks realistically to the college graduate's future needs and his increased financial and familial responsibilities.

Here, too, is the plan that takes into consideration the average college student's present modest income and enables him to defer his first-year premium until his business or professional career is well launched.

And, incidentally, don't worry about military exclusions. There aren't any.

This is the mature college life insurance plan, represented only by mature, collegebred life insurance agents and general agents.

Kentucky Central's University Key Plan — the only college life insurance plan rated "M".

Your Kentucky Central representative on campus will be glad to tell you all about it.

SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM—In its attempt to aid all areas of the University, the Alumni Association this year inaugurated an alumni-funded scholar-ship program for members of the University of Kentucky Marching Band. Director of Alumni Affairs Jay Brumfield (left) and 1970 Fund Drive chairman J. Paul Nickell flank Mary Lou Frank, Corydon, Ind., Jean Hutchinson, Warrenville, III., and Richard Summers, Wheeling, W. Va., three of the six recipients of the $500 grants.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION: A TRUE FRIEND

Homecoming, 1970, as with previous homecomings, is a time of remembrance. A time to reflect on days past and prognosticate on days ahead.

For alumni, of this or any other institution, homecoming is visiting the "old school" whether for the first time or the 50th time. Some have left never to return. Others return and serve the University as educators or administrators. All never really leave. All retain some memory; friends made, professors loved (or loathed), shenanigans shared. All arrived to learn and departed to serve, and all who fulfilled desires become alumni.

So it was in June of 1889. Sixteen who would soon become graduates of Kentucky State College assembled, at the urging of President James K. Patterson, to organize the Association of State College Alumni. There were 56 known graduates at that time and the new organization pledged itself to the strengthening of the bonds of friendship among these graduates.

From that meager beginning, the University of Kentucky Alumni Association has grown into an important and functional part of the University community. As Association President Joe Creason told the 1970 graduating class: "Contrary to what some seem to think, our alumni association—now your alumni association—is not a branch country club comprised of . . rah-rah types who sadly wag our heads and mutter, 'What are college kids coming to these days?'"

"Basically, the function of your alumni association is in doing what we can to make this university the quality institution Kentucky and the nation deserves and needs. To that end, your association, . . . carries on . . functions which the University itself might not be able to underwrite."

In 1889, the treasury of the Association of State College Alumni showed a balance of $14.70. In 1970, fund drive chairman J. Paul Nickell ('32) reported direct contributions to the Association of over $107,700. In addition, alumni gave over $29,500 in gifts restricted for academic departments or special projects, and another $94,300 directly to the University and its community colleges. The total contributed, $231,500 from 7,580 alumni, represented a 47.5 per cent increase over the previous year. The basic goal of the giving program in 1971 is $200,000 from 10,000 alumni.

As directed by the Alumni Board of Directors, these contributed monies are distributed in support of various Alumni programs.

The University Marching Band performing today has six members who have recently received $500 Alumni Scholarships. At each of the community colleges, students are attending with funds provided by alumni. Alumni Loyalty Scholarships of $2,800 for a four year period are given to students of high academic standing. Valedictorians at Kentucky high schools receive certificates and pins in recognition of their achievements. Dr. Charles P. Roland, former chairman of the Department of History at Tulane University, holds the Alumni Chair of History, funded by a $33,000 gift from the Alumni Association. Six Great Teaching Awards are presented annually to professors on the main campus and in the community colleges who have distinguished themselves in the classroom.

And the Association supports its own, with presentations of Alumni Service Awards, the development of Alumni Clubs, Alumni publications such as the "Open Door" newsletter and THE KENTUCKY ALUMNUS magazine, and University regional programs.

A glance toward the southeast corner of the intersection of Rose Street and Euclid Avenue will find the Helen G. King Alumni House, erected in 1963 to give alumni an established center on the campus. Contained in the building are all offices and records of the Association.

On the lower level of the King Alumni House, the Association established the Hall of Distinguished Alumni. At present, 127 graduates who through their achievements have brought honor to the University, are themselves honored. On Nov. 6 a banquet in the UK Student Center will acknowledge 19 alumni chosen this year for inclusion in that select group.

Again Mr. Creason: "These are nervous, trying times when the University needs for its friends to stand up and be counted as never before. Not necessarily status quo friends who abhor change, but honest-to-God, true friends who have the courage of their convictions, who believe it isn't necessary to destroy in order to improve, and who believe the University has a role to play as an institution where free exchange of ideas is an integral part of the educational process."

The Alumni Association is such a friend.

LOUIE B. NUNN

Governor of Kentucky

Governor Boosts Wildcat Gridders . . .

Louie B. Nunn, an architect of impressive changes and progress since his inauguration as the 56th Governor of Kentucky, believes strongly that self-reliance, pride and courage are the by-products of intercollegiate athletics.

Chairman of the Board of Trustees at the University of Kentucky, Governor Nunn leads Kentuckians in support of a football program to match the dramatic recent progress which has touched every part of the UK community.

An avid sportsman and spectator, the Governor's scarce moments of relaxation during the Fall are divided among hunting, fishing and football.

Governor Nunn's deep concern for education was reflected in his budget, which contained record appropriations for every level from grade school to vocational schools, colleges and universities.

Governor Nunn, 46, is a native of Barren County. He attended Bowling Green Business University, the University of Cincinnati and the University of Louisville, where he earned a law degree in 1950.

A successful attorney, Governor Nunn has served in both executive and judicial positions. The third Republican this century to be elected Governor of Kentucky, he formerly served as a county judge and city attorney.

President's Letter

Colleges and universities everywhere have undergone sweeping change in recent years. One thing generally unchanged, however, is the nostalgia of Homecoming. It is felt as keenly, I believe, by those of us who have remained on campus as by you who are here infrequently. I speak not just for myself, therefore, but for all of U.K.'s student body, faculty and staff in expressing the wish that today's Homecoming will be an especially pleasant one for all of the visiting alumni and friends who are with us today.

Most of the changes experienced at U.K. in recent years have been for the better. Many of these will be evident as you stroll across campus—extensive physical growth, an array of new facilities, and many more people utilizing them. Other changes are not so apparent but are of equal if not greater importance. Such change, it may be said, involves the quality rather than the size and setting of our academic programs.

But none of the improvements, visible or not, would have been possible without the understanding support of Kentuckians and of many alumni and friends now far removed from Kentucky. We who are charged with the guidance of the University are deeply grateful for this support, and pledge our best effort to keep U.K. firmly on its upward course.

Athletic Director HARRY C. LANCASTER

The University of Kentucky athletic program, with Harry C. Lancaster beginning his second year as director, looks forward to an era of exciting progress. Since the former assistant basketball coach took over as acting athletic director in September 1968 and permanent director three months later, the Wildcat ship of state has sailed smoothly. One interruption was an extended hospital stay for Mr. Lancaster during the spring of 1970, but he bounced back in a courageous manner and resumed full-time duty in mid-summer.

One of the first challenges facing Lancaster during his "acting" tenure was selection of a football coach. He and a screening committee worked hard to come up with unanimous choice John Ray.

Lancaster also has applied his energies in other areas, beefing up the spring sports program by resurfacing the running track and adding bleachers, hiring young Ron Huebner as swim coach and Dick Parsons as baseball coach. The Coliseum has received a new roof and the several improvements have been made to various areas of the football stadium.

A native of Paris, Ky., Lancaster lettered in football, basketball and baseball under Blanton Collier at Paris High. At Georgetown College, he was an all-conference halfback three straight years and two-time captain of both the football and basketball teams. He served as assistant football and basketball coach at Georgetown (1932-33) and Paris High (1933-34), head basketball coach at Bagdad High (1934-36), principal and coach at Gleneyrie High (1936-42) and physical education instructor at UK in 1942. He joined Adolph Rupp's staff as a part-time assistant after being discharged from the Navy in 1946 and was made a full assistant by Rupp in 1948. He was UK baseball coach 17 seasons before relinquishing that post after the 1965 campaign.

AN OPEN LETTER TO YOUTH

... from an Olympic Athlete

(Cliff Cushman, a member of the 1960 U.S. Olympic team and a University of Kansas all-time track great, suffered a stunning disappointment at the 1964 U.S. Olympic Trials. Having finished second in the 400 meter hurdles in 1960 at Rome, he was a top candidate for a gold medal in 1964. But he hit and tripped over a hurdle in the Trials and fell to the track, eliminated from the competition and the Games. When messages of sympathy poured in, Cushman replied with a stirring open letter to the youth of his home town, Grand Forks, N. Dak. In the fall of 1966, Captain Cliff Cushman, USAF, was shot down over Viet Nam and is now listed as missing in action.

Don't feel sorry for me. I feel sorry for some of you!

You may have seen the U.S. Olympic Trials on television September 13. If so, you watched me hit the fifth hurdle, fall and lie on the track in an inglorious heap of skinned elbows, bruised hips, torn knees, and injured pride, unsuccessful in my attempt to make the Olympic team for the second time. In a split second all the many years of training, pain, sweat, blisters and agony of running were simply and irrevocably wiped out.

But I tried! I would much rather fail knowing I had put forth an honest effort than never to have tried at all.

This is not to say that everyone is capable of making the Olympic Team. However, each of you is capable of trying to make your own personal "Olympic Team," whether it be the high school football team, the glee club, the honor roll, or whatever your goal may be. Unless your reach exceeds your grasp, how can you be sure what you can attain? And don't you think there are things better than cigarettes, hot-rod cars, school dropouts, excessive make-up, and duck-tail grease-cuts?

Over 15 years ago I saw a star—first place in the Olympic Games. I literally started to run after it. In 1960 I came within three yards of grabbing it; this year I stumbled, fell and watched it recede four more years away. Certainly, I was very disappointed in falling flat on my face. However, there is nothing I can do about it now but get up, pick the cinders from my wounds, and take one more step followed by one more and one more, until the steps turn into miles and the miles into success.

I know I may never make it. The odds are against me but I have something in my favor -desire and faith. Romans 5:3-5 has always had an inspirational meaning to me in this regard. "... we rejoice in our sufferings, knowing that suffering produces endurance, and endurance produces character, and character produces hope, and hope does not disappoint us . . ." At least I am going to try.

How about you? Would a little extra effort on your part bring up your grade average? Would you have a better chance to make the football team if you stayed an extra 15 minutes after practice and worked on your blocking?

Let me tell you something about yourselves. You are taller and heavier than any past generation in this country. You are spending more money, enjoying more freedom, and driving more cars than ever before, yet many of you are very unhappy. Some of you have never known the satisfaction of doing your best in sports, the joy of excelling in class, the wonderful feeling of completing a job, any job, and looking back on it knowing that you have done your best.

I dare you to have your hair cut and not wilt under the comments of your so-called friends. I dare you to clean up your language. I dare you to honor your mother and father. I dare you to go to church without having to be compelled to go by your parents. I dare you to unselfishly help someone less fortunate than yourself and enjoy the wonderful

I dare you to become physically fit. I dare you to read a book that is not required in school. I dare you to look up at the stars, not down at the mud, and set your sights on one of them that, up to now, you thought was unattainable. There is plenty of room at the top, but no room for anyone to sit down.

Who knows? You may be surprised at what you can achieve with sincere effort. So get up, pick the cinders out of your wounds and take one more step.

I dare you!

Sincerely.

Head Football Coach
JOHN RAY

John Ray, now in his second year as football coach at the University of Kentucky, has become one of the Commonwealth's better-known citizens. His doctrine and philosophy have been spread throughout the state by personal appearances in hamlets and crossroad communities as well as metropolitan areas.

He shocked the football world early in his first season at Kentucky by engineering a 10-9 upset over powerful Ole Miss, but a few glaring weaknesses—notably lack of speed, blocking in the offensive line, and the kicking game—killed Wildcat hopes for a winning season.

A native of South Bend, Ray graduated from South Bend High in June 1944 and was regular center three months later at Notre Dame. After a tour with the Paratroopers, he returned to Notre Dame for spring practice in 1947 and transferred to Olivet College, Mich., where he played three seasons and was a student assistant on the coaching staff of Frank Ham.

Ray received his bachelor's degree in history and then coached at Sturgis and Three Rivers in Michigan before serving four years as an assistant at Detroit. From 1959-63, he was head coach at John Carroll, where he masterminded a very successful program (29 wins and six losses) and set several national records in defense. He left John Carroll in 1964 to become chief defensive assistant to Ara Parseghian, who had moved from Northwestern to Notre Dame. He later was named assistant head coach of the Irish.

A member of the Catholic Church, Ray received his Master's Degree in educational guidance from the University of Michigan. He is married to the former Barbara Fuller of Muncie, Ind. They have four children: Jeff (born in 1954), Kathy (1956), Debra (1958) and Chris (1960).

SCOUTING REPORT

The University of Kentucky will face the third outstanding quarterback in as many weeks when Auburn's Pat Sullivan leads Coach Ralph Jordan's Tigers anto Stoll Field this afternoon.

The Wildcats of John Ray put the halter on Kansas State's Lynn Dickey in a 16-3 upset of the Purple Pride two weeks ago and then shackled Archie Manning in a 20-17 losing effort at Jackson last Saturday. Both Dickey and Manning are being heralded as Heisman Trophy candidates.

Sullivan didn't get much pre-season fanfare, but the junior from Birmingham is changing that in a hurry. He was named Southeast offensive player of the week after the Plainsmen opened with an impressive victory over Southern Mississippi Sept. 19. Sullivan added more stature last Saturday, when he gained more than 300 yards while leading the Tigers to a 36-23 victory over Tennessee. Against the Vols, he completed 17 of 31 passes for 268 yards and ran for 33 more. The previous week, he passed for 241 yards and three touchdowns and ran in another TD.

Sullivan's favorite target is Terry Beasley, who has nine catches for 197 yards and three touchdowns already this season. Wallace Clark, a proven fullback, has gained 72 yards on 19 carries, second to Sullivan's 73 yards on 10 carries.

The Tigers treated the Wildcats rather badly last year, winning by 44-3 their 12th game in the 18-game series (one ended in a tie) which began in 1934.

RIGHT HAND MAN—A busy man is Frank Ham, who as administrative assistant to Coach John Ray serves as a buffer and liaison for the Wildcat head football coach. Many, many varied duties are the lot of Ham, who brought to Kentucky a fine record as a coach and administrator. He began his coaching career as an assistant at John Adams High School in South Bend, Ind., where Ray was a member of the squad. Ham later coached Ray at Olivet College in Michigan. After coaching football and track at John Adams in 1941-43, Ham was football and basketball coach at Niles, Mich., High School in 1944-46 before returning to Olivet, his alma mater, as athletic Director and football and basketball coach. He gave up duties as athletic director in 1952 to become assistant to the president. He was in the automobile business from 1954 until coming with Ray to Kentucky.

eating at Jerry's is a fami affair.

a family affair worth remembering is a meal at Jerry's. There's something for everyone...a quick snack, a complete dinner, carry out service or drive-in for an "in-car picnic".

Wouldn't an ice cold Coke taste good right now?

THOSE WERE THE DAYS, MY FRIEND, WHEN WILDCATS WON BOTH CROWNS

Homecoming 1970 observes the 20th anniversary of the 1950 University of Kentucky football team which rolled over 10 straight foes and clinched the Wildcats' first and only Southeastern Conference football championship before losing to Tennessee, 7-0, in freezing weather in Knoxville.

Led by Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant, the Wildcat squad then traveled to New Orleans to meet Bud Wilkinson's national champion Oklahoma Sooners in the 1951 Sugar Bowl.

When the battle got under way, it looked as if the nation's writers had reversed things in ranking the 'Cats below the Sooners. After the first set of plays, the Wildcat line began to show the Red team how to play the game.

The defensive unit wasn't the whole show, however, as Wildcat quarterback Vito (Babe) Parilli, picked as the nation's outstanding backfield star, began to unravel a series of plays which brought the 90,000 spectators to rigid attention.

Wildcat fans were brought to their feet, amazed, but deliriously happy, when Parilli spotted Wilbur (Shorty) Jamerson in the Sooner end zone and unloaded one of his bullet passes. Jamerson, covered by two Sooners, jumped high and came down with the ball tucked tightly in his arm.

Another pass set up Kentucky's second score. Parilli heaved a long one to Al Bruno in the second quarter, and Bruno was pulled down one foot short of the goal line by Oklahoma's Jack Lockett. On the next play, Jamerson scored the winning touchdown and Bob Gain kicked the extra point for Kentucky's total of 13

The 'Cats protected their lead in the second half and won, 13-7. Tackle Walt Yowarsky, a tower on defense, was named the game's outstanding player.

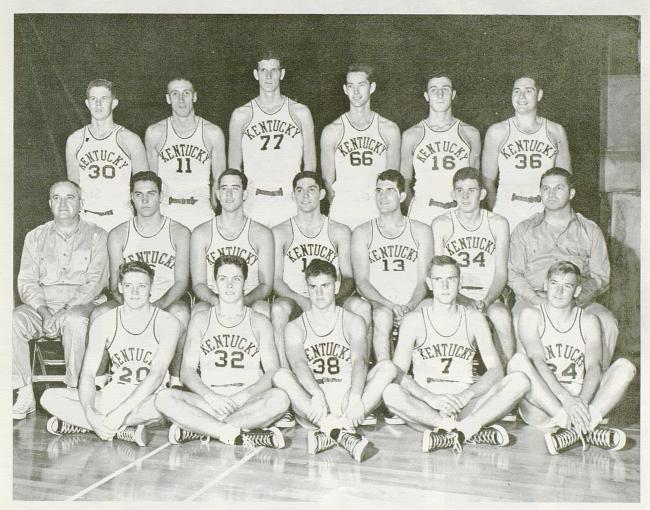

The same school year, Coach Adolph Rupp's Wildcat basketball team, voted best in the nation by writers and coaches, was champion of the SEC for the eighth straight year and ended the season with a 32-2 record.

Featuring such performers as Bobby Watson, Frank Ramsey, Cliff Hagan, Skippy Whitaker, Shelby Linville, Bill Spivey, Lou Tsioropoulos and Capt. Walt Hirsh, the Wildcats defeated Kansas State, 68-58 in the NCAA final.

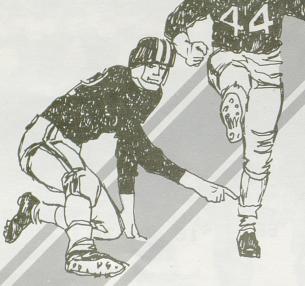

By adding the basketball title to their football crown, the Wildcats became the first in SEC history to hold both at the same time.

The stretch of Euclid Avenue from South Limestone to Rose Street was appropriately named "Avenue of Champions."

-Athletics At Kentucky-

Kentucky's athletic program, a well-balanced and ambitious activity featuring intercollegiate competition in ten different sports, is organized under the Department of Athletics and a corporation known as the University of Kentucky Athletics Association.

The program is conducted without overemphasis or sacrifice of educational objectives and in strict compliance with the rules of the University, the Southeastern Conference and the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

A board of directors, headed by the President of the University in the capacity of chairman, maintains overall policy supervision of the athletic program. In addition to the UK President, board officers include the Vice-President for Student Affairs as vice-chairman and Dr. W. L. Matthews in the capacity of secretary. Fourteen other men drawn from the University faculty and the general public also serve on the board as appointees of the president as does a student representative.

Supervising the steady growth and balanced development of the athletic program is Athletic Director Harry C. Lancaster.

The Association's Board of Directors is composed of the following:

"CHICAGO" GROUP APPEARS TONIGHT IN MEMORIAL COLISEUM

The Student Center Board, which has scheduled a concert by the seven-piece "Chicago" band group at 8 o'clock tonight in Memorial Coliseum, is apparently tuned to the ear of the University of Kentucky football team.

The Wildcats, asked to name their favorite musical group,

The Wildcats, asked to name their favorite musical group, gave Chicago a 13-8 lead over "Three Dog Night."

Next in order were "The Temptations" (7), "Credance Clearwater Revival" and "Rare Earth" (5 each), "Beatles" (4), "Fifth Dimension" and "Blood, Sweat and Tears" (3 each), and "Sly" (2). Single votes went to "Cold Blood," "Four Tops," "Steve Miller Blues Band," "First Edition," "Crosby, Stills and Nash," "The Association," "Led Zepplen," "The Guess Who," "Box Tops," "Simon and Garfunkel," "Pips," "Archies," "Ten Years After," "Junior Walker and The All Stars," "Jackson Five," "It's A Beautiful Day," and "Who."

The winning group, named for the band's hometown, Chicago,

The winning group, named for the band's hometown, Chicago, is described as being in the midst of the pop music stream. Chicago is a turbulent blend, incorporating jazz, blues, rock, symphonics and perhaps a half dozen other labels. The group's musical statement is that of seven artists who adhere to a strict rehearsal schedule. They hold writing seminars for themselves. They gather often for discussions relating to performance and material, and talk about achievement and goal as it relates to musical accomplishment.

They also gather within a social framework. The members of Chicago have been together for years and so it is a family as well as a workforce that has been welded.

They went to Los Angeles at the bidding of an old school chum, a man who had gone to music class with some of them at DePaul University, who had been in one of Dick Clark's road tour bands with some of them, who after he had been one of the early Mothers of Invention and a hit songwriter for Chad & Jeremy and a Top 10 record producer for The Buckingham's, now wanted them in his "creative community."

The inhabitants of the "creative community":

DAN SERAPHINE (drums) studied percussion at DePaul University, then with Chuck Flores, ex-member of Maynard Ferguson and Woody Herman bands. Has been playing for 11 years.

ROBERT LAMM (organ/electric piano/vocals) studied piano and composition at Roosevelt University, is one of the prolific writers in the band, has been playing eight years.

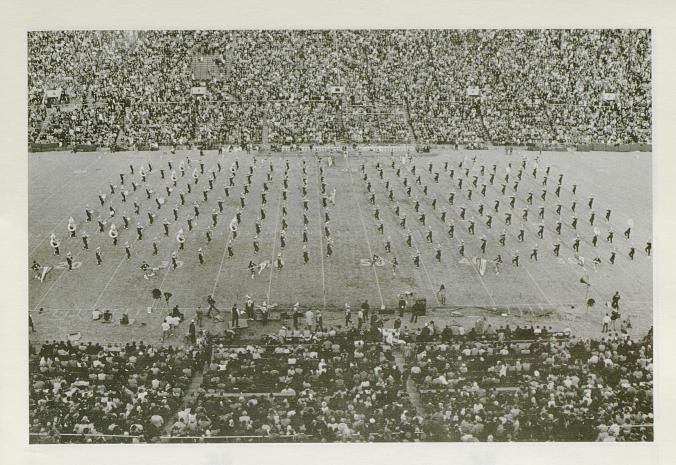

TERRY KATH (guitar/vocals) has also been playing eight years, and, although has had no formal training, is one of the prolific writers in Chicago.

WALT PERRY (woodwinds) earned a degree from DePaul in orchestra clarinet, studied with woodwind players in the Chicago Symphone, has been playing 14 years.

LEE LOUGHNANE (trumpet/flugel horn) studied at DePaul two years, then at the Chicago Conservatory College for two years, played in several local Chicago rock groups and big bands.

PETE CETERA (bass/vocals) began playing accordian at 12, worked with several local groups, the last for six years with his city's top rock group.

JIM PANKOW (trombone) studied at DePaul and Quincy College, played with the Bobby Christian and Ted Weems orchestras, Bill Russo's Chicago Jazz Ensemble and his own jazz quintet, does much of Chicago's composition and brass arrangements.

UK's Community College System

An answer to the pressing need for higher education in Kentucky

The University's rapidly expanding Community College System is proving that it can help meet the demands of providing higher education for all of Kentucky.

An American institution, the community college performs several functions traditional to higher education and others uniquely its own. Nationally, the community college movement now includes 1,057 colleges, enrolling more than two million students. This represents nearly one-third of all students presently enrolled in college in the United States.

The reasons for the rapid growth of the community college are many. Foremost is the fact that traditional American colleges and universities cannot adequately meet the challenge of providing higher education for the increasing numbers of young people seeking this opportunity.

Furthermore, traditional institutions cannot meet the manpower needs at the semi-professional or technical level, which approach 200,000 annually.

Thus, it is natural that these comprehensive community colleges have been developed in the Commonwealth to serve a three-fold purpose: (1) to provide the first two years of baccalaureate programs; (2) to offer two-year vocational or career oriented programs; and (3) to offer continuing and adult educational opportunities.

Acceptance of this highly successful system of education is portrayed through the greater number of degrees granted. This year there were nearly 45 per cent more diplomas handed to graduates than in 1969. The number of certificates (conferred to students expected to transfer to a four-year institution for study toward a baccalaureate degree) increased over 1969 by 23 per cent.

Kentucky's community colleges have brought the opportunity for a higher education close to students throughout the state. In many cases, the community college is less than a two-hour drive from the Kentucky resident's home.

Local communities are finding community colleges an asset. New life is breathed into these communities with cultural, social and educational offerings once confined to metropolitan areas. The community college movement has also helped increase the amount of new business and industrial potential throughout the state.

We feel that we have one of the best organized community college systems in the country," says Dr. Stanley Wall, vice president of the UK Community College System.

"Our close ties to the University provide many advantages not found in other organizational patterns. Through a close working relationship with the Bureau of Vocational Education and the State Department of Education, the colleges are given opportunity to strengthen their career education programs in line with the provisions of the 1968 Vocational Acts," he says.

"Although each community college is an integral part of the University of Kentucky, it still relates itself to a particular community through its local advisory board and its technical program," Dr. Wall points out. "And here is where real opportunity lies. The demand for highly trained semi-professional persons is the greatest in the history of our nation."

Dr. Stanley Wall, a native Kentuckian widely known in the field of education throughout the state and nation, is the new vice president for the Community College System. He replaces Dr. Ellis Hartford who retired July 1.

Dr. Wall

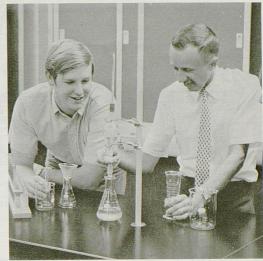

Dr. Wall began his career in 1938 as a vocational agriculture teacher in Garrard County. Shortly after World War II he joined the vocational education department in the College of Education, and was named associate dean in the College of Agriculture in 1956. Dr. Wall has been associate dean of the Community College System since November 1966, and has been instrumental in the development of the highly successful educational programs carried out by UK's 13 organized community colleges.

Both his advanced degrees, the M.S. and Ed.D., were earned at UK. Dr. Wall and his wife, the former Ruby Hamm, are the parents of five children.

One of the fastest growing and most closely knit organizations on the Lexington sports scene is the K-Men's Association, which in eight years has established itself as a community minded organization with interests beyond the athletics scene.

Consisting of alumni varsity lettermen at the University of Kentucky, the organization each year sponsors four academic scholarships, at a total outlay of $4,000 per year, for needy but worthy students.

A recent activity, made possible by the influence of Wildcat basketball coach and K-Life Member Adolph Rupp, saw the K-Men bring to Memorial Coliseum the Lawrence Welk Show, which played before a huge and enthusiastic crowd.

WILDCAT PRINT BOOSTS UK ATHLETICS

The University of Kentucky Athletics Association to date has received more than $20,000 from sale of Gene Gray's print of the "Kentucky Wildcat," published by Animal Graphics, Inc.

The "Wildcat" (Lynx rufus) was released in an edition print limited to 3,500 copies signed by Gray. Three thousand of the prints were placed on sale through the company's normal channels of distribution, which includes dealers throughout Kentucky, Ohio and Tennessee.

Animal Graphics issued the remaining 500 prints in a special series entitled "Kentucky Wildcat" and signed by UK athletic director Harry C. Lancaster, football coach John Ray and basketball coach Adolph Rupp. These prints are being sold for $100 each and the entire proceeds donated to the UK Athletic Department.

First Security National Bank & Trust Co. is acting as trustee of the funds and has made prints available through its main office, branches and correspondent banks throughout the state.

Each purchaser of a print receives a certificate of guarantee that the "Kentucky Wildcat" print is one of only 500 reproduced exactly the same size as the original painting and that the entire proceeds from the sale of these 500 prints go to the UK Athletic Department.

COLLEGIATE COMMISSIONERS ASSOCIATION

Early in 1939 five college football commissioners established an organization for the purpose of attacking mutual problems. From that small beginning has grown what is now the Collegiate Commissioners Association, its members the chief executive officers and their assistants from the eleven major college conferences from coast to coast. Representing nearly 300 institutions, they range in size from the seven-member Mid-American Conference to the mammoth 190-member Eastern College Athletic Conference.

The CCA's field of interest has broadened greatly since The CCA's field of interest has broadered glearly since its inception, now encompassing not only football, but all sports on the collegiate program. The members as such give united attention not alone to officiating assignment and rules interpretation, but also to procedures on undergraduate athletic recruitment and eligibility and to the many other facets of intercollegiate sports administration.

- ADOLPH RUPP I have heard "Great Moments" many times and every time it gives me additional thrills. You will never realize the great memories that are recorded for you in this record and I believe everyone will get tremendous thrills in reliving these great evenings.
- CAWOOD LEDFORD—There were no notes or lists of questions. The only thing we had was a list of game tapes which were coming up next. Rupp didn't have a single note, and yet he was right every time.
- JOE CALDWELL, Sports Reporter—The idea for the record originated nearly a year ago and it has taken a dozen people 10 months to put it together. It has been done by the Committee of 101 not because the Committee wanted a money-making project for this year, but just a basketball related project to concentrate on. Now it looks as if they have struck a gold mine.
- MIKE MERSCH, Ky. Post & Times Star—The record is an invaluable page in history. It captures the highlights and the disappointments of a career that may never be equaled.

"WINNINGEST" COACH IN 41ST YEAR HERE

Adolph F. Rupp, president of the National Association of Basketball Coaches, begins his 41st season at the University of Kentucky with a fine corps of lettermen and a high national pre-season ranking.

Rupp, the nation's winningest coach, with 836 victories in 1,013 games at Kentucky, will be without the services of All-America center Dan Issel and All-SEC forward Mike Pratt, but the return of Mike Casey, All-SEC guard who missed last season because of an auto accident brightens the picture.

Other returnees include Larry Steele, a two-year starter at forward before receiving a wrist injury midway of the 1970 season; Tom Parker, SEC sophomore of the Year after replacing roommate Steele; senior guards Jim Dinwiddie and Terry Mills and juniors Kent Hollenbeck and Stan Key; and junior center Mark Soderberg. Jim Andrews, 6-11, moves up from a high-scoring freshman season, along with forwards Dan Perry and Larry Stamper and guards Steve Penhorwood and Doug Flynn. Tom Payne, 7-foot sophomore, also will be eligible for competition.

CHEVY'S NEW LITTLE CAR IS OPEN FOR BUSINESS.

Vega 2300 is here at last.

We'd have brought it out sooner, but you know how it is. We've got a lot riding on this little car and we wanted it to be right, really right, before turning it over to you.

Now we're ready.

And you were wise to wait.

Because now you can buy what we at Chevrolet have come to modestly believe is the best little car in the world.

We don't expect this ad to convince you.

We expect the car to, though.

Vega. The little car that does everything well. Look into it.
