Dearest Mable: Rom. 1:14

"Thank you" dear Mable for your kind letter, and for the inclosed gift. I only feel so unworthy to receive gifts again. I am afraid that I never will be able to do any thing in return to you. But Mable dear, the fact that I have been ill is not a drawback to me no rather an incentive to succeed in being useful, truly for God is nothing impossible and also we can evade all things by seeing Him who is invisible. God has been so wonderful in the past so I am not a bit afraid to trust Him for the future and Mable, what you doing for me now I sincerely wish to some indirect missionary work.

I hope these lines will reach you and your beloved husband in a state enjoying health and <sup>all</sup> which pertains to true happiness.

I am glad to say I am well and privileged to be very busy. I enjoy school and my Christian work, both.
