PLACEMENT BUREAU TO AID GRADUATES TO FIND SUITABLE EMPLOYMENT

Faculty Committee Meet For First Time to Discuss Permanent Organization.

SERVICES MUCH NEEDED.

May Absorb Services of Entire 1923 Graduation Class.

Possibilities of the proposed University of Kentucky Placement Bureau designed to aid students in their attempts to be most advantageously placed after graduation were discussed at a meeting of faculty representatives in Dean Boyd's office Tuesday afternoon. This committee is to act temporarily for the bureau which will probably be installed some time within the next year.

The committee composed of Professors P. P. Boyd, Edward Wiest, W. L. Roberts, W. E. Freeman, P. E. Karraker, E. L. Gillis and Alumni Secretary, Herbert Graham, will endeavor to find employment for this year's graduates and to pave the way for the work of the proposed Placement Bureau. In nearly every phase of work the University of Kentucky has alumni employers and it is believed by the committee that these men and women will absorb the services of the 1923 graduating class.

Heretofore the seniors have sought employment through paid agents, employment bureaus and various other means. The college of Engineering has worked to place its graduates in suitable positions for the past 25 or 30 years and the Registrar's office has been a medium through which the teaching profession has transacted its employment business for some time. Other than these, and occasional placements resulting from requests made to the deans of the various colleges, the young men and women have had to seek for themselves.

This bureau will probably be in charge of a chief clerk and one or

LITTLE THEATRE SEASON OPENED THURSDAY NIGHT

"Gammer Gurton's Needle" Presented; "Imaginary Invalid" Friday.

Entertaining and amusing their audience with the old comedy, "Gammer Gurton's Needle," the Coffer-Miller Players opened their season in the University chapel Thursday evening and will present their second and final play, "The Imaginary Invalid," in the chapel at 8 o'clock Friday evening.

The players presentation last evening was thoroughly artistic and wholesomely funny. Those present last night praised the Coffer-Miller organization very highly and a large crowd is expected to witness tonight's play. Tickets may be obtained at the University Book Store and at Prof. Fleischman's office in White Hall.

"The Imaginary Invalid" is an adaptation of Moliere's satire on the doctors of his day and the Coffer-Miller presentation is said to be very ludicrous.

The plays are brought to the University by the Little Theatre, Prof. E. E. Fleischman, director

Y. M. C. A. TO EDIT HANDBOOK; A. L. HODGES MADE EDITOR

At the regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet Tuesday night the staff to edit the University Handbook was selected. Arthur L. Hodges, of Greensburg, was elected editor-in-chief and Marshall Barnes, of Beaver Dam, was elected business manager. The Handbook, which is popularly known as the "Freshman's Bible," is published yearly under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. It contains valuable information concerning the rules, customs and regulations of the University which are convenient for all the students and practically indispensable for the freshman. This year an attempt will be made to incorporate into the handbook the spirit of the University as well as facts concerning it.

DRAMATIC CLASS GIVES LITTLE THEATRE PLAY

"Suppressed Desires" by Susan Gaspell Present by Student Players.

The clever satire on psycho-analysis, "Suppressed Desires," by Susan Gaspell, was presented Thursday, March 15, in the Little Theatre by the Class in Dramatic Production. This was the second in the series of matinees the class will present in the next few weeks.

The plot, surrounding the zealotry of a follower of Freud to analyze the suppressed desires of her husband and her friends until it threatened her own happiness, was brought out by the actors. The situations of the harassed husband and sister particularly appealed to the humor of the audience.

Louise Burks was both convincing and amusing as the wife. The husband was delightfully natural but at some moments in the play he was not well into his part. The end of the play could have been improved somewhat if Stephen had been more unconscious of himself.

The play was under the direction of Lillian Collins.

The cast was as follows:

Henrietta Louise Burks
Mabel Louise Smathers
Stephen George Woolf
"The Florist Shop," a product of the Harvard Workshop, is announced as the next matinee performance.

SPRING TOUR OF GLEE CLUB TO START MONDAY, TO VISIT FOUR TOWNS

First Performance in Mt. Sterling Friday Under Auspices of City Schools.

22 MEN TO MAKE TRIP.

Club to Visit Morganfield, Henderson, Owensboro, Hopkinsville.

The University of Kentucky Glee Club will start upon its annual spring tour of the western part of the state next Monday morning, and will give performances in Hopkinsville, Morganfield, Henderson, and Owensboro, before returning to Lexington. The first performance will be given Friday in Mt. Sterling, under the auspices of the city schools.

The Glee Club this year is said to be one of the best in the history of the University, and requests have been received from all parts of the state for engagements. As the Easter vacation begins on Thursday, however, it was necessary to make arrangements with only four cities.

In addition to selections by the entire club composed of 22 men, other features of the program are a saxophone duet, vocal solos, violin solo by Prof. Lampert, a reading and a male quartet, the members of which have sung for the Courier-Journal radio broadcasting station a number of times.

Plans are being made for trips to Ashland, Maysville, Covington, Louisville and Frankfort during April, with a closing concert in Lexington.

The club is composed of the following men: First tenors, Samuel Adams, J. L. Asher, Albert Chandler and Robert Clem; second tenors, S. M. Heavrin, O. H. Lambert, Dave McIntyre, Sam Ridgeway, Paul Tincher and H. S. Turner; first basses, Earle Baugman, Walter Craddock, W. W. Daniels, Benton Taylor, and J. O. Williams; second basses, Ebert DeCoursey, Willis Downing, Paul Mathews, Robert Porter, Henry Taylor and Joe Walters. THETA SIGMA PHI TO HOLD NATIONAL MEET Woman's Journalism Fraternity to Hold Convention in Oklahoma.

NORMAN, Okla.—(Special to the Kernel)—Where the "howdy" spirit of the west is enlivened with the hospitality of the South—that's the place chosen for the 1923 annual convention of Theta Sigma Phi. The meeting will be held April 26, 27, and 28 in as the University of Oklahoma at Norman.

Norman is centrally located for the convention with reference to the geographical center of both the United States and of the Theta Sigma Phi chapters. Its location on the Santa Fe plus interurban connections out of Oklahoma City as a railroad center make Norman easy of access from all parts of the country.

The school of journalism has been established in the University of Okla-

GIRLS' RIFLE TEAM FIRES AGAINST RIPON COLLEGE

The girls' rifle team of the University made a total of 1,298 points out of a possible 3,000 in a gallery match with Ripon College, Ripon, Wis., according to Col. Freeman. The high point woman for the Kentuckians was Miss Liggon who made a score of 273 out of a possible 300. The score of Ripon College has not been received yet, but it is expected to be in within the next few days.

The rifle team of the R. O. T. C. battalion will fire next week against the Depauw University. The contest with Tennessee has been ruled out on account of a misunderstanding and will be fired over within the next few weeks.

FELLOWSHIPS OFFERED UNIVERSITY GRADUATES

General Electric Company Offers Awards for Research Work in Electricity.

Provision has been made by the terms of the Charles A. Coffin Foundation, established by the General Electric Company, for the award of $5,000 annually for fellowships in the fields of electricity, physics and physical chemistry to college graduates. The committee desires to make the awards to men who, without financial assistance, would be unable to devote themselves to research work. The fellowships will carry a minimum of five hundred dollars, which may be increased at the discretion of the committee to meet the needs of the applicant.

Candidates for the fellowship must file applications on blanks obtainable from Dean C. R. Melcher. All applications must be first sent to the dean of the educational institution at which the applicant is or has been in attendance within the year. The dean will file the applications received by him together with a statement naming the applicants, who, in his opinion, are best qualified for the award.

Applications must be forwarded to the General Electric Company by April 15, 1923. Those awarded fellowships will be notified by June 1. Applications will be welcomed from Seniors as well as graduates, but in such a case the award will be conditioned upon graduation.

WOMEN STUDENTS HEAR INTERESTING LECTURES ON VOCATIONAL WORK

Prominent Women Speak at All-Day Program Tuesday in Chapel.

SIX VOCATIONS DISCUSSED

Tea Given in Honor of Speakers At Home Economics Practice House.

A delightful pleasure and privilege was that of the women students Tuesday in attending the Women's Vocational Guidance Conference which began in the chapel at 9 o'clock and ended at 3:45. Seven interesting speakers addressed the assemblage on the six popular vocational subjects as shown by questionnaires recently sent out to the women students of the University. The first speaker had for her subject, "Widening Opportunities for Women."

Dean Jewell introduced Dr. Sophonisba Breckinridge, a former Lexingtonian, who is assistant dean of women at the University of Chicago, and she opened the conference with a splendid address covering the development of the fields open to women.

Dr. Lenore Neuffer was then presented by Mrs. O'Bannon. Doctor Neuffer is the assistant professor of chemistry at the University of Cincinnati and she very capably handled her subject "Women in Science."

The next lecture was on "Library Work" and it was given by Miss Alice S. Tyler, director of the Western Reserve Library School at Cleveland. Miss Margaret King presided at this lecture.

Dr. Myra Hills, psychologist for juvenile court of the city of Cleveland, came next on the program and she very ably presented her subject, "Vocations for Women in the Field of Psychology." Miss Gladys Lowry presided.

At the fifth hour Doctor McVey continued the conference with his address on "Teaching." This was regular Freshman Convocational Day and

MASONIC CLUB HAS BEEN ORGANIZED ON CAMPUS

Students and Faculty Members Meet to Re-establish Club and Elect Officers.

Answering the call of the East a number of students at the University representing Masonic lodges from all over the State, gathered for the purpose of organizing a University Masonic Club. There was such a club at the University way back in the days when Bob Mitchell left Paducah and came to old Kentucky, and the purpose of the present organization is to revive the old spirit and bring together all the Masonic brethren, both students and faculty members.

Officers elected were as follows: Ryan Ringo, president; W. V. Kirtley, vice president; M. Alperin, secretary; M. T. Skidmore, treasurer. At the first meeting it was decided to hold a smoker and social gathering at Dicker Hall, on Thursday, March 22, at 7 o'clock in the evening. All Master Masons are cordially invited to attend.

Postal Shower.

A few alumni have taken seriously the request of the Alumni Secretary for a "postal card shower" throughout March.

The ever-dependable Pineville (Ky.) Alumni Club responded with nearly three-score postals. All of them were requests for a visit by the Strollers. The Strollers are going. Their production is "Lady Windermere's Fan." Eleven hundred alumni readers of the Kernel crave more news of their fellow "Kentuckians." A test has proven that the readers prefer these amateur writings to those of the staff. Behold the appeal of "Betwixt Us."

SURPRISE CITIZENS

Students Will Take Hand in Greater Kentucky Campaign.

A surprise awaits the citizens-at-large in Kentucky during the Easter week. Plans are being formulated to employ the entire student body in missionary work for the University during the holiday.

A recently organized group has spent several weeks perfecting arrangements for the student phase of the Greater Kentucky campaign. Members of the Student Speakers Bureau have accepted invitations to speak on the University throughout the state March 29 to April 3.

Betwixt Us

"The information you furnish is of a great deal of interest. It is certainly a pleasure to see the keen interest being taken in the University of Kentucky. I feel very unfortunate in that almost immediately after leaving Kentucky State College, in the effort to make a living I had to go into other states. This was about thirty years ago, hence I feel entirely out of touch with the affairs of the Blue Grass State. It was quite a pleasure to get back into Kentucky in making some investments in Eastern Kentucky. We are now operating mines in both the Hazard and Harlan districts."—Alexander Bonnyman, Knoxville, Tenn., P. O. Box 1086.

An interesting article by Wilbur R. Smith, Jr., ex-12, appeared in a recent issue of the Summons, "A Journal about Law, Lawyers and Law Books," issued by the Bancroft-Whitney Company, 200 McAllister Street, San Francisco, Cal. Mr. Smith's article quotes from President Harding's telegram to the American Bar Association's Convention in San Francisco and emphasizes the fact that the first requisite to Americanization is the observance of the laws of America. He calls attention to violations by Americans of wealth and influence who rely on position to escape punishment. Mr. Smith's father, General Wilbur R. Smith, died in this city recently. Mr. Smith is a graduate of Yale but did a part of his work in the University of Kentucky.

New names on the list of active alumni are—Thomas Jefferson Taylor ex-22, with the Taylor Motor Sales, Stone, Pike county, Ky.

Dr. Paul D. Moore ex-20 formerly a resident of McLean county, now practicing medicine in Sequim, Wash. He married Miss Roy Bland in 1904. They have one daughter, Anna, sixteen years old.

Lillian Coffey ex-, is secretary of the Fulton County Club, at Hickman, Ky., and Mary Hardy Ligon ex- is treasurer.

J. White Guyn ex-04, engineer, City of Lexington, is treasurer of the Lexington Alumni Club. Business address, City Hall. Residence, 636 Headley Ave.

Susan Spalding ex- is secretary-treasurer of the Oldham County Club, Lebanon, Ky. Roy C. Bateman ex- is vice-president of the Club, residence address, Bradfordsville, Ky.

James R. Clark ex- who is an employe in the Louisville & Nashville office at Louisville, Ky., is vice-president of the Oldham County Club. Residence address, LaGrange, Ky.

Mrs. L. D. Stucker ex-, formerly Agnes M. Brawner, is secretary-treasurer of the Franklin County Club. Residence address, 333 Washington St., Frankfort, Ky.

R. Taylor Harris ex-24, is at Nolan, West Virginia. He asks that the Kernel be sent to him so that he may keep in touch with "Old State."

On the honor roll is the name of W. W. Cox ex-14, who is with the Black Mountain Coal Company at Kenvir, Ky.

One of the "regulars" is R. E. Samuels ex-01, cashier of the First State Bank at Pineville, Ky.

"I am glad to know that our class is standing up toward the front in membership in the Alumni Association.

"T. R. Dean '06, and wife, have been sojourning for about eight months at Springdale, Ark., in the Ozark Mountains, where Mr. Dean went for his health. He has in the last few days moved back to Miami, Oklahoma, where he has considerable mining interests in the lead and zinc fields. On account of his health, Mr. Dean gave up his law practice about two years ago and donated his handsome law library to Phillips University at Enid, Okla. His ailment though not serious, incapacitates him for the exacting work his profession required. He was one of the finest young men I ever knew and in his mature manhood one of the best I have ever known, with a very, very large circle of close friends.

"My family have been living at San Diego, Calif., since last August, and I have been spending part of my time with them and part here. If they decide to remain in California, I will have to close out my business here and join them. Henry Anderson '97, of the Engineering Department of the University of Michigan, asked me to send some of my boys that way for a course in engineering and I may do it if I don't send them to the University of Kentucky. I don't know what to do with my four girls—all of them want to go to the best school in the United States and I don't know which that is. The oldest, now past sixteen, has her head set on Randolph-Macon. You can imagine how much business a fellow has on hand with a family of four girls and four growing boys."—John W. Wilmott, Att'y, Wewoka, Okla.

"I am detailed as Executive Officer of the 320th Infantry, acting executive officer of the 313th Field Artillery, and of all other reserve units and officers in District of Columbia and vicinity. With nearly 1,600 officers it is a very active and really important work. The Reserve Officers Association as a whole meets once a month. We plan in these general meetings to cover ground that all officers should know—to give them a picture of the work of the whole theatre of operations. This was something we lacked in the past war. Most of the officers did very well with their own "job," but had little understanding of what the other fellow was doing. After a very fine and serious talk by General Bandholtz, a number expressed the sentiment, "If a General in the regular army will come here from way over at Fort Myer to talk to reserve officers, he must think we are worth while." When the General left, he said to me outside: "Push these officers on what they mean to the safety and national defense of their country. Another was just as sure now as it was in 1913, and as it always has been. Try to do all possible that we will not go into the next war as totally unprepared as we have in the past ones. Let us try to avoid the terrific and unnecessary loss of life we have always had."

"I do not believe anyone wants war. Certainly not the one who is liable to be a participant. I do not want another war, and those who know war will come some day, and want to be prepared to protect our homes and avoid the enormous unnecessary loss of life, which has always been our great misfortune. We have never been prepared. The losses of husbands and sons can be directly charged to the pacifist and not to the one who advocates preparedness. This class is as blatant now as it was in 1913, 1897, 1811. The pacifist was just as active in the day of Hannibal. The Carthaginian Senate was positive after the first Punic War that there would never be another war.

"The Reserve Corps is the biggest thing for our nation's insurance that we have ever had. It is an effective body of men who know what must be done and show their leadership in getting this done. One thing is that the officer himself does not stagnate and become just what the pacifist wants. The other is to keep up public opinion and appropriations that the Reserve Corps and our national defense in all components is kept up as efficient as possible. I am proud that my own state of Kentucky helped so ably in the great fight for our national defense. We must remember we will have to repeat the same fight next year.

"I am always most interested in everything connected with the University of Kentucky. I am sorry that my long absence has necessitated an inability to keep more in touch with the alumni. My office is in the Graham building, 14th and E streets Northwest. Would always be very glad to see anyone from 'Kentucky' or 'Lexington.'"—John Scott, Major, Infantry, U. S. A.

'05

Alumni records indicate that Chas. Rees Wallis has been continuously active as a member of the association since his graduation. They also indicate that this is true of his connection with the General Electric Company. For the last few years he has been manager of the branch office at 609 Coleman Bldg., Seattle Wash.

'12

Willard D. Barrows received his B. C. E. degree in 1912 and his C. E. degree in 1915. For several years after graduating he was a civil engineer in the U. S. Engineering service, his work being mainly on the levees of the Mississippi River. Since 1920 he has been chief engineer with the Providence Coal Mining Company, Providence, Ky.

'13

"I beg to advise that I have resigned as engineer of Water Service for the L. & N. R. R., effective March 1. I am now associated with George W. Hubley, consulting engineer, of this city, specializing in power plants and water pumping plants. Please change my address to Box 406, Louisville, Ky."—William C. Rudd.

'14

W. Duncan Hamilton, since his discharge from service during the World War, has been practicing law in Lexington, with office at 412 Security Trust Bldg. His wife was formerly Jeannette H. Wasson. They are living at 233 North Broadway. Mr. Hamilton is president of the Lexington Alumni Club.

'15

Ira M. Nickell practiced law at Hazard, Ky., until he entered service during the World War. After his discharge in 1919, he opened a law office in the Robson-Pritchard Bldg., at Huntington, W. Va., address P. O. Box 301. Mr. Nickell is president of the Huntington Alumni Club.

"I have been getting my Kernel regularly and enjoy it very much, especially the Alumni Notes. It is always good news just to see that an old friend is making good somewhere. I have had exceedingly good luck since I left the University and am going to try to hold on to it. Hope that I may be able to put something over for 'Old Kentucky' down in these parts."—Carl H. SUCCESSFUL—WHY CHANGE?

It has been brought to the attention of the Kernel thru various sources that plans are now being inaugurated by Louisville authorities to have the Kentucky Interscholastic Basketball Tournament, which has been held annually at the University of Kentucky transferred to that city next year. The high school tournament recently held at the University in which Dupont Manual High School of Louisville won the state championship marked the fifth annual meet held since its inauguration in 1918, under the auspices of the University, and under the direction of S. A. Boles, director of physical education.

It has been only within the last few years the problem of higher education for our youth seems to have caused our good citizens really serious concern and the realization that the strength or weakness of our commonwealth, thence of our nation, lay in the hands of the youth and that such strength was a challenge to the educated and vocationally trained leaders of tomorrow.

Practically every citizen in our state was conscious of the great demand for trained leaders, but they were oblivious to methods which might be offered to promote such leadership. The only suggestion offered was thru education—thru stimulation of the desire of those yet in high school to enter an institution of higher learning. There was no question of this but the one which caused serious concern was a method yet to be devised whereby students would complete their high school education and be interested in University work. Did anyone undertake such a plan? Did our neighboring city of Louisville inaugurate any means for such undertaking?

It is the opinion of the Kernel that such a plan was undertaken entirely by one man, "Daddy" Boles, athletic director of the University of Kentucky. Five years ago he launched the movement among high schools to enter a tournament held at the University. He fostered this task and cradled it in its infancy; fought almost single-handed the baffling discouragements until he succeeded in finally bringing teams representing the various sections of the state of Kentucky, of the finest caliber, together here in contests. This movement extended until last year's debating contests and track meetings were held among the various high schools of the state.

The purpose of the tournament is not commercial enterprise, neither is it to advertise the University of Kentucky nor the city of Lexington, but it is a movement to bring high school student in direct contact with university life, in the hope that it will serve as an inspiration for them to continue their athletic training thru some institution of higher learning.

The purpose of having the place changed to the city of Louisville as presented by these instigators of the movement to that city was with the idea that they would pay all expenses. The University of Kentucky has always paid the expenses of visiting teams while in Lexington, and they have been honored guests at fraternity houses and dormitories while in the city, but the receipts accruing from contests are not sufficient at present to permit the payment of travelling expenses to this city. The tournament has always been a losing venture from a money-making view-point.

Since the teams that participate in the high school tournament are representatives of the people of the commonwealth, this reason is sufficient that this is the place where the tournament should be held.

If the University of Kentucky, the chief institution of our state were in Louisville or any other city, regardless of its size, the Kernel would advocate the change to that place. The Kernel prefers to believe that it is thru no selfish reason that the good citizens of Louisville want it changed to their city, but there is no doubt in our minds if it is it will be transformed into a commercial enterprise. Such a situation would be disastrous to the purpose of the tournament.

The Kernel believes that our foremost obligations, and that as the University of Kentucky is the center of the state's culture we believe that the citizens should support that institution. This should be done in no better way than by bringing together the youth of our state to engage in contest upon our athletic fields.

Can the city of Louisville offer any better season for desiring to have it transferred to their city?

"JAZZ" STARTS EDITORIAL DEBATE.

University students are greatly interested in a very agreeable and pleasing but editorial article which has inadvertently arisen between Henry Taylor, senior student at the University, also a senior in the Department of Journalism, and Mr. L. S. Fitzhugh, editor and owner of the Wilmore Enterprise, and incidentally a friend of the University and greatly interested in young folk.

About two weeks ago the subject of propriety of "jazz" was given to the senior editorial class as a theme for editorial comment. The greater percentage of the class criticized "jazz" adversely, but young Taylor wrote an ingenious and entertaining defense of it, which was published as a contribution to the editorial column of the Kernel. It also appeared on the editorial page of the Lexington Herald.

Mr. Fitzhugh was so much interested in the subject that he took his young friend Taylor to task editorially. The result was a very delightful and illuminating debate between the embryonic editor and his more mature critic of the Enterprise.

The Kernel hopes that from time to time the seniors doing editorial work will give their comrades the benefit of similar expressions which the Kernel will be glad to publish.

The Kernel desires to compliment the contending editors upon the charming manner and good comradeship in which they presented their several sides.

WELCOME TRI-DELTS

During the past week the newly installed Delta Rho chapter of Delta Delta Delta, women's national fraternity, has been the recipient of many beautiful courtesies among the members of Pan-Hellenic and society folk in Lexington in welcoming them onto the campus. The Kernel extends congratulations to this splendid group of young women, and welcomes the fraternity in the belief that it will be of great advantage to the University in adding a fraternity of this caliber among the mystic circle of Greek students upon the campus.

VOCATIONAL CONFERENCE

sity on Tuesday of this week, of what was known as Vocational Guidance Conference Day, where speakers of prominence gave interesting lectures to the women students on choosing their life work, and we express the desire also that it will become an annual event. It was indeed an opportunity for the women students to be given the privilege of hearing speakers of wide experience as lecturers upon the platform and to receive thru their actual experiences, such as was presented in so charming a manner by a number of the speakers.

more assistant clerks whose duties will be to record and file applications, recommendations, training, experiences, etc. of the employees; requests of employers and like data. It will be their duty to communicate with alumni and alumnae in the various fields of industry, commerce, education, etc., that they may enable students to be most advantageously placed in the realm of service.

This bureau will also keep a record of the occupied alumni and will endeavor to aid them in promoting themselves from time to time. The University of Kentucky is not a pioneer in this work, for nearly every big university has in connection with it a placement bureau functioning either as a separate office or part of another office and the University is merely responding to a call for a much needed service. It will merely consolidate the efforts of the various colleges along this line.

homa since 1913 and it now has a class A rating. Owing to the rapid growth of the school journalism there has become a need for a building, which may become a reality as there is now a bill in the present legislature asking appropriations for such a building. F. S. Bronson, publisher of the El Reno American, has offered $10,000 and a valuable Indian collection on condition the bill passes.

Besides friendly feeling there is a close cooperation between the Zeta chapter and Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalistic fraternity, in the university. Sigma Delta Chi held its annual convention in Norman in 1921 and Theta Sigma Phi helped entertain.

The week of the Sigma Phi, convention is also Journalism Week at the University of Oklahoma, and many journalistic activities are scheduled for that week. Zeta chapter will publish the April number of the University of Oklahoma Magazine, which will be distributed at the convention.

WILDCAT BASEBALL TEAM HAS BRIGHT PROSPECTS

New Material to Make up Infield This Season.

The University of Kentucky Wildcats have bright prospects for the coming season. Although the infield will be made up of new material, with the exception of Captain "Dutch" Burnham; the outfield will be much the same as last year. There are many fast diamond artists who have been showing up exceedingly well in daily practice. The battery part of the team will be as strong if not stronger than that of last year's team.

In the past week Coach Cy Barger has been taking the candidates thru what might be called a medium light practice, but he is sure that they will be ready for their first game. The majority of the players have taken part in various sports since last season.

The initial sack will probably give Coach Barger some worry, but there are several promising candidates that have been trying out for the sack and it is certain that it will be held down in a capable manner.

Due to the bad weather in the early part of the week, the team was unable to practice out-of-doors. The pitchers and catchers have been practicing daily in the gymnasium. Coach Barger is hoping that the weather will permit batting practice, the latter part of next week.

Environment

There are only two things that can influence a man's life, heredity and environment. By the very nature of it, heredity is complete or at least it is beyond our control. This makes it all the more necessary that we be careful of our surroundings, for a man's life is largely moulded by the environment of his youth. Let us then be very careful of our friends and associates. Remember, a man is judged by the company he keeps.

FINALS MONDAY NIGHT.

Greek Meets Greek in Amateur Basketball Contests.

Monday night, March 19, marked the opening of the annual Inter-Fraternity Basketball Tournament. The University Gymnasium was crowded with rooters for each team. The Kappa Sigmas defeated the Sigma Chi 26 to 14 and the Delta Chi defeated the Pi Kappa Alphas 18-10. Tuesday night two more games were played; the Sigma Alpha Epsilon defeated the Sigma Nus 10 to 9 and the Alpha Sigma Phi defeated the Phi Delta Theta 19 to 0.

Of the two games Monday night the "Phi Kap" Delta Chi game was by far the best. The game was close from start to finish. The first half ended 6 to 4 in favor of the Delta Chi. The five man defense of the winners was the feature of the evening games. Elkins played an excellent game at center for the winners; while Riley was the star for the losers. The first game of the evening was rather slow, the Kappa Sigmas completely outplaying their opponents. Tate and Hendricks were best for the winners, while Embry was the only Sigma Chi that showed much ability.

The first game Tuesday night between the Sigma Nus and the S. A. E.'s was one of the best games ever played in any of the previous tournaments. The game was fast and very interesting, and the game belonged to either side at all times. First one side would be ahead and then the other. About two minutes before the final whistle the score was 9 to 8 in favor of the Sigma Nus. After a toss up Bayless, star forward of the S. A. E.'s took the ball and shot the winning goal from the center of the floor leaving only a few minutes to play and thus giving the game to the S. A. E.'s. Bayless made 8 of the winners' 10 points. Fuller was best for the losers, making 5 points. The second game was very slow and uninteresting. The Alpha Sigma Phi made points at will and were offered little opposition by the Phi Deltas.

A. T. Rice, guard on the 1923 Wildcat five, was elected captain of the Blue and White quintet at a meeting of the letter men held late last week. manager of the Cat five will be chosen next fall.

Alexander Thermos Rice, hailing from the fair city of Paris,—no not France—has been a member of the varsity squad for the last two seasons, holding down a berth on the five last year. "Chuck" or "Huckleberry" plays at guard or center with equal ability and was one of the main cogs in the Cat machine of 1923. He is a junior in the college of Arts and Sciences. He was a member of the grid eleven of 1921 and '22—holding down one of the ends.

Misses Wilson and O'Hara were both members of the 1923 Kittenette aggregation, the former playing center and the latter guard.

Charming Tea.

The members of the Beta Chi Chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity were hosts at a charming tea Thursday afternoon from 4:30 to 6 o'clock in honor of the Delta Rho chapter of Delta Delta Delta fraternity which was installed at the University last week.

COOPER TO COACH FROSH BASEBALL; FRESHMEN HAVE LIMITED SCHEDULE

Economics Professor Elected at Meeting of Athletic Council Tuesday.

DISCUSS GYM FACILITIES

University in Bad Need of New Basketball Court, Boles Declares.

Paul Cooper, graduate assistant in the department of Economics of the University, was elected Freshman baseball coach at a meeting of the Athletic Council on the parlor floor of the Phoenix Hotel Tuesday evening. The council also decided to allow the freshman baseball and track teams a limited schedule for the coming season.

The members of the advisory board discussed the advisability of taking steps to procure a new basketball court for the use of the University teams and the Annual Interscholastic Tournament. Athletic Director S. A. Boles told the council that the University had lost a large amount of money during the past season through the inability to seat the great crowds that come to the games. He also said that people were turned away from the High School meet because of the small seating capacity of the gym. Many of the High Schools, throughout the state have larger and better gymnasiums than the University has. "Daddy" said, and the University take steps at once to provide a floor that will take care of the crowds.

Paul Cooper, new freshman diamond mentor, is a graduate of the University and was a member of the Wildcat nine. Cooper gained a big reputation through his work on the mound for the Cats in 1921, and again the following summer with the Little Rock Club. He was assistant coach under Jim Parks last year.

The yearling schedules for both baseball and track are still in the making but the youngsters are assured off ample opportunity to continue the great work done thus far by the Blue and White First Termers, and will have an excellent chance to lay claim to the third and fourth Frosh titles this year.

George Buchheit, varsity track mentor, will have charge of the Freshman also and it is certain that under his care the wealth of Yearling material should have a successful year.

INTERCLASS TRACK MEET WILL START ON STOLL
 FIELD FRIDAY, MARCH 23

Class Teams Are Better Organized This Year Than Ever Before.

100 MEN HAVE ENTERED.

Varsity Squad Will Be Picked From Best in Class Teams.

The inter-class track meet will get under way Friday, March 23, at four o'clock when nearly 100 track men representing the four different classes in the University will assemble on Stoll Field to contend for honors in the various events. Each man that makes a point on the winning class team will receive a silver medal. The class that wins the meet will have its name engraved on the silver loving cup on display in the bookstore. Last year the name "Seniors '22" was engraved on the cup.

The teams are well organized with capable and energetic men at the helm. Warren Clare, high point man of his team last year is captain of the Senior team, and Thomas "Tom" Gregory, active athletic booster, is manager. Nantz, reputed sprinter, is at the helm of the Junior aggregation as captain and Cornelius Anderson, is manager. Horace G. Brown, long-distance man and high point man of his team last year, is captain of the Sophomores, and Basil Frost is manager. The Freshmen have not yet elected their captain. Eddie Byers is acting manager for the yearlings.

The 100 yard dash, Friday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock has 19 men entered, of these 19 eight are to qualify for the finals that will be held Monday at 4 o'clock. The Freshman have nine entries in this event. Their most likely looking aspirants are "Turkey" Hughes, the Morton-Elliott lad that won the high school meet for his team two years ago, and the same lad that made such a creditable showing on the basketball team this year, who is probably the most likely entry, although he will evidently be pushed to the tape by Hall and Coons, who have been knocking it off in "nothin' flat." The Sophomores, in this event will depend on H. Ray, Ted Brewer, R. L. Mays, Turner Gregg and A. Hitton.

The Juniors have entered Nantz and McDowell, and the Seniors have Snider, Clare and Fuller.

The two mile run Friday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock is sure to be a thriller. It will be the only two mile run of the meet as there is not try-out for it. All of the classes have former track stars in this event except the Seniors. Porter, whose ability is known throughout the state, will be the Junior's champion; Brown, letter man and high point man for his team last year, will run under the Sophomore colors, as well as Gorman, who did spectacular work on the cinder path last spring and in the indoor meets during the winter. The Freshmen will be represented by Hall, the lad from Louisville, who won the class cross-country last fall.

The low hurdle race at 5 o'clock will reveal some of the fastest cinder men in the University. Clare and F. A. C. Thompson will represent the Seniors; Dewhurst and Nantz, the Juniors; R. L. Mays and Davidson, the Sophomores; and Jack Green and Triplett, the Freshmen. Of these men that have not yet shown their laurels in track and are apt to show them in this event are Mays and Triplett. Jack Green, Louisville boy, broke his record in low hurdles two years ago at the high school state meet.

James Brady, Freshman, of Lawrenceburg, is the favorite of the pole vault Tuesday afternoon at 4:15, but Heizer, also a Freshman, may run the dark horse and defeat him.

The climax of the meet will come the last thing Tuesday afternoon in the relay, when 12 of the best runners in the University will run.

More interest has been manifested in this meet than any that have been held among the classes and more men have been entered than have ever been entered from the University than in any track meet.

NOTICE!

Dr Ragland, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will be the speaker at the joint meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. at Patterson Hall, Sunday, March 25, at 6:30 p. m.

WOMEN STUDENTS HEAR

the young men were invited to attend. The University quartette sang just before and after the President's address.

At noon a buffet luncheon was served at Patterson Hall for the conference guests, the faculty and students with the speakers as the guests of honor.

The conference was assembled again at 2 o'clock to hear Miss Fay Barnum, designer and artist, of Louisville, speak on "Women in Art." Miss Bates presented this very interesting speaker.

Miss Mary Frances Stewart of the Conservatory of Music, Louisville, gave the last address of the meeting on "Music as a Vocation." She told briefly the history of the newest arts and enumerated the many lines of work in this field in a delightful way. Miss Mary Campbell Scott presided. From 4:30 to 5:30 a tea was given by the Home Economics Department at the Practicle House in honor of the speakers, to which all the guests, faculty and students were invited.

Teaching Engineering—a Real Man's Work

"Why are you satisfied to spend your days here when you might be doing bigger and more remunerative work with us?" The speaker was the Vice President of a big corporation, and he was addressing a great chemist.

The man to whom he spoke looked from his study window out over a well-loved campus for several moments before he replied. Finally his answer came, "I guess it's because I am more interested in helping to make men than I would be in just making things."

This thing of building men is one of the most fascinating vocations known. The pleasure that grows out of watching men develop, out of seeing them make effective use of the fundamentals that have been so carefully given them to use—it is doubtful if there can be any pleasure much deeper or more satisfying.

The teacher honors himself in the usefulness of his students. And the teacher of engineering, especially. His laboratory and his materials are in the minds of men. He shows them the right and constructive use of the senses and the memory in securing and storing information. He trains the judgment and the will to analyze and to decide. Little by little he develops the will to do, the ability to turn decision into accomplishment, the quality that always marks the successful engineer, who is a man who gets things done.

Westinghouse, and every engineering business, must acknowledge a deep obligation to those teachers whose training and interest have been an inspiration and a sure foundation for the individual successes that are constantly being recorded. And nothing that men or events may do can deprive the teacher of his rightful share of such triumphs!
