

CHEMISTRY

Starting at the front and reading from left to right:

1. Shaio-Fei Meng, Doris Hsiu-Ting Huang, Ying-Chi Cheng, Nancy J. Cate, Ruth I. Burge
2. Ching-Mei Chen, Chin-Mei Helen Chang, Albert R. Chambers, Chester L. Leach, Steven A. Winkle
3. Byron R. Christmas, James Lih-Ren Chao, Issac Mensah, Ching-Huei Lin

New graduate students

1974

RESEARCH

...the teacher's role is to facilitate the learning process, rather than to deliver content. This approach encourages students to take ownership of their learning and to develop critical thinking skills. The teacher acts as a guide, providing support and resources as needed, while the students actively engage in the learning process. This method is particularly effective in promoting student autonomy and fostering a love of learning.

