EZRA L. GILLIS RETURNS FROM REGISTRARS' MEET

Conducted a Class in Chicago at Convention of Collegiate Registrars

Registrar Ezra L. Gillis returned Sunday from Chicago where he attended the twelfth national meeting of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars held April 2, 3, 4, at which 160 registrars and assistants from 140 institutions were present.

Mr. Gillis conducted a class for registrars at the convention and an advisory committee was appointed from the association to work out details for a special two weeks' course for the training of registrars to be conducted at the University of Chicago during the summer.

The outstanding features of the program were the following addresses: "College Admissions," Dr. Ben Wood, of Columbia University; "Courses for the Training of the Registrar," Dr. C. H. Judd, of Chicago University; "Educational Significance of the Registrar's Office," Registrar R. N. Dempster, of John Hopkins University; "Place of the Office of the Registrar in the Plan of Administration of an Institution of Higher Education," A. O. Neal, of Arizona; "A Program of Educational Research for Registrars," C. P. Steimle, of Michigan State Normal; "Freshman Week and the Registrar's Office," Miss Mary Frazier Smith, Recorder of Wesley College.

NOTICE!

Inasmuch as the annual Spring vacation begins April 17, and many students who have class cycles closing the preceding day will perhaps leave for home the previous afternoon, The Kernel, in accordance with a long-established custom, will omit publication for the coming week, as the paper in the due course of publication would not be out until the student body had left for home. The publication will be resumed at the regular time in the week of the closing holidays.

JUNIOR CLASS TO HONOR MEMORY OF CLASSMATE

Memorial to Price McLean Will Be Placed in the New Stadium

At a meeting of the Junior Class held in the chapel at the fifth hour Friday, April 4, it was decided to use the surplus funds of the class to purchase a bronze tablet to be placed in the new basketball building and later in the stadium, in honor of Price McLean, Varsity football player, who met death while upholding the honor of his class and of his University on the athletic field.

The motion was made and carried that a bronze tablet eighteen by twenty-four inches be purchased and, pending the construction of the stadium, be placed in the new basketball building.

The following committee was selected to attend to its purchase and installation: Miss Frances Smith, Lehman Mays and V. L. Sturgill.

MAJOR PHELAN RESIGNS AS PROF. IN MILITARY SCIENCE

Vacancy to be Filled by Captain James Taylor

Major C. A. Phelan has resigned as Assistant Professor of Military Science and Tactics, due to ill health. He left Lexington Friday night with his family and will make his home in Seattle, Washington.

Major Phelan came to the University last September from Fort McKinley, Maine. He was at that time retired from active service, subject to call, and was assigned to the University Military staff. He is now on sixteen days' leave of absence, and will be permanently retired on April 23.

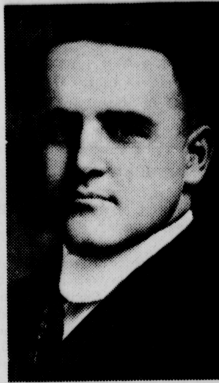

Captain James Taylor, of the Infantry Service, has been ordered to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Major Phelan. Captain Taylor is now pursuing a course of instruction in the infantry school at Ft. Benning, Ga., from which he has been relieved upon his present course.

Captain Taylor will report in June and will begin active duties in the Military Department at the fall session.

STADIUM SITE FIXED AT SOUTHWEST CORNER OF ROSE AND WINSLOW STS.

Building to Begin About May 1; Will Be Completed September 15

6 SECTIONS TO SEAT 12,000

Remainder of Structure Will Be Erected as Funds Are Available

The site for the proposed new stadium for the University of Kentucky has been definitely located at the corner of Rose and Winslow streets. Three locations were favored for the plant—one of them being the one selected, another being on the University of Kentucky Experiment Station Farm and the third being near the new basketball building.

The site desired by the Athletic Council and the alumni committee to the exclusion of the other two was the Winslow street location near the basketball building. Placing the stadium in this place would, they contend, eliminate an unsightly portion of the campus and place all the buildings belonging to the Athletic Department of the University within close proximity of each other.

At the meeting of those in charge of the building of the stadium it was brought out that the desired site would not be practicable at this time because of the fact that the City of Lexington would have to run a large storm sewer

FACULTY MEMBERS

The University of Kentucky is to be the host to the Middle West and Southern Classical Association April 17-19. An interesting program has been provided which will be held at the Phoenix Hotel, the University chapel and, on Saturday, at Transylvania College. I am writing to call your attention to the program and hope that you can attend the meetings. We will be glad to have your assistance in every way possible to make the visitors at the University feel at home. Professor T. T. Jones is chairman of the local committee.

With best wishes, I remain,
Sincerely yours,
FRANK L. McVEY,
President.

PAY UP FOR APRIL

Last week collection notices were mailed to all the students, who subscribed to the Greater Kentucky Fund, in regard to the April payment. Until now there has been very little response to the notices. There is need for all the funds as they fall due and the Alumni Office earnestly desires to receive a call from each of you this week at the earliest convenience. The final site for the stadium has been selected and work will begin before long, so let's get all the money in as it falls due so nothing will hold up the work.

The student body of the University has its first opportunity to become acquainted with the work of the Kentucky Educational Association.

The University Council has authorized the Deans to excuse from classes Juniors and Seniors who wish to attend the K. E. A. program.

Reservations for the banquet are now being made and all reservations must be completed by Monday, April 14. All students and members of the faculty who wish to go should file reservations in the Department of University Extension.

WILDCAT TRACK TEAM TO MEET VANDY SATURDAY

Left Friday For Nashville to Participate in First College Meet of Year

The Wildcat track team, under the direction of Coach Buchheit and Manager Jack Frost, left here Friday (this) morning for Nashville, Tenn., where they will meet Vanderbilt University team Saturday in the first inter-collegiate track meet of the season for the Blue and White men.

The Vanderbilt squad is known to be strong in sprint, distance, pole vault and relay events and will give Buchheit's squad considerable trouble. Much dependence is being placed in Ray Hall in the distance events, Brady in the events he is entered in and "Turkey" Hughes in the jumps. Hughes is considered one of the best men in the broad and high jumps who has been in the University of Kentucky in a number of years and will probably bring back some points to his credit.

Kirwan, who was expected to start as one of the members of the relay team, leaves for New York as the guest of the Alumni and will be unable to participate in this meet. His place on the mile relay event is being filled by Allen, who made such an excellent

Former students	250				16751.00	172
Total	2595	158	1278	49.5	81399.25	947	36.5

The above table gives the class standings of all the alumni on April 1, 1924. A close scrutiny of the table reveals some interesting facts. One of the striking things is the fact that 250 former students have contributed $16,751 to the Greater Kentucky Campaign. Of this number 172 have paid dues to the Alumni Association.

There are a great many former students who might be interested in contributing to the fund if their addresses could be obtained. The office has practically all the graduates listed but the former students are numerous and hard to find. Anyone knowing some former students who are not members of the Association will be doing the Association a favor if they will send in their names and addresses.

The table shows that 947 members are paid up for this year. At the first of April last year 1,084 members had paid their dues. It does not look well to see the old members that far behind. Checks for dues will be gladly received at any time. Help to raise the number up to last year's totals.

You will notice that 1,278 alumni and former students have contributed to the Greater Kentucky Campaign fund. Therefore about 300 who contributed are not members of the Association. Altogether alumni and former students have pledged $81,399.25. The present students, faculty and outside contributors have raised this to more than $200,000.

SELECT STADIUM SITE

Plans for Immediate Erection of Football Structure Are Made

Capt. C. C. Calhoun, of Washington, D. C., president of the Alumni Association and general chairman of the Greater Kentucky Campaign, was in Lexington several days last week assisting in the location of the stadium and attending to other matters of the Association. After a long deliberation over three possible locations the committee decided to build the stadium on the east side of Stoll Field at Winslow and Rose streets.

The chief reason for choosing the upper end of the field instead of the lower end was due to the fact that the city authorities did not think a sewer could be constructed at the lower end of the field where the stadium would set in time for the stadium to be built this summer. The sewer would have to be constructed before the stadium could be erected there. The committee also stated that they could erect the stadium at the upper end of the field without destroying the present football field. This being the case the team will be assured of grounds for next fall even if the stadium is not completed. The committee, however, is confident that it can be completed in time for the football season.

While Capt. Calhoun was here Howard P. Ingels and J. Irvine Lyle, both of New York, were here for a meeting of the board of trustees of the University. General plans have been made for Alumni Day during commencement week. Capt. Calhoun hopes to be able to secure a cabinet member or General Pershing to be the principal speaker at the annual alumni banquet.

THE NEW STADIUM

The Board of Trustees, in a meeting Sunday, authorized immediate construction of the new Kentucky Stadium. This cheering news comes after months of indecision and retarded action. There has been much delay, due to a lack of a site suitable for the stadium.

Three sites have been under consideration. One was in the "swamp" at the northwest corner of the field. Due to legal complications contingent upon such a location, the University discarded this site.

Another place suggested was upon grounds of the Experiment Station. The inconvenience of this place, and the distance from the center of town and the campus eliminated it from consideration.

Another place selected for the stadium is at the corner of Rose street and Winslow. The structure will be in the shape of a horseshoe, with the closed end facing Rose. At the present time, only the two banks of the stadium will be built, seating 12,000 persons. This will take care of the immediate needs of the University.

The advantages of the site selected are manifold. The construction of the stadium will in no way injure the present Stoll Field, nor will it interfere with its use. In constructing the new stadium, no filling will have to be done, nor will it interfere with any of the sewer lines of the city, as would have been the case of the other site upon the campus.

Construction of the stadium will be started about the first of May and the new plant will be in readiness for the opening of the football season in the fall.

The stadium committee is very anxious to receive all unpaid pledges and ask that all students who have not done so, will please pay them at once. All who have not paid their pledges will do a patriotic service to Kentucky by turning in their subscriptions at once.

EASTER

"And now is Christ arisen and become the first fruits of them that slept."

The Easter season is one of the most beautiful in all Christendom. The exquisite ceremonies attending Easter are comparable only to those of the celebration of Christmas. Even the seasons unite in keeping the spirit of Easter. Spring, in her awakening, sends forth tender shoots of green; the flowers burst into bloom, perfuming the air with delicate odors.

The seasonal re-awakening of Nature finds its counterpart in the heart of man. The spirit of Christ, in His resurrection, finds expression in Easter sermons and ceremonies in every Christian church. Yet the spirit of Easter should not be found in the church alone. It should be fostered by all the people, lowly and mighty. Students as well as others should meditate upon their many blessings, and thus develop a warmth of heart toward others which would go far in bettering conditions around them.

As we go home for the Easter vacation, in temporary cessation of school duties, let us remember those about us. And in preparation for the coming examinations, let us prepare ourselves in the best manner possible for a triumphant finish of the year's work.

CAN THE FLAPPER BE DEFENDED?

Nowadays one hears a great deal in condemnation of the modern girl, or as she is called, the flapper; but we hear very little said in commendation of the girls who represent the womanhood and motherhood of the near future. The very word "flapper," suggests to the minds of most people a painted, powdered piece of brazen humanity who does not know the meaning of the word "modesty" and has totally lost the art of blushing.

Despite the consensus of adverse opinion regarding the modern girl, those who are broadminded and who can sympathize with the weakness of youth, see the true girl behind the mask of outward indifference and boldness. She is frank, indeed, at times, brutally so. Her conversation is free, so free that her grandmother and even her mother blush to think that their little "darling" discusses openly subjects that in their day were considered unmentionable. She has a soul but she conceals the fact by trying to understand life and by understanding it, trying to overcome one of its many difficulties.

Flapperism seems to have come into prominence directly after the war and, like most evils, if flapperism be an evil, we blame the war for it. The young men who returned home from service came back with entirely new ideals. They had learned that many things they had always believed and certain forms of convention that they had always observed, really amounted to nothing, that it was but the individuality of these returned soldiers the young women gradually, probably unconsciously, by trying to please them, grew into the girls that they are today.

The older generations shudder to think that girls whom they see now coming home from dances at 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning will one day have homes of their own with the rearing of children entrusted to them. Again, fathers and mothers bewildered at the coldblooded way in which marriage is regarded by young folk. They feel that the young folk are speculating with marriage as they would with a new dress or job; that they accept the proposition with the understanding that if they do not like it they may make a change.

However, the modern girl has proved that she is capable of taking care of herself in all circumstances; and it is a safe bet that she will be able to manage her home and her husband in the same efficient way. She meets the world face to face, for she abhors the idea of being tied to her mother's apron strings. She is not sheltered or kept in ignorance of the facts of life; thus she is better prepared to meet, without flinching, the crushing blows that come to everyone.

Those who insist that the flapper will not make a good housekeeper are wrong, for girls today cook and sew, know how to manage a house on an economical basis, and in addition to this are prepared to make their own living whenever they get tired sponging off their fathers. They let no grass grow under their feet, when they work, they work, when they play, they play. They do not think that they are too good to earn their daily bread, and they earn it efficiently.

Have the girls, by their actions and seeming equality with men, ceased to command their respect? We answer "no." The very fact that they have shown that they are not dependent on men for a livelihood or for happiness must call forth the respect of every honest man. Perhaps they are out to "have a good time," for they realize that they are young and young. What if they are indiscreet at times? Who is there that has never been guilty of indiscretion or of misdemeanor? Our girls are no worse than their mothers and grandmothers but the world has changed and they have progressed with it.

intendent of the Edgworth Emergency Hospital. He has been a field director in the American Society for the Prevention of Cancer.

Wellington Patrick, director of the Department of University Extension, was granted leave of absence for the next scholastic year. Mr. Patrick, who has recently been awarded a scholarship by the Education Board of New York City, will probably go to Peabody College to take up the study of school administration. Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, acting chairman of the extension committee, was placed in charge of the extension and Miss Cella Taylor was made acting director. Miss Taylor has been secretary in the office for the past two years.

Leave of absence was granted H. S. Wolfe, assistant in the department of Botany, and the resignation of Dr. J. J. Steiner, veterinarian at the Kentucky Experiment Station, was accepted.

Miss Sarah Blanding was appointed Dean of Women for the next scholastic year. R. W. Jones, of the experiment station was located on Robinson Mountain fund tract at Quicksand. Prof. McHenry Rhodes, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, was elected to membership on the executive committee to succeed George Colvin.

At this meeting the board accepted membership in the National Association of Governing Boards of State Universities and Allied Institutions.

Plans for the building of the new wing to the chemistry building were approved and the bids for its erection will be advertised soon. It was decided to hold men's gymnasium classes in the gymnasium of the new basketball building. Women's classes will be held in the men's old gym and the present women's gymnasium building will be abandoned.

Student fees were increased from $20 to $25 a semester in the College of Law and from $12.50 to $20 in other colleges, exclusive of student activity fees. Board in the women's dormitories was increased from $62.50 to $70 a quarter. This was done in order to meet the need of additional funds for operating expenses. Dr. McVey called attention to the increase in enrollment in the University and the crowded classroom conditions.

Members of the board present at the meeting were: Judge R. C. Stoll and Senator H. M. Froman, of Lexington; Robert G. Gordon, Louisville; Frank McKee, Versailles; Howard P. Ingels, New York; Lewis LeBus, Cynthia; R. J. Bassett, Leitchfield; J. Irvine Lyle, New York; J. M. Turner, Paintsville; McHenry Rhoads, Frankfort; and W. H. Grady, Louisville.

PATT HALL TENNIS CLUB ELECTS E. O'HARA PRESIDENT

WARNING TO PRATTLERS A BIOLOGIST TO A GERM CELL

(First Prize)

Ah April,
You foolish, credulous creature!
Are harsh memories not enough for you?
Here, warm and loose with your ridiculous tenderness,
You have babbled your frightened buds, like soft words, in the chilly sun-shine.
And this
Because someone has flattered you into believing
The Spring is your lover.

Are you not afraid
That this wistful blur of green
Will crumble to nothingness
Like a cob-web of breath
On cold glass?

Does it not sober you a little, to remember
The silent laughter of snow?
—SUSAN CLAY

(Second Choice)

If I could know you, little cell,
Could understand your secrets well,
Of all mankind I'd wisest be about creation's mystery.
But one clear view of each and all
The contents hid within your wall
Would glorify this mortal clod.
And lift me nearer unto God.
Open your nucleus to me,
For as a child I long to see;
To give the world a priceless tome
About your minute centrosome.
Perhaps within your nucleolus
You have more power than our old Aeois
With his winds. Your vacuole
May hold the secret of the soul.
With proteid, fat, and mineral
And your primordial uticle
All know to me (an oil globule
Might make exception to the rule)
I cannot say, O little cell,
What it might mean to know you well

—VIRGIL STURGLI.

If you knew what ageing in wood does for pipe tobacco

Even the finest Kentucky Burley Tobacco (and that's the kind we use) is green and raw when it's pulled. You could hardly smoke one pipe load of it.

And here's where Velvet is different: Our ageing takes out that rawness and harshness, and makes the tobacco mild and mellow and gives it fine flavor. Ageing in wood does what no artificial treatment can do.

Remember—Velvet Tobacco aged in wood.

HOME PERFORMANCE OF STROLLER PLAY APR. 23

Dates Changed From April 24-25 Owing to Conflict

The Lexington date of "Seventeen," the annual Stroller play, has been changed from April 24-25 to April 23-24. This change was brought about, due to a conflict in dates, by Harrison Scott, manager of Opera House.

The cast has been working night and day under the supervision of advisers and critics who say that the Thursday night rehearsal was as nearly perfect as any Stroller organization has ever given. The interest seems to be on the increase especially since the time of presentation draws near.

William Blanton, business manager of the Stroller organization, will leave Saturday, April 12, for Cynthiana, to close the contract for the performance there. The date is set for April 21. Contracts have already been closed for shows in Richmond, Harlan and Pineville. These dates are as follows: Richmond, May 7; Harlan, May 8; Pineville, May 9.

All presentations have been made for the itinerary. The troupe, composed of twenty-five persons, including cast, stage crew and chaperons, will go to Cynthiana in automobiles provided by members of the organization. They will go to Richmond in busses. At Richmond they will take the boarding car which has been chartered, and thence to Harlan and Pineville.

According to Phillip Rush, business manager of the stage crew, the scenery will be ready for use in rehearsals a week before the first performance of the play.

The costumes are being designed by the Art Department of the University, under the supervision of Miss Ann Callahan.

FORMER STUDENT HONORED

It will be of interest to the students of the University of Kentucky to know that James H. Gardner, a former student and major in Geology, has had the honor of being elected president of the American Control of Petroleum Geologists, at the ninth annual meeting, which was held last month at Houston, Texas. Four hundred members were present at this meeting and he received a unanimous vote.

Gardner received his Master's Degree from the University of Kentucky in 1906 and was a student of Doctor Miller's in the Department of Geology.

The American Control of Petroleum Geologists' Association, which has for its members America's foremost geologists, is the best of its kind in the world, and it is quite an honor, not only to Gardner but also to his university, that he has been elected president of such an organization which ranks so high in America and in fact throughout the world. This organization has over 1,000 members scattered all the way to the antipodes. Gardner is also president of his own petroleum company, in Tulsa, Okla.

At the meeting in Houston, David White, former chief of the United States Survey, and Andrew Lawson, of the National Research Council, were present.

HISTORY CLUB HAS REGULAR MEET MONDAY AFTERNOON

The History Club held its regular monthly meeting Monday, April 7, at 3:45. In the absence of the President and Vice President, Estelle Kellsall presided.

Following the announcements and usual business, an interesting program was given. Ellery Hall gave a good estimate of "Wilson the Historian," citing his most important works and giving a few extracts from them. Ruth Kennedy sketched clearly the place of Wilson at the Peace Conference. William Blanton in his talk, "Wilson the Educator," showed the important place Wilson held in the field of education.

In keeping with the month, W. D. Bryant discussed "April, Our War Month." The meeting then adjourned.

FOUR GEOLOGY STUDENTS TO WORK FOR STATE IN SUMMER

George Pirtle and H. D. Crider, Seniors, and Ray Miller and Cecil Lane, Sophomores, of the Department of Geology of the University of Kentucky, will be engaged in making traverse maps of the State under the State Geological Survey, according to a statement given out by Professor A. C. McFarlan, of the Geology Department, the first of the week. The first two mentioned were with the State Geology Department last summer and are well learned in that field. The men will leave as soon as the present semester has closed.

Pirtle and Miller will be engaged in mapping Hardin and Bullitt counties; Crider will map LaRue county and will probably be connected with the field party under the direction of Dr. Stuart Weller, of the University of Chicago, into the Western Kentucky sections. It is not known where Lane will spend the summer.

JUDGE DEBATE IN PARIS

Dr. Edward Tuthill and Messrs. Roberts and Chalkley, of the History Department and Law College, respectively, went to Paris last Friday night to judge a debate on the subject of, "Resolved, That the system of direct primary nomination is preferable to that of nomination by caucus and convention."

A number of professors of the University have been going to different parts of the State during the last three weeks to judge debates of a similar nature.

DIPLOMAS WILL BE GRANTED TO LARGE CLASS IN JUNE

The University of Kentucky will grant diplomas to 290 graduates this June according to estimates made by school officials, based on the number who have done satisfactory work to date. The class graduating from the University is larger than the combined number from all other Kentucky Colleges.

Harnessing Niagara Falls for the First Time

What Engineering Owes to Faith

THE pioneer harnessing of Niagara Falls in 1892, like all great engineering feats, was the result of the co-operation of many able and constructive minds. There were no "older engineers" on this work, with younger assistants, as is now common, because there were no "older" engineers then. All of them were young men in a young business, optimistic, enthusiastic and willing to take long chances.

The original Niagara installation represented progress based largely on faith because there were many features of construction proposed at that time which Westinghouse Engineers refused to accept, and which time has shown to be utterly impracticable.

Thus, in effecting a compromise, the three fundamental features of heating, insulation and regulation of the 25-cycle machines as built, were vastly different from the original designs. Time verified their judgment, the ten original generators operating successfully for more than a quarter of a century.

Looking back, it is gratifying that those young men served engineering so courageously, because truly it was an undertaking that taxed their faith to the limit.

LETTER FROM ALUMNUS

Denver, Col., March 20, 1924.
The Kentucky Kernel,
Lexington, Ky.
Gentlemen:

It was my privilege, two weeks ago last Monday, to spend the day in Lexington. With my brother I walked through the college grounds and enjoyed happy reminiscences innumerable in connection with our beloved institution. However, I felt very keenly that some one ought to say precisely what President McVey last week did say, through the Kentucky Kernel, with respect to the obvious tendency to disfigure the campus by the method of parking automobiles.

Very truly,
WILLIAM R. BROCK.

SPRING FOOTBALL PRACTICE UNDER WAY

Coach Will Probably Announce Assistants Before Close of School

Spring football practice under the tutelage of Coach Murphy progressed into the second month of work with more than three teams out for daily practice on Stoll Field in preparation for the fall season, which it is hoped will be one of the most successful in the history of the University of Kentucky.

Early in the week the men went through dummy scrimmage with the promise of more strenuous work later in the season just before the close of practice. Indications point to an eleven that will be up to the standard of those produced in past years at the home of the Blue and White, though hopes must not be raised too high, for it must be remembered that Coach Murphy must teach his system to his men before they can hope to be successful on the gridiron.

All of the men who are eligible for football this fall have been out for practice with the exception of those men who are taking part in other branches of athletics such as baseball and track. Most of these men, however, are in excellent condition and will need little or no additional training to prepare them for the season when it opens.

Coach Murphy is expected to make an announcement of the men who will assist him before the close of school. The selection of an assistant coach was left to the new grid mentor when he took the place and, according to Mr. Murphy, he has several men under consideration for the position. When he came to the University of Kentucky he declared that he would rather have a trainer than an assistant coach, provided both of them could not be secured.

A trainer is one thing that the Kentucky team has needed for a number of years and will be a welcome addition to the staff. According to Mr. Murphy the man he has under consideration for this place is recognized as one of the best in this line of endeavor and will do much toward assisting in the development of the machine.

UNIVERSITY HIGH STUDENT HONORS ARE ANNOUNCED

Scholarship honors of the class of June, 1924, of the University High School, were announced Wednesday in a report from the faculty committee on scholarship. The honor of valedictorian, awarded annually to the student who for three and one-half years has maintained the highest general average in his school work, went to LeRoy Miles, with an average of 95.7 per cent.

William B. Brock, Jr., carried off second honors with an average of 93.5 percent and so becomes salutatorian.

CATS DEFEAT INDIANA BY SCORE OF 6 TO 2 IN OPENING BALL GAME

Hughes Pitches Masterful Ball —Fans Eleven Opponents; Allows Nine Hits

MAKE 4 RUNS IN FIFTH

Wildcats Give Excellent Support in Pinches to Aid Hurler

The University of Kentucky baseball team won their first game of the season Thursday afternoon when they defeated the University of Indiana nine by the score of 6 to 2. At the start of the game the Hoosiers collected a one-run lead off of the delivery of Hughes and with the score standing one run against them the Wildcats came to bat. They collected two runs in the opening inning and then settled down to play out the remainder of the game with the assurance that Hughes had the visitors at his mercy.

The score remained unchanged until the Wildcats came to bat at the end of the fifth inning when the Kentucky nine entered on a hitting spree that netted them four runs before it could be halted. Woodward passed the first man up, Miller. King drove out a single. Croft did the same and Alberts ran for him. Miller and King scored on Croft's hit. Hughes then knocked out a single and Vossmeier sacrificed. Alberts and Hughes went to third and second base respectively. Riffe tapped out a single that scored them both. Henry singled and Riffe was caught by the catcher as he attempted to come home.

In the first half of the sixth inning Niness scored after he had gotten on by knocking out a single and came in on Parker's smashing two-base hit. This ended the scoring for the contest, for both of the opposing hurlers kept the hits well scattered through the remainder of the game.

Hughes pitched a masterful brand of ball for the Wildcats and allowed but nine hits during the battle while at the same time striking out eleven men. He did not pass a man during the entire game. Woodward also pitched an excellent game but could not keep his hits as well scattered as his Wildcat opponent.

2 GAMES WITH THIN RED LINE TO BE PLAYED

Athletic Council Accepts Contract, Hires Trainer and Gives Trophies

The Athletic Council which met Wednesday night accepted a contract with the University of Alabama for two football games to be played between the Thin Red Line of the Alabama Institution and the Wildcats at Birmingham in 1925 and 1926. The Cats will meet the Alabama eleven this year for the third time in as many years. Each of the elevens has won one game each and the contest this fall will serve to break the tie now existing.

The Council also announced that a contract had been made with Frank Mann, of the Purdue Indiana University, to act as trainer for the Wildcat teams for the coming year. He will take up his duties September 1, and will aid in preparing the Cats for their 1924 campaign.

Gold basketballs were awarded to members of the girls' basketball team. Those who will receive awards are: Misses Kloppe, Kerth, Keifer, Helm, Captain Wilson, Boughton, Hill and Manager O'Hara.

STADIUM SITE FIXED AT SOUTHWEST CORNER OF ROSE AND WINSLOW STS.

through the site, which the city is unable to do at this time, thus entailing disastrous delay. Further, it was pointed out that funds in the hands of the building committee would not permit the excessive grading that would be necessary on the desired site, so the decision of the committee was an economic necessity. The location finally decided upon at Rose and Winslow streets, will require little grading, which fact will release funds to build more sections of the stadium.

Plans for the stadium are complete and are now in the hands of the Osborne Engineering Company for approval. They will be returned for corrections and will be ready for submission to the contractors about April 15. Work on the building is expected to begin about the first of May.

The entire structure was planned in the Civil Engineering Department of the University of Kentucky under the direction of the head of the department, Professor Daniel Terrill. He was assisted in the work by H. L. Strauss, graduate student, and H. R. Creel, who has been a practical engineer for the last ten years and who has returned to the University of Kentucky to procure his degree. Mr. Creel has had considerable experience in concrete designing and is well fitted for the work.

The structure is to be in the shape of a horse-shoe and will be built in 16 sections, only six or seven of which will be built at this time. The closed end of the building will be at the Rose street end of the field. The western end of the building will be left open to be closed later as funds permit and will provide seats for approximately 10,000 additional followers of the Wildcat eleven.

There is in the hands of the building committee at this time approximately $100,000 which, it is estimated, will be sufficient to build three sections each on the north and south sides of the field with the possibility of sufficient funds being available to construct one more section on the western end of the south side of the stadium, giving a total of seven sections to be built this year. The seating capacity of the completed sections will be about 12,000, or about 3,000 more than have witnessed a football game at the University of Kentucky in the past several years.

When completed the structure will seat about 25,000 people, exclusive of the number that might be seated in temporary wooden seats at the open end of the building, making the new stadium one of the largest of its kind in the south.

Plans for the stadium call for the construction within it of a quarter mile cinder track with a 220 yard straightaway and provisions for dressing rooms for contesting teams. When the sections that will be built this summer are completed there will be consultation rooms for the respective teams and possibly dressing rooms for the visiting teams.

According to Professor Terrill, the stadium will be completed by September 15. In case this becomes impossible, the former field on which the Wildcats have been playing for the last few years will still be available with its sod untouched, so that the schedule may be completed in any event. This factor was taken into consideration when the site was chosen for it was pointed out that should the Kentucky eleven be unable to play this season because of a lack of playing field it would retard the development of the eleven for a period of years and work havoc with Wildcat competition with Southern teams in the future.

NOTICE!
 Juniors and Seniors, in the College of Arts and Science, majoring in Education, are requested to come to chapel the fifth hour Saturday, April 12.
