Cat, Dog Fight Saturday Night

Georgia Favored; Both Teams After Their Third Win

By Tom Esokin
Kentucky's unpredictable Wildcats will face the powerful Georgia Bulldogs Saturday night on Stoll field before an expected packed crowd. In their last 19 games, the "red-jaw" gridders have won 18, while losing only to North Carolina, 14-7, two weeks ago at Chapel Hill. Coach Wally Butts and his burly Bulldogs opened the 1947 season by defeating Furman, 13-7, last of the Tarheels a week later, and then climbed all over the surprised Tigers of Wake Forest in a 14-0 thrashing at Greensboro. Saturday night they will meet the Virginia State State Saturday to upset Wake Forest in the regular season. The UK Cats will take into high gear the machine shifted into high gear.

Officials Consider Kernel Proposal

University officials are considering a Kernel editorial proposal that offers remain open during the lunch hour. Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, vice president of the University, said.

UK Esquires Will Observe 'Meatless' Day

By Jean Vance
"Meatless" Tuesdays and "poiltry-and-eggs" Thursdays will be observed by all University-operated dining places, in accordance with SGAA's stand to aid by President Truman's conservation program. Claude Sprowls, SGAA president, announced the plan to meatless days as part of the crisis brought about by the European situation.

Aerials Anticipated

The big battle Saturday will probably develop into a pitching duel between Georgia's ace quarterback Johnny Rauch and UK's George Blanda. Both of these signal callers are natives of Pennsylvania—Rauch hails from Yeadon, while Blanda is from Youngwood.

22 I-M Teams Enter Football Competition

By Allen Terhune

Pleasant appetites were whetted into anticipation as the boisterous tug-of-war league made its debut among intramural teams on the University campus Monday afternoon.

Bill McCubbin, intramural director, reports that 22 teams have entered the football frolic and that because of such a large turnout, the teams have been divided into three divisions.

Each team in the first and second division will play six games in the round-robin affair while the third division teams will clash seven times. No two squads will meet twice.

The three teams in each division that slash their way through the preliminary battles with the highest percentage of triumph will then compete in the regular elimination tournament.

Press time found an even dozen winners resting in their victory laurels while the 12 defeated squads were yelling "Play, damn, play!"

SX's Lead

Last year's champion, Sigma Chi, has forged ahead in the first division and paces the entire loop with two wins and no losses at the expense of teams representing Alpha Gamma Rho and Phi Sigma Kappa, respectively.

The Triangles are currently hitting rock bottom in the first division, having bowed to the Merit's Deem as well as the AGR's. Meanwhile, the Sigma Nu's rattled the last bucket after meeting the ZBT's in the final tilt of the first division to date.

In the second division, last year's runner-up, the SAE's, dropped their first try to Sigma Phi Epsilon; the Frankfort Flashers topped the ASP's and the PKA's topped an independent eleven.

Lambda Chi Alpha's squad lost their opener in the third division to the Northern Kentucky Turfies; the ATO's topped Phi Kappa Tau; Delta Tau Delta whipped the Kappa Sig's, and Kappa Alpha raced to victory over Phi Delta Theta.

Tennis Entry Large

Entries in the tennis tournament topped all expectations as 133 men signed their rackets away for singles and doubles competition.

First round singles must be played by Oct. 11. It was announced by the intramural department, who set up the following deadlines:

Second Round by Oct. 11
Third Round by Oct. 18
Fourth Round by Oct. 4
Fifth Round by Nov. 7
Sixth Round by Nov. 12
Doubles

First Round by Oct. 21
Second Round by Oct. 28
Third Round by Nov. 4

Frosh Sink Navy 50-9 At Annapolis

By Don B. Towles

In a game in which the first half was jam-packed with thrills and was nip and tuck, the Kentucky freshman football team easily overcame the week opposition of the Annapolis freshmen by a score of 50-9.

Kentucky opened the scoring by charging over the double line early in the first quarter only to be followed by the Annapolis men who scored minutes later by tie the score at the first quarter 7-7.

However, the frosh of Wildcat land again crossed the final line to charge into pay dirt only two plays before the half ended to take the lead, 13-7.

Four TD's In Third

A strong Kentucky team returned to the Navy field after the half to mark up four touchdowns in the third quarter while the Annapolis frosh were held to a safety. This concluded the Navy scoring.

In the final canto, Roy Ford, Kentucky center, blocked a Navy punt to score another touchdown for the Wildcat freshmen. On the last play of the game a pass from Franklin to Crogg connected and Kentucky again marked up a TD to end the game with Kentucky on the big end of a 50-9 score.

"Everybody did a good job," said Coach Bill McCubbin of the all-

Musketeers Hold Wildcats To 20-7 Win

By O. C. Halvard

What the Kentucky coaches as well as the rosters had hoped would be a breather before this Saturday's real trial with Georgia, turned out to be a hard-fought for 20-7 victory for the Wildcats over the Xavier Musketeers last week-end.

A capacity crowd of nearly 15,000 at Xavier stadium saw what all advance notices had indicated would be a rout for the Kentuckians changed into a moral victory for the Cincinnatians by a never say die Xavier squad.

The heavily-favored Kentuckians clicked like machinery, and talked twice before some of the crowd had hardly gotten in its seats, and it looked as if a repeat performance of the 30-0 trouncing dished out by the Wildcats last year was in the making.

Three Musketeers

Then the Three Musketeers with down or so sturdy aids—stunned though they were—decided to settle down and make a fight of it. That they did, while holding off a whole flock of Wildcats from their goal except for once in the next three quarters, they managed to out point them 7-6.

Stephen O'Dea, the first Musketeer, slugged one of Jim Bobb's knees on the Kentucky 40 and passed his way to the 31 before he was overcome. But there were two other Musketeers waiting to take up the fight.

Quarterback Bob McQuade fired a pass to halfback Pat Fehring on the 15 and Pat knifed and cut his way through the Wildcats' secondary for the score. O'Dea planted a nice kick right between the goal posts to shove the Cats' lead down another point.

Half Ends 14-7

The Kentuckians hung on, and while they were able to tighten their defense against the Three Musketeers, they too were unable to advance far with straight football, and the half ended 14-7.

Finally Bryant had to lift the covers for a moment and reveal Don "Dopey" Phelps as a triple threat man in order to line up the Cats' final marker. Phelps earlier in the game had booted one from scrimmage on the Kentucky 40 over the Xavier goal on a roll.

And now well into the third period, George Blanda shovelled one out to Phelps who started out wide as if to skirt the end. But instead he jumped into the air and flung a neat pass to Charlie Bentley on the Muskies' 46. Bentley doing a neat bit of running to the 16.

Phelps Scores

Jack "Bobo" Parris joined with Phelps to advance the ball to the seven, and Blanda hit Hershey on the two from where Don lugged it through tackle to pay dirt. Blanda's attempt went wide and that was all the night's scoring.

Kentucky's first two touchdowns came as a result of straight football, while the opposition was still slightly scared. On the first play from scrimmage Farris roared off 53 yards moving the pigskin from the Kentucky 10 to the X 28. Bill Moseley and Phelps pushed it to the five before Moseley booted it over. Blanda converted.

Xavier took the kick-off but was unable to march far and had to punt to the Cats who started their second touchdown march in less than eight minutes, a 55 yard trip this time. Bill Bolter tossed one to Bentley and the Cat end moved deep in Xavier territory to the 28 before he was stopped.

Moseley Again

Blanda connected with Hershey twice and then Moseley forced his way through the middle again. Blanda ended on the extra point.

The Wildcat backfield turned in a good job of running and passing for the night against the stubborn Musketeers, but the right side of the Kentucky line looked bad with "Wah Wah" Jones and Bill Griffin both warming the bench with injuries. Wash Serrin, Lloyd McDermott, Bob Gain, Leonard Preston, and Hershey worked hard in the line along with Kentucky centers Jay Rhodeney, Harry Ulinski, and Nick Olliva.

The ATO trophy will be awarded to the intramural athlete with the highest number of points.

ward will be terrific! No team scored through the line this season. The six touchdowns made by Georgia's opposition have been over the line—the six times. Furman scored on a pass; then in the North Carolina game, big Walt Puga, Turbott fullback, flipped two airties for scores; and last Saturday LSU passed for one marker and intercepted a Rauch pass for their points.

Kentucky will have to take to the sky if they expect to upset the mighty Red and Black team from Athens, Ga. Blanda and Jim Bobb will be called upon to do the passing and must show considerable improvement along this line from last week when they completed only six airties in 19 tosses against the scrappy X team.

Dopey Phelps, UK's star halfback, was pretty well bottled last Saturday by Xavier, and Georgia will attempt to do this same.

All set to stop Phelps & Co. is the rugged Bulldog forward line, led by Captain Dan Edwards, the right end, Center Gene Chandler, and Weyman Sellers, at the left flank. The two first-string tackles, Carl George and Jack Bush, are big and tough. Bernie Reid and Herb St. John, guards, will probably start for the visiting team.

This line is one of the best in the Conference, playing brilliantly against North Carolina and LSU. They stopped the highly publicized Charlie Justice extremely well two weeks ago and LSU's hard-running backs last week.

Fullback Backfield. Rauch will be the quarterback, with John Dombrowski at right half, 18-year-old Lucile Brunson, a freshman, at left half, and either Al Bodine or Floyd "Browny" Reid at the fullback slot.

Wah Wah Jones, who saw no action against Xavier because of a shoulder injury, is expected to be ready for the starting right end position in the next game. Kentucky's line is in pretty fair physical condition and will probably start the game at full strength.

HALYARD'S SPORT SIDE SHOW

Featuring Today —

Band May Still Be Best In Dixie If Given Chance

There's been a lot of talk on the campus and around town lately about the UK band, where they've been, and why they haven't performed. Also a lot of the lip wagging has been over the question of drum majorettes or not.

Well, the band will be on the field this Saturday night at half time and there won't be any drum majorettes. As for the drum majorette part of the argument, we can't deny that we look a strong stand for them during the summer when the as better, was just a terrific drum major, and not the band.

He put on a sensational show climaxed by the twirling of fire batons, and everybody immediately was ready to judge the entire outfit as tops.

We ought to remember too that Cincinnati started back to school before we did and had the advantage of early drills.

There was another problem fronting our band. This year they will again be an all-male outfit. Thus a number of new uniforms had to be ordered large enough to fit men to replace those cut down to fit the girls. Those new uniforms just arrived this week.

The band has been working hard preparing for this week-end. Their band room is now located out on the Ag farm, and they have to practice their marching on the U-High field. Just getting ready to practice is a big job in itself.

However, they are ready and in addition to the usual formations of letters, they have worked up a series of animated features to perform.

Bill Jones, drum major, tells us, Jones added that the 60 freshmen in the 100 piece band that will take the field Saturday night have the spirit that made the old bands famous.

Let's don't kill that spirit before they've had a chance. It's easy to sit back and criticize but lets watch them perform first even if we look at them with blurred vision.

Of this isn't exactly sports, but still it might be classed as a sport in a broader sense. So just in case you haven't heard, Miss Amy Price, Kentucky Beauty Queen, is pinned. The lucky man is Dick Overstreet, a Delk. Well, we tried, but lost. Of course even Notre Dame doesn't win them all.

The Kentucky-Georgia game should be outstanding for two additional reasons. One is that the Kentucky Wildcats haven't lost an encounter on Stoll Field since Bryant took over the reins. They won five home games last year, and one so far this year.

Another is that Don Phelps, flashy Cat halfback, has never scored against a Southeastern Conference team. All 60 of his college points have been marked up against non-conference foes.

Ralph Beard Named Top State Athlete

Ralph Beard, UK's All-American basketball player, was awarded a trophy as being Kentucky's outstanding amateur athlete of the year at a dinner held Tuesday night at the Kentucky Amateur Athletic Union in Louisville.

Beard has also been nominated by the Kentucky AAU for the Sullivan award, presented annually to the leading amateur athlete of the nation.

Coch Coach Rupp hailed Beard as one of the "finest boys and greatest athletes in America." Rupp pointed out that Beard was named by the New York sports writers as the best basketball player to appear in Madison Square Garden last season and also had been placed on five All-American basketball teams.

The speedy little guard will be playing his third year for the Wildcats this winter, and has never missed participating in a game since he came to the University. Furthermore he has been a starter in all but one of his college games.

Freshman Basketball Practice Called

By Kent Hollingsworth

Freshman basketball practice starts Monday, Oct. 13, in Alumni gym at three o'clock, under the supervision of Coach Adolph Rupp and his assistant, Harry Lancaster. Cage practice for the varsity is scheduled to begin Oct. 20.

Coch Rupp is extending an invitation to all freshmen who entered school this fall and thus would not be able to play on the varsity this season to come out for practice this Monday. During the week, Rupp and Lancaster will look over the freshman material, and if they think there is enough talent available they will organize a freshman team for the coming winter. Otherwise plans for a 1947-48 freshman outfit will be dropped.

Practice will continue from 2 to 5 o'clock throughout the week and all persons trying out for the team are expected to furnish their own equipment and lockers.

Coch Bill McCubbin announced that men would be eligible for intramural basketball, later on in the year, only if they had been cut from the squad prior to the varsity's first basketball game.

W.A.A. Sports

WAA will sponsor a bowling tournament of two leagues, independent and severity. Any four girls may form an independent team, with the restriction that there may not be more than one WAA council member on any team. Each league winner will receive an award. Girls who plan to participate must sign up in the women's gymnasium by Wednesday, Oct. 15.

On Oct. 16, WAA and prospective members will hold a picnic at Caveview park. Members and girls who are interested in joining should sign up for the picnic in the women's gymnasium.

The WAA hockey team will play Eastern State Teachers College at Richmond on Friday, Oct. 17, and University of Cincinnati at Cincinnati on Tuesday, Oct. 28.

WEAR ODK TAGS

It's true the band takes the rap at which the band will make its initial 1947 appearance, is the fourth game on the schedule. But Kentucky's season started September 20 this year, school started the 29th, and the one home game was played the week-end of the first week of school. It takes some time to organize a band especially when 60 of the members are freshmen, and to those same members of the band had to sweat at the registration line, the book store line, and the general hubbub of the first days of classes just like you or I.

Oh Miss had their hand out for the SEX opener, but that's about all you can say. They couldn't even play "On, On, U of K," and at half time when they tried to play the Kentucky alma mater, it still sounded like that jazzed up version of Dixie they kept blasting out with throughout the game.

Cincinnati brought their band down for the game two weeks ago and put on a nice show. But what some people were eager to judge without seeing the Kentucky band,

B-Cats At Morehead Tonight For 2nd Battle With Eagles

Kentucky's rampaging Freshman B-team, unbeaten in two previous starts this year, tear into the Morehead Eagles tonight for the second time this year. The Howling Kittens, victorious in their opener against the Eagles two weeks ago at Ashland by a 21-0 score, clawed the Navy Pines 50-9 last week at Annapolis, and will enter the game tonight a comfortable favorite, despite the absence of John Chumley, their leading scorer.

The referee from the Volunteer State crossed pay-dirt three times against Morehead in the opener, and last week drew blood from the Middles four times, to lead the Kittens scoring parade to 42 points.

"Skitch" and some of his side-men looking over an arrangement of "Dancing With a Deb."

IT'S CAMELS WITH ME!

The platter that's causing plenty of chatter in juke circles is "Skitch" Henderson's latest instrumental—"Dancing With a Deb." Boy—what a record!

It's obvious "Skitch" has had plenty of experience in rickling those ivories, and he follows that experience rule in smoking too. "I smoked many different brands and compared," says "Skitch." "My choice from experience is Camel."

Try Camels. Compare. Let your own experience tell you why more people are smoking Camels than ever before!

More people are Smoking CAMELS than ever before!

UNIV. OF KY. FOOTBALL SCHEDULE printed on the band of the STYLEPARK WINGBACK
An overwhelming favorite with University and young business men, the STYLEPARK WINGBACK, with the U. K. Football Schedule printed in gold on the band, is a Rose Bowl contender with fashion-wise men. They like the jaunty sweep of the brim, the lucky Blue and White feather in the band, and the rich, luxurious felt of this new Stylepark hat. Featured in three new colors—Saddle, Mole and Cocoa.

ALUMNI NEWS

THEN and NOW

PERSONALITIES

The Washington, D.C. Alumni Club is planning a dinner meeting at the Annapolis hotel on the night of November 10 honoring President H. L. Doernan and other faculty members who will be in Washington at that time...

John E. Brown '03, of Shelbyville, president of the Louisville Bank for Cooperatives, has been named general agent for the Kentucky Farm Credit Administration.

Wesley E. Carter '24, former owner-publisher of the Herald-Courier Enterprise at Elizabethtown, Ky., has been named editor of the Lintotype News...

Beatrice L. Erickson, '30, has been selected to head the American Red Cross hospital program in the European theater.

Mr. Carter is making his home in Bronxville, N. Y. He is married to the former Lurline Myers of Lexington and they have two children.

Prior to World War II, Miss Erickson held the position of child welfare consultant for the Louisiana department of Public Welfare.

The Alumni office received during the summer a first edition copy of Thomas Segre's "Starline of the White House," a gift from David R. Kahn '14, of New York City.

Later she was made regional hospital supervisor in the Mediterranean theater, and subsequently in the European theater.

Autographed by Mr. Kahn "To the Alumni of the University of Kentucky" the former Lexingtonian says "We are proud of being Kentuckians—here in New York."

James H. Glasson, Lexington, has been ordered to two-weeks active duty with the 3rd Armored division at Fort Knox.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodson Dennis Scott of 420 W. 24th Street, New York City, are the parents of a daughter, Melissa Coenine, born August 5 at Mrs. Scott's home in Columbus Ohio.

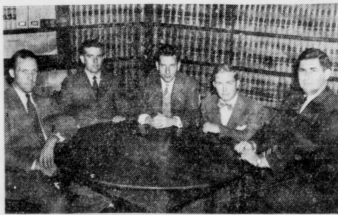

Rehearsals are held at 7:00 on Tuesday evenings at the stock pavilion.

Betty Lee Wilson, '44, of Ashland, has been named an instructor in history at Hixson College Hixson, N.Y., for the current school year.

Since work will be beginning at once on the spring concerts, the sooner applicants apply the more likely they are of being accepted.

Nola Martin, '46, of Lily, has been named an instructor in home economics at the University of Kentucky.

Rehearsals are held at 7:00 on Tuesday evenings at the stock pavilion.

STICK-O' TYPE

by martha evans

If a guy laughs too long and too loud at the other fellow, he's liable to get sand in his mouth.
The other day while munching my daily ration of black bread and frozen peas in the Union cafeteria, I saw a thing that ought not to occur on a democratic campus.
A girl came through the line, got past the drinking fountain successfully and then stood uncertainly carrying her tray. The place was crowded, the lines were long and squirming, the tables that were empty were littered with half-eaten, melted jelly, cigarette butts, lipstick-rimmed glasses, and wilted straws. The girl I watched, obviously a newcomer, didn't know the cafeteria custom of baring in with a careless "Pardon me, may I eat here," at the same time unloading the tray. Perhaps from a small town, she didn't know to set her tray down on one of the messy tables and get the bus-boy to clear it for her. She was neatly dressed and had poise, but she was timid.

The Kappa Sigis really landed a good locker with a Peppermint smile in Bob Norris. We predict that he will be the heart-throb of many girls. Incidentally, Tom Underwood seems to be edging back up on Fatsy Allen's list. Last Saturday night helped a lot.
The Sigma Chis are getting ready to win the intra-mural football championship by starting practice at the Old Mill last weekend. Graduate student Bill Hocken-smith has returned to school for this quarter but who could blame him with football games and Libby, too.
Jolly Kilham is still dating Phil Tuis. Harold Lockwood is the latest.

Kentucky-Unquote

By Jim Donovan

If retractable railroad spikes in stadium seats is the cure for a sickly cheering section, I say, "Put 'em in!" At the Cincinnati game a person could have dropped feathers off the back of the stadium into a truck-load of corn meal mish and heard the echo off White Hall.
As to support of the team, if they had depended on help from the stands, Kentucky would have played the entire game flat on their backs in their own end zone.
Maybe there are some who think it wasn't that bad, but I sincerely believe that if a lightning bolt had struck the whole 24,000, the rusting of their ghosts would have been more audible.
It's just plain apathy in connection with letting down hair and giving out with a yell that's been psychologically aching for expression since the ball game before.
At one time or another, everyone has the desire to make the roof with the sound of his own vocal cords. Some express themselves while walking down Rose street at 2 a.m.
Of course there are a few who throw beer bottles at chimney swallows, and some who live next door to fraternity houses so their personal pandemonium will be unnoted.
Taking all into consideration, man is just plain noisy, and is by nature a producer of, if not a victim of,

"The University does not ask for charity. It promises to return to the people a dividend on every dollar invested . . . You cannot have a great state without a great University."

President H. L. Donovan made this statement this week when he announced the budget request for the legislature for the operation of the University the next two years. There is nothing unnecessary included in the report; it is based upon recommendations made by the Griffenhagen and Associates' report released this summer and financed by the present state administration.

Every student should be as familiar with the budget needs and as interested in their presentation and discussion in the legislature as he is familiar with class and personal problems. Upon the obtaining of the requested money rests the expansion of departments and the qualities of employed instructors.

A great University depends upon the faith and support of citizens of the state. It is up to you who are citizens to demand the best education possible.

If Anyone Could, The Army Could

In a recent poly sex class the instructor, earnestly endeavoring to illustrate the point that unpopular like is unmentionable, repeated a remark made by the late Little Flower that it would take the whole United States army to dry up New York City. Drawled a student evidently speaking from experience, "Well, if anybody could, they could!"

Letters

The Answer
Editor, The Kernel:
I would like to answer the letter written by Jim Donovan and John L. McLaughlin concerning the UK band.

I think you have made a statement that you cannot back up. That statement being that the "Best Band in Dixie" is as dead as the Confederation from which it draws its title. Before you, Jim Donovan and J. L. McLaughlin, condemn the BRBD, why don't you see them in action? Have you seen the Kentucky band march and make formations at a football game this year? NO! Have you tried to find out just why we are not having majorities up front? Maybe, I doubt it. It is not the fault of the members of the band. I assure you. After all, a band is for show. I for one, think we should have majorities up front. The band this year is bigger and better than it has been since the war. See us in action Saturday night and I think that you will still agree that the UK band is the best band in Dixie. Thanks for the compliment about the music.

Requests Correspondents

Editor, The Kernel:
After having established an International Correspondence Bureau, I—on behalf of members on my mailing list—take leave to apply to you. May I request you to put me in touch with readers of your paper interested in friendly correspondence?

Having been excluded from the outside world these long years, and yearning for a real democratic enlightenment and a personal contact from man to man across borders, my members would only too gladly welcome and answer letters from abroad. Most of my members, among them scientists, students, experts, businessmen and other well-educated ladies and gentlemen, and also hobbyists, housewives, and even young boys and girls have a fairly good knowledge of English, but we would also be pleased to write in German, if desired. I am sure my members will try to give their pen-friends every satisfaction.

Pen-friendships are a step toward the creation of that international friendship and goodwill that is so essential to understanding and peace, don't you think so?

By this time, the excitement of the weekend is all but forgotten and everyone has settled down to the steady, every-day routine of classes.
Some excitement will last a long time, however, for the freshmen who are attending their first college dances, football games, and parties. We hope they learn to like the University as well as we have in the past few years.
