Basketers Draw First-Round Bye

By Earl L. Conn,
Assistant Sports Editor

Kentucky's Wildcats may have been snubbed by the NCAA selection committee, but they certainly received a warm reception by the National Invitation Tournament.

The Wildcats were seeded second in the NIT tourney which starts tomorrow with only the Bradley Braves from Iowa City, Ill., ranking above them. The Duquesne Iron Dukes were seeded third and St. John's was fourth.

Coach Adolph Rupp will lead his Wildcats into their first NIT Tuesday night at 9 p.m. when they meet the winners of the CNYV-San Francisco first round games. All four of the quarterfinal rounds were given by the winners of the CNYV-San Francisco first round games. All four of the quarterfinal rounds were given by the winners of the CNYV-San Francisco first round games.

First game in the tourney will pit Western Kentucky against Niagara at 8 p.m. on Saturday at 1 p.m. (all times are Central Standard Time). CNYV will play with San Francisco, last year's winners, at 2:45 p.m. Saturday night in the CNYV-San Francisco meeting at 7:15 p.m. and IU playing Syracuse at 9 p.m. In the upper bracket quarterfinals Bradley will meet the winner of the IU-Syracuse game at 8 p.m. with St. John's scheduled to play the winner of the Western-Niagara game at 9 p.m.

Kentucky plays Tuesday. Play in the lower bracket quarterfinals will be held Tuesday. Duquesne plays the winner of the IU-Syracuse game at 7:15 p.m. with Kentucky scheduled against the CNYV-San Francisco winner at 9 p.m. The semifinal round will be held Thursday with the first game set for 7:15 p.m. between the two lower bracket winners and the second at 9 p.m. between the two lower bracket winners. The final game will be played at 9 p.m. Saturday with the two semifinal losers playing for third place in the same time slot.

The tournament field in the Louisville tourney this year is loaded with powerful clubs which represent the cream of the crop for the 1949-50 season. Nine of the 12 teams in the top 20 in the final AP poll were CNYV, Niagara, and Syracuse received honorable mention.

Six of the teams finished in the top 10 for the season. The highest rated first; Kentucky third; Duquesne sixth; Western Kentucky, eighth; St. John's ninth; and LaSalle, tenth.

Kentucky will be trying for its second NIT win since the tourney was started in 1938. The Cats won the title in 1946 when they defeated Rhode Island State 46-45. That year the Cats stopped at the 77-53 and West Virginia 59-51 on their road to the title.

Of course, everyone remembers that the Cats also participated in the NIT last season in their attempt to annex both the NIT and NCAA titles, but were defeated in a great upset by Loyola of Chicago in their first game, going on to win the NCAA crown later.

12 Men Will Go
Kentucky will be expected to carry a 12-man team into the tourney and plans call for the Wildcats to leave Lexington Sunday. They will stay at the Paramount Hotel in New York City during the tourney.

Of the teams appearing in the tourney this year, St. John's has made the most appearances in the post-season show.

Beethovens has played in eight previous Internationals while Long Island University will be making its seventh appearance in this year's event. Kentucky owns one of the better tournament records with a total of four invitations for

17 UK Departments To Be Represented

By Kathryn Whitmer

The program for the Vocational Information Conference, which will begin on campus Tuesday, has been announced. It will consist of 17 speakers, representing as many University departments, outlining career opportunities for women in specific fields.

Each speaker will describe the current job outlook in his particular field and give detailed information on professional training needed by job applicants.

The three-day conference will open with a campus-wide meeting at Memorial Hall at 4 o'clock Tuesday. Guest speaker will be Virgil L. Couch, a University alumna now serving as personnel director for the Economic Cooperation Administration.

Freshman Attendance Required
All freshmen and sophomore women are required to attend the convocation in Memorial Hall, Dean Sarah B. Haines said. Only 4 o'clock classes will be considered an automatic excuse.

A vocational dinner in honor of the guest speakers and committee members will be given Tuesday evening in the Student Union Building by members of the staff of the Dean of Women and the House President's Council. Miss Rilma Buck, instructor in vocational guidance at Purdue University, will speak on "Women and Women's Work."

Vocational information will be available in the following subjects at 4 p.m. Wednesday: Elementary education, Music, Medical technology, room 124, Funkhouser Biological Science Building; speaker, Dr. Morris Scherer, head of the Department of Bacteriology.

Sing Entry Deadline Is Wednesday

Wednesday is the last day groups may enter the fourteenth annual All-Campus Sing.

No changes will be made in accompanists, leaders, or songs after Wednesday, according to Martha Shindheiser, Phi Beta president.

Only two or three songs may be chosen by each group because of the time limitation. Eight minutes is allotted each chorus to get on and off stage and to sing the selections.

In the last thirteen campus sings, Delta Tau Delta fraternity has won the men's contest seven times. Alpha Xi Delta won the women's competition last year and Jewell Hall won in 1948.

The usual capacity crowds are expected in Memorial Hall for the contest March 29, 30, and 31. Miss Shindheiser said. The sing will be attended by 50 Oregon Delta Kappa delegates who will be on campus for a regional ODK convention.

Both out-of-town and local judges will be used, and a different set will judge each night.

Twelve women's organizations will compete Wednesday night, March 30, and eight men's groups will sing the next morning. Four increases from each division will compete for men's and women's winner and runner-up titles on Friday, March 31.

The All-Campus Sing is sponsored by Phi Beta, Alpha Xi Delta, ODK, and Mortar Board.

SEC Tournament—Headlines And Sidelines

The University of Kentucky Wildcats walked off the Louisville Army floor last Saturday with their seventh straight Southeastern Conference championship after whipping Tennessee to a pulp in the final 96-55. Students, faculty, and friends of the University poured into Louisville to watch the Cats romp over three foes in little more than 24 hours. Roving photographer Ben Williams caught many interesting scenes which headlined and sidlined the tournament.

Shown in the upper left hand corner are Mrs. Adolph Rupp and son Heimer (seated) with Jim Kin's mother (standing). Mrs. Line had much of which to be proud as Jim was named the first team of the All-SEC squad.

At the top right, Fred Eisgrat and Betty Elliott (right) stand up to cheer the Cats on the victory. Fred and Betty, along with a few thousand other students, found the game and Louisville weekends very much to their liking.

At left center, Coach Adolph Rupp is congratulated by Gov. Earle C. Clements for the great team victory as the governor presents Coach Rupp the championship trophy.

It seems to be a tense situation for the basketballers as the cheerleaders are caught in one of their quicker moments at the lower right.

"THAT'S MY BOY," seems to be the words on the lips of Coach Rupp as he congratulates long Bill Striver for causing the tournament record for individual points in a single game. Big Bill poured through 37 points to tie the mark set in last year's tournament by former Wildcat center Alex Groza.

Follow-up examinations of drivers who have already been granted operators' licenses and approval of driver training courses in all Kentucky high schools were proposed Friday by State Traffic Director W. F. Ringo in an address at the closing session of the State Highway Conference. The two-day meet was sponsored jointly by the UK College of Engineering and the Kentucky Department of Highways.

The audience of approximately 500 city, county, and state officials at the conference's final session also heard an address on roadside improvement by N. R. Elliott, professor of landscape architecture at the University. Prof. Elliott recommended sowing of protective grasses on road shoulders to prevent erosion and clogged drainage facilities.

Friday's Speakers
Other featured speakers were Friday's program were Highway Commissioner John A. Beck and Deputy Commissioner V. P. Cline.

Emphasizing the need for a better program of highway construction, Cline said that Kentucky today has 46,778 miles of roads and expects future traffic.

Malone Talks On Jefferson

Thomas Jefferson was characterized as a liberal, humane, and optimistic man by Mr. Donald Malone in an address on "Jefferson—Then and Now" at the Fine Arts Building Friday night. Mr. Malone, a student of history at Columbia University, is the author of a multi-volume biography of Jefferson.

On present occasions such as the observance of the Bicentennial Party, Malone said he believed Jefferson would have human rights over state's rights. He said Jefferson would regard communism as a foreign ideology not in keeping with his values of integrity of personal freedom among powerful political structures.

All-Student Party Formed To Oppose Constitutionalists

By Joe Coyle

A new campus party, to be known as the All-Student Party, was organized this week. It is composed of Greeks and Independents.

Don Rogers, spokesman for the group, said Thursday that the party was formed to "create interest in campus government, and to provide an active opposition to the Constitutional Party."

Rogers presented the platform of the new party to the Kernel for publication, and commented, "We challenge the Constitutionalists to formulate a platform that has as many student interests in mind as ours."

The platform for the All-Student Party is as follows:

1. The Student Government Association is to have full and complete control over its own funds.

2. The seating arrangements for the student section of the football stadium are to be revised.

3. The class and holiday calendar for the coming year will be submitted to SGA and the answers thereon, in timely announcements in the Kentucky Kernel, or other media of information.

4. A program is to be set up whereby Kentucky students are paid to sell the merits of the University to their local high schools.

Founding Of New Party May Renew Competition

The founding of the All-Student party, and with it the two-party system, is a step toward more effective student government on the UK campus.

The Kernel, as in the past, will continue its policy of strict neutrality as concerns the merits of the Constitutional and All-Student candidates. Our only interest as a newspaper is in the promotion of increased student interest in SGA in order that the organization may become a stronger voice for the student.

Regardless of which party is victorious, we believe that competition between them will tend to bring before all students some of the important issues facing them and will relieve the Kernel as the sole champion (or scapegoat) of the student body.

We do not believe that representation on SGA as it now stands is either fair or effective. The current size of a college would not determine its number of representatives, even if a loosely-knit college were suitable as a basis for representation.

This is a problem for Student Government Association, and a very difficult one. But with more pressure brought to bear through competition, one or both of the parties may successfully determine a way in which every student on this campus is fully represented on his governing body.

Longer Basketball Season Advocated For I-M Players

Basketball is undoubtedly the favorite sport of the majority of athletically inclined students at this university. Perhaps, this is attributable to the outstanding record compiled each year by the varsity team; perhaps, to a love of the game acquired through years of competition in high school and other leagues. Regardless of the reasons, it is an undeniable fact that a lot of UK students like to engage in the sport.

Right now the intramural basketball tournament is underway with 54 teams competing. Allowing an average of eight men to a squad, this means that over 400 men are actively participating. The University intramural staff is to be commended for setting up such a program whereby so many are privileged to compete.

However, a large participation also has its drawbacks, and these the intramural staff seems to have recognized. Obviously since there are but three gymnasiums used for intramural competition, it is going to be hard to work out a schedule which allows each player to play all of the basketball he might desire. This difficulty is recognized.

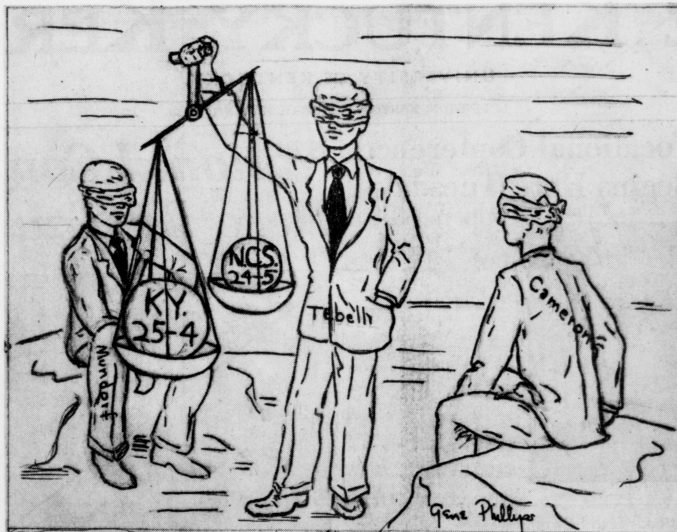

What is hard to understand is why the intramural season should begin at the late date which the present basketball program begins. The substitution of this program to other events which require the use of the gymnasium floors.

This season the first intramural games were played February 16, a date which marked the final phase of the recognized basketball season. Preceding that date, several minor sports formed the intramural program. While there will be found individual rabid devotees of each of these minor sports, we believe that curtailment of the season length of these sports would be advocated by the majority of intramural competitors. Thus, the basketball season could begin immediately after the Christmas holidays, or possibly during the first semester.

In regard to the use of the gym floors by organizations other than those affiliated with the University, we have special reference to the high school basketball teams using Alumni Gym at the site of the district and regional tournaments. Few other regions in the state have such facilities for conducting their tournaments. The local high school should not be so favored when it means the exclusion of the University student from his rightful privileges.

What is a slight objection to the present program is the fact that the intramural basketball season could be extended to include the winter sports participants.

"Regardless of what Mr. Mumford says, it's obvious State's record is best!"

NCAA Snub May Be Result Of Displeasure Voiced In '49

In all probability, there is more to the NCAA's snubbing Kentucky for North Carolina State in the forthcoming basketball tournament than meets the eye.

Last March, the Wildcats accepted bids to both the NCAA and the National Invitation tournaments. Immediately the chairman of the NCAA committee, Arthur Lomborg, let it be known that his organization "frowned" on this action by UK.

When the Cats lost in the first round of the Invitation and came back to win the NCAA championship for the second straight year, perhaps it irked the powers that be all the more. This might explain why the higher officials of the NCAA took no action whatsoever when Gus Tebell, athletic director at the U. of Virginia and chairman of the NCAA's Third District, cast the deciding vote for N. C. State despite everything favoring Kentucky.

Tebell, whose school formerly belonged to the Southern Conference in which N. C. State is a member, stated that he cast the vote against Kentucky because it had refused to play the Wolfpack in a playoff game to determine the district's representative. Yet Coach Rupp vigorously claims that he had not been asked to play in a playoff game to meet the Carolina cagers to decide the bid. Tebell's balloting for the Wolves came as a great shock to Coach Rupp, the Wildcat players, the UK students, in fact everyone here at the University.

The Cats definitely wanted to win the NCAA crown for the third straight season. As defending champion, they should have been given special consideration. That is only right.

Kentucky with 25 wins and four losses, had a better season record than North Carolina State (24-5).

On top of that, the Big Blue defeated two of the best teams in the nation on successive nights at the Sugar Bowl, besting Villanova and Bradley, to prove their class.

N. C. State two weeks ago lost to Villanova on its own floor. Kentucky beat Georgia Tech by 35 points here, while the Wolfpack trimmed the same team at Raleigh by 23. In their first meeting with the University of North Carolina, State eked out a 61-57 win. That was several days after Kentucky defeated U. of North Carolina 83-44.

The Cats were rated in practically every national poll above N. C. State. As Coach Rupp said in this week's Kernel, he had to do to pick the right team to buy a five-cent newspaper and learn which was the better team.

Perhaps the worst feature was Tebell's attending the Southern

Letters To The Editor

James Bowers has been named as the winner of the weekly "Letters to the Editor" contest. If he will stop by the Kernel sports office, Tom Diskin will present him with the prize, a carton of Chesterfield cigarettes.

Letters on the basis of low interest they are. All UK students is eligible to win at least two letters in any issue must be run before a prize can be awarded. All winning letters must be signed.

UK Sportsmanship Editor, The Kernel: It happened Feb. 25 in the Vanderbilt game. Mike Kelley, Vandy's center, started to dribble toward the basket. Wait Hirsch reached out and grabbed his arm. It was definitely an accidental foul, but it was a foul and just about everyone could see it.

But as Kelley stepped to the free throw line he was greeted by a chorus of boos that nearly rocked old Alumni Gym to its foundation. It was a terrible display of sportsmanship by the Kentucky students to say the least.

These actions continued all through the game. Granted that we wanted to win the game but this was hardly the manner in which to do it.

Several radio stations were carrying the game to every part of the state. I can't help but wonder what fans at home thought as they heard every Vanderbilt action boomed and their boos again.

But the attitude toward Kelley was nothing compared to the fans' treatment of Billy Joe Adcock. Here was undoubtedly one of the finest and cleverest ball players ever to play here at UK, but you wouldn't know it from the fans' action. When Billy Joe fouled out there were tears in his eyes but fans continued to hoot and holler and yell "Get off the floor you bum."

Only once before have I seen basketball fans behave in a more hostile—and shall we call it ignorant—manner.

This occurred when an Indiana high school team was losing most of its games. The fans started by booing the opposition but before the season was over they were booing their own players when they entered to do it.

Conference tournament and neglecting the SEC. The least he could have done was send a representative to Louisville to see what was going on in Tennessee in the finals.

What did UK have to do to get the bid? Beat the Vols 195-58? Mr. Tebell said late last week that he would wait until after the two tournaments to select the team. Then after both won easily he suddenly decided that Kentucky should be eliminated for allegedly not wanting to meet the Carolina quintet.

The Kernel sent Mr. Tebell a telegram this Monday asking for an explanation. He did not answer. Perhaps he is now lost somewhere in the Blue Ridge Mountains until after the tournaments.

At any rate, every Kentuckian will be watching to see what N. C. State does in the NCAA tourney.

Science Makes a Better Mop

Cleaning tasks lightened by new Du Pont cellulose sponge yarn

FASTER AND CLEANER

Mops made with cellulose sponge yarn pick up and retain so much water they need wringing less often. You can mop a floor with them in far less time than it formerly took. They dry quickly, leave no lint. They outwear other mops three to five times. Best of all, perhaps, they stay dirt-free longer than ordinary mops. Here is something women will appreciate—a clean mop!

The introduction of these new cleaning tools is another example of how business firms of all sizes depend on each other. The Du Pont Company had facilities for specialized research on cellulose sponge. Because Du Pont could supply sponge yarn economically, some twenty mop manufacturers today have a better product that saves maintenance people and the American housewife time, labor and money.

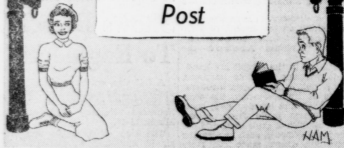

SEND FOR "The Story of Cellulose," a 43-page booklet that tells how wood and cotton are transformed into sponges, textile fibers, lacquers, plastics, coated fabrics, Cellulosephane and many other products. Illustrated with photographs, charts and chemical equations. For free copy, write to the Du Pont Company, 2803 Neverside Blvd., Wilmington 98, Delaware.

Each fraternity and sorority is limited to one competing team. CONN-COX 'UNS

By Earl Conn and Bob Cox

Jobs come and jobs go, but please remember, y'all, there is no such thing as a new job. So if you've heard it before, just laugh again and see how much better you feel.

The reader of a double meaning job is like the subject of a seduction. He doesn't have to—but he usually does.

Or to put it more crudely: In Panama, it's life; in a professor, it's clever; but in a college newspaper, it's smutty.

Many thanks to Miss Beth Hicknell of the Psychology department for her very kind and complimentary letter. For those kind words, Beth, you are now a full-fledged Conn-Cox-Un Colonel.

How you Committee Interrupted impatiently. "I am not prone to interrupt."

"Marc" Cleopatra complained impatiently. "I am not prone to interrupt."

She: "There's one thing I want to tell you about you go any further."

He: "What's that?"

She: "Don't go any further."

"Where in hell have I seen you before?"

"What part of hell are you from?"

First engineer (in math exam): "How far are you from the correct answer?"

Second engineer: "Just two seats."

Tri-D: "That boy friend of mine is trying at times."

Theda: "That's nothing, mine is trying all of the time."

A new bank clerk just graduated from college, dictating, was uncertain of a certain phrase, so he said to his stenographer: "Do you retire a loan?"

The watchful-eyed one awoke, sleepily: "No, I sleep with Mama."

"Hey, what do you mean swearing before my wife?"

"Sorry, I didn't know she wanted to hear that."

Dick: "Do you believe in club-foot women?"

Hal: "Well, yes, if kindness falls."

Lawyer: "Members of the jury, the driver of the bus stated that he was only four miles from the town. Think of it—the long journey and you get to your destination only four miles from the bus slowly drove over his body."

First co-ed: "I had a date with an absent-minded guy last night. He asked me if you know that he's absent-minded?"

First co-ed: "He gave me a zero this morning."

Lee: "Did you see in the paper where a fellow beat his wife with a golf club?"

Henry: "No, I missed that. How many strokes did it take?"

UK Students Stay Warm Despite Coal Curtailment

By Holt Maslin

The recent coal strike meant "closed shop" for many schools throughout the country, but because of an efficient Maintenance Division, the classrooms were kept warm. Through Maintenance efforts, the central heating plant continued to operate on a comparatively small amount of coal obtained from a source other than their regular contractor.

The University's Maintenance, which is now housed in a large frame building about one mile from the campus on the Experiment station farm, will receive their new $750,000 building now under construction. The new brick, steel, and concrete structure will be occupied sometime this summer, and due to more space it will allow the central heating plant to double in capacity.

Is Centrally Located
The chief advantage of the new Maintenance Building is its central location. Facing the intersection of Limestone and Upper Streets, its close position in relation to the campus will save considerable wear on the 23 trucks used by the division. The building is functionally designed from the standpoint of the machinery to be used inside.

The University's Telephone Exchange is the only department of the Maintenance Division that will keep its present position in the Funkhouser Building. This department maintains a 24 hour service every day of the year.

Reminiscent Waiter Recalls Those Good Ole Gone Days

By Rosemary Hilling

"Worry" will kill you worse than anything," I ain't worry' about nuthin'." And George, 66-year-old veteran and favorite waiter at the Tavern on Limestone Street, blinked his ever sleepy eyes twice to emphasize his philosophy.

Short and shuffling George White came to Lexington 20 years ago and started his table hopping career at the Tavern. In his own words, he had a steady manner, has made him a tradition to each college student who has entered the University.

Recalls Friday Meetings
George smiled sheepishly when thinking of the old days. He recalled the regular meetings of the Friday Afternoon Club when students gathered at one large back table and "had a good ole time." The Blue and White Orchestra from the University was a daily feature of Tavern feasts. The little waiter misses those days when the students were so very friendly.

He names the return of his "boys" from the Olympics overseas, as the biggest one in his memory. That day George matched proudly in the parade to honor UK basketballers.

"We had a big time all right. Had to close up at 6 o'clock, we had so much fun," was George's summary of the occasion.

Likes Students
When asked about the 300 students George serves every day he said, "I like them all, and I believe

Archeology Museum Opens Eskimo Exhibit

The archeology museum opened a new exhibit on the Eskimo recently in connection with the geography course, "Societies Around the World."

Included in the exhibit are hand-made weapons, such as harpoons, arrow points, and spearthrowers; models of transportation, the seal-skin kayak and the dog sled; boots and slippers made from animal skins; samples of skins used, and domestic implements, such as arctic knives and spoons, made from ivory and horn.

This exhibit, which is to be permanent, will be expanded soon, and will include a woman's boat and a house model. Glenn Skille, museum supervisor, was in charge of color and arrangements. The museum is open from 2-5 p.m. every day except Saturday.

Mik is pasteurized by being heated to 143 degrees Fahrenheit, and then held at that temperature for 30 minutes.

Louisville, Ky., was named for Louis XVI of France.

They like me. "Tis are not so frequent as in the past, but George maintains the student with his pocket is rarer also.

George's "easy come, easy go" attitude is shown in his luck with the horses. He won $400 once on a parlay, and "blew it in, gave it away, and treated his friend" with his winnings.

Tavernites can thank George's wife for bringing him to Lexington. A native of Cincinnati, he moved to Lexington because of property that his wife owned in the Bluegrass town. Previous to that George had been a cement finisher in Cincinnati.

"I didn't like to go to school," George drawled, "so my Daddy said I'd go to work." At the age of 12, he left the Madisonville, Ohio, school and began working at odd jobs.

Twenty years later George married, and now has six children and eight grandchildren to his credit. Mrs. White died several months ago. They had been married for 30 years.

After 20 years with UK students, perhaps George's view of the foolishness of worry has proven successful. He advises students to use the formula even during finals.

Southern R.R. Shows Diesel To Engineers

A full size, cut-away diesel locomotive will be exhibited to students of the College of Engineering by the Southern Railway System on March 12-14.

The locomotive, which was originally exhibited at the Chicago Railroad Fair last summer, is reported to be the largest slow motion, cut-away portable mechanical exhibit ever constructed.

The display consists of a locomotive 51 feet long which weighs 120,000 pounds. It was constructed by the Electro-Motive Division of General Motors Corporation.

The unit can be studied from the outside of the car or on the inside for a view of certain parts. It is possible to observe the flow of fuel oil, lubricating oil, cooling water, and air through various lines and passages.

The exhibit is equipped with special fluorescent lighting so that it may be inspected at night.

Mink farms are located in dense groves because the animals' fur tends to "rust" in bright sunlight.

Miss Prunella Tells Writer All About Her Operations

By Rowland Friend "Is dog man best friend?" asked Miss Prunella Hardness today as newsmen gathered to question her about her last operation.

Looking meekly from her caged hospital room, she lamented the treatment she had met with since being brought to her fair abode.

"It all happened a year ago," she said. She was 19-months-old then and was enjoying life as all other solid canines of her neighborhood do.

She had even managed to trace her family tree all the way to a Union Station viaduct mongrel called "Bibi." This is an almost impossible feat in these days, she admits.

Prunella says that she was one of a group of six pups born on a cold December morning somewhere between Upper and Mill Streets.

Thetas Win Basketball Championship

By Anne Boyd
Kappa Alpha Theta sorority walked off with the 1950 WAA Basketball championship last week by defeating Kappa Delta, 14-5.

Under the KAT, who bowed to the KD's last season in the finals, was led by five fine players of Martha Durham, Mary Strode and Carolyn Critchlow.

Outstanding for the losing KD's were Dede King, Joyce Reynolds and Betty Patterson. Others turning in good games for the losers were Phyl Warren, Joan Graham, Mary Alice Shicker, Ella Bena Potter and Mimi Frankling. But this year's trophies will now under the Kappa Alpha Theta roof.

Other basketball trophies include the victory of the sophomores over the freshmen and the juniors' victory over the seniors. With Eula West scoring 18 points and Billie Moore scoring 14 points, the sophomores ran up a tally of 36 to 20 over the freshmen.

But the first-year girls gave them a game; Marilyn Jody, Nancy Young, and George Jones were responsible for the points, with Mary McKinney being a stable guard. But these sophomore guards, Mimi Smith, Ruth Halverson, Meave O'Toole, stopped the freshmen from scoring cold. In other contest Chris Morris and Bonnie Sharp led the way for the juniors 19-12 victory over the seniors. The rally by the seniors in the second half with the able scoring of Nancy Conway and Leah Calhoun did not prove to be enough to top the juniors.

The winners, the sophomores and the juniors were scheduled to play each other this Wednesday.

The table tennis tournament is down to the finish now. Six rounds plus semi-finals and the final game make up the tournament. Wednesday, March 8, was the deadline for the fourth round, but leaving only a few more games to be played. There are only eight women at the present time left in this tourney. At the end of Round Four, this number will be reduced to four.

Among those still in the battle is A. T. Rice who has previously won several tennis trophies including the Louisville City in 1949 and the STB in 1950.

Plans are in full swing for the UK WAA sponsored High School Play Day, March 25. All high schools in Fayette county have been invited to participate. The play will be at the University of Kentucky. The cast includes Louise, Berta, Clara, Marie, Mimi Franklin, Bonnie Sharp and Charlie Peters have been selected to lead in setting up the plans for this project.

WAA Picnic team is planning several more with other colleges. Two touring teams will travel to Cincinnati on March 18 to meet the University of Cincinnati.

Legal Group Elects

Robert G. Lentz was elected Justice of the Henry Clay chapter of Phi Alpha Delta, national legal fraternity, at a meeting recently.

Other officers elected are James V. Marcum, vice justice; Charles S. Gray, secretary; Lester F. White, treasurer; Boyd Taylor, marshal; and Sam C. Hill, reporter.

Griffith and Kirchner have not reported for practice yet, and loss of these boys will be keenly felt, the Wildcat mentor said, as they have been consistent winners for the Blue and White. Griffith is a distance runner, and Kirchner runs the 440 and 880-yard dashes, and anchors the relay team. He placed fifth in the 1000-yard run in the Purdue relays last year.

Fralmon was not in school last semester, and it is not known whether he will be eligible.

Ignarski, Clark, Burno, Pillion and Lawson are footballers, and their status depends on the length of spring practice. Ignarski has shown promise as a shot putter, while Clark, Lawson, and Pillion are top-notch sprint men. Burno threw the javelin and disc last year.

Whitaker, a high jumper, is a member of the basketball team and will not be out until after the NIT tourney is over.

Seaton said that a "lack of scholarships handicaps the possibility of a first-class team.

Track Coach Gloomy About Coming Season

By Bob Gorham
Kentucky's thirty-started track team, minus the services of four lettermen, and with several others on the doubtful list, has been limbering up for ten days in an effort to get ready for their first meet, April 15 on Still Field against Vanderbilt.

The prospects look pretty bleak. Coach Don Seaton said this week he went on to explain that the team—Jack Dasher, Frank Smotherman, Johnny Melhus and Don Phelps—are gone from last year's group. That's just only one line—Louisville, 78 1-2-55 1-2; and Louisville, 67 2-3-54 1-1. They lost to Tennessee, 57-74. They finished their season by scoring 8-1-2 points in the Southeastern Conference meet at Birmingham.

The Wildcats won three dual meets last year and lost one. They defeated Cincinnati, 68 2-3-53 1-3; Vanderbilt, 78 1-2-55 1-2; and Louisville, 67 2-3-54 1-1. They lost to Tennessee, 57-74. They finished their season by scoring 8-1-2 points in the Southeastern Conference meet at Birmingham.

On the doubtful list are George Kirchner, Bob Fralmon, Dick Griffith, John Ignarski, Emory Clark, Cliff Lawson, Tommy Pillion, Al Bruno, and Skip Whitaker.

Griffith and Kirchner have not reported for practice yet, and loss of these boys will be keenly felt, the Wildcat mentor said, as they have been consistent winners for the Blue and White. Griffith is a distance runner, and Kirchner runs the 440 and 880-yard dashes, and anchors the relay team. He placed fifth in the 1000-yard run in the Purdue relays last year.

Donkey Game To Be Held Next Friday

A donkey basketball game featuring Bob Gain and Harry Ulinski on one team and Coach Bryant and Coach Moseley on the other, will bring Alumni Gym down on its ears next Friday night.

The K Club of the University of Kentucky is sponsoring this donkey basketball game in which the football players will compete against the coaching staff, all on rubber-shoed donkeys.

Staid old Alumni Gym, which has looked complacently on while valiant Wildcat teams squeezed through tight ones, lost some tough ones, and took 84 straight over the last few years, is due to flutter its window shades when it sees this basketball game.

Big Lloyd McDermott, probably twice as large as his mount, says he wants to guard Coach Underwood; Bob Pope figures he can hold Coach Lassie to a minimum of points.

At the halftime, Shorty Jamerson will put on a show on the trampoline, and the Lexington Junior Tumbling Troupe will perform on the mats.

The games will be held two nights, Friday and Saturday, with Saturday night at the Lafayette Hotel. Dorothy Doyle and Mrs. Robert Courtney were in charge of arrangements.

Burglars were halted in their attempt to rob a safe here by tear gas, but it didn't come from policemen's guns. A tear gas "bomb" was rigged on the inner door of the safe. When the crackers broke into it they were routed. The contents of the safe were intact.

DisKintucky Sports Review

—By Tom Diskin, Sports Editor—

The Kentucky Wildcats have chartered plane Sunday for New York City and the National Invitational tournament. It will be the Cats' first appearance in the NIT in the last four years.

In 1946, Ralph Beard and Wah Jones sparked UK to a 46-45 win over Rhode Island State in the finals. The following season, the Cats lost to Utah, 48-49, in the title game. Then last March Loyola took the Big Blue in the quarterfinals, 67-56, for the upset of the 1948-49 basketball season.

With seven of the Associated Press' first 10 teams in the Invitational, the Cats definitely have their work cut out for them. Bradley U. of Peoria, Ill., is favored to win. New York oddsmakers have listed Western Kentucky as the No. 2 choice, although the NIT officials seeded UK in the second position.

Coch Rupp was very pleased with the practice sessions held earlier this week. He said "I've never had a team with any more spirit and hustle. They look ready to me."

The Cats were disappointed at not being selected for the NCAA. But now they appear determined to win the NIT and show the NCAA that it picked the wrong team.

Should Kentucky win the Invitational, it will be a terrific victory for most of the squad is composed of sophomores. Against Tennessee last Saturday they showed superb form. No team in the nation could have beaten them that night.

One of the main reasons for UK's success this year has been their defense. Now with the snubbing received this week from the NCAA, they appear all the more eager to climb higher. They are now ranked by the AP poll as the No. 3 contender. By winning the NIT, Kentucky would probably end up in the top place.

For the students of UK, we wish the Cats all the success in the world in the forthcoming tournament.

Unless CCNY pulls one of the upsets of the season tomorrow in the opening round of the National Invitational Tournament (NIT), Kentucky should be meeting San Francisco Tuesday night in the quarterfinals.

Figuring that the California team will dispose of CCNY without too much trouble, it will mean that the 1949 NIT winners will meet the 1948 NIT winners in the quarterfinals, the 1949 NCAA champion.

Never before have these two teams clashed. It will be a battle of seniors versus sophomores. For the San Francisco team are loaded with fourth-year men. Last year, when they won the Invitational, the Princeton basketball team had some seniors on the squad, no seniors, and just one sophomore. Now these nine netters are playing their final year.

They bow out of college competition with the tournament. They will definitely make them together to beat.

Last March we saw San Francisco defeat Utah (64-63) in the quarterfinals of the NIT, but Bowling Green (49-39) in the semis; and then Loyola of Chicago (48-47) in the championship tilt.

Never before had we seen a team with more spirit and will to win. It was amazing. When one of their players would score a basket or make an outstanding play, the crowd, most of the San Francisco reserves jumped to their feet, clapped and yelled encouragement to their teammates.

It will be a long time before we will forget the play of Don Logan, of the San Francisco team, who was named the Most Valuable Player for the 48 NIT.

Logan scored 17 points against Manhattan in the opening round, 14 against Utah; 24 against Bowling Green; and 24 against Loyola. He is 6-6 in height, the same as Shelby Linville, weighs only 140 pounds, but is a great all-around player.

He guarded 6-11 Chuck Sharr of B-G and outscored him by four points. Lanky Don won the hearts of New York fans by his fight. Because of rather shallow bench strength, Logan ran March unopposed by had to play the entire 40 minutes. He is definitely one to watch in the coming tournament.

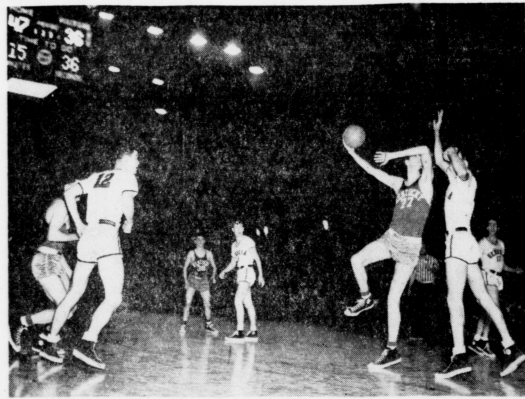

The Southeastern Conference game carried at Louisville was a huge success. Athletic Director A. B. Shively and Sports Publicist Ken Kuhn handled the tournament very well.

But the selection of the All-Tournament team, under the direction of Alabama's Jeff Cozart, left a bitter taste in the mouths of the 8,000 who witnessed the title game Saturday.

They asked: Why was Spivey left off the first team and why was Hirsch omitted from the first and the second teams?

Why the voting system wasn't completely changed last year when Groza, one of the greatest of all time, was left off the 1948 All-Tournament first team, we'll never quite understand.

Strange as it may sound, the Conference coaches voted for the honor team Saturday afternoon, before

Cats Win 12th SEC Crown; Murder Tennessee In Finals

For the sixth time in 17 years, Kentucky faced the Volunteers of Tennessee in the SEC tournament finals and this time the Cats went wild, winning the title, 95-58, before 8,000 fans at the Louisville Armory last Saturday night.

It was UK's seventh consecutive SEC championship and 12th in the 17 tournaments that have been held by the Conference.

The Wildcats played 40 minutes of brilliant ball in downing the orange-jerseyed Jaws from Knoxville. Bill Spivey was hot and scored 27 points to tie the record held by Alex Groza for the highest total points for a tournament game.

UK's Hugh Jones, brother to Wah Wah, put the Vols ahead, 2-0, with a long set shot but Spivey hit a freer to tie it up and Jim Lane drove in for a trip to send UK in front for the rest of the tilt. Spivey and Lane had 33 of UK's 43 points at halftime. In the final half all the Cats took turns scoring against the helpless Vols.
