EXTENSION DEPARTMENT OF UNIVERSITY EXPECTS BEST YEAR OF HISTORY

Extension Schools, Correspondence Schools in Every Part of State

12 CITIES HAVE CLASSES

Crowded Office Space is Big Drawback to Department

The Department of Extension, which has charge of the correspondence courses given by the University and the extension schools controlled by the University in all parts of the State, is expecting a larger program during the coming year. Last year the number of enrollments by correspondence and in extension classes aggregated seven hundred. This year it is expected that the work of last year will be considerably exceeded.

The department is opening extension classes this year in the following Kentucky cities: Lexington, Ashland, Paris, Nicholasville, Dry Ridge, Covington, Walton, Georgetown, Frankfort, Winchester, Sturgis, Corbin, and calls have been made from other cities where the organization of the work is pending. The director of the University extension states that the department is finding it difficult this year to supply service to all cities that ask for the work, owing to the fact that the number of persons on the staff available for extension instruction is limited. Calls have been made by Midway, and by the county teachers of Jefferson county. The department of Home Economics

DEMOCRATIC CLUB ORGANIZED ON CAMPUS

Will Invite Prominent Speakers To Address U. of K. Students

A crowd, estimated in three figures, met in the University chapel Tuesday evening, and effected a permanent Democratic organization on the University campus. The organization will be known as the Democratic Club of the University of Kentucky.

Representatives from every congressional district in the State were present, and much enthusiasm was prevalent. Several speeches were made and officers were elected. A speakers bureau was organized and will assist the Democratic organization at the University and also throughout the State in the present gubernatorial campaign.

Arrangements are being made for several prominent Democratic speakers to address the students at the University.

The following officers were elected and committees appointed: President, F. P. Bell, fourth district; vice-president, J. D. Moore, sixth district; secretaries, Astor Hogg, sixth district, and C. P. King, eighth district; treasurer, Bowen Nelson, first district; sergeant-at-arms, T. G. Smith.

Publicity committee: Taylor Mumford, chairman; Ryan Ringo, Z. T. Shirley, B. Frost, B. I. Perry, Joe T. Harris, Mary Patterson, Annette Kelley, Louise Connell, Lelia Stroker, Martha Pate and Mattie Hodges.

NEW LITTLE THEATRE ON WINSLOW STREET TO BE COMPLETED BY NOV.

Romany Theatre is Name Given To New Structure

BEST EQUIPMENT USED

Metropolitan Talent Will Be Presented During Season

The work on the Romany Theatre on Winslow street is progressing by November. Elaborate decorations nicely and is expected to be completed are now in progress. It is asked that the public not judge the theatre by its exterior as the promoters have not a large sum of money and as the theatre will have to be moved from its present site in three years, everything is being put into equipment and appointments. The decorations, architecture and details are following the Romany ideas suggested by the various countries through which the Gypsies habitually wandered.

There are some original features in the equipment. The foot lights are in the ceiling and throw the light directly over a silver reflector between the curtain and the front of the stage which directs a diffused light upon the actors eliminating the hard shadows and sharp lines. There will be a semi-indirect border light, making a sky line of 26 feet, which will do away with cloth borders for the ceiling of the stage. The stage of the theatre is 40 feet wide which assures rapid scene changes and makes possi-

MILITARY DEPARTMENT HAS A FULL REGIMENT

Nine Companies Make Formation of Three Battalions Possible.

The Military Department of the University of Kentucky announced Wednesday the completion of its plans for the formation of a full regiment to consist of three battalions, composed of five freshman and four sophomore companies. The freshman companies will be A, B, C, E and F, and the sophomore G, I, K, and L.

Officers to command the regiment will be appointed by the department as soon as possible. The formation of a full regiment was made possible by the large freshman registration, and comes as the fulfillment of desires long entertained by the officers in charge of the military instruction.

The officers are putting forth every effort to make the Kentucky unit the best in the Fifth Corps area and incidentally to make Kentucky an honor school, a mark of distinction which we narrowly missed last year.

PLEDGING

Triangle fraternity, with chapter house at 121 Warren court, announces the pledging of Carter F. Farrington, of Paducah; Prentice Barnes, of Benton, Ky., and Loran E. Griffith, of Lexington.

NOTICE!

All Republicans are urgently requested to meet in Little Theatre, 7:30, Monday night, Oct. 8th. Important business.

NOTICE TO CAR OWNERS

The following important communication should be carefully read and its admonition taken seriously by every driver or owner of an automobile who uses the campus roads:

Mr. Raymond Kirk, Editor, The Kernel, University of Kentucky.

My Dear Mr. Kirk: The congestion of automobile traffic on the campus has reached such a point that it will be necessary to maintain regulations concerning it. The driving at high speeds through the campus is bound to result in very serious accidents. There will be posted in the near future, regulations regarding automobile traffic and every owner of an automobile is requested to observe them to the letter. Unless we do this it will be necessary to resort to the exclusion of automobiles from the campus. These regulations will be reasonable and fair, but in order to avoid the confusion that arises it will be necessary to obey them fully.

I trust that I may have the cooperation of all the students who use automobiles.

Sincerely,
Frank L. McVey,
President.

NOTICE!

All students who are interested in Intercollegiate Debate Work will please attend a short meeting in the Little Theatre, Monday afternoon, Oct. 8, at 4:30. Prof. Sullivan.

YEARLING TEAM OPENS SEASON HERE SATURDAY

Eastern Normal Team Opposes Kittens in First Game

The University of Kentucky Freshman football team will open its season on Stoll Field Saturday when it meets the strong Eastern State Normal eleven. From all indications the Richmond lads have a well balanced team and will give the Kittens a hard struggle.

The yearlings are still working hard and with daily scrimmages among themselves, and at times with the varsity, they are rapidly rounding into midseason form. The game Saturday will serve as a pointer to Coaches Buchheit and Burnham as to the selection of the first team.

Lexington High School again looms up in freshman athletics as it is re-

Comparative Figures by Classes

The campus campaign for the stadium fund last May resulted in the class of 1923 subscribing a total of $5,228, representing 79 per cent of the class, and giving the graduates of this year a clear lead over all other classes in amount contributed to the fund. Figures compiled in the alumni office, including all contributions up to September 29, show that, the 1923 graduates excluded, the class of '16 is leading in amount subscribed with a total of $3,731, while the class of '20 is second with $3,095. The class of '98 leads in the percentage column 38.8 per cent of the graduates of that year having contributed.

AN URGENT CALL TO U. K. ALUMNI

Towards those members of the University of Kentucky who have not yet sent in their contributions to the stadium fund the Kernel points no scornful finger. We are not peeved that they have delayed so long. We are not even worried. We understand that every one of that great organization of men and women who became brothers and sisters here in the halls of the University has his or her own problems and reasons for delaying so long. Some of them are far away, some of them are too busy to know how urgent the call is, some of them are obligated to spend their money elsewhere, and some of them are broke—just plain broke.

But that spirit, that love for the blue and white of Kentucky is patient. Way down deep it tugs at the heartstrings, it raises Cain intermittently until it gets what it wants. When that happens, Al just naturally goes out the next morning a little happier, a little prouder he came to Kentucky, a little more anxious for homecoming day. If you don't believe it, try.

Filled With News and Views.

Plans Rally Day Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 29, 1923, Kentucky Alumni:

Now that vacations are over and the Wildcats are hard at it on Stoll Field getting in shape for the first game, don't you think it is about time we were getting together and talking things over?

Anyway, Reuben Taylor, the President of the Alumni Club, has designated Tuesday, October 9, 1923 as the day for our rally day which will take the form of a stag luncheon.

There will be present several members of last year's class who will have cast their lot with us and they will expect you to be there to welcome them.

Event—1st Stag Luncheon.
Place—Cafe Savarin, basement of Equitable building 120 Broadway, N. Y. C.

Time—October 9, at 12:30 sharp.
Price—Table D'Hotel $1.75.

Be There.

Thanks,
D. L. Thornton, Jr., '22,
Secretary.

Betwixt Us

The closing of the Stadium Campaign and making up the Directory has swamped this office. I want every alumnus to fill up the space marked for your contributions and send in to us for this column. You are all associate editors during the emergency. We need your help at all times. It comes as a life saver just now.—Mrs. Nell H. Turner.

John W. Wilmott, whose record as an active member of the Alumni Associations shows few lapses, received his A. B. at the University of Kentucky in '95 and his LL.B. at the University of Michigan a few years later. He has been practicing law in Oklahoma for many years and is now senior member of the law firm of Wilmott & Roberts at Wewoka. During the last year he has moved his family to San Diego, California, but still maintains his law office at Wewoka and spends part of his time there. He married Miss Irene E. Cruce in December, 1905. They have a family of eight children, four boys and four girls. On his information sheet are these words, "Can you beat this?" a challenge to other U. K. former students to send in such a record. The residence address is 4202 Jackdaw street, San Diego, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Hoenig visited Mr. Hoenig's relatives in Lexington recently and were pleasant callers in the Alumni office. Mr. Hoenig has been in government engineering service practically ever since receiving his degree and was in active service during the World War. His business address is U. S. Engineers' Office, Room 1201-537 S. Dearborn street, Chicago, Ill. Mrs. Hoenig was Olivia Sweeney ex-'02. They are living at 1401 Olive Avenue.

Robert E. Moorman, who has been connected with the American Tobacco Company at Owensboro, Ky., since 1917, has been transferred to the offices of that company at Wilson, N. C.

Matt M. Clay, who was connected with the Interstate Commerce Commission for several years, is a member of the firm, Clay-Ingels, Builders Supply Company, 347 E. Main St., Lexington, Ky. Mrs. Clay was formerly Miss Florence B. Ingels, of Lexington. They have two sons, Matt M. E., and Evans. They reside at 216 Market Street.

Geo. C. Montgomery is a salesman with the Long-Bell Lumber Company, 1413 Conway Bldg., Chicago, Ill. Shortly after graduating he became connected with the American Creosoting Company and its allied companies, the Federal and Georgia, and was located at Brunswick, Ga., until 1920. Mr. Montgomery married Miss Hazel W. Thornton in 1910. They have two children, Nell, aged sixteen, and George Carter, Jr., aged six.

'07 Perrin Rule received his B. M. E. in '07 and his M. E. in '12. He went with the Iroquois Iron Company shortly after graduating and in 1915 became superintendent of blast furnaces with this company. While in this work he designed and built the most perfect fly wheel ever constructed. Since 1920 Mr. Rule has been assistant manager, Blast Furnace Tube Company of America, formerly the Iroquois Iron Company. His office is at 94th St. and Keeter Ave.

Edgar Poe Rice ex-'07, is assistant to the vice-president, Island Creek Coal Company and Pond Creek Pocahontas Company, offices at 713 Robson-Pritchard Bld., Huntington, W. Va. He married Miss Nellie G. Mills July 10, 1922. They have a son, Robert Harvey, born June 17, 1923. The family resides at 1212 Seventh Street.

Holton Cook, who for several years was in a real estate development company at Morganfield, Ky., is now county road engineer, Mingo county, Williamson, W. Va. He married Marie C. Kuykendall, December 28, 1915. They have two children, Elizabeth, six years old, and Thomas Edward, three

'10

Edward H. Lewis was married to Miss Della McDougall, September 9, 1923. Mr. Lewis is assistant engineer maintenance of way department with the Illinois Central Railroad Company at McComb, Miss., where they will make their home in future. Mailing address, p. o. box 320.

Russell C. Mayhall ex-'10, is assistant mechanical engineer with the Louisville Railway Company. His wife was formerly Miss Mary Bennett Fisher, of North Middletown, Ky. They reside at 302 S. Peterson Ave., Louisville.

'11

John Campbell has been manager of the National Electric Service Company, Morgantown, W. Va., since 1920. He was electrical engineer with the Consolidation Coal Company, of Fairmont, W. Va., for several years previous to that time. His address is 228 Walnut St.

'12

Jake H. Gaiser, life member of the Alumni Association, went with the Carrier Air Conditioning Company soon after he received his B. M. E. In 1915 he entered the employ of the Booth-Felt Company, of Brooklyn, N. Y., remaining there until the latter part of 1922, acting as secretary-treasurer of the company since 1919. He is now secretary-treasurer of the Fels Parts Company, 351 Jay St., Brooklyn. His residence address is 34 Butler Place.

'13

Sylvan Stewart Price has been connected with the oil industry in Oklahoma for several years. He is now geologist with the Dixie Oil Company, 604 First National Bank Bldg., Tulsa. He married Miss Ruth Croft, June 14, 1919. They have a little daughter, Helen, aged two years.

'14

Leo King has practiced law in Henderson, Ky., ever since graduating except for the period of the World War when he was in the service of his country. He is now County Attorney of Henderson county, with offices in the Ohio Valley Bank Bldg.

'15

"Enclosed you will find my check for two dollars for the Kentucky Kernel for the coming year. Please see that I get my Kernel. For your information and for the Directory, I am not married yet, but have hopes. Until further notice my address will be R. Brooks Taylor, New Franklin Hotel, St. Marys, Pa., and business, Speer Carbon Company." Mr. Taylor is assistant acting superintendent of the National Carbon Company, with headquarters at Cleveland, O., and is now making a study of plant conditions for his company.

"I noticed in the last issue of the Kernel in June that Ray Mathews '13 last year while in St. Petersburg, Fla., was reported on the 'lost' list. I heard that he is married and is managing a plantation out from Tallahassee.

"I had hoped to get home this summer but my vacation could not be arranged early enough to get there. "I am planning to get away early next summer and be there for commencement—haven't been back for one since I graduated.

"I was made assistant manager the first of last December in addition to my duties as field superintendent. I hadn't expected anything quite so good in such a short time.

"I am glad to see that Kentucky is taking the step for a bigger and better University and the one way to accomplish that is to get the interest of the alumni. Here's to success."—W. Kenneth Clore, Compania Ausucera Oriente, "Central Oriente," Oriente, Cuba.

Marion U. Condit, who has been a student at the University of Edinburg, Scotland, since 1920, received the Ph. D. degree from that institution in July. He returned to this country early last spring and is pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Marion, Ky.

Felix Renick ex-'17, College of Law, is a lecturer with the National Institute, inc., with headquarters at 27 Williams street, New York City.

'18

S. S. Elam, who received his B. A. degree in '18 and M. A. in '19, is editor of the Kentucky School News, at Frankfort, Ky. He married Miss Brenda Davis, December 21, 1907, and they have five children—Roberta, Edward, Miriam, Norman Walter and Elizabeth Ann. They are living at 418 Logan street.

'19

John J. Leman, of Pineville, and Cincinnati, was a recent visitor in the Alumni office. Mr. Leman entered the employ of the Warren-Webster Company, of Indianapolis immediately after receiving his degree, and remained with them until 1921. For a year he was connected with Watt & Company, of Pineville, sales engineer of mining supplies. He is now sales engineer with the Southeastern Coal Co., offices at 908 Union Central Building, Cincinnati, O. He asks that his Kernel be sent to his Cincinnati address, but his permanent address is Pineville, Ky. He is one of the members of the "live alumni club" of Bell county.

"I am writing to see if you have the address of the firm in Harrisburg, Pa., dealing in stationery and dividing profits with the Alumni Association. I had it last year but seem to have lost it and would greatly appreciate your sending it to me.

"I am waiting more or less impatiently for the first edition of the Kernel so I can keep in touch with what Kentucky is doing. Approximately 8,000 students have registered here and we expect a fine year. Our stadium, seating 55,000 people will be opened November 3 with the Illinois-Chicago game."—Frank W. Tuttle, instructor of Economics, University of Illinois, Urbana, Ill. Mailing address 905 West Nevada Street.

William R. Wilson, was a visitor on the campus during his recent vacation and called in the Alumni office to make sure that he would receive the Kernel for the coming year. Since September, 1922, he has been a medical student at Johns Hopkins University and says he has yet another year of hard work. He reports an enthusiastic Kentucky group at Johns Hopkins but the hard work and the uncertain hours, make the organization of an alumni club there impossible. His mailing address is 606 N. Broadway, Baltimore, Md.

Presbyterian Party

Presbyterian students in Lexington will be guests at a party given by the Sunday school of the First Presbyterian Church on Mill street, Friday night, October 5, at 8 p. m. All students of Presbyterian families, whether members of the church or not, are cordially invited.

The Woman's Club of the University entertained Tuesday evening, Oct.

2, at Patterson Hall, in honor of these new members of the faculty. The hall was decorated with garden flowers in baskets of ferns. A musical program of vocal numbers was given by Mrs. Dantzler, and of piano selections by Mrs. Hutson. Refreshments of ice, cake and coffee, were served and the hostesses and guests numbered about 200.

Dr. William B. Smith, biographer of Dr. James K. Patterson, has recently returned to Lexington, after a stay in Baltimore and other eastern cities.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

Last Sunday night at the regular Y. W. C. A. services held in Patterson hall, Mrs. Harmon, Dean of Hamilton, spoke. Her talk centered around the Sabbath, and how this day, above all others, should be set aside, and observed in a quiet and spiritual way. During the course of her address, Mrs. Harmon gave vivid illustrations, making it extremely interesting and holding the attention of all throughout her entire talk. Special music, furnished by Josephine Frazier, added greatly to the program.

Next Sunday night Dr. Fortune will speak.

Friday, October 19, the Y. W. C. A. will give a Hallowe'en party at Patterson Hall. Everyone is cordially invited, and urged to come and enjoy the fun.

The membership drive which was launched during this week, according to the latest reports made, has been a huge success. Everyone is showing a great interest in the Y. W. and its work, and all things are pointing towards a big year for the organization.

HEAR YE, ALL!

JOSEPH HENRY
1797-1878

Born at Albany, N. Y., where he became teacher of mathematics and physics in Albany Academy. Leading American physicist of his time. First director of the Smithsonian Institution.

When Henry rang the bell

If any bell was ever heard around the world, Joseph Henry rang it in his famous experiment at the Albany Academy. The amazing development of the electrical industry traces back to this schoolmaster's coil of insulated wire and his electro-magnet that lifted a ton of iron.

Four years later when Morse used Henry's electro-magnet to invent the telegraph, Henry congratulated him warmly and unselfishly.

The principle of Henry's coil of wire is utilized by the General Electric Company in motors and generators that light cities, drive railroad trains, do away with household drudgery and perform the work of millions of men.

The work that was begun by pioneers like Joseph Henry is being carried on by the scientists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company. They are constantly searching for fundamental principles in order that electricity may be of greater service to mankind.

KEEPING THE CAMPUS

For many years rules have been made by the various bodies in the University who have the power to make, if not enforce rules, to be followed by students. One of the rules that appears in nearly every set of rules published is that one which attempts to prevent students cutting across the campus, making paths, and in general, destroying the appearance of our grounds. So far none of these rules has been successful in that which they set out to do.

There are several reasons why this particular rule has not been effective. The main reason is that those who have the authority and power to enforce this rule continue to break it themselves. It is well understood that the underclassmen will not walk across any of the paths on the campus but stay on the walks provided. These underclassmen are compelled to comply with this. It is not at their door that we can lay this fault, but at the doors of the upper classmen and the girls. There is apparently no organization to strike fear into the hearts of these arch offenders. The girls fear no court or orders from such court. They do this with that feeling of security that comes only to those who know that no one will think of calling them to account for their acts. True it is that the ancient rites of the cannon cannot be carried out when the women are concerned. The only remedy for this is to appeal to the feminine love for the beautiful and thru their senses of fairness. If the girls will not co-operate in this the campus might just as well be turned into a network of paths and the idea of beautiful perspective abandoned.

The seniors also forget that it is one of their bodies that continues to stress this rule. They walk across the paths with all their dignity and the air of daring anyone to question their rights.

We do not mean to cast any ridicule upon the dignity and rights of the seniors but we do hope to impress upon them the only remedy for this evil is for them to regard it with the same spirit of willingness that they require of the freshmen.

Another practice that is detrimental to the beauty of the campus is the careless driving and parking of cars. This has never been taken up by any organization that had the power to stop it. Cars are often driven thru the campus at a speed that disregards the safety of others in the first place, and these same cars are driven over the lawns and parked on them with the same criminal disregard for common decency.

Sombody that is powerful enough should take these matters in hand and deal with these offenders in a severe manner. Too much cannot be said or done to bring these offenders to see that they are marring the appearance on the campus. No punishment can be too severe for those who continue to disregard these rules, requests and pleas.

WHY NOT AMATEUR FANS?

Students who cannot express their loyalty to the football team through any other medium than betting will welcome the incoming season with extended arms and open pocketbooks.

Som day, when University officials will have become sufficiently demoralized by the supporting generation, Saturday football games will be the scene of activities that now belong exclusively to the race track. Above the referee's whistle will be heard the clatter of the pari-mutuels; the raucous cries of the Su-Ky peanut vender will be mingled with the shouts for two dollar tickets on the Blue and White colors; thru the crowds will go the scurrying figure of the book-maker. This flight of fancy, while not entertained seriously, would doubtless be entirely welcome to a large number of University of Kentucky students.

University officials coaches and even students, fight the deadly spark of professionalism to keep it from appearing among their athletes. Money paid to a layer for his services is a contamination and a disgrace for the college and for player. Yet these same students wager unbelievable amounts on the efforts of players whom they expect to fight to their utmost for the love of the game and their alma mater. It is too much to expect a similar enthusiasm from students unless their money rides with the fortunes of their team? Perhaps it is not worth cheering one's team to victory unless some remuneration is forthcoming.

Gambling, of course, has its thrill. We ourselves have pleasurably speculated on what we would do with the proceeds if the gods of fortune should ever let us successfully parlay ten or fifteen longshots. But extensive betting on the football team does not contribute to that team's morale or to the well being of the institution as a whole. When one cajoles the car-vorting cubes behind drawn shades or under the fraternal roof, he is undermining himself only, or at most his group. The ethical side of such amusements concerns us little, for abler debaters than we are dealing with that more or less effectively. But to undermine sportmanship by wholesale betting until it faces disintegration, is something that vitally concerns those who visualize the future college athletics.

Prevalency of betting at football games is quite apparent to the Kernel and this paper does not hesitate in giving it editorial disapproval, however ineffective this may be. The Kernel merely asks, is the undergraduate body of the university to consist of sports who cheer their money instead of their team, or will it consist of students who not only ask that their team be amateurs but also demand that they themselves be likewise.

MINER MADE SECRETARY

At the first faculty meeting of the year held on Monday afternoon Dr. J. B. Miner was elected secretary for the ensuing year, to succeed Prof. H. H. Downing, who acted as secretary during the two previous years.

NOTICE!

The Wildcats of the University of Kentucky leave Saturday night for Cincinnati at 6:40 over the Southern. All Frosh are required to be at the train and other classmen expected. Give them a big sendoff.

The team arrives at the Southern Station Saturday night at 10:30. All frosh are required to meet this train and give the team a big welcome. (The return of the victors?)

PARAGRAPHS

With open-mouthed amazement, we learn that inquiries have come from every section of the country regarding the good work being done by our student government body.

University of Kansas students have taken out insurance against failing in their classes; any chemistry student knows why they don't make us such offers.

The announcement that Charlie Chaplin has forsaken slapstick for drama will be received with considerable regret by the drama lovers and custard pie manufacturers.

Mental tests conducted by the psychology department reveal the incredible fact that many freshmen have normal intelligence.

One good indication of the university's progress is the abolition of hair-cutting; another is that English instructors have not yet required freshmen to write themes on "Why I Came to College."

Real estate experts believe that opening the football season has something to do with the increased erection of hospitals.

Without comment, we note that a S. Lime barber shop, wherein presides a young and handsome barber, is being well patronized by the bobbed-haired co-eds.

What this school needs is more tennis courts and fewer police courts.

Dr. P. K. Holmes, professor of hygiene at the University of Kentucky is slowly recovering at the Good Samaritan Hospital, where he was taken shortly after he was taken ill. The physicians in attendance were unable to state just how soon Dr. Holmes would be able to join his classes at the university. His classes are being conducted during his absence by Mrs. Miner, formerly of New York.

EXTENSION DEPARTMENT

is considering the question of entering onto a program of this work in connection with the extension department. Already requests have come for Home Economics courses in Jefferson county, and when that department takes up the program, there will undoubtedly be other calls.

Among the persons on the staff giving extension courses are Dean William S. Taylor, of the College of Education, Wellington Patrick of the College of Education, and Director of Extension; Professor J. C. Jones, of the Department of History and Political Science; Professor E. F. Farquhar, of the Department of English, and Frank T. McFarland, of the Department of Botany; Professor N. May, of the College of Education, and Dr. P. K. Holmes, head of the Department of Hygiene.

In 1908, according to a statement made by President McVey to the Board of Trustees on October 2, the enrollment in regular college classes at the University was 744. During the past five years, the Extension Department has built up a program of extension instruction involving almost as many students as there were in regular attendance at the University in 1908.

The extension department is badly pressed for office space. The force of the department is housed in the Administration building in an office some 16 by 24 feet in size, with storage facilities in the basement. Undoubtedly the department will soon reach the point where it will have to have more adequate facilities for its work.

ROTARY CLUB HOSTS TO FRESHMAN CLASS

Annual Event is Observed By Lexington Business Men

A large number of the freshman class of the University of Kentucky were guests of the Lexington Rotary Club at their weekly luncheon at the Phoenix Hotel last Thursday. This is an annual custom that has been observed by the club for the past four years.

The principal speaker of the meeting was Prof. W. E. Freeman, of the College of Engineering of the University of Kentucky, who welcomed the freshmen, and spoke of the opportunities that confront the college man of today.

TRUSTEES OF UNIVERSITY MEET WITH PRESIDENT

Governor Will Select New Trustee at Meeting in December

The enrollment at the University has increased 300 per cent since 1908, while the increase in equipment in that time has been but 10 per cent, according to a report given by Dr. Frank L. McVey at the quarterly meeting of the board of trustees held in his office Tuesday morning.

The terms on which the University will accept the trusteeship of the E. O. Robinson Mountain fund, accepted at this meeting, will not be made public until after the signing of the agreement.

The alumni ballots for nominations to the trusteeship at the meeting were counted and the six who received the highest number of votes will be placed on the nomination ballot. Three of these will be selected by the alumni, the ballots to be counted at the December meeting of the board. From these three nominees the governor will select the trustee.

The board was entertained with luncheon at Patterson hall, following which they inspected the women's dormitories. Those present at the meeting were R. C. Stoll, of Lexington; H. M. Forman, of Lexington; George Colvin, of Frankfort; Rainey T. Wells, of Frankfort; W. H. Grady, of Louisville; J. Irvine Lyle, of New York; J. W. Turner, of Paintsville, and Frank McKee, of Versailles.

WILL REPRESENT U. K.

Dr. G. P. Sprague, a former Lexingtonian and a graduate of the University of Kentucky, and now associated with the University of Iowa, has been asked by the University to represent it at the inauguration of Dr. Hardin Updegraff, president of Cornell College, at Mt. Vernon, Ia., October 19.

STYLED FOR YOUNG MEN

WOMEN'S FRATERNITIES TO PLEDGE SATURDAY

Preference Bidding Takes Place Through Dean Of Women

Bid day is at hand. Joyously the fraternity women proclaim it. Rushing is over, there are no more limited greetings on the campus, no more scrambling outside class room doors, no more formal parties, no more "shooting of hot lines" in the dark seclusion of the "Kentucky."

The glorified "rushes" willingly tucks in her wings, sprouts horns, and becomes a plain little "goat," trotting on errands and minding everybody at once. Seriously, though, bid day is at hand, and the time has come for the women's fraternities to reap the fruits of rushing and for the freshman girl to make up her mind. She should have a clear vision, by now, of the character and ideals of the groups she has met and should know beyond the shadow of a doubt the one to which she wishes to be actively allied throughout her college life.

Twenty days ago she came to the University knowing little or nothing about fraternities. Gradually she has come to associate Greek letter names with pins, then certain girls with certain pins until she had divided the girls into their fraternities. Now the wider field of the pledge is open to her.

The method of accepting the bids must be explained for those uninformed. All the bids of every fraternity both local and national are put in the hands of the Dean of Women by 8 o'clock on Friday night. Saturday morning the girls who received a bid are called to the Little Theatre by means of cards in the mail boxes of their college. When they are all together Miss Jewell talks to them informally but seriously on the true purpose and responsibility of the Greek letter fraternities.

The girls are then sent for one by one in alphabetical order. In the Dean's office they are asked to write in the order of their preference the fraternities they would join.

STADIUM COMMITTEE TO MEET ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Will Complete Plans For Raising Balance Needed For Fund

Definite plans for raising the $50,000 needed to complete the $240,000 fund for erecting the football stadium, basketball building and Patterson Memorial, and increasing the student loan fund will be decided by the Stadium Campaign Committee at a meeting Friday, October 5, at the Lafayette Hotel, it was determined by the committee at a meeting last Saturday night. Prof. W. S. Webb will present a plan for giving the 1923-24 freshmen of the university an opportunity to subscribe to the fund.

Captain C. C. Calhoun, of Washington, chairman of the drive, stopped off on his way to Washington from the west, to meet the committee. Captain Calhoun stated that the fund would be materially increased by reports from New York, Washington, Chicago, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Denver, San Francisco and Louisville where there are active alumni.

Those present at the meeting Saturday night were: George B. Carey, President F. L. McVey, W. S. Webb, Guy Huguélet, J. White Guyn, Dr. Marius Johnstone and W. C. Wilson.

And later as time flew apace,

Lo and behold, we see her knickers.
And now, dear friends, I'll close my tale
Should I proceed I'd go to jail.

BLUE AND WHITE SQUAD TO LEAVE TONIGHT FOR CONTEST AT CINCINNATI

Winn to Take Twenty-five Players on Queen City Trip

WILDCAT MEETS BEARCAT

Practically Same Team That Defeated Marshall to Start

The Wildcat grid squad will leave its lair for the first time this year, when twenty-five blue clad warriors accompanied by Coaches Winn, Pribble and Rodes, and Manager Van Zant enroute at the Southern depot at 6:40 tonight for Cincinnati where they will oppose the University of Cincinnati Bearcat eleven, Saturday.

Captain Ramsey, King, McFarland, Montgomery, Russell, Martin, McLean, A. T. Rice, Sauer, Warren, Cammack, Alexander, Warren, W. H. Rice, Stevenson, Gregg, Brewer, Kirwan, Sanders, Derrick, Tracy, Neale and Hughes comprise the first varsity squad that is scheduled to make the trip. The injuries of Warren and Hughes may necessitate their remaining in Lexington although Winn may take the two youths along.

Practically the same lineup that started the Marshall contest is slated to open the Bearcat game. Ted Brewer is slated to hold down one of the half back berths in place of Hughes who started the Marshall game. Ted played the greater part of the clash with the West Virginian's and put up a game unequaled by any other back.

Captain Dell Ramsey and Kenneth King ends, Bill McFarland and "Tiny" Montgomery, tackles, "Doc" Martin and Russell, guards, and either McLean or "Chuck" Rice, center will comprise the Cat line that faces Cincinnati Saturday. Turner Gregg, quarter, Brewer and Kirwan, halves, and "Curt" Sanders, full, make up the starting backfield.

Until either "Chuck" Rice or "Tubby" Sauer gets into the lineup, Turner Gregg is slated to do the punting. The probable lineup:

PRELIMINARY TRYOUTS FOR OPERA ARE HELD

Rehearsals Will Begin Within The Next Few Days

The preliminary try-outs of the principals and chorus for the opera "Martha," which has been decided upon by the music department for its annual production, were held Monday afternoon in the music rooms in White Hall under the supervision of Professor Carl Lampert.

The opera, which is a performance of high character, supports six leads and a chorus of thirty voices. An unusual number of excellent voices has been tried, and already the chorus is half filled. Any who wish to try for parts are urged to do so without delay. Rehearsals will begin as soon as the score arrives.

The standards of the performance in the past have been so high that the department finds it necessary to select only the University's best. A list of applicants who have been tentatively accepted will soon be posted. Final acceptance will depend upon acting ability, interest and progress.

DR. T. C. NOE DELIVERS ADDRESS IN CHAPEL

Chas. I. Dawson, Who Was To Speak, Was Unable To Come

At the chapel exercises held at the fifth hour Tuesday, Dr. J. T. C. Noe, of the Education Department, delivered the address in place of Attorney-General Charles I. Dawson, who was unable to be present.

The exercises opened with some announcements by Dean Melcher in recognition of the chapel being so limited regular seats will not be assigned and those who desire to work at the fifth hour may be excused upon the presentation of slips from their employer. Mr. B. N. Peak was in charge of the devotional exercises, reading the twenty-fourth psalm which was followed by the Lord's prayer.

Dr. Noe gave a very interesting and instructive talk advising the pupils to make the best of their time and to have a well defined plan of study. To practice self-denial of all things that will interfere with a study plan or schedule. He also advised all to have a well defined purpose in the world and to make the purpose of the University life a preparation for a later life.

Miss Golf, of the College of Music, was present and greeted the students, after which she introduced Mr. Warren Ball, director of the voice department of the Lexington College of Music.

A letter from Joe T. Lovett that came last summer for the Kernel is quoted in part. "I have been unable to give the University as much publicity as I desired but I have been doing a good deal of personal work with the high school graduates and have swung quite a few that way. This week we are using the Captain Calhoun 'kut' and story as well as the battalion review for a higher rating. Please do not omit sending me all publicity from there as I will use it every time possible. Every one down in this part of the country is betting on Kentucky to trim the insolent Colonels in football this year." Mr. Lovett is editor and publisher of the Tribune-Democrat, Benton, Ky. His wife was Miss Laurine Wells, class of '21.

BLUE AND WHITE TEAM DEFEAT MARSHALL 41-0 IN FIRST GRID CONTEST

Cats Score Initial Touchdown Soon After Scrap Starts

HEAT SLOWS UP GAME

Coach Winn Experiments With Team in The Second Half

Displaying the characteristic Kentucky fighting spirit that knows no barrier, Captain Dell Ramsey and his Wildcat phalanx handed the Big Green eleven from Marshall College a 41-0 trimming on Stoll Field last Saturday. Despite the tropical atmosphere that attended the opening contest, the game was fairly fast, except in the last few minutes of the second half.

The Cats jumped into the lead a few minutes after the opening whistle sounded, when the green-clad warriors politely staged an Alphonse and Gaston act over the pigskin and Kenneth King gained possession of the ball on Marshall's 30 yard line. The Blue and White were momentarily stopped when Sanders lost the ball in a line plunge and Marshall recovered. This setback was short lived for the West Virginians also fumbled and King recovered for Kentucky. A series of end runs and line bucks carried the oval to the 2-yard line and Kirwan went over for the score. Sanders place-kicked for the additional point.

The Cats gained possession of the ball a few minutes after the second kick-off and by another series of line plays placed the pigskin on the 4-yard marker. Brewer, who had been sent in for Hughes before the play that placed the ball close to the goal, went over the last white line on a fake buck that turned into an end run.

Wildcats Run Wild

In the second period the Wildcats ran wild, scoring three touchdowns and kicking goal after each score. Ted Brewer put his second score across on an off tackle buck through the right side of the line. Sanders kicked goal. King kicked off to Marshall who returned the oval to the 35-yard line. Crist, Green quarter, attempted a pass which Brewer intercepted and carried to the Marshall 2-yard line, being stopped from behind by Crist. W. H. Rice bucked over to the touchdown, and Kirwan kicked goal. A pass Tracy to Evans, when the Cats were on the Marshall 40-yard line accounted for the last score of the first half. Evans dropped-kicked for the one point.

With a comfortable lead rolled up, Coach Jack Winn seemed content to experiment with his squad in the second half and sent substitute after substitute into the scrap. The final Cat score came in the third quarter when "Rabbit" Evans received a Marshall punt on the Green team's 30-yard line and with perfect interference dashed over the intervening chalk marks for a touchdown. Evans missed a drop kick in the try for goal.

"Red" Crist, Marshall pilot, was by far the outstanding green clad warrior. His passing reminded the Cat veterans of Roe Campbell, and his line plunging accounted for over half of the West Virginian's yardage.

To mention Kentucky's best would be to enumerate the entire Wildcat squad. Kenneth King, Bill McFarland and Captain Dell Ramsey were probably best in the line, while Brewer, Gregg, Kirwan, Evans and Sanders cut in with flashy runs.

Cincinnati defeated Kentucky Wesleyan 17-0 in a night game at Cincinnati last week. The contest was played under the glare of flood lights which rendered the playing field almost as bright as day. The Bearcat authorities want the Cats to play at night also, but this crowd of Wildcats, prefers to do its scrapping in the daytime.

Wonder what Coach Winn has against McFarland and Russell? Although every other man that started Saturday's scrap was relieved before the third period ended, "Mac" and "Rus" were left in. Bill reported that the afternoon's workout cost him six pounds but that he has already gained five of them back.

Spark Plug has made his entry into the ranks of the Cats, reposing on the noble shoulders of Turner Gregg. Just how and why "Slats" received that cognomen is a mystery, possibly because of his brains and speed.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL HOLDS MEETING

At a meeting of the Athletic Council held Wednesday evening in the Phoenix Hotel, Ryan Ringo, a senior in the college of Engineering, and Cornelius Anderson a senior in the Arts and Science College, were chosen as representatives of the student body on the council for the coming year. At this meeting the schedules of the various athletic teams of the University were arranged and preparations for the major trips of the varsity football squad were discussed.

The other members of the council are: Faculty, Prof. Enoch Grehan, Prof. Bureau, Prof. S. A. Boles, Prof. Funkhouser; business men: Louis Hagan and Hogan Yancey; alumni: E. B. Webb and Louis Hillenmeyer.

ELECTRICAL MACHINE TO SHOW CINCINNATI GAME

Saturday's Fray Followed Play By Play on Grid Graph

A Grid Graph machine has been installed in the Woodland Auditorium, where all the loyal who are unable to make the trip to Cincinnati Saturday to see the Blue and White tear thru the Big Red, may see a graphic description of the game play by play. The Grid Graph is a device whereby electric lights are employed to represent the players and which move according to the movements of the players at the place where the game is actually being played. The machine was procured by the Su-Ky Circle at a considerable expense and, in order to defray this expense and to create a fund with which to send the band to Centre to inspire pep into the team an admission of 50 cents will be charged. All students are urged to back the team by attending the Grid Graph presentation of the Cincinnati game Saturday.

ITS LACQUER-RED COLOR MAKES IT HARD TO LOSE

The Pen that made the Grade

Will Help You Make It Too

ONE reason alone that the Parker Duofold is invaluable to students is because fluent writing induces fluent thinking! You can't compose your thoughts if an unruly pen harries your brain. But Duofold's balanced swing, its super-smooth point, its fit and business-like feel in your hand, all give your mind free rein!

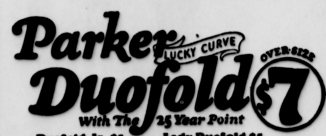

Ask your student friends who use this classic pen—they'll tell you they would rather let go of seven dollars than have to part with the faithful Duofold.

Its over-size ink capacity holds a long-distance ink supply. And its point is not only smooth as a polished jewel, but no style of writing can distort it; hence, a pen you can lend without fear.

Students call it the "All-American" Pen because it's the ranking favorite at leading universities and colleges.

Give yourself a flying start this year by getting Duofold this week.

NEW LITTLE THEATRE

It is dangerous to announce possible talent from out of town without standing to keep bad faith with the public, therefore, for the present, only such talent as is assured is announced. Mr. Tom Powers has assured the directors that he will appear in "The First Fifty Years." This play was one of the sensations of the New York dramatic season of a year ago, and has never appeared outside of New York. The date depends upon the length of the run of Mr. Power's present play, "Tarnish," which opened at the Belmont Theatre, New York, Monday evening, and which is considered by the critics as a remarkable achievement.

Mr. William Harringer, who has played with Mr. Powers, but who has devoted most of his time to the films both as an actor and assistant director in the Belasco studios, will appear in several plays and will assist with the directing. Mr. Barringer's face will, no doubt, be familiar to many Lexingtonians who have seen him in support of the film stars, Jack Pickford, and Gloria Swanson.

Mr. Oskar Hambleton, young Kentuckian, who appeared in New York with the Provincetown Players, will appear at the Romany Theatre and will assist with the art directing. Although very young, Mr. Hambleton is on the faculty of the New York School of Applied Art and Design and has designed several costumes for the Zeigfeld Follies and the Music Box Revue with much success.

The theatre will open for the first time December 9 with a Romany Revue which will be unlike any other revue in that it deals with coming events rather than past. Among the features of this revue will be an exquisite fantasy "The Happy Prince" adapted from Oscar Wilde with music for the harp by Liza Lehman. The opening number will be a gypsy scene in a moon lit forest. Many Lexington girls will appear as gypsies. There will also be a series of the shortest plays ever given, some being as short as thirty seconds. There will be a beautiful Venetian scene with exquisite setting and music.

There will be an interesting feature, a tennis game, slowed down eight times, played by real actors.

The second season will open January 16, 1924, with a remarkable comedy in three acts, with the films as a theme, entitled, "What is Wrong

With This Picture?" by Troy Lawson Perkins. The play will have a gifted cast and beautiful stage effects.

YEARLING TEAM OPENS

resented by "Buddy" Smith, who is the most likely candidate for quarterback. Mandt and Fuller, both former "Blue Devils," will probably get the first call at the half back positions. Frank Smith, a Mississippi product, is showing great form and will likely be the line plunger for Saturday's game.

The line will be composed of Bickel and DeHaven, tackles; Johnson, Portwood, Simms, or Rice, guards; Isaacs or McCann, center, and Vossmeier, Miller or King, ends.

The following men are showing up well and will probably get a chance Saturday: Backfield: Arnold, Thompson, Edger, Cruse, and Williams; line: Blocker, Hanlon and Colby; ends: E. Smith, Little, Mason and Sampson.

LAW NOTES

The Law College has just been presented by Rev. and Mrs. Charles Powell, with a handsome portrait of their son Phillip Thompson Powell, who was killed June 2, 1923. He was a member of the senior class, of the Phi Alpha Delta Law fraternity and the Kappa Alpha fraternity. He was one of the most popular men on the campus and had just completed his work for a degree in the law college which he would have received in June.

J. T. Oliver of the class of '22 who is now located in Eldorado, Ark., has been elected to the office of City Prosecutor of that place. This comes as a great compliment and honor to young Oliver who has only been there a year.

Roy Moreland of the class of '23, has gone to Harvard for a Master's degree in Law.
