WILDCATS TO MEET VANDY IN DOUBLE BILL

Commodores Will Bring
Last Year's Team Intact
To Meet State

GIRLS PLAY SATURDAY

Local basketball fans will be given the treat of the season this week-end as Vanderbilt will appear against the Wildcats Friday and Saturday nights at Woodland Auditorium and an added attraction will be a co-ed game Saturday night, Kentucky playing the University of Louisville. This will mark the first appearance of the girls at home this season.

The Commodores come to Lexington with their last year's team intact and promise to put up the strongest argument for double honors seen here in many years. State with her last year's team was able to divide two double bills with Vandy, but this year must present a new front.

Captain Cody who is Captain-elect of next year's football team, is probably the most prominent individual on the squad. Davidson at the other forward position is well remembered for the electrifying form in which he played here last year. Reyer at center, is like Davidson, completing his four years of service on the team. Turner and Blair, guards, have played two years, and Woodward, sub-center and forward, has won his letter in previous seasons at basketball. Parker, sub-guard, is the only man who has not played regularly on a varsity team. All of these men have won fame in other branches of athletics at Vanderbilt.

State has three straight victories of the season back of her to add confidence to the attack which she will make Friday and Saturday nights. Derrill Hart is playing a star game at forward and if Captain Zerfoss strikes his stride he is likely to toss some phenomenal goals. Server got a late start as far as practicing goes, but is improving rapidly and is expected to put up a stellar game at center. Gumbert and Schrader will probably be called forth by Coach Tigert to watch the Vandy centers. D. C. Cruise of the Lexington Y. M. C. A., will referee both contests.

The girls' team has been put through some strenuous practicing since their defeat at Winchester, and is expected to be much stronger when it faces Louisville. Coach Tuttle announced that the team would be chosen from among the following girls: Misses Heller, Bastin, Geisel, Innes, Flannery and Haydon. The games will be called promptly at 7:30 o'clock on both evenings. Athletic Coupon No. 9 is good for the first game, to which outsiders will be charged 35 cents, and the price of the double bill Saturday night will be 50 cents to non-students.

LIEUTENANT GULLION VISITS UNIVERSITY

Lieutenant A. W. Gullion, who has been visiting many points in Kentucky before returning to his command in Texas, was a visitor at the University last week. Lieutenant Gullion was educated at this University and served as commandant here during the two years preceding the regime of Lieutenant A. R. Underwood. He has been mentioned as the successor of Lieutenant Underwood, who will leave soon to rejoin his regiment, however, it is rumored by some, who are "on the inside" of Washington affairs, that Lieutenant Gullion is in line for a higher and more important appointment abroad.

Lieutenant Gullion recounted some of his experiences on the Mexican border during the Villa and Carranza fights. His regiment once participated, under his leadership, in a scrimmage with the Mexicans in which about fifty were killed.

NOTED LECTURER TO OPEN LYCEUM COURSE

Hugh Black to Deliver
"America Through Scotch Spectacles" Tonight

Dr. Hugh Black, noted Scotch preacher and lecturer, will deliver his famous lecture, "America Through Scotch Spectacles," in the chapel of the University tonight at 8 o'clock. Doctor Blake has an international reputation as a speaker and it is expected that the chapel will be crowded to its capacity when he is introduced tonight.

Doctor Black tells Americans in a humorous, yet truthful manner how some of their customs and institutions appear to Europeans and there is no doubt that some of them will be surprised when they see themselves as others see them. His lectures have been enthusiastically received in this country and he has been met by crowded houses at every city in which he has spoken this year.

Doctor Black came to the United States in 1906 and since that time he has become pastor of the First Congregational Church of Montclair, N. Y., and professor of practical theology at Union Theological Seminary. He is also an editor of note, and many interesting and instructive works have

THIRD VICTORY IS ANNEXED BY STATE

Georgetown Again a Victim of the Wildcat Crew.

SCORE IS 30 TO 22

State opened her home basketball season at Woodland Auditorium Monday night by defeating the Georgetown Tigers 30 to 22, thus making it three straight for the season. Georgetown was defeated 29 to 22 earlier in the season and Cincinnati was taken into camp on her own floor.

The game started off rather slowly and, increased in spirit and enthusiasm, both on the part of the players and spectators as the affair proceeded. The first half ended 16 to 9 in State's favor. When the Georgetown aggregation came back on the floor, they started a vigorous rally, but cut down State's lead to 2 points before she began to locate the basket again.

A few changes in the line-up were made by Dr. Tigert, and his move proved a wise one, as State gradually began to pull away from her opponents again.

For State Derrill Hart was the outstanding light in the line-up, especially during the first half when he threw four field and four foul goals. George Zerfoss and Longworth, two Freshmen who were sent in during the latter period, played well. George slipped away from his position at guard long enough to throw one of the prettiest goals of the game. During the contest he was badly cut on the right cheek. Gumbert played exceptionally well at guard.

Taylor demonstrated again that he is the star on the Georgetown quintet, in the matter of point getting, though his captain, Waller, showed up no less conspicuously, when it came to playing the passing game. His excellent playing prevented "Jim" Server from locating the basket very often.

This second victory over the Georgetown five strengthens Kentucky's chances for State honors. It looks from here like it will be a race between State and Louisville although it seems that these teams will not be given the opportunity to settle all disputes.

Summary: State—Hart (16), forward; K. Zerfoss, captain (0), forward; Server (4), center; Gumbert (4), guard; Ireland (0), guard; Schrader (4), guard; G. Zerfoss (2), guard; Longworth (0), forward.

Hart made six points on fouls out of nine tries. Taylor made three points on fouls out of 4 tries. Adams (Continued on Page 2).

The lecture tonight is the first of the Lyceum Course which has been arranged by Prof. E. F. Farquhar. Lyceum tickets can be obtained from the business office, free of charge, and all are urged to get them at once.

EXPERIMENT STATION TO BE INVESTIGATED

Friction Between Director of Station and Federal Department is Cause

PAPER PRAISES WORK

The upper house of the Legislature last week adopted a resolution introduced by Senator Charles D. Arnett, providing for the appointment of a committee of five to investigate the Experiment Station for "alleged friction existing between the director of the station and representatives of the Federal Department of Agriculture," and "the expenditure of moneys collected in the shape of fees."

When asked his reasons for the introduction of the resolution, Senator Arnett said that he had been requested to introduce it by Commissioner of Agriculture Mat S. Cohen.

The resolution cites the fact that the director of the Experiment Station is not a farmer, but a chemist by education and experience.

In an editorial in the Lexington Herald, the Experiment Station and Dr. Kastle are highly praised for the most excellent work they have been and are doing, which in many cases has exceeded the work performed by the Government.

In commenting further on the resolution the Herald says: "The resolution introduced into the Senate calling for an investigation of the Experiment Station and particularly of the director's qualifications for the position shows much bad temper on the part of someone."

Dr. Kastle said, about the proposed investigation:

"I am pleased to learn that the Senate has appointed a committee to conduct an investigation into the affairs of the Experiment Station.

"I shall certainly do all in my power to bring to the attention of this committee all of the facts that in any way throw any light on the conduct and management of the Experiment Station and its relation to the United States Department of Agriculture, in order that the General Assembly and the people at large, throughout the State, may be fully advised of the great work which is now being done by this institution and of its immediate and far-reaching service to the farmers of the Commonwealth."

ADA MEADE.
 "The Dress Rehearsal," a musical comedy of the Ziegfeld variety, produced by his contemporary in the West, Menlo Moore, opens at the Ada Meade for a three-day engagement. The phrase musical comedy, however, often much abused, is aptly descriptive of this offering, for certainly, "The Dress Rehearsal" is a musically dramatic composition in which mirth predominates and the termination of the plot is a happy one.

The iridescence of its tunes and scenes is delightfully pleasing. The instant appeal of originality and apparent evidence that one producer has been bold enough to hazard thousands of dollars and years of effort in establishing an enviable reputation as a theatrical producer, just to inject something daringly different into the present-day mode of entertainment—are peculiarly acceptable with every audience.

For those seeking entertainment and amusement, who, like the producer of "The Dress Rehearsal," yearn for something new when they go to the variety theatre, this same "The Dress Rehearsal" will create a lasting impression. The big beauty chorus of sixteen rollicking and attractive girls rivals any "bald-headed row" attraction that ever appeared here.—Advertisement.

STROLLERS TO HAVE TRY OUT THURSDAY

Members Urged To Come Out For "Father and the Boys"

A try-out for parts in "Father and the Boys" will be held Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Stroller room.

All old members and new are urged to be present. There are ten strong male characters in the play, and six female parts, all good. This will be the largest production attempted recently by the Strollers, with the exception of the "College Widow."

Manuscripts will probably be ready for distribution Friday, with the first rehearsal Monday night. All persons who wish to read lines at the first rehearsal must attend the try-out Thursday.

A rumor has been current that "the powers that be" are expecting the new material to "shine" at the try-out and first rehearsal. Competition will be keen and it is expected that there will be more persons to try-out this year than ever before.

To get the play under way on time it will be practically necessary to have all persons who want parts out Thursday.

LAW ALUMNI HOLD POSITIONS IN LOCAL CITY GOVERNMENT

The recent election by the Board of Commissioners of this city of Harry B. Miller, '14, to the office of City Attorney, was indeed a compliment to this well-known graduate. Following so closely after the selection of Ward Yager, also of the class of '14, for the position of private secretary to Mayor Rogers, Lexington's new Mayor, Kentucky State has every reason to be proud of the splendid and unusual record of these former students.

Mr. Miller is probably one of the youngest city attorneys who ever held that office in a city of the size and importance of Lexington, being only twenty-two years of age. He graduated in the College of Law before he was of age and was quite a well-known student. He was a Stroller and had an important role in the cast of "The College Widow," presented in 1914. He was also on the Law School Debating Team, which defeated the University of Indiana Law School team. He was affiliated with the Henry Clay Law Society, Patterson Literary Society and a member of the Delta Chi fraternity. Since graduation he has had a successful practice in this city with his brother Jesse I. Miller and was campaign manager for Mayor Rogers in his race for that office.

Mr. Yager, who is also quite young, came to the University from Warsaw, Ky., and entered the College of Law in 1911. He was a member of the Union Literary Society and a charter member of the Henry Clay Society. He was also affiliated with the Democratic Club and the Royal Order of F. L. E. In Mayor Rogers' campaign Mr. Yager was very active and was chosen by the Mayor as his private secretary. He has had a successful practice of law before the Lexington bar.

The College of Law and the entire University is gratified at the rapid rise of these two of its graduates in political and legal circles of this city.

Dance To Begin Immediately After Basketball Game

TICKETS ARE ON SALE

The second "K" dance will be given in Buell Armory Friday evening, February 4, 8:30 until 12:30 o'clock.

Miss Hogarty's trio will furnish the music. The dance will be informal. Tickets may be bought from L. J. Heyman, R. E. Cullen, H. Fried or Herbert Graham. They will also be on sale at the Business Office Thursday from 10 o'clock until 11, 11:45 until 12:30 and 3 o'clock until 4. CHESLEY W. BAILEY GETS A. B. DEGREE

Chesley W. Bailey was presented with a diploma conferring the degree of Bachelor of Arts in Education, in the office of Professor Gillis Tuesday afternoon in the presence of a host of friends who had assembled to do him honor.

Mr. Bailey finished his undergraduate work at the end of the first semester, but he will be affiliated with the class of 1915. A unique feature of Mr. Bailey's diploma is the fact that it was signed by Governor A. O. Stanley in the year 1915, while the other diplomas were signed by James B. McCreary, ex-Governor.

Alumnae Club.

The meeting of the Alumnae Club of the University Wednesday afternoon, February 2, on the parlor floor of the Phoenix Hotel, was of unusual interest to all members.

Mrs. Charles J. Smith gave a report of the Federated Women's Club at Harrodsburg, at which she was a delegate. Plans were completed for the luncheon which the club will serve to the Anti-Hog Cholera Conference, February 9. The proceeds from this luncheon will go to complete the fund for a scholarship to be offered by the Alumnae Club to some University girl next year.

E. L. GILLIS RETURNS FROM KNOXVILLE

Is Elected Secretary-Treasurer of Southern Athletic Conference

ADOPT ONE-YEAR RULE

Registrar Ezra L. Gillis has returned from Knoxville, where he represented the University at a joint meeting of the Southern Conference and the Athletic Conference of Southern State Universities. Although a coalition between the two associations was not effected, both adopted the one-year rule.

Professor Gillis was elected secretary and treasurer of the Southern Athletic Conference for the ensuing year. He declared that State's admittance to membership in the conference was subject to the approval of the Athletic Board of the University. The decision as to whether they will join or not will be rendered within the next few days.

The institutions represented were: Clemson College, Auburn, Georgia Tech, University of Georgia, Tulane, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi A. & M., University of South Carolina and Vanderbilt. Besides these Sewanee, University of Mississippi and Louisiana State University were declared eligible to membership in the conference.

The territory to be embraced in the conference includes the States of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, South Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky. It was decided that in addition to the colleges already declared eligible, membership in the conference will be by invitation alone.

UNIQUE APPEAL TO HONESTY OF STUDENT

Judge Lyman Chalkley, of the Law Department of the University, made a unique appeal to the honesty of the students taking examinations in his department during the recent ordeal. Pithy statements, giving the opinions of all classes of business men, were inserted between the questions. Judge Chalkley said that little cheating was done in this department as a result of this unusual plan. Some of the statements follow:

What the railroad president thinks of a cheater: "He is dirty."

What the employer thinks: "He will embezzle."

What the general manager thinks: "He will steal."

What the merchant thinks: "He will pilfer from the till."

What the banker thinks: "He will forge."

What the politician thinks: "He will be useful in dirty work."

What the judge thinks: "He will swear falsely."

What the jury thinks: "He will lie."

What the grafter thinks: "He is one after my own heart."

What the police think: "His record is bad."

What the contractor thinks: "He will deceive."

What the "greaser" thinks: "He has it on me."

What the gentleman thinks: "He is a cad and a coward."

What the Frat brother thinks: "He is unfaithful."

What the sport thinks: "He is yellow."

What the father and mother think: "He has brought down our gray hair with sorrow to the grave."

What the community thinks: "He has no self-respect and cannot be believed on oath."

What he knows in his secret heart: "I am capable of perjury."

What the school girl thinks: "He will tell."

What the woman thinks: "He will brag."

What the gambler thinks: "He will tack the cards."

What the burglar thinks: "He will peach."

What the confidence man thinks: "He will run."

What the diplomat thinks: "He will talk when he's drunk."

What the clubman thinks: "He will make a scene."

What the slave thinks: "Poor white trash."

BOLLING BROUGHT TO LEXINGTON

Bascom C. Bolling, formerly a student in the University and later arrested in Omaha, Neb., on a bench warrant from the Fayette Circuit Court charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses, was brought back to Lexington last week. He blamed his predicament on the failure of the Republican State Campaign Committee to honor drafts for $115, which he said they had authorized.

Bolling was not at all particular from whom he obtained money. Checks and drafts, all returned and totalling $207, were given to friends, business houses, and banks of Lexington. His room-mate and the University fell victims to his money-getting campaign as did also the Phoenix Hotel Company, the Kaufman Clothing Company, the First and City National Bank, and the Bank of Commerce.

Bolling was here until the day of the inauguration, when the battalion of which he was an officer went to Frankfort, where he deserted and was not heard of until his arrest in Omaha. He telegraphed his father in Manchester, Clay County, telling him of his arrest, and his father is expected to arrive in Lexington within a few days.

Back Again.

Here we are again and glad to be back, thank you.

Exams are over (Allah be praised), and we think we "got by" all right. Here's wishing you the same good fortune. For the kind fate which guided our hand in answering exam questions, for the inspiration that told us what to write, and for the Providence that moved the "profs" to compassion, we humbly give thanks. Selah!

The first of February is the students' New Year and should be a season of resolution for better work. Though every man is expected to break his New Year resolutions, it is always evidence of a desire for improvement and a determination to make greater progress when one resolves to do better the next time. That "cramping" we all had to do last week and those gallons of midnight oil we burned in trying to get our notebooks ready, have shown us the wisdom of doing each day what should be done that day and of keeping up with the procession.

The Kernel has made some new term resolutions and hopes to be able to keep them. We intend to put out a better paper than before, to record more completely the news of the student body and more fully to express the student opinion. As we have said before, the Kernel staff is only human, like yourselves, and subject to the same limitations. So please bear with us.

—M. J. R.

An Announcement.

The Kernel is making plans to get out a series of special editions during the second semester which will be devoted to several of the various branches of student activity. There will be a Literary Issue, a Girls' Issue, a Fun Issue, and probably others. The dates of these special editions will be announced later.

The Literary number will be issued within the next few weeks and will be devoted almost entirely to things literary. Contributions of poetry, short (very short) stories, and literary contributions of every kind are solicited and we hope there will be a liberal response. Because of limited space it will be impossible to publish any contributions which are unduly long. For this reason many contributions have gone into the waste basket in the past. All contributions must be signed, although we will not divulge the writer's name in case he does not desire it known.

The Kernel has been unable in the past to give as much space to literary matter as it has wished because it is strictly a newspaper and not a literary publication. But there is talent in the University which should be given opportunity for expression and by giving virtually all one edition to contributions of this nature we hope to gain that end. The members of the Canterbury Club have agreed to contribute, as have many other students, including some of the young women of Patterson Hall.

We want to make this edition of The Kernel a big success, so please drop your contributions in The Kernel box at the Main Building door.

And above all things, BE BRIEF.

Next!

Dr. Tigert, autocrat of the class room, master of philosophy and metaphysics, favorite of chapel audiences, connoisseur of droll wit and biting sarcasm, football coach par excellence, gave evidence of an hitherto unknown accomplishment last Sunday when he blossomed out as a journalist in the Lexington Herald. The magazine section of this paper contained the first of a series of articles, to be run each Sunday according to the announcement, on "Football History in Kentucky," by J. J. Tigert. Last Sunday's article had to do with the early history of the game in this State and comparative scores of the Kentucky teams. Next Sunday the stories of some of the important battles in which Kentucky State has participated will be published.

The Kernel would like to publish these articles in their entirety, but on account of their length this is out of the question. The information in them is accurate and detailed, and the style is of the kind that is generally known as breezy and full of "pep." We believe every student in the University will enjoy them.

Knowing Dr. Tigert as we do, we are not surprised at the discovery learn some day that he dances the Lula Fodo with ease and grace and in that he can write as well as do nearly everything else, in fact, if we should dote love lyrics beneath the summer moon, we should take it as a matter of course.

Allies Victorious. In battle with Profs.

The Allies were victorious along the whole line of battle during the past week. Losses were very heavy on both side.

Although the official lists of killed and wounded have not been published, it is estimated that the losses of the Profs. were by far the heavier. All of the Chemistry divisions of the Allies suffered heavily. They were unable to withstand the fierce onslaught of the Profs, who followed a gas bomb attack with a spirited charge. Probably a third of the chemistry forces were killed.

The "Ag" battalion was strongly entrenched behind barbed-wire entanglements and resisted all attacks with ease. Their losses were small.

The Journalism forces were victorious in the fighting of the week, owing to the fact that their guns were of the most improved type.

It is reported that several companies of the Home Economics Battalion were forced to retire with heavy losses. They fought under great difficulties, as the Profs had the machine guns and they were unable to get the range. The slaughter was terrible in the ranks of the Physics and Mathematics troops. Several companies were almost annihilated.

The Foreign Language Legion was in the thick of the fight and suffered heavily.

The Law and Arts Flying Squadrons were overwhelmingly victorious in a series of very hot air attacks.

At the end of the six days' fighting the position of the forces on each side remains about the same as it was at the beginning of the week.

HERE AND THERE

Veaper.

O Lord, I feel thy mighty hand
Drawn velvet-like across the land,
As calm and soothing as the cool,
Sweet finger of a woodland pool
Laid on the throbbing brow of Night,
A healing finger and a light.

And in those warm vermilion deeps
The snow-white soul of Beauty sleeps,
And Mystery dreams—a solemn nun
From the convent of the sun,
Soft of hand and starry-eyed,
In silent darkness defied.

Thy presence is in everything
The cold moon and the stars that cling
To space, like moths on gossamer,
The wind notes and the nestling whirr
And chirrup of the birds that stir
Where one lone leaf of starry bloom

Disturbs the deep cathedral gloom.
A wind goes crooning through the glades,

And far away the sunset fades;
The sky is darkened, and I see
The angel eyes that look on Thee.

Transylvania.

Because of the war, the members of the scrappy team put out by Transylvania last fall may never have the honor of wearing the traditional Crimson sweaters. For some time they have been trying to obtain sweaters of this color but manufacturers have not the dye to produce the correct shade and have been trying to make them accept a substitute which is maroon in color.

Maybe that is what has happened to the Blue and White sweaters.

Y. W. C. A. TO HAVE JUBILEE IN FEBRUARY

Fiftieth Anniversary To Be Celebrated All Over the United States

LOCAL PLANS MADE

During the month of February, the Young Women's Christian Associations of the world will celebrate their "Jubilee," in honor of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the organization.

The Y. W. C. A. of the University will hold appropriate services during the Jubilee, and the plans include "Pioneer Day," a Membership Rally, a Pageant and chapel exercises February 25.

A brief summary of the achievements of the last fifty years shows ample cause for Y. W. C. A. to rejoice in its progress.

Fifty years ago in the classical city of Boston, thirty earnest women met to consider the needs of girls who came to that city to seek employment. The needs of these girls led to the organization of the first Young Women's Christian Association in this country, which was effected March 3, 1866.

PARKER HORD VISITS HIS ALMA MATER

Parker A. Hord, author of "The Mixup," and of several successful scenarios and a student of this University, about ten years ago, made a visit to his Alma Mater last week.

"The Mixup" ran four months at the Thirty-fifth Street Theatre, New York, with Marie Dresler as leading lady and was equally successful in its extended tour of the East. It is now on the road with Stella Mayhew playing the leading female role.

One Sunday afternoon, three or four years ago, Mr. Hord says, the desire seized him to write a moving picture play. A one-reel scenario was the result, which he sold immediately. Later, with some discouragements he wrote several successful photoplays before attempting "The Mixup." Mr. Hord is a native of Maysville and is now making his home in New York.
