KENTUCKIANS FIGURE IN LAW ASSOCIATION

Judge Lafferty Makes Address Before American Law Schools Body.

CHANGES TO BE MADE

State University of Kentucky was represented at the annual meeting of the Association of American Law Schools in Chicago, January 28-30, by Judge W. T. Lafferty, Dean of the College of Law.

This association is composed of forty-three law schools of standard grade. Its purpose is to advance law school work and, to build up the grade and standard of the schools.

The standard of the law college of State University will be raised next year. All students under the age of twenty-one matriculating after September 1, 1915, will be required to do one year of college work before graduating from the College of Law.

A number of addresses were made at the meeting. Joseph H. Beale, Dean of Yale Law School, made the principal address. Judge Lafferty made an address on the "Work of the Practice Court."

A very gratifying incident of the meeting was that, of the ninety delegates present from forty-three states, five of the deans were originally Kentuckians.

Arrangements are about to be completed whereby Judge George Durell, of Louisville, graduate of Yale, will deliver a course of lectures on Federal court practice to the law students of State University. Judge Durell was a judge on the Appellate bench for eight years and for the last four years has been Federal District Attorney.

Judge Lafferty says the law library is to be increased with addition of 600 volumes within a short time.

Connie Mack Said to Be After Jim Park For Athletics.

WRIGHT ALSO WANTED

(Lexington Herald.)

Efforts of Connie Mack, the leader of the Philadelphia Athletics of the American League, to land James Park, the stellar hurler with the State University base ball team for his pitching staff next season, were made known yesterday through Coach Alpha Brumage, of the University team, through whom the Philadelphia management is working for Park's services. "Rasty" Wright, an outfielder, also is slated for a berth with the Cleveland team, it

KENTUCKY HIGH SCHOOL QUARTERLY IS ISSUED

First Edition of Journal for Kentucky High Schools.

This week has brought forth the first issue of the Kentucky High School Quarterly. The Journal is published under the direction of Prof. J. T. C. Noe, head of the Department of Education, and from the first edition augurs to become a valuable publication for Kentucky high schools. Professor Noe has put forth much effort that the Quarterly might be published and at the same time has been assisted by professors, students and principals of high schools.

The opening article was produced by Professor G. M. Baker, associate professor of Education in the University, entitled, "Criteria of Class Efficiency." Many other articles follow of like quality.

The journal is well prepared, as to material and final preparation of the press and will become an aid to many teachers.

MRS. MADISON CAWEIN TO GIVE A READING

Mrs. Madison Cawein, Louisville, will give a reading in Lexington Tuesday afternoon, January 12, under the auspices of the College Woman's Club. This engagement was made before the death of her husband, and Mrs. Cawein has decided not to cancel it. Mrs. Cawein is one of the widely known readers of this country. The program follows:

"Traveling Man," by Lady Gregory. Group of poems, "The Old Spring," "Dreams," "The Whippoorwill," "The Quest," "Niello," by Madison Cawein. Mrs. Cawein will sing three poems set to music by Mildred Hill, J. P. Grant and Ella Hausen Bartmess.

INTER-SOCIETY DEBATE IN CHAPEL FRIDAY

Union and Patterson Meet in Their Annual Debate.

LOVING CUP AT STAKE

The annual debate between the Union and Patterson Literary Societies will be held in chapel Friday night at eight o'clock. The date for this contest was set for December, but in order to give one member of the Patterson Society ample time to prepare his speech it was postponed until Friday night, January 8th.

The Union Society will be represented by Messrs. S. S. Combs, C. W. Bailey and H. N. Farmer, and the Patterson Society by Messrs. O. W. Willet, J. S. Slatley and F. O. Mayes. The question for this logamachy is, "Resolved, That the Monroe Doctrine should be abandoned by the United States." The Patterson Society will affirm, while the Union will present the negative of the aforesaid question.

Three judges have been selected to judge the winners and to these will be presented the Barker trophy, which has been in the possession of the Union Society for the last year. Also a list of five judges has been selected to select three members from the two teams to represent the University against Georgetown in the Kentucky Debating Association.

The Kentucky-Georgetown debate will be held in our chapel Friday night, March 12. The question for this debate will be, "Resolved, That the State of Kentucky should adopt the unicameral system of government." Georgetown chose the negative, leaving State the affirmative. It has been three years since these two institutions have met in debate and this contest will be one of much interest.

STROLLER'S CAST FOR 'CHARLEY'S SAUNT' STRONG

Rehearsals for Big January Production Resumed at Patterson Hall.

The cast for "Charley's Aunt," the play which is to be put on the road early this month by the Strollers, the Dramatic Club of State University, as announced at the close of ante-holiday rehearsals at Patterson Hall, by Herbert Graham, stage manager, is as follows:

Sir Francis Chesney—E. L. Frazier, Lawrenceburg.
Stephen Spettigue—William Shinnick, Shelbyville.
Brassett—John Marsh, Maysville.
Jack Chesney—Louis Macloskey, Collingswood, N. J.
Charley Wykeham—James McConnell, Arlington.

Lord Fancourt Babberley—Leo J. Sandmann, Louisville.

Amy Spettigue—Alice Gregory, Louisville.

Kitty Verdun—Rebecca Smith, Paducah.

Ela Delahay—Adelia Williamson, Hopkinsville.

Donna Lucia d'Alvadorez—Katherine Mitchell, Bowling Green.

With the exception of Mr. Frazier, all members of the cast, which is a strong one, have had parts in previous Stroller productions. Rehearsals were resumed immediately on the return of the members of the cast from their holiday.

THIRD CADET HOP SATURDAY 3:30 TO 5:30

The third cadet hop of the year will be held in the Armory Saturday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30. A Saxophone trio will furnish the music for the occasion and another successful hop is assured.

Those desiring to attend who have not yet received their tickets can obtain same from the commandant.

UNIVERSITY MEN LEAD IN RELIGIOUS WORK

Gospel Teams Visit Carlisle and Falmouth During the Holidays.

ARE WELL RECEIVED

In a fearless, yet helpful manner, the eight men on the State University Y. M. C. A. gospel teams went at their work of teaching practical Christianity to the men and boys of Carlisle and Falmouth, Ky.

The campaigns were conducted for five days, beginning Wednesday, Dec. 30th and ending last Sunday, Jan. 3rd.

Carlisle is a fine community of about 1,500 people, some forty miles from Lexington on the L. & N. railroad. They did not need a gospel team any more, perhaps, than the average Kentucky town of its size—but they happened to have a few live wires living there who knew the town did need a virile, red-blooded presentation of Christianity to the young people. C. C. Cole, a prominent Methodist business man, headed the local committee, and was aided prominently throughout by E. J. Beers, Superintendent of the Presbyterian Sunday School, also a business man and head of a wholesale house. But the man of pronounced leadership in the community is Rev. W. F. Reager, pastor of the Christian church, a "live wire" if you ever saw one. He used to be pastor of the First Christian Church of Portland, but his health broke down, and he moved back to Kentucky, which he says "seems providential, as both the children can go to school now in the South." These men prepared the way for a great work by State's gospel team.

Skeptical at Start.

At first the town was a little skeptical as to the real purpose of the visit of these college fellows. Some thought it was to get an increase in the enrollment next year. Others thought the team was out to make a little vacation money. Especially peculiar to many, and the occasion of scores of remarks was the fact that State University actually had fellows who could preach a straight Christian message and follow it with a personal work—hand-to-hand encounter—aimed at getting the resident to make an out and out stand for Christ.

But State had the men at Carlisle, as well as the other team of the same sort at Falmouth, and both teams made good.

The Carlisle team was led by E. L. Hall, Secretary of the University Y. M. C. A. With him were Clifford Dotson, Bart Peak and Karl Zerfoss.

The town was posted in advance by the big signs headed, "Christianity Not a Dead Issue! Proven!" Union Gospel meetings beginning Wednesday evening at the Baptist Church. Father and sons meeting and closing service at the Christian Church," etc., etc.

Opens Wednesday Night.

The team arrived just in time for the opening service Wednesday night. The crowd was small, but they got right down to business, every man making an enthusiastic blood-warming talk. Thursday night Dotson hammered down a few facts on the calls of the day for men. Peak followed the next night with a heart-reaching appeal to cut out bad habits. On Saturday night, Zerfoss exposed the evil influence of a sinful life on others.

All into it by Sunday.

By Sunday the town was awake. That afternoon a crowd of fathers and sons crowded in to hear Zerfoss and Hall. Decisions were recorded to unite with the church and live better lives. But the closing service brought over half the town out and seats were at high premium, even the aisles being filled.

On Saturday night four college men, Bart Peak and Karl Zerfoss, of State, Paul Reagor and John Barclay, of Transylvania, and Howard Wills, manager of the Carlisle skating rink, played a local team a game of basket ball at the rink in which the former won 35 to 10. In this way many of the fellows in town were interested in the meetings and on Sunday afternoon a large crowd of boys came out.

The presiding officer in introducing Secretary Hall as the closing speaker, expressed the gratification of all who had attended the meetings for the great awakening of the community. He stated that it was the first time since he had lived there that the churches had gotten together; that man had been brought back to the church who had avoided it for twenty years; that the leaders of "dives" had actually been reached; that just "today we have organized among ourselves to clean up this town."

Make Good Impression.

"But of extraordinary interest," he stated, "was the fact that State University, our own university, after many years of reputation entirely contrary to this sort of thing, has begun through its Y. M. C. A. to show all Kentucky that among her students are men of Christian leadership and influence. "We shall," he added, "all feel safer in sending our boys there in the future."

DETAILS OF WORK AT FALMOUTH

The Y. M. Y. A. Gospel Team, composed of Frank Kennedy, Marcus C. Redwine, J. T. Gelder and Joe Torrence, which visited Falmouth, Ky., from December 30 to January 3, report a profitable time.

The young men held a series of meetings at all the churches of the town each evening in the interest of the boys and men of Falmouth. They were ably supported by the ministers of the town and other local workers. Mr. Redwine made the first talk of the series on "Temptation," Thursday evening. On Friday evening Joe Torrence spoke on "The Kind of Men the World is Demanding." Messrs. Kennedy and Redwine sang a duet at this meeting. J. T. Gelder made a talk on

"Do My Sins Effect Others," Saturday evening. Mr. Lee M. Terrell, State Student Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., Mr. Torrence and Mr. Redwine made talks at the Fathers and Sons meeting Sunday afternoon. Frank Kennedy, the live leader of the team, made the closing talk on "The Fight for Character," Sunday evening.

All the meetings were enthusiastically attended and much interest was manifested by the people of Falmouth in the work of the team. The members of the team held personal interviews with a large number of men of the town each day. The boys and young men of Falmouth were especially requested to enlist in Christian service and to interest themselves in the young peoples' organizations of the various churches. Each of the team spoke to these organizations and to the Sunday Schools.

That the unselfish work of these Y. M. C. A. workers was appreciated by the people of Falmouth was shown by the fact that they were so courteously received into their homes and treated with the utmost kindness. The team wishes to express its appreciation of this kindness through the columns of The IDEA.

NO BASKET BALL GAME FRIDAY NIGHT

Both games of basket ball that were scheduled to be staged in Buell Armory Friday night have been cancelled. The reason for cancellation was the result of those in charge being unable to agree on officials and terms.

A majority of the games of the boys' team will be played away from home. State girls will meet T. U. girls in a practice game next week.

VARSITY TRACK TEAM TO MEET VANDERBILT

Graduate Manager Turner has announced that arrangements have been completed with Vanderbilt to hold a track meet on Stoll Field April 17.

Other colleges and universities are asking dates for a meet and it is evident that the track team will enter several contests.

STUDENTS GET "18"

At a recent meeting of the athletic committee fourteen of the Freshmen football squad of State University were awarded their numerals, "18." The committee considers the wearing of the class numerals as such an honor as the coveted "K." The men awarded the numerals were: C. Haydon, T. Haydon, Wm. Rodes, Gibson, Earl Grabfelder, Kelly, Britton, Kinney, Eubank, Hickerson, James Surver, Dempsey and Spalding.

A "K" to Robert C. Dabney of the '14 class, was given for tennis playing. It is the first time that such a recognition was made for tennis. The award was made by Dr. John J. Tigert, who based his decision on the ruling made by former Coach Sweetland that any student representing the University for a certain number of times should be eligible for a "K."

STATE STUDENTS ATTEND FRATERNITY CONFERENCE

Several State students attended conferences of their respective fraternities during the holidays. The annual Phi Delta Theta convention was held in Birmingham, Alabama. Mr. James Park was the delegate from the local chapter. Messrs. Clark Rogers and Harry Melton also attended the convention.

The bi-annual conference of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity was held in Chicago. Mr. E. B. Webb represented the State University chapter.

The national convention of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity was in Nashville, Tenn. Mr. Roy Wallace was the official delegate from the chapter here.

Many Farmers Attend Lectures and Farm Product Displays.

LARGE ATTENDANCE

The annual Agricultural Congress, known as Farmers' Week, is now in session. Tuesday was the opening day and the congress will continue during the entire week with a well planned series of lectures and displays of excellent agricultural products.

The entire realm of agriculture is embraced in the congress. Beef cattle, bee keepers, swine breeders, poultry, corn, sheep, fruits, dairy products, and mule breeders indicate to some extent the scope of the fair of such absorbing interest to the farmer.

There is also an association for the ladies. The Home Economics Association has a wide program covering the entire five days of the convention. The displays in this interesting department are located in the Education Building and are quite attractive and well attended. Special lectures and illustrations have been given by the ladies connected with this department.

Tuesday the Beef Cattle and Beekeepers' Associations met, the former first, in the Agricultural Building and later in chapel where the crowd could be better accommodated. The recent action of the State and National Government in slaughtering animals infected with the foot and mouth disease was approved and appropriate resolutions drawn up. The Legislature was urged to pay the owners of the stock for their losses sustained. The Legislature was also asked to erect a building on the campus to be used as a lecture and exhibition hall. Dr. Joseph Kastle, director of the Experiment Station, gave a very interesting and instructive address. Mr. Charles Caldwell, of Danville, also gave an interesting talk on cattle feeding. Mr. C. H. Berryman was re-elected president.

The beekeepers' assembly was held in the Experiment Station. Exhibits and lectures were highly instructive and interesting.

The Poultry Association was held Wednesday in the Agricultural Building. The exhibits in the armory are excellent and the line of spectators is always present. The Swine Breeders' Association also met on Wednesday.

The congress gives every indication of being highly successful and is sure to be an annual agricultural festival to the joy and profit of all who are interested.

ROAD BUILDING WORK
ATTRACTS ATTENTION

Course in Highway Construction on This Week at University.

Among the features of the Course of Highway Construction being given at State University this week is the large exhibition of road machinery and the building of a tarvia road on the campus.

This exhibition of construction machinery is probably the largest of its kind ever held in Kentucky. A large tent has been erected on the campus to shelter the machinery where the public is invited to come and inspect these machines.

The public is also cordially invited to watch the construction of the tarvia road which is the new composition for road building just introduced.

In addition to these exhibitions there will be the lecture course on all modern methods of road construction, all of which will be open to the public. Everybody interested in good roads is urged to attend these lectures.

CONDITION EXAMS BEGIN THURSDAY

Examinations to remove conditions will begin Thursday afternoon and will also be held on Friday, Saturday and Monday of next week. Listen, O Maiden, to words of the wise;
Take counsel of those observant who've striven
Long in the haunts of men. Despise
No admonition heedful given
To pave your way
To a happier day
And an earthly life like Heaven.

When breezes steal 'neath hibiscus or palm,
Bright stars twinkling high in the skies,
Clad in bright garments, graceful and calm,
Smiling your lips, seductive your eyes—
Temptation's whispering
As cherubs' lisping—
Be wise, O Maiden, be wise!

As in the Garden where man first fell,
Temptation whispers "A maiden's part
Is to play the Game of Life, and tell
With taunting challenge and boastful art,
Whom Chance there lead
Or Fate decreed,
'The wager at stake's my heart.'"

The hoary his locks and wrinkled his brow,
Steps grown feeble, who'd not, forsooth,
Sit in the game you're playing now
And kindle anew his fires of youth,
And wager his rank
Or gold in bank,
Or, if neither, his word of truth?

What is his risk to the one you play?
What, if true, the pledge of his heart?
Back in his past was a better day;
Still in the future your nobler part.
Make no rash pledge
To sharpen the edge,
As you aim for sly Cupid, his dart.

Consider the wager, tho, Maiden fair!
A heart like jessamine seen in the night—
As a vell to a shroud, as a palace to lair
Of a bandit who shamefully skulks from the light—
The price you raise
To the one he lays.
Is it right, lovely maid, is it right?

What if you win all yet that remains,
And he, all the coming years may bring,
Will happiness crown so hazardous gains
With never a sorrow, regret, or sting?
Will the golden sheaves
Or the autumn's leaves
Find a place in the lap of Spring?

FARMERS' WEEK.

Some years ago there was instituted at the University an exhibition of farm products and farm machinery which is known as "Farmers' Week."

The exhibits cover nearly all products grown in our State, are all of an excellent quality. Here much information valuable to the farmer can be readily obtained.

The IDEA is gratified that so many farmers have taken hold of this opportunity and the University is proud to assist them in solving farm problems.

KENTUCKY HIGH SCHOOL QUARTERLY.

Elsewhere in the columns of this paper is found an article pertaining to the Kentucky High School Quarterly. This is another added to the list of publications put out at the University.

The IDEA puts forth the prophecy that the Quarterly will be a success from the first issue. And every high school in the Commonwealth will be benefited by subscribing at this early date.

Not a few of the high school grads who go away to college seem to think that the three R's stand for Rah! Rah! Rah!

WHO'S WHO AT STATE

WILLIAM P. TUTTLE.

"Give the ball to Squirrely," clamors the crowd in unison. The ball is snapped; a blue streak crashes through the opposing line, and the game is won. There you have William P. Tuttle, alias "Squirrely" or "Bill" in his customary role of the "Man who takes the goal-line to the ball."

"Bill" is what some people call a "natural" athlete. But he is natural in other things as well; he has a natural way of winning friends, inspiring confidence in them and compelling their respect.

When Mr. Tuttle journeyed to the University back in 1911 he wasn't exactly unheralded. And he probably was not mindful of the fact either, that "It is harder to live up to a good reputation than it is to live down a bad one."

Somerset, Pulaski County (which city, by the way, has contributed liberally in acceptable offerings to State), is the home of Mr. Tuttle. He began soon after his arrival here to justify his friends and himself by a busy collegiate record.

He has shone brilliantly in athletics from the first—a powerful and much-feared halfback and a basket ball player of renown. As late as his Junior year he played "first" on the varsity base ball team and wielded a strong and timely bat.

Do not imagine that he is solely an athlete. Mr. Tuttle is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. The

Weekly Sermonette

ONE STUDENT'S NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS.

IN THIS NEW YEAR I AM RESOLVED THAT: I WILL take down any pictures or mottos from my walls that do not help the other fellow to live a better life.

I WILL plan each day's work, writing it out the night before, so as to have no waste time. In the past I have utterly failed to fill each day with worth while things.

I WILL make a persistent and determined effort to improve on my habits of study. My temptation in the past has been to go at it in a slipshod and half-hearted manner.

I WILL be exacting in my use of correct, wholesome English, about my personal appearance, and about the cultivation of social graces. Too often I have felt superior to these.

I WILL do regularly a definite and reasonable amount of reading on subjects that are foreign to my school work in order to help overcome my humiliating provincialism, and keep me in touch with the real world off the campus.

I WILL, if God gives me strength to overcome my past failures, meet all my engagements and other obligations promptly. I have been unfair to others and myself in these matters.

I WILL regularly attend my Bible class, church, the college Y. M. C. A. meetings and chapel. I have been spasmodic and too indifferent to my own needs and my influence upon others.

I WILL constantly thank God for the inestimable privilege He has given me in getting a college education, and will from now on try and do something for someone less fortunate to show my humble gratitude for this great blessing.

I WILL renew my fight for self-mastery, try to live a life of unselfishness, let only pure motives govern, and strive in all things to give my Lord Jesus Christ the pre-eminence.

class elected him as its president during the Sophomore year. He is a member of the Mystic Thirteen Society. As a Freshman he was captain of the class basket ball and base ball teams. Over in the Agricultural College, where he is a student, his "class room" work has received its due recognition, for he was chosen last year for Alpha Zeta. Just now he is away as representative on the apple judging team. He is also a member of Lamp and Cross.

State's glad that Bill came up here. He has helped put us on the map and keep us there. The worst thing about him is that he's going away. It'll be a long time before the students will find another in whom they can place such sure confidence, both as an unexcelled athlete and a tried friend.

Somehow this wouldn't seem complete without telling one more thing about Bill. That's his "Reliability." If there's ever been an athlete who was "in there" every game and every minute, fighting hard from beginning 'till the end, never injured and never unfair to an opponent—that's Bill. Always reliable and always the same as a sportsman, student and friend.

HERSCHEL SCOTT.

Over in the Agricultural Building, if you search closely you'll find a modest looking Senior. He'll very probably be at work. Don't ask him about himself; if you do you will be disappointed. But if you "stay around" you'll want to know something about him and any student can tell you. That's Herschel Scott, "the man who does the worker and lets the other fellow blow the horn."

Herschel comes from Madisonville. It's quite probable that the "home folks" don't know he's here. He'd never tell 'em. But we "know" he is here and have been realizing it more impressively the longer he has remained.

The students all call him "Scotty" 'cause it is easy to say. Besides, they all have an affectionate regard for him and so he is familiarly known. This year he gets a B. S. degree in Agriculture. But his sojourn here has been a busy one indeed, and his work by no means confined to the required limits of his degree.

"Scotty" is a star athlete, accomplished by pure grit, boundless determination and hard work. He is on the field early and still going when it's late. Few have there been who have so convincingly come to the top, by efforts which seem never to tire. And his reward must be the consciousness of work well done; for "Scotty" doesn't love the spotlight.

When he was only a Sophomore his classmates showed their confidence in him by making him treasurer. He had confined himself during his Freshman year to the Agricultural Society and the class base ball team. Verily his modesty would have become others in his class. But "Scotty" was doing some hard work about then.

He has been a member of the varsity foot ball team for three consecutive years. In his Junior year he was chosen as captain. His work has always been quietly but convincingly done. As a "blocker," the "Wildcats" have never seen his peer. His game has always been fairly played as is befitting the gentleman he is.

Basket ball, too, has been a favorite game with "Scotty." He has played on the varsity squad two years and is now at work for his place once more. At odd times he has done military work. Naturally, for in the discipline of the soldier, he finds his philosophical viewpoint that, "Actions speak louder than words." He is Sergeant-major of the battalion this year.

Proof of "Scotty's" ability is shown in his being a member of both Alpha Zeta and Lamp and Cross. A student body is generally fair-minded and will give "credit where 'tis due." His record stands as a monument to continued effort. Presidency of the "K" Association is about the only position he's ever held without keen competition.

"Scotty's" type is rare. He will be sadly missed in the future as an example in gentlemanly conduct, good fellowship, modesty and hard work.

I do hereby resolve to quit cussin' and discussin' before ladies. I'll let 'em do it first.

Et a right smart durin' a Christmas didn't you?

Mechanical and Electrical

MANY M. & E. ALUMNI CHRISTMAS VISITORS

Many graduates of the College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering have returned during the holidays to visit their Alma Mater. The affection for the environment in which they spent the happiest days of their life is well developed in Kentucky college men, due to the highly developed sentiment inherent in them.

G. M. Roswell, class 1908, College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering, was a visitor last week. Roswell is department engineer in the Lighting Engineering Department of the General Electric Company at Schenectady, New York. The graduates of the College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering located at Schenectady have formed a Schenectady Alumni Club of Kentucky men. Sprigg Ebbert, class of 1911, was elected president, and Roswell was elected secretary. None of the Kentucky men with the General Electric Company have been discharged during the past depression in business, although over a hundred of its engineers have been laid off.

P. F. Hudgins, class 1909, who is Instructor of Applied Mechanics at Purdue University, was a holiday visitor at the University. Hudgins is a graduate of the College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering, and was for two years instructor in Experimental Electrical Engineering in that college. "Freddy" is very successful with his work at Purdue, and it is rapidly gaining in importance and responsibility.

E. L. Shuff, class 1910, College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering, is visiting his family in Georgetown during the holidays. Shuff is engineer with the Chicago office of the Westinghouse Machine Company. He was formerly with the Western Electric Company of Chicago in the engineering department, but lately received an attractive offer from the Westinghouse Company, and is well satisfied with the change. The Chicago office handles a very large portion of the Westinghouse sales and offers a fine opportunity for a young engineer.

R. B. Pogue visited his family in this city during the holidays. Pogue graduated in Mechanical and Electrical Engineering in 1913 and received an appointment to a scholarship in the Engineering Experiment Station of the University of Illinois. This scholarship carries sufficient funds to pay all expenses for two years' post-graduate work in advanced engineering experimental and constructional work. Pogue is specializing in steam and electrical locomotive engineering and is taking a prominent part in some very extensive and important experiments in determining the characteristics of locomotives.

Railway engineering is one of the most highly developed and yet incomplete branches of engineering. Its great importance is measured by the relative importance of the railroads to other branches of business and commerce.

The Railway Engineering Department of the University of Illinois is affiliated with six of the largest railroads of the west and middle west, and is co-operating with these roads in developing standard data and equations for the correct design of locomotives and the handling of trains.

Berkley Hedges, E. E. Johnson and Roger Thornton, all of last year's class in Mechanical and Electrical Engineering, visited their families in Lexington during the Christmas holidays. Hedges and Thornton are with the Buffalo Forge Company at Buffalo, New York, and Johnson is with the Westinghouse Machine Company at the works in Pittsburgh. All of these men are doing well and have made exceedingly good progress considering the short time they have been out of college.

W. S. Carrithers and G. W. Gayle, class 1914, College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering, were visitors on the campus during the holidays. They are employed by the Babcock and Wilcox Boiler Company at the company's Barbertown, Ohio, plant. These men were started in the machine shop last summer and now are located in the shipping and inspecting department, and they are rapidly establishing their proper engineering position with the company.

Mr. C. R. Sadler, assistant general superintendent of the Barbertown works, was very complimentary to the Kentucky men in giving them their first increased responsibility. Mr. Sadler is a self-made man, and gained all his engineering experience in the "University of Hard Knocks." In promoting the men, he told them that in all his experience with college men, he had found that the southern men from the southern colleges are in ninety per cent of all cases more valuable to a company as engineers and practical business men than the men from northern and eastern universities.

DR. MACKENZIE TALKS TO MECHANICALS OF '16

At the last meeting of the Mechanicals of '16, they were fortunate enough to hear Dr. A. S. Mackenzie, Dean of the Graduate School, deliver a lecture on "Reminiscences of Lord Kelvin."

Beginning with his first class room impressions of that noted scientist, the speaker gave a striking biography of him, revealing his character and ideals, and recounting his many achievements.

Doctor Mackenzie arouses the highest interest of the engineering students with his unique and interesting theories on the "Philosophy of Engineering," which he gives in all his talks and which never fail to win for him a large and appreciative audience when he speaks at Mechanical Hall.

THE GENTLER SEX AS ENGINEERS

Miss Sarah Settle has entered the College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering to take up a special course in woodworking. There are several other young ladies taking this work and one, Miss Margaret Ingles, is taking the complete course in Mechanical and Electrical Engineering. So far as is known she is the only young woman who has taken the complete course of study of this kind in any American university.

EDGAR LINK VISITS HERE.

Edgar Link, of the class of 1913, Mechanical and Electrical Engineering, visited his family during the holidays. Link is with the Westinghouse Machine Company of Pittsburgh, manufacturers of engines, turbines and power equipment.

UNIVERSITY NOTES

Prof. A. M. Wilson, ex-faculty member of the University, now Professor of Electrical Engineering at the University of Cincinnati, was elected Vice-President of the Cincinnati Engineering Club.

Mr. Douglas D. Felix, a graduate of the '13 class at State, was a visitor in the city during the holidays. Mr. Felix was major of the battalion in his Senior year in addition to other student honors. He is now studying law at Yale University.

Messrs. J. T. Taylor, G. C. Richardson, H. K. Gayle, P. D. Brown, graduates last year in the College of Agriculture, have been at the University in attendance at the varied program of Farmers' Week.

One of the interesting meetings of Farmers' Week at the University, the meeting of the Kentucky Horse, Jack and Mule Breeders' Association, is being held today on the second floor of the Agricultural Building, beginning at 10 o'clock. An excellent program has been arranged.

O. W. Hollar, a graduate of the College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering in the class of 1912, will be placed in charge of the tar distilling department of the new plant being constructed by the American Tar Products Company, at Youngstown, O., as soon as it is completed. Mr. Hollar at present is superintending the construction of part of the plant.

Kremer Bain, son of John W. Bain, of this city, a graduate of the College of Mines and Metallurgy in 1911, has recently been appointed to membership on the State Board of Mine Examiners of Montana. Mr. Bain, after graduation, first held a position with the Consolidation Coal Company at Van Lear, Ky., and in November of the same year took the position of engineer with the Roundup Coal Mining Company of Montana. The young engineer has had constant promotion since entering his profession.

Christmas Eve marked the anniversary of a century of peace with Great Britain. As Henry Clay was so closely identified with the War of 1812 and the treaty of Ghent, a fitting memorial to the work of this distinguished Kentuckian in preparing that treaty, was held at the tomb of Clay in the Lexington Cemetery on Christmas Eve at 2:30 p. m. Several patriotic citizens and representatives of patriotic organizations witnessed the brief ceremony in commemoration of the departed leader and the hundred years of peace. Dr. Edward Tuthill, of the Department of History, was in charge of the ceremonies.

H. Tyler Watts, B. M. E. '14, paid Lexington and the University a visit during Christmas. Mr. Watts is with the Tod Manufacturing Company, of Youngstown, Ohio, manufacturers of heavy engines and steel machinery. When twelve of the firm's engineers were laid off, because of recent depression, he was retained, though he had only been in the employment of the company six months. But the versatile Tyler is more than a mechanic. Like Orpheus of old, he will be long remembered at the University as the "producer of sweet strains" on the violin and it is a gratification to learn that his music is still delighting audiences in the churches of Youngstown.

ASKS CREDIT FOR MILITARY WORK

Lieutenant Arthur Underwood, commandant at State University, requests that credit in military drill, prerequisite to graduation, be required. The matter will be taken up by the faculty at an early meeting.

NOTICE TO CATHOLIC STUDENTS

The Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Peter's Catholic Church will entertain this evening at Knights of Columbus Hall from 8 to 12. All members of the Catholic Club of State University are invited to attend.

STATE PITCHER WANTED BY BIG LEAGUE CLUBS

was learned last night, making two men of major league caliber on the State nine.

Coach Brumage yesterday gave out a letter he had received from Connie Mack asking for data concerning the young pitcher and saying that he will be kept in mind during the coming season, which is taken to mean that a scout will be sent in this direction next spring to get a line on the activities of Park. Park was brought to Mack's attention through mutual friends of himself and Coach Brumage. Some time ago Brumage spoke to George Huff, physical director at the University of Illinois, and to Henry Bryan, of South Carolina, a close friend of the Philadelphia wizard, concerning the pitcher's prowess, with the result that the wires were set in motion to obtain the services of Park for Mack's aggregation of ball players.

Floyd Wright, the fast gardner of the State University team, said last night he held a contract from Joe Birmingham, of the Cleveland Naps, which he would sign soon and return to the American leader. According to the contract Wright will report to the Naps' training camp at San Antonio, Texas, about February 24, which will leave a gaping hole in the State outfield to be filled. Wright, it is said, will, with proper coaching, have little trouble sticking with the big league team, and it is said by his athletic directors Park would grace any pitching staff in the country. Park likely will accept an offer from the Athletic's chief if it is tendered, but will remain in school until the year is over in June. Wright said last night he hoped to have Park go with him to the Naps. Young Gossage, who played with Owensboro in the Kitty League last year, is said to be ready to report to the Milwaukee team in the American Association League when training season opens.

An X-ray photograph has been taken of Park's injured shoulder, which was severely strained in a football scrimmage last fall, for not only is Park a star hurler, but he also adorns the gridiron and the basket ball floor, having in both sports represented the Varsity in recent years.

Park, it was announced last week, because of his injured shoulder, will give up his position as basket ball center this year, to give the member an opportunity to recover.

4-K'S HOLIDAY DANCE AT HOME

The 4-K Club entertained with a most delightful and successful holiday dance in Covington on December 29. This dance being the fourth annual holiday dance of the club. In previous years the dances were held in Covington at the Masonic Temple, with the exception of one which was held in the Armory of the Fort Thomas United States military post. Several old State men who are now located in Cincinnati attended, as well as many visiting State men and quite a few men and girls from other universities. The University of Cincinnati and Miami University were well represented.

The hall was artistically decorated in State's colors. The program was attractively made up in blue and white, and also old gold and white, which are the colors of the club.

The dance committee consisted of Willard Rawlings, chairman; Paul Gerhard, Ray Lavercombe, Edwin Elmer, Kenneth Clore, Wayne Her, Will E. Spencer, William Noel, Cearl Bernhart and James Higgins.

Among the chaperones were the principals and their wives of Covington, Newport and Bellevue High Schools.

The officers of the club for this year are: Paul Gerhard, President; Ray Lavercombe, Vice President and Edwin Elmer, Secretary and Treasurer. Many alumni of the club were conspicuous by their absence, they being compelled to be far from home this gladsome holiday seasons. "Bill" Tiesing, Lon Henrich, Oliver W. Smith, H. J. Jakobe, Abe Behrman, alumni of State, and many others of whom the club holds a deep and everlasting affection, for all the alumni of the club have worked most loyally and industriously while active members to make the club a most successful reality.

The club's name signifies: Kenton, Campbell County Klub. At present the club has about thirty loyal active members. In the early spring the club will give a dance in Buell Armory as has been the custom in the past. This club is doing a great work by interesting the high school students of northern Kentucky in our own University of Kentucky.

STUDENTS ATTEND NATIONAL COUNCIL

Messrs. B. D. Sartin and R. E. L. Murphy attended the National Convention of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association at Topeka, Kansas, for four days beginning on December 29th.

Mr. Sartin was the delegate from State University and Mr. Murphy one of the official delegates from the State at large.

The convention afforded an opportunity to hear the most prominent speakers and advocates of national prohibition. Great interest was manifested by the army of delegates (from twelve to fifteen hundred attending) and several unique plans advised for the cause of prohibition. The names of five thousand college men were signed to the roll of volunteers, each to secure over sixteen hundred voters to pledge themselves to no candidate who would not support national prohibition.

Mr. Sartin and Mr. Murphy had personal interviews with Governor Hodges, of Kansas, an ardent devotee of the prohibition cause. The Governor presented each with an autographed copy of his convention speech "Kansas' Great Progress Under Prohibition."

Mr. Sartin was placed on the National Committee on Credentials and was the only Southern man to secure a place on any committee.

Lexington has the first bid and an excellent chance of securing the next national convention, held some time during 1916.

Two pairs of yellow Sox, three pretty scarf pins and a heliotrope bath robe for some smoking tobacco.

DR. ANDERSON RETURNS TO STATE

Dr. W. L. Anderson, director of physical education in the University, returned Monday to resume his duties. Several weeks ago, because of friction with another member of the faculty, Doctor Anderson resigned and returned to his home in New Haven, Conn., where he spent the holidays with his father, Dr. W. G. Anderson, for thirty years professor in physical education at Yale University, and recognized as one of the foremost authorities in physical education in the United States.

DR. BROWN APPOINTED IMPORTANT POSITION

Dr. Linwood A. Brown, drug chemist for the Food and Drug Department of the Agricultural Experiment Station of State University, has received notification of his election as third vice-president of the American Pharmaceutical Association. He will be installed in his position at the August meeting of the association in San Francisco.

There are between 5,000 and 6,000 members of the association in the United States. Doctor Brown has filled the position of drug chemist at the Experiment Station for the past five years. He is a Kentuckian, and a graduate of the Louisville College of Chemistry and of the University of Michigan.

Need Lumber? Good Lumber?

It is not alone necessary that lumber shall be good in the first place, but good lumber to retain its goodness must have proper care and attention.

Every stick of lumber that enters our yards is carefully handled. Some is stacked on sticks, some piled in open sheds and some put in enclosed buildings, according to the individual needs. So, each piece will reach you in the best possible condition.

You will find, here, lumber for any purpose from the smallest operation to any ordinary undertaking.
