

Wednesday (P.M.)

Dear Rose Ellen -

Heeee there palin - guess who? You're right its me.

Well how are ya? Guess I'll tell ya right away. This isn't going to be very long since just having seen you a couple of days ago leaves me with not much to say. Sorry?

This is just to let you know that I'm home again & doing the daily dozen once again. In other words I'm a working girl once more. So are you huh?

Just want to thank you again for everything including the song sheet & the calendar. Mother likes it a lot & we have it hanging just where the old one was. We still have the old one too, just thought I'd tell you.

You know, I heard Perry Como sing "Frost on the Moon" the other nite. & I guess I never realized how swell he really is. I like him a lot. In fact I think he's terrific. At any rate he put that one over.

I imagine your boy-friend & the brother must have thought I was very sociable. I really didn't get to talk much with them, but after why should they want to talk to me when there are other people around. C'mon? Can't say that I blame them. Say "hello" to them anyway.

Well kids, guess I have to go, really. You write
