GOODBYE AND THANKS

Mary Fisher, Administrative Assistant I, at the Medical Center Library has retired after 27 and-a-half years of service to UK. She began with the Med Center Library in the acquisitions department in 1963 and progressed through the system to become Administrative Assistant for the Medical Center Library and Communication Systems from 1971-1981. For the past ten years she has been in her present position with the MC Library. Her retirement was effective January 31.

BACK PATS

Paul Willis received the following letter from Becky Teegarden:

I brought my teen to the library last night to find materials on Christina Rossetti. I want to tell you that the LS 2000 and the reference librarian made our search absolutely painless. The computer was easy to use -- goofproof. The librarian was friendly and helpful to my daughter and also to a classmate she ran into. We were further delighted at circulation to learn that the loan period is the semester. Perfect, since these materials are for a semester-long research paper.

Approaching the library from the eyes of inexperienced youth, I was impressed with your services and just wanted you and your staff to know how well you are doing.

OIR BRINGS HOME THE BRONZE

The Office of Instructional Resources has been awarded a Bronze medal in the 1990 International Film & TV Festival of New York for its series "Mind Over Math." A co-production of OIR and The Learning Channel, the five-program series, produced and directed by Carol Spence, with executive producers Andy Spears, Paul LeVeque and Tod Porter, took third place in the Educational/Instructional Series category of the competition.

"Mind Over Math" is targeted toward high school students preparing to take the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT). It airs nationally on The Learning Channel, as well as being available for purchase by individuals. To date, over 500 copies of the series have been sold.

INTERESTED IN PUBLISHING?

Judy Sackett --

The Association of College & Research Libraries has published a brochure titled "How to Become an ACRL Author." ACRL Publications include COLLEGE AND RESEARCH LIBRARIES, COLLEGE AND RESEARCH LIBRARIES NEWS, RARE BOOKS AND MANUSCRIPTS LIBRARIANSHIP, CHOICE, CLIP NOTES, ACRL PUBLICATIONS IN LIBRARIANSHIP, and 14 newsletters from ACRL sections. For a copy of the brochure, contact Judy Sackett, Preservation Department, 257-3493, or call ACRL at 1-800-545-2433, ext. 2515.

UK LIBRARIES TO SPONSOR SOLINET PRESERVATION WORKSHOP

Judy Sackett --

On May 22 and 23, 1991, the UK Libraries will host a SOLINET Preservation Program Workshop on the fundamental techniques of book repair. SOLINET trainers will be Sandy Nyberg and former UK Librarian Libby Potts Pollard. Attendance will be limited to 25 people and the registration fee for the two-day workshop will be $125 for SOLINET members registering at least three weeks in advance, $135 late registration for members, and $185 for non-members. Partial funding for this workshop has been provided by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Due to the high registration fee and attendance limits, the Preservation Department intends to offer in-house training in the months following the workshop for those staff members involved in book repair.

The list of supplies to be gathered for the workshop includes 30 gallon-size plastic jugs (with caps), 30 wide-mouth quart glass jars, and approximately 1500 sheets of 11"x15" scrap computer paper (printed on one side only). If you are able to donate any of these items, please forward them to Judy Sackett or Delisa Boone in the Preservation Department. For further information on the workshop, call Judy Sackett, 257-3493.

BE ON THE LOOKOUT...

Wanted: Nominations for the 1990 Information Systems Employee of the Year.

The winner will receive $600 and a free "A" parking permit for one year. First runner-up will receive $200 and $100 will go to the second runner-up.

Any UK Student, faculty or staff member may nominate an Information Systems Employee for outstanding work in 1990.

Nomination forms are available from department heads or selection committee chair, Andy Spears, 257-8469.

Nominations must be received by February 27, 1991.
